CONSTITUTION

The messengers from missionary societies, churches, and other religious bodies of the Baptist denomination in various parts of the United States, met in Augusta, Georgia, for the purpose of carrying into effect the benevolent intention of our constituents by organizing a plan for eliciting, combining, and directing the energies of the denomination for the propagation of the Gospel, adopted rules and fundamental principles which, as amended from time to time, are as follows:

Article I. This body shall be styled the "Southern Baptist Convention."

- Art. II. It shall be the design of the Convention to promote foreign and domestic missions, and other important objects connected with the Redeemer's Kingdom, and to combine for this purpose such portions of the Baptist denomination in the United States as may desire a general organization for Christian benevolence, which shall fully respect the independence and equal rights of the churches.
- Art. III. The Convention shall consist (1) of messengers who contribute funds, or are elected by Baptist bodies contributing funds for the regular work of the Convention, on the basis of one messenger for every $250 actually paid into the treasuries of the Boards during the fiscal year ending the thirtieth day of April next preceding the meeting of the Convention; (2) of one representative from each of the District Associations which co-operate with this Convention provided that such representative be formally elected at the annual meeting of his District Association, and the election certified to the Secretaries of the Convention, either in writing or by copy of the printed Minutes.
- Art. IV. The officers of this Convention shall be a President, four Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, an Auditor, who shall in event of the death or disablity of the Treasurer, act as such officer, and two Secretaries, who shall be elected at each annual meeting, and hold their offices until a new election; and the officers of the Convention shall be, each by virtue of his office, members of the several Boards.
- Art. V. The Convention shall elect at each annual meeting as many Boards of Managers as, in its judgment, will be necessary for carrying out the benevolent objects it may determine to promote—all of which Boards may continue in office until a new election. Each of these Boards shall consist of eighteen members residing at or near the locality of the Board, and of one member for each State co-operating with the Convention. Seven members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Each Board shall elect a President, Recording Secretary, Treasurer, Auditor, Corresponding Secretary who shall be the executive officer of the Board and may be named its Treasurer if deemed advisable, additional Secretaries and such other officers and employes as it may deem necessary for the efficient conduct of its work and business. The compensation of its officers and employes shall be fixed by each Board, but no salaried officer or employe of any Board may be a member thereof. To each Board shall be committed, during the recess of the Convention, the entire management of all the affairs relative to the objects with whose interests it shall be charged; all of which management shall be in strict accordance with the constitutional provisions adopted by this Convention, and such other instructions as may be given from time to time. Each Board shall be authorized to enact its own By-Laws, and to fill any vacancy occurring in its membership or in the office of Corresponding Secretary between the meetings of the Convention.
- Art. VI. The duties of the Corresponding Secretary shall be in general terms such as recognized custom devolves upon executive officers of this kind, with such other duties as the Board may prescribe. The management of business shall be subject always to the authority and approval of the Board, with ultimate reference to the Convention itself.
- Art. VII. The Treasurer of each Board shall faithfully account for all moneys received by him, keep a regular entry of all receipts and disbursements, and make report of them to the Convention whenever it shall be in session, and to his Board as often as required. He shall also, on entering upon the duties of his office, give competent security to the President of the Board for all the stocks and funds committed to his care. His books shall always be open to the inspection of members of the Board and of the Convention. He shall not pay out money from the Treasury except under such orders and safeguards as the Board may enact for the proper conduct of its financial affairs.

Art. VIII. The Recording Secretaries of the several Boards shall keep a fair record of their proceedings, and of such other documents as may be committed to them for the purpose.

- Art. IX. All the officers, Boards, missionaries, and agents appointed by the Convention, or by any of its Boards, shall be members of some regular church in union with the churches composing this Convention.
- Art. X. Missionaries appointed by any of the Boards of this Convention must, previous to their appointment, furnish evidence of genuine piety, fervent zeal in their Master's cause, and talents which fit them for the service for which they offer themselves.
- Art. XI. The bodies and individuals composing this Convention shall have the right to specify the object or objects to which their contributions shall be applied. But when no such specification is made, the Convention will make the appropriation at its own discretion.
- Art. XII. The Convention shall hold its meetings annually, but extra meetings may be called by the President, with the approbation of any of the Boards of Managers. A majority of the attending delegates shall not be necessary to make a quorum for the transaction of business. The President, or in the event of his death, any of the Vice-Presidents, of the Convention may, at the request of two of its Boards, change the time and the place of meeting of this Convention, when it may be deemed by him inexpedient to convene at the time or place appointed.

Art. XIII. Any alterations which experience shall dictate may be made in these Articles by a vote of two-thirds of the members present when the vote is taken without regard to total enrollment at any annual meeting of the Convention, provided no amendment may be considered after the second day of the Convention.

BY-LAWS

In order to carry out the provisions of the Constitution, the following By-Laws are adopted for the government of the Convention:

- It shall be the duty of the Secretaries of the Convention to be present at the place of meeting at least one day in advance of the annual sessions for the purpose of enrolling the members of the Convention who shall present themselves with proper evidence of their right to be enrolled; and this enrollment shall be recognized as constituting the Convention. The Secretaries are authorized to add the names of accredited messengers who arrive later than the opening day. In case of any question arising as to the rights of messengers to seats, a Committee on Credentials shall be raised to which all pertinent matters shall be referred, and report be made to the Convention. It shall be the duty of the Secretaries within thirty days after the annual meeting of the Convention to notify all members of standing committees of their appointment, and to inform chairmen of such committees of their appointment as chairmen. It shall also be the duty of the Secretaries to be present at the place of meeting of the Convention far enough in advance to aid the local committee in making suitable arrangements for the conduct of the business of the Convention. They shall see that committee rooms, places for exhibits, displaying charts and all other details shall be so provided for as to prevent disturbance of the Convention in its deliberations, and in general take such measures as experience shows to be requisite for the orderly and convenient dispatch of business.
- 2. The Rules of Order for the Convention shall be those laid down in Mell's "Manual of Parliamentary Practice," and Kerfoot's "Parliamentary Law," but in cases where these authorities differ, or for which they do not provide, the President shall exercise his discretion, subject to appeal to the Convention.
- 3. The President, Vice-Presidents, and Secretaries of the Convention shall be elected by ballot; provided, however, that when there is only one nomination for any office, the Secretary or any one designated for the purpose, if there be no Objection, may be instructed to cast the ballot for the Convention.

- 4. Speeches in support of any brother's nomination for an office of the Convention shall be limited to one address of not more than five minutes in length, and one second of five minutes.
- 5. Unless otherwise ordered by special action and as soon as possible after organization the four Vice-Presidents elected by the Convention and five other brethren, appointed by the President, shall constitute a Committee on Committees, whose duty it shall be to appoint the following committees: (1) On Order of Business; (2) on Religious Services; (3) on Nomination of Trustees of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary; (4) on Nomination of Trustees of the Southestern Baptist Theological Seminary; (5) on Nomination of Trustees of the Baptist Bible Institute; (6) on Nomination of the Boards and Standing Committees of the Convention; (7) on Arrangements for the Next Meeting; (8) on Woman's Work Auxiliary to the Convention; and (9) unless otherwise provided, such other committees, customary or new, as the Convention may direct. Provided that no one shall be appointed as a member of more than one committee at any one session of the Convention, except for special reasons, and no one shall be appointed on the same committee for two successive years, except for special reasons.
- 6. There shall be chosen an Executive Committee composed of the President and Secretary of the Convention, one member from each of the Boards of the Convention, and one additional member from each State represented in the Convention. The President and Secretary of the Convention shall be ex-officio Chairman and Secretary of the Committee; the members from the Boards shall be elected by the Boards, and the members from the States shall be elected by the Convention and have no official connection with the Convention or any of its agencies. Its duties and functions shall be as follows: (1) To act for the Convention during the interim of its meetings on matters not otherwise provided for in its plans of work; (2) to have oversight of arrangements for the meeting of the Convention with authority to change, if necessary, the time and place of meeting; (3) to act in an advisory way on matters of policy and co-operation arising between the Boards of the Convention; (4) to hold meetings at such times and places as it may select, the necessary expenses of such meetings to be a charge equally divided among the Boards of the Convention; (5) to make report of its proceedings and receive instructions at each annual meeting of the Convention. The committee shall have no further duties except as other things may be committed to it by the Convention itself.
- 7. The Boards of the Convention elected under Article V of the Constitution shall be as follows: The Foreign Mission Board, located at Richmond, Va.; the Home Mission Board, at Atlanta, Ga.; the Sunday School Board, at Nashville, Tenn.; the Relief and Annuity Board, at Dallas, Tex.; the Education Board, at Birmingham, Ala. The following shall be Standing Committees of the Convention: The Executive Committee; on the Laymen's Movement; and on Temperance and Social Service. It is made the duty of the Committee on Nominations at each session to name for election the members of these Boards and Committees.
- 8. The Boards of the Convention are directed to form the closest possible connection with the State Boards, where such exist, in such a way as shall be mutually agreeable, and in other cases to secure such agency as each of the Boards may deem best, in both cases providing for the necessary expenses incurred.
- 9. The Secretaries of the Boards of the Convention are instructed to secure frequent distribution of information relating to their work by means of newspapers, tracts, leaflets and otherwise, as may be found expedient among our people.
- 10. The Committee on Order of Business, as provided for in By-Law 5 (1), shall act as a standing committee and suggest an order of business for the next meeting of the Convention. In so providing, this committee shall have due regard to the customary practices and precedents of the Convention in arranging for the orderly and efficient conduct of its business and discussion of its work.
- 11. At each meeting of the Convention special committees of one from each State, and the District of Columbia, shall be appointed to consider and report at the next meeting upon the annual reports of the several Boards. To facilitate consideration and discussion of these interests the following method of procedure is hereby adopted: (1) Each Board shall transmit to every member of the Committee on its work a copy of its annual report as soon as possible before the meeting of the Convention, and also prepare a brief printed digest for distribution among the members of the Convention; (2) the Committees on the Report of the Boards shall assemble the day before the meeting of the Convention and study the Reports with a view to presenting to the Convention a maturely considered report on each Board's work during the preceding year; (3) in consultation with the Secretaries of the Boards and the Committee on Order of Business, the work of each Board shall be presented to the Convention for discussion and action and continue until completion as follows: (a) The General Secretary or other representative of the Board may on the basis of the printed digest make such explanations and remarks as he may desire; (b) the report of the Committee on the Board's report shall then be presented; (c) discussion shall then follow and continue till the work of that Board is disposed of, one-fourth of the time for said discussion being allotted to undesignated speakers on the floor of the Convention if they desire to use it. This allottment of time for popular discussion shall be interpreted as referring also to all speeches affecting the work and the policies of this Convention.

- 12. The Boards and other Special Committees dealing with matters of general importance and interest shall be desired to have in the hands of the Secretaries of the Convention at least one week in advance, copies of their reports to be submitted at the approaching Convention, to be used by them in preparing data for the Associated Press in accordance with their requirements, in order that the work of the Convention may be given due and becoming publicity; and the President shall appoint annually a member of this Convention, whose duty it shall be to coperate with the representatives of the secular press in furnishing intelligent, accurate and creditable reports at this Convention, while it is in session, and that he be allowed $100 annually for such services.
- 13. The By-Laws may be altered at any time by the majority vote, except on the last day of the Convention.

CHARTER

AN ACT TO INCORPORATE THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Georgia, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passage of this Act, That William B. Johnson, Wilson Lumpkin, James B. Taylor, A. Docrey, R. B. C. Howell, and others, their associates and successors, be and they are hereby incorporated and made a body politic by the name and style of the SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION, with authority to receive, hold, possess, retain and dispose of property, either real or personal, to sue and be sued, and to make all by-laws rules and regulations necessary to the transaction of their business, not inconsistent with the laws of this State or of the United States; said corporation being created for the purpose of eliciting, combining and directing the energies of the BAPTIST DENOMINATION OF CHRISTIANS, for the propagation of the Gospel, any law, usage or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

Approved December 27, 1845.

CONVENTION PROCEDURE

Collated From the Convention Annuals for Ten Years

PRESIDENT (Annual ADDRESS OF 1923, p. 72). It was voted, after discussion (by Executive Committee), that the president's address at the Convention should be de-livered annually immediately before organization of the Convention.

ADDRESSES OF WELCOME (Annual 1923, p. 56). Resolved, That hereafter the address or addresses of welcome shall be limited to twenty minutes, and the responses thereto to ten minutes.

ARRANGEMENTS

RRANGEMENTS FOR MEETINGS (Annual 1920, p. 105). That it be made the duty of the Secretaries of the Convention to assist in advance with their experience and advice the local committee of arrangement in perfecting all details for a satisfactory meeting of the Convention by going to the place of meeting some days in advance, arranging for ushers to handle the crowds, meeting places for committees providing and auxiliary bodies, posting placards giving necessary directions to the people, bulletin boards, etc. In a word, it will be their duty to anticipate and provide for every detail of arrangements which will contribute to the order and efficiency of the Convention. All necessary expenses shall be paid by the Foreign, Home and Sunday School Boards in proportion to their incomes the previous year.

AUDITORIUM (Annual 1923, p. 72).

The (Executive) Committee also passed vote to the effect that every service held in the Convention auditorium shall hereafter be under the direction of the Committee of the Convention on Order of Business.

BULLETIN (Annual 1921, pp. 108, 109).

1. That the Secretaries (later referred to Publicity Bureau, see below) of the to Publicity Bureau, see below) of the Convention be, and they are, hereby authorized and directed at each meeting of the Convention hereafter, to have printed each night so long as the Convention is n session, a brief report, or bulletin, of the business transacted during that day, including the names of committees appointed report of the committees appointed the committees app report of the committees, pointed, such business as may be transacted and carried over to the following day.

2. That such report, or bulletin, do not include speeches or addresses or any comment thereon, the photograph or any sonal references to any messenger of the Convention, but shall be only a resume of the business transacted during that day.

3. That said Secretaries are hereby authorized and directed to have a sufficient number of said report, or bulletin printed and distributed to the messengers the opening session on the following day.

4. That the Treasurer of this Convention is hereby authorized and directed to defray the expenses of preparing and printing the said report or bulletin.

COMMITTEE ON MEMORIALS (Annual 1922, p. 19).

It was also voted that a Committee on Memorials be recommended as one of the regular committees of the Convention.

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS (Annual 1921, p. 29).

The following memorial from the Virginia General Association was read and adopted:

Resolved, That we respectfully suggest to the Southern Baptist Convention to consider the advisability of appointing annually a Committee on Resolutions to whom all resolutions not connected with reports of Boards or Committees shall be automatically referred, and to whom any other resolutions may be referred by direction of your body, and that such committee be required to report out all resolutions referred to it, either with or without recommendation,

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS (Annual 1921, p. 37).

That a Committee on Resolutions be appointed by the Committee on Committees at the earliest moment in the session of the Convention. This committee shall consist of five members and to it shall be referred for consideration all resolutions except those offered by the Boards and by the other committees of the Convention, provided, however, that by unanimous consent any resolution may be considered by the Convention without such reference. All resolutions referred to this committee shall be reported, with or without recommendations, as soon after such reference as is practicable, and no resolution shall be held to the last day of the Convention unless it be offered on the last day.

COMMITTEES TO REPORT AT NEXT CONVENTION (Annual 1920, p. 104).

That special committees, consisting of one from each State represented in the Convention and one from the District of Columbia, shall be appointed at each Convention to report on the reports recommendations of the several Boards at the next Convention. Each Board shall forward to each member of the committee which is to report on its work a printed copy of its full report as soon after the books are closed as possible. The com-mittees will be called to meet at least one day in advance of the Convention by the Chairman, prepare maturely considered reports on the reports of the various Boards and present the same as provided [See "Consideration of Reports of ahove. Boards."]

CONSIDERATION OF REPORTS BOARDS (Annual 1920, p. 105).

That the practice of reading digests of all the reports of the Boards or extracts from the same at the opening session of the Convention be discontinued, and that in lieu thereof the entire work of each Board, when it is once presented to the Convention, be kept before the body until its consideration is completed; that in this consideration the following order be followed as far as practicable: (a) A brief printed digest of the report of the Board whose work is to be considered shall be prepared by the Board in advance and be distributed among the delegates, accompanied by such remarks and explanations as the Secretaries or other representatives.

CONVENTION PROCEDURE—Continued

of the Board may desire to make; (b) the report of the committee on the Board's report shall then be presented and discussed; (c) the general discussion of the great objects which are entrusted to the fostering care of that Board shall then follow and conclude the discussion of that Board and its work.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARIES (Annual 1915, p. 65).

Resolved, That it be the object and in-Resolved, That it be the object and intention of the Convention that the Corresponding Secretary of each of the three Boards elected by the Convention be the executive officer, and responsible to the Board and to the Convention for the work of all the departments of the Board of which he is Corresponding Secretary.

DENOMINATIONAL PRESS (Annual 1923, p. 72).

It was voted [by the Executive Comittee] that the denominational press mittee] should be given a permanent place on the annual program of the Southern Baptist Convention. This was based on a request of the Southern Baptist Press Association. ELIGIBLE CONVENTION CITIES (Annual 1920, p. 105).

That a committee of three be appointed That a committee of three be appointed by this Convention to visit before the next Convention those cities within the territory of the Convention which are likely to invite this body and to investigate their facilities for entertaining it in a satisfactory manner, considering hotel and boarding-house accommodations, the location and adequacy of places of meetlocation and adequacy of places of meeting, railroad facilities for reaching the city, and its geographic location with respect to the constituency of the Convention. This committee shall report their findings to the next Convention with recommendations for a list of cities which are in a position to entertain this body in a satisfactory manner. The Convention shall from these findings make a list of eligible cities from which it will select its place of meeting from year to year. This list may be increased by the addition of other cities by vote of the Convention as they provide adequate facilities for entertaining the body, provided, however, that the Convention will not consider going to any city until it has provided a satisfac-tory auditorium with a seating capacity of at least 5,000.

ELIGIBLE CONVENTION CITIES nual 1921, p. 65).

At the present time the following cities are able to give satisfactory entertain-ment to the Southern Baptist Convention, we recommend that they be declared deligible, viz.: Atlanta, Ga.; Houston, Tex.; Kansas City, Mo.; St. Louis, Mo.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Hot Springs, Ark., and Chattanooga, Tenn.

Some other cities will soon be in a position to make application for a place on the eligible list, since they are building auditoriums or increasing other facilities which are necessary to the meetings of the Convention.

EXHIBITS (Annual 1920, p. 104).

That all exhibits of every description be rigidly excluded from those parts of the place of meeting where the people visiting the exhibits will dsturb the proceedings of the Convention, their locations to be determined by the Secretaries of the Convention in consultation with the local committees.

EXHIBIT SPACE (Annual 1923, p. Resolved, That we accept no invitation from any city for the sessions of the Southern Baptist Convention without the Executive Committee of the Convention having exclusive control of all exhibit space.

EXPENSES OF ANNUAL MEETINGS (Annual 1923, p. 72).

It was also voted [by Executive Committee] that the expenses of the Convention in conventio connection with the annual meetings and the publication and distribution of the annuals should be distributed among the Boards as follows: Sunday School Board, one-third; Foreign Mission Board, one-fourth; Home Mission Board, one-fourth; Education Board, one-twelfth; Relief and Annuity Board, one-twelfth.

EXPENSES OF EXTRA COMMITTEES (Annual 1921, p. 42).

1. That the expense of all committees appointed by the Convention to perform duties between the annual sessions of the Convention shall have their expenses borne by the respective Boards on a basis pro rata to the receipts of the Boards whenever the work of such committee concerns the particular work of the Beards equally.

2. That whenever an expense account is created by an ad interim committee, or is otherwise authorized by the Convention for service which does not directly concern any one of the Boards of the Convention, that Board shall not be required to bear any part of such expense.

3. That in any case where question is raised by one of the Boards as to its legitimate participation in such items of expense, the matter shall be either settled by the Convention or made one of confer-ence between the Boards and be settled by them.

MEETINGS IN CONVENTION HALL (Annual 1923, p. 72). It was voted [by Executive Committee] that it was expedient that no other meeting than Convention services be held in the Convention hall during the sessions of the Convention.

MEMORIAL SERVICES (Annual 1923, p.

Resolved, That hereafter the Committee on Order of Business be instructed to arrange for brief memorial services to be held during the sessions of the Conven-tion, provided that the Convention may, if it so desire, instruct otherwise.

NEW PLANS AND POLICIES (Annual 1923, p. 74).

That the Secretary of the Convention be instructed to communicate with each of the Boards and Agencies of the Conventhe Boards and Agencies of the Convention not later than six weeks before the annual meeting of the Convention for information as to any recommendations to be proposed to the Convention by said Board or Agencies looking to new plans or policies, and that a brief resume or digest of such proposed recommendations be published by the Secretary in the denominational papers at least three weeks before the annual meeting of the Convention. vention.

PROCEEDINGS

Atlanta, Georgia, May 14, 1924.

- 1. The Southern Baptist Convention met at 10 A.M. in the Auditorium-Armory.
- 2. The opening exercises included reading of John 14 and comment by R. J. Pirkey, Kentucky, and songs led by Home Board singers, including "Amazing Grace."
- 3. President E. Y. Mullins called the Convention to order and asked that A. J. Holt of Florida lead in prayer.
- 4. At this time President Mullins addressed the Convention on "The Mission of the Southern Baptist Convention."
 - 5. The Secretaries made the following report, which was adopted:

We find that according to Article III of the Constitution, a total of 13,764 are entitled to seats in the Convention, 12,783 on the financial basis, and 981 Associational representatives.

Complying with Section I of the By-Laws, we began enrolling members of the Convention on Monday afternoon, May 12. At the hour for the opening of the Convention the enrollment had reached 4,245.

While this enrollment constitutes the Convention, we recommend that pending their registration, messengers who arrive too late to be enrolled be recognized as members of the Convention.

6. The organization of the body being in order, President Mullins announced that the first thing in order will be the electing of a President.

The following motion was made by J. D. Adcock, Florida, that the By-law relating to nominating speeches, which reads as follows:

4. "Speeches in support of any brother's nomination for an office of the Convention shall be limited to one address of not more than fifteen minutes in length, and one response of not more than ten minutes." be changed to read as follows:

"Speeches in support of any brother's nomination for an office of the Convention shall be limited to one address of not more than five minutes in length and one second of five minutes."

It was so ordered.

The following nominations for President were made: W. J. Mc-Glothlin, South Carolina, nominated Z. T. Cody, South Carolina; E. C. Dargan, Tennessee, nominated John D. Mell, Georgia; John J. Hurt, Tennessee, nominated George W. McDaniel, Virginia.

Speeches seconding these nominations were made as follows: John E. White, South Carolina, seconded nomination of Z. T. Cody, South Carolina; Len G. Broughton, Florida, seconded nomination of George W. McDaniel, Virginia; Norman Cox, Georgia, seconded nomination of John D. Mell, Georgia.

On motion nominations were ordered closed.

The President announced the following brethren as tellers to take the ballot:

Tellers: L. J. Bristow, Alabama; L. M. Sipes, Arkansas; C. B. Austin, District of Columbia; Bunyan Stephens, Florida; K. P. Allen, Georgia; A. E. Prince, Illinois; W. E. Mitchell, Kentucky; L. T. Hastings, Louisiana; John S. Sowers, Maryland; J. W. Storer, Mississipi; O. R. Mangum, Missouri; C. M. Rock, New Mexico; R. L. Lemmons, North Carolina; C. C. Morris, Oklahoma; W. L. Ball, South Carolina; J. H. Sharp, Tennessee; E. Godbold, Texas; E. E. Dudley, Virginia.

7. The next order being the election of Vice-Presidents for the Convention, the following brethren were nominated: H. L. Winburn, Arkansas, nominated Charles E. Dicken, Arkansas; W. D. Upshaw, Georgia, nominated W. L. Pickard, Tennessee; W. H. Williams, Missouri, nominated Minetry Jones, Missouri; T. V. McCaul, Florida, nominated Albert A. Murphree, Florida.

On motion of R. H. Coleman, Texas, the Secretary was authorized to cast the ballot for these four brethren as Vice-Presidents of the Convention.

8. On motion of A. C. Cree, Georgia, Hight C. Moore, Tennessee, was chosen Secretary, L. O. Dawson, Alabama, casting the ballot.

On motion of A. J. Barton, Missouri, J. Henry Burnett, Tennessee, was elected Secretary by L. O. Dawson, Alabama, casting the ballot.

- 9. The Secretary was on motion authorized to cast the vote of the Convention for George W. Norton, Kentucky, as Treasurer.
- 10. On motion, W. P. Harvey, Kentucky, was elected Auditor of the Convention by the Secretary casting the ballot.
- 11. Committee on Order of Business through Chairman L. O. Dawson, Alabama, made a report at this time and on motion of A. J. Barton, Missouri, was adopted; leaving in the hands of the Committee the matter of making such changes as may be needed.
- 12. The address of welcome was delivered at this time by M. Ashby Jones, Pastor, Ponce DeLeon Baptist Church, Atlanta, and the response was delivered by George W. Quick, Pastor, First Baptist Church, Greenville, S. C.
- 13. The tellers, through L. J. Bristow, Alabama, announced that George W. McDaniel, Virginia, had been elected President of the Convention. The total vote was 3,305, of which a majority was cast for Brother McDaniel. President Mullins requested Brethren Norman Cox, Georgia, and John J. Hurt, Tennessee, to conduct the newly elected President to the front, and in a fitting manner handed over the gavel to George W. McDaniel, the new President.

- 14. President McDaniel made a brief response and took charge of the meeting.
- 15. The Vice-Presidents were then presented: John J. Hurt, Tennessee, presented Charles E. Dicken, Arkansas; Norman Cox, Georgia, presented Minetry Jones, Missouri; President McDaniel presented W. L. Pickard, Tennessee; Vice-President Albert A. Murphree was not present at this time.
- 16. The President recognized John W. Inzer, Tennessee, who moved that the Convention sermon which was scheduled for the morning be preached this evening on account of the lateness of the hour. It was so ordered.
- 17. Motion was made to adourn. After announcements, the meeting closed by prayer led by W. S. Wiley, Oklahoma.

WEDNESDAY-Afternoon Session

- 18. The meeting was called to order by President McDaniel at 2:30 o'clock. Devotional exercises were conducted by Weston Bruner, South Carolina. The audience sang "I Am Bound for the Promised Land." Brother Bruner read 1 Corinthians thirteenth chapter and led in prayer, and the audience sang, "Shall We Gather at the River?"
- 19. President called the meeting to order and recognized Chairman L. O. Dawson on arrangements for evening meetings.
- 20. M. D. Jeffries, Tennessee, Secretary of Board of Trustees of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, made the following report of vacancies in the Board:

Maryland and District of Columbia—H. P. McCormick, Charles Ness, Non-attendance.

Virginia—Cecil V. Cook, Removed from State.

North Carolina-J. J. Hurt, Removed from State.

Florida—Frank Bentley, Non-attendance.

Alabama—J. Carter Wright, Non-attendance.

Kentucky-T. J. Humphries, Franklin Miller, Non-attendance.

Oklahoma—S. J. Porter, Removed from State.

Missouri—New Trustee for funds contributed; whereupon the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That a Committee of one from each State reporting the above vacancies be appointed to nominate to this Convention three brethren residing in said States for each of existing vacancies from which the Board of Trustees of the Seminary will fill the vacancies in accordance with the fundamental principles of the institution.

- 21. The President announced the Committee on Committees as follows:
- W. W. Landrum, Kentucky, Chairman; J. R. Jester, North Carolina; R. A. McFarland, Virginia; C. Stubblefield, Oklahoma; Wallace Bassett, Texas, and the Vice-Presidents of the Convention.
- 22. C. P. Stealey, Oklahoma, read a paper, which was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.
- 23. Moved by A. J. Barton, Missouri, that the Constitution be and the same is amended as follows:

"In line eight Article 5 after the word "Auditor" insert the words "Corresponding Secretary"; in lines ten and eleven strike out the words "except that the Corresponding Secretary of each Board shall be elected by the Convention itself as hereinafter provided, and this Secretary may be named by the Board as its Treasurer if deemed advisable."

"Strike out Article VI and change the numbers of remaining Articles to correspond."

These changes were referred to a Committee of one from each State.

24. The President recognized J. H. Farmer, Professor in McMaster University of Canada, fraternal visitor from the Canadian Baptists. Brother Farmer addressed the Convention briefly.

The President also presented A. B. Rudd, fraternal visitor from Mexican National Baptist Convention of Mexico City, Mexico, who brought a brief message to the Convention.

25. The report of the Executive Committee was read by the Secretary as follows:

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Your Committee desires to submit the following report for the year.

At a meeting in Nashville, Tenn., on January 2, 1924, the following resolutions were passed by the Executive Committee.

"Resolved, That the books of the various boards of the Southern Baptist Convention close at midnight, April 30, 1924.

Resolved, second, That these boards include in their annual fiscal statements (1) such funds as have been received in the regular course of business during the year, and (2) such additional funds at the close of the year as they may be advised by the State agencies have been actually forwarded, or that they (our general boards) may be authorized to draw for through the banks."

A third resolution bearing upon the George Washington University matter was passed as follows:

"The request of the Education Board in regard to George Washington University was presented by Corresponding Secretary, W. C. James, and on motion of J. Calvin Moss the following was adopted: This Executive Committee hears with profound interest the statement from Dr. James, Secretary of our Education Board, to the effect that our Southern Baptist Convention can secure on certain terms the property and entire ownership and control of the George Washington University (D. C.). This Committee recommends to our Convention Special Committee on this George Washington University matter that they bring this proposition for disposition definitely to our May, 1924, Convention."

These matters are respectfully submitted to the Convention by the Executive Committee.

In view of the discussion which has taken place during the past year concerning the function and work of the Southern Baptist Convention, the Executive Committee desires to repeat the statement made in our report one year ago regarding the relation of the Southern Baptist Convention to other Baptist bodies. That statement was as follows:

- "1. The Southern Baptist Convention is organized like all other Baptist bodies, on the voluntary principle. This is derived from the fundamental principle on which a Baptist church is constituted—self-determination in all matters pertaining to its own work under the Lordship of Jesus Christ.
- 2. The relation of the Convention to all other Baptist general bodies is purely advisory. It has no authority over the churches, over district associations, State Conventions, or other Baptist bodies of any kind, nor has any other Baptist general body any authority over the Convention.
- 3. The Convention occupies a sphere in our denominational work peculiar to itself and in conflict with no other organization or interest of the denomination. In order, therefore, that the unity, integrity and efficiency of the Convention be not weakened or impaired, it is necessary that the Convention maintain and preserve its own right and function in determining its general plans, policies and programs as to organization and methods, the raising of funds and general objectives involved in its own work. This is simply another way of saying that the Convention should preserve its own integrity as a Baptist body.
- 4. In all cases and degrees where the activities of the Convention are related to the activities of other Baptist bodies, the controlling principle is free and voluntary co-operation for common ends. Since no Baptist body has authority over any other, there can be no question of dictation on either side. Among Baptists moral and spiritual rights and obligations are mutual. Only confusion can result from a failure to recognize the mutuality of these relations. We co-operate, not ly coercion, but by mutual consent. Free conference and frank discussion enable us to reach satisfactory conclusions for co-operative work. We must never convert moral and spiritual into legal relations among Baptist general bodies."

We feel that the present situation justifies our repeating these paragraphs in our report of one year ago, for emphasis.

The Executive Committee also recommends to the Southern Baptist Convention that the Executive Committee be instructed to call a conference of representatives of the various State Mission Roards within the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention in order that a full and free discussion of the relations between the Southern Baptist Convention and State Boards and Conventions may be had. The close relations which exist between the activities of State Boards of Missions and the work of the Southern Baptist Convention, especially in the matter of raising money, seem to call for such a conference in order that misunderstandings may be avoided in our future work, and particularly in order that the respective functions of these bodies may be clearly defined. Your Committee is fully persuaded that there will be little difficulty in reaching mutually satisfactory conclusions on all vital and important matters. But we do feel that it is necessary that such a conference be held at some early date. Otherwise, we are in danger of confusion of thought, and misunderstanding, and thus the work will be hindered. Our Baptist co-operative work, we believe, may be made harmonious and mutually helpful at every point, and it is to this end that we make this suggestion.

Your Committee finds itself handicapped in holding necessary meetings and in other ways by lack of any fund at its disposal to cover necessary expenses. The necessity for such a fund is most pressing. We, therefore, recommend that this Committee be authorized to draw upon the Sunday School Board for such amounts as may be required from time to time in sums not to exceed five thousand dollars in any one year.

In view of the unmatched blessings of God upon our work and the consequent growth of the Convention and its work far beyond the anticipations of a generation ago, there is evidently need of reconsidering the basis of representation in this body. We, therefore, recommend that a Committee be appointed to study the whole matter of representation in the Southern Baptist Convention and report at the next meeting with such recommendations as may seem wise.

Respectfully submitted,

- E. Y. MULLINS, Chairman for Executive Committee.
- W. W. Landrum, Kentucky, made a motion to adopt the report as read.
- B. C. Hening, Georgia, moved to strike out the paragraph relating to the work in connection with Northern Baptists and Negro Baptists. A. J. Barton, Missouri, spoke on the amendment to strike out. The vote was taken and the paragraph was stricken out.

The report was adopted as amended.

26. The report of the Conservation Commission was read by Frank E. Burkhalter, Tennessee, as follows:

REPORT OF CONSERVATION COMMISSION

The Conservation Commission was appointed by the Washington Convention to carry on the work begun by the 75 Million Campaign Commission. This is its fourth annual report. The Commission, following the Kansas City Convention, organized and pushed with all possible vigor the Campaign throughout the states in the summer and fall of 1923. Following instructions of the Convention we organized and put on through the state organizations and have pushed with all our vigor, the campaign for stewardship and the budget. Early in January we began to organize for the spring round-up. The General Director, the Budget Director, and the Publicity Director have gone full-strength and with all their time into the Campaign for raising the largest possible amount of cash during the spring, and have come to this Convention with this brief report.

Publicity

During the year the publicity department of the Commission located at Nashville has published and distributed 10,812,380 pages of tracts and other pieces of literature on the achievements of the Campaign and such related subjects as stewardship and the church budget. In addition, it has published "Campaign Talking Points," a paper of information that has gone to the preachers of the South; also, "The Southern Baptist Clip Sheet," a monthly publication that has gone to the denominational and secular papers as well as to the denominational workers. We have furnished numerous news articles on the Campaign and general denominational articles to the Baptist and secular papers, and have provided the state secretaries with numerous suggestive display ads and news articles in the interest of the Campaign. The Publicity Director has also conducted during March and April a systematic campaign of display advertising among the Baptist papers of the South. The Publicity office has likewise served as general clearing house for all matters related to the South-wide aspects of the Campaign; and, in addition to issuing this regular literature, has furnished special suggestions to scores of Campaign speakers, provided local church calendars with weekly news service on the Campaign and furnished various denominational organizations with special program material, publicity suggestions, and other needed assistance. We are glad to report that the State Secretaries have given splendid co-operation in the matter of the distribution of the tracts and other literature which we have published and furnished to them. We have furnished the pastors and workers generally with a large supply of all sorts of Campaign information and literature and we rejoice that this has been widely and wisely used.

Stewardship and Budget

Dr. O. E. Bryan was unanimously and heartily elected by the Commission, imdemiately after the Kansas City Convention, to be Budget Director. He accepted the responsibility and has given himself with all of his powers to the promotion of stewardship and budgeting throughout the South. Through the Commission and the Sunday School Board a spendid literature was produced and widely distributed on the subject of stewardship and budgeting. The State Boards were asked to co-operate in this work by electing stewardship secretaries. A conference was held in Nashville in June, 1923, at which practically all the states had their representatives. Since that time all the states in the Southern Baptist Convention have, in co-operation with the Conservation Commission, organized in a more definite way for stewardship propaganda. Each state has one or more special stewardship workers who give their entire time to the teaching of stewardship and budgeting the churches. All the states have passed favorable resolutions in regard to this program in their annual meetings. Most of the states have pushed the stewardship organizations with vigor in the district associations and the churches. Classes in stewardship have been taught in most of the leading churches in the South. About two-thirds of the district associations have adopted some form of stewardship organization in their annual meetings. It is impossible to tabulate accurate statistics in regard to the number of churches that have adopted the budget. It is hoped that a full report can be made to the denomination later as to the results of this campaign. The stewardship directors in the states have for the last several months given their entire time to the 75 Million Campaign as such, creating sentiment on the field and consequently have not been able to do the work that otherwise could have been accomplished. The Budget Director has given his entire time during the year to helping to create a literature for stewardship, visiting conferences, associations, conventions, general gatherings, and leading churches, in the interest of stewardship and budgeting, and for the last few months especially in the interest of the 75 Million Campaign. He attended more than half of the state conventions last fall and has campaigned in many of the states this spring. We have had a most soulful and splendid co-operation on the part of all the denominational forces. The Sunday School Board has helped in a large way by giving 50,000 textbooks for mission study classes. The General Secretaries, the State Secretaries, the pastors, and all the workers have helped in a wonderful way to put forward this great movement. We believe that the states are now so well organized that they are prepared to take care of the stewardship and budget programs, and by the assistance of the Conservation Commission, the work can be carried on in a great fashion until a worthy end has been accomplished, that stewardship will be put on the consciences of all our people, and that the great majority of our churches will so systematize their finances as to contribute to local and denominational enterprises, systematically, proportionately, and regularly, according to the plan set out in the Word of God. We recommend that the stewardship program in our territory be pushed vigorously in all future campaigns. We recommend that this work be continued under the Conservation Commission or the general campaign organization for the future and that the states be continued as the chief units of organization in this program. Director, feeling that he had set up the organization and so forwarded the work that it was not necessary for him to continue in this work with the Conservation Commission, has accepted the superintendency of the Department of Evangelism in the Home Mission Board and goes back to that important position from which he came to the Commission a year ago. The Commission is profoundly grateful to God and to Dr. Bryan for the splendid and noble work which he has done during this year. We believe that the work begun is but the beginning of a great and a more wonderful future for Southern Baptists in this great line of work.

Results of Campaign

The following is a statement of the total receipts, state by state, during this conventional year on the 75 Million Campaign, and the total amount raised up to this time:

The above statement shows that we have raised so far on the Campaign $53,832,852.79. The balance necessary to complete the 75 Million objective is $21,-We have from now until December, 1924, to finish this task. This is the task of titans. It is $4,000,000 more than we raised from December 1919 to December 1920. And we have only about six months in which to raise this amount. The Commission believes that we have the numbers, the leadership, the organization, and the financial ability to complete this task worthily and reach the 75 Million objective. If Southern Baptists will to do it, they can do it. Your Commission urges the brotherhood throughout the South, by all possible means, to throw themselves with all their strength into the movement from now until January 1st, to complete as we should complete this Campaign. By doing it, we will keep our solemn promises made to God and the world. We will save our causes; we will strengthen our unity, our solidarity; we will preserve our organization and make an immortal testimony to the glory of God and the efficiency of our forces. We believe that God willed the 75 Million Campaign and that He will help us to finish it worthily. We are grateful for the blessings of the past five years. The record of achievement is the most remarkable in the history of Baptists of any time or in any section. The results in all lines of activity are beyond compare, the greatest of any other period of our history. Gratitude to God for the blessings He has given, a sense of obligation to a lost world, a consciousness of our duty to Christ and His Gospel program, the blessings which the finished achievements will bring to our causes, and to a lost world everywhere, should cause Southern Baptists to will to win and to give themselves without reservation to the achievement of this victory. The Commission urges that every secretary, every pastor, every layman, every woman, all the membership of our churches, and all the forces in Southern Zion, will dedicate themselves, heartily devote themselves, to the one great and worthy effort of finishing the thing we promised God, each other, and the wide world we would finish. We are able to do it. We are obligated to do it. It will greatly glorify God for us to do it. By the grace of God, we ought to do it. Let's in His strength go forth to the accomplishment of it In the six months just ahead of us; and eternity alone will be able to record the blessings which will issue from such a complete victory.

L. R. Scarborough, Director of the Commission, took charge. M. P. Hunt, Kentucky, made a motion to adopt the report. The following brethren spoke on the report: O. E. Bryan, Stewardship Secretary; J. M. Dawson, Texas; A. C. Cree, Georgia; John Dudley McCready, Kentucky; A. H. Newman, Georgia; T. C. Ecton, Kentucky; J. H. Sharp, Tennessee; J. L. Dance, Tennessee; Julian Atwood, Illinois; Marvin Pharr, Georgia, student of Mercer University; A. L. Maddox, New Mexico; J. C. Solomon, Georgia. Then L. R. Scarborough made a powerful appeal for completion of our task.

The report was unanimously adopted after an earnest prayer by B. D. Gray, Georgia.

- 27. Announcements were made.
- 28. After prayer by M. F. Sandifer, Virginia, the meeting adjourned.

WEDNESDAY—Evening Session

29. Preceding the meeting the audience was led in singing by the Home Board singers in several hymns, including "Love Lifted Me" and "I Am Bound for the Promised Land." The Home Board Quartette: S. J. Spencer, Harry Beckman, P. S. Rowland, John D. Hoffman, sang some selections.

Harold Major, Texas, conducted devotional exercises; he read the eighth chapter of Luke and commented on same, followed by a brief season of volunteer prayers, he closing with prayer. The quartette of the First Baptist Church of Atlanta closed the devotion with a selection.

- 30. The hour had arrived for the preaching of the Convention sermon. F. F. Gibson, Kentucky, read the seventh chapter of Revelation, and called on J. J. Hurt, Tennessee, to lead in prayer. Fred Scholfield, Alabama, led in singing and the following quartette sang, "Sail On": Fred Scholfield, E. O. Sellers, I. E. Reynolds and E. L. Wolslagel. The Convention sermon was then preached by F. F. Gibson, Pastor of Walnut Street Baptist Church, Louisville, Ky. Text: Revelation 7: 9, 10. Subject: "The Vision of the Redeemed." At the close of the sermon, Brother Gibson led in prayer. Standing, the audience sang "Stand Up for Jesus."
- 31. The next order of business was the Education Board. W. C. James, Alabama, Secretary of the Board, made a statement and introduced Norman Cox, Georgia, who read the report of the Committee on the Report of the Education Board, which is as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON REPORT OF EDUCATION BOARD

Five years ago in this city you created your Education Board. The time of its institution was one rich in its issues for the history of Southern Baptists. The achievements of this Board have fully justified the wisdom of your action in establishing it.

Each year it has rendered you an account of service giving evidence of faithful and useful employment of its stewardship. But each year, also, because of conditions beyond its control it has been forced to sound an apologetic note. Its fifth annual report in this respect is not different from the others. The report declares:

"The Education Board presents this, its Fifth Annual Report, to the Southern Baptist Convention with the abiding conviction that Christian Education is fundamental to the life of the denomination, and that the Education Board can function effectively in advancing the true ideal of education. The period of five years is too short for a complete evaluation of educational movements, but even this time has made manifest the need of a medium through which the Southern Baptist Convention may express its purposes and realize its ambitions in matters educational. While we recognize many limitations, we yet vision almost innumerable problems in education that could be best handled through such a Board.

"At the last session of the Convention a Committee was appointed to which was referred the correlation of the various activities of the Convention. Within the province of this Committee lies the question of the future of the Education Board. It is not our purpose in this report to transgress upon the rights of this Committee nor to offer here a brief for the permanency of the Education Board, but in justice to the work that we have been doing certain features and functions of the Board must have treatment."

We, your committee, would not unduly prejudice the attitude of this Convention towards the report of your Committee on Correlating and Defining the work of the various Departments of Convention Activities. But we do commend to you our positive conviction that the obligation of Southern Baptists to the great cause of Christian Education imperatively demands the continuance of the Education Baptists

This Board was born with its hands tied behind its back and burdened by a handicap to its effort that grew out of the general situation of our Convention's organized work. In this condition it was commissioned to solve intricate problems, perform tremendous achievements and by its service carry on the work of Southern Baptists in the general field of Christian Education. The wonder of it all is, not that it has not accomplished more, but that it has done as much as it has, circumstanced as it has been.

Because of the forthcoming report of the Committee on Correlations, the Education Board has refrained from making specific recommendations to this Convention respecting future policies and work. Its report presents only an account of its labors and situation. To some of its items we urge the attention of the Convention and ask its endorsement.

First. The Board declares the need of Southern Baptists for a Legislative Commission. It says:

"Southern Baptists should have a Legislative Commission whose services would be at the disposal of the friends of Christian Education before any State Legislature, 'where bills may be presented that are unfriendly to church schools, and where it would be helpful to have the united voice of Southern Baptists along with other Christian bodies.'

"In short, 'we must not leave to entirely outside agencies the formulation, declaration and application of educational standards. We must do that for ourselves and at the same time meet the just requirements of the nation as a whole."

We, your committee, recommend that our Education Board be instructed to study this question thoroughly and recommend to the 1925 meeting of this Convention such practical action as its conclusions may warrant.

Second. Your Committee recommends that the Education Board herewith be instructed to work out the best plan it can devise and present the same to the 1925 Convention for correlating the collection and distribution of aid and loan funds for the students of our Southwide institutions along lines similar to the relation now existing between our Relief and Annuity Board with respect to its collection and disbursement of funds to its beneficiaries.

Third. The report of the Standardization and Promotion Commission created by the Education Board upon instructions given it by this Convention in its Jacksonville meeting, May, 1922, is presented with and as a part of the report of the Education Board. We cordially commend the excellent work of this able Commission.

Fourth. The report of the Board calls attention to the alarming dearth of qualified pastors and missionaries with the suggestion that it be commissioned to enter the field to supply this need with an approved effort to aid in calling out a larger number of the called among our Baptist youth for the service of the High Calling. We recommend that this Convention instruct the Board to do this work.

Fifth. We recommend that the Convention instruct the Education Board to prepare a definite, practical schedule of its plans and needs for the development at Ridgecrest of a great Summer Assembly for Southern Baptists and that there be made to it a sufficient appropriation by the Committee in charge of the next campaign to enable it with funds from the future campaign to properly finance the undertaking. We ought to make this enterprise worthy of our strength or abandon it. It deserves to be made a rich contributor to our Baptist life. We cannot afford to maintain it other than adequately.

Sixth. By action of the Convention in 1920, the Foreign, Home and Education Boards were instructed to pay over to the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, and the Baptist Bible Institute certain sums of money out of the Campaign for building purposes, said sums to be returned to these Boards out of the first money coming in after the present campaign was over. The 75 Million Campaign is now drawing to a close and preparations are being made for a new one. The following are the amounts loaned by each Board: By the Foreign Board $191,902.49, by the Home Board $96,796.37, and by the Education Board $41,714.25. Mention is here made of the loans of the Foreign and Home Boards, because the Education Board was made the disbursing agent of the loans of these Boards. We your Committee recommend that the Convention refer this question to its Executive Committee for adjustment.

Seventh. Your Committee would also urge upon the Convention that it keep faith with John B. Stetson University, Florida; Louisiana College, Louisiana; Ouachita College, Arkansas; Ewing College, Illinois, and Montezuma College, New Mexico, to each of which the Convention promised $100,000.00 for endowment on condition that they raise $200,000.00 each for the same purpose. Later by action of the Convention the conditions were changed in the case of the colleges in Illinois and New Mexico, so that they might use their money from the Convention for buildings and improvements. Of the other three States, Louisiana is now preparing for a campaign of $200,000.00 which when raised will entitle her to receive her gift of $100,000 from the Convention, while Florida and Arkansas have already qualified and are waiting for the money which was promised them by the Convention.

Respectfully submitted,

NORMAN M. COX, Chairman; MRS. E. LEA SMITH, J. C. HOCKETT, JR., W. F. YARBOROUGH, E. D. SOLOMON.

Brother Cox moved the adoption of the report and spoke to the report. A. C. Dixon, Maryland, and A. J. Barton, Missouri, spoke on the report and it was adopted.

32. The report of the Committee on Correlation was read by F. S. Groner, Texas, Chairman of the Committee, as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CORRELATING AND DEFINING WORK OF VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS OF CONVENTION ACTIVITIES

Your Committee has had several meetings and has given the important subject committed to it the most prayerful and thoughtful consideration. We have studied this subject from every viewpoint. In addition to having heard representatives of every interest involved, we have had by correspondence the benefit of the opinion of scores of brethren from every part of the South, representing every cause fostered by this Convention. After hearing from all these various sources, many of the members of the Committee, in fact most of them, had a different conviction in regard to certain policies at the conclusion of our deliberations than at the outset. There were different views held by the various members of the Committee even at the time the report was finally completed, but such concessions were made as seemed necessary and consistent in order to bring to the Convention a report. Our task has been as difficult as it was important. Therefore, after the most thoughtful, sustained and prayerful deliberation, we bring to the Convention the following recommendations:

Foreign Mission Board

We recommend that the work of the Foreign Mission Board continue as now.

Home Mission Board

We recommend that the Home Mission Board be charged, as at present, with the conduct of such missionary, benevolent and other denominational work as may be assigned to it in the territory of the United States. This includes the Department of Missions proper, such as pioneer work among the foreigners, Negroes, Jews and seamen, with partial support of pastors at strategic points, and co-operative work with the various State Boards.

The Departments of Evangelism and Enlistment to be continued as now, together with the Church Building and Loan Department.

We further recommend that The Home Mission Board be continued in charge of the missionary work of the Southern Baptist Convention in Cuba and the Panama Canal Zone. We also recommend that control and direction of the mountain schools be transferred from the Home Mission Board to the Education Board or to the State Boards of the several states in which these schools are located as the interests of each institution may dictate and the conditions in each case may require. It is understood that this transfer shall be made as soon as it can be accomplished without injury to said schools of their work, same to become effective by the next meeting of this Convention, if possible, or as soon thereafter as practicable.

The Education Board

We recommend the continuance of the Education Board, but with an enlarged sphere of activity, and certain duties additional to those now committed to it. In addition to the transfer of the Mountain School work to the Education Board as above mentioned we recommend that the work now done by the Inter-Board Commission be and is hereby transferred to the Education Board, and that the work be financed as at present until adequate funds are provided out of future campaigns.

We recommend that the Education Board shall represent the Southern Baptist Convention in its interest, financial and otherwise, in the Negro Theological Seminary; provided, that the present Commission in charge of the organization of the Negro Seminary be continued until the building now under construction is completed, and the school organized and opened for students.

We further recommend that the Education Board co-operate with the trustees of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. The Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, The Baptist Bible Institute, and the officials of the Training Schools at Louisville and Forth Worth, in conducting southwide campaigns for money for these institutions, thereby avoiding conflict and complications, and securing concert of action in the states where appeals are made.

Sunday School Board "

It is recommended that the Sunday School Board be continued as at present.

Relief and Annuity Board

We recommend that the Relief and Annuity Board be continued as at present.

Laymen's Work

It is recommended that the Laymen's work be continued as at present.

Hospital Commission

We recommend that the Hospital Commission be continued to carry out the instructions of the 1923 session of the Southern Baptist Convention, to build a general hospital at New Orleans, ultimately to cost $2,000,000.

We also recommend that the hospital work of the Convention shall be limited to the New Orleans Hospital and the Tuberculosis Sanatorium at El Paso.

Woman's Missionary Union

Recognizing the great and valuable work of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention, and yet realizing that there are some points where a closer co-operation and a clearer understanding between the Convention and the W. M. U. are much needed, we recommend to the Convention and the W. M. U., appointment of a committee of five, by each body, which shall constitute a joint committee to confer and report to their respective bodies on the future relations of the work of both of these organizations.

Sunday School Lesson Committee

We recommend that the Sunday School Lesson Committee be discontinued as a standing committee of the Convention, and that its maintenance and appointment from year to year, be referred to the Sunday School Board with power to act.

Concerning Funds for Hospital Commission and Education Board

We recommend that this Convention shall provide out of future financial campaigns adequate funds for carrying out its obligations in the construction and operation of the New Orleans Hospital.

We further recommend, that in view of the additional work committed by this report to the Education Board, and the additional financial obligations consequent thereon, that this Convention provide, out of future financial campaigns, such funds as shall be adequate for the carrying on of the work committed by this Convention to the Education Board.

Change in By-Laws

It is recommended that the By-Laws of this Convention be so amended as to conform with the changes provided for in this report.

C. E. MADDRY, Secretary. F. S. GRONER, Chairman.

E. D. Solomon, Louisiana, moved the adoption of the report.

A minority report was presented by N. T. Tull, Mississippi, and read by S. E. Tull, Arkansas:

MINORITY REPORT COMMITTEE ON CORRELATING AND DEFINING WORK OF VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS OF CONVENTION ACTIVITIES

Whereas the work of the Southern Baptist Convention is continually enlarging, making it necessary to create new agencies from time to time in order to carry out the will of the Convention; and

Whereas the multiplying of separate agencies has occasioned overlapping of the work of the various agencies and has produced an unnecessary burden in administrative expenses; and

Whereas the present organization does not provide for such general Boards as would naturally and logically care for the future growth of the Convention without the creation of other separate agencies from time to time; therefore, be it resolved:

That the Convention authorize the creation of four general agencies, to-wit: "The Southern Baptist Education Board," "The Southern Baptist Mission Board," "The Southern Baptist Social Service Board," and "The Southern Baptist Publishing House," which agencies shall take over the entire work now under direction of the Convention in the manner hereinafter indicated:

- That the Southern Baptist Education Board shall be charged with the following work: (1) All the work of the Education Board, as now organized; (2) All the work of the Inter-Board Commission, as now organized; (3) All the work of the Woman's Missionary Union Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention, as now organized; (4) All the work of the Laymen's Missionary Movement Auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention, as now organized: (5) All the work of the Sunday School Board, as now organized, except the publishing business; (6) All interests of the Convention, financial and otherwise, in the Baptist Negro Theological Seminary after the present Commission in charge of said Negro Seminary shall have completed the building now under construction, and shall have organized the school and opened it for students; (7) All mountain school work now under direction of the Home Mission Board; (8) Such general co-operation with the trustees of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, the Baptist Bible Institute and the officials of the Training Schools at Louisville and Fort Worth, in conducting southwide campaigns for money for these institutions, as shall prevent complications and secure concert of action in the states where appeals are made.
- 2. That the Southern Baptist Mission Board shall be charged with the following work: (1) All the work of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, as now organized; (2) All the work of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, as now organized, except the work of the Southern Baptist Sanatorium which shall be directed as hereinafter indicated; and except the mountain school work which shall be under direction of the Education Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, as above indicated.
- 3. That the Southern Baptist Social Service Board shall be charged with the following work: (1) All the work of the Relief and Annuity Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, as now organized; (2) The work of the Southern Baptist Sanatorium, which is now under the direction of the Home Mission Board; (3) The work of the Hospital Commission, as now organized; (4) A general department of Social Welfare, gathering, compiling and reporting to the Convention from year to year, with suggestions and recommendations, such information as is now brought to the attention of the Convention in the annual reports of the Social Service Commission, as now organized.

4. That the Southern Baptist Publishing House shall be charged with the ollowing work: (1) All the publishing business now being conducted by the Sun-Jay School Board; (2) The manufacture, publication, sale and distribution of all books, periodicals, and supplies authorized by the Convention.

Resolved second, That all the Boards and Commissions of the Southern Baptist Convention, as now organized, shall and are hereby instructed to transfer to the several new boards when organized, such property, both real and personal, as may be necessary to carry out the purpose of these resolutions.

Resolved third, That all the Boards and Commissions of the Convention, as now organized, shall either dissolve and surrender their charters or make such changes and amendments thereto as shall make possible the reorganization of the work of the Convention as herein provided.

Resolved fourth, That such changes and alterations in the constitution and by-laws of the Convention be made as shall be necessary to the full and complete authorization of all changes in the organization and work of the Convention as provided for in these resolutions.

Resolved fifth, That the Executive Committee of the Convention be and is hereby authorized and instructed to work in co-operation with all existing agencies of the Convention in working out the changes and modifications of the work and activities of the Convention as shall be necessary in carrying out the plans of reorganization herein authorized and that such legal counsel be employed as may be found necessary; and that all expenses incident to perfecting this reorganization shall be borne by the various boards of the Convention according to the prevailing custom.

Resolved sixth, That all plans of reorganization herein authorized shall be worked out and consummated as early as shall be consistent and in such manner as to cause the least confusion and loss in the execution of the work now committed to the various existing agencies of the Convention.

N. T. TULL.

- S. E. Tull, Arkansas, made a motion to adopt the minority report in place of the majority report.
- N. W. P. Bacon, Mississippi, moved that the amendment be laid on the table. It was so ordered.

Division was called for but the vote had already been taken.

A. J. Barton, Missouri, moved for a reconsideration of the vote, by which the reports were laid on the table. Division was called for. The count was taken and motion to reconsider was carried.

The question was now upon the laying the amendment upon the table; which placed both reports on the table.

Division was called for. The motion to lay on the table was lost.

- A. J. Barton, Missouri, moved that the whole matter be referred to a Committee of one from each State to report a year hence. It was so ordered.
 - 33. Announcements were made at this time.
- 34. Motion was made to adjourn. The session closed with prayer, led by M. P. Hunt, Kentucky.

THURSDAY—Morning Session

Atlanta, Georgia, May 15, 1924.

- 36. The Convention assembled at 9 A.M. with President McDaniel in the chair. The opening song service was conducted by E. L. Wolslagel, Georgia. The first chapter of James was read by A. M. Parrish, Kentucky, who led in prayer. Theodore Farr, Alabama, sang "One Day."
 - 37. The journal for yesterday was read and confirmed.
- 38. J. J. Taylor, Alabama, made a motion that there be appointed by the Chair a Peace Committee of seven men, the Chair being one of the number, who shall prepare and present at the next annual meeting of this body, a paper setting forth the Christian teaching with reference to war, which, after remarks by W. D. Upshaw, Georgia, was, on motion of B. C. Hening, Georgia, referred to the Committee on Resolutions.
- 39. The following Committees were announced by Chairman W. W. Landrum, Kentucky, for the Committee on Committees:

Nominations of Boards and Standing Committees.

Nomination of Trustees of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Resolutions.

Order of Business for Next Year.

Arrangements for Next Year. Executive Committee. Recommendations of Executive Com-

Woman's Work.
(See List of Committees.)

40. On motion of L. L. Gwaltney, Alabama, the report of the Committee on Legal Status of the Boards was made the special order immediately and it was presented by Clifford C. Walker, Georgia.

After remarks by Frank Willis Barnett, Alabama, L. O. Dawson, Alabama, and A. U. Boone, Tennessee, on motion of A. J. Barton, Missouri, action on the report was deferred, and, on motion of W. C. Barrett, North Carolina, the Committee on Order was instructed to provide a place for its further consideration.

41. The hour for the consideration of the report of the Joint Commission on Negro Theological Seminary having expired, on motion of J. S. Dill, South Carolina, the hour was set forward to provide the half hour originally allotted.

The report was presented by Secretary O. L. Hailey, Tennessee, as follows:

REPORT OF THE JOINT COMMISSION ON THE NEGRO THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

[The official name of the Seminary is "The American Baptist Theological Seminary"]

The report of our year's work may be very briefly stated. The Commission is still supplied with a comfortable office by the Sunday School Board without rent, and our thanks are due to this Board.

St. Cecilia Academy

In the judgment of your Commission, it was not deemed wise to undertake the purchase of the St. Cecilia Academy property, and no effort was made to exercise our option upon it.

Building the First Unit

We then returned to the site on the White's Creek Pike to erect our building. Following out the instructions, we engaged a competent firm of architects and have largely completed the first unit of our buildings. It is a brick building, with stone foundation, being three stories high and having a good basement. It is being put under roof as we meet here, and will be ready in due time for the opening of the Seminary. It will cost, when completed, together with other necessary improvements, approximately Fifty Thousand ($50,000.00) Dollars, and we are paying for it as the work is done and expect to complete it free from debt. The National Baptist Convention agrees to equip the building ready for opening the Seminary in the fall. The building will furnish sufficient administration room, a library and class rooms, two of which being so connected that they will make an assembly hall, and there is expected to be dormitory rooms sufficient to accommodate some sixty students.

Dedication of the Building

The National Baptist Convention is to meet in annual session in Nashville next September and we hope to have the building dedicated at that time.

Organization of the Two Boards

Pursuant to the instruction given us by both the Southern Baptist Convention and the National Baptist Convention, we have proceeded with the organization of the two Boards provided for, namely, the Holding Board and the Governing Board. The Governing Board has been duly organized and incorporated under the special acts of Tennessee, and the Holding Board will be ready to organize in the same way when the several members are named by the two Conventions. We are taking every step under the advice of a competent attorney, in order that every interest of the two Conventions and the Seminary may be safeguarded.

Membership of the Governing Board

Acting upon their instructions, the Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention selected the following named brethren as its representatives on the Governing Board: O. L. Hailey, John L. Hill, E. P. Alldredge, John D. Freeman, W. M. Wood, Hight C. Moore, Chas. E. Little, Ryland Knight, E. L. Atwood, A. J. Barton, A. U. Boone, and E. Y. Mullins. From the National Baptist Convention the following were chosen: C. H. Parrish, L. K. Williams, R. B. Hudson, S. N. Vass, E. M. Lawrence, D. W. Cannon, E. W. D. Isaac, John Hope, W. A. Bowren, E. Arlington Wilson, R. L. Bradby, A. M. Townsend, J. H. Henderson, T. O. Fuller, E. B. Topp, E. H. McDonald, P. James Bryant, Sutton E. Griggs, S. E. J. Watson, R. T. Pollard, John Goins, J. A. Booker, C. A. Greer, and Wm. Haynes.

This Board has organized and is preparing to open and conduct the Seminary, beginning next fall. Plans for opening the Seminary are not fully complete, but we expect to have them so in proper time for the opening of the Seminary.

The Holding Board

The following brethren have been selected to represent the Southern Baptist Convention on the Holding Board, namely, I. J. Van Ness, A. B. Hill, W. M. Gupton, E. A. Pickup, B. R. Kennedy, Albert Ewing, A. M. Nicholson, and W. F. Powell. As representing the National Baptist Convention, the following are chosen: W. S. Ellington, S. P. Harris, J. D. Crenshaw, J. T. Brown.

The above lists of brethren who have been chosen from the Southern Baptist Convention and the National Baptist Convention as our representatives on these two Boards are either to be reappointed or their successors appointed by the Conventions, and we ask that you take proper steps to have full representations appointed for these two Boards. When the representatives of the two Conventions on the Holding Board shall be appointed that Board will also proceed to organize.

Limited Service of the Secretary

Because the tasks before us could be done with a limited time of our secretary, he was permitted to devote more time to the care of Eastland Baptist Church, and he accepted a smaller salary from the Commission on this account, thus saving us considerable expense. At the same time, we have kept our funds safely invested in interest-bearing securities, thus increasing them. For our financial exhibit, you are referred to the report of the Treasurer, Dr. I. J. Van Ness, which will be submitted in separate form.

REQUESTS

- 1. We request that, for another year, the present arrangement of a Joint Commission shall be continued.
- 2. That the two Conventions approve the personnel of the two Boards as chosen, and either reappoint them or appoint their successors.
- 3. That the Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention continue to receive the funds allocated to this purpose from the 75-Million Campaign.
- 4. In the future program, we respectfully request the Southern Baptist Convention to provide not less than $50,000.00 per year for the promotion of the interests of the Seminary: that $20,000.00 of this may be set aside for current expenses. We do not see how the Seminary can be adequately maintained otherwise.
- 5. That we request the National Baptist Convention to provide an amount not less than $15,000.00 per year for the current expenses of the Seminary.

C. H. PARRISH, Chairman, O. L. HAILEY, Secretary.

The names of the Joint Commission are: Southern Baptist Convention: E. Y. Mullins, I. J. Van Ness, W. F. Powell, A. B. Hill, A. U. Boone, Ben Cox, Rufus Weaver, B. C. Hening, Geo. W. McDaniel, W. E. Atkinson, A. J. Barton; National Baptist Convention: C. H. Parrish, L. K. Williams, Wm. Haynes, E. W. D. Isaac, E. M. Lawrence, S. N. Vass, T. O. Fuller, S. E. Griggs, W. F. Lovelace, P. James

The report of Treasurer I. J. Van Ness, Tennessee, was presented as follows:

Whereas: the Southern Baptist Convention at its session in 1923 authorized the organization of a Holding Board for the Negro Theological Seminary, which seminary building, being erected on the property now held by I. J. Van Ness, as trustee, jointly for the Chamber of Commerce of Nashville, and the Commission on Negro Theological Seminary; and the conditions under which the Chamber of Commerce made its contribution having now been fulfilled:

Therefore: The said Trustee is hereby authorized to transfer this property to the said Holding Board, when properly organized and chartered in accordance with the general conditions required of such corporations by this Convention, and when the Commission on Negro Theological Seminary shall by vote give its approval to such transfer.

On motion of R. T. Hanks, Texas, the report was amended by striking out the words specifying a definite amount ($50,000.00 per year) for the promotion of the interest of the Seminary; and the sum to be allotted was left to the Committee on Future Program.

After remarks by Sutton E. Griggs, Tennessee, representing the National Baptist Convention, the report of the Commission on Negro Theological Seminary, as amended, together with the report of the Treasurer, was adopted.

42. The report of the Board of Directors of the Baptist Bible Institute was presented by R. G. Lee, Louisiana, as follows:

BAPTIST BIBLE INSTITUTE REPORT

Opening last fall with a larger number of students than any previous year, the Baptist Bible Institute, with an enrollment this year of 251 students representing 20 states and 6 foreign countries, closed worthily its sixth session on May 9th. The number of students enrolled from different states is as follows: Alabama, 20; Arkansas, 3; California, 1; Florida, 20; Georgia, 3; Illinois, 10; Kansas, 5; Kentucky, 3; Louisiana, 52; Maryland, 1; Mississippi, 58; North Carolina, 12; Oklahoma, 3; South Carolina, 26; Texas, 10; Tennessee, 17; Virginia, 4; West Virginia, 1; New York 1.

1. What We Have.

Beginning with an enrollment of 84 the first year of its life, we now have an enrollment of 251 students.

There is a faculty of eleven professors, two assistant professors, and several tutors.

We have standard courses leading to degrees in Christian Training, Missionary Training, Theology and Religious Education and Music. We have a Business Department for training Pastors' Assistants, and Correspondence Courses.

We have a library of more than 40,000 volumes, and an institution that has the love and co-operation of New Orleans Baptists in a great way, and the confidence and prayers and gifts of the Baptist brotherhood. We have property that cost originally, with equipment, about $400,000, which is now worth, for our purpose, double that amount. This property consists of 21 buildings; among these—Administration Building, Lecture Hall, Chapel, Infirmary, Men's Dormitory, Woman's Dormitory, apartments or homes for professors, and modest quarters for nearly fifty student families. We have a library building, but this building is wholly inadequate.

The president began his work strenuously last fall. In November he was stricken down with illness. We are glad to report, however, that he was able to resume his duties the first of February and has been on the job ever since. The co-operation and loyalty of the faculty is beautiful to behold.

11. Achievements During Session of 1923-24.

The Baptist Bible Institute Memorial Press has been put forth. This worthy and profitable venture was made possible by the foundation gift of $1,000 by Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Gwatkin, and has already become a great asset to Institute life and progress. The first fruits already gathered give promise of a rich perennial harvest in the field of religious publicity. The printing done is of the highest order in attractiveness and accuracy. The acceptance of a loan of $5,000 for an indefinite period for the enlargement of the press in a suitable building gives promise of great service and reasonable profit from the Gwatkin Memorial Press.

The Mid-Winter School, consisting of a large number of our denominational leaders in Sunday school, B.Y.P.U. and W.M.U. work, met here last session. There was a large attendance during Sunday school and B.Y.P.U. week through co-operation of Institute and churches.

Dr. M. E. Dodd delivered the first series of five lectures on "Baptist Principles," provided for by the Layne Foundation. He made a great impression on the Institute family and the large audiences that heard his lectures. These lectures will reach a larger audience through publication in book form.

The W.M.U. Advisory Committee of the Baptist Bible Institute held its third annual session on January 4th. This Committee made some very valuable and timely suggestions which will as near as possible be progressively carried out.

Dr. G. H. Crutcher, superintendent of Religious Activities, makes the following annual report of the work done by faculty and students from April 1, 1923, to March 31, 1924:

	Professions
Addresses	of Faith	Persons
Delivered	Witnessed	Dealt With
Faculty	973	1,153
Students	4,998	13,574
Total12,893	5,971	14,727

Mr. W. A. Huey, who had excellent training in both instrumental and vocal music prior to his entering the Baptist Bible Institute, has been employed to assist in teaching voice. He is eminently qualified.

Rev. L. G. Cleverdon and Rev. J. E. Dean, who were two of the first students to enter the Institute, have done work of the highest character as students and tutors. The former, who for the past two years has taught the courses in Religious Education, has been promoted to the position of Assistant Professor in the Department of Evangelism and Applied Christianity and teacher of Religious Education. The latter, who has done work of the first order in developing the Correspondence Department and assisting in teaching Hebrew, has been promoted to Assistant Professor in the Department of Old Testament Interpretation.

In 1923 the Board of Directors, at the annual meeting, authorized the Institute to confer the degree of Master of Theology upon those taking the standard courses required for standard degrees.

This year, upon recommendation of the Faculty, the Board of Directors voted heartily and unanimously to confer on Brother J. E. Dean the degree of Doctor of Theology for advanced work in the Institute. For the past two years Brother Dean majored in Church History and did extensive work in Hebrew and Greek. In addition to standing a satisfactory oral examination, he handed in a thesis on "The Creeds of the Denominations." Those who read the thesis consider it a work of unusual merit and agreed that Brother Dean gives evidence of becoming one of our really great scholars.

At a recent session 32 received degrees, 12 diplomas, 14 certificates as Pastors' Assistants, making a total of 58 receiving awards.

In the future certificates will be awarded to all students completing prescribed courses; degrees will be conferred only upon those who have completed at least two years of a standard college course or its equivalent. This rule does not prevent any student from entering the Institute and pursuing studies in any of our courses, whether he has a high school or college education or not. It is required for graduation and not for entrance. The average grade of 75 per cent is required for the completion of any subject.

We are gladly holding to the original ideal of the Institute for the best possible training for preachers, laymen and women, that they may be prepared for the various kinds of Christian service at home and abroad.

In our Modern Language Department we teach Spanish, French, and Italian, and in our Biblical Department we teach the original languages, Hebrew and Greek.

III. Our Needs.

Our dormitories are more than full. Our men's dormitory can accommodate only sixty students. Temporary provisions are made for others on the third floor of the recitation building.

The woman's dormitory, which has a capacity of sixty, must have additional space. Then, too, there must be additional space for an increased number of student families. Exorbitant rents in New Orleans make it imperative that we co-operate with students in providing them living quarters; else they will be unable to avail themselves of the advantages of the Baptist Bible Institute.

Our growing Music Department has very inadequate provisions for efficient work. Already we badly need a commodious music building.

Our library, which is one of the most valuable, unique, and useful libraries belonging to any institution in America, is in a building altogether inadequate and only semi-fireproof. This invaluable literary collection is daily endangered because of fire hazard.

Because of the imperative need for student aid, which is one of the problems of our time, and especially of our school, the establishment of scholarships, either as gifts or loans, should be an immediate reality.

Some plan for securing an endowment for the Baptist Bible Institute should be set forth and carried out at an early date. There have already been prepared two tracts on "Why the Baptist Bible Institute Should Be Endowed." Our present endowment is in the love and confidence of our Baptist people, and under no consideration would we exchange this for another, but there is no conflict between fraternal and financial endowments: we need both.

Anticipating a full settlement of the loan fund from the Home, Foreign and Education Boards this year, we shall still imperatively need for 1925:

$100,000 for current expenses,

30,000 for student fund,

30,000 for improvements, repairs, etc.,

20,310 for debts.

100,000 for a library building,

120,000 for initial endowment.

Considering the achievements of the Baptist Bible Institute in the past, every Southern Baptist should rejoice. Thinking on the opportunities of the present in this strategic and cosmopolitan center, we should have no careless indifference to the great stretch of the unattained. Looking toward the future with its promises, prospects and problems, we should count it all joy that the work of the Institute, in accordance with the demand of our Baptist people for trained leadership, and in accordance with the high expectations of our people concerning the graduates of the Institute, is broadening and deepening in its scope.

It is exceedingly important that we plan wisely and progressively for the period immediately following the 75-Million Campaign. We do well to look not only at our achievements and possessions, but at our needs and prospects.

After remarks by President B. H. DeMent, Louisiana, and R. G. Lee, Louisiana, the report was adopted.

43. The report of the Trustees of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary was presented by President L. R. Scarborough, Texas, as follows:

REPORT OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF SOUTHWESTERN BAPTIST THEO-LOGICAL SEMINARY

To the President and Members of the Southern Baptist Convention:

The Board of Trustees of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary make the following report:

It is to be remembered that at the Kansas City session of the Southern Baptist Convention, May, 1923, the Board of Trustees of this Seminary unanimously affirmed the ownership and control of this institution to the Southern Baptist Convention. A committee was appointed, of which Dr. George W. McDantel is chairman, to consider this offer and report back to the Convention at its present session. This committee had a meeting in Kansas City during the last Convention and favorably reported on said offer, which report is to be made to this Convention. On the basis of this favorable report of the Committee, the Trustees of the Southwestern Seminary proceeded to take this proposition up with the eleven state conventions who had trustees on the Seminary's board and shared in the ownership and control of said Seminary. All eleven of these state conventions, in their fall session of 1923, unanimously approved the offer. The Baptist General Convention of Texas passed unanimously a resolution authorizing the present Board of Trustees to transfer the legal title of said Seminary to the Southern Convention and gave them rights to secure a charter meeting the requirements of said transfer. In the light of these facts, the Board of Trustees now offers said Seminary to the ownership and control of the Southern Baptist Convention and makes the following report concerning said Seminary:

1. We have an enrollment of students for the present session of 1923-24 of 649: 260 ministers, 73 laymen; total, 333 men, 316 women; total, 649.

In addition we have 960 in the Correspondence Department.

- 2. We are graduating this year 122 students-68 men, 54 women.
- 3. We have a faculty of 14 professors and 21 assistants and instructors, total 35.
- 4. We have in buildings, land, equipment and endowment, a total of the Seminary's assets, $1,631,352, of which $466,137 is in endowment. We have a men's dormitory, a woman's dormitory, a temporary administration building, a heating and water power plant, and 35 residences and apartment houses for the use of students. We have a campus of 30 acres and own in lands about our campus around 250 acres situated in the suburbs of the city of Fort Worth. This land will increase in value more and more as time goes on.
- 5. The running expense, including salaries, advertisement, traveling expenses and general administration, runs into the neighborhood of $140,000.00 per year.
 - 6. We have received from the 75 Million Campaign, as follows:

From	the	Home Mission Board$	54,523.07
From	the	Foreign Mission Board	88,113.98
From	the	General Education Board	256,835.94
From	the	Texas Board	272,826.61
То	tal		672,299.50

This money has been invested some in endowment, some in buildings and equipment, some in running expenses. A considerable part of the amount received from Texas has been the collection of principal and interest of endowment notes which the Seminary had held for years.

- 7. Our Seminary has a number of departments—Theological, Religious Education, Gospel Music, Woman's Missionary Training, Practical Work, and Extension—offering the very best equipment along all lines required for leadership in our churches, schools, missions, Sunday schools, B.Y.P.U.'s, W.M.U., etc. We are trying to supply equipped leaders for all the lines of work needed in the Kingdom of God.
- 8. We have a great Practical Work Department and lay heavy emphasis on the necessity for practical efficiency. The report of our faculty, evangelists and students for the session of 1923-24 shows in part the following results:

Revival Meetings	696
Sermons and Addresses	19,843
Professions of Faith	11,702
Additions to Baptist Churches	16,607
Number additions by baptism	10,922
Volunteers for Special Service

Money raised for all purposes, $463,982.00, of which $246,144.00 was for the 75 Million Campaign.

It is to be remembered that these were results obtained by students and teachers when they were in school, teaching and studying eight and a half months of the year.

- 9. Our great needs are as follows:
- (1) A permanent endowment, sufficient to guarantee the running expenses.
- (2) A worthy permanent administration building.
- (3) A music building.
- (4) A building for Religious Education.
- (5) A gymnasium.
- (6) A students' fund sufficient to care more worthily for a large number of students. We have been unable to pay on the personal expenses of any of our students, married or unmarried, more than $20.00 per month and recently have had to cut that half in two and it has greatly crippled our work. Many churches around Fort Worth from year to year co-operate with us in the support of our students by using them as pastors and other helpers; but there are not enough churches to take care of the necessary expenses for so large a student body. We trust that the denomination in the course of the years will provide these necessities of life and development for this great institution which we hold so dear and commit to the care of this Convention.

We submit with this report a summary of the auditor's report of the session 1922-23. Our fiscal year ends the first of June each year, hence the auditor's report for the year 1923-24 has not yet been made. It will be submitted in the report to the next session of this Convention. We also submit in this report a copy of the auditor's report which gives a detailed statement of the financial condition of the Seminary.

We are happy to report that Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bottoms, of Texarkana, Arkansas, recently gave to the Southwestern Seminary for the endowment of the Chair of Missions $75,000.00 in income-bearing property. This was a voluntary gift, made over and above their 75 Million Campaign gifts. The meaning of this well be very great to the cause of Christ throughout the world.

In the memory of the immortal B. H. Carroll, the founder and first president of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, in the name of the Trustees appointed by eleven state conventions, in the name of the faculty, and a large student body of preachers, missionaries and other church and Kingdom workers, and in the name of Jesus Christ, we thus transfer to you this Seminary now sixteen years old, with an asset of nearly two million dollars and a very small liability, with its past of marvelous growth, its present of transcendent potentialities, and with its future tremendous with possibilities and opportunities in the glorious service of Jesus Christ, and commit it in ownership, control and support with all of its blessed memories, its precious possessions, into your hands and pray that God will cause you to take it, love it, support it, and make it one of the greatest agencies of Jesus Christ in the proclamation of the gospel and the promotion of His kingdom around the world until He comes again.

O. S. LATTIMORE, Pres. Bd. Trustees.

C. M. KING, Secy. Bd. Trustees.

L. R. SCARBOROUGH, Pres. Seminary.

The report of the Committee on Tender of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary was presented by W. W. Hamilton, Louisiana, as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TENDER OF SOUTHWESTERN BAPTIST THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Your Committee, appointed to consider the proposal of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary concerning ownership and control of that Institution, recommends as follows:

- 1. That the Convention accepts the said Seminary.
- 2. That the Seminary shall have twenty-five Trustees as follows: One from each of the states represented in the Convention, one from the District of Columbia, and seven at large. In the selection of these seven Trustees due regard shall be had for the provision of a competent Executive Committee convenient to the Seminary.

- 3. The present Trustees shall serve until the charter of the Seminary has been changed in accordance with this report. When the charter has been so changed the President of the Seminary shall call a meeting of the Trustees named at this Convention, at which time they may perfect their organization.
- 4. Brethren I. J. Van Ness, John Bell Keeble, and James B. Newman are appointed a Committee to represent the Southern Baptist Convention in the transfer of the Southwestern Theological Seminary to see that the charter is properly amended and all properties legally transferred, in accordance with this report.
- 5. This session of the Convention shall elect Trustees for the Southwestern Theological Seminary as follows: five for five years, five for four years, five for three years, five for two years, five for one year.
 - 6. Vacancies on the Board of Trustees shall be filled by the Convention.
- 7. The Southwestern Seminary shall report annually to the Southern Baptist Convention and receive such instruction as the Convention may wish to give.

To this Committee also was referred the communication of the Board of Trustees of the Baptist Bible Institute in which they expressed the willingness "to accept any modification of the relationship of the Institute to the Convention which may be mutually agreed upon."

- 1. Your Committee recommends that the Convention accept the Baptist Bible Institute on the following terms:
- 2. That the Baptist Bible Institute shall have twenty-five Trustees as follows: One from each of the states represented in the Convention, one from the District of Columbia, the Secretary of the Home Mission Board, the Secretary of the Sunday School Board, and five at large. In the selection of these five Trustees due regard shall be had for the provision of a competent Executive Committee convenient to the Bible Institute.
- 3. The present Trustees shall serve until the charter of the Bible Institute has been changed in accordance with this report. When the charter has been so changed the President of the Institute shall call a meeting of the Trustees named at this Convention, at which time they may perfect their organization.
- 4. Brethren I. J. Van Ness, John Bell Keeble, and James B. Newman are appointed a committee to represent the Southern Baptist Convention in the transfer of the Baptist Bible Institute to see that the charter is properly amended and all properties legally transferred, in accordance with this report.
- 5. This session of the Convention shall elect Trustees for the Baptist Bible Institute as follows: five for five years, five for four years, five for two years, and five for one year.
 - 6. Vacancies on the Board of Trustees shall be filled by the Convention.
- 7. The Baptist Bible Institute shall report annually to the Southern Baptist Convention and receive such instructions as the Convention may wish to give.

Robertson, Kentucky:

A PETITION FROM THE TRUSTEES OF THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary comes to the Convention this year with a petition, asking the Convention to provide the means for erecting the needed buildings on the Seminary's new site.

The Seminary throughout its whole life has been owned and controlled by the Southern Baptist Convention, and has given itself with unceasing devotion and faithfulness to the service of the faith, the churches, and the great work of the Convention. Its life has been inwrought with the life of the Southern Baptist Convention, and it shares in all the glory of your achievements, in missions, in education and in benevolence. Southern Baptists are today rendering to the Kingdom of God so varied and notable a service because at the very core of this Convention's life the Seminary has wrought, giving to our churches and boards ministers instructed in the Word, loyal to faith and devoted to all the work of Christ's cause. Half and more than half of all the men who have gone out from your Foreign Mission Board have been students in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary.

The Seminary's need for new buildings is indeed pressing. For some years now it has been clearly seen that the present buildings and site must be abandoned for seminary purposes. Once they were fine. But more and more business has incroached upon the Seminary's quarters, until it is difficult to give instruction in the class rooms because of the incessant street noises. The buildings are becoming old, and great growth of the student body has made these buildings, one and all, inadequate. The old site is not large enough for new buildings, and the cost of additional ground in this part of the city of Louisville is prohibitive. No one connected with the institution doubts the wisdom of the necessity of the removal to a new site. So clearly was this seen that some years ago a new site for the Seminary was purchased. It is an ideal piece of ground, of fifty-one acres, and conveniently located on the eastern part of Louisville. The condition of the present buildings admonishes those in authority that what is to be done for the Seminary on this new site should be done at once.

The work before the Board of Trustees is not to add an additional building on quarters already well covered with old buildings; but to erect all of the necessary buildings on a site that now has on it but one small frame house. A whole new plant has to be provided, not building after building, but together and at once. The Trustees are not contemplating erecting at this time all of the buildings that are called for by this removal, only those that are necessary for life and work. The buildings and improvements at present contemplated, with the respective estimated cost of some of them are as follows:

1. Norton Hall, in which are combined the Smith Memorial Library, chapel, classrooms, administrative offices, and offices of professors, the estimated cost of which is $750,000.00.

- 2. New York Hall, containing three hundred rooms of a suitable size for a single student, but large enough to accommodate two if necessary. The estimated cost of this is $$50,000.00.
- 3. A gymnasium continuing the uses of the present Levering Gymnasium is a vital necessity in the Seminary equipment.
- 4. Apartment houses for married students. There are now about one hundred and seventy-five families in our student body. They are compelled to obtain quarters as best they may in the vicinity of the Seminary. A number of apartment buildings will be necessary to accommodate them, and these will require a considerable sum of money.
- 5. A heating plant for the entire system of buildings, and connecting steampipes, according to estimate submitted by the architect, will cost about $150,000.00 complete.
- 6. Road construction and the building of proper fences around the property and the care of the magnificent grove of beeches will add a considerable sum to the cost.

We cannot give with sufficient accuracy the probable cost of some of the buildings. But it is estimated that the minimum cost of the buildings here mentioned will be $2,000,000.00. Later a chapel will have to be built, larger provisions will have to be made for married students, and ultimately there will doubtless be a call for a kitchen and dining room separate from New York Hall. The Trustees are proposing to erect at this time only the buildings the Seminary must have to commence its life and work in the new quarters. And it is for these that we now come to the Convention.

The Seminary cannot otherwise provide the new buildings. It is not advisable at this time to dispose of the present Seminary site and buildings. The real estate men of Louisville are a unit in giving this advice. For several years business Louisville has been moving towards the Seminary property, and as a consequence the value of this property has steadily enhanced. Those who are most deeply interested in the Seminary's prosperity feel that within twelve or fifteen years this property will be worth some three times what can now be realized from it. At present it could not yield more than a fourth of what is necessary; and should it be sold, from other sources at least $1,500,000 would have to be provided.

The receipts from the 75 Million Campaign for the Seminary building fund have been comparatively meagre. This fund was most unfortunately overlooked in the original of allocations of the Compaign; and no way was found later to rectify this oversight. The effort to have three of the Convention Boards to lend money to its theological schools, did not yield, so far as the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary is concerned, more than enough to make a bare beginning of the building work. In short, the Seminary's receipts from the Campaign have been keenly disappointing. The Atlanta Convention of 1919 ordered that a building fund be provided for the Seminary. This was to have been $2,000,000.00. This was overlooked. In 1920 the Washington Convention sought by loans to secure $1,000.000.00. But as a matter of fact the Seminary for its building fund has received only about $100,000.00. These facts are written down in no spirit of faultfinding; but simply to let the Convention see that the Seminary's ground for disappointment as to this Campaign is real.

Over against this we would call the Convention's attention to the fact that the Seminary's sphere of service is ever growing. The session that has just closed had an enrollment of 442 students for the ministry, the largest enrollment in the history of the institution. Tweny-four years ago the enrollment was 256. The growth in attendance during these years has seen an increase of seventy-three per centum. Seventy-three of the student body are from sixteen Northern states, and eighteen are from fourteen foreign countries. It is almost certain that this growth will continue; and the Seminary's service to the Kingdom of Christ and to mankind seems destined under the providence of God to become greater with the years. Its needs ought to be provided for, not because it is a school of the fathers, but because it is being greatly used of God for that Kingdom of truth which this Convention exists to promote.

We petition the Convention that $2,000,000.00 be provided for building needs in the immediate future, with which the vital necessary factors in the new group of buildings can be erected. We ask that the Convention instruct the committee that has charge of the next Campaign to make provision for $1,000,000.00 of this sum in the allocations of the money to be raised in 1925; and we further ask that the Convention use its influence with all the Baptist bodies cooperating in the next campaign to secure from them a liberal treatment of the Seminary in their allocations.

We further petition, in view of the fact that this emergency in the building program of the Seminary exists, that you give the Seminary the right to approach individuals, after the next simultaneous campaign; for large gifts to its building fund, these gifts to be payable within one year. It is understood that the Seminary is to do this special work in harmony with the Boards of Missions of the states in which the work is carried on.

To this petition we attach an action of the Board of Trustees of the Seminary taken at its meeting of May 13, 1924. We quote from the minutes:

"The following action was taken: Dating from this Convention, that the Board of Trustees of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary release the Home and Foreign Boards from further payments on loans heretofore agreed upon in 1920, provided the Convention shall make adequate provision for the Building Program of the Seminary. Adopted."

Respectfully submitted,

W. W. LANDRUM, Acting President. M. D. JEFFRIES, Secretary.

46. Chairman Landrum announced the following Committees:

Changes in Constitution and Correlation (see List of Committes).

47. After announcements the Convention adjourned with prayer led by Thomas W. O'Kelley, North Carolina.

THURSDAY-Afternoon Session

- 48. The Convention assembled at 2:30 P.M. and was called to order by President McDaniel. The song service was conducted by P. S. Rowland, Georgia, and John D. Freeman, Tennessee, commented on 1 John 4:5 and led in prayer.
- 49. Abe C. Jones, Missouri, offered resolutions in regard to arrangements for future meetings which were referred to the Committee on Resolutions.
- 50. On motion of C. P. Stealey, Oklahoma, the Committee on Resolutions was instructed to report out today or tomorrow the resolution offered by him yesterday afternoon.
- 51. A resolution regarding Modernism, offered by R. K. Maiden, Missouri, was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.
- 52. President McDaniel introduced F. Scott McBride, Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, who briefly addressed the Convention.

53. With Vice-President Jones in the chair the Seventeenth Annual Report of the Executive Committee of the Laymen's Missionary Movement was presented by General Secretary J. T. Henderson, Tennessee, and adopted as follows, after discussion by W. R. Ridgwell, Alabama; J. H. Anderson, Tennessee; Ben L. Bruner, Kentucky; W. S. Farmer, Kentucky; Fred F. Brown, Tennessee; D. I. Mulkey, South Carolina; E. B. Atkinson, Georgia; and C. B. Bobo, South Carolina:

SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY MOVEMENT

Your Committee was glad to grant a leave of absence for six weeks to the General Secretary that he might attend the sessions of the Baptist World Congress in Stockholm, Sweden, last July; this trip afforded him some needed rest and recreation and the attendance on this great meeting, as well as the visit to several countries of Europe, possessed rare educational value. This trip was made without any expense to the denomination.

Inasmuch as the Laymen's Missionary Movement is an Educational Institution and does not gather funds, it is difficult to give any accurate report of its achievements; indeed, it is impossible to appraise the value of a quickened religious purpose or of a deepened conviction of duty. It is proper to report, however, that the past year has been one of vigorous activity in helping to promote all those enterprises to which the denomination is committed.

Conventions

One special feature of the year's program was the Southwide Baptist Men's Convention which was held in Memphis last February; every state in the South, together with the District of Columbia, was represented. Men of large business and professional duties deliberately planned their engagements so they could attend this Convention; among them were a Congressman and a Senator that left their official duties in Washington to serve the Kingdom. The large company of representative men in attendance gave abundant evidence that they had come on serious business; they were at the sessions early, remained until the close, and were responsive listeners all the way through. There was no indication of impatience, but strong assurance of deep interest and spiritual quickening. The attendance held up until the close of the last session and the Convention adjourned in an orderly manner under the sway of a divine visitation.

Some striking cases of quickened interest have been reported. One young business man who was convinced that he should become a tither has already about quadrupled his former gifts; indeed, his increased offerings for the present year will fully cover the entire expense of this Convention. Different pastors have reported that their laymen who attended this meeting are completely made over. The vote to adopt the tenth as the minimum standard in the support of the Lord's work was virtually unanimous. Several men expressed their purpose to give up the use of tobacco and appropriate the money thus saved to Kingdom purposes.

Several states also conducted conventions of large significance; because of conflicting engagements, the General Secretary could attend only two of these meetings. At the meeting in Carlinville, Illinois, every layman on the program was present and filled his engagement in a creditable manner. Representative men from sixty associations attended the great convention in Louisville, Kentucky. Most favorable reports came from the other conventions, notably from the meetings in Columbia, S. C., and Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Stewardship Conferences

A very significant feature of the year's activities has been the Stewardship Conferences that have been conducted in important churches and communities, extending over a period of from four to six days. As a result of these meetings, some pastors report a surplus in the treasury, debts carried over from the past year paid off, increased attendance on worship, and a quickened spiritual interest among the membership; indeed, some have expressed their opinion that these conferences have meant more to the religious life of their churches than the ordinary revival meeting.

Three of the most fruitful meetings attended were at LaGrange, Missouri; Ewing, Illinois; and Wake Forest, N. C. The hearty co-operation of the teachers of the colleges located in these communities added great interest, and the large attendance of students, especially young preachers, afforded an unusual opportunity for service. In some cases, these conferences were concluded on Sunday with a thorough Every Member Canvass to secure pledges to cover the Church Expense Budget and to add new pledges to the Baptist Campaign.

A vital feature of these conferences was a session with the deacons, in which the Scriptural qualifications and duties of the deacon were discussed in the freest and frankest manner; in one of these conferences thirty-four deacons, representing most of the churches of an association, were present. There needs to be a revival of educational work with this important official of our churches; such education contributes to effectiveness in service and loyalty in spirit. The deacon should recognize the responsibility of setting a worthy example in church attendance, the weekly offering, and church loyalty in general.

Brotherhoods .

During the year, reports have come that the men in a large number of churches have organized themselves into brotherhoods. The literature of the Laymen's Missionary Movement stresses the idea that these organizations should promote fellowship, intelligence, and spirituality, in order that the laymen may be prepared to render more effective service in connection with all the enterprises of their church and denomination. If these brotherhoods survive and function in a large way, two things are necessary; first, there must be an attractive and informing program for every monthly meeting. The Executive Committee is considering the advisability of publishing a pamphlet that will outline programs and furnish some information that will enable the men to prepare themselves for service in these meetings. Your Committee plans to issue a leaflet soon outlining a course of study for men in Stewardship, Church Finances, and Missions.

The second essential feature is a worthy program of service that will challenge the men and advance the interests of the church. These brotherhoods will find it profitable to hold at least two banquets during the year; invite some inspirational speaker to address the men, and call for voluntary expressions from the laymen at the close of the address.

City and Associational Unions

The men in the churches of a city or association will find it quite profitable to meet quarterly for the purpose of comparing notes, cultivating fellowship, and formulating plans for co-operative work. In addition to the service they may render in promoting the denominational program among the churches of their territory, they may make a large contribution to the Kingdom by supplying pastorless churches and by conducting evangelistic services. It is suggested that the church organizations shall be called a Brotherhood and that the organization in a city or association shall be known as a Union.

Weekly Offering

Your Committee has continued, through its literature and through the work of its General Secretary and other agencies, to stress the weekly offering both as the Scriptural method of securing adequate funds and as a means of enlistment and spiritual growth. It continues to urge that the churches shall install the weekly method in their offerings to benevolent funds just as they do in gathering funds for local support; there is no logical ground for making any distinction.

Two years ago this Committee suggested that the more aggressive churches set the example of sending one-twelfth of their benevolent obligation to the State Treasurer each month; this would not only give the Boards a dependable source of income, but would result in the establishment of better financial policies in the churches.

Stewardship Secretary

Your Committee is very much gratified that its suggestion of four years ago that a Stewardship Secretary be employed in each state, has been realized during the past year. Your Committee still holds to the opinion that consecrated business men have peculiar fitness for this position and hopes that an increasing number of such laymen may be available for this position. When a successful business man is willing to enter this field of service it profoundly impresses thoughtful laymen and is likely to enlist their sympathetic interest and support.

Expenses

Your Committee would respectfully call especial attention to the fact that the entire expenses of the Laymen's Missionary Movement to the denomination for the past year were only $6,638.95, including salary of secretary. In the face of increasing expenses in all lines of business, we commend the careful and economical management of the large amount of work done by our efficient secretary.

Recommendations

Your Committee would recommend the policy of revising and enlarging its series of tracts, would suggest that the General Secretary give special attention to perfecting a more thorough organization in each of the States, that he spend more of his time in the office keeping in constant touch through the mails with the State leaders. Your Committee thinks it important to have a uniform plan of operation in this matter of enlisting laymen in all the States.

Your Committee would also recommend that a consecrated laymen of high business standing be secured in each state, whose business it shall be to encourage bequests to the Lord's work and to keep in touch with men of large means, with the hope that he may induce a number of them to make generous gifts to Kingdom enterprises. This work would not demand very much of this man's time and he would, no doubt, be willing to render this service without any salary; it would perhaps be proper that any expense incurred in this work should be paid by the denomination. Your Committee would suggest that this man in each state should be selected by the State Secretary, Chairman of the Laymen's Committee for that State, and the Stewardship Secretary. It is also suggested that the Laymen's Executive Committee ratify his selection and keep in constant touch with him. The Committee thinks that this is a class of service that has been neglected to some extent and one that should yield very large dividends.

Summary

In addition to attending the Baptist World Congress, the General Secretary during the year conducted 56 conferences, delivered 257 addresses, assisted in 11 Every Member Canvasses spoke at 11 men's banquets and traveled 32,707 miles, at a net expense of $472.93.

- 54. With Vice-President Pickard in the chair, and after prayer by A. C. Dixon, Maryland, certain items in the report of the Foreign Mission Board were discussed by Corresponding Secretary J. F. Love, Virginia.
- 55. The report of the Committee on the Report of the Foreign Mission Board was presented as follows, by R. Aubrey Williams, Virginia:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON REPORT OF THE FOREIGN MISSION BOARD

Your Committee to whom has been referred the Report of our Foreign Mission Board has read it with interest and find in it many things to give us sorrow and many things to give us joy, but the blessings have so far exceeded the sorrows that, with deep gratitude to God, we should all of us face the future with hope, and enter it with enthusiasm.

A study of comparative statistics reveals that in 1919 we had on the foreign field 49,659 members while in 1924, the closing year of our Campaign, we have 111,872. In 1919 we had 5,635 baptisms, in 1923, 12,856. In these years we have had a net increase of 216 missionaries, 1,867 native workers, 590 churches, $271,-296 contributed. It should be stated that this statement includes Southern Europe but not the baptisms in Russia. These figures are the signs of a wonderful atmosphere of grace and a spirit of warm hospitality on the part of the world towards the reception of the gospel truth.

The Department of Education is in fine condition. Eighteen months ago Rev. J. Marcus Kester was called to take charge of it and the work has taken on new life. It has been quite successful in reaching our men through the organization of Men's Mission Study Classes and has also stimulated the study of missions to a large degree among the students in our schools.

During the year the Board acting on instructions from the Convention at Kansas City has sent 54 missionaries to fields for whose support more than $37,000 has been received from churches and individuals.

It is a matter of great sorrow that the Board reports a debt of $711,611.00 which is $297,732 more than the debt reported last year, and this in spite of the cuts made in the requests of the missionaries.

This debt has not been incurred in any way from any disposition on the part of the Board to plunge, or to a lack of economy, for it has striven desperately to keep its appropriations within the denominational contributions. Each year it has practically cut the requests of the missionaries in half, but they could not foresee the steady decline in the gifts of our people. They have only appropriated enough to meet the current expenses of the field and for 1924 refused all requests for building, equipment and much needed repairs.

It is also only just to say that $257,730.80 of this debt had to be incurred in order to pay the loans to our Southwide Seminaries and Bible Institutes which it was instructed to do by the Convention in Washington.

I. One of the perplexing problems of this last year has been the Near East Relief Fund problem. In accordance with the instruction of the Convention, the Board endeavored to find a working plan, acceptable to both the Near East Relief people and this Board in order that they might work in common for the relief of the distressed people of Europe, but after five hours of discussion in Richmond in September 1923, they were unable to come to any agreement, this failure being due to the Near East people refusing to accede to reasonable requests from the Board. The year has not been satisfactory either to the Board or to the Near East Relief. The work has overlapped—many pastors have been embarrassed by double appeals and our Board has been placed at a great disadvantage in many places by the Relief agencies in attempting to override the instructions of our Convention at Kansas City.

It is, however, the belief of your Committee after reading the correspondence and the report that it is the desire of the Board to work with the Near East Relief people, if possible, and they think the Near East Relief Board are anxious to work with us. In a warm brotherly communication addressed to our Board a few days ago, they ask for a meeting at once in order that a plan acceptable to our Board can be devised and they express a willingness to co-operate in almost any way that we want.

Your Committee, therefore, would recommend in regard to this matter:

- 1. That this Board have a meeting with the Near East Relief as soon as possible after the Convention and make any arrangements that may be acceptable to the Board. In the event of such arrangements being made satisfactorily, the Foreign Mission Board is hereby authorized to name a day to be known as Foreign Relief Day for the purpose of securing funds for Relief purposes and all money secured be forwarded to our Board.
- 2. In the event the Board finds it impossible to come to a working agreement with the Near East Relief people, then we recommend that the Foreign Mission Board make announcement of this fact to the churches of the South and proceed to elicit the support of Southern Baptists for such relief work as the Board finds it is under necessity of conducting, it being understood that in the judgment of this Convention all Relief work should be considered as an emergency and discontinued altogether as soon as Christian duty allows.
- 3. We should also remind our brethren that there are great demands for help. Gaunt hunger still stalks abroad in Hungary, in Southern Europe and other fields.
- II. Your Committee would also recommend in regard to the request of this Board concerning the loans to the Seminaries and the Bible Institute that in view of the great debt that now hangs over our Foreign Mission Board and as they are compelled to borrow the money that is loaned to our Seminaries and which increases the debt, that it be relieved of any further payment of money to our Seminaries and Bible Institute and that the Convention take steps to reimburse the Board for the $257,730.80 with interest, which was lent by order of the Convention in 1920 to these institutions.

It is a well-known fact that practically every cause which is fostered in our Homeland is duplicated on the foreign field and compelled to be carried on oftentimes amid the greatest difficulties. In that vast territory the Board has its problems of education, orphanage, hospital, publications, church building, evangelism and many others. It is a serious matter for this Board to do its great and complicated work under the depressing atmosphere of a great debt which regularly calls for big interest sums. When we reflect that the opportunity at this very time is almost unprecedented for a great advance in every field of the world, and when we remember that there are hundreds of young men and women who are ready at this hour to match their lives against our money, and because there is imperative demand for equipment, new buildings, churches, residences and a steady call for reinforcements on this battle line that girdles the globe, we, your committee, would recommend that the Convention sound a great and imperative note to advance, institute plans such as will enable this Board to answer the thousand calls which they could not answer, take such steps as may be necessary to raise enough money to pay off this staggering debt; put this Board in position to send these volunteers to help our overloaded workers, enable it to build as speedily as possible such buildings as in their judgment are most needed and thus carry on a foreign missionary enterprise as shall be worthy of our people and our Master.

Furthermore we are led to say when we remember the words of the report of this Board that it may as well be put down here and faced frankly in the Convention that the alternatives which are before the denomination are retirements from some field and retrenchment in all, or else increased contributions by Southern Baptists to their foreign missionary work and that it is indeed folly to any longer deceive ourselves. We have no right to be pleading for young men and young women to give their lives to this great work unless we are willing to give more money to send them. We must either quit the European field and leave it for others to work, or we must make it possible for our Board to man these places. Foreign missions is our greatest work. It was the dynamic of our 75 Million Campaign. Any slackening of our foreign missionary enterprise is fatal to our program for the future. Cannot this Convention now make such plans and send out such a clarion appeal to all of its great constituency as to save our work? The churches should be called to face frankly the responsibility of these alternatives.

Your Committee believes that in the last analysis the answer to all of this rests with the pastors and leaders of all our churches.

- 67. A resolution regarding religious persecution in Rumania, offerred by W. J. McGlothlin, South Carolina, was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.
- 68. The report of the Inter-Board Commission on Student Religious Activities was presented by Secretary Frank H. Leavell, Tennessee, and adopted as follows:

REPORT OF THE INTER-BOARD COMMISSION ON STUDENT RELIGIOUS ACTIVITY

Grateful to God for every triumph, the Inter-Board Commission has made, during its second year of activity, very distinct progress in the work for and among the Baptist students of the South. Despite the fact of no additional budget over the first year we have gone far in fortifying our first efforts; in strengthening the stakes if not so much in lengthening the cords.

The members of the Inter-Board Commission have maintained their quarterly meetings, carefully reviewing developments to date and pre-viewing the activities of the future. Profiting by earlier experimentations, plans have been laid for further conserving, developing and capitalizing for Kingdom advancement the talents and possibilities of the student.

Field Work

At the beginning of the present year, after a year of more or less hasty visitation, the policy was adopted of more intensive work at schools. This meant fewer institutions visited but a more determined effort to learn the actual spiritual and religious conditions among the students and a greater effort to offer suggestions. It has worked well. To illustrate: at one Baptist school the religious leader confessed to the Traveling Secretary never to have known a spiritual experience. In a personal conference lasting until two o'clock A.M., that leader for the first time accepted Christ as personal Saviour. Again, at a tax supported school suggestions were made for increased Sunday-school attendance through the most approved methods of the Organized Class movement. The attendance was quadrupled and the entire student constituency was reached. Examples could be multiplied.

Consistent and successful efforts have been made to set up on campuses a religious council for the purpose of unifying all Baptist activity in one inclusive program and for its direction by one recognized representative body. Besides the services of Miss Louise Foreman, Traveling Secretary for the InterBoard Commission, and the Executive Secretary, we have secured for limited periods a number of extra workers. We mention with appreciation Rev. Ben Rowland, Mr. R. M. Warren, and Mr. Chas. H. Stevens, who assisted materially in connection with the winter conferences.

Christmas Service

At the suggestion of the Inter-Board Commission many churches throughout the South used the last Sunday night in the year as "STUDENT'S NIGHT." All students at home for the holidays were recognized or utilized. High school pupils were invited. A sermon appropriate to the occasion was preached. Many echoes from the students and letters of approval by pastors testified to the success of the project. Many have asked that it be made an annual event.

The Magazine

The monthly magazine, THE BAPTIST STUDENT, published through the courtesy of the Sunday School Board, has enjoyed an increased circulation and gratifying popularity. Testimonies have come in great numbers to the effect that it is serving a large purpose and is now indispensable. The ideal of the publication is as follows: To magnify eternal verities, to furnish a forum of student expression, to assist student religious leaders, to stabilize the Christian faith of students, to confirm spiritual convictions and to offer sound vocational direction. Each month it has carried, over the signature of some world citizen, a facsimile letter of advice to students. Among these were personal messages from Dr. Russell H. Conwell, Miss Margaret Slattery, Dr. John R. Mott, Miss Jane Addams, Dr. E. Y. Mullins, and the Hon. David Lloyd George. It has carried such articles as, "Knowing God's Will in My Life," by Dr. John L. Hill; "Manhood of the Missionary," by Dr. J. R. Hobbs; "Six Greatest Things in College," by Dr. H. L. Winburn; "Human Elements most needed in Preachers," by Dr. A. T. Robertson; "It's a Good Thing to be a Baptist," by Dr. Geo. W. McDaniel; "A Safe Position for Baptists on Science and Religion or Evolution," by Dr. E. Y. Mullins.

Student Conferences

No one phase of the work of the Inter-Board Commission has been more outstanding in significance nor more overwhelmingly successful than the three Baptist Student Conferences in February. The places of meeting were Shawnee, Oklahoma; Murfreesboro, Tennessee; and Raleigh, North Carolina. The attendance was large, a good majority of both Baptist and tax-supported schools throughout the South having delegations. The dominant insistence of these meetings was upon a higher spiritual development on the campus, while practical plans were discussed for reaching and utilizing greater numbers of students. The programs were built around the general slogan, "MAKE THE CAMPUS DIFFERENT." There was repeated insistence upon the fact that the unqualified acceptance of Christ with his ideals and teachings was the only solution for the problems of the campus. Students were challenged to return to their colleges and to become "RECKLESS FOR CHRIST" in claiming spiritual victories.

The acid test of such meetings, however, is the resultant activities. From all sections of the territory have come reports of new and aggressive work being done since the conferences. On one campus a "RECKLESS FOR CHRIST CLUB" has been organized for the purpose of raising the moral tone of the school. Soul-winning has been stressed and souls have been won. In one Baptist school there followed eighteen volunteers for definite Christian work, while at a State Institution six of the messengers decided definitely for the ministry or mission fields. Students seem to have taken literally and seriously the statement that one student could transform a campus, and either single-handed or with combined efforts they have gone back to claim victories for Christ. One element contributing tremendously to the success of these meetings was the hearty co-operation of the denominational field forces; especially the Y. W. A. workers, the Sunday School and B.Y.P.U. secretaries and the Educational secretaries of the various states. No more thorough co-operation could have been expected.

The Noon Day Prayer-Meetings

In gratifying numbers student prayer-meetings are being conducted at the noon hour. These meetings have already proved powerful and promise greater usefulness. In them have started influences and movements of far-reaching possibilities.

The Problem of Organization

It has been the hope of The Inter-Board Commission that its work might be advanced without an additional organization on the already crowded campus. The ideal has been to magnify among students the work of the local church and therefore to stress church organizations. The effort is for the denomination to follow its student constituency from home-church to college and from college back to home-church with never a chilling of zeal or a loss of loyalty. But some working plan is necessary. The Inter-Board Commission is now perfecting a plan of work, the object of which will be to unify and magnify all Baptist religious activity of a school. It purports to unify Baptist students in a common religious effort and yet be free from the objections often found in external and misleading organizations.

The details of this plan were accepted at each of the above mentioned conferences. Later, in Memphis, it was reviewed in every detail by a special committee of students from five states. By the opening of the schools in the fall this suggestion will be ready for adoption and will be, no doubt, a telling factor in our work.

Some Conditions

The task of conserving the talents and possibilities of the Baptist students of the South, as committed to The Inter-Board Commission, is a task of many and varied angles. It must reach Baptist schools, tax-supported institutions and private schools, besides business colleges, training schools, seminaries, and hospitals with student bodies. Its activities must range from the academy to the professional school, and advance alike the various denominational activities, both state and southwide. It is dependent, therefore, upon the unqualified cooperation of the various denominational forces. During the past year this cooperation has been universally and unqualifiedly wholesome. Also, with gratitude we acknowledge the cordial reception that has been given our workers in the schools.

The Work Is Welcome

As a rule, Presidents and administrations of both Baptist and State schools have welcomed denominational participation in the spiritual development of the students.

The Work Is Timely

The problem of young people and the "Revolt of Youth" are nowhere so manifest today as among students. They, as no other sector of our young people, are subject to varying influences and they are characterized by a boldness which tends to carry them swiftly into habits of spiritual neglect. There are in the South today 120 Baptist schools, 95 state schools, and probably 75 private schools, business colleges, etc., most of which are open to denominational work. Within these schools there are in round numbers some 90,000 Baptist students. These students are the fondest hope of Southern Baptists. This hope will be fulfilled in proportion as they are indoctrinated and developed spiritually. Surveys and actual statistics show that only about 33 1-3 per cent of these Baptist students attend church services with any degree of consistency. When this percentage is stated in figures it proves thoroughly alarming. Facts, however, must be faced. The brighter side of this question is that, despite the delinquencies, there is a working nucleus among the students which is characterized by courage, nobility and faithfulness, and which responds to the appeal for the highest endeavors in Kingdom building.

But how much of an asset are college graduates to the churches, denomination and the Kingdom of God? The President of one of our best schools when asked what per cent of his sixty seniors were satisfactory products of a denominational school replied: "Twenty-five per cent." "Fifteen members of that class," he said, "will voluntarily do the work of the church. Twenty members will work if prodded. But there are fifteen who will not under any circumstances do church work." That unquestionably is deplorable. The difficulty is not with the curriculum, but with the extra-curricula, voluntary religious activity and training. To stimulate such training is an imperative present-day demand. Southern Baptists have seen the necessity, but are trailing the other denominations in the amount invested in such work. Three denominations last year carried budget items of more than $75,000 for student religious activity. Our budget suffers in comparison. The field is open and the work should be greatly enlarged.

THE FUTURE

State Student Conferences

For the coming year in lieu of the southwide conferences The Inter-Board Commission in co-operation with the various state forces plans to promote Baptist student conferences in the various states. This promises to be most profitable. In a number of states the plans are well under way.

Student Church Membership

Believing that distant church membership is one primal cause for the indifference of students towards church attendance and church obligations, a campaign for joining the local church with a "Join the Church Day" will be promoted in the early fall. The slogan, "Not a Man in the Barracks from Nine to Twelve on Sunday" is to be sounded in every school. The "Church Tramp" habit is too frequently begun at college.

Summer School Opportunity

There are thirty-seven Normal Schools and a larger number of other institutions which will this summer enroll as many students as the same schools have for the regular scholastic year. These summer schools afford a tremendous opportunity for student work. More adequate field force is necessary.

Church Equipment

A glaring need before us is that of church equipment. In the vast majority of cases if the Baptist students should attend the adjacent church, or churches, the local congregation could not be seated. More churches, larger churches, and in some cases churches for students, with worthy students actively utilized, is the need. Church life and church activity must be afforded these students. Unless the churches use them they will assuredly lose them.

Special Literature

For a distinctly student religious program, distinctly student literature is necessary. Lesson periodicals, culture course books, bulletin board posters, etc., with the present magazine are now urgently needed.

An Adequate Field Force

The most immediate and imperative demand today for the on-going of this task is an efficient field force. Not alone do we need workers with the Inter-Board Commission but also state student secretaries with the State Mission Boards, and full-time religious secretaries on the various campuses are for the best work an absolute necessity. Pastors already busy can not know the personal needs of hundreds of students. Faculty members invite the confidences of a very few, but never of the majority and certainly never of those who most need spiritual admonition and direction. As a rule state schools are open and in most instances are inviting denominational workers. Many such workers are now being placed. That more be employed is the greatest need of the cause.

Movement On

The Baptist student movement, along with that of other denominations, is assuredly on. The students are eager and responsive, the schools are open, the experimental stages are behind us, the paths lead forward; having put hands to the plow may we ever go forward. May the directing agencies of the denomination lock arms with the student forces, and, with abiding confidence, forge ahead to greater triumphs in advancing the Kingdom of Christ throughout the world.

69. The Sunday School Board being the special order, the report of the Committee on the Report of the Sunday School Board was presented as follows by J. E. Hampton, Kentucky:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD

After making a survey of the Sunday School report for the past year your Committee on the Report begs to call attention to the following information contained in the report of this Board, which should stimulate greater confidence and more efficient co-operation on the part of the Convention for the splendid work that is being accomplished.

A brief summary given in the report will reveal to you the following information:

The receipts for the past year amounted to $1,421,903.06, a gain over the previous year of $23,602.48. We have expended $314,506.31 in carrying forward various forms of denominational work, either directly or through co-operation with others. The net resources on April 30, 1924, were $1,366,820.38, an increase of $92,400.14 over last year.

The Report of the Board

The year just closing has been one of adjustments. Our new buildings which were under construction at our meeting last year are finished.

We are now through with the task of remodeling and building, and as a result find ourselves with greatly added facilities for doing our work, and also of taking care of our business with much more efficiency.

We realize that these significant enlargements will require still further systematic reorganizations of our business. We have again come to one of the transition periods when we must reorganize in many ways to take care of the constantly enlarging work which we are doing.

The Policy of the Board

(1) To publish its periodicals and books at a reasonable price, as low or slightly lower than others; (2) To endeavor to manage its business prudently and economically, and to use its earnings for the extension of Sunday school, B.Y.P.U., tract and book work.

The Board adopted three recommendations for immediate action:

- (1) That price reductions be made on our Uniform and Graded Periodicals, approximately $15,000 per quarter.
- (2) That we anticipate a budget for extension and benevolent work amounting to approximately $300,000 a year for the next two years.
- (3) That considering our present investments as representing a capital of $1.000,000, the Board, without prejudicing its benevolent budget, shall ask the Convention to authorize the accumulation of a reserve fund up to 5 per cent on this capital in any one year.

Sunday Schools

The five distinct departments whose work goes directly to the improvement of Sunday-school conditions report remarkable growth and progress along all lines.

A gain in enrollment of 161,682 and a gain in large Sunday schools (those of over 900) of 52, and now have 169 large schools.

There were awarded 15,793 Teacher's Diplomas, and these together with Red, Blue and Gold Seals and Post Graduate Diplomas make a grand total of 22,415 this year, representing 64,415 Book Awards.

In the Department of Elementary Work, 14 secretaries report that no less than 25,000 people have been reached with Elementary Messages.

The Organized Class Conference and clinics brings together thousands of our most earnest workers and are of untold value in teaching what can be done by members of the classes for the upbuilding of our churches.

Rural Campaign

As the Department of Statistics and Survey revealed the startling facts that 85 per cent of our Sunday schools as well as 60 per cent of the Sunday-school enrollment are in the rural class, the Board has been giving special attention to what is called "Our Rural Campaign."

This work is in co-operation with the various states in an effort to carry the message of modern Sunday-school work to the rural communities.

This year about $40,000 was expended in this work, with splendid results. There are now 30 Rural Sunday Schools each having an enrollment of over 400, and 10 that have an enrollment of over 500.

Books and Tracts

During the past year the Board has edited about forty new books that were written by Southern Baptists—thus encouraging both the reading and writing of good literature.

Also by co-operating in the Stewardship Campaign, 60,000 copies of a book were given pastors, that they might conduct classes in their respective churches.

Every reasonable demand for free Bibles has been met and 660,000 tracts published last year makes this total to date 12,020,000. An average of more than 1,000,000 tracts have been given away each year.

The income on the Legacy left by Mrs. Kate E. Drafts, of South Carolina, is to be set aside as a special fund to provide books for needy preachers.

B. Y. P. U.

The past year has been a steady growth in the B. Y. P. U. Department.

There are now 15,974 organizations, a gain of 2,186 this year. Enrolled are 495,144 of our young people, which is equivalent to one out of every seven of the present church membership in the South.

The B. Y. P. U. growth in our foreign lands is most gratifying. Our B. Y. P. U. Quarterly is printed in Spanish and Chinese, and two full-time secretaries in China are proving efficient in organizing our young people in China.

Growing interest is reported in B. Y. P. U. work under the direction of pastors and missionaries in Japan, South America, Africa and Roumania.

The Negro Baptists of the South also are using our B.Y.P.U. lessons for Juniors and Seniors.

New Lines of Work

The Board in addition to all its other work is now actively promoting The Daily Vacation Bible School.

This promises in the next few years to become a matter of great concern to many of our churches.

We heartily concur in this forward step which promises leadership and literature under direct denominational auspices for this important line of instructional work.

The Board has been asked to establish a Department of Church Finance, and are awaiting the 'Convention's direction on this matter.

Also plans are on foot to organize a department to issue supplies for the blind. Nearly all of the present departments need enlargement. The problem is, how can the Board make the amount they earn cover the actual needs?

Recommendation

5 Per Cent Reserve Fund—Your Committee heartily concurs in the Board's request that the Convention authorize the accumulation of a reserve fund up to 5 per cent on a capital of $1,000,000 each year.

70. The report of the Sunday School Lesson Committee was presented as follows, by E. C. Dargan, Tennessee, and adopted as an amendment to the report of the Committee on the Report of the Sunday School Board:

REPORT OF THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON COMMITTEE

The chairman begs leave to report for this Committee that it has not seemed necessary to call the Committee together since the last meeting of the Convention, owing to the fact that no new developments or problems have arisen in lesson making since our report to that meeting. Our representation on the International Lesson Committee remains the same and that Committee continues to issue both the Uniform and the Group-Graded Series of lessons. We recommend the continued use of the Uniform Lessons, with such adaptations to the Primary and Junior classes as may be approved by the Editorial Department of the Sunday School Board.

Respectfully submitted,

E. C. DARGAN, Chairman.

(With the approval of other members of the Committee.)

After discussion by Corresponding Secretary I. J. Van Ness, Tennessee, and Homer L. Grice, Georgia, the report of the Committee on the Report of the Sunday School Board was adopted.

71. E. C. Dargan, Tennessee, offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Sunday School Lesson Committee be discontinued as a standing Committee of the Convention; that its maintenance and appointment from year to year be referred to the Sunday School Board with power to act; and that the By-Law which provides for this Committee be so amended as to conform to this action.

72. The following resolution offered by G. C. Epps, South Carolina, was adopted:

Whereas, Thorough training of our people in the doctrine of Christian Stewardship is vitally necessary to the completion of our present campaign and the successful projection of our future work;

Whereas, The Sunday School Board, our denominational press and our Baptist Schools are effective agencies for conveying truth; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Southern Baptist Convention requests (1) That the Sunday School Board give at least two supplemental lessons on the Stewardship or Money in a special and definite way by December 1, 1924; (2) that the denominational papers give special stress to this vital matter in their columns; and (3) that our Baptist Schools emphasize this important truth in their school rooms.

The report of the Committee on Future Program was presented by M. E. Dodd, Louisiana, as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FUTURE PROGRAM

The Committee of four from each state and twelve from the South-at-large, appointed by the Southern Baptist Convention at Kansas City to consider the principles, methods, and organization for the program to follow the completion of the 75 Million Campaign and make recommendations to this Convention would report as follows:

The Convention action which established this Committee contained the following expression: "That the Committee should carry back their plans, principles, outlines of method and organization to all our people for their suggestion, approval and co-operation."

This Committee held its first meeting in Kansas City and organized for work by electing M. E. Dodd, Chairman; L. T. Wilson, Vice-Chairman, and Joseph T. Watts, Secretary.

This sub-committee was instructed to go thoroughly into the whole situation by correspondence and conference with the brotherhood and to report to a future meeting of the general committee their findings.

The next meeting of the General Committee was held in Nashville, October

In carrying out the instructions of the Convention the results of this Committee meeting were reported in the denominational press throughout the Convention territory and the brotherhood at large was asked to give their counsel and make such recommendations, with approval or disapproval, as they saw fit.

This meeting of the Committee appointed an Executive Committee consisting of I. J. Van Ness. Cecil H. Baker Lloyd T. Wilson, C. M. Thompson, Geo. E. Hays, Mrs. W. C. James and M. E. Dodd.

The proposals of the General Committee were brought particularly to the attention of the State Conventions by this Executive Committee and it was suggested that the State bodies contemplating the new program should, as near as practicable, not fall below the figures of the present 75 Million Campaign proposed annual quota for Southwide objects. In gathering data on what each state has done for the various denominational objects, it is discovered that the percentage of their gifts have been as follows:

Arkansas, Texas, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Florida, Alabama, New Mexico, Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Illinois and District of Columbia have made no distribution of their Southwide funds, but report that they will await action of the Southern Baptist Convention. North Carolina reports that the percentages are subject to revision by their Board. The Maryland percentages are subject to revision at their next annual convention. The Virginia percentages can also only be changed by action of the General Association. The South Carolina percentages are not regarded as final. The Louisiana percentages can be adjusted subject to certain specified percentages for the New Orleans Hospital and the Baptist Bible Institute.

At this meeting of the General Committee, October, 1923, it was resolved "That all Southwide participating bodies be requested to present to this Committee a statement of their minimum needs for the calendar year 1925, under two heads: (1) Operating expenses on present work, and (2) for needed advances in new work, enlargement, buildings, endowment, etc."

The response to this request of the Committee as to needs has been as follows:

Recommendations

First. That a simultaneous every-member canvass of every Baptist church in the South be conducted from November 30th to December 7th, 1924, for subscriptions to cover denominational needs for the calendar year 1925, ever keeping before our people the ideal of an annual increase over each year's gifts.

Second. That in this, and future campaigns, chief emphasis shall be placed upon the need for permanency in our financial plans through the Bible principles of Stewardship and Tithing.

That we recognize the right of individuals and churches to designate their gifts, but it is earnestly hoped that contributions will be made to the whole program. It is urged that pastors, denominational representatives and all other of our workers shall present the whole program and press upon the people the importance of unity in its support. If, notwithstanding, there be individuals who of their own accord wish their gifts to go to special objects and who indicate the same when the gift is made, this gift shall not be charged against the sums allocated to the object to which it is given. Any solicitation of such gifts through this Every-Member Canvass will be regarded as a breach of comity and opposed to the spirit of the campaign. All designated gifts of individuals and churches made subsequent to and above the campaign pledge shall go to the causes for which they are designated without being charged against the percentage which those causes are due to receive from the general fund, but these designated gifts shall not be considered as counting on the amounts already pledged by churches or on the total amount of the pledges of the members of the church. Bequests shall be considered as "subsequent" gifts.

Fourth. Participating South-wide Causes shall, after the simultaneous campaign, have the right of approach to individuals in soliciting large gifts, provided such solicitation be approved by the state organizations of the states in which this is to be done.

An emergency now existing in the Building Program of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, we recommend that the Seminary be given the right of approach to individuals, after the simultaneous campaign, for large gifts to the Building Fund, payable within one year.

Fifth. We recommend that there be a General Committee, with headquarters in Nashville, for the promotion of this program, consisting of the General Secretaries, State Secretaries, Secretary of Laymen's Movement, President and Secretary of the W.M.U., Presidents of the three South-wide Institutions and ten others, three of whom shall be women and the remainder Pastors and Laymen. The expenses of the meetings of the Committee to be borne by the several States, Boards and Institutions represented, except for the ten members at large, whose expenses shall be charged to general expenses. We favor the election by the Committee of a competent General Director, who shall be under the direction of the Committee. The Committee to employ such other help as may seem advisable.

Sixth. We recommend that we undertake to raise for South-wide objects during 1925 the sum of $7,000,000.00, the same to be allocated as follows:

Foreign Missions Home Missions Christian Educa			 20%
Ministers' Relie:	f and Annuties	3	 10%
New Orleans H	ospital		 3%
Tloto1			40004

The percentages recommended for Home and Foreign Missions have been arranged for the purpose of restoring to those Boards the funds heretofore loaned to the two Seminaries and the Baptist Bible Institute.

The 20% allocated to Christian Education to be apportioned as follows:

Southern Baptist Seminary
W. M. U. Training School 1
Southwestern Baptist Seminary 4	%
S. W. Training School ½	%
Bible Institute 3	%
Education Board 1	%
Negro Seminary	%
Total 20	1%

Seventh. That hereafter the General Committee of the Convention shall ask from the various South-wide interests, prior to the meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention, a detailed, written statement of their needs for the coming year and that, with these statements before them, the General Committee shall make a South-wide budget which shall be reported to the Convention at its annual session in a ratio of distribution based on this annual budget.

Eighth. That this Convention requests the states in the interest of exercising the spirit of co-operation, the interest of a unified program and in the interest of all our Convention causes, to leave the percentages of distribution of Southwide funds to this Convention or its General Committee. That the General Committee be instructed to confer with the several states for the adjustment of this matter.

Ninth. That monthly remittances shall be insisted upon from all Treasurers of all funds for South-wide objects on such percentage of total collections as shall be agreed upon at the outset of the campaign.

Tenth. That State Treasurers be asked to take out of the total receipts all expenses before they divide and remit to the various objects the amounts due them according to the percentages of collections.

Eleventh. 'That the Special Days in the Sunday Schools, as heretofore provided for by the Southern Baptist Convention and the several State Boards, shall continue to be a part of this Campaign.

In making these recommendations, your Committee is keenly sensible to the fact that all of this proposed machinery shall be but sounding brass and clanging cymbal unless it be infilled and vitalized by the Spirit of God. We, therefore, call all our people everywhere to constant and persistent intercession in behalf of all our great causes which Christ has committed to our trust.

We believe that Southern Baptists should go forward, and forward together, year by year, in high and holy endeavor until His Kingdom shall stretch from shore to shore and His name shall be known from the river to the ends of the earth.

For the Committee:
M. E. DODD, Chairman.
JOSEPH T. WATTS, Secretary.

The report was explained and discussed by M. E. Dodd, Louisiana, who answered many questions from the floor.

Austin Crouch, Tennessee, offered the following amendment to the report and it was adopted, as Section Twelfth:

Resolved, That all Boards, Commissions and Institutions sharing in funds raised for South-wide objects, shall be required to make annual financial statements of assets and liabilities and of receipts and disbursements to the Southern Baptist Convention.

After discussion of the report by S. E. Tull, Arkansas, and Charles E. Maddry, North Carolina, the house divided on the motion of W. C. Barrett, North Carolina, that the word "chairman" be inserted for the word "director" in the fifth item of recommendations, the count not being taken since the loss of the motion was conceded. Another amendment being proposed, the call was made for the previous question and the call was sustained, whereupon the report of the Committee on Future Program was adopted.

- 74. On motion of L. R. Scarborough, Texas, the Convention set apart three o'clock Sunday afternoon for a mass meeting on the new program and the completion of the 75 Million Campaign.
- 75. After announcements, the Convention adjourned with prayer led by Z. T. Cody, South Carolina.

FRIDAY-Afternoon Session

- 76. The Convention assembled at 2:30 o'clock, President McDaniel in the chair; Byron Smith, Texas, read and commented on a part of John 5; C. Stubblefield, Oklahoma, led in prayer, and Jack I. Dew, Oklahoma, sang "His Eye Is on the Sparrow."
- 77. John E. White, South Carolina, offered the report of the Committee on Resolutions as follows, and it was adopted:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Your committee has carefully considered all resolutions referred to it as follows:

(1) A resolution by J. J. Taylor, Alabama, that the convention appoint a committee of seven to prepare and present at the next session of the convention a paper setting forth the Christian teaching with reference to war.

Your committee recommends that this resolution be passed.

(2) A resolution by Abe C. Jones, Missouri, directing that the Convention meet on Thursday instead of Wednesday and that the sermon be preached on Sunday instead of the opening day.

Your committee recommends that these suggestions be referred to the committee on Time and Place.

(3) A resolution by W. J. McGlothlin, South Carolina, in protest of persecution of Rumanian Baptists.

Your committee recommends that this resolution be passed.

(4) Two resolutions proposing doctrinal statements offered by C. P. Stealey, Oklahoma, and R. K. Maiden, Missouri.

Your committee does not recommend the passage of either of these resolutions by this Convention on the ground that the fraternal message, authorized by the 1919 Convention as a circular of information, which was given world-wide distribution, and the statements of Baptist beliefs by the President of the Convention at its session in 1923, which was unanimously endorsed and broadly published, are sufficiently comprehensive and definite. These statements are accessible for all who seek to be informed of the fundamental beliefs commonly held by the Baptist churches and people of the South.

JOHN E. WHITE, Chairman, J. E. DILLARD, L. W. DOOLAN, JOHN JETER HURT, LOUIE D. NEWTON, W. D. NOWLIN, AUBREY WILLIAMS.

Resolution On Religious Persecution in Rumania

Whereas, we the representatives of the Baptists of the Southern States of the United States of America, assembled in annual Convention in the City of Atlanta, Georgia, numbering more than five thousand delegates, representing more than three million communicants and a citizenship of more than fifteen million, have learned with pain and deep concern of the continuance and extension of the persecution of our Baptist brethren in Rumania; and

Whereas, we have learned upon indisputable testimony that Baptist men, women and children have suffered great hardships in the form of personal indignities and violence, being publicly ridiculed, fined, arrested, imprisoned, whipped, severely beaten, sometimes into unconsciousness, and suffering many similar painful and humiliating experiences; and

Whereas, Baptist children have been refused promotion in schools and have frequently been expelled on account of their faith or that of their parents; and

Whereas in certain districts marriage licenses have been refused to Baptist young people, thus preventing the solemnizing of marriage; and

Whereas, the burial of Baptists in cemeteries has been forbidden, making it necessary to deposit the bodies in ground set apart for the burial of animals; and

Whereas, in addition to these personal indignities and sufferings which are constantly and apparently growing worse, the churches are greatly hampered and distressed in their work by severely restrictive regulations, by which while worship is allowed the propagation of our faith is forbidden, and hindered in every possible way; worship can be held only in registered and licensed buildings, only Rumania citizens are permitted to preach, and then only in one place, thus greatly hindering missionary activities; the churches are required to state the sources of all their funds, and are not allowed to receive aid from abroad; and

Whereas, the execution of these restrictive measures are much more severe than the letter of the law, threatening to stop all Baptist growth; in numerous districts the churches have been forcibly closed and the congregation expelled, Bibles have been burned and their distribution forbidden, while the preachers and leaders have been severely mishandled and frequently imprisoned. In short the situation as authentically reported to us has become so distressing as to call for our deepest sympathy and our active assistance.

Therefore, be it resolved, that we regard such an infringement of the fundamental and inalienable rights of humanity as violative of the dearest treasures of modern civilization, such as has not existed elsewhere upon the continent of Europe for many decades, and not in England since the reign of Charles II. It is the revival of mediævalism in what purports to be a modern state, a state which is proud to be associated with other states where the rights of conscience are recognized as inviolate, and religious freedom is a part of the supreme law of the land.

Under these circumstances we feel constrained to call upon the people and Government of Rumania to grant and guarantee to their fellow Rumanians of the Baptist faith those fundamental rights of conscience which are the crowning glory of the modern world. We appeal to them in the name of humanity, in the name of modern ideals, in the name of religion and righteousness, in the name of fundamental human rights, to put an end to the persecutions of our Baptist brethren in Rumania. Nothing is more futile than persecution, and nothing is more abhorrent to New Testament principle and alien to the modern ideals than the denial of religious freedom. Baptists have ever been noted for their loyalty to Government, their obedience to law, their love of peace and good order, their devotion to liberty and progress. We believe that Rumania now has no more faithful citizens, no more stable and dependable element of population than the Baptists of Rumania. In the name, therefore, of national friendship and good will we appeal to the people and Government of Rumania to grant to our Baptist people the rights of conscience and the freedom of religion.

Resolved further that the President and Secretaries of this Convention be instructed to transmit in such manner as may seem most expedient, to the people and Government of Rumania these Resolutions.

- 78. W. C. James, Alabama, offered a resolution in regard to authorizing the Education Board to negotiate a loan, which was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.
- 79. J. R. Mantey, Tennessee, offered a resolution in regard to International Arbitration, which was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.
- 80. A petition from the Leigh Street Baptist Church, Richmond, Virginia, in regard to the Christian attitude toward war was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

Chairman Landrum announced the following Committees to report in 1924:

Education Board Report, Foreign Mission Board Report, Home Mission Board Report, Legal Status of Boards, National Baptist Memorial, Preservation of Baptist History, Relief and Annuity Board Report, Sunday School Board Report. (See List of Committees.)

81. Louis J. Bristow, Alabama, presented the report of the Hospital Commission as follows, and it was adopted after discussion by A. E. Jennings, Tennessee:

REPORT OF THE HOSPITAL COMMISSION

More than one hundred new Protestant hospitals have been established since this Convention held its session in Washington four years ago. The importance of denominational hospitals is seen in that one-fourth of the total number of general beds are furnished by them. Countless thousands of sick persons would be deprived of hospital service were it not for them. Moreover, they arouse interest among the churches in the physically unfortunate. They provide a distinctive Christian atmosphere for the sick and their attendant anxious loved ones. They give special care to many who otherwise would be neglected. They train godly young women in nursing as a Christian calling. They exemplify the spirit of Jesus in the ministry of healing.

Entertaining such convictions concerning Baptist hospitals, it is with peculiar pleasure this Commission makes its report.

Southern Baptists have 24 hospitals, located in 14 States, having an aggregate bed capacity of 2766, which cared for 44,849 patients last year. These hospitals have a property value of $8,600,268.00, on which there is an aggregate debt of $2,795,520.00. They are owned and directed as follows: By State Conventions, 18; by District Associations, 5; by the Home Mission Board, 1; otherwise 2.

We were instructed to submit a hospital policy for this Convention. recognize both the desirability of such an expression and the delicacy of formulating it. Co-operation among churches is vital to the best hospital service. Our commonest co-operative body is the district association; for the South, this Convention; and between these, State Conventions. Which should build and operate hospitals? Experience teaches that small, feeble hospitals are constantly in financial straits, and lead to divisive local interests. The district association, with notable exceptions in certain communities and cities, in the face of the multitudes of calls made upon its churches, is not able to build or maintain a large or worthy denominational hospital. On the other hand, a great Southwide house of healing, well located in some large city, drawing its support from the whole denomination, having at its command physicians and surgeons of outstanding merit in their profession, would command nation-wide attention and offer extraordinary facilities for service to those who would resort to it. It is not difficult to picture situations where this Convention should act in its corporate capacity. Indeed, it has acted. Happily, however, the present major need of our people lies between the two extremes. Individual doctors and municipal groups may be depended upon to supply the local needs in small communities; and if the denomination would fulfill its mission, a hospital, or group of hospitals, strategically located, in every State, would, in our judgment, best serve the Kingdom in ministering to the sick. Therefore, we submit the follow-

First, That the general policy of this Convention be to observe denominational State ownership and control of Baptist hospitals;

Second, That the Convention recognizes certain outstanding exceptions, such as the Tuberculosis Sanatorium at El Paso, Texas, and the General Hospital at New Orleans, for which the Convention stands committed;

Third, That this Hospital Commission with five local members shall be incorporated and shall hold in trust and operate all hospitals of this Convention; and shall act in an advisory capacity with such other Baptist Hospitals within our territory as may desire same; it being understood that in this recommendation no elaborate or expensive organization is contemplated, but only an administrative commission adequate to successful business operation.

The El Paso Sanatorium

The Convention directed the Home Board to transfer the property and management of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium to this Commission, at the mutual convenience of the Board and the Commission. We have been advised by the Home Board of its readiness to make such transfer, but we feel it should not be done until after the Commission has legal standing as provided above.

Hot Springs Memorial

A joint Memorial from the Arkansas Baptist Convention and the Arkansas Baptist Mission Board has requested some expression from this Commission relative to the proposed Baptist National Hospital at Hot Springs. The Commission begs to say it is strongly impressed with the possibilities for usefulness of a great hospital in this outstanding health center, and recommends that the Southern Baptist Convention recommend it to the favorable consideration of our people.

New Orleans Hospital

A committee of five was appointed to select an architect and adopt plans for the general hospital in New Orleans. This committee has held several meetings, has employed an architect and adopted plans for the hospital. The first unit is to be eight stories, with a basement, and will be a complete hospital in itself, though so designed and constructed as to form the central portion of the plant when finished. This unit is to cost approximately $600,000.

The Convention in Kansas City one year ago instructed the Home Mission Board to provide $250,000.00 for the first unit of the New Orleans Hospital; and an agreement has been reached by and between the Hospital Commission, the Home Board, and the Committee to whom was referred the Home Board's report to the effect that The Home Mission Board is to pay to the Hospital Commission this money in units of $50,000.00 quarterly upon the call of the Commission, beginning December 1st, 1924. It is further agreed that no other unit is to be built until The Home Board has been reimbursed in the sum so advanced; the said reimbursing to begin in 1926. We recommend that, by its adoption of this report, the Convention ratifies this agreement.

We have been assured by the Louisiana State Secretary that his Board will pay the $100,000.00 which is to come from that State on the dates and in the sums requested by this Commission.

The Commission requests the Convention, in working out the budget for the next program, for 1925, to make adequate provision for constructing the New Orleans Hospital, and after that, for the gradual expansion and ultimate completion of the enterprise; and for operating expenses, as the necessities may require; and for reimbursing The Home Board.

The Denominational Feature

As Baptists we feel strongly that the denominational feature of Baptist Hospitals is paramount, and to the promotion of that end the Superintendent and Superintendent of Nurses certainly, and the head nurses and others in official positions, so far as may be practicable, should be Baptists. We believe that distinctive Christian work among both patients and nurses should be carried on regularly, and that either a chaplain or a trained woman worker should be employed to do such work. We recommend that these convictions be adopted as the expression of the Convention.

Southwide Hospital Day

The following Memorial was sent to the Commission from the North Carolina State Convention:

"Whereas, we have felt that we had the example and commission of Jesus to enter the service of healing, and

Whereas, Hospital work has become an integral part of our denominational program, and

Whereas, We recognize the imperative need of adopting some adequate plan of laying this work upon the hearts of our people, and at the same time giving them an opportunity to properly inform themselves concerning it:

Therefore, be it Resolved, First, That we the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina hereby request the Southern Baptist Convention to set apart a special day in our denominational calendar, which shall be known as "Hospital Day."

Second, That whereas "Mothers' Day" seems suggestive of this wonderful work, we request that the day now celebrated as "Mothers' Day" be the day used for presenting this great question of healing, succor and service to humanity.

Third, That we suggest that our Sunday School Board be requested to prepare the literature and programs for the observance of these days as mentioned.

The Commission begs to recommend that this Memorial be adopted by the Convention, and that it requests the Southern Baptist Hospital Association to appoint a committee of five to co-operate with the Sunday School Board in preparing the program.

Respectfully submitted,

82. With Vice-President Pickard presiding, Corresponding Secretary B. D. Gray, Georgia, presented a summary of the report of the Home Mission Board.

The report of the Committee on the Report of the Home Mission Board was presented by George W. Truett, Texas, as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE REPORT OF THE HOME MISSION BOARD

Profound gratitude is in our hearts for the record of large and varied serviceableness rendered by the Board during the past Convention year. Despite the economic depression and disarrangement of recent years, which fact inevitably called for retrenchment by the Board, the record of the results achieved by its workers all over its vast territory is such as to fill our hearts with grateful joy.

The Board's report reminds us of the weighty debt of $875,908.18 that so heavily burdens its officers and necessarily handicaps all its work, and the earnest hope is here expressed that the year to come will mark the removal of this trying burden of debt from this Board. To such end, the efforts of all our vast constituency should be increasingly and unreservedly consecrated. We are challenged to do this by every wise and righteous motive that can constrain the friends of Christ to give their best service for the furtherance of his cause.

In view of the present financial burdens upon the Board, we recommend that the Board be relieved from making further advance loans to the three Southwide Seminaries.

A glance at the various departments and activities of the Board reminds us of the wide scope of its ministry. Its co-operative work with the various states and sections included in the work of this Convention, continues as a fundamental feature of the Board's work. Just at this point there come grateful stories of inspiring re-enforcement given by the Board, from the beginning to the end of the year, in all parts of the Board's territory.

The work of evangelism and enlistment continues to be a feature of the Board's work of measureless importance. The whole brotherhood will rejoice with the Board in the return of Dr. O. E. Bryan, to be the superintendent of such department. In such position, he will have, we are happy to believe, the wholehearted co-operation of our brotherhood, even as the importance of such department calls for such co-operation. The work of sane, constructive, Scriptural evangelism is vital to every cause fostered by this Convention. The need for such evangelism is just as acutely urgent now as it ever was before. What our country today needs above all else is a community-wide, state-wide, nation-wide revival of pure religion. Our whole social structure will finally topple and fall into ruin, if Christ shall not come to be its controlling life. He and He alone embodies all that is final and complete in religion, so that Christianity and that alone has a full adequacy for human need. We quote these significant words from the Wall Street Journal: "What America needs more than railway extension, and Western irrigation, and a low tariff, and a bigger wheat crop, and a merchant marine, and a new navy, is a revival of piety, the kind father and mother used to have; piety that counted it good business to stop for the daily family prayer before breakfast, right in the middle of the harvest; that quit field work a half hour earlier Wednesday night, so as to get the chores done and get to prayer meeting. That is just what we need now to clean this country of filth, of graft and of greed, petty and big, of worship of fine houses and big lands, and high office and grand social functions." We quote also these significant words from the eminent business man and statistician, Mr. Babson: "The need of the hour is not more legislation. The need of the hour is more religion. More religion is needed everywhere, from the halls of Congress to the factories, mines and forests. It is one thing to talk about plans and policies, but a plan and policy without a religious motive is like a watch without a spring, or a body without the breath of life. The trouble today is that we are trying to hatch chickens from sterile eggs. We may have the finest incubator in the world, but unless the eggs have the germ of life in them, all our efforts are of no avail."

It is our conviction that this department of evangelism and enlistment may be of vast service, not only by winning many to the salvation and service of Christ, but also by stimulating the passion for evangelism among all the estates of our Baptist Zion. Certainly, the effort should be universal and unceasing to keep every church and every agency fostered by the churches, such as our schools and hospitals and denominational papers, inflamed and impassioned by the spirit of New Testament evangelism. The first and supreme business of every church, of every preacher, of every individual Christian is to make use of every power God has given us to win the people, everywhere, to the salvation and service of Christ.

The Committee would make grateful mention of the invaluable service rendered by Dr. Austin Crouch, as Superintendent of the Church Extension Department. Although he has recently given up such position to return to the pastorate, the work, it is hoped, will be earnestly carried forward. Its importance to weak and struggling churches, and to the leading of such churches to self-support, and to worthy participation in all our denominational work, is too large and strategic for it to be minified or neglected by any of our people.

Earnest attention is called to the immeasurably important work of Dr. B. C. Hening and his associates, in behalf of the Negroes, Indians and foreigners in our midst. When the figures confront us that there are some nine million negroes living within the bounds of this Convention, and also nearly two hundred thousand Indians, and an ever-increasing foreign population, the importance of the work of this department can hardly be exaggerated. It is a work calling for the constant and worthiest attention of every one of us, from the standpoint both of patriotism and Christianity. Wisdom has fled from us and our God-given obligations are trifled with, if we do not constantly and whole-heartedly dedicate ourselves to the helping of all these groups mentioned, in the highest and best way. This we must do for our own sake as well as theirs. Paul's words should continually ring in all our ears: "We, then, that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak and not to please ourselves."

The work of Superintendent A. E. Brown, and his associates, in connection with our mountain schools, is a constant inspiration to us all. The story of these mountain schools and the gracious streams of influence and power issuing from them constitute one of the most inspiring chapters ever recorded in connection with the mission work of our country.

The happy reports that are brought us of the progress of the work that is being done for the deaf-mutes of our territory, and for the soldiers, sailors and marines, and for the Jews in our midst, and of the steady gains made by our workers in Cuba and the Canal Zone, are all such as to cause us to "thank God and take courage."

We would likewise record our deep gratitude for the excellent record of service that is being rendered by the Tuberculosis S'anatorium located in El Paso. In this connection, we would refer to a request found in the Board's report concerning the proposed hospital movement in New Orleans. It will be recalled that in Kansas City one year ago, the Convention adopted the following recommendations of the Committee on Hospitals, with reference to the proposed New Orleans Hospital:

- 1. "That a special hospital commission consisting of one member from each state shall be created by this Convention, and that the erection and administration of the proposed New Orleans Hospital be turned over to this Commission.
- 2. That the Home Mission Board be instructed to contribute $250,000 toward the first unit of the institution, the construction of which shall commence not earlier than December 1, 1924, and that this amount shall be the limit of the Home Mission Board's responsibility.
- 3. That the Baptists of Louisiana will be expected to contribute not less than $100,000 toward the first unit.
- 4. That such funds necessary to ultimately complete an institution to cost not less than $2,000,000 shall be provided by this Convention from future campaigns, said funds to be administered by said hospital commission; that the $250,000 put into the New Orleans Hospital by the Home Mission Board shall be refunded to the Board out of the hospital funds."

Because of its financial burdens, the request of the Board was that it might be relieved by the Hospital Commission from providing the $250,000 directed by the Kansas City Convention. This Committee, however, is happy to report that after a full conference with the Hoame Board, in session today, and after extended conference with the Hospital Commission, unanimous agreement was reached by the Board, and by the Hospital Commission, and by this Committee now reporting on the Board's report, that the Home Board will provide the amount for the Hospital in New Orleans, as directed by the Kansas City Convention, and as per the conditions recited in the report by the Hospital Commission to this session of the Convention.

The Board does well to summon us all to face the future with high resolves and with unbounded hopes. The present conditions of the world offer a challenge and an opportunity for service, at home and abroad, probably never rivalled-if equalled. What shall we do with the unparalleled opportunities and responsibilities now confronting us? We would close this report with an utterance made recently by one of our honored fellow-workers in this Convention, Mr. Richard H. Edmonds: "The resources of the South for material development are greater than those of any other equal area in the world. They guarantee a development as far in excess of that which we now see as the progress and wealth of the South today exceeds the desperate poverty of the South in 1865. have watched the movements of individual development in this section for nearly fifty years, nothing in all that time is at all comparable in extent and variety of activity to that which is now under way, from Maryland to Texas and Oklahoma. We are making marvelous strides. Capital from all sections is rushing into the South. New England cotton manufacturers, disturbed by the labor and legislative conditions in that section, due largely to the foreign element, are rushing hot-foot into the South. They have invested about thirty million dollars in the purchase of Southern mills in the last twelve months and are spending about the same amount in the building of new mills." The honored writer goes on to ask: "What shall the South do with the enormous wealth that has been coming to it? This wealth will test its stamina and its moral backbone to a far greater extent than poverty ever tested them. We shall be in greater danger from the menace of the power of unwisely used wealth than we were from the danger of the destruction of poverty at the close of the Civil War; and, for years, the religious life of this section is in some respects the most tremendous issue which faces the world."

Your committee believes that if ever the drum-beat of duty sounded clearly to Southern Baptists, to leave far in the background all pettiness and bickerings and covetousness and selfishness, and hasten to the vast and constructive tasks that begin at our doors and reach to the uttermost ends of the earth—THAT TIME IS NOW. God lead us on!

92. Upon announcement of the death today at his home in Louisville, Kentucky, of W. O. Foreman, father of Mrs. F. F. Gibson, who, with her husband, was attending this session, the Convention instructed the Secretaries to wire a message of sympathy, and prayer for the bereaved was led by B. D. Gray, Georgia.

- 93. The work of the Inter-Board Commission on Student Religious Activities was discussed by L. R. Scarborough, Texas.
- 94. The consideration of Home Missions was resumed and the Convention addressed by E. E. Denby, Virginia; O. E. Bryan, Georgia; L. E. Barton, Virginia; and Corresponding Secretary D. D. Gray, Georgia.
- 95. The report of the Committee on the Report of the Home Mission Board was adopted.
- 96. The Convention adjourned with prayer, F. C. McConnell, Georgia, leading.

SATURDAY—Morning Session

Atlanta, Georgia, May 17, 1924.

- 97. After the opening service of song, led by W. A. Huey, Louisiana, President McDaniel called the Convention to order. T. Ryland Sanford, Virginia, read and commented on Ephesians 2, and prayer was led by M. F. Sanford, Virginia.
 - 98. The journal for yesterday was read, corrected, and confirmed.
- 99. A resolution was offered by C. P. Stealey, Oklahoma, embodying a statement of Bible doctrines. The house divided on the question of suspension of rules in order to give the resolution immediate consideration, the vote being 295 ayes and 325 noes; whereupon the resolution was referred to the Committee on Resolutions.
- 100. The following resolution offered by J. A. McKaughan, North Carolina, was, on motion of A. J. Barton, Missouri, referred to the Committee on Correlation to report next year:

Whereas, other denominations have and are maintaining in western North Carolina well-developed educational and training assemblies for the education and training of their people; and

Whereas, a number of Baptist brethren who are yet with us and some who have gone to their reward have worked sacrificially to the end that a great Baptist Assembly might be definitely and permanently established and maintained at Ridgecrest, N. C., and succeeded in a great measure; and

Whereas, it is absolutely necessary that Southern Baptists have and conduct a great assembly for the education and training of workers for Kingdom service; and

Whereas, the Education Board of the Convention now holds controlling stock in the assembly and is without designated funds with which to enlarge and equip and maintain an efficient and successful educational and training assembly; and

Whereas, the Sunday School Board has the funds and the executive ability to equip and conduct a great assembly at Ridgecrest, N. C.

Therefore be it resolved, (1) that the Convention direct the Education Board of the Convention to legally and properly turn over and transfer its stock at Ridgecrest, N. C., to the Sunday School Board of the Convention.

(2) That the Sunday School Board be requested to take charge of the property and as soon as practicable begin the work of developing and maintaining a great Baptist Assembly for this Convention at Ridgecrest, N. C.

For the Baptist Pastors' Conference, Asheville, N. C.

101. The following report of the Committee on Resolutions, offered by Louie D. Newton, Georgia, was adopted:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Three resolutions referred to your committee on Friday are reported on as follows:

First. A memorial from Leigh Street Church, Richmond, Virginia, urging the Convention to issue a declaration of its opposition to war; and Second. A resolution by J. R. Mantey, Tennessee, declaring protest against war and appealing for an international league or world court in which the United States shall participate for the purposes of peace. Your committee recommends that both resolutions be referred to the committee of seven already created by the Convention to bring in a paper at the next annual session on the Christian teaching regarding war.

Third. A resolution by W. C. James of the Education Board submitting the situation affecting Ouachita College, Arkansas, due to failure of the Education Board to receive sufficient funds to carry out its agreements with said college. Your committee reports that no express authority is required to enable the Education Board to execute transactions in the current discharge of its contractural obligations and that no action is needed by the Convention in the case submitted by the resolution.

JOHN E. WHITE, Chairman, J. E. DILLARD, L. W. DOOLAN, LOUIE D. NEWTON, W. D. NOWLIN, JOHN JETER HURT, AUBREY WILLIAMS.

The Resolution

We, the 5,000 messengers of the Southern Baptist Convention in session at Atlanta, Ga., believe that war is contrary to the spirit and teachings of Jesus Christ, and that it is the greatest obstacle to the progress of Christianity. And we believe that all grave international problems can be settled by arbitration.

We confidently believe that our nation, with its economic and moral predominance, can promote such friendly understanding among nations as will result in such international sentiment and laws as will outlaw war.

We have experienced deep disappointment over our nation not taking definite steps to enter into the world's greatest co-operative effort to safeguard peace, the League of Nations, or into some such plan as our late President, Warren Harding was advocating at the time of his death. Surely some internationally approved police force could safeguard peace by keeping in check war-inclined nations.

It is our earnest desire that the United States be more unselfish and benevolent and thus promote increased brotherliness toward the peoples of all nations by ministering in a greater way to suffering peoples whenever such serious disasters as earthquake, famine, plague and war befall them. Such constructive service, we believe, will promote good will among nations and will furnish us more protection than battleships.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be mailed to President Calvin Coolidge, to State Secretary Chas. Hughes, to Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, and to Speaker of the House of Representatives, Frederick Gillette.

J. R. MANTEY.

The Memorial

At the quarterly Church Conference of the Leigh Street Baptist Church, the following resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

First. That our church record its absolute and definite opposition to war as a method of settling international disputes; and,

Second. That a committee be appointed to request the Southern Baptist Convention to take some definite steps towards registering the opinion of Southern Baptists in this matter.

In pursuance thereof, we hereby memorialize our Convention, meeting in Atlanta, Georgia, May 14, 1924, to declare for an unalterable opposition on the part of Southern Baptist churches to the entire war system and preparation leading up to armed conflict; to call upon our Government to co-operate with other nations in some form of organization looking toward permanent world peace.

C. O. ALLEY,
WORTLEY DICKIE,
EARLE SIBLEY,
Committee.

102. Hugh T. Stevenson, District of Columbia, conveyed greetings to the Convention from James J. Davis, U. S. Commissioner of Labor, and presented the report of the Committee on Chinese Exclusion Laws, which was adopted as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MODIFICATION OF CHINESE EXCLUSION LAWS.

In a recent letter addressed to Hon. William D. Upshaw, a member of this committee, Secretary of Labor gave expression concerning the work of your committee as follows:

"My Dear Congressman:

Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson, pastor of the Bethany Baptist Church, called today in response to your request. I was very much interested in what he had to say with reference to the deportation of Oriental aliens without a hearing. Of course, that hasn't happened during my term of office, because there is one thing we are sticklers for and that is to give everyone a hearing.

I don't remember ever having met Judge Yeager, of Kentucky, but if the Judge has any cases, even under the former administration, I shall be glad to look into the matter very carefully for him."

Your committee believes that they have made progress during the past year, as evidenced by the letter and greetings which you have just heard from the distinguished Baptist Secretary of Labor, Hon. James J. Davis, who has shown more than a sympathetic interest in our work.

We recommend that in the interest of justice to all that the committee be continued, so that they may complete their efforts on behalf of the worthy Christians, some of whom were born here in America, who need their aid in this hour, when they face deportation from the country without the help, aid and assistance of their brethren.

We recommend in the interest of efficiency that the membership of the committee be reduced to five.

F. S. YEAGER, Chairman, W. D. UPSHAW, H. T. STEVENSON, JOHN W. INZER. Committee. 103. The report of the Committee on National Baptist Memorial was presented by B. C. Hening, Georgia, and adopted as follows:

THE NATIONAL BAPTIST MEMORIAL TO RELIGIOUS LIBERTY

Present tendencies indicate that it will not be long before every denomination in the country will be represented in the city of Washington by some distinctive enterprise.

Baptists took hold of this idea with formal determination when in 1917 both the Northern and the Southern Baptist Conventions simultaneously passed unanimous resolutions looking to the erection of the National Baptist Memorial to Religious Liberty upon a lot in the Nation's Capital made available because the Immanuel Baptist Church was in possession of it.

When the two Conventions organized their five-year Campaigns in 1919 each of them included in their budgets 175 thousand dollars for carrying forward the enterprise. The building is now complete in its structure though no inside finish has as yet been possible.

The location of the building near the French, the Spanish, the Dutch, the Mexican and Cuban Embassies and other stately buildings is peculiarly conspicuous and important.

During the progress of the undertaking some interesting incidents have been worthy of special mention. When this Convention met in the city of Washington in 1920 a dedicatory service was held on the site of the Memorial. At this service Dr. B. D. Gray presided. Dr. R. S. McArthur made the invocation. Dr. J. B. Gambrell, then the president of the Convention, the Hon. Josephus Daniels, then the Secretary of the Navy, and Dr. W. J. McGlothlin the president of Furman University delivered striking and valuable addresses. Dr. B. C. Hening offered prayer and the site was dedicated to God and to Religious Liberty.

On April 23rd, 1921, President Warren G. Harding during a beautiful service broke ground for the erection of the building. On April 22, 1922, the Hon. Chas. E. Hughes, Secretary of State, laid the corner stone of the building and delivered a notable address on Religious Liberty, of which 30,000 copies were published and distributed by the American Baptist Publication Society. A none the less significant chapter was closed on April 22, 1923, by the members of the Immanuel Baptist Church when they burned the papers of a fifty thousand dollar mortgage clearing off the indebtedness on the lot and the Sunday-school building in which they worship, thus contributing to the Memorial certainly as much as 125 thousand dollars.

It is too late to entertain any other purpose save that of rapidly forging ahead to the completion of so worthy and significant an undertaking.

Brother Eugene Levering found it impracticable to remain active on the committee. We request that you appoint Brother Richard H. Edmonds, of Maryland, a member of the committee.

Respectfully submitted,

B. D. GRAY, Chairman, E. B. JACKSON, T. C. SKINNER, W. L. BALL, B. C. HENING.

104. The annual report of the Woman's Missionary Union, presented by J. B. Weatherspoon, Kentucky, was received as follows, and ordered printed in the Annual:

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION

May 1, 1923 to May 1, 1924

With hearty Christian greetings and in a spirit of thanksgiving the Woman's Missionary Union submits the following report which records some of the achievements of the thirty-sixth year of service as an auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention.

In the consideration by the Convention of this report it is well that attention be directed to the personnel of the membership of the Union, the number and kind of organizations, the object, the aims and the methods employed in order to understand the record of achievements.

Membership

The Woman's Missionary Union is composed of the women and young people of the churches of the Southern Baptist Convention who are organized into societies of various grades. There is first the Woman's Missionary Society (W.M.S.) whose responsibility it is in addition to the regular work of the society to organize and foster the junior societies in their respective churches, at the same time reaching out to organize societies of all grades in churches where there are none.

The organizations for young people are the Young Woman's Auxiliary (Y.W.A.), the Royal Ambassadors (R.A.) for boys from nine to sixteen, the Girls' Auxiliary (G.A.) for girls of the same age, and the Sunbeam Band for small children. There are in a large number of schools and colleges societies especially adapted for the development of the college girls and known as the College Y.W.A. A new venture is that of organizing Grace McBride Circles for nurses in the training schools connected with our Baptist hospitals.

We have today a total of 22,326 societies, 10,615 of these are women's societies while 11,711 are young people's societies. Of the young people's societies 2,517 are Y.W.A.'s, 2,375 G.A.'s, 1,305 R.A.'s, and 5,514 Sunbeam Bands. If there is a Woman's Missionary Society and one each of four grades for young people in a church, that church has a Full Graded Union. There are 556 churches in the bounds of the Southern Baptist Convention which have full graded unions; 896 with four out of the five grades; 1,375 with three; 2,881 with two and 9,377 with one.

Object

"The women of the churches of the Southern Baptist Convention," so reads the preamble to the constitution, "desiring to stimulate a missionary spirit and the grace of giving among the women and young people of the churches, and wishing to aid in collecting funds for missionary purposes to be disbursed by the Boards of the Southern Baptist Convention and by the Woman's Missionary Union, auxiliary to the Southern Baptist Convention in case of the Margaret Fund for missionaries' children and the W.M.U. Training School in Louisville, Kentucky, organize and adopt the following constitution." This is the same preamble used at the time of organization thirty-six years ago, except the clause concerning the Margaret Fund and the W.M.U. Training School in Louisville.

As the years have come and gone Woman's Missionary Union has adopted certain aims for the development of its membership and for the promotion of the two-fold object for which the Union was originally organized, namely: "To distribute information and stimulate effort through the State Woman's Missionary Unions" and "to secure the earnest, sympathetic co-operation of women and young people in collecting and raising money for missions." It is just since the inauguration of the 75 Million Campaign that gifts from our members to Christian Education, state missions and the benevolences are recorded on the books of W. M. U. auxiliary to S.B.C. Such records were formerly kept only on the books of the state W.M.U.

Aims

The aims mentioned above are Individual and United Prayer, Bible Study, Soul Winning, Enlistment, Mission Study, Organized Personal Service and Systematic and Proportionate Giving.

Standard of Excellence

Standardization being the order of the day the Woman's Missionary Union has Standards of Excellence for all five grades of societies by which the attainment of each grade may be measured as they work toward the Union's aims. With modifications suited to the age of the junior organizations the following is the W.M.U. Standard of Excellence.

- 1. At least twelve regular meetings during the year, with a devotional service and a definite missionary program, preferably one each month.
- 2. An increase in active membership during the year of at least 10 per cent of the number enrolled at the beginning of the year till all eligible members are enlisted.
- 3. Paying Campaign Pledge.
 (Before the Campaign this point called for a 10 per cent increase in gifts over the preceding year's gifts.)
- 4. Regular reports to state officers, according to the plan outlined by the state (W.M.U.).
- 5. One of the denominational periodicals subscribed for in at least one-half of the homes represented in the missionary society, the ultimate aim being one in every home.
- Observance of the special seasons of prayer and gifts for state, home and foreign missions.
- 7. At least one mission study reading circle or preferably one mission study class during the year.
- 8. Some definite organized personal service for the spiritual uplift of the local community conducted by the members of the society and under its oversight.
- 9. An average attendance of at least one-half of the active membership at the twelve meetings.
- 10. Fostering in the local church of a Sunbeam Band and of at least one other of the graded W.M.U. organizations for the young people and where possible, the organization and fostering of a missionary society in a neighboring church.

During the past year 1986 societies of different grades reached every point in their respective standards and were therefore enrolled as A-1 societies. 2,478 attained Class B, 2,226 Class C and 2,260 made at least four points and were in Class D.

Bible Study and Prayer

From the nature of the case tabulated reports on these two aims cannot be given, but each has its definite place in the plans of the Union and special study books for both are recommended. Bible studies and daily Bible readings are to be found each month in the W.M.U. magazine, while Union members are urged to attend Sunday school and to hold additional Bible classes at a separate time. Every W.M.U. office opens the day's work with prayer, every meeting is opened and closed with devotional service and all members are especially urged to pray each morning at nine o'clock if possible for our denominational causes using the Calendar of Prayer published each month. As the Convention doubtless knows, the Calendar of Prayer remembers not only all the causes fostered by the Convention but mentions by name the Convention officers, secretaries of the S. B. C. Boards, other leaders of the Convention and the W.M.U. and all home and foreign missionaries. Special seasons of prayer, as you have seen from the Standard of Excellence, are observed by all grades of societies for state, home and foreign missions.

Mission Study

Though mission study has been one of the aims of the Union for a number of years it was not until 1918 that special courses were outlined and a system of certificates and awards for such study was inaugurated. The courses of study include certain fundamental books such as "All the World in All the Word," "Stewardship and Missions," "How to Pray," "Intercessory Prayer," "Talks on Soul Winning" and "The Plan of Salvation." Of course the regular study books on home and foreign missions are included in the course as well as two books on W.M.U. history and the W.M.U. Manual of Methods.

During this past year there were 17,099 mission study clases and 97,738 seals were awarded individuals for the study of one book. The seals are pasted on the certificates. Official seals are awarded when a certificate has the required number of small seals attached. 4,407 official seals were awarded this past year. Having completed 17 mission study books and taught a class allied with Woman's Missionary Union 195 women received Honor Certificates. An advanced course of mission study is being prepared for which diplomas will be awarded to those who have finished the certificate courses.

Personal Service

Remembering the great commandment to love God and our neighbors as ourselves and with the lesson of the Good Samaritan in mind the women have developed this feature of Union work. Food is given to the hungry, water to the thirsty, the naked are clothed, the sick visited and hope carried to those in prison in the Master's name with the ultimate aim of winning the lost to Christ and enlisting them in His service. Christian visiting, mission Sunday schools, Homemakers' Clubs, various boys' and girls' clubs, cottage prayer meetings, rescue work, Americanization classes, adult classes for illiterates, Vacation Bible Schools, day nurseries, the distribution of the Bible and other Christian literature, settlement work conducted through Good Will Centers are among the activities of this department.

This report is far too brief in which to give the figures for all these activities but as the direct result 7,396 souls have been born into the Kingdom this past year and in the past five years there have been 26,428. These figures do not take into account many Christians who have been enlisted in the work of the churches.

Closely related to this is the White Cross work, the purpose of which is to supply material for use in S. B. C. hospitals on the foreign fields. The societies participating in this work numbered 853 and supplies valued at $15,267.34 were sent to the hospitals. In addition to this the women have made valuable contributions of like nature to the hospitals in their respective states.

Systematic and Proportionate Giving

Of all the aims of Woman's Missionary Union this is mentioned last because it is the natural outgrowth, the inevitable result from the attainment of the other aims. "For according to their power . . . and beyond their power they gave of their own accord . . . but first they gave their own lives to the Lord," 2 Cor. 8: 3-5.

It is not possible to report the exact number of tithers for five states did not report and in other instances only new tithers were reported. Some tithers do not sign the card but we can report definitely 21,814 knowing there are thousands of others. Stewardship is constantly emphasized. Suffice it to say that guided by the record of gifts in former years reckoned with the pre-Campaign ideal of a 10 per cent increase over each preceding year's gifts the W.M.U. Executive Committee pledged the Union for $15,000,000 to the Campaign. When the books closed April 30, 1924, $14,738,141 had been paid in by members of Woman's Missionary Union.

Along with this report is presented a financial statement by the W.M.U. treasurer which, it is hoped, will be given careful study.

W. M. U. Publications

ROYAL SERVICE, a thirty-six page monthly, the official organ of the Union, not only carries news of the activities of the Union and of the world field but has in it Bible studies, the Calendar of Prayer, programs for use by the women's and young women's societies as well as other valuable material. This magazine has a paid-up subscription list of 58,902.

WORLD COMRADES, a quarterly magazine for our junior organization, with its attractive stories, helps for leaders and program material, is in its second year, and has a paid-up subscription list of 11,939.

The price of each of these magazines for a year is 50 cents. The subscriptions nave paid all expenses of publication and distribution of both magazines, leaving a comfortable balance in bank with which to start the new year.

Another Union publication is the College Bulletin issued bi-monthly during the school term for the College Y.W.A.'s.

W. M. U. Literature

Large numbers of leaflets and other helps are distributed free to societies. Last year 1,781,982 pieces of literature were distributed free.

The W.M.U. Year Book is a handbook for society presidents, circle leaders and counselors of young peoples societies and is given free to each of these. Additional copies may be had for 10 cents each.

The Union's priced literature is handled by the W.M.U. Literature Department which has a working capital of $1,500 and a reserve capital of $5,094. This department also handles the Union pins of which there is one for each grade of society.

The W.M.U. Manual of Methods is for use in women's societies and may be bought from the Sunday School Board. The Manuals for use by young people's societies may be secured from each state W.M.U. headquarters.

Pastors are earnestly requested to examine our publications and other literature and particularly are they urged to make a study of the group of W.M.U. Manuals that they may become acquainted with the methods in all grades of W.M.U. work.

Each month of the past year the Union has furnished a department for Home and Foreign Fields and also contributed frequent articles for the state papers.

Margaret Fund

During the year just gone 55 scholarships of $200 each have been given to the children of foreign missionaries and to children of the missionaries under the Home Board living out of the United States. The scholarships are granted to assist in the living expenses of boys and girls over fifteen years of age who must go away from home to attend school. The fund has interest-bearing investments amounting to $39,114. Gifts from W.M.U members supplement the amount received in interest.

W. M. U. Training School

Standing on the corner of Preston Street and East Broadway in Louisville there is a beautiful building of Gothic architecture which is the home of the Training School for women Christian workers. This school has an endowment of $134.328.27 and a property valued at $285,000. It is owned and controlled by the Woman's Missionary Union. The endowment is being increased from year to year while the running expenses are met with the small board from the students and large gifts from the Union members.

As in former years, scholarships are given students needing assistance. These scholarships for the most part are now on a loan basis, a plan very much appreciated by the students.

The enrollment for the year just closed was 150 of which 124 were boarding students and 26 day students. There were 54 graduated who are now ready to take their places in our denominational life.

There is a Good Will Center in Louisville conducted by the school where the students receive valuable training for their future work in addition to their practical city mission work. The Union has invested $10,300 in the property for the Good Will Center. In addition to the various clubs and other activities for women, girls and boys 207 religious services were held last year which resulted in 13 conversions.

In submitting this report the Woman's Missionary Union would assure the Convention that true to one of the meanings of the word auxiliary the Union will continue to be a helper in seeking to bring the 75 Million Campaign to a successful consummation and will co-operate as far as possible in all the plans of the Convention in the program to follow. It has never been the policy of the Union to take a backward step and it is our purpose to make every effort to go forward. If this is to be done in a way that will bring the largest possible results the Union must have the sympathetic, unreserved and active co-operation of the officers, the pastors and the laymen of the Convention particularly in seeing to it that the program of education and development is unhindered and that the record of gifts from our members are kept in such a way that the Union may be able to gauge its progress.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. C. JAMES, President, KATHLEEN MALLORY, Corresponding Secretary.

105. The report of the Committee on Woman's Work was presented and discussed by J. B. Weatherspoon, Kentucky, and adopted by rising vote as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON THE W. M. U. REPORT

The report of the Woman's Missionary Union carries with it no recommendations. It is as you have seen a presentation of the aims, the organization and progress of Southern Baptist women during the last year, revealing at once a simplicity and comprehensiveness and spiritual emphasis which may serve as an inspiration for the entire denomination. For their services our beloved sisters seek no praise; they do not seek an authoritative voice in the distribution of their ever-increasing offerings as a separate and independent missionary agency. They make but one request, namely, that the W.M.U., may have "the sympathetic, unreserved and active co-operation of the officers, the pastors and the laymen of the Convention, particularly in seeing to it that the program of education and development is unhindered, and that the record of gifts from our members be kept in such a way that the Union may be able to gauge its progress." Your committee would urge, therefore, that in receiving this report, the Convention may voice its appreciation of the vision, sacrifices and achievements of the women of the churches and its pledge of heartiest co-operation in their holy endeavors.

For the Committee, J. B. WEATHERSPOON, Chairman.

The officers of the Woman's Missionary Union were invited to the front on the platform and introduced to the Convention, which rose in greeting with a chautauqua salute.

106. The report on Denominational Press was presented by S. M. Brown, Missouri, as follows:

FOR THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST PRESS ASSOCIATION

By S. M. Brown, President. (Approved by the Association)

The editors of our weekly Baptist papers have been heartened in their work during the past convention year. In many of the states special campaigns have been conducted by the whole state denominational forces for increased circulation, and full recognition has been given of the vital force of the weekly paper in all our work. Two of our great southwide institutions, the Sunday School Board, and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, have had as their guests the editors of our papers, at important annual meetings of their respective Boards. In these instances it was desired to have the editors of all our papers look over, for themselves, the magnificent new buildings just completed by the Sunday School Board, and to get first-hand information as to the forbidding housing conditions of our great Seminary, as also to become acquainted with the reasonable building program proposed by the trustees of the Seminary. Our brethren to whom we have entrusted these far-reaching denominational enterprises wanted their brethren to know what they were doing and how they were handling the trusts committed to their hands and recognized that the one way to reach our people with this information was through the weekly Baptist paper.

These occasions afforded the editors opportunities for conferences, among themselves, which have been enjoyable as well as beneficial.

The editors recognize to the fullest extent, we believe, the delicate pivotal. important position which they occupy, with reference to every interest of the Convention, as well as to the very life and growth of our churches. While the papers are not taken and read by the great masses of our people, as we all fondly wish they were, the leaders everywhere take them and read them and their thinking and their co-operation in the leadership of the denomination, in every phase of its work, are more extensively advertised and promoted through the columns of the weekly papers than through any other one agency, if not through all other agencies combined. The papers set the currents in motion. It is in their power to stir unwonted excitement and create division and dissension, as it is in their power to promote peace and harmony and unity of effort. Those of us who have worked our way into these positions of power, as well as those of us who, in recognition of our fitness, have been promoted by our brethren to these positions of power and influence, need, perhaps, more than any other class of men among us, the poise of divine grace and the guidance of heavenly wisdom. It is the conviction of the writer of this expression of our Baptist editors that they recognize their responsibilities and privileges in these respects. They are verily the "watchmen upon the walls." They can and do see the encroachments of the insidious foes of our faith, as they also behold tendencies to hobbies and fads. It is theirs to sound the shrill and far-echoing alarm of the approaching storm as well as to pour oil on the troubled waters.

The Acts of the Disciples

1. These papers are newspapers. They are to modern discipleship "The Acts"—in a way—as was the "Book of Acts," in apostolic times. They tell of the struggles of truth with error; of the location and doings of the missionaries, their hardships and trials, as well as their joys and successes; they voice their apeals to the churches; they bear to the churches the messages of our Mission Boards and schools and seminaries and eleemosynary institutions—all about the brethren and the work.

Epistles

- 2. They are epistles. They warn the churches against false prophets and teachers. They indoctrinate. Our peculiar doctrines which furnish our excuse for our separate existence as a denomination of Christians would fade away, to a degree, and the Baptist contribution which is saving Christianity, as a whole, from the corrupting influences of infant membership, sacramentalism and ecclesiasticism, would be largely curtailed if not destroyed if these modern epistles of interpretation were not constantly falling into the hands of all our leaders; and into the hands of those who have wandered from the path of orthodoxy. The pulpit is socially so close to the doctrinally mixed multitude that propriety and courtesy, and the popular prejudice against doctrinal conviction, tempts many preachers to soft-pedal the doctrines of our faith. The editor is alone with his God and his Bible. The social temptation reaches him indirectly and glances off. He is putting it down in black and white. Paul's preaching is forgotten, his epistles will go on forever.
- 3. They are apocalyptical. The average Baptist editor reads all the other Baptist papers. He reads the religious papers of the other denominations. He is compelled to do so in self-defense. This gives him a chance to exercise, in a way, the prophetic gift. Visions are before him. He sees "lambs," and "lions," and "beasts with horns," and "hosts," and "chariots," and "times," and "ages." He puts down his visions and they are wafted forth on the leaves. Ah! his is a charming calling.

The late and eminent Dr. H. H. Tucker, so long editor of the great Baptist paper of this state—Georgia—The Index—to Georgia Baptists—once said: "Everybody has a club for the old preacher's head, while the old editor has a club for everybody's head."

Free Expression

Among all the leaders and servants of the denomination the survey of the editor is and should be the most comprehensive. His position as purveyor of information of all our interests gives him an advantage over even our great men who are placed at the head of individual institutions and interests. It is natural and right that these men should be absorbed in the special vital thing concerning which they think, and pray, and toil. The editor should be big enough and broad enough to survey them all and appraise the value of their relation to each other as constituting an harmonious whole. The weekly paper in its spirit and content should, in a way, be as a river is to its tributaries. It is this broader field, into which his position thrusts him, which demands for him perfect freedom of expression. The very reasons for the existence of the denominational paper demand the untrammeled freedom of the press. His freedom of expression should not be curtailed by servile dependence upon anything or anybody. In the course of our denominational life and activities the publications which yield the largest income, in a financial way, are divorced from the weekly paper, and enjoy a monopoly in their respective fields. So they are financially independent, while their very success would have been curtailed if not prevented but for the helpful service rendered them by the weekly papers.

This perfect freedom of the denominational press, if generally conceded, would serve as the only needed pacifier and satisfier of all our people as to the proper conduct of all our institutions and enterprises. If all the brethren can know that in each state there is an untrammeled medium of free expression they will rally to the support of all our organized work as they would not otherwise do. Our papers are hampered and crippled by inadequate financial support. In a mechanical way most of our papers in the territory of this Convention are unattractive. Even many of the editors of those of our papers which have been taken over by their respective state organizations are overworked and crippled by insufficient help. Such conditions will finally drive these able men from the editor's chair. Our papers must in some way be made financially strong. Their indispensable service is too apparent to be questioned.

In preparing this expression for our Southern Baptist Press Association, the writer addressed a request to our secretaries and heads of our southwide institutions, to give him in a brief statement of not more than fifty words, their estimate of the place and value of the denominational paper in and to our denominational life and work. We submit that the sweeping statements of these great wise leaders of ours concerning the breadth and value of the service rendered the denomination by our Baptist papers could not have been made concerning any other denominational enterprise among us. Listen to what they say:

In his personal letter to the writer, President E. Y. Mullins says: "I am delighted to enclose herewith a brief statement of my estimate of the denominational paper in relation to our denominational work. It is too big a subject to discuss in fifty words. In fact, in some ways I think it is the biggest subject before Southern Baptists at the present time." The following is Dr. Mullins' statement:

"The Denominational Paper and Kingdom Work."

"The denominational paper is vital to every denominational interest. It is the connecting wire connecting foreign, home, state, city and district missions, education, orphanages, hospitals and all other Baptist institutions with their constituencies. Without the denominational paper the current would be grounded and communication broken. To abolish these papers would be to largely destroy, while to properly support them is to vitalize all our work."

Dr. J. F. Love, corresponding secretary Foreign Mission Board, says: "I see no reasonable ground for any man to hope to come to his best in our Baptist ministry or bring a church up to its best without a large circulation of the denominational paper in his church membership. As a Christian people we have no agency comparable to our religious journals. They are the purveyors of the faith, the work, the ideals and spirit of our people."

From the office of Miss Kathleen Mallory, coresponding secretary the Woman's Missionary Union, comes the following characterization of the denominational paper by the assistant to Miss Mallory, Miss Ethel Winfield:

"A broadcasting station through which W. M. U. information, ideas and news may be sent out; a receiving station that keeps W. M. U. officers and workers in direct communication with the full current of Southern Baptist activity—such we consider the invaluable service of the state paper."

After saying: "It expresses only a part of how I feel about the value of our denominational papers," Dr. B. D. Gray, corresponding secretary Home Mission Board, says:

"The denominational papers are of vital importance in all our work. They are our chief agency of information and inspiration. Where they circulate our people become informed and interested in the work of the denomination.

Without the papers we could put through no great measure or program and they constitute week by week a steady supply of mental and spiritual pabulum without which our people would suffer incalculable loss. Let us give this great agency of our progress the credit and support it so readily deserves."

Dr. W. C. James, corresponding secretary, Education Board, in a most unique way gives his estimate of the place of the denominational paper. He says:

"We had a new appreciation of the value of electric lights recently, when Birmingham light plant was out of commission almost a week; and if our Southern Baptist papers, poorly supported as they are, should cease publication one month, the effect would be disastrous to our organized work."

Dr. L. R. Scarborough, General Director of the 75,000,000 Campaign and president of the Southwestern Theological Seminary, says:

"You ask me for a brief word as to the value of our Baptist papers to the cause of Christ.

I answer—The value of Baptist papers to the causes fostered by Southern Baptists and the cause of Christ around the world is unspeakably great. I do not see how we could get on and build the churches and bring in the Kingdom without these loyal co-operating papers. We must get the information and the inspiration to our people, and our papers are our chief medium. For twenty-five years I have been engaged in the denominational work and I put the value of our Baptist papers at the very top in every great contribution to the cause of Christ."

Dr. Hight C. Moore, Editorial Secretary, the Sunday School Board and Recording Secretary of this Convention, says:

"The denominational paper is the one outstanding agency for enlightening, unifying and upbuilding our people. The pulpit leans upon it. The churches are quickened by it. It helps a co-operant brotherhood to walk and work harmoniously. It promotes the welfare of all our institutions. No denomination can thrive without it."

Dr. William Lunsford, Corresponding Secretary of the Relief and Annuity Board of the Convention, says:

"First, the papers are of matchless value to all of our causes. Not one of our great interests could do otherwise than limp and languish at a poor, dying rate, without the friendly co-operation of our Southern Baptist weeklies.

Second, the use of the papers to the cause which I represent cannot be told in words. Through their columns, I have been enabled to present the needs of Ministerial Relief."

Dr. J. T. Henderson, General Secretary of the Laymen's Missionary movement of the Convention, says:

"The Baptist paper is valuable because it affords the best means of reaching the Baptist people with fresh and reliable information regarding the enterprises of Christ's Kingdom. This information comes week by week and in such small quantities that it is most likely to be read and assimilated."

Secretary Southern Baptist Convention, J. Henry Burnett, says:

"Can you imagine what would happen if suddenly our Baptist papers should suspend?

- 1. No denominational news.
- 2. No inter-communication.
- 3. No co-operation.
- 4. No forward movement.
- 5. No world vision.

'Them days are gone forever.' Our denominational papers make our homes brighter, our vision clearer, our inter-communication possible and our co-operation successful.''

Mrs. W. C. James, President, W. M. U., says:

"Southern Baptist papers contribute in large measure to the success of W.M.U. work in the abundance of religious news they publish and because through the W. M. U. pages of all we reach more of our constituency for enlistment in Kingdom affairs and in disseminating information concerning W. M. U. activities than otherwise we would."

If the sentiments here expressed by the wise, godly persons we have promoted and trusted as our leaders be correct—and we all know that they are correct—then one of the most important matters to be considered at this meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention, as it will be at every future session of this body, is:

How Shall We Strengthen and Extend the Work of Denominational Paper? The editors venture a few suggestions:

- 1. Let every state organization combine all its forces for one or two months of every year on an effort to promote and extend the circulation of these papers.
- 2. Put into every program of every association and convention the discussion of the whole subject of Baptist literature, especially the matter of the denominational paper.
- 3. Pay the editors adequate salaries so as to command the services of the highest salaried men in the denomination, and take from the burdened shoulders of the editor the financial responsibility of conducting the business. Give him a chance.
- 4. Let every Board and institution of the Convention and of the several states in the territory of the Convention pay the papers, in the purchase of advertising space, all that is due them for making it possible largely for them to exist and pursue their work at all. In other words let every other denominational enterprise recognize and pay its honest debt to these struggling denominational papers and lift them to that place of power which they must occupy if we realize our best in all other departments of our work.
- 5. The editors are of the opinion that if our Southwide Boards and institutions and our State Boards and institutions do not find it possible, or do not feel disposed, to furnish such remunerative advertising to our papers as to meet in connection with the income of these papers the actual expense of furnishing efficient, ably conducted State Denominational Papers, then such necessary funds should be taken from the entire offerings in each state before they are divided and sent forward. These deductions to be made under the direction of the respective State Boards,

The following resolution, offered by J. W. Cammack, Virginia, was accepted as a part of the report on Denominational Press:

Resolved, That the general Committee on Future Program be requested to consider the feasibility of including in the pledge to be taken in the next campaign a subscription to the recognized State Baptist paper for each home whose members make pledges to the entire program.

After discussion by S. M. Brown, Missouri, and C. P. Stealey, Oklahoma, the report on Denominational Press was adopted.

- 107. Chairman Landrum announced the following Committees: Future Program, Nomination of Trustees of Baptist Bible Institute.
- 108. The report of the Committee on the Report of the Relief and Annuity Board was presented by J. R. Hobbs, Alabama, as follows:

REPORT ON THE REPORT OF THE RELIEF AND ANNUITY BOARD

Your committee on the report of the Relief and Annuity Board for 1924 would urge every messenger of the Convention, and every leader of the Convention, to read the report in full.

During the past year, the Relief Department helped 568 men and 342 widows of ministers, and 100 orphan children, to the amount of $125,449.50. The Board now has assets to the amount of $1,740,444.17. Of this amount $534,153.04 belongs to the Relief Department, and $1,206,209.13 to the Annuity Department.

This brings us to call attention to the rapid growth of the work and resources of this Board. In five years the number of beneficiaries has increased about 100 per cent. The amount paid annually to beneficiaries has increased more than 200 per cent. The relief assets have increased more than 600 per cent and the total assets over 1000 per cent. This proves that our people recognize that at last we have a dependable, efficient, sane and business-like plan of caring for our ministers, in their declining years.

We would pay deserved tribute to the beloved Secretary, Dr. William Lunsford, who from the beginning has demonstrated such sane judgment, unflagging zeal, and broad grasp in the prosecution of such wise plans and in the accomplishment of such desired results, notwithstanding many difficulties. The marvelous progress the Board has made in such a short time stands out among the achievements of the denomination.

We would bring to the attention of this Convention a disclosure in the report that should in every way humiliate Southern Baptists. The report declares that the Board is now carrying 910 beneficiaries, made up of ministers and the widows of ministers, who are receiving an average stipend of a little less than $140.00 per year. (In addition to the above, the Board is aiding more than 100 orphan children.) This is so pitifully inadequate as to bring every one of us to (shame and) repentance. The Relief and Annuity Board is in no sense responsible for this. It cannot pay out to its beneficiaries what it has never received. What it has accumulated in assets is a mere beginning. It is just enough to be embarrassing (just enough to make others, at a glance, expect it to be more), but let it be remembered that the Board can only use the interest on its invested funds in its two departments of the work, and it will be seen at a glance that this alone will not go very far.

The urgent appeal which the Board has been making to the Convention for the past two years, should be granted immediately, that is, the means to build a fund that will yield on the relief side of the work alone an income of $100,000.00 per year, apart from what it gets from the regular budget. In no other way can it possibly render adequate aid to its already large and ever-increasing number of beneficiaries. The Convention should in every way deal wth this Board in the most liberal and generous manner possible.

An Inspiring Program

The report carries and sets out in detail a program for enlarged benefits that should become an inspiration to everyone who will take the pains to read it thoughtfully. It shows that we have a Board with a vision, and one who comes to this Convention with a report which shows careful, painstaking, and masterly consideration of the great problem of Ministerial Relief, setting out in detail a program for the aid and comfort of our preachers, in their disability and old age, their widows and orphan children, which is in every way comprehensive, practical, and adequate. This program will bring Southern Baptists where they will no longer feel ashamed by comparing what they are doing with what other denominations are doing in the cause of Ministerial Relief, but will bring them to the front in the splendid and adequate provision made for their disabled and retired preachers, and their widows and orphan children.

This brings us to remind the present Convention that the Atlanta Convention voted to raise for Ministerial Relief in seven years $5,000,000. When the 75 Million Campaign was put on, only half of this sum—$2,500,000—was allocated to the Board in the Campaign, with a distinct provision at the time that the remaining $2,500,000 be raised in the next two years following the close of the Campaign. With regard to this provision, the Convention has already spoken clearly and distinctly on two occasions. On Page 112, Convention Annual, under Paragraph 11, we find the following: "And it was specified that the remaining half of the five millions which the Convention decided to raise for Ministerial Relief within seven years, shall be raised at the end of the present five-year Campaign, and within the succeeding two years."

The committee on the Report of the Relief and Annuity Board last year. at Kansas City, of which Doctor F. M. McConnell was chairman, used these words:

"When the Southern Baptist Convention speaks in reference to the work of any of its Boards, incurring an obligation by such utterances, that obligation should be held sacred in all future sessions of the Convention. Every pastor, every official, and every member of State Boards in the Southern Baptist Convention, should stand by and strive to the utmost to redeem such obligation. If this is done, the Relief and Annuity Board will be treated absolutely right with reference to that $2,500,000. It is, therefore, the sense of this Convention that whatever plan may be next adopted by Southern Baptists for raising money, that the provision made with said Board in May, 1919, be kept."

The above sentiments voice the judgment of your committee, and we most earnestly urge that the recommendations thus made and adopted by the Convention, as above set forth, be carried out by the next committee on allocations, and that for the Convention to adopt any other course would be to do great injustice to the Relief and Annuity Board. Your committee is clearly of the opinion that for this Board to function adequately, it should have allocated to it for 1925, at least $1,150,000, the amount fixed upon by the Board at its meeting held last February, as setting forth its minimum needs for the year 1925, and forwarded to the secretary of the executive committee of the large committee on allocations for the next campaign.

Your committee is unanimous in the opinion that the time has come when the work of this Board should have a place in every department of our Southern Baptist work, especially that of the young people and of the Sunday schools, and that a special day for the Relief and Annuity Board should be provided for by the Sunday School Board. Ministerial Relief is a new thing in the denomination. The people are not informed about it. Our boys and girls never heard about it. We must teach them. In connection with the Sunday School Board, there should be inaugurated "Veterans' Day" in the Sunday schools. Children are a mighty host among Southern Baptists. They constitute an army of millions. The greatness of this host is not in its numbers, but in its tomorrows, tomorrows which are already dawning. The dreams of childhood soon take form in deed. Impressions then made endure through all the years. We must let the children become familiar with this great matter. Give them a hand in it. There should be a children's day program for the Sunday school.

Your committee therefore recommends that the Relief and Annuity Board take up this matter with the Sunday School Board with a view of providing such special day in the Sunday schools, as now prevails in behalf of Missions and Education,

The committee would call attention to the very significant fact that not a cent that has been received by the Relief and Annuity Board from the 75 Million Campaign has been used for running expenses. The expenses of the Board are more than borne by the income on the gifts made to the Board by Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Sr., and the Sunday School Board. It is therefore a fact to be remembered and cherished, that at least one of our great general boards is in no sense a charge upon the budget of the Convention.

We commend the proposed new slogan: A Pension for Every Worthy Baptist Minister and from Every Baptist Church a Full Share of the Cost.

Features of the report of the Board were discussed by Corresponding Secretary William Lunsford, Texas.

The following amendment, offered by W. O. Carver, Kentucky, was accepted as a part of the report on the Report of the Relief and Annuity Board:

Provided that nothing hereby adopted shall be interpreted as contradicting or conflicting with the action already taken by this Convention adopting as the controlling policies of the Convention for 1925 the recommendation of the Committee on Future Program.

The report was discussed by O. L. Powers, Texas, and J. R. Hobbs, Alabama, and adopted.

109. The report of the Committee on Resolutions was offered as follows by Louie D. Newton, Georgia, and adopted:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

First—A resolution by C. P. Stealey, Oklahoma, setting forth a doctrinal statement for the Convention.

In view of the report of your committee on yesterday, May 16, relating to substantially the same resolutions, which report the Convention adopted, we do not recommend a reopening of the same matter today.

Second—A resolution by Abe C. Jones, Missouri, appealing to our government to use its influence to end the persecution of Baptists in Russia and other European nations.

Your committee recommends that this resolution be adopted.

Your Committee on Resolutions presents as a supplementary recommendation that the following brethren be appointed as a committee to consider the advisability of issuing another statement of the Baptist faith and message and to report at the next Convention: E. Y. Mullins, Chairman, L. R. Scarborough, C. P. Stealey, W. J. McGlothlin, S. M. Brown, E. C. Dargan, R. H. Pitt.

JOHN E. WHITE, Chairman, J. E. DILLARD, J. J. HURT, L. D. NEWTON, W. D. NOWLIN, AUBREY WILLIAMS, L. W. DOOLAN.

Resolution by Abe C. Jones

To President Calvin Coolidge and Secretary of State, Chas. E. Hughes, Washington, D. C.

More than five thousand Baptists, in Convention assembled, respectfully bring to your attention the denial of religious liberty to many thousands of people of our fatih, as well as to many other Christians, on the part of the present Russian and Rumanian governments. In both these countries our country, with some measure of generosity, has ministered to the physical wants of multitudes of people in recent years and is still doing so, and we express the hope that our government, which has ever stood for full religious liberty to all peoples, of every faith, may be able to exert such an influence upon the governments of Russia and of Rumania as to bring about a better condition as suggested herein.

THE NORTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION

St. Louis, Mo., May 10, 1924.

The Southern Baptist Convention, Meeting in Atlanta, Georgia, May 14-21, 1924.

Dear Brethren:

The Northern Baptist Convention sends you most hearty fraternal greetings. We rejoice in all your great achievements and the abundant blessing of our Heavenly Father upon your efforts to promote the Kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

Our beloved Baptist Brotherhood throughout the world feels stronger because of the mighty growth and service of your great body. All Christians of whatever name likewise rejoice in the service you are rendering throughout the world. Most heartily do we join with you in the prayer, "Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven."

We hope to be represented at your Convention by a fraternal delegate who will in person express our Christian love for you and our great joy in your prosperity.

Yours fraternally,

W. C. BITTING, Corresponding Secretary, Northern Baptist Convention.

Resolved, That in the interest of world peace and the settlement of international disputes without resort to war, this Convention go on record as in favor of a world court as proposed by the Harding-Coolidge plan.

119. The report of the Committee on George Washington University was presented by Charles W. Daniel, Georgia, and adopted as follows:

REPORT ON GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

An intelligent understanding of this report necessitates a brief summary of the effort of the Columbia Association of Baptist churches, Washington, D. C., inaugurated in 1919 in conjunction with your Education Board, to restore George Washington University, formerly Columbian University, to Baptist ownership and control.

First—In the year just named the agencies indicated made a survey of the education field in the capital city of the nation and discovered among other things that the cause of higher education there had been practically surrendered to Catholicism, that no University was functioning under Protestant auspices and that George Washington University, founded by the Baptists in 1821 and fostered by them from its organization to 1904, had been led out of the denomination under the leadership of a Baptist President and a Board of Trustees two-thirds of whom were Baptists, following the persistent failure of the Baptists North and South to provide the funds necessary for the institution to continue to function.

Second—The denomination, therefore, in the fateful year 1904 stood supinely by and witnessed the passing from its control of this great denominational asset at the very time when the cause of education under Christian auspices was beginning to receive from the denomination the attention that its supreme importance demanded and when the situation at Washington presented such a compelling challenge.

Third-There were those, however, who were unwilling to concede that this seeming tragedy in the realm of denominational life was beyond repair and, when the Education Board brought the entire situation before the Convention in Washington in 1920, a Special Committee was appointed to co-operate with the Education Board and with the Columbia Association of Baptist Churches, and with the Northern Baptist Convention, if practicable, to ascertain whether or not some amicable means could not be devised to restore this great educational asset to denominational control. Pursuant to the authority thus conferred, the agencies indicated represented by the Conventions and the Columbia Association held informal conferences in 1920 with the officials of George Washington University and informally ascertained, such were the financial exigencies that confronted George Washington University, that the production of the sum of $1,000,000 to be added to the investment and endowment of the University, would in all probability result in its complete restoration to Baptist control. Never in the judgment of your committee was a greater opportunity in the realm of education presented to the denomination, because the million dollars thus produced from Baptist sources would simply have been added to the million dollars of assets then possessed by the University, which with its student body of five thousand, occupied a commanding position in the educational field in the capital of the nation.

Fourth—The unsatisfactory progress, however, of the five-year Campaign North and South made it impracticable to make a fund available for the purpose indicated and, in the meanwhile, the Northern Baptist Convention through its officials advised the Education Board and the Columbia Association of the necessity of its retirement from all co-operative effort to bring about such a restoration, but at the same time made it clear that it would not and could not complain if the University was restored to Southern Baptist control. Upon the receipt of this information the Columbia Association decided to co-operate with the Southern Baptist Convention in bringing about such restoration.

Fifth—The entire proposition was kept before this Convention for a period of two years by its Special Committee appointed in 1920 and the Convention was accurately advised of the progress of the negotiations until the meeting of the Convention in Jacksonville in 1922 when the Special Committee upon its own motion was discharged and the entire negotiations left to the Education Board.

This Board at the meeting of the Convention in Kansas City in 1923 brought in a unanimous report to the effect that $2,000,000 should be set aside out of the next Campaign for the purpose of bringing about such restoration. The Convention, however, at Kansas City, for reasons which appeared to be sufficient, declined to act upon this recommendation and, instead, referred the entire matter to this committee for definite report and recommendation for final action by this Convention.

Sixth—The chairman of your committee in conjunction with Dr. W. C. James, of the Education Board, and E. Hilton Jackson, who kept in vital touch with the situation in Washington, held conferences with J. B. Larner, president of the Board of Trustees of George Washington University, and was by him advised that the Board of Trustees would very carefully consider any proposals submitted by your committee looking to such restoration and control. Your committee, therefore, without unnecessary delay on March 22, 1924, submitted a proposal subject to the approval of this Convention as follows:

March 22, 1924.

Mr. J. B. Larner, President, Board of Trustees, George Washington University, Washington. D. C.

My Dear Mr. Larner:

As chairman of a committee representing the Southern Baptist Convention, I wish to submit to the trustees of George Washington University the following tentative proposition.

In consideration of the transfer of the ownership and control of George Washington University to the Southern Baptist Convention, the Southern Baptist Convention agrees to add two million ($2,000,000) dollars to the resources of the university upon the following terms:

- (1) The Convention proposes to put in trust three hundred thousand ($300,000) dollars annually; income from which trust shall be available for University purposes.
- (2) That upon the deposit of the first $300,000 the Southern Baptist Convention shall participate equally with the present Board of Trustees in the control of the institution.
- (3) That when the amount in trust shall become $2,000,000 in cash or good securities, the full ownership and control of George Washington University shall pass to the Southern Baptist Convention.
- (4) That in the event of the failure of the Southern Baptist Convention to complete the $2,000,000 fund, the Southern Baptist Convention shall retire from any participation in the control of the University, and shall return all funds placed in trust by them to the donors.
- (5) That all funds raised by the citizens of Washington in the present campaign and later, up to $1,000,000, shall be used, if the trustees so desire, for the material equipment of the University.

In the presentation of the above tentative proposition our committee wishes to respectfully submit some of the reasons which the Southern Baptist Convention has for seeking such a relation with the University.

- (1) The desire to round out an educational program of standard colleges and secondary schools in the southern states with an institution of University grade.
- (2) The belief that the city of Washington is the logical and strategic location for such an institution.
- (3) The fact that George Washington University is vitally related by virtue of its foundation, history and principles to the origin, growth and ideals of the organized activities of the Baptists of the United States and especially of the South.

- (4) The purpose of the Southern Baptist Convention in the ownership and control of George Washington University upon avowed evangelical Christian and true American principles is in harmony with the ideals and spirit of Luther Rice, its founder, and as we understand, of the present Board of Trustees.
- (5) The Southern Baptist Convention is strong in the conviction that educational institutions can be held true to the principles of their founders only as they are legally and vitally bound to some adequate and responsible Christian constituency.

Our committee is expected to make a report at the next meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlanta, Georgia, May 14th. We feel that it would not be to the best interests of the University or of the Convention for definite recommendations to be made unless there is some likelihood of favorable consideration by the Trustees of George Washington University.

We request, therefore, the privilege of having some of our committee present when the trustees take up this matter for consideration. In order to save time, I am asking Mr. E. Hilton Jackson, a member of our committee, to confer with you and make any arrangements that may be necessary for further conference. With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Seventh—The entire negotiations participated in by your committee and by the committee of laymen appointed for the purpose of co-operation by the laymen's meeting in Memphis in January, 1924, justify us in advising this Convention that the refusal of the trustees of George Washington to accept the proposition of your commmittee grew out of the fact that in the closing part of 1923, George Washington University had selected a new president under whose leadership a campaign for $1,000,000 endowment had been successfully launched. In the conferences referred to your committee was advised by the trustees that the funds pledged on account of this endowment had been solicited upon the theory that the University was undenominational in its character and that the injection of denominational control at this time would be a breach of faith to the subscribers. The undertaking on the part of your committee that the denomination would return these subscriptions, if the donors so desired, was deemed insufficient by the trustees of the University to warrant them in carrying the negotiations further.

Eighth—It should also be emphasized that the present trustees of George Washington University are firmly convinced that the institution has a greater future under undenominational auspices than under denominational control and that a larger endowment and more adequate support can be secured by maintaining its undenominational character. In the judgment of your committee this conclusion does not correctly state the situation because the educational vision of the denomination combined with its unlimited resources would in our judgment rally to the support of such an institution in the nation's capital an endowment sufficiently large not only to guarantee its primacy among all Southwide institutions but to maintain and extend the commanding position it now occupies in the field of Education in the capital of our nation.

Your committee has never subscribed to the implications contained in the refusal of George Washington University to consider a proposal that George Washington University has not been legally under denominational control and ownership since the change in its charter in 1904 which then made the requirement that two-thirds of its trustees shall be Baptists. On the contrary your committee is profoundly of the opinion that the Baptist trustees in 1904, constituting two-thirds of such Board, had neither a legal nor a moral right to divorce said institution from the denomination that had brought it into being and fostered it for three-quarters of a century. We believe that the trust relation imposed upon said Baptist trustees by every principle of equity should have brought about their resignations from said Board rather than to give their formal consent to the surrender of a denominational trust and it will ever be recorded to their honor that two of these trustees at least, Eugene Levering and J. J. Darlington, resigned from said Board of Trustees rather than become parties to such a consummation.

Your committee, therefore, recommend:

First—That a copy of this report be sent by the officials of this Convention to the trustees of George Washington University as the formal and official reply of this Convention to the refusal of said trustees to consider the proposal of your committee with the information that the Baptist denomination does not accept as final conclusion of said Board of Trustees that George Washington University is no longer a Baptist asset.

Second—That said trustees be advised by this Convention that the action upon this report is taken without prejudice to such further action of this Convention or its agencies duly authorized thereto, may take looking to a complete restoration of this University to the control of the denomination under the auspices of this Convention.

Third—That this entire matter be referred to the Education Board with power to act in the premises to take such steps as in its judgment may be necessary to bring about, with the approval of this Convention, the restoration of George Washington University to full and complete Baptist control and ownership.

Respectfully submitted,

Two special meetings of the Board of Trustees of George Washington University were held to consider the foregoing proposition and in due course the action of said Board of Trustees of April 29, 1924, was communicated to your committee with a covering letter to E. Hilton Jackson of April 30, 1924, both of which are set forth as follows:

Washington, D. C., April 30, 1924.

Mr. E. Hilton Jackson, 907 Fifteenth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Jackson:

Your letter of the 28th was received and was placed before the trustees of George Washington University with the committee's report on the proposition of the Southern Baptist Convention. The Board passed a series of resolutions reciting their appreciation of the offer but their conclusion that the offer ought not to be accepted and directed that a copy of the resolutions should be sent to you with the report of the committee. They will reach you in a day or two through the office of the Secretary and a copy will be sent to Rev. Dr. Daniel at the same time.

The committee met the next day after your very full and able presentation of the matter. It was found that we were all strongly convinced that the university should not be changed from its present undenominational basis to a denominational institution. The earlier relations of the university to the Baptist church were carefully considered and the present interest of the Southern Baptist Convention was very highly appreciated but we all were quite positive in the above position.

We consulted a number of the trustees outside of the committee and found them all of the same opinion. It was not until after we had received enough expression of opinion from others that the committee's report was finally adopted. When it was presented to the Board, the Board was unanimous in this view.

I am writing you these facts in detail because I want you and the educational committee of the Southern Baptist Convention to realize that it was not through any want of deliberate consideration or any lack of courteous appreciation that a conference was not arranged between the committee of the Convention and a committee of the Board of Trustees. The opinion was so entirely unanimous that it was clear that a conference, as strongly urged by you, would simply have meant trouble and expense to your committee without results.

Yours very truly, WILLIAM B. KING,

RESOLVED by the Trustees of the George Washington University:

I. That this Board desires to record its appreciation of the proposal from the representatives of the Southern Baptist Convention to increase the endowment of the George Washington University on condition that it be placed under the control of that Convention, and expresses to the Convention its appreciation of their interest in the cause of education in the National Capital, and especially in the welfare of George Washington University.

- II. That the Board considers it inadvisable to accept the proposal for the reasons, with others, that the very great expansion of the University as a wholly undenominational institution has demonstrated the need of such an organization at the National Capital and that many pledges for its future support on that basis have already been made.
 - III. That the Board adopts the adverse report of its Special Committee.
- IV. RESOLVED FURTHER, That the Secretary of the Board be directed to forward a copy of these resolutions to Rev. Dr. Charles W. Daniel, of Atlanta, and to E. Hilton Jackson, Esq., representatives of the Southern Baptist Convention, with a copy of the report of the Special Committee.

April 29, 1924.

To the Board of Trustees of the George Washington University:

Your committee was directed to consider the proposition presented to the Board by the letter of Rev. Dr. Charles W. Daniel, of Atlanta, Georgia, to Chairman Larner, of March 22, and the letters of April 3, from E. Hilton Jackson to Mr. Larner, and Representatives B. G. Lowrey and W. D. Upshaw to Mr. Larner and President Lewis, representing the Southern Baptist Convention, proposing an increased endowment of the university and its transfer to the control of that Convention. It has had an extended conference with E. Hilton Jackson, Esq., as a representative of the Southern Baptist Convention. It has conferred with a number of the other members of the Board. It has given detailed consideration to the subject. This university was founded by Rev. Luther Rice, a Baptist clergyman, and a number of its presidents and professors in past years were Baptist clergymen and laymen of distinction. These facts have demanded respectful and considerate attention to the proposition.

Mr. Jackson presented the proposition of the Southern Baptist Convention with great care and completeness. He is thoroughly familiar with the views of its members, he knows the history of this University, he is strongly convinced of the value of the proposed change; he is one of our own alumni. The proposal could have received no more competent advocacy. He concluded his presentation by urging upon your committee that it should receive a committee appointed by the Southern Baptist Convention, of which the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Daniel is chairman, for further discussion. Your committee felt that after Mr. Jackson's complete statement, such a conference was unnecessary and that, in view of the absolute unanimity of sentiment of the members of this Committee and of those with whom they conferred, such a conference would be an unfair burden upon the time and expenses of travel of the members of that committee.

Your committee greatly appreciates this offer from the Southern Baptist Convention, and the interest which it has thus shown in the university and its future and in the educational progress of this city, but it believes that this proposal should not be accepted, for a number of reasons, including the following:

- 1. There should be at the Capital of the nation an undenominational university asking for support from citizens of every shade of thought and from all sections of the country. Our university, having for a considerable period of time occupied this position, both in law and in fact, should not now abandon it.
- 2. The recent great expansion and prosperity of the University have occurred since it has been totally free from denominational relations in fact as well as in law. It is clearly shown to be meeting a need in its present organization.
- 3. No doubt is entertained that before the lapse of many years large resources will become available for an undenominational university here. The advantages of the situation are too great to be permanently overlooked. If George Washington University keeps its present broad organization, it will undoubtedly form the nucleus of future large endowments. If it should become denominational, it would lose immediately all hope of ever occupying such a distinguished position in the educational field.

- 4. During the recent campaign for funds our appeal was made distinctly on the ground that this is an undenominational university. Abandonment of a position thus publicly taken would subject the university to severe, and in some respects, deserved criticism. It would certainly require that an offer be made to all the subscribers to cancel their subscriptions and refund amounts already paid.
- 5. An undenominational university represents, in the judgment of your committee, the fittest type of modern institution of learning. This university, after successful experience under this broad system of control, should not revert to the more prescribed denominational management.

Other reasons may be given for the committee's adverse opinion, but these seem sufficient.

Many considerations make a prompt disposition of the matter desirable, both from the standpoint of the university and of the Southern Baptist Convention. Your Committee, therefore, recommends the adoption of the attached resolution.

WM. BRUCE KING, ELLIOT H. GOODWIN, H. C. DAVIS.

120. The report of Country Church Survey was presented by E. P. Alldredge, Tennessee, as follows:

THE COUNTRY CHURCH SURVEY

Your Committee o nthe Country Church Survey begs to report that the work of making the survey of the 22,043 rural churches among Southern Baptists was finished January 25, 1924, and came from the press in the Southern Baptist Handbook for 1923, March 12, 1924. The survey covers 190 pages of the 1923 Handbook and, so far as your committee has been able to learn, contains the greatest body of information dealing with the inner life and work of rural churches ever assembled in one publication. The survey was made by Dr. E. P. Alldredge and his staff of co-laborers of the Department of Survey, Statistics and Information of the Baptist Sunday School Board, in council with Dr. I. J. Van Ness, of the Sunday School Board, and Drs. B. D. Gray and O. E. Bryan, of the Home Mission Board, and the various state secretaries of the South. The survey cost seventeen months of the most painstaking and exacting toil and over $12,000.00 of the Sunday School Board's funds.

Five things in particular are disclosed in this survey which call for and demand the immediate attention of Southern Baptists:

1. Vast Preponderance of Our Rural Forces.

The first is the vast preponderance of rural forces among Southern Baptists. The survey disclosed the fact, for example, that 88.5% of all our churches are distinctly rural, being situated in the open country or in little hamlets of less than 1,000 inhabitants; that 68% of the great host of Southern Baptists, now numbering 3,494,189, belong to these distinct rural churches; that over 65% of the large number of baptisms which annually take place in Southern Baptist churches, come from these same rural churches; that over 85% of the 20, 601 Sunday schools among Southern Baptists are rural Sunday schools; that almost 61% of the Sunday-school enrollment of Southern Baptists, now aggregating 2,381,717, is found in the rural Sunday schools; that over 52% of our 16,019 B.Y.P.U.'s of the South are rural B.Y.P.U.'s; that almost 70% of the 22,326 total Woman's organizations in the South are rural organizations; and that 33.7% of the subscriptions to the 75 Million Campaign came from the rural churches. In short, Southern Baptists are possessed of a wonderful garden spot, comprising 2,861 urban churches, on the one hand, and a vast and challenging field on the other, over which are scattered 22,043 rural churches. If it has proved immensely worth while for Southern Baptists to cultivate and care for and develop their garden spot (their 2,861 urban churches). by what process of reasoning is it supposed to be fair, or democratic, or wise after the manner of men, or honoring to our divine Lord, to go on neglecting our great and challenging and opportune field (our 22,043 rural churches)—the most opportune, the most inexpensive and the most opulent Baptist mission field around the world?

Let us contemplate and try to visualize the wonderful rural forces and field which God has given to Southern Baptists:

The rural Baptist churches of the South have greater numbers and greater resources than the whole denomination of the Disciples of Christ, in the whole world!

They have two and one-half times greater religious forces, if they were properly enlisted and developed, than all the Congregationalist churches in America!

They have a half million more church members and greater resources than Northern Presbyterians, and five times as many members and as great resources as Southern Presbyterians have!

They have a million more church members than the whole Protestant Episcopal Church of America comprises!

In fact, with the exception of the three main bodies of the Methodists and the whole body of Lutherans, the rural Baptist churches of the South constitute the greatest single religious body, both in numbers and in resources, to be found in America.

Incidentally also they constitute the greatest body of rural churches affiliated with any great evangelical denomination in the world today.

Is it not high time, therefore, that we discovered the vast and mostly undeveloped possibilities of these rural churches and brought the whole impact of our denominational life into a great concerted and constructive effort to arouse, enlist and develop their full powers of service for God and humanity?

II. Amazing Possibilities of our Rural Churches

"But," it is sometimes asked, "is there any hope that Southern Baptists could really develop the great body of our rural churches, if they should give attention to the task? And would the services of these country churches count for much, if they were developed?" Both of these questions are forever put at rest by the facts disclosed in the country church survey.

In chapter XI, it is shown that these rural churches reported 139,633 baptisms in 1922, with a net gain of 88,079 to their membership; that they own 16,862 church houses and 1,384 pastors' homes, the total value of which was $41,454,445.57; that they have 17,027 Sunday schools, 7,427 of which are graded, and 1,318,689 pupils enrolled; that they have more than 13,000 Woman's organizations of various types; and that they have paid practically $14,000,000.00 to the 75 Million Campaign in the past four years—or almost as much as the whole Southern Baptist Convention contributed to missions and benevolences prior to the 75 Million Campaign.

The survey also discloses the facts that 787 of our rural churches already have the full-time services of resident pastors; that 28 of them have memberships ranging from 500-787 each; that 8 rural churches baptized 100 or more persons each in 1922; that 219 of these rural churches have modern church houses with 10 to 25 rooms each, whereas 9 of them have church houses with more than twenty-five rooms each and costing from $41,000.00 to $90,000.00 each; and 10 of these rural churches have Sunday schools with 500 and over enrolled, etc., etc.

In a word, the survey shows quite clearly that, if Southern Baptists should succeed in developing only half of their rural churches up to the mark already attained by hundreds of these churches, these rural churches of themselves could do more and would do more than the whole body of the Southern Baptists are doing today.

III. Ten Great and Imperative Needs

In spite of the fact that Southern Baptists are almost 85% rural and in spite of the wonderful possibilities of our 22,043 rural churches, however, these rural churches have been neglected and crowded out of the Southern Baptist Convention and out of the program of Southern Baptists, until their needs have become almost appalling. The survey calls attention to ten of these great and imperative needs, as follows:

- 1. Evangelistic Spirit—8,023 or 36.4% of the rural churches, reported no baptisms in 1922. 24.5% of the rural churches showed slight losses in membership in 1922, due to the same great need of the spirit of evangelism.
- 2. Consolidation—There are too many little, weak, struggling churches occupying, in many instances, practically the same field—5,615 of our rural churches have less than 50 members each—and at least 2,000 of them should be merged or consolidated with other Baptist churches.
- 3. More Pastors and Especially Resident Pastors—4,142 (18.8%) of the rural churches were without pastors in 1922, and over 6,000 rural pastors change fields every year. Only 29.9% of the pastors, moreover, live in the same community with their churches.
- 4. Trained Leaders and Preachers—Only 20.7% of the rural pastors have both college and seminary training, and 48.5% have neither college nor seminary nor any other special training for their work. Only a very small per cent of the Sunday-school teachers, perhaps less than 20%, taking the South as a whole, have had any special training of any kind for their task.
- 5. More Modern Church Houses—3,877 (17.6%) of our rural churches worship in school houses or rented halls. 1,304 others (5.9%) worship in union church houses. A total of 5,181 (23.5%) are, therefore, houseless and, so far as making any progress in the work is concerned, are hopeless. About 14,251, moreover, have nothing but the old-time, one-room church houses, every one of which needs remodeling, half of which greatly need enlarging; and every one of which needs better equipment. Fully 19,432 or almost 90% of our rural churches, therefore, are without adequate houses of work and worship.
- 6. More, Larger and Better Organized Sunday Schools—At least 5,018 (22.8%) of the rural churches are without Sunday schools of any character; whereas 3,321 (19.5%) have Sunday schools during the spring and summer months only. This brings the total number of rural churches without Sunday schools, for at least half of each year, up to 8,339 (42.3%). Of the 17,027 total rural Sunday schools (including the spring and summer Sunday schools) fully 9,282 (54.5%) of them are wholly ungraded, undepartmentized and unorganized along modern lines. Of the 2,193,205 church members in the 22,043 rural churches, 1,511,951 (68.9%) of them are not even enrolled in the rural Sunday schools, and a total of 1,767,531 (80.3%) do not attend Sunday school regularly.
- 7. More W. M. U. Organizations and Work—At least 14,027 (63.6%) of the rural churches have no distinct Woman's organization of any character. Of the 1,083,617 total women in the 22,043 rural churches, moreover (86.3%), 935,509 of them are wholly unreached, untaught and unorganized along any of the various lines of work carried on by the Southern W. M. U.
- 8. More and Better Young People's Work—Approximately 16,046 (72.8%) of our rural churches have no organized B.Y.P.U. work of any character; and out of a total of 809,559 young people 10-30 years of age) in the 22,043 rural churches, 604,014 (74.6%) of them are wholly unreached, unenlisted, unorganized and untrained in the Master's service.
- 9. Closer Touch with the Denominational Life.—Our survey developed the fact that, while 16,096 (73%) of the rural churches sent messengers to their district associations in 1922, only 2,761 (12.5%) of these churches sent representatives to their state conventions; only 1,389 (6.3%) sent representatives to the Southern Baptist Convention; and 16,231 (73.6%) held no kind of a denominational rally or institute during the year and were visited by no state convention or Southern Baptist Convention worker. Country pastors and leaders, moreover, though far outnumbering those in the towns and cities, are rarely ever put on our important boards or committees or called into the councils of the brethren who are shaping the policies of the denomination.

10. Stewardship Teaching and Training—With all the foregoing facts before him, if any one is still inclined to be critical of the rural churches and wonder why they do not line up fully with the great program of the Southern Baptists and do their full part, let him consider this further fact that special stewardship meetings were held in only 1,222 (5.4%) of the 22,043 rural churches in 1922. As we remarked in 1922, we repeat in 1924: "So we (Southern Baptists) are going on, making marvelous progress along certain lines and bringing about an inten sive development of our main churches which is perhaps unsurpassed; but leaving 75 to 85 per cent of our people not only untaught and undeveloped in the great doctrine of stewardship but entirely outside of all our enlistment plans and programs. Does any one doubt that God will bring our whole denomination into judgment and allow another scourge of agitation, disruption and division to overtake us, if we continue this course?"

IV. Five Staggering Problems.

"The needs enumerated above and the acute and chronic conditions which environ the rural churches where these needs are imminent and pressing, have developed an array of problems and difficulties which challenge the best thought and endeavor of Southern Baptists.

- Getting the Attention and Co-operation of Southern Baptists-Every one knows that the greatest single task before Souhern Bapists in the homeland is the enlistment development of the 22,043 rural churches, here surveyed. And every one also knows, unfortunately, that it is the one great task which Southern Baptists have never really attempted to work out. It is true that all lines of Southern Baptists endeavor have, in a way, been reaching out toward the rural churches; but most of them have never gotten there! The rural churches have never had a real hearing before the Southern Baptist Convention. And Southern Baptist leaders have never seriously faced the needs and problems and possibilities of the rural churches and deliberately set themselves to the task of constructing and carrying out a great South-wide program for saving and developing our rural churches. Here, then, is the first if not the greatest problem, confronting the 22,043 rural churches: To get the attention of Southern Baptists focused upon the needs and possibilities of the rural churches and to get Southern Baptist leaders to believe it is immensely worth their while, to come together and frame a great South-wide constructive program for the welfare and uplift of our rural churches.
- 2. Securing Trained Leaders—When Southern Baptists have once given their attention to the great needs and problems and possibilities of the rural churches and have constructed a worthy program for their enlistment and development in the whole denominational life, they will then come face to face with the second great problem of the rural churches—How to secure an adequate number of trained leaders with ability, aggression and spiritual power.

We believe that the time has already arrived when our great leaders—especially our Home Mission leaders—should go not alone to our own Baptist schools and colleges, but also to the Baptist students in the state schools and call for the best among our young men and women to dedicate their lives (as doctors, nurses, teachers, preachers, social workers, etc.) to the great work of reconstructing and upbuilding the rural life of the South—socially, morally, educationally and religiously. And our great denomination, in the meanwhile, ought to remove the shameful financial handicap in the way of securing our best young men and women for the rural churches and keeping them there. For how can a great denomination ask our best trained young men and women to give their lives to the work in the rural churches of the South for the pitiable sum of $765.31 a year, which is the average salary for full-time service in our rural churches and which is a little more than half the meagre salary which a well-trained young missionary and his wife are paid on the foreign mission fields?

And finally let us restore an ancient landmark of Democracy among Southern Baptists by giving the same recognition and the same places of honor in the denomination to the successful rural pastors and leaders which we accord to the pastors and leaders in our great urban centers—and thus take away from the brilliant young pastors of rural churches the feeling that they must somehow get into the city or else they will have lived and labored in vain.

- 3. Building and Remodeling Rural Church Houses—Without doubt, the third most serious and far-reaching problem before the rural churches of the South is to find some way to build 5,000 or more new church houses for the churches without houses of worship, enlarge and remodel every one of the 14,251 old-time one-room houses, and build at least 10,000 pastors' homes. For any one to seriously consider solving this problem with a Building and Loan Fund of one million or two million dollars is the sheerest folly. We issue the challenge: With our present Building and Loan Fund, Southern Baptists cannot possibly take care of the vital and pressing needs for new and remodeled church houses in any one of the following states, to say nothing of the whole territory of the Convention, viz.: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, or Texas. The rural churches alone need a ten million dollar Building and Loan Fund and could use to good advantage even twenty millions.
- 4. Informing and Educating the Masses—It is idle to talk about Baptists—urban or rural—co-operating in a great denominational program about which they know next to nothing. Unhappily, there is no agency given over to the task of informing and arousing the rank and file of our people—apart from the weekly religious papers and our monthly magazines, which nine-tenths of the rural church members never see—and even these papers do not carry full information. The fact is, apart from the 75 Million Campaign's publicity program, there has never been made any great, serious, South-wide effort to really inform all our people. This brings us to the most perplexing phase of the problem confronting our Baptist rural churches:

Most of our people are uninformed. Uninformed, they will not co-operate.

There is no definite organized agency among Southern Baptists given over to the task of thoroughly informing all our people on all lines of our endeavor.

Much is being done, but it is not thorough, nor does it reach half our people, nor is it altogether constructive. Good as far as it goes, it is wholly inadequate to reach and arouse and inform the 2,193,205 rural Baptists.

5. Indoctrination in Stewardship and Training in the Use of the Budget—The fifth problem before the rural churches is the problem which gave rise to the Hardshell movement in 1830 and onward; was one of the main causes of the Campbellite disaffection, 1833 onward, and is the sole basis of the so-called "Landmarks" and "Gospel Mission" contentions of today—all of them distinctly rural church movements at the beginning, viz.: our rural churches, as our urban churches for the most part, are almost wholly untaught in the great Bible doctrine of stewardship and untrained in any form of systematic beneficence.

And this problem is still unsolved among Southern Baptists, particularly among the rural Baptists.

If, therefore, the stewardship secretaries in the several states do not come together and agree upon a definite program for reaching and indoctrinating the rural churches, and if they do not carefully choose a special body of men and women for this task and set aside a definite period, covering some months in each year, this problem so far as the rural churches are concerned, will remain unsolved and the great rural hosts of Southern Baptists will be left in the wilderness, where we have been all the years. For the larger village, town and city churches will call for all the time and effort which ten stewardship secretaries in each state can give, and the rural churches will be left where they have been left all the years—without indoctrination and without a plan for systematic beneficence."

V. Some Definite Recommendations.

What, then, shall Southern Baptists do for the country churches? How shall we meet the appalling needs, the staggering problems, and the urgent call and challenging opportunities of our 22,043 rural churches? We venture to offer the following suggestions and recommendations as a basis and a beginning of a constructive program for the enlistment and development of our rural churches, viz.:

- 1. We call upon the various State Boards and the Sunday School Board to give increased attention and enlarged forces to the Summer Rural Campaigns in the various states.
- 2. We most heartily commend those states, like North Carolina and Georgia, which are employing especially qualified leaders and workers to give all their time to the rural churches, and we urge all the other larger states to consider the advisability of adopting this feature of work.
- 3. We especially commend the far-reaching service now being rendered by the budget or stewardship secretaries in the various states; and we urge upon these secretaries the advisability of securing the proper helpers and of setting aside the summer months in each year in the effort to reach our untaught and unenlisted country churches.
- 4. We especially urge the holding of country church conferences throughout the rural sections of the South; and the study of the country church survey as published in the 1923 Handbook.

E. P. ALLDREDGE,

Committee.

The report was discussed by E. P. Alldredge, Tennessee; C. O. English, Georgia; H. H. Nicoll, Maryland; E. J. G. Carter, Arkansas, and adopted with the following amendment offered by T. E. Peters, Virginia:

Resolved, That the Committee on Program for the 1925 session devote one period of at least one hour and thirty minutes to the rural problem; and that E. P. Alldredge be added to the Program Committee.

- 121. The report of the Committee on Georgia Memorial and New Seminary, offered by J. M. Shelburne, Virginia, was laid on the table after discussion by L. R. Scarborough, Texas, and R. W. Weaver, Georgia.
- 122. For the Committee on Legal Status of the Boards, J. F. Brownlow, Tennessee, offered the following report, which, after amendment, was adopted as substitute for the report submitted Thursday, after discussion by J. F. Brownlow, Tennessee; E. Y. Mullins, Kentucky; Ashby Jones, Georgia; R. T. Hanks, Texas; A. J. Barton, Missouri; W. C. Barrett, North Carolina; W. L. Pickard, Tennessee; and J. B. Jackson, Alabama:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON LEGAL STATUS

Your Committee on the Legal Status of the Boards and Institutions of the Convention respectfully reports that all Boards and Institutions of the Convention hitherto approached by your committee have followed the suggestions of the Convention and secured amendments to their charters clearly defining and establishing the ownership in the Convention of all properties. In conference with a committee of the Board of Trustees of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, we are assured of their hearty willingness to co-operate with your Committee to take whatever steps are necessary to bring their institution under the unquestioned legal control of this Convention, and further that the Committee on Legal Status be continued until the titles of the properties of all the Boards and Institutions of the Convention be clearly established in the Convention.

Respectfully submitted,

CLIFFORD WALKER, J. F. BROWNLOW, F. W. BARNETT, J. W. PORTER, W. E. ATKINSON, Committee.

- 123. On motion of J. J. Hurt, Tennessee, the report of the Committee on Georgia Memorial and the New Seminary was taken from the table and re-committed with instruction to report in view of the fact that the Memorial had been withdrawn.
- 124. The report of the Committee on Georgia Memorial and the New University was presented by F. C. McConnell, Georgia, as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON NEW UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH AND GEORGIA MEMORIAL

The Convention while in session in Jacksonville in 1922 placed in the hands of this Committee a Memorial from the Georgia State Convention in which, under certain conditions, the State Convention of Georgia proposed that Mercer University should be developed into an institution of university grade fostered by the Southern Baptist Convention and controlled jointly by this Convention and the Georgia Baptist Convention.

The acceptance of this proposal by the Southern Baptist Convention called for the raising of $2,500,000 during the five years succeeding 1924, conditioned upon Mercer University and the Baptists of Georgia providing $5,000,000, including the present assets of Mercer amounting to near $2,000,000.

Your Committee believes there is little hope that a new enterprise involving so large a sum of money will be approved at this time by the membership of the Convention. In view of all the circumstances, the Board of Trustees of Mercer University and the Georgia Baptist Convention have been led to withdraw for the present their memorial. This Committee approves the withdrawal without prejudice to the educational program set forth in said memorial.

Your Committee appreciates the desirability of Southern Baptists possessing and controlling an institution which will rank with the best universities of the nation, although it would involve the investment of many millions of dollars.

We express the hope that some of our members of large means may hasten the day when such an institution may become a reality. Such outstanding gifts as have been made in other denominations would make possible a start in the direction of a real university.

We recommend that the Convention appoint a Committee to foster the idea of a South-wide university, and to conserve any developments working to this end.

For the Committee, F. C. McCONNELL, Chairman, J. W. CAMMACK, Secretary.

On motion of A. J. Barton, Missouri, the report was referred to the Education Board.

125. The report of the Committee on Resolutions was offered by Louie D. Newton, Georgia, and adopted as follows:

RESOLUTION OF THANKS

Recognizing the far-reaching and splendid service of the Atlanta Journal, the Atlanta Constitution, the Atlanta Georgian, and other daily papers throughout this state and the entire Convention territory, and also the Associated Press and other news agencies—

Be it resolved, That this Convention do hereby express appreciation of this service on the part of all these institutions.

126. After announcements, the Convention adjourned with prayer led by W. C. Barrett, North Carolina.

SATURDAY—Evening Session

- 127. The service of song was conducted by Charles Butler, Georgia, O. C. S. Wallace, Maryland, commented on Habkakuk 3: 17-19, and prayer was led by H. H. Nicoll and M. J. Morris, Maryland.
- 128. On motion of Albert R. Bond, Alabama, the Secretaries were instructed to print and distribute 17,500 copies of the Convention Annual and they were allowed the usual remuneration for their services.
- 129. The President was authorized to appoint as fraternal messengers to the Northern Baptist Convention such brethren from the Southern Baptist Convention as may indicate to him their purpose to attend the meeting.
- 130. Or motion of B. C. Hening, Georgia, any unfinished business of the Convention was referred to the Executive Committee.
 - 131. The journal for today was adopted without reading.
- 132. On motion of E. C. Dargan, Tennessee, the subject of the Georgia Memorial and the New Seminary was taken up for consideration. The following motion, made by B. C. Hening, Georgia, was adopted:

In view of the fact that for satisfactory reasons the Georgia Memorial on Theological Seminary has been withdrawn, that the Committee be thanked for its service in this matter and discharged.

133. The following resolution, offered by W. S. Wiley, Oklahoma, was adopted by rising vote:

Resolved, That we hereby express our appreciation of the hospitality extended to us by the city of Atlanta, and our Baptist brethren of the city during this session of the Convention.

- 134. On motion of M. P. Hunt, Kentucky, the Secretaries were instructed to include in the Minutes the record of the mass meetings to be held Sunday afternoon and evening.
- 135. President McDaniel briefly addressed the Convention on the prosecution of the program ahead. On motion of Ross A. Smith, Texas, and with A. J. Barton, Missouri, in the chair, a rising vote was taken expressive of the appreciation of the services of the President during this session and of the determination to go afield to carry out the program in the spirit he has just inculcated. While the Convention stood, it was led in prayer by President McDaniel.

136. The report of the Commission on Social Service was presented by A. J. Barton, Missouri, and adopted as follows:

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON SOCIAL SERVICE SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION, 1924

The year has been one of continued unrest and uncertainty in public affairs both in our country and in other countries. We are still living in conditions and dealing with results entailed upon us by the world war. It remains yet to be seen when the social, economic and political chaos brought on by the war shall be entirely overcome and good order and tranquility restored, for surely not even the wisest can foretell this happy event. And yet we are glad to observe brightening skies on many parts of the horizon.

Day Dawn in Europe

The first unmistakable gleams of hope for the adjustment of Europe's vexing questions, since the framing of the Versailles Treaty, have appeared. It is the source of just pride to us that three eminent Americans have been instrumental in bringing these gleams. The report of the Dawes Commission of experts on the ability of Germany to make reparation for the havoc which she wrought in the war and to suggest a plan of payment brings the first real hope of settlement of the question, without the settlement of which the industry and commerce of the world are blocked and the peace of the world constantly menaced. From all the governments concerned have come virtual acceptance of the terms of settlement recommended, and dispatches indicate that the recent election in Germany was favorable. With this question settled we cannot but hope that better feelings and more amicable relations may be established among all of the countries of Europe and the peace of the world promoted.

American Stewardship

It is required of a steward that in all things he be found faithful. America is a steward. Our country is now the big brother in the family of nations. It may be gravely questioned whether America has not been defaulting in stewardship. The nations of the earth still trust us in spite of graft in high places, trust us in spite of our failures and lapses in the world's crisis hour. The successful effort of the Dawes Commission indicates how much we might have done to untangle the skein of world affairs if only we had not for a season lost the ideal of service and sunken into the pit of sodden selfishness. We call upon our President and the Congress, we call upon every citizen of the Republic, to find some way by which the United States may regain the position of moral leadership and service which they occupied at the close of the war, in order that the open sore may be healed.

The World Court

Undoubtedly one method of doing this would be found in associating our government with the World Court. This International Tribunal has been founded and is functioning in perfect harmony with one of the most sacred and most fundamental principles of our government, namely, the settlement of all international disputes, as far as possible, by peaceful and judicial means and methods and not by war. For our government longer to refuse to approve the World Court would be to continue to deny and repudiate this sacred principle as applied to our relation to other governments. We congratulate President Coolidge that, like his distinguished predecessor, the late President Harding, he approves the World Court and recommends our becoming associated with it. We appeal to the Senate of the United States to join with the President in this urgently important matter and to let the soul of America be seen and known and felt by the other nations as it really is. For us to do otherwise would be to bring upon our heads the just censure of the nations and of the God of nations.

A Look at Ourselves

While we may well be concerned about world conditions and may well call ourselves to a full recognition of our stewardship in relation thereto, we must be candid with ourselves and recognize that we have conditions within our own borders that fill us, or ought to fill us, with a deep sense of shame and humiliation. As serious-minded citizens and patriots, we must set our own house in order.

Graft in High Places

Among these humiliating conditions is graft and corruption in high places by which men in exalted position have betrayed public office and prostituted public trust to private gain. It would be impossible for any one to say just how much truth there is in all the countless rumors and bits of gossip with which the air of our National Capitol has been filled, or just how much of incontestable fact has been revealed by the sundry investigations of Congressional Committees and how much lies in the background that might be revealed by further investigation. But of one thing we are certain: Public confidence has been betrayed and public trust has been bartered. As a nation professing integrity and high ideals in public affairs, we have been scandalized before the world. We call upon the President, upon the Congress, upon the Courts of Justice and upon the people to see to it that every unworthy public official is put out and that every position of public trust is filled by an honest and capable citizen. Thieves and criminals must not dwell in the House of State. We are not to lose confidence in all public men and officials because of the treachery of the few. A great majority of our public servants are good and honest men; a great majority of our people are honest. For this we may thank God and take courage and we must see to it that in every case, as far as it is humanly possible, the bad are put out and punished and the good and true are put in positions of power.

Law Enforcement

The fight for law enforcement goes forward. A battle is lost here and there but we are glad to believe that taking into account the whole battle front there is gain. Law-defying, man-hating, God-dishonoring crime is abroad in every part of the land. Automobile thefts, thousands in a single year in a single city, arson, murder, violation of prohibition laws, these and countless other crimes drag their sinuous and slimy lengths across the face of our fair land. The laws must be enforced; criminals must be punished; the criminally inclined must be deterred from crime. In the last analysis, in America, enforcement of law must result from the assertion of the will of the people that it shall be so. This will must assert itself in an orderly way but it must assert itself. It rests with us whether our laws shall be enforced and our homes, our lives and our property protected. Let the officers do their duty and let them have the united and hearty support of all citizens. If officers fail, let citizens see to their removal from office and the replacing of these with good and responsible men.

An Absurd Contention

With all the law violation and crime cited above, and with much more that might be cited, only in one instance do we hear men contending that the crime rests with the law and not with the law breaker. It is an old trick of Satan to contend that the law is unwise and unjust so as to incite men to its violation and to excuse the violator. The XVIII Amendment of the Constitution of the United States and laws enacted for its enforcement have proved to be the greatest blessing that this country has ever derived or ever could derive from statutes. Despite this well-known fact, there are men, some of them occupying responsible positions, who charge that the whole thing has been an utter failure; that the law has made the criminal and that the law should be repealed, or so modified as to nullify the Constitution. We have recently had the sorry spectacle of the president of a great university's going afield with that sort of talk. How are the mighty fallen! We give it as our sober judgment that such a man is an unsafe and unworthy examplar and leader of the youth of America, both in the universities and colleges and out.

Many bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives providing for the authorization of the manufacture and sale of beer containing 2.75 per cent of alcohol. This is the strategy of the "wets" who hope by the number of bills to make the impression that there is a great tidal wave of sentiment sweeping over the country for the repeal of the National Enforcement Code, popularly known as the Volstead Law. These bills are before the Committee on the We hope and believe that not one of them will ever get out of the committee, much less be passed by the House. To enact a law to authorize the sale of 2.75 per cent beer would be to nullify the Constitution. Those clamoring for this legislation say that 2.75 per cent beer is not intoxicating. If they do not want intoxicating liquor they ought to be content with the present standard of admitted beverages, namely, one-half of one per cent. If they want intoxicating liquor, which, of course, they do, they can secure same only by repealing the XVIII Amendment. The XVIII Amendment will never be repealed. Nor will any law enacted for its enforcement be modified in any essential feature except as it may need to be made more stringent for its effective enforcement. On these two points the American people have made up their minds. Let that word be passed out the country over. But to maintain this Amendment and these laws and to perpetuate their unspeakable blessings to our children and our children's children, will require constant vigilance and much determined effort.

Child Labor Legislation

Undoubtedly one of the evils of the present day social order is the employment of increasing numbers of children of tender years in field and factory for the performance of such labor as robs them of their rights to secure an education and equipment for life and in many instances under such conditions as undermine their health and morals. We speak of the children who work for wages, not those whose employment is directed by parents or guardians. This evil must be abated. Many of the States have no laws, or inadequate laws, on the subject. The Child Labor Laws heretofore enacted by Congress have been held unconstitutional and therefore made inoperative. The House of Representatives has passed a resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States enabling Congress to legislate upon this subject. We beg to remind the states of their immediate and great responsibility in this important matter.

Presidential Year

We are now in the midst of a presidential year. We are all thinking about who will be the presidential nominees put forward by the political parties and who will be elected president. With partisan politics neither this Commission nor the Convention may concern itself. But with the broad non-partisan aspects of this important matter we may well be concerned. Some very unworthy men are aspiring to the presidency and have had publicity in the press as possible nominees. All political parties, if they would seek their own and the country's good, will have to be discreet in their choice of candidates. Of one thing we may be sure and may assure them, no political party can ride to the White House on a beer keg. Southern Baptists will not support for president any candidate who is wet, or about whose Americanism there can be any question. Let us see to it by force of public opinion, that the political parties nominate good, clean, strong men about whom there can be no question, and then let us see to it that such men are elected to office and let this rule apply all the way from president to constable.

Immigration

Immigration is one of the acute problems of our government and people. The "melting pot" has largely ceased to "melt" and almost before we were aware of it our American ideals and institutions were menaced by the floods of aliens that poured in upon our shores during the two or three decades just passed and proved to be unable to be assimilated. The result might have been different if American Christians had been more faithful in obeying the commands of our Lord. We may well admit our shortcomings. But with that phase of the matter the government cannot deal. The government is under obligation to deal with the question of immigration as it affects the government and people as a whole. We commend Congress for the passage of the Immigration bill which will greatly reduce the number of aliens admitted to our shores and will admit a larger percentage of the better class from the more enlightened and more advanced nations of northern Europe and a smaller percentage of the lower class from the less enlightened and less advanced nations of southern Europe.

Japanese Immigration

It is to be regretted that out of this legislation friction with the Japanese government and our government has come. We commend President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes for their efforts to find a solution of this problem that will preserve the authority and dignity of our government and at the same time not offend the sensibilities of the Japanese people. The long-time friendship between our government and that of Japan must not be broken if it can be preserved and the way of our missionary enterprises in Japan must not be barred as we carry the gospel to Japan if it can possibly be avoided. We hope that the Department of State may find a solution of the problem and we pray that the Lord may give them wisdom to that end.

Boy Scouts of America

By the adoption of the report of your Commission last year, you approved the Boy Scout movement. We recommend that you authorize the Commission to represent the Convention in relation to the movement and to advise with the authorities of the Boy Scouts of America.

Sabbath Observance

We must place frequent and persistent emphasis upon the Christian Sabbath and its proper observance by our people. The Lord's Day Alliance is a national organization having as its purpose the enlistment of all Christian forces to this end. Auxiliary organizations are being formed in the several states. We recommend that our people give support and co-operation to this work, being careful to do so always upon such basis as will preserve our Baptist traditions and principles of the autonomy and independence of our churches and work.

Immoral Literature

This country is now being flooded with literature in the form of cheap novels, popular fiction magazines, and other publications of similar character, containing stories and pictures of a highly suggestive and immoral character, and which are calculated to corrupt the morals especially of the youth of our country.

We recommend that the Convention's Commission on Social Service be especially instructed to study the popular literature now being sold in the country.

And that said Commission be authorized to protest in the name of the Convention against the use of the mails for the distribution of such immoral literature, and to take such other action as their findings may warrant, should their investigations lead them to conclude that literature of an unlawful character is being circulated.

Citizens Training Camps

We recommend that this Convention respectfully and earnestly suggest to our National Administration and to the Department of War, in particular, that in connection with its annual Citizens Training Camps it provides for addresses and instruction on international relations calculated to promote intelligent and sympathetic understanding and the spirit of friendship towards all the peoples of the world.

Co-operative Bodies

The Anti-Saloon League of America and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union are the two great nation-wide bodies through which our people have cooperated for the bringing about of national prohibition and other needed reforms. Your Commission recommends that we continue to give to these two great organizations our sympathy and support.

Financial

The free will hat collection at Kansas City last year which was taken to defray Mr. Bryan's expenses and to show our appreciation of his visit resulted in $435.23. Mr. Bryan's expenses and a suitable honorarium amounted to $121.80, leaving on hand $313.43. Owing to the fact that the expenses of the chairman to and from the several National meetings which he has attended throughout the year have been borne by the Executive Committee of the Anti-Saloon League, of which he is a member, this amount has not had to be drawn upon but it will be needed in the year to come both for traveling expenses and for promoting our cause.

The Future

More than once your Commission has called the attention of the Convention to the fact that we have made no adequate provision for our Social Service work. Better than anybody else, we believe, Baptists understand the doctrine of "A free church in a free state," or the relation of the church and state. Unfortunately, we have been leaving the interpretation and the application of this doctrine largely to others, not to mention our comparative neglect in the field of Social Service proper. The Methodist Episcopal Church has just opened and dedicated in Washington City, hard by the Capitol, a building costing $500,000.00 devoted exclusively to the work of Temperance and Social Service. Other denominations are increasing their equipment and their effort in this field. We who pride ourselves on our evangelical views of the gospel and our evangelistic spirit and purpose ought not to lag behind others in any department of Christian activity. This is not to suggest that we shall think less of the gospel, but more of the gospel, both as a means of individual, personal salvation and also as the cleansing power that shall purify the whole social order, to think so much of the gospel that we shall preach it and believe it and live it. Your Commission recommends that the Committee of the Convention, having in hand the financial program for the year 1926, be instructed to provide, for a small rereentage, say one-fourth or one-half of one per cent, for Social Service, the same to be used by your Commission for the promotion of this great cause.

137. The report of the Committee on Preservation of Baptist History was presented by A. J. Holt, Florida, as follows:

PRESERVATION OF BAPTIST HISTORY

Your Committee on Preservation of Baptist History begs to report as follows.

We desire to emphasize the fact that our Baptist people have been making a great deal of history, but have been too indifferent in the matter of keeping the records of their history.

The utmost care should be given to keeping accurate records of the facts of our history at its original sources, such as church minutes, district associational minutes, missionary societies, the history of educational institutions and of all our organized denominational work. For lack of such records much information has been lost which would be of greatest possible historic value if it had been written and preserved.

In trying to trace the history of churches, associations and schools, it is often found that records are missing—either such were not made, or if made, proper care was not taken of them. This is serious because it is lost at the original sources, which leaves the historian baffled at the point where he most needs the original record of facts. The church clerk and associational clerk should be selected with a special view to fitness for his work.

In each of our states there should be a Baptist Historical Society for gathering, indexing, filing and properly preserving all the facts of our Baptist institutions.

We call attention to the fact that much rich biographical material has been neglected. Many of our leaders have so lived as to shape the destinies of churches, communities—even playing large parts in affairs of State and National life—and yet the story of their lives is largely lost because of lack of records being made or preserved or both. And with the lack of such records, the value of their lives and service to the Baptist cause and to the world cannot be properly estimated.

As often as sketches or complete records are made of individuals, churches, societies, associations, schools, or of individuals and their achievements, these records should be gathered and forwarded to such institutions as our historical societies, college, university and seminary libraries where they may be kept in fireproof buildings ready for the historian in his research work.

We call special attention to the libraries of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky., the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas, that of the Bible Institute, New Orleans, La., and of our Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tenn., as depositories for the preservation of all such facts and records of our denomination.

We note with pleasure the fact that many more of our Baptist people are becoming authors than was true in former years. This is not only a matter for congratulation but it means much for the cause of truth and wholesome literature.

It is not within the scope of this report to make an index of current Baptist writers, but with joy we call attention to the increasing number of them and also to the scholarship and general excellency of their productions.

One of our greatest needs is that of really scholarly books written on questions of vital interest by men who can see God in all of His glorious works. Our denomination is coming to have many men and women in it of scholarly attainment. It is to be hoped that more and more, such as are equipped, may hear the voice from heaven saying, "Write," for the world needs such to write for its guidance.

We call attention to the very thorough report which the committee of this Convention of 1923 presented and which was printed in full in the Annual. That report presented a good index of real research work and is richly suggestive to all who desire to help in the conservation of the history of our people.

We take special pleasure in calling attention to the fact that the National Baptist Memorial Building, Washington, D. C., is rapidly approaching completion and will prove a blessing to the world, bodying forth, in concrete form, that priceless liberty for which Baptists have fought and which they desire shall be imperishable.

We call special attention also to the fact that there has been formed a Southern Baptist Historical Association of which Dr. A. H. Newman is president and Rev. Walter M. Lee, secretary.

We recommend the utmost co-operation of the members of this Convention with all the above mentioned agencies that as our denominational life shall unfold in its enlarging work, its history may be told to the honor of the workers and the glory of God.

Bratcher and wife, Miss Nora Hawkins, and Avelina de Souga. From Jerusalem, Palestine—Fred B. Pearson. From Hungary—M. Baranyay.

Brief talks were made by George W. Sadler on our work in Africa; by R. S. Jones and Avelina de Souga on our work in Brazil; by T. W. Ayers and J. W. Lowe on our work in China; by Fred Pearson on our work in Palestine; by M. Baranyay on our work in Hungary; by Kiyoka Yuya and W. H. Clarke on our work in Japan. Ruth Andrews (whose Chinese name is An Lu Teh), the adopted daughter of Miss Hazel Andrews, recited John 3:16 in Chinese. The benedictory prayer was led by W. B. Bagby, Brazil.

SEVENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

of the

FOREIGN MISSION BOARD

of the

SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION

J. F. Love, Corresponding Secretary Richmond, Virginia

1924

The Foreign Mission Board has ended its seventy-ninth year of service for Christ and Southern Baptists with feelings of profound gratitude for sustaining grace, blessings bestowed upon the work and with hope for the future. The year brought with it a burden of anxiety for the work. There have been uncertainties, disappointments and heartaches. The Board has been compelled to deny its missionaries many of their requests and this denial has been painful to the Board, as well as discouraging to the missionaries. But even in the darkest hours there have been some gleams of light. God has given strength for burdens and the trials of the year have brought forth pledges of loyalty and assurance of daily, personal, family and concerted prayer from many of God's saints who have had understanding. The dark hour has had its compensations; and coming now to chronicle the record of the year, behold we see that God has crowned it with His loving-kindness. We cried unto the Lord in our trouble and He has delivered us out of our distresses. The debt which has well-nigh smothered faith and hope has in the closing hours of the year been reduced from approximately one and one half million dollars to $711,611.95 which final figure is $307,-732.71 more than the indebtedness reported last year. Blessed be His name! and blessed be His people who for love of Him have lightened this burden!

MATTERS FOR BRIEF MENTION.

One of our beloved missionaries has during the year answered the roll call to higher service. Rev. J. J. Taylor, for thirty-two years a missionary to South Brazil, entered upon the better life and the fuller service in Lttle Rock, Arkansas, January 15, 1924. Gentle of spirit, pious and devoted to his high calling as a missionary, Brother Taylor was greatly beloved by his fellow missionaries and Brazilian brethren.

Death has, too, again entered the ranks of the Board membership. Mr. James D. Crump, for fourteen years a member of the Board and for the same period auditor of the Board, passed to his reward February 19, 1924. The Board has perhaps never had in its long history a more faithful and devoted member than Brother Crump. He will be missed by his associates in the monthly meetings of the Board.

Let the names of these deceased friends of Foreign Missions be embalmed in the hearts and the memories of Southern Baptists. They loved Foreign Missions, and did not forget it when they came to write their wills and dispose of their earthly possessions. Among the above is the name of Miss Henrietta F. North, who, coming to the service of this Board for South China from one of the Northern states possessed or accumulated during her long missionary service a small sum of $1,907.07 which she desired should serve her Lord on a foreign mission field when her labors were ended.

$300 was released in annuities during the year and new annuities have been received to the amount of $32,700 only.

An interestingly and warmly appreciated bit of denominational co-operation has occurred during the year in connection with the work of this Board and the Swedish Baptist New York Conference.

The above conference had in Rev. and Mrs. Erhardt S. Swenson, two splendid young missionary volunteers who felt called of the Lord for service in South America. Our Swedish brethren were not conducting mission work in South America and offered us this young couple and the money for their support including all outgoing expenses, salaries and maintenance on the field. These young people have sailed for Argentina, where the prayers of Southern Baptists will follow them in their service for Christ. We will also in our gratitude pray for our Swedish brethren in America who have in this generous fashion established cooperative relations with us.

Among the special gifts of the year all of which are worthy of mention, reference ought here to be made to two special gifts by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Bottoms, of Texarkana, Arkansas, both because of the size of these gifts and the objects to which they were given. The Board has long desired to purchase the remainder of the lot in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, as a site for the building of the First Baptist Church of that city which the Board hopes soon to be able to erect. Our faithful Brazilian brother, Rev. F. F. Soren, has labored long and successively and in the hope of seeing his church in this Federal Capital of Brazil, housed in a building suited to its varied work and to its religious mission in this great city. Mr. and Mrs. Bottoms have given $18,000 for this purpose. These steadfast friends of Foreign Missions have also given $10,000 for the erection of a building for the church at Nazareth, Palestine, suited to its needs for worship and school work. Texas friends have contributed $2,700.00 for the purchase of a lot for this building. $570 have also been contributed to meet the needs of the work in Palestine.

The above are all special gifts above Campaign pledges, and apply wholly to the objects to which designated. We shall not now need more for equipment at Nazareth, though there is great need at Jerusalem and other points in our Near Eastern work, which is giving new promise every day.

Following the subscriptions made at Kansas City last May for the salaries of volunteer missionaries, which the Board could not in its financial condition send to the field, the Board has during the year sent fifty-four of these volunteers to the field and $38,802.05 of the subscriptions made at Kansas City have been paid. Some of the subscribers to this fund are paying their subscriptions by the month or quarter as the salaries are falling due. Payments on these subscriptions are extra gifts reported to the treasurer under the head of "New Missionaries' Salary Fund."

Under "Miscellaneous" our treasurer reports total receipts of $55,141.35, which, during the year was designated as extra gifts to Foreign Missions and not to apply to the 75 Million Campaign. Some of the gifts which make up this total came to us as voluntary contributions from individuals and churches living outside of the Southern Baptist Convention.

A REVIEW OF SOME SIGNIFICANT FACTS IN THE YEAR'S WORK.

It is fitting that this report should review some of the significant incidents of the past twelve months. The year 1923-24 has borne some features which should make it memorable in the annals of Southern Baptist Foreign Mission history. We record here some of these features which have characterized the year.

The year has witnessed the necessity for a regretful procedure with the missionaries. When the full Board met in 1923 to give consideration to the requests of the missionaries for things necessary to their work during the calendar year 1924, the members of the Board quickly became aware that the totals of the requests from all the fields were largely in excess of the Board's probable receipts. Thus the Board was brought face to face with one of those situations which tries the faith and courage of those whom the denomination selects to dispense its trust funds and to care for a sacred cause like Foreign Missions. The requests of the missionaries amounted to $3,203,887.00. This amount was for the salaries of missionaries, native workers and for other items necessary to the mere maintenance of the work, and for material equipment such as residences, school houses and hospitals, including the completion of some of these buildings which had been begun, and put into some of them which were completed equipment which would make their use possible. All these requests represented actual urgent needs. It would, however, have been folly for the Board to make appropriations totaling so large a sum since there was no probability that Southern Baptists would during the year give this Board a sum of money sufficient to cover them.

The Board was, therefore, in great perplexity as to where a reduction of these requests should begin and what items should be eliminated. After long prayer, study and conference it was decided that, since the work must go on and to recall or dismiss the workers would involve large expense, injustice and disaster to the work, the least drastic step that could be taken was that of cutting out estimates for buildings and material equipment. Accordingly every dollar which had been asked for the better equipment of our missions was cut from the estimates. This ruthless action applied to every request for material aid from every mission in every land of this Board's operations. This was painful procedure, but there was no other course or recourse, so the cuts were made and the missionaries were notified that all their plans for building operations must be suspended.

This left many missionaries without residences—some of whom had been on the fields for many years. It left mission churches without places of worship. It left mission buildings of different classes incomplete, unprotected from the weather and to consequent deterioration which rendered unproductive for the time being some large investments in church and hospital buildings. It left several of our theological schools without either buildings or equipment, and made it impossibile for the missionaries to care for young men who have waited long for a modest training and who have nowhere else to turn for it when Southern Baptists do not provide it. Some truly pathetic cases of young men called of God to preach the gospel and giving rare promise of usefulness if only they could be trained for their high calling, but who by this action of the Board have on the threshold of their ministerial life received a great blow of discouragement.

2. This cut of $1,600,589 in October 1923 has a greater significance than the fact alone indicates. It was a severe climax to the history of three years of cutting into these annual estimates of the missionaries. In 1920, when the convention met in Washington, all were joyful and expectant. In twelve months the receipts of the Board had mounted from $1,223,190.47 to 2,161,698.20 and for the first time in many years a significant balance was reported by the Board to the Convention. Moreover, ninety-two million dollars had been subscribed by Southern Baptists to their great Campaign, of which amount this Board was expected to receive twenty-six and two-thirds cents of the dollar. The Board had actually received $1,877,571.07 within the preceding five months since the Campaign subscriptions were made. The messengers to the Washington Convention were confident that this Board would receive a minimum of four million dollars a year through the period in which these Campaign pledges were to be collected. In a state of enthusiasm and high expectancy, therefore, the Convention ordered the Board to advance in the scope and care of its work and at the same time instructed it to loan money to the three theological schools which are within the bounds of the Convention.

The following October the Foreign Mission Board, conscientious and courageous in its purpose to keep out of debt, cut $1,205,391 from the estimates of needs which the missionaries had made and requested. This drop in receipts from the expected Four Million dollars a year to $2,399,392.42 for the year 1920-21 fell like a thick fog upon the spirits of the Board and its missionaries.

The fog deepens. When in 1922 the Board met to consider appropriations again, receipts had dropped to $1,814,598.32, and another cut of $725,629 was made necessary. Hopes were deferred and hearts were made sick.

The cut, therefore, of $1,600,589 in October last was a third and a climax to this drastic dealing with the necessities of the work and the requests of the missionaries. The total amount thus cut out of the requests of the missionaries in three successive October meetings of the Board since the Washington Convention in 1920 has ben $3,531,609. These figures do not include a considerable sum which has been cut out of requests made to the Board by the missionaries between October and October of these years. As we have said, this last cut covered every item for residences, schools, including colleges and four theological seminaries and for hospital buildings and for equipment of buildings already erected, and it covered these for every one of our mission fields. This wholesale denial to the missionaries of material equipment for their work will be a sad historical incident in the annals of this work.

3. Another incident which will arrest the eye of those who read the history of Southern Baptist Foreign Missions is that, notwithstanding the above cuts and economies, the Board has for a large part of the year carried a debt on its current work which is perhaps unparallelled in borrowed money for such purpose in history of mission boards. This Board kept out of the Inter-Church World Movement, and therefore saved the denomination some millions of dollars and some hundreds of thousands in interest on money which the denomination would, as other boards did, have been compelled to advance to meet the obligations of that fatuous and defunct project. The debt which the Foreign Mission Board has carried has been the money borrowed to meet the necessities of our current mission work, and the interest on this debt has amounted to $70,632.04, during the past year only. The prompt payment of Campaign pledges would have saved this large sum, and with this we could have cared for many items which were cut from the necessities of the missionaries. We could, moreover, with this have saved for the strength of our missionary program and for efficient service, enterprises which have been halted and put out of commission, and we could have saved opportunities which have been lost by hesitation in the payment of Campaign pledges.

The creation of this enormous debt and big interest account should be looked at and looked into squarely by the denomination. Has this debt and consequent interest account been due to lack of economy on the part of the Board? Let facts already recited answer that question; or, if they do not satisfy inquiry, then the Board invites the closest scrunity of its stewardship of denominational trust funds. The Board has not plunged. It has been cautious, economical, and has striven desperately to keep its appropriations within the denomination's contributions, going beyond those only to the degree that maintenance of the work which the Convention had authorized made necessary.

Is this debt due to incautious expansion of the work and hasty entrance into new fields? The answer to this question is: the Board has entered no new field without being bidden to do so by the Convention. The Board has obeyed the orders of the Convention while at the same time it has appropriated for both new fields and old a sum not quite equal to one-half of that which the Convention presumed the Board would receive when it ordered the Board to advance.

But has there been extravagance in the plans and appropriations for these new fields? We give the total amounts expended on these new fields for the period of four years since the Convention ordered us to enter them. That total is $275,017.75 for missionary work and $498,991.78 for relief work not counting the gifts of clothing. How pitifully small compared with need and opportunity! Yes, with the promises which we held out to our brethren in these new territories, this amount is almost insignificant. On the white population of more than one hundred and twenty-five millions in our European fields we have in four years expended $774,009.53 for all classes of work.

Southern Methodists have added three European countries to their territory. The year before they started their Forward Movement, thy appropriated $439,017 to Foreign Missions. Last year they appropriated $2,059,979. Since their campaign started, they have out of a total subscription of thirty-five million dollars appropriated to Foreign Missions $11,498,298 to their European countries $2,-155,569 have been appropriated for missions and $145,000 for relief not counting "supplies for relief work in Poland conservatively valued at two million dollars." They report, "Our purchase of property was at a time when values were greatly depreciated so that it is probable that these properties could be sold today for all we have spent exclusive of relief work, both for equipment and maintenance." When Southern Methodists were saving this money by buying while property was cheap and money low, Southern Baptists lost 100 per cent on property for their Seminary in Budapest because the Board had no money with which to buy.

Southern Baptists cannot afford to overlook the contrasts between the above figures and those which represent their own foreign mission work for the same period. If anyone is disposed to charge the Foreign Mission Board with temerity in its expenditures for Europe or anywhere else since our 75 Million Campaign was started, what shall be said of the expenditures of other mission boards? Is not the real difference to be found in the support which Southern Baptists and other denominations, respectively, have given to their foreign mission work?

It may as well be put down here and be faced frankly by the Convention that the alternatives which are before the denomination are retirement from some fields and retrenchment in all, or else increased contributions by Southern Baptists to their foreign mission work. It is worse than folly for us to deceive ourselves. The hopes of missionaries have ben deferred, but we have urged them to hold on and not abandon their posts. We have encouraged them to believe that the tide would soon certainly turn and Southern Baptists would give their work a larger support. We have, too, encouraged multitudes of young men and young women who have felt that God has assigned them as their life work missionary labor on foreign fields. We have told many that we cannot send you to the fields now, but we hope that the denomination will shortly make this possible. The time has come, therefore, when frank speech ought to characterize our dealing with the missionaries and with missionary volunteers. If we cannot furnish equipment for the work and re-enforce the workers who are already on the field by sending to them the new recruits, let us by all means tell them so. If we cannot make good our promises to the struggling and heroic Baptists of Europe with whom we have lately entered into holy alliance, let us make a clean breast of our inability to do so. The terms of our alliance make it improper for them to seek aid of other Baptist Conventions while our agreement lasts. Moreover, it is not right that missionaries, missionary volunteers and native Christians wrestling with conscience made sensitive by the Spirit of God and with the problem of life's investment should be held in suspense only to be disappointed in the end.

We could tell of opportunities already lost, of workers sorely discouraged, and of promises cancelled, but the tale is too sad to be set down on paper. We are willing for the Convention to fix the responsibility for the Board's debt and for its interest account.

Another fact, and one which in the light of the preceding facts will have significance for the reader of Southern Baptist history for this period, is that the debt has been made and our missionary work has halted just when a revival spirit has broken out and has manifested itself everywhere on the mission fields of this Board. We doubt that the historian can find a parallel to this spirit of revival in all the history of the ages. There have been mass movements in Christian history, but until recent years these have been in limited territory and under the pressure of an unholy union between church and state, and considered as revival movements, they have been utterly superficial. In some recent years there have been a few great and real revival movements in certain districts of certain countries. In these marvelous days through which we are now passing the human spirit is awakened throughout the world. There is evident spiritual interest, hunger and inquiry everywhere. There is today a readier and more general response to gospel appeal than any man now living has ever seen before, and we doubt that any man now dead ever saw the like of it. In perplexity and in moral and physical extremity, in disgust for much which hitherto has served as religion, and with disappointment in things which some have substituted for religion, men the world over are reaching out their hands to God. The spiritual interest is more manifest on foreign mission fields than at home. Here there has been prosperity and with it self-sufficiency and a care-free worldliness and gaiety. Across the seas hopes have failed and hearts are sick and souls are hungry. There is among Roman Catholics, Greek Orthodox, Mohammedans and Buddhists religious disquiet and dissatisfaction of soul. More quickly do men in other lands today bow in repentance before the gospel and more gladly do they make confession of Christ as Lord and Saviour than missionary history has ever yet recorded.

It is before the above fact of a world revival made ready for the missionary by the purpose, providence and Spirit of God, that Southern Baptists have been halting. No burden incident to the conduct of this work has so oppressed the heart of the Foreign Mission Board as this of seeing a time of refreshing from the presence of the Lord passing before our eyes and ourselves handicapped by depleted resources before such a vision and such an opportunity. Think of facing this vision and being denied the privilege of making a demonstration of missionary success such as it has been possible to make! To see such opportunity vanishing and to know that it is certain to pass even more rapidly in the near future, if unclaimed, this, we say, breaks the heart and spirit of those who see this vision.

It is nothing less than remarkable and a striking confirmation of this universal religious revival that results for this year have been so large from the disappointingly small expenditures which we have made. We give the following figures for foreign mission results during the four years of the 75 Million Campaign:

	1919	1924	Gain
Missionaries	328	544	216
Native Workers	627	2,494	1,867
Churches	505	1,095	590
Members	49,659	111,872	62,213
Self-Supporting Churches	143	308	165
Contributions	173,372	444,568	271,296
Baptisms	5,635	12,856	7,221

There have been 47,190 baptisms on the foreign fields since the Campaign started. This does not include Russia.

We give the figures for results on the foreign fields during 1923-24 as follows:

New Missionaries	54
New Churches	204
Churches undertaking self-support	97
New Out-Stations	121
Baptisms	12,856
Gain in Church Members	8 544
Contributions	$444,568
Additional Sunday Schools	64
Additional Sunday School Scholars	9,097
Increase in Number of Schools	64
Increase in Number of Students	2,317

Let it be understood that in such matters as the fruits of the Spirit much cannot be tabulated. The Spirit of God has in these recent marvelous years created an atmosphere, mellowed human hearts, ripened mission fields, quickened Christian aspiration, nurtured the graces of the Spirit, removed religious prejudice and created hospitality for the truth on all our mission fields. That the tabulated results are not far larger is, in large measure, to be attributed to the humiliating fact that we have balked before the allurements of such opportunities, the importunities of men in their religious needs and the command of God to enter doors which He has opened and reap fields which He has made ready.

One land may be cited to illustrate how by most recent providential happening the spirit of the nation has been prepared for new religious alignment. A terrible catastrophe has befallen Japan during the past year. Millions of citizens have been plunged into deep sorrow by the great earthquake. Many precious lives were lost, other great numbers were left maimed for life, and millions suffered the loss of property. In most cases the dead were without the hope, the wounded and impoverished without the comforts of the gospel of Jesus Christ. A fact such as this should fall with peculiar poigancy upon the conscience of complacent American Christians who have been so tardy in giving the gospel to Japan and the Far East.

To the physical need of Japan America quickly responded with magnificent outpouring of ten million dollars as a token of human sympathy for the people in their afflictions. More loudly than any other voice which has found expression in this beautiful human response of America to the physical need of Japan, is the voice of the Christian spirit made sympathetic and charitable by the Christ whom it loves, lives and worships. Japan will sadly misinterpret America's unparalleled gift and its token of sympathy if she does not understand that the chief impelling force behind this response to physical distress was the Christian religion which, to an extent that no other religion or philosophy does, teaches its devotees to make the cares, the sorrows and the needs of others their own.

But there are stil in Japan sixty million souls as precious as those who have perished, and the greatest need of these sixty millions is the gospel of the grace of Jesus. It will cost less to give these the gospel than it has cost to give physical comfort to the surviving victims of the earthquake. Moreover, by this catastrophe God has been preparing Japan for this gospel. Says Dr. Sidney Gulick, "Japan's baptism of suffering and sorrow will surely turn her millions to renewed manifestation of religion." It is an opportune hour to stimulate interest and inquiry concerning Christianity. The impression which has been made in Christian sympathy and philanthropy has profoundly impressed the Japanese nation. "The opportunity for service by Christian America," says Dr. Gulick, "is extraordinarily great."

No doors may be so easily and hopefully entered as those which Providence has opened. By the earthquake a new and wide door of entrance has been opened to us for an effectual entrance into the heart of the people of Japan. Shall we enter these doors or shall we retire before such opportunities as God has here given us? It would seem that such results as we have witnessed from our labors during the past four years and such manifest tokens of the Divine will and plan would immediately lure Southern Baptists to a new fidelity to a new foreign mission obligation and a new zeal in pursuit of larger achievements.

5. Another incident which constitutes a remarkable historical fact of the year is experience which the Board has had with the Near East Rejief Organization. We set down here with composure the merest digest of this cause.

We call attention to the instructions which the Convention gave the Board last year to guide it in effecting arrangements with the Near East Relief for the conduct of a relief campaign among Southern Baptists "with the least possible overlapping or interference with other phases of our work." The Board was, too, instructed to "press its agreement with the Near East Relief and make a clear statement to our churches of such agreement": and that the churches be urged to "make their gifts to foreign relief work through the Foreign Mission Board, designating them for 'Relief' and leaving it to the Board to determine the place for its proper use."

In accordance with the above instructions the Board met with the Near East Relief representatives on September 26, 1923, and for five hours sought faithfully, earnestly and patiently to reach terms of agreement which should both respect the wishes of the Convention and secure the most generous response from Southern Baptists for relief work throughout the world. The Near East Relief representatives could not be persuaded to accept or to recommend to their organization a joint appeal by the Near East Relief and this Board and to so confine themselves to this joint appeal as to "prevent overlapping and interference with other phases of our work." The conference, therefore, was concluded without any agreement, but with a protest of the Foreign Mission Board against the Near East Relief making any approach to Southern Baptist churches, Sunday schools or individuals in disrespect of the wishes and instructions of the Convention. Of course, the Board recognized that individual churches and Baptists are free to act as they please in such matters, but they could not be encouraged to act in contempt of the expressed wishes of the Convention with the consent of this Board. The facts relative to the offer of this Board to give the Near East Relief fifty cents on every dollar made in a joint appeal in acordance with the instruction of the Convention, and the Near East Relief's obstinate refusal to confine their appeals to Southern Baptists to this joint appeal have been given to the denomination, and need not be recited here. Suffice to say that following the conference in September and refusal of the Near East Relief to accept the wishes of the Convention in this matter of relief appeal, that organization has caused a serious overlapping of appeals, interfered with other phases of our denominational work, embarrassed pastors, churches and Sunday schools as well as this Board, and, as we believe, has seriously limited relief collections of this Board. The Foreign Mission Board has received but $48,188.01 for relief since that conference with the Near East Relief in September. This amount is sadly and distressingly below the appeals which have been made to this Board.

We have no way of knowing how much the Near East Relief has received from Southern Baptists since they never report this fact. This organization may or may not have received more from Southern Baptists by pursuing its independent and defiant course than it would have received from the joint appeal.

But we leave this distressing episode of the year to the further consideration of the Convention and pass to matters which have been under our control, and which we find more pleasure in reporting.

Following the Southern Baptist Convention and the annual meeting of the Foreign Mission Board last spring, the Correspoding Secretary visited our mission fields in Europe including in the itinerary the Baptist World Alliance at Stockholm. Everywhere in our new mission fields of Europe, there has been great gain, following the establishment of this Board's co-operative relationship with European Baptist groups. There has naturally been great discouragement for these our Baptist allies at the inability of the Board to give the assistance which all confidently expected would be given when these alliances were made. In some cases serious loss of opportunity and advantage has been sustained. On the whole, however, the spirit of our European brethren, their confidence in their American friends, and their unyielding determination to hold their lines and carry forward their work amidst hardships and hostilities have been highly commendable. Such spirit and such devotion deserve an early fulfilment of our promises to our European brethren.

Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke, Baptist Commissioner for Europe, who represents the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in relief work in Europe and the conscience of the Baptists of the world on religious liberty and in protest of religious persecution, furnishes us this statement concerning his activities in these two lines of effort during the year:

Ι

As representing the Baptists in setting forth our point of view to Governments, I have had especially to concern myself during the past twelve months with the situation in Russia and Roumania.

In Russia, the movement towards "normalcy," appearing in the "new economic policy," the establishment of a stable currency, the reform of the system of taxation, an efficient administration of the railways, and other directions, is to be welcomed; but serious difficulties still exist in connection with religious work in the land. It s not unnatural, in view of the fact that the Orthodox Church formed an integral part of the old State regime, that a revolutionary movement in Russia should have been accompanied (as earlier in France) by fierce hostility to the ecclesiastics; nor is it surprising, since over the larger part of Russia these alone were known as the representatives of religion, that hostility to them should have taken the form of hostility to religion itself. The Orthodox Church, too, was so drenched in superstition and so obscurantist in outlook that it could not possibly command the loyalty of the educated classes. Hence decrees, which Baptists would heartily approve, for the separation of Church and State; but hence also edicts which have borne harshly on adherents of all forms of religion. Some of these edicts have been modified, and there is now no legal difficulty in obtaining and using premises for worship. Propaganda, too, both religious and antireligious, is legally free. The taxation of ministers of religion as professional men, and their exposure to other disabilities which rest on "non-workers" generally, constitute a grievance which it is to be hoped will ere long be remedied. The chief difficulties which Baptists encounter are two: (1) the edict forbidding the organized religious education of children, (2) the demand of the Government upon all young and able-bodied citizens for service in the Army.

The provision forbidding the organized training in religion of children under 18 years of age is a serious matter, and it is impossible for Baptists or any other religious body to refrain from firm protest against it. As a matter of fact, the decree when adopted made little difference in the actual situation, since Baptists had few Sunday schools; but it rendered it impossible to set up such schools in the future, and did this precisely when the thoroughgoing secularization of the State educational institutions had made effective religious training for the young a primary necessity. There are some signs that the rigidity of the decree may be modified, though the change will be strongly resisted.

Regarding the question of Army service, the All-Russian Union of Evangelical Christians, by repudiating "absolute pacifism" as a principle has met the Government's demands. The All-Russian Baptist Union has passed a somewhat less clear resolution on similar lines. Owing mainly to speeches on this subject at the last Russian Baptist Congress (December, 1923) a number were placed under arrest. Of these some have since been released. Heavy sentences have been passed upon others, but I am in hopes that, in view of a further declaration (March, 1924) by the Baptist leaders, much more definitely worded than that of December last, the Government may find itself in a position to release the brethren now imprisoned or banished.

As to Roumania, I deeply regret to report that the present Government has shown itself utterly unsympathetic and reactionary in its attitude. It is evident that the Ministry of Cultus is dominated by the priesthood and by permanent officials acting with the priests. The provisions of the notorious ordinance No. 15,831 of April, 1921, annulled during the brief premiership of the liberal-minded M. Take Jonescu, have been in effect renewed. Baptist meetings have been forbidden in almost all parts of the land; pastors expelled from the villages where they labored, or confined to their places of residence so as effectively to prevent itinerant evangelism. The State has claimed the right to issue licenses to preachers on its own terms, and to veto the acquisition or building of places of worship. Assaults by the police have become common; arrests and fines normal incidents of administration. Protests by the Roumanian brethren have been answered by the denial of patent facts, or have been contemptuously ignored. At the time of writing it seems barely possible that an intervention by the Foreign Minister, who is disturbed by the bad impression produced abroad through the occurrences in Roumania, may operate to restrain the Ministry of Cultus and its agents; but it is impossible to cherish confident hopes of early and decisive improvement. Only the continuous pressure of the public opinion of the world will secure a change of policy. Meanwhile, our brethren in Roumania are assured of our warm and whole-hearted admiration of their splendid courage and patience, and the zeal and success with which, under immense difficulties, they maintain their testimony and win converts for the gospel.

It may be added that elsewhere in Europe, and especially in Poland, there are ominous signs of religious intolerance which may at any time create a situation calling for consideration and action by the Baptists of the world. The machinery of the League of Nations may accomplish something in Europe; but the fidelity to conviction manifested by the brethren is under God the chief ground of hope for the coming days. Not yet is the struggle for liberty won; but the claim of "soul-freedom" must ultimately prevail.

Π

Regarding my task of administering relief under the scheme inaugurated at the London Conference of 1920, this has been carried on during the third year on a considerably reduced scale. Of the amount which passed through my hands, over one-half was expended in Soviet Russia, and a small sum on behalf of refugees outside the country. To these items must be added about $12,900 paid for tractors and ploughs for Russia. Over $100,000 has been thus dispensed for Russian relief independently of the expense of collecting, baling, despatching and distributing large quantities of clothing. Conditions in Russia have so far improved as to open out a prospect that the year 1924 may witness the close of the relief effort for that land, though it is not yet possible to offer a final judgment upon this. For co-operation in Russia I am deeply indebted to the Rev. Hoyt E. Porter, and Dr. W. O. Lewis.

Next to Russia the principal recipient country was Germany, where Baptist workers and members have been reduced to penury owing to the economic chaos. Poland has suffered scarcely less and has been assisted almost to the same extent. Hungary, Latvia and Austria also needed substantial aid. During the opening months of 1924 the only countries receiving substantial assistance are Russia, Germany, Poland and Hungary; and of these the two first named receive over three-fourths of the amounts available.

I count it a high privilege to have been associated with this Relief Fund—the widest united effort our denomination has ever undertaken, whose results cannot be adequately set forth by any words at my command; and I rejoice in the knowledge that the need in Europe is far less than it was. Slowly, painfully slowly, normal conditions of life are emerging.

OUR EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT

Our Educational Secretary, Rev. J. M. Kester, furnishes for this report the following gratifying statement of an important home phase of our foreign mission work:

The Educational Department reports a good year. An increased interest in mission study has been manifested by all the church organizations. The increase of interest is especially noticeable on the part of the men. Hitherto we have scarcely had a class of men reported to us. But this year a large number of classes have been conducted and reported. The students in our schools have also taken greater interest in the study of missions. Some of the schools and colleges have enrolled as many as fifty per cent of the students in mission study. In a few cases the enrollment went as high as seventy-five per cent of the student body. Two phases of the Department's work need special mention:

The Church School of Missions. Although introduced to the Convention only a year ago, the Church School of Missions has been tried and met with hearty approval throughout the South. At least fifty schools have been conducted during the year. Pastors who have tried this method of missionary education write thus: "Altogether we are highly pleased with the Church School of Missions idea and expect to have one or more each year." "Too much cannot be said in favor of this method of disseminating intelligent missionary information." "I am convinced that this is the best way to educate our people in Kingdom affairs." The approval has been so hearty and unanimous that we do not hesitate to recommend that every church have A Church School of Missions Every Year.

Lantern Slides and Lectures. We are glad to report a marked increase in the use of the lantern slides showing our work. We have filled more than three times as many orders this year as last, and many orders could not be filled owing to the limited number of sets available. During the coming year, we expect to double the number of sets in order that the churches may make still greater use of this effective educational method.

The Educational Department stands ready to serve the churches with the latest and best mission study literature, with mission books for pastors, churches, libraries, and missionary literature dealing with any phase of missions, with stereoptican slides showing our work in every land, and in any other way that will further missionary education among our people. The department solicits the fullest co-operation of the pastors W.M.U. leaders, Sunday school, and B.Y.P.U workers, that this channel of missionary intelligence may have the widest possible usefulness.

REQUESTS.

The Board asks that the earnest consideration of the Convention be given the following matters, understanding and decision upon which must of necessity intimately effect our foreign mission work for the future:

- 1. We ask that the whole question of the future relief program and the attitude of this Board and of Southern Baptists generally to the Near East Relief and its policies and operations shall receive the most serious consideration and that the Board shall be given explicit instructions. The Board places in the hands of the Committee on this Report ample data for a fair appraisement of the relief situation and the course which the Near East Relief pursued.
- 2. That consideration be given to the improvement of our foreign mission situation. It is imperative that there shall be an increase in the Board's receipts in a measure more commensurate with the heavy demands which are upon it, and that a better guarantee shall be given against perils and hazards such as have beset the work during the past year. We would suggest that this matter is the more important since plans are now being matured for the denominational program following our present 75 Million Campaign. We repeat here what we have said elsewhere in this report, namely, the denomination cannot expect the Board to take care of its great foreign mission program and the great variety of interests and enterprises which are included in this program upon a basis of support such as the denomination has given this work during the past three years; and that, the denomination must, therefore, choose the alternative of giving their foreign mission work a larger support or of issuing instructions to the Board to withdraw from some fields and to curtail its work on others.
- 3. The further payment of loans to the theological schools in the South and the repayment of loans which have already been made to these by this Board is another matter which should receive the earnest attention of the Convention at this time. The Board's financial condition and the pressure of its own work does not allow delay in the consideration of this matter. It is necessary that the Convention should do this at this time if it would rescue its foreign mission work from imminent peril. This is, too, an opportune time for the Convention to consider these loans and their repayment for the other reason that we are now approaching the time when, according to Convention action, these loans should have attention. Moreover, plans are already being made for the denominational program which is to follow the 75 Million Campaign. If, therefore, the Convention is going to take steps to repay these loans, it is necessary that such steps be taken before plans for the next campaign are further matured.

When the Convention in Washington instructed the Foreign Mission Board to advance these loans, it was made plain and emphatic that the money thus to be advanced to the schools was to be considered not as appropriations but as loans and that the repayment of these loans was guaranteed by the Convention. The report of the Executive Committee of the Convention did not propose to finance these schools on the basis of the common allocations out of the Campaign funds to all the denominational boards and institutions. It made recommendations which did not detract from the percentages allocated to state missions, to education, orphanages, hospitals, etc. The detractions to cover these loans were to be made from three only of the Southwide boards, namely, the Foreign Mission Board, the Home Mission Board and the General Education Board. This report of the Executive Committee was referred to a special committee which confirmed the main recommendations of the Executive Committee, but strengthened the emphasis upon these advances to the theological schools as loans. However, in placing the whole burden of these loans upon these three boards, the Convention action was thus made explicit that the money so diverted from Foreign Missions was diverted as temporary loans and that the Convention itself would take the necessary steps to repay these loans.

Let us at this point quote the action which finally constituted the insructions and also the guarantee of the Convention to his Board.

"On report of a sub-committee appointed at the previous meeting suggestion was made to provide from the Southwide funds $1,000,000 for the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and $500,000 each for the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and the Baptist Bible Institute, all to be used for building purposes, and not to include appropriations formerly made to these institutions. It was agreed that these funds shall be provided as a loan pro rata from amounts appropriated to the Foreign Mission Board, the Home Mission Board, and the Educational Board, payment to be made through the Education Board; that each of these Boards shall be reimbursed out of the first money collected for Southwide objects beyond $75,000,000, and that in case the requisite $2,000,000 is not available under this arrangement these advances by the three Boards shall be sufficiently guaranteed to them in any new plan for funds that the Convention shall project at the close of this five-year period without prejudice to the prorata apportionment of the three Boards or to the Relief and Annuity Board owing to previous action of the Convention, with the understanding that the funds thus provided shall be called for by the respective institutions when they are ready to use them. It is further understood that all additional gifts to these respective institutions either for the building funds or for other objects embraced in the Seventy-five Million Campaign shall become a part of these several appropriations."

The above action, supposed to be based upon the deliberate thought and judgment both of the Executive Committee and the Convention, and these registered in the largest and most representative session in the history of the Convention left this Board no room to misunderstand the terms upon which these loans were to be made. It is fair as well as frank to tell the Convention that some members of the Foreign Mission Board have never agreed to this advance by the Board to the theological schools out of money which was contributed to Foreign Missions, and that favorable action on these loans by the Foreign Mission Board has been secured in the successive meetings when these advances have been made only on the persuasion of the Convention's right to give the Board instructions and on the Convention's guarantee that these loans would be replaced. We would not, as there is no ground to do so, question the motive of anybody who influenced the action of the Convention in issuing instructions concernig these loans, but credit for sincerity here implies equal sincerity in the guarantee which accompanied the instructions. We simply remind the Convention that the gathering circumstances which affect the plans of the denomination immediately following the 75 Million Campaign, and the present circumstances of the Foreign Mission Board make it not only opportune but imperative that this matter be reviewed by the Convention at this session.

As the action which the Convention now takes upon this matter should be taken in the light of a calm review of certain facts which had their bearing upon the matter at the time the loans were ordered, and certain other facts which have developed since and which also keenly affect this Board's work, we set down here for the Convention's attention the following:

- (1) The financial condition of the Board in 1920. At the 1920 Convention the Board reported receipts amounting to $2,161,698.20, although at that time we had had the benefit of but five months of the 75 Million Campaign, since the pledges were made. The Board reported a balance of $801,807.00. Everybody at the Washington Convention was, therefore, joyful in the expectation that the Foreign Mission Board would receive annually thereafter not lass than Four Million dollars. It was in the flush of such altogether unprecedented financial circumstances of this Board that the action was taken ordering these loans.
- (2) But almost immediately the Board and the whole denomination met with disappointment. Now for three years the receipts have been far below expectations with consequent embarrassment to this Board and peril to its work. The receipts from the 75 Million Campaign for the whole period of payments on Campaign pledges have been but per cent of the amount which this Board was assured out of the 75 Millions.
- (3) Meanwhile the Board has on its hands the enlarged program which the Convention itself had authorized in 1919 when the Campaign was started, and which it further approved in 1920 when the loans were ordered.
 - (4) The following loans have been made:

To the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary$ 8	8,113.98
To the New Orleans Baptist Bible Institute	2473.94
To the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary 5	7,142.88
Total$25	7,730.80

It should be explained that the reason the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary has not received pro rata of these loans with the other theological schools is due to the fact that the latter institutions began to make their requests for these loans out of our receipts from the 75 Million Campaign for 1919 and continuing to the end of the Convention year of 1922-23; whereas, the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary did not submit a claim for a loan backed by the projection of building operations as required by the Convention's action until 1923, when $6,000 was requested, and this not on buildings in process of erection, but to apply on payment of the architect for drawing plans of buildings. These facts are put down here for the reason that this Board would most sincerely regret the incident if anybody should conclude that there has been in the Foreign Mission Board any disposition to discriminate against the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary or any lack of sympathetic and warm appreciation of it. The Board entertains for all these schools feelings of affectionate interest, and to the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, our oldest theological institution and the largest contributor to our missionary staff, we are peculiarly grateful and bound by the strongest cords of loyalty.

(5) What these loans have meant to the Foreign Mission Board and its work. They have meant much perplexity, discussion, and difference of opinion in the meetings of the Board; they have added their part to a debt of $711,611.95 which this Board has been compelled to incur in order to save from great disaster our foreign mission work; there has been incurred by the Board an interest account of approximately $30,000 on these loans to the seminaries in addition to the sum of $257,730.80 which the loans themselves compose; they have meant the denial to our missionaries for the present year of every dollar needed for material equipment in their missions, and have brought the Board to defeat before its plans to secure and equip theological schools for Argentina, Chile, Spain, Hungary, Roumania; these loans together with the diminished receipts of the Board have cost us heavily in making it impossible for us to purchase land and erect buildings while land, money, material and labor were cheap. Already these circumstances have turned against us on some of the fields involving a loss from 25 per cent to 100 per cent, even if we were able to begin now to establish these institutions before conditions turn more seriously against us.

In view of such facts as are set down above, and furnishing these facts in order that the Convention may in its deliberation upon our request review them, the Foreign Mission Board makes of the Convention the earnest appeal that steps be now taken looking to the relief of this Board from further loans and the repayment of the loans which have already been made out of foreign mission funds to our theological institutions in the South. Attention to this request is a matter of the greatest importance.

4. We sum up our requests to the Convention in the one appeal that the Convention will review as carefully as its program will allow the time, circumstances and conditions amidst and under which its Foreign Mission Board is now working, and that in this marvelous hour for Foreign Missions it commend to the denomination by formal action a more commensurate and reliable support for this great and necessitous work. With such opportunities as the denomination has given its Foreign Mission Board to make observation of world conditions and to observe missionary opportunities in other lands, we have been forced to the deepest conviction that the hour is upon Southern Baptists for advance and enlargement in their foreign mission work rather than retrenchment and retirement. If ever God called His people in the circumstance of the hour, in the needs of humanity, in the necessity and opportunity for a spiritual revival, in the moral condition and crisis of the world, He calls to Southern Baptists at this time. For three years this Board has been compelled to face this unexampled world situation with a depleted treasury. We have heard a thousand calls which we could not answer and have sat helpless before alluring opportunities. We have been forced by sheer and desperate circumstance to see holy visions fade, and the richest promises go unfulfilled because of our inability to face and embrace them. Cannot the denomination now at last and before these opportunities pass entirely beyond our control say to this Board, to its missionaries on the fields, and to the army of young missionary volunteers who in large numbers have declared their readiness to go far hence, "We will as never before back you for holy achievement?" We ask for the decision of the Convention on this great matter.

"God grant us wisdom in these coming days,
And eyes unsealed, that we clear visions see
Of that new world that He would have us build
To life's ennoblement and His high ministry.

Not since Christ died upon His lonely cross Has Time such prospect held of Life's new birth; Not since the world of chaos first was born Has man so clearly visaged hope of a new earth."

CONCLUSION

In conclusion we would touch the brighter side of the year and its experiences, and gratefully acknowledge the loyalty and thoughtfulness of many who have felt the keen embarrassment of the situation with us. We have never before felt the warmth of Christian sympathy, the value of cooperation and fellowship in service, the helpfulness of the prayers of our brethren and sisters, as we have felt these things during the past year. Letters—God bless their writers!—have come from many quarters in the dark hours bringing such expressions as the following from many pastors and from our women.

A Pastor: "When we put on the campaign I had a good car, but I wore it out campaigning, making three churches a day part of the time over the worst roads I think I ever saw. Since then I have had no car. I walk, and yet since we put this campaign on I have put enough into the Lord's work each year to buy a car. However, I would rather walk to the end of the journey than see this great cause fail. It would be ruinous forever to fail now. It must not be. We must win if it takes everything we have to do it. I am in for victory. Call on me if I can serve."

A Pastor: "I am writing you this letter just to let you know that our church has on its heart the burden of the Foreign Mission work. We will put forth every effort to pay every penny that we pledged and then some. We are praying for you. Our week of prayer was very successful; large numbers attended every service. Wednesday the letter which you sent to the W.M.U. was read before our women. Many expressions of interest came from individual women; some even went so far as to say, 'I have decided to do without my spring hat in order to be able to lift his burden.' I have the utmost confidence in our Baptist people. I believe that the skies will clear by the sitting of our Convention in May."

A Pastor: "I am sending you a dollar given by a little woman who works in the factory and who gives sacrificially for the cause of foreign missions. She wrote me in order that you may know that there are hearts burdened for the people across the seas whom they do not know about."

Here is this good woman's letter: "Dear Pastor and Deacons of......Baptist Church:

Will you consider these few words for me as I can't be with you. I had only a small sum and as we all are thinking of Xmas greetings, after I spent less than 40 cents, this thought rushed to my mind. Send Xmas greetings to the Foreign Mission Board. I said to myself this is no doubt the answer to some one prayer on the foreign field or foreign board who is praying to God, that he will cause us to remember the need of these. . . . I ask if there is no one else in our church or Sunday school who wishes to send Xmas greetings with this small amount, to our Foreign Mission Board at such a late hour, will you send this dollar for me?"

A Sister: "I am writing to assure you that our hearts have been stirred and that you have our hearts' deepest sympathy and our earnest prayers for great victory in this work. Monday afternoon we spent in prayer for all our leaders that they might be inspired by the Holy Spirit and that by the help of our Savior who gave His life for us, this debt may be lifted and in the end we may be victorious."

The thoughtfulness and devotion of our women were never better illustrated than in their gifts and correspondence during the past twelve months. The blessings which the gospel of Christ has brought to the women of the South have inflamed in them holy passion to give this gospel to their sisters of other lands, and they do not suffer the burdens of this work to bear more heavily upon any hearts than upon their own.

ANNUAL REPORT

By L. M. Duval.

Evangelism is the keynote of all our work. No matter what line of work is taken up, educational, medical, industrial or preaching, the whole effort is to win souls into His kingdom. These special methods are being used to break the ground in order that the seed will have proper soil in which to germinate, develop and bring forth, we hope, some thirty, some sixty and some a hundredfold.

Special efforts have been made to hold series of meetings in towns where we have churches already established, for the inspiration and strengthening of the Christian life of our Christian membership, and the winning of souls into God's kingdom. This work has been under the direction of Brother and Sister Carson, assisted by the other missionaries and native pastors. The results have been very encouraging wherever the meetings have been held.

In our educational work we have a double purpose in view. The first and greatest is the bringing of souls to Christ; the second to develop a strong Christian constituency throughout the land, to make our Christian men and women more useful to God and their fellows. For many years it has been demonstrated that the greatest means of evangelizing the people of Nigeria is through the schools. More people have been converted through this means than any other. Compared with other societies of the same age in the country, we as Baptists have lost ground, because from lack of missionaries and money we have not been able to establish and carry on proper educational institutions. especially noticeable in the larger and more civilized centers, such as Lagos, Abeokuta and Ibadan, as well as the stations along the railway line. In these places our educational work was for many years practically stopped, with the result that today we have comparatively few well-educated members in our churches. Many of our younger men have had to go to schools supported and run by other denominations, and have been lost to us. The Roman Catholics, especially, are very rapidly gaining ground all over the country through their excellent school system in these larger centers. These educated men become the influential people, not only in the towns where they were born and educated, but are often sent to political and mercantile posts in the newer parts, and become the means of gaining adherents to their churches.

Realizing our loss in the past, and knowing that we were not gaining ground as rapidly as we should, our Mission a few years ago began an educational campaign, laying our plans to build up our schools all over the country. We decided to build from the bottom up, working upon what we already had. In all the main and a few of the out-stations we had small day schools already established. These we increased in number and improved in quality, raising the standard year by year and adopting the code laid down by the Government for our curriculum. It took several years to work up to this standard, but today we have schools that cover the infant and primary departments in most all of the towns where we have workers. Having laid our foundations with our infant and primary, the time came for the establishing of Secondary, or High Schools, and the last year has seen the introduction of the first year of this work into four of our stations, Iwo, Oyo, Awe and Ogbomoso. All these not only educate the young men and women of the community, but become feeders for the Baptist College and Seminary at Ogbomoso, from which we get our pastors and teachers.

The college and seminary was really founded by Brother C. E. Smith about the year 1900, as the Baptist Theological Training School for native pastors and teachers, and has done an excellent work; most of our present workers being its products. As the country advanced in civilization and the educational standards also advanced this school kept pace with the rest of the country. A few years ago, hoping to make the work more efficient, a division was made in it, and two formed in the place of one. The academic, or secular work, was done in the Academy located at Ogbomoso, and the theological work at Saki, in the Seminary: but when the latter school was moved to Ogbomoso it was decided that the division had not been a success, and in order to economize in men and money, the two schools were united again, forming the College and Seminary. Gradually the standard has been raised until today the work laid down is two or three years in advance of any other in Nigeria. The teaching staff, both missionary and native, is very efficient.

Our Girls' School at Abeokuta is doing good work and advancing in all departments. The attendance has grown until the present buildings are very inadequate. This is true about classrooms and dormitories, and especially the latter, for, not only are the dormitories overcrowded, but the classrooms and parts of the missionary residence have to be used for sleeping quarters for the girls. We rejoice that at last we have been able to obtain a large tract of land on the outskirts of the town, where commodious buildings are being erected, which when completed, will be not only useful in the training of our girls, but a source of pride and inspiration to our work and workers.

Last year we had more boarding publis enrolled than ever before, coming from all parts of Nigeria, and from Baptist, Wesleyan and C. M. S. homes. Also some from heathen homes. The whole enrollment, including boarding and day pupils, was about one hundred, with five native teachers. The work of the girls was good. At a public examination and exhibition they gained seven prizes. They also helped very much in gathering materials for our new school buildings. We are very grateful to God and to our beloved Board who have made it possible for us to have these buildings, which are well on the way now, and we are proud and happy to think in a few months we shall be occupying them. One girl confessed Christ by baptism and others are attending the enquirers' class. At a series of revival meetings twenty-five of our girls publicly consecrated their lives to Christ and His service. Our hearts were greatly cheered and encouraged. In connection we have an organized branch of the Y. W. A. and Sunbeam Band. Sometimes in company with a missionary some of the girls visit villages where there are no teachers and do good work teaching the people.

The Prize Day was a great day for our girls. Three of the girls graduated and received diplomas. The Alake and chiefs, together with the Resident of Abeokuta attended the function. We expect to have seventy boarding pupils next term.

Other districts have been crying out for similar schools, and a great need for them is felt, but we have to be very careful in starting new work, for fear that we will not have sufficient missionaries to staff all these enterprises. The native church at Awe has not been content to wait for the Mission to make a move, but has gone ahead, and organized a girls' school of its own; supporting it entirely from their own funds, both in paying their teachers and supporting some of the poorer girls who are in attendance.

The Industrial School which has recently been removed from Saki to Iwo has had a year of success. Many new buildings are being erected and nearing completion. These, with the excellent staff of teachers, will give us what will probably be one of the best institutions of its kind in Nigeria. It is situated in a new section of the country, strongly impregnated with Mohammedan teaching and authority; the chief of Iwo being a follower of the false prophet. This school, we hope, will prove to be a wonderful means in God's hands of, not only advancing the people in the arts of civilization and bettering their mental, physical and social life, but will be the leaven of Christianity in the lump of Mohammedan superstition and evil, working till the whole is leavened with the truth of the gospel of Christ.

This year has seen the completion and dedication of our new hospital plant at Ogbomoso. In the erection of these buildings Dr. Green had the co-operation of Brother H. P. McCormick, who, although appointed to the Industrial School at Iwo, remained in Ogbomoso in order to help carry to completion the many new buildings started. They are commodious and well planned. We are justly proud These will permit the performance of major operations, which were very difficult under the old conditions; and also the reception and care of many sick patients who had formerly to be taken care of in their native houses with very crude ideas of sanitation and dietetics. This will not only allow for the admittance of many patients otherwise turned away, but will allow of more direct observation by the attending physican, and better supervision and care by the nurses. Formerly these patients, whether they were left in their own homes or allowed to stay in the grass-roofed hospital ward, had to be left to the tender mercies of their friends, who, in the kindness of their hearts, brought all manners of delicacies consisting of pounded yams, palm oil chop, of various ingredients of snakes, rats or snails; but always with a strong flavor of pepper. These dishes are almost indigestible by a strong, well person but not very nourishing to the sick, though to them they may be very palatable. Under the old conditions these things were often forbidden, but as the friends had free access to the patients it was impossible to prevent, either the bringing or the eating of them. Now conditions are changed, and the in-patients are kept under strict supervision of the nurses and hospital attendants, with much better results. It was also impossible to prevent the bringing and administering of native medicines, which are very crude and consist often of charms only. If the patient, after the use of these, died, the white doctor got the blame; and if he lived in spite of the native doses, the native practitioner received the praise and the reward.

Besides the regular hospital work in Ogbomoso, dispensaries have been carried on in the other stations of Iwo, Oyo and Saki. These have taken care of a great number of sick who otherwise could not have been attended to, and a great deal of good done, and the gospel spread into many homes that otherwise would not have heard.

We have been encouraged by the addition of another medical missionary, Dr. Meredith, being sent to us during the year. Already he has got into harness and is relieving Dr. Green, who, with his family, has gone home on furlough. These two well-qualified men, with three trained nurses, gives us a splendid force for this department of our work, for which we thank God.

Dr. Adam, acting head of the Government Medical Service, and now stationed in Lagos, is a very devoted Christian man, intensely spiritual, and interested in missionary enterprise. He is a Baptist and devoted to the work of evangelizing the country. He is urging the government to recognize missionary doctors with American degrees. If this is done it will greaty facilitate our work.

Our native Baptist churches are exceedingly missionary. Under our Baptist polity a church is independent, or self-directing, even then it is being assisted financially by the Mission. Yet as long as the church receives aid from us, it is considered a Mission church and the missionary in charge has considerable influence in directing the activities and discipline of the body.

Very early in the history of our work in this country, the Baptist Christians got the idea of self-determination, and churches would assert their independence. As the years have passed we have encouraged the churches to self-support, and many have become what are termed independent. In most cases that which seemed at first to be a drawback was really a blessing in disguise, for these bodies, standing on their own resources, soon grew strong and were not only interested in their own immediate surroundings but began to look abroad, sending out home missionaries into different parts of Nigeria. These home missionaries went to other tribes, and today we have a large work carried on in parts where our missionaries have never been. While our missionary enterprise has been wholly among the Yoruba, and especially in the Oyo Province, where all our missionaries are located, there are many churches among the Ijebu, Ekiti and Yagba people that are distantly related to the Yoruba, and are often classed as such. Over half of our Baptist membership is in the Sapele and Delta country, on the many creeks and rivers that form the mouths of the Niger River, among people speaking other and distinct languages. Among none of these people do we have a resident missionary. They have grown up of their own selves, many of them having never been visited by a missionary. They are constantly begging that we send them one to be located in their midst, to help them in their great work. These churches not only support their pastors, but many have day schools which they support. It is heart-rending to hear their pleas for missionaries when we have none to give.

In the Delta country there are over forty churches with a large membership, and only two ordained native pastors, while in the Sapele and Benin district there are nearly thirty churches and out-stations with a membership of three thousand, with only one overworked, but devoted, native ordained pastor.

As this work continued the different sections seemed to grow farther and farther apart with no organic union to co-ordinate their efforts, or a means of mutual help. About nine years ago a general Baptist association was called and organized among the Yoruba, and continued thus for several years, but it was an exclusively Yoruba gathering. But as some of this outlying work was the outcome of missionary efforts of the Yoruba churches, it was natural that these missions should be asked to attend, and eventually join the association. Thus it was that the name of the gathering was changed from the Yoruba Baptist Association to the Nigerian Baptist Convention. This convention has continued to grow in size and influence until it embraces most of the Baptist work in Nigeria.

It is true that the people had to be educated into the right conception of its purpose and need, but today we believe we are on the threshold of a greater expansion in our Baptist work. It is growing by leaps and bounds, and the growth is a surprise and wonder, not only to curselves, but to others. We are in need of many more missionaries to be sent into these districts. The Roman Catholics are coming in and intercepting the converts and directing them into their church. In the Sapele district, with our thirty churches and three thousand members without a resident missionary, the Roman Catholics have three white men on the ground, and already there have been diversions and splits in our churches, and the Roman Catholics are even claiming the church buildings that our members have erected.

The Yoruba and other tribes of this part of Africa are noted for what they call egbes, or companies. Young men or women, and even the older people are formed into societies for common religious, sport or social purposes. This tendency is brought into the church life, and is often used to great advantage. Societies of all kinds have grown up with different aims and objects in view, until there was a danger of the societies not only crowding each other, but even the regular church services. It has become one of the problems to unite and direct these different companies into more useful directions.

A few years ago the Convention appointed one of the single lady missionaries to undertake this difficult task among the women, with the result that today our Baptist women's work has become what is probably the best organized and most useful organization of its kind in the whole country.

Of this Miss N. C. Young, the leader of the women's work, says: "We have no record of when women's work was begun in our Baptist Mission in Nigeria, but no doubt our very earliest missionaries began by training girls in their homes, or having classes with the girls and women. Later societies were organized in the churches where the missionaries were located. In 1919 the Women's Missionary Union of Nigeria was organized, and as far as is practical, the plans of our Southern W. M. U. are carried out. A young lady was sent out especially for this work in 1920, and another in 1921. There are societies in almost every church in the Nigerian Baptist Convention. The annual convention creates much interest and enthusiasm, and each society is eager to win the banner which is given to the one doing the best work. Weekly Bible classes are held; much personal service is done, and the women give liberally to the White Cross fund. They are also doing much evangelistic work. Three regular seasons of prayer are observed annually, and one month is set aside for organizing new societies, and enlisting new members in all organizations. A school for training leaders for women's work will be conducted by the lady missionaries in July. God is wonderfully blessing our work and to him we give all the praise and honor for the progress that has been made."

The B. Y. P. U. idea is gradually taking hold of the natives, and they themselves, both in the stations where they are helped and encouraged by the missionaries, as well as in the outlying districts, are forming unions. One of the largest and best organized is in Sapele. This Union has been formed and carried on under the direction of the native pastor, Omatsola, quite independent of the missionaries and outside help. It only remains to direct and co-ordinate this work to make it more useful in developing leaders and workers in our churches.

Our building program has been continued throughout the year. In Ogbomoso the hospital buildings have been completed, a nurses' home built, and more buildings erected for the College and Seminary. The Okelerin and Ijeru churches are pushing to completion their large and commodious edifices. At Iwo the mission residence as well as the workshops and school buildings are nearing completion. At Abeokuta the new buildings for the girls' school have been started, while all over the country the native churches are erecting new buildings; many of the older ones being too small have had to be torn down and larger put in their places, because of the great increase in the size of the congregations.

ANNUAL REPORT

By Robert F. Elder.

Almost a quarter of a century of missionary service is apt to produce the historical sense in a missionary if he has not arrived at the reminiscent stage. Comparisons are enlightening when they are not odious or tedious. Here goes for some history and comparisons.

It was my privilege to welcome in 1903 Brother S. M. Sowell, the pioneer S. B. C. Missionary to Argentina. In those days there were six churches that called themselves Baptist churches, three were the fruits of the work of Don Pablo Besson, and are now affiliated with the River Plate Baptist Convention; and three were the work of British Baptists, identical in doctrine with the Southern Baptists but differing ecclesiologically about as much as Spurgeon's Tabernacle Church, London, differs from Dr. Truett's great church. These remain unaffiliated still.

The three of twenty years ago have increased to thirty-eight in 1923. Then there would not be 150 members, now there are about 2,400. Then Sunday-school work was in its swaddling clothes, now there are about seventy-six Sunday schools with over 3,000 children. Then there was one church building erected (chiefly with the personal money of Don Pablo Besson), now there are twenty-six buildings the property of the mission and several sites acquired, waiting for funds to erect a place of worship.

Then Brother Sowell was plain Mr. or perhaps "Rev.," now he is "Dr." Then he looked lean and lonely, now he is married, is a proud father, is becoming corpulent and happily corporate, for with him are associated thirty missionaries and twenty-nine pastors, as well as Seminary students, colporteurs and teachers. In those days the baptism of a believer was almost a sensational event; during 1923, 317 were buried with Christ in baptism. Then there was no Baptist paper, now 1,700 copies of the Expositor Bautista go into homes, and during 1923 no less than 372,250 copies of El Faro went out as silent but eloquent evangelists to the people.

During that same time the population of the Republic, as well as that of the marvelous city of Buenos Aires, has more than doubled. Now the Republic has some 8,700,000 inhabitants, with room for at least 100,000,000.

The spiritual need was great then, but in spite of such encouraging results, it is greater today, for there are more people out of evangelical churches today than there were then. The growth in the number of evangelical Christians has not been nearly in proportion to that of the population.

Doctrine.—It is a matter for rejoicing that the microbe of religious rationalism has not affected any of our missionaries, pastors or colporteurs. We stand as a solid phalanx to defend the fundamental doctrines. There is no need to form a Baptist Bible Union in Argentina. We are it. At our Conference we unanimously decided that we shall not knowingly use mission money for the support of any workers or aid any churches that are not true to the fundamental doctrines as we understand them. The responsibility of our stewardship in this sense weighs heavily upon us all.

Evangelism.—The churches are not merely evangelical, they are evangelistic. The tent has proved the best means for reaching new people that we have ever used. Early in the year fine meetings were held in Valez Sarsfield, Nueva Chicago and La Plata, and during October and November even better tent meetings were held in the Chacarita and southwest districts. Yaretto and other preachers have had a great opportunity. Seed has been sown that will yield future harvest. Visible results are not always secured at once. Evangelistic work here differs greatly from that in the States in that the people have not been prepared in the same way. The wise pastor in these countries does not immediately baptize all who stand up in response to an appeal. He allows time for the fruits of the Spirit to be manifested. He thus seeks to avoid the baptism of the superficially stirred individual whose opinion but not his heart has been changed, and ensures that twice-born believers are baptized.

In almost all of our churches special meetings have been held during the year. Missionaries, pastors and Seminary students have all been active in this quest for souls, and the plans for 1924, if carried out, will surpass anything in our history.

EDUCATION.

The Seminary.—1923, perhaps, stands out as the year when the best work was done in the Seminary. Fourteen students have attended the classes. Two of these were new. Three took up pastoral work at the beginning of the year, though one of them who settled in Buenos Aires, kept on with some classes. In the examinations every one obtained a passing grade, more than half of them received the highest classifications. Dr. Sowell writes that "it has been a pleasant year. It is a joy to work with the teachers and students of the Seminary, there is such a delightful spirit. Next year we shall miss greatly Brother J. C. Quarles, who is on his year's leave of absence, because he has become an essential part of the life of the school."

The inability of the Board to concede the mission's request for a grant for a Seminary building was a huge disappointment. The rented house we have is inadequate, unattractive, badly ventilated, cold and sunless in winter; in a word, almost everything that such a place ought not to be for a Seminary. We had visions of our new building rising rapidly during the summer months and occupied this year. Alas! our castle in the air received a kick that brought it smashing to the ground. The fine lot we have must pass at least another year without a building, an eyesore and a heartsore to faculty and students. Dr. Sowell reckons that "a building that will accommodate some twenty students is our most urgent need in the mission's future."

Mr. and Mrs. Bowdler helped out nobly in the difficult handicap through limited space by giving board to the Seminary students at the Boys' Academy, but they need all their meagre space for the extension of that work.

The Buenos Aires Baptist Boys' School.—"The year has been one of new problems offset by singular blessing," is Mr. Bowdler's summing up of the situation. "The move from rented quarters to the school property has put us on a new basis and given us a fresh start. But it is only a start. In spite of the change to a new district our enrollment has kept up to forty-seven. Of these fourteen have been boarders. In addition, we have had two former students doing secondary work outside, while boarding with us. If we add to these, another fifteen kindergarten children, taken into this new department during the last months of school, we have a total of sixty-four. Owing to lack of space there have only been sixteen boarders as compared with twenty-three the previous year."

Night class work has been done in the school building for the first time during this year. The results from the teaching of foreign languages even on a small scale were such as to lead to the belief that there is a great future for this overtime activity once there is a force strong enough to take proper care of it. There is no doubt that many can be drawn to the gospel by these classes. Miss Jessie Crouse and Senorita Rebecca Ostermann bravely attended to this night work during a long course.

On Sunday afternoons a Sunday school has been held in the school buildings. The attendance has varied between forty and eighty. Much can be done in the immediate neighborhood for scores of children, who, though fairly well-to-do, have not the slightest notion of what a Sunday school is.

The response and results of the kindergarten have been so good that Mr. Bowdler is going to press on to greater things. "In addition to the training of our Christian youth, and the winning of the unsaved to Christ within the school walls, there is the third important activity of entering entire families through the contact given by the school. It is right here where the classes and games for the tots in the gardens reap their richest reward. Our aim is to go on linking this phase of the work with the Sunday school and building up to the ultimate church unit, which will circle back upon the school with beneficent effect."

"As to our physical needs," writes Brother Bowdler, "we would this time emphasize but one: space, space, space; house space, classroom space, and space for buildings. Only those who are working inside fully realize this need. It is driven home to them every day and every hour of the day. While funds are lacking still, yet fortunately, necessity is the mother of invention, we are contriving to do next year half as much business again in the SAME SPACE. Finally, there comes a limit to the space and to the advisability of using the "same space."

Miss Azile M. Wofford, "with her fine spirit, large experience and consecrated character," has been gratefully welcomed during the year.

Mendoza School.—Brother Fowler reports the best year in the history of the school. There is no doubt that there is an enchanting opportunity for educational work in Mendoza, the centre of that vast Andine region. The enrollment was seventy-five. A goodly number were boarders who came from neighboring towns.

"The greatest addition to our school," says Brother Fowler, "is the coming, at least for a year, of Miss Davis. She will have the direction of the internal affairs of the school during 1924. Lessons in music have been added to the curriculum and for this purpose the church gave us a new piano. "Much stress is placed on Bible teaching. It is a joy to hear the children repeating Bible stories. They have a wonderful memory for Bible texts."

Willingham Institute, Rosario.—It was my privilege to visit this school in November. It was crowded with over seventy girls. Mrs. Wortley, a capable certificated Argentine teacher, is in charge of it. Some of the scholars have been converted and baptized during the year. A better recommendation for educational work cannot be given, provided the instruction side is thorough also.

Adrogue School.—It is only an unpretentious beginning of what may yet grow to be a very important educational centre. The attendance did not reach twenty last year, but there are new plans for the coming year that may raise the school in every way.

Cordoba School.—This is a new effort. Brother M. S. Blair writes concerning it that "as a new feature of the work this year there was added a day school with two teachers. By means of the school we have been able to get in touch with a number of new families. There has been an enrollment of about seventy. The attendance has been rather shifting. A very helpful feature of the school work has been the afternoon classes in Bible, church music, English, handwork, etc. Especially gratifying has been the Bible work under the direction of Miss Beck. On two public occasions demonstration of the work done has attracted a good deal of attention.

WOMEN'S WORK FOR WOMEN.

Our lady missionaries and pastors' wives are never much in the limelight. They ought to be more so. For downright genuine humdrum heroism we ought all to stand bareheaded in their presence. They attend to the house, to the baby, to the food. They work miracles with father's old trousers and mother's old skirt to cover little Tommy's or Mary's nakedness. They plan to make the allowance go as far as possible. All this they do in common with other good housewives. But over and above it all, they inspire the women of the churches. They lead the women's meetings. They share the joys and sorrows of other mothers, the hopes and fears and receive the confidences of young women and even of young men sometimes. Some of them do more to create the spiritual tone of our churches than what we male missionaries do.

One of our young native pastors married a fine girl whom my wife has had more than a little to do with training. He writes that since April the church work has been doubled in every way. Listen to Brother Blair, of Cordoba: "One of the most encouraging features of the work has been that amongst the women and the girls. They have been the backbone of the church. Their prayers, their material contributions, their faithfulness in many ways have been most helpful." Brother Logan says: "Our Women's Society has become one of the most helpful agencies in this church, and it is simply delightful to note the enthusiasm with which our sisters take part in every good work."

It was my privilege to speak to a meeting of women in the First Church of Rosario, a well-organized Women's Society it is, and I should judge it is all that those two missionaries say concerning theirs. Brother Elias, the pastor, thinks so, anyway. I am intimately acquainted with the splendid women's work led by Mrs. Varetto in La Plata. They run two or three evangelistic meetings a week and have a well-organized plan of house visitation. Up in Mendoza an excellent Bible woman, Senorita Maria Pena, co-operates happily with Mrs. Fowler, holds meetings, visits homes and distributes literature. Brother Garcia of Velez Sarsfield says that "the sisters of the congregation hold meetings in the houses of members with marked success and have plans for doing even more." Mrs. Garcia was greatly helped by Mrs. Spight in the earlier days.

No union of Women's Societies has yet been formed in connection with the Convention, but last year a special meeting for women was fitted into the programme, and the same is arranged for this year.

Publications and Colportage.—What the Mission owes to the indefatigable devotion of Brother J. C. Quarles and his wife in this department of our missionary work it is impossible to set down on paper. I would not weaken this appreciation by exaggeration, hence will limit myself to saying that they were in their niche and they fitted in exactly. They are off on a much needed furlough, for Brother Quarles has had to fight against ill health for some time. We all hope that he will return without his "complaint" and fit for the great work that lies ahead. The coming of Miss Minnie D. McIlroy, to be associated with him, could not have been more opportune. During Mr. Quarles' furlough Miss Jessie Crouse is attending to the business side of things, assisted by Miss McIlroy, with Brother Bowdler as counsellor and Brother Logan as editor of the publications.

The outstanding event of the year's work was the publication of our own hymn book. For years the need has been felt of a book of hymns better adapted to the services in our churches and that was also more attractive and convenient in form than those already existing. Although we were compelled to collect the hymns and rush the work through the press too hurriedly, the churches have almost universally praised the selection of hymns and form of the book. Possibly when a music edition can be produced it may become more generally used amongst other evangelical churches. An edition of 10,000 copies was printed of which nearly half have been sold.

Another literary success of the year has been the publication of Varetto's latest book: "Marcha del Christianismo." It is a church history written in popular style. The author feared that because of the doctrinal character of much of its contents the sale would, to a certain extent, be limited to those of Baptist beliefs. There was no foundation for his fears. One of the first orders was from a distinguished Anglician missionary for 150 cloth-bound copies. Given the decidedly evangelical character of the book and the wide interest it is awakening, it looks as though its influence will be wide and fruitful. A pamphlet on "Evolution," by the writer of this report, was also published. The sales of books have made a record. Mr. Quarles was rather proud that the 1922 sales had reached $7,700 (national currency). The sales for 1923 (including $3,320.00 m-l for harmoniums) have climbed up to the figure of $18,268.00 (national currency).

The publication has been continued of the "Expositor Bautista," organ of the River Plate Baptist Convention; "Der Berater," organ of the German Baptists in Argentina, and "El Faro," a monthly tract for distribution. The circulation of all these has steadily increased.

An ever-increasing constituency is being permanently influenced by the dissemination of this Christian and moral literature which penetrates into many corners where neither preacher nor colporteur can reach. In this connection perhaps special mention should be made of Brother Newton, pastor of the church in Pringles, who sends out some thousands of tracts monthly by post to leading people in towns where no evangelical work is established. At least one church we know of has been organized as the result of his efforts.

Colportage.—Perhaps no work is more difficult or more important than that of the colporteur. In many cases he has been the "John the Baptist," preparing the way for the missionary. Away in far-off Paraguay, out west in the Andine region, in the central provinces of Santa Fe and Cordoba, and down south in the Pampa and southern part of the Province of Buenos Aires, these patient, plodding, in some cases rugged, but faithful seed sowers, pursue their noble calling. To visit individually a thousand people is a much more difficult job, and without the thrill of it, than preaching to a thousand people on Sundays.

Another colporteur has just been taken on who will look after the tent when it is going, and sell Bibles and books when it has to be laid up, having for his district the southern suburbs of Buenos Aires and neighboring towns.

Sunday School Training Classes.—Good advance is being made everywhere in Sunday-school work. Many of the churches are old enough to have as teachers those who were brought up and converted through the Sunday school. These, and others we are trying to train in the normal course, with encouraging results. In his district Brother Hawkins has guided some classes. Round about Buenos Aires some pastors as well as missionaries have held night classes for thorough study with good results.

THE CHURCHES.

During the year three churches have been added to the list affiliated with us: Ramírez, made up of German-speaking people and which is self-supporting; Avenida General Flores, Montevideo, which is the fruit of Brother Orrick's labors, and Paysandu, where Brother Cabral opened new ground at the beginning of the year. The field work among the churches is divided into districts, the superintendence of which is assigned by the mission to various missionaries.

BUENOS AIRES NORTHERN DISTRICT. (In charge of Missionary Dr. S. M. Sowell.)

The Once Church.—Under the leadership of Dr. Sowell and the tactful guidance of the assistant pastor, student Lorenzo Pluis, this church, which had been sorely rent over an attempt to choose a pastor, has become more united in spirit again. It is a hive of activity. Open-air meetings are held in Plaza Once on Sundays. Out-stations are run by members of the church and the co-operation of Seminary students, at Ciudadela, Puente Alsina Crucecitas and Villa Devoto. A very successful meeting was conducted by Brother Elias of Rosario, during which a goodly number professed conversion.

Chacarita.—This church is a daughter of the Once. It is the church which, according to its pastor, Jose Paterno, has been doubled in every sense since his marriage in April. The tent mission, followed by special meetings in the hall, was a great blessing.

Caballito.—This is another daughter of the Once church. Student Daniel Daglio is the pastor. Work amongst young people is a special feature. Utterly inadequate hall accommodation is a severe handicap. It is impossible to invite new people, for there is no place to put them, and a continuous search for a more commodious place has proved fruitless. They ought to have the building the pastor sees in his day dreams and which is the object of the prayers of the members.

Palermo.—This is the ex-Italian church. A hall was secured in Palermo and it seemed as though real advance was to be made. Unfortunately a few of the members have imbibed some unsound teaching and have become dogmatic about it. The pastor, Don Nicolas Visbeek, is inflexibly orthodox, and as I prepare this report, word comes that he has resigned. The outcome will probably be the withdrawal of the mission grant to the church. That will mean advance by subtraction, strengthening by pruning.

BUENOS AIRES WESTERN DISTRICT. (In charge of Missionary Robert M. Logan.)

The Southern District Church.—Brother Juan Martinez, the pastor, has worked during the year with a tear in the one eye and a twinkle in the other. His wife has been seriously ill for nine months. The illness was caused in part by a fright received just after childbirth by the extravagant conduct of an unhinged Pentecostalist (Holy roller). In sending in his report he says: "This year the devil has sifted us like wheat. There has been an accumulation of circumstances, even in insignificant details in the family life of some members, that have combined to upset and deaden the work of the church."

But the cheerful note is also struck. Some members had to be called up for discipline. They came to the church meeting in which it was expected they would be expelled, to confess their faults with tears and to ask for forgiveness and reinstatement in the church.

Pentecostals and Seventh Day Adventists have given trouble, but the energetic action and convincing arguments of this Bible-steeped pastor won the day. This, coupled with the fact that there is hope of his wife's recovery, is where the twinkle comes in.

"Notwithstanding all," he says, "I have learned that our church is capable of enduring the hardest blows that the devil likes to give us."

But this is only part of that twinkle. On the ground that was secured and paid for by the church there stands a fine solid church building and pastorium. These buildings are part of the 75 Million Fund transported to Buenos Aires. Here is what Martinez has to say about it: "During the year we have built our new temple, for which we can praise the Lord and express our deepest gratitude to the mission for the generous way it helped us. It came as a great blessing to our church and to the whole work with it. We can preach better and to more new people in a month now than we could reach in a year in the old place. The services are always well attended and we are beginning to reap the new fruit."

Southwestern District Church.—The commodious building is proving a great boon to the work of this church of which Brother Logan is the pastor. Its strategic position is being revealed in unexpected fashion. During the past three years the district has undergone a complete transformation. The southwestern district is at present the centre of the greatest building activity. Quite near the church some 200 houses are being erected. The event of the year was a great evangelistic campaign with the tent. Nightly for five weeks from 300 to 400 people listened respectfully and attentively to the gospel message and quite a number of these are now regular attendants at the usual services. Brother Logan says: "The spirit of hearty goodwill and fellowship prevailing among our people is most encouraging."

Velez Sarsfield Church.—This church was in difficult straits at the beginning of the year. They had orders to quit their rented hall which had been sold. No other decent place could be found at a reasonable rental. With the help of loans a site was secured and a hall hurriedly built. A tent mission helped out for some weeks.

The removal to the new place has increased the attendance, especially the Sunday school. The Lord has set his seal on the work of Brother Garcia. Special meetings have been held and several baptisms have cheered their hearts.

Pergamino Church.—The young pastor of this church, Senor Carlos de la Torre, was sent as delegate to the Baptist World Congress in Stockholm. During his absence the brethren themselves carried on most of the services, but were helped by frequent visits from Brethren J. C. Quarles and Logan.

The new building is proving a great help in the work and vigorous evangelistic efforts are being put forth in all the surrounding district.

BUENOS AIRES, SOUTHERN DISTRICT. (In charge of Missionary Robert F. Elder.)

Calle Estados Unidos Church.—The veteran, Don Pablo Besson, though failing physically, maintains his intellectual vigor to a marvelous degree. The characteristic work of his church is well maintained. The congregation is larger than the membership, for many from other churches go to listen to his expositions and denunciations.

Constitucion Church.—Brother J. M. Rodriguez is gaining ground in the Constitucion church. He is getting round him an earnest group of those who have been converted under his own ministry. A change of hall has meant an increased congregation and Sunday school. Splendid open-air meetings are held on Sundays in a plaza nearby.

In sending in his report he says: "As you will see, we have not had any baptisms during the year, not because we have no candidates but because experience has taught us that it is better not to hurry in administering the rite, but to wait until there are conclusive proofs of the conversion of the applicants."

Brother Rodriguez adds: "The members who attend regularly have advanced spiritually—there is more spirituality, more love, more union and more activity in the work."

La Plata Church.—This church has the advantage of the leadership of Don Juan Varetto and that of his wife, who in her sphere is as excellent as he is in his, as well as the influence of his gifted daughters. Brother Varetto is in great demand for special meetings and is frequently away. Notwithstanding this, the work is progressing well. He has the efficient part-time help of his spiritual son, Brother Canclini, and a group of active young men and women who keep the outstations going. In Berisso a useful hall has been built and opened during the year. Two young men from this branch work are likely to enter the Seminary next session. Twenty members, mostly young people, are engaged in Sunday-school work.

Lincoln Church.—Progress is being made in this church, though it has been somewhat retarded by the ill health of the pastor, Don Lorenzo Mongay, who had to go away for a rest for two months. A branch work has been opened and is giving fruit both in the Sunday school and evangelistic efforts. A piece of land adjoining the hall has been bought, and this now gives us a fine property, with room for expansion.

Banfield Church has been consolidating the ingatherings of the previous year and is using its best elements for extending its borders. The fine spiritual tone of pastor and people makes it a joy to work with them.

Adrogue Church.—This is the two-year-old babe of the Convention. It is vigorous and aggressive. Since we came here the attendance at the Sunday school has more than doubled. A branch work has been opened at Marmol and cottage meetings are held in Turdera. An excellent building site has been secured, for the payment of which the church has made itself responsible with the hope that the Board will help with the building.

Lanus and Pringle Churches are struggling to maintain their ground, looking forward to days of greater blessing in the near future.

SANTA FE DISTRICT.

(In charge of Missionary T. B. Hawkins.)

The First Church of Rosario.—This self-supporting church is vigorous and aggressive. There is a delightful heartiness about their services. It was my privilege to spend a week with them holding special meetings, and both Pastor Elias and his earnest people won my heart. There is a fine group of young people. On Sunday afternoons a good open-air meeting is held in the park. The outstanding achievement of the year has been the building of a four-roomed house for the pastor, above the church building, at a cost of $6,000 (national currency), of which the mission gave $2,000 (national currency), the church being responsible for the balance. There is real sacrificial giving amongst the members.

There is a prosperous branch work in the house of a member.

The North District Church of Rosario.—"This church," writes Brother Hawkins, "has had, in many respects, the very best in its history. Nineteen hundred and twenty-two was an extremely hard year for the church, with many trials and tribulations. It came through them all finely and has, during 1923, been receiving great blessings from the Lord. Some fifty have been baptized, and there is a large waiting list. The church began the year in debt and ends up with several hundred pesos in the treasury. Probably the outstanding event of the year was the acceptance of the pastorate by Brother R. S. Hosford, who began the work and organized the church. The membership has responded finely to his leadership. The church is preparing an interesting building program, and is ready to begin on it as soon as arrangements can be made to sell the present property."

Arroyito District Rosario.—Led by student Antonio Caramutti this church has had a good year, in spite of the fact that their pastor lived in Buenos Aires and could only make a fortnightly flying visit. Good progress was made by the grading of their Sunday school and the organizing of two branch Sunday schools which have, unfortunately, had to be given up at the end of the year through lack of rooms in which to carry on, the owners of the rooms lent. both having to make other use of their rooms. There is a good B. Y. P. U. Brother Caramutti and the church are crying out for a much-needed building in which to carry on their extending work.

Rufino Church.—There has been good progress during the year. Difficulties there have been, but as Brother Hawkins says, "The difficulties were more personal than organic and so have not done a great deal of damage to the work. Speaking generally, there is a fine spirit among the members."

A branch preaching station and Sunday school has been opened and the attendance is good. Two rooms have been built for the pastorium without the aid of the mission, and the plan is to add two more shortly. Missionaries Sowell and Hawkins conducted a ten days' Sunday-school Institute which resulted in much advancement for the Sunday school.

Pastor Garcia holds fortnightly services in Diego de Alvear, a good-sized town some ten leagues from Rufino, and there is one applicant for baptism there.

San Jorge Church.—Brother Hawkins reports that this little church has had a quiet but fruitful year. Two deacons have been ordained and Brother Hawkins was called to act as pastor. He makes a monthly visit, the other services being conducted by Colporteur Natalio Broda. It is a country church with members scattered over a territory of twenty leagues. Services are also to be held in Sastre, San Martin and Rigby, where there are already some believers.

Santa Fe Church.—There has been a decided move forward this year. "This church probably has the largest attendance at its services of any church we have," is the verdict of Brother Hawkins. It is fortunate in having a goodly number of efficient members who can help in the preaching. With their help Pastor Julio Ostermann is able to have a preaching station at Candiotti and conduct open-air meetings every Sunday.

Rafaela Church.—This church was under the care of the Santa Fe church for some time. Brother Hawkins thinks that, considering its short history, it has probably had more difficulties than any other church in the mission. When Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins went there in the beginning of May there were but four members, and they were not on speaking terms. During the last months of the year things have changed. A neat preaching hall has been secured and nicely furnished. A branch station has been started which has a large attendance, and there have been definite results in conversions. Six have been baptized, and a goodly number are waiting for baptism. Three series of revival meetings have been held.

ANDES MOUNTAIN DISTRICT—MENDOZA. (In charge of Missionary F. J. Fowler.)

The Mendoza Church.—This work is unique. When you pass by rail over the San Luis desert you enter a new world on the western side. Everything looks and is different. It was my privilege as soon as the Seminary classes ended at the end of November, to go across and co-operate with Brother Fowler in a Bible School and Evangelistic mission for two weeks. From San Juan, La Paz, San Martin, Colonia Alvear, Monte Coman and the suburbs of Mendoza people came to study intensively God's Word. Some of these had a train journey of six hours. It was great to see them handle their Bibles and make notes. I rested and studied in a room where I could not help hearing some of their comments and discussions, and, fortunately, thereby had heart put into me. Some were billeted in the school building, just as I was. That fortnight was one of the happiest experiences of my missionary life. Every morning we gathered to study the Bible, there were some forty enrolled, and the attendance did not flag. Every evening we had fine evangelistic meetings that made the soul sing with joy.

The charm of the work is that it is Fowleresque. No one else could or would do things just as Brother Fowler does. In his own happy, original way he is reaching people and winning souls and creating in these a love for the Bible.

He has the help of an excellent colporteur, Brother Blasco, and a fine native Bible woman. Brother Teofilo Suarez has recently been located in San Juan, the capital of the province of that name, and is full of hope for the future.

The groups of believers in six or seven more or less distant towns all belong to the central church at Godoy Cruz, Mendoza. The day is not far distant when some of these, at least, will be organized into separate churches, and with their entity and personality will make that work show up to have the proportions it really has.

Student Villalon is spending his vacation up in that region. Brother Fowler has found a tent one of the best methods of reaching the people.

Mrs. Fowler has been conducting a Bible study class to prepare workers, using as a textbook one of those prepared by the publishing house in El Paso, Texas.

CORDOBA DISTRICT. (In charge of Missionary Martin S. Blair.)

This is a comparatively new district in which the work is steadily progressing under the quiet, strong, spiritual leadership of Brother Blair. Nineteen hundred and twenty-three has been a year of strengthening the stakes rather than of lengthening the ropes, an all-important bit of the work.

First Church, Cordoba.—Owing to the exorbitant demands of the owner for more rent, this church was compelled to look out for other quarters. There was such a scarcity of vacant houses that it was difficult to find anything suitable. At last a fairly good place was secured within two squares from the old hall. This change of only two squares, however, made quite a difference in the character of the congregation outside of the membership. About the same time several members moved to other parts of the city from which it was difficult to attend. Besides, the new district responded very slowly. "For these reasons," says Brother Blair, "there arose the temptation on the part of the pastor, Brother Gabriel Ostermann, and others to become discouraged. However, the situation is changing, and the spirit of discouragement has been overcome. The congregations are much better than before and there are a number of folks interested in their soul's salvation, and there are some already awaiting baptism. The outlook for the work at the beginning of the new year is really encouraging."

Brother Ostermann has given a good deal of his time to the day school which was opened at the beginning of the year.

West District Church, Cordoba.—Brother Blair reckons that the outward results of the year's work has not been all they have wished, for only three have been baptized, though there are others ready for baptism. In October a special meeting was conducted by Brother Elias of Rosario, when some twenty people indicated their purpose to follow Christ.

The church has followed the plan of dedicating thirty per cent of its offerings to its building fund and twenty per cent to missions. The Sunday school gives the same proportion to the same objects. The Sunday school has maintained an encouraging attendance and real application has been noted on the part of some scholars.

In April a property within half a square of the present rented hall was purchased. The house is old, and will have to be pulled down, but the lot was secured at a very reasonable figure, the amount of which came as a grant from the Board. The location is splendid, writes Brother Blair, just in the section we wished for.

A promising new work has been opened in San Martin, a suburb of Cordoba. It is a healthful place, from which comes the fine mineral water, "Agua San Martin," which is sold all over the city. The section is growing. It has not yet been possible to secure an adequate hall, though a room has been rented for temporary use. Brother Leon Moreau has charge of the services.

Capilla San Antonio Church.—The well-known Broda family is the backbone of this church. They built their own little chapel a little over a year ago, and are planning to enlarge it, all at their own expense. The work has prospered, and there have been conversions. An active B. Y. P. U. has been organized. There is no regular pastor, but Brother Pablo Broda, pastor of San Francisco Church, visits them occasionally and administers the Lord's supper.

San Francisco Church.—Brother Blair reports that the work has steadily advanced. The attendance is good, there are many interested people, and there have been several baptisms. Pastor Pablo Broda is spiritual and wideawake. The hall occupied at the beginning of the year was sold at public auction and had to be given up. On the very day of the sale another and better one was secured in the same section.

An annex Sunday school has been started during the year in the home of a friend, but the church plans to rent better quarters during the coming year and hold preaching services as well. The city has grown by leaps and bounds and there is a great opportunity.

The contributions of the church are increasing and it has the ideal of reaching self-support as soon as possible.

Leones.—As yet there is no organized church in Leones for Brother Jose Fontao and his wife have only been there a little over a year. Regular services with encouraging attendances are held and they are getting well into the confidence of the people.

Brother Blair reports having conducted a splendid series of meetings, when some twenty-five made profession of faith. There is a good element for a future church.

Leones is in the eastern part of the province, between the prosperous towns of Marcos Juarez and San Marcos, which are supported by rich farming districts. Brother Fontao visits these towns regularly and makes trips into the country districts.

ENTRE RIOS DISTRICT.

(In charge of Missionary Robert M. Logan.)

This district has assumed a new importance during the year. Previously a report was sent in concerning the one struggling church in the capital city, Parana. This year the German-speaking church in Ramirez, which is self-supporting, and has 251 members, was received into the Convention, and straightway invited the Convention to meet with them next time. Brother F. Leimann is the pastor. The little church in Gualeguay was also received into the Convention. It is the fruits of seed sown by Brother Logan years ago. There is no pastor, the services being conducted by Brother Juan Bidegaray.

More important still has been the opening of two new works. One in Paysandu, an important city on the River Uruguay and in the Uruguayan Republic. Brother Enrique Cabral was intrusted with this new work and has done splendidly. Brother Cabral, before his conversion, was a chief of police. He knows life and the customs of the people as few of us do, and is a capable man. God set his seal on the work from the beginning. In December they had their first baptisms, of which there were fifteen, and these with Brother Cabral, his wife and daughter were organized into a church. Brothers Logan, Freeman and Orrick took part on the glad occasion. Brother Logan reckons that those who were baptized are about the best group we have in the mission. Brother Cabral is visiting other places also. He has made friends with one of the chief railway men and has been generously granted a free pass on the railway. After referring to these visits in a recent letter he says: "The only thing we need is the money for rents and Brother Logan says: "We expect great things from the work in that region. If we can keep on extending our work in that direction we hope to join hands, at no very distant date, with our fellow workers in southern Brazil."

Another history-making event was the going of Missionary Freeman and his wife and baby to the fine commercial city of Concordia. What potentialities are wrapped up in that move! On November 18th, they opened the hall and had the co-operation of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Quarles for the opening meetings, which were good. During the vacation, Seminary student Ramon Vasquez is working with them. He is having good times. Brother Freeman wrote the other day, saying: "During last week we had services every night. Several made manifestations of having accepted the Savior."

Parana Church.—After finishing his theological studies in the Seminary, Brother Arturo Leimann was invited to the pastorate of the church in Parana.

He found in the beginning a good many difficulties to contend with. "Praise the Lord," he writes, "he has been by my side and has led on to victory. The difficulties have disappeared." He reports three baptisms and eight more applicants.

MONTEVIDEO DISTRICT.

(In charge of Missionaries Lemuel C. Quarles and B. W. Orrick.)

First Church, Montevideo.—Building fever has had this church in its grip during the year. Deferred hopes as to getting a large building induced enterprise in erecting two small ones. One of these was built at the back of the lot, where the main church building will some day rise. Attendance has more than doubled since the move into it was made. A nice group awaits baptism and there are other new people much interested and in earnest. The central Sunday school has grown in numbers and efficiency. A good hall has been rented in a section where they formerly had a work. In a new district a Sunday school has been carried on in cramped quarters, but the new hall being built there will soon be ready for possession. Brother Quarles has high praise for Miss Leonard. Whilst working at the language, she has been able to help in Sunday school and Young People's work, and has greatly helped in the better organization of both.

The Avenida General Flores Church, Montevideo.—This church was organized on March 25, 1923. There were nine charter members, six from the district joining after baptism and three transferred from the First Church. This number has now increased to nineteen. There are two out-stations, one of which gives great promise, being located in the growing suburb called Cerrito de la Victoria. The building microbe is in Brother Orrick's blood, too, and he wants to see halls built. The attendance has outgrown the capacity of the present premises. "No real progress can be made until a chapel is built." Brother Orrick asked for a grant with which to secure a lot and build a chapel, but like others he is on the waiting list.

In the other out-station there has been considerable opposition from the Roman Catholics, and the results have not been so good.

THE MISSION BOARD OF THE RIVER PLATE CONVENTION.

This fine piece of missionary work is at once a school for our churches as well as a splendid evangelizing agency. It is a school for some of our more capable business men, who are on the Board. The president, treasurer and secretary have grown up in Sunday school and church work and are developing administrative powers that will prepare them for greater things. The churches themselves are learning what the S. B. C. does for them, by doing the same thing for the works in Paraguay and Corrientes. At the last Convention it was decided to appeal to the members of the churches to raise $6,000 (national currency) for a building in Corrientes. Some of them have responded well.

The Asuncion Church, Paraguay.

Brother Enrique Molina and his wife have had a year of thrills, dangers, opposition, victories and great spiritual blessing. The country has been in the throes of revolution most of the year. This has made the work difficult and dangerous. The rebels made an attack on the city on one occasion, and part of the worst fighting took place in the street, where they live and work. They lay for hours with their mattresses over them, listening to the firing of machine guns, rifles and cannon. We in Buenos Aires had a fright, for a telegram stated that a man named Molinos, with his wife and child, had been killed in that very street. Fortunately, it was not Molina. Things have calmed down now.

Notwithstanding this, it has been a year of great blessing. Brother Molina has had the joy of baptizing twenty believers. He has opened two out-stations and has visited several other places occasionally. At one place a convert built a simple hall at her own expense in order that meetings might be held. In some parts he has met with considerable opposition, and even danger. After having been stoned in one town whilst holding an open-air meeting, but eventually securing thorough protection from the authorities, even securing the presence of the mayor of the town, he was to go to a place some three miles away for an afternoon meeting. He went, accompanied by two converted women. On the way they had to pass through a tobacco plantation. On the path they found the words, "You are going to see something here," written in Guarani. They did not give any importance to the matter and went on. Presently there was a shot from a Remington, the bullet passing between him and one of the women. The women screamed and ran. Two more shots were fired. Brother Molina, realizing that in all probability he was the prey they were after, threw himself on the ground and got round behind a large tree. Whilst there, two more shots were fired, accompanied by frightful, savage yells. As some moments passed without them firing again he went after the women to see whether they needed protection. Fortunately, nothing more happened. They arrived safely and had a good meeting. Fortunately, not much of that sort of thing takes place.

Brother Molina writes that a student has been converted who feels the call to preach and wishes to enter the Seminary.

Mendoza Church can be proud of her spiritual son and does count it a privilege to have given one of her sons to be the first Argentine missionary supported by an Argentina Board.

Corrientes Church.

Brother Molina writes that a student has been converted who feels the call a time of great trial early in the year through the death of his wife. He reports that seven are being prepared for baptism. The hall is often too small for the attendance. Sunday-school work is difficult through Roman Catholic influence, scholars being limited to members and their children. A branch of work has been opened in Resistencia, the capital of the Chace, just over the river from Corrientes. The Corrientes church pays the rent and steamer fare across the river. The attendance is very encouraging.

NORTH BRAZIL MISSION ANNUAL REPORT

By H. H. Muirhead.

When the history of Brazilian Baptists is written it will be revealed that in the year, 1923, some curves were passed that almost upset the old boat. But it is not for this rapid report to call attention to the number and length of the curves but to rejoice in the fact that the Captain of the boat is still at the helm and that it is still true that "all things work together for good to them that love the Lord." It is better to rejoice over the victories than to brood over the mistakes.

One of the results of the recent war is the reawakening of the spirit of nationalism the world over. And while some good has come from this new awakening there have not been wanting those who are ready to take advantage of the situation to advance their own personal interests. Thus has patriotism become a camouflage with which to hide a multitude of sins.

Brazil has not been an exception to the rule. The year opened with many threatening clouds hovering over the work and the workers but fortunately they have for the most part blown over, leaving all phases of the work in far better condition. Some valuable lessons have been learned that shall not easily be forgotten. Perhaps the most precious one is that the work is the Lord's and that He will not abandon it when the testing time comes.

Another lesson never to be forgotten is that the vast majority of the Brazilian Baptists can be counted upon to think straight and to act right. With a just and loving Father above and a loyal constituency surrounding one it is easy to look beyond present disappointments and to keep cheerful in the midst of the fight. Never was there a more loyal people than the Brazilians when once the light divine has shown into their hearts.

Lay Evangelism

During the year a new emphasis has been placed on lay evangelism with magnificent results.

In the city of Recife, Pernambuco, the pastors, missionaries and laymen have held a monthly workers' meeting in which the city has been mapped out and preaching places established in every important section. In this one city the number of churches has been doubled during the year. There are at present twenty-two churches and some fifty preaching places.

These splendid results have been accomplished largely through the activities of the laymen. It is no uncommon thing for a man to work all day and preach every night. A member of the Zumby church rarely ever eats dinner before ten o'clock at night. He goes from the London and Brazilian Bank where he works directly to some preaching point. Many times the preaching place is clear across the city from where he lives. Such a spirit will win anywhere as it is winning throughout all North Brazil.

The Blind Leading The Blind

Many noble examples of lay evangelism might be given but space will permit only of one.

For twenty years the missionaries have planned to open work in the great state of Ceara, all the while the two million souls living there have groped along in spiritual darkness. Early in the year Augusto Bello, the only blind colporteur in Brazil, spent a few weeks in the capital city, a city of near one hundred thousand, and as a result missionary Hayes was invited to go up there and organize a Baptist church of thirteen.

Augusto is about twenty-four years of age, tall and slightly built. It is inspiring to watch his face as he tells what God has wrought through his frail instrumentality. He is a good talker and limits his conversation almost exclusively to things of the Kingdom. Eternity alone will reveal the results of the work of this blind lay preacher.

Augusto lost his sight when quite a lad through using some strong and doubtful medicine to heal a small eye trouble. He was then compelled to earn his living by begging from town to town. Some years ago in his wanderings he called at the door of a missionary who like Peter and John of old had no gold nor silver to give him but who had the patience to tell him the story of the Christ and the blind. The gospel message took lodgement in his poor soul, resulting in his spiritual enlightenment.

It was through this frail instrument that the Lord saw fit to open up a new and important field, a field that had staggered the faith and courage of missionaries and pastors. Surely it was a case of the blind leading the blind.

The same missionary who won Augusto to the gospel bought him a Braille apparatus and a copy of John's Gospel. He, unaided, taught himself to read. He now reads and writes well, to the very great astonishment of the people, who think it a kind of miracle. No wonder when eighty per cent of those with two good eyes can do neither.

The missionary who has been his spiritual father writes this of him and his work: "Little by little I have trusted him with Scriptures, and sent him on little journeys, with a boy to guide him. He generally travels on foot from house to house and from village to village. Reading his Braille John aloud, he soon gathers a crowd around him, often of a class who would be more disposed to stone any ordinary colporteur, and then he offers his Scriptures for sale or preaches to the people. . . . He is quite a preacher. God has used his testimony to bring many to a knowledge of the truth. I chanced to hear him speak recently, and felt very deeply moved as I watched and listened. He preached on the story of the man born blind, and used it to illustrate his own experience in very rustic, crude, but most telling style, which held his hearers spellbound in attention."

A New Emphasis On Giving

Since the close of the war Brazil has been passing through a financial crisis. Crops and prices have been fairly good, but the price of the necessities of life has been almost beyond the reach of the common people. The working man has had a hard time feeding and clothing himself and family. Most of our members are from the working class. The churches were facing crushing deficits and the cause was suffering. Something has to be done. A new emphasis was placed on paying the tithe with the result that never did the churches handle such sums of money and never was there such enthusiasm and joy among the Lord's people. Hardship is a great teacher.

Real and Not Fictitious Co-operation

Some felt that the missionaries ought to turn over to a self-appointed committee of native pastors all funds coming from the Richmond Board and that the missionaries should retire from the direction of the work. In fact some preached openly that the missionaries are spies of the United States Government and enemies of the country, that they should be driven out, but that the American Baptists should not only continue to pay their bills but enlarge their pocket-books (that is, the bills and the pocket-books of a select few of the native pastors). This new doctrine coupled with a false patriotism led many astray. But most of the truly converted soon discovered that their leaders were only thinking of themselves and so left them.

A basis of real co-operation was then worked out to the satisfaction of missionaries and Brazilians. A beautiful spirit of harmony and peace and confidence now prevails. A real spirit of co-operation has been established and every phase of the work is feeling the results.

What The Statistics Say

The number of baptisms during the year is not smaller than in former years, though not so large as hoped for. However, when the small number of workers is taken into account the results of the year are remarkable. A few less than one thousand were baptized on profession of faith. Some thirty new churches were organized. Three new State Conventions were organized, viz., Bahia, Pernambuco and Parahyba. One new State, Ceara, the last in the United States of Brazil to be entered, was occupied during the year. But perhaps the greatest gain has been in the deepening of the spiritual life among the missionaries, pastors and members of the churches.

The Schools

Our three schools: Collegio Taylor-Egydio in the interior of the state of Bahia, the Industrial Institute in the state of Piauhy and the College and Seminary in the state of Pernambuco were filled to overflowing and in every respect enjoyed a remarkably good year.

Besides these larger schools a number of church schools were maintained. The College and Seminary had an enrollment of 687. The Young Women's Missionary Training School did splendid work and had an enrollment of fifty.

The greatest thing about all these institutions is that the religious life grows stronger year by year. The number of believers and believers' children in the Bahia and Piauhy schools was to the rise of fifty per cent while in the Pernambuco institution it was more than forty per cent. There was a larger number of baptisms among the students last year than in any previous year.

The son of a wealthy sugar planter matriculated in the Pernambuco College three years ago. He would not study and his deportment was such that at the middle of 1922 he was sent home. His chief delight was in persecuting the Christian students. His father was very angry because the boy was sent home and demanded an explanation. He was told the truth. He sent the boy to the cane field with a hoe. Six months later the boy asked the father to let him go back to school. The father agreed to let him have one more chance. tunately the President of the College was in the states on furlough. Mr. Jones, the acting President, knew nothing about the past history of the boy. was admitted and became interested in the gospel. One of the first acts of the President on his return was to bury Jose in baptism. Just before leaving for his home at the close of the year he called at the President's office and asked to be admitted as a ministerial student the coming year. The President said to him: "Jose, how many people live on your father's plantation?" "Eight hundred," was the reply. "How many are Christians?" asked the President. "None," was the answer. "Well, Jose," said the President, "go home and preach the gospel to those eight hundred people and then come back at the beginning of the new year and we will talk about your acceptance into the Seminary." Jose accepted the challenge. He has not yet returned but good reports have come of his work. He writes that many are ready for baptism. The plantation is in a country where we have no work.

This is only one of the many concrete examples of the work of our schools as evangelistic agencies. President Muirhead has more than fifty college students in his young men's Sunday school class and Miss Fuller has half as many young women in her class.

Changes in the Working Force

The latter part of August Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Downing sailed for the homeland. They had been in Recife only a few months but in that short time had won the hearts of many. Dr. Downing preached practically every night he was in the city and by his medical skill relieved the physical troubles of many during the day. Prior to their coming to Recife the Downings had labored in Piauhy and Bahia.

Only a few weeks later brother R. S. Jones and family were forced on account of Mrs. Jones' run-down condition to sail for the homeland. They had been on the field a little less than four years, but had accomplished more than many who have spent longer periods of service. In fact they overworked. Few new missionaries have been called upon to assume such heavy responsibilities and have responded so willingly. Their influence was felt in the College, the churches and the denomination at large. Word has come that after four successful operations Mrs. Jones is rapidly regaining her strength and will be able to return to the work the latter part of the year. For this good news we give thanks to our Heavenly Father.

Just as the Downings and the Jones were leaving for the homeland two new missionary couples arrived: H. E. Crouch and wife and John Bice and wife. From the moment they landed they semed to understand their new surroundings and to fit into the work. They have spent the last few months studying the language. After a year's study they will choose their fields. Their very presence among us is an inspiration.

In October brother A. E. Hayes and family moved from Recife to Parahyba and brother Hayes took charge of the evangelistic work in the states of Parahyba and Rio Grande do Norte. His field has since been extended to the state of Ceara. Thus it is that one more teacher leaves the schoolroom and gives himself to evangelistic work. Brother Hayes came to Brazil as a layman. At last he yielded to the call of the Holy Spirit and in April was ordained to the gospel ministry. The Lord has richly blessed his life and work.

The Gospel Still the Power of God

A lady living in the city of Uniao, Alagoas, upon the death of her father fell heir to a small income. The one ambition of her life is to buy a house and offer it to the little struggling church as a place of worship. Over the protest of her family, one of the most prominent in the city, she is generously giving twenty per cent of her small income to that end. By the close of the present year the church should be in its new house, the gift of gratitude of this new convert.

Pastor Eloy, evangelist in the state of Alagoas, writes: "In the vicinity of Vicosa there lived a notorious character, the chief of an outlaw gang, in whose house I had the privilege of preaching several times. The first time I spoke there the chief blew his horn and immediately there came together a large number of ruffians, all armed to the teeth. Said the chief, "Men, I called you to hear the gospel." He now goes unarmed and insists that those living on his place shall not go to the services armed. Last October a mob of fanatics attacked me. When he heard about it he had difficulty in controlling himself. As he paced up and down the floor of his own room he said, "If this had happened a few months earlier I would have taught those persecutors a lesson, they would have bit the ground for their folly, but now I know better." His friends and neighbors say: "Senhor Oliveira is muchly regenerated."

"In the vicinity of San Miguel de Campos Mr. Mein and I rested in the house of a certain gentleman to whom we tried to preach the gospel, but he did not want to hear it. On leaving we gave him some tracts. Months afterward we passed by the same place and he recognized us and showed himself much elated over our presence. He urged us to stop over but we could not as our journey had been already planned. We left him another supply of tracts which he promised to read.

"In Limoeiro we suffered persecution for three years. A few months ago we went there and could not find a place to rent. We preached on the public square for three afternoons. We offered to pay six months' rent in advance but nobody would rent to us. Recently a prominent man in the city offered us his house and we have preached there to great crowds that give perfect attention. The people in that little town are showing great interest in the gospel.

"A lady, owner of a plantation in Lagoa Nova, visited the city of Uniao where she heard the gospel for the first time. She immediately accepted the good news. At first her husband made objection, but now defends the gospel and has refused to act as godfather and to contribute to the support of the Catholic Church.

Our Greatest Need

Never was North Brazil so open to the gospel mesage. Our greatest need is for a sufficient missionary force to carry the living water to the thirsty souls. Oh that Southern Baptists would not only pray to the Lord of the harvest that He send more laborers into the whitened harvest, but would make it possible for the many who are ready to come to come at once! A dozen new missionary couples could be distributed throughout this vast field to great advantage. Brethren, help us enter the many open doors ere they are closed forever.

SOUTH BRAZIL MISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

By S. L. Watson.

The 75 Million Campaign in the South and the Baptist Name and Spirit in Brazil.

The name "Baptist" has a varied significance and influence in the several states and localities in South Brazil. It is sometimes confused with the surname of many Brazilian families. But the time has come when there be few who do not know that the Baptists are "evangelists." There was a time when throughout the country the Baptists were scorned in society and often boycotted in business. Now, at least in the larger centers, the people called Baptists are today held in high esteem in the business world for their integrity and are winning favor socially. This change has come as the result of the practical demonstration of the new birth Christianity through the years and also as a consequence of the great growth of our evangelistic, educational and publishing forces. The 75 Million Campaign has doubled in Brazil all these forces, and the name Baptist is entering a new era, one of respectability and power.

Five years ago Brazilian Baptists knew but little of the Baptist world, and felt themselves to be a "sect" with no prestige. The 75 Million Campaign came from heaven to the Southland and the mighty forces of Southern Baptists were heralded to their brethren in other lands. Colleges have been organized, dormitories and administration buildings have been erected, new missionaries have come to strengthen the lines, greater funds have put more native workers into the field, and the Glad Tidings have been published through millions of pages of literature. Brazilian Baptists have come to realize that they are a part of the Baptist world, and have some into a consciousness of their own strength and spiritual power.

Caution.

This is a period to which the prophet on missions could have pointed one as the coming era of self-consciousness and of seeking independence from foreign denominational hegemony. It is the period in the growth of missions which every missionary should hail with glad welcome. Nevertheless it is accompanied with a twofold danger. First, the "independents" become radical; and second, the "regulars" would remain too conservative. Both must recognize that gradual "devolution in missions" is natural and inevitable. The Foreign Mission Board fosters Evangelization, Education and Publication. When the Brazilian Baptist Convention develops efficient hospital, aged ministers' relief funds and orphanages and together with these carries on effectively its national and foreign mission programs, then it will have a large and ever-increasing corps of strong men from which to choose its leaders and will have years of experience as an asset in carrying out its program for complete self-direction and independence of foreign leaders and money. As yet the so-called "radicals" of the nationalistic movement have not mustered their forces in the south of Brazil, and it is still hoped that Christian co-operation can continue without interruption and that, at the same time, the nationalistic spirit, which justly demands the fullest liberty, will find ample fields of activity and satisfactory and untrammeled expression.

Withal, there are, in this nationalistic movement, which is strongest in North Brazil, elements that are neither nationalistic nor even national. It is from these that we are forced to fear great evils. There is much unoccupied territory in Brazil, to which regular missionary Baptists are implored to come, but God grant that none of his servants in the wonderful Southland, however much they may be severed from the Southern Baptist Convention, shall add fuel to schismatic flames in Brazil!

Recruits.

During the year of 1923 the following new missionaries have come to preach the Christ to Christless Christians (?) of this Roman Catholic commonwealth: W. H. Berry and wife, located in Curityba; Misses Ione and Ray Buster, Lucia Rodwell, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Duggar, and Mr. Harley Smith, for the present in the Language School at Rio de Janeiro; and Miss Helen Bagby, of Sao Paulo. We give to all these our most cordial welcome into the ranks, privileges and responsibilities of the South Brazil Mission.

Losses.

While this is not the fitting page for the obituary of our greatly esteemed and beloved brother, Dr. J. J. Taylor, still our pen will not hush till our sincere grief, that of every South Brazil missionary and that of many thousands of Brazilians, be tolled in dirgeful notes to the surviving members of his family and to the hosts of Southern Baptists. Dr. Taylor was for years a missionary in South Brazil. His work as preacher, as teacher, as writer, as evangelist, as pastor, will stand and only eternity will reveal the fulness of his years spent in the Land of the Southern Cross. Now that he was called home, who will come to take his place here in this needy land?

After several months of very successful work in the Rio College and Seminary, Dr. F. M. Purser felt constrained to return to the States, leaving Rio about the middle of September. He carried with him resolutions, unanimously adopted by the South Brazil Mission in session, expressing high esteem and love for him and regrets that we should be deprived of his companionship. He and Mrs. Purser and their charming little daughter, Mary Elizabeth, won our affections. Brazil's great loss is America's great gain.

Missions Classified.

All mission work is evangelistic. And yet we speak of evangelization, education, et cetera. For the sake of clearness, however, let us classify the various phases of the work as Churches, Schools, Church Buildings, Orphanages, National Missions, Foreign Missions, and the "Grande Campanha."

Churches.

Under this general head come the several divisions of the work of churches.

1. Evangelization.—The statistics which we have so far been able to compile show about 1,565 baptisms in South Brazil, distributed as follows: Victoria, 300; Rio State Field, 500; Rio de Janeiro, 190; Minas Geraes, 201; Matto Grosso, 18; Sao Paulo, 212; Parana-Sta. Catharina, 100; and Rio Grande do Sul, 44. Greater emphasis than ever has been placed on education in the churches and congregations, and also on church buildings. There have also been other distracting forces. But the era through which the denomination is passing in Brazil should be characterized by the most thorough-going popular training in doctrine, church polity, intra-denominational co-operation, and common school education. The disturbed waters demand that the Baptists' anchor hold firmly to the unchanging teaching of God's Word.

The spirit of personal evangelism is strong and active. There are many, many laymen who preach. It is rare that a believer will not lead in prayer. The great commission is believed and obeyed by the vast majority of Baptists, who are anxious to see their loved ones and friends saved from everlasting perdition to the life in the Christ.

- 2. Sunday Schools.—The whole denomination is permeated with the great necessity of and good to be derived from the Sunday schools. In the secretary's report on Sunday morning, appears the item of the number of Bibles in the school. The Word, which is denied the Catholic, is the believer's beloved companion. In connection with the Carrol Memorial Publishing House, Brother T. B. Stover is serving all of Brazil as Sunday School Secretary. His capacity and gifts for this work are already manifesting themselves, although he has been here but little more than a year. A still greater day is ahead. The number of Sunday schools has not augmented to any great extent during the year. The work has rather been intensive than extensive.
- 3. The Women's Societies.—A very large majority of the churches have societies, and they are far more zealous for the work of the Master than we often think possible under existing conditions. The work is organized under the Brazilian National Convention, with Miss Ruth Randall as President, and Mrs. S. L. Ginsburg, Corresponding Secretary. The W. M. U. of Brazil is growing stronger, now that it has been reorganized on its old basis.
- 4. The B. Y. P. U.—There is perhaps no phase of the work more flourishing than that of the Young People. Brother T. B. Stover is also secretary of this branch of the work for all Brazil. As never before the B. Y. P. U. work is progressing by leaps and bounds. The churches are fostering this part of the work with much zeal.
- 5. Children's Societies.—Brother and Sister Reno have been the pioneers in developing Children's Societies as they have been in fostering B. Y. P. U. work. This phase of the work of the churches is comparatively in its beginning.
- 6. Publications.—In addition to the general organ of the denomination, "The Jornal Baptista," each state organization has its own paper, which is, as a rule, distributed free. These papers are supported by contributions of the churches. They have other literature also, such as tracts, Sunday-school literature, W. M. U. Quarterly, and B. Y. P. U. magazine, furnished by the Baptist Publishing House.
- 7. Self-support.—The natural course to pursue by a church which receives aid from the funds of the Foreign Mission Board, is gradually to reduce this aid till it becomes wholly self-supporting. The State of Rio, the largest Baptist work of all Brazil, is in the lead for self-support. But the time has not yet come when appropriations for the support of churches can be reduced on the whole. The calls for opening new work demand the continuation of large appropriations, for Baptists can not leave Brazil till this country knows the Christ as do the Americans.

Schools.

South Brazil now has a central state school in each of its fields, with only one or two exceptions.

The Victoria School, directed by Brother L. M. Reno, already has a long history. It has now many of its old students stationed in the primary schools in various parts of the state. Its program is thoroughly Christian, it is evangelistic. The gospel is taught in both the day school and the night school. President Reno says that his students of even the night classes get more of the gospel than his Sunday-school pupils.

The Campus School is likewise doing a great work under the direction of Brother L. M. Bratcher, who unfortunately must soon leave for his furlough. In his absence the native board will have full charge of the school. This field is to be congratulated on this step towards assuming the responsibility of the education of its constituency.

Bello Horizonte School serves the State of Minas Geraes. F. A. R. Morgan and wife have proven their capacity for this work. The great need here is for more buildings. The property which the school occupies was bought four years ago for a fourth of what it would sell for today. This school has put Baptists in Minas on the map.

The Woman's College in Sao Paulo occupies the largest school building owned by Baptists in South America. President Ingram and wife are filling it with boarding students. In connection with this central state school they have a kindergarten course in which teachers are trained. The school seeks also to foster primary schools. This Woman's College stands for the education of women, than which there is no greater need on this field.

In Curityba Brother W. H. Berry has recently opened up a central school for that great and promising field. He has been providentially led to a good property which he will occupy with the school till the Board may be able to buy and build. He has already shown tact, wisdom and general ability in this school. God bless him!

Rio Grande do Sul also has a prosperous school. But the report of this institution has not been received as yet.

The one school which has been most highly developed by the Foreign Mission Board in Brazil is the Rio College and Seminary. We do not give report of it here for its report appears elsewhere.

All of these schools are emphasizing evangelism in their teaching and general school life. Each one prides itself on its being thoroughly Christian, in so far as it is possible in both student body and faculty.

Church Building and Loan.

The South Brazil Building and Loan Board has served and is still serving the needy churches in their struggle to acquire suitable buildings for the worship of God. In every state of South Brazil there are examples of its practical good. Many churches are taking heart which for long years would have continued inactive but for the good of this Board. About forty-five churches at present are receiving aid from this source. In this work the Foreign Mission Board has deposited about $65,000. Greater results for the same money could hardly be produced.

National Missions.

The Brazilian Baptist Convention has been working in co-operation with the Foreign Mission Board from the time of its organization more than fifteen years ago. The one task is to evangelize Brazil. In addition to the work as organized with the missionaries largely in charge, there is a Board of National Missions. The funds to this Board are contributions from the native churches and do not come from Richmond. It is worthy of note that the Convention is assuming the responsibility of evangelizing its own territory. During the current year, the secretary of this Board has financed a trip to the Indians made by Benedicto O. Propheta. There are perhaps as many as 800,000 Redskins who know nothing of the gospel.

The work done in the State of Goyaz has been conducted by Dr. S. L. Ginsburg, partly as National Missions and partly as work sustained by the Foreign Mission Board. Dr. and Mrs. Ginsburg are praying that God will raise up a missionary couple to take over that very promising field and develop it for the Master.

Foreign Missions.

Brazilian Baptists are very anxious to evangelize Portugal, the mother country. Work is carried on there through a Board of Foreign Missions of the National Convention. This Board maintains one missionary in Portugal and supports a growing work.

"Grande Campanha."

The 75 Million Campaign echoed to Brazil and this took form in the organization of the "Grande Campanha," or Great Campaign. The reports show that the contributions have been in excess of the quota each state assumed to raise. During 1923, in the city of Rio de Janeiro, the contributions more than trebled their quota per member. Several other fields have likewise gone far beyond their apportionment. Brazilian Baptists have taken seriously their pledge in the "Grande Campanha."

Gleanings.

Victoria.—"Seventeen of twenty-two schools reported, giving a total of 819 students under rigid Christian instruction. The day school in the city matriculated 219, of which forty were boarding girls and fifty-four were boarding boys. Practically all our churches are self-supporting. Comparatively speaking, this field for many years has taken first place in Sunday schools, B. Y. P. U.'s, Woman's Work and Children's Societies for all Brazil. Our state work is handled by a State Board, of which Brother Reno is Educational Secretary and Brother Almir Goncalves is Evangelistic Secretary. Brother Almir has his work organized into departments as follows: B. Y. P. U. with Miss West in charge; Sunday schools with Jose de Miranda Pinto leading; and Woman's Work led by Mrs. Reno.

Our six colporteurs have done much effective work in spreading the gospel. It is proverbial that the absence from the field of Mr. and Mrs. Reno makes but little difference in the ongoing of the work. (Their work is solid.) Two more seminary-prepared men came to us during the year. The popular subscription among the business houses of the city in favor of the school proved the favor the institution is enjoying in this state capital. The opposition of the Bishop was all but swamped. The Catholic Cathedral stands still half constructed, due to the fact that the Baptists refused to accept state aid at a time when the Catholics were trying to get a good rake-off for their building. What we most need is money.

Fluminense Field (State of Rio).—"We organized and received four churches during 1923, making a total of sixty-seven in the state. A full report would show nearly 700 baptisms and contributions amounting to more than 250 thousand milreis ($42,000). These churches are manned by twenty-nine pastors and seventeen evangelists. Five men were ordained during the year and five have finished their seminary courses. Fifty-three churches are on self-support. Nineteen churches are pastorless. The sixty-seven churches own sixty-two buildings, which have a value of about 735 thousand milreis ($125,000); and only two of them have money of the Foreign Mission Board invested in them. During 1923, eighteen houses were built, bought or adapted for church purposes. In this field there are more than eighty Sunday schools and over 6,000 scholars. The twelve institutes held during the year in different places are still producing results in the development of the Sunday-school and B. Y. P. U. work.

"The Fluminense Field (State of Rio) is organized with a State Convention of sixty-seven churches. It is also organized into five associations, or rather this organization is being made. The Macahe Association is composed of fifteen churches. The North Fluminense is composed of thirteen churches. The Parahyba Association is composed of eleven churches, while the Portella Association will be composed of eighteen churches. Each association has a board and secretary through which the State Board and its organizations work and co-operate.

"The organizations and institutions maintained by the State Convention in co-operation with the Associations are: The State Board, which raised 26:000$000 ($4,500) and distributed for different purposes; the Building and Loan Society, which had a movement of 62:965$790 ($15,000); the Baptist Hospital Fund, which is about 40:000$000 ($7,000) in money and 30:000$000 ($5,500) in pledges; the Annuity Fund for old ministers, which is just beginning but has twenty-three members and a fund of 1:000$000 ($180); and the Campos School, which matriculated 236 students in 1923, which has property to the value of perhaps 400:000$000 ($70,000) and had a financial movement of nearly 100:000$000 ($18,000).

"The educational work in the churches is not up to their needs. There are twelve day schools with 463 students. There are some four or five more schools that are to organize to begin in March of 1924. The women are doing a notable work. There are fifty-two Women's Societies with 3,000 members, with thirty-nine Children's Societies with 1,500 members. These societies have done a good work, being social, evangelistic and educational. They contributed more than 8:000$000 ($1,200) for missions and other purposes."

Matto Grosso.—"We have three churches, three congregations, and 100 members. Eighteen were baptized. The country work is very encouraging. Mrs. Sherwood and I are alone, so far as workers are concerned. I always think there is something better just ahead."

Sao Paulo.—"We gained nearly 200 members during the year 1923. Our contributions went far beyond any previous year. One new church was organized and one or two congregations are about ready to be organized. Sixteen of our eighteen churches have their own buildings. The school work was very prosperous. Many of the girls were baptized upon a profession of their faith. Doors are opening everywhere. We are unable to take advantage of the many opportunities that come. We very sorely need one or two evangelistic missionary couples to help us extend the work in the vast interior."

Parana-Santa Catharina.—"We have taken two great centers, Ponta Grossa and Joinville. We have constructed two frame buildings and two of brick and stone. One of these is located in Curityba. It is constructed on plan XXIII of Dr. Burroughs' book of Plans. We can care for a Sunday school of 500. We have gained two hundred (200) new students in our Sunday schools."

Rio de Janeiro.—"There were 194 baptisms. Our colporteurs sold more than 3,000 books, including Bibles and Testaments, and distributed thousands of tracts. The B. Y. P. U. work of this capital is progressing finely. The City Unions are publishing a monthly paper of their own. The work of the Baptist Publishing House greatly influences that of our Convention. Nineteen hundred and twenty-three was a very fine year for the Sunday-school work. Three day schools had a total matriculation of 326 students. We are in an era of church building. The Ladies' Societies are flourishing. The old First Church, with Pastor F. F. Soren, is doing its usual great work. Dr. Soren is working hard to get Ifis building under construction."

Minas Geraes.—"We have 988 Baptists in this field. There are ten missionaries and native pastors to preach the gospel to six millions of lost souls. A letter to us says: 'Please give me the information how to enter the Baptist religion.' This letter reveals the longing of a soul for knowledge and light, and utter ignorance of the true religion and of the Bible. Another says: 'What should a believer (not yet baptized) do about marrying a Catholic girl? Shall I confess to the priest (as all Catholics do before marrying)? What does the Bible teach as to mass and its value?' And still another letter asks: 'When I was a Catholic I stole, and now I am saved and want to restore what I have stolen, but I cannot find the ones robbed, what must I do with the money?' A modern Zacchaeus converted! Contributions amounted to over $10 per capita. One man was ordained. Two church houses were built. The church in the capital, Bello Horizonte, is still worshiping in a rented store-house. We need money to erect a building on a fine lot already in our possession. Our college is doing splendid work. One hundred and thirty students were enrolled last year. We need urgently money to erect a part of the future buildings. We are often in prayer that there may be a glorious victory at home the last year of the Campaign! Thou art so able, help, Lord!"

Rio Grande do Sul.—"We had forty-eight baptisms; an increase of ten per cent of our total membership. There are five missionaries and six native workers. Our school had an enrollment of fifty-eight. We have nine churches and thirteen out-stations."

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL AND B. Y. P. U. BOARD OF BRAZIL.

Our organization is modeled in general after that of the Sunday School Board of Nashville. The workers and their work are as follows:

- S. L. Watson is the general secretary.
- L. T. Hites is the business manager.
- W. E. Entzminger is the book editor.
- T. B. Stover is the Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. director.

We do not relate here the long history of the Carroll Memorial Baptist Publishing House of Brazil, but justice demands that a word be said about the leading place of this institution in the denomination in Brazil. Since 1900 the Publishing House has been putting out newspapers, tracts, Sunday-school literature, books, and selling all kinds of evangelical works that exist in Portuguese. The denomination has looked to the House for these things and has not been disappointed.

Dr. Entzminger has been with the House almost constantly since its organization. He has won the hearts of thousands by his fruitful and readable pen. He is today making the creation of a permanent literature his specialty. In all the continent there is not a better man for this work.

Brother Theodore Rodrigues Teixeira has also accompanied the institution for all these years. His services as editor and writer are invaluable. He has been the salvation of the work, from certain angles, more than once. To mention these names is to think of the Publishing House and to mention the Publishing House is to think of these names.

Dr. Entzminger's work is so related to that of the general production of books that we desist from putting in a separate section of this report for his department. The statistical table and financial phases of this document substitute much that might be said in words. Then there is the greater part of our work that cannot be related. Only eternity will reveal the real effects of the various activities of this institution,

THE CARROLL MEMORIAL BAPTISTA PUBLISHING HOUSE, RIO DE JANEIRO.

By L. T. Hites.

The past year has been the most prosperous in many ways, that we have yet experienced. More books were printed, more tracts distributed, more friendships gained and held, than ever before.

Let us give below in more detailed form some of these movements during the year past.

Books.—During the year we completed the final correction of the Cantor Christao, or hymn book in Portuguese, and printed an edition of 20,000 copies. It required almost two years of constant work to complete the correction, and needed the combined talent of several strong men; but at last it is done, and we are happy. The denomination will also be happy, for today, as this is written, we are offering the book to the denomination.

Other Books.—McDaniel's book on Churches of the New Testament has been translated and published, and is serving a good use. A book on Heroes and Martyrs of the Christian Faith has been put into Portuguese from the Spanish, and is having a rapid sale. A new Manual for the B. Y. P. U. has been translated, adapted, and is now going into all our churches. McGlothlin's book on Infant Baptism has been printed, and is only waiting the binding. A new book on Translations from and Traditions of the early Jews has been prepared by a noted journalist here, Dr. Nicolau Rodrigues, and is having a rapid sale. Wallace's book on What Baptists Believe has been printed, and occupies its just position on the Sunday School Normal Course. We have taken off a new edition of Dr. Love's book, The Baptist Position and the Position for a Baptist, and distributing this on all hands.

Tracts.—During the year we printed and distributed 170,000 tracts, amounting 1,700,000 pages. We have three ways of handling the tract distribution work:

(1) Wherever the churches or societies can pay for them, we urge that they purchase the tracts outright for distribution. (2) When the churches are hard pushed for funds, but show a willingness, we urge them to pay whatever they can, say about half the cost of the tracts. (3) We have our own missionaries and colporteurs, who distribute millions of pages as they go about their work of soulfeeding among the multitudes. By these means, the $4,000 which the Board grants for this free propaganda work is more than doubled, and the work is more efficiently done. Among the tracts of greatest usefulness are those on soul-winning, and the best of these, and the one which has had the widest distribution during the year, has been by Dr. Love on "How Shall I Be Saved?"

Sunday School Literature.—The House published a whole series of Quarterlies: (1) for Adults; (2) for Intermediates; (3) for small children; (4) for the B. Y. P. U.; (5) for the women's work; (6) a Child's Gem for distribution weekly in the Sunday school. During the year there were 83,000 quarterlies issued, amounting to a total of nearly 4,000,000 pages. In a denomination which now numbers less than 30,000 members, this is pretty good distribution, so we think.

Bibles—We sell quantities of Bibles in our book-store; we distribute quantities in the jails, and through the mail to many customers, but nothing in comparison to what we would have to do, were the American and the British Foreign Bible Societies not working so efficiently in the field. During 1923 we distributed 2,980 Bibles, Testaments and portions, 439,000 pages.

Bible Society of Los Angeles.—We should mention in this connection the fine work done by the Bible Society in Los Angeles, which has distributed many thousands of copies of "Selected Portions of the Word of God" in Brazil throughout the year We are now printing an edition of 25,000 copies of this work, at the cost of the Society, which will be used for free distribution during 1924.

The Jornal Baptista is the official organ of the National Baptist Convention, and for that reason has a nation-wide influence and acceptation. We have been constantly looking for a good Brazilian to take over the editorship of the paper, but up to now have not been able to find THE man. The paper has a weekly circulation of 3,500 copies, which is not so bad in a denomination of less than 30,000 people, some of whom cannot read as yet.

Properties.—Our present prosperity is due to three main sources of support: (1) Mrs. J. S. Carrol, who contributed several years ago the funds necessary to purchase our present plant, and (2) our Foreign Mission Board, which each year is contributing the funds necessary to maintain the work in prosperity and growth. (3) From the sale of some products there is a small profit, which goes immediately into the general propaganda and development of the House.

Printing Plant.—For several years the House functioned entirely in the beautiful chacara purchased through the generosity of Mrs. Carroll, in one of the suburbs of Rio de Janeiro. Three years ago, with the increase of movement, it became necessary to bring the office and editorial and store-rooms to the center of the city, and we rented a small office. One year ago we were crowded out of that office, and rented an entire house on one of the business streets. On the ground floor we have our book-store, shipping room, and business office; and upstairs we have the editorial rooms. We have to pay $200 a month rent for this house, but the many thousands of purchasers who come make it well worth while.

For several years past, we have been crowded—badly crowded, in the printing plant in the suburbs. We have reached the saturation point, where we cannot install any more machinery, although this is badly needed, and where we can hardly produce any more than we are, for lack of space.

Our New Plant.—Two years ago, through the generosity of the Board, we purchased a property, measuring fifteen meters by fifty-six meters, facing the door of the city hall, on which we plan to construct our permanent house. With the fall in contributions, the Board has until now been unable to grant us the money to build. We have at last determined to make a venture, build our new house from the working capital, move in, and then sell the plant in the suburbs, to refund the money to the capital. Today, as this is being written, we have put the first men into the old buildings which encumber the property, and they are commencing the tearing away, in order to put the permanent plant there. We are happy.

DEPARTMENT OF SUNDAY SCHOOLS AND B. Y. P. U. By T. B. Stover.

The work of this department is national in its scope and has for its end the encouragement of better and more efficient organization of all Sunday schools of Brazil. This naturally includes more adequate buildings, modern equipment, trained officers and teachers consecrated to their task of winning souls to Christ. As to the B. Y. P. U., this department has for its work the introduction of the young people's organization into the majority of our churches. In the larger cities and in other places where the work is oldest, the B. Y. P. U. has been functioning for several years, but for Brazil as a whole the work is new. Naturally here, as in the Southern Baptist Convention, the work requires attention, both from office headquarters and on the field.

Field Work.—Brother T. B. Stover, who is in charge of this department of the Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. Board at present, has to divide his time between the duties which naturally devolve upon office headquarters, and the duties of a field Secretary for both Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. When we consider the fact that it is near three thousand miles between the southern and northern limits of our fields of work, it is needless to remark that both office and field duties are bound to suffer. Being a new man, he has spent the greater part of this year in language study and in visiting the various fields getting acquainted with the workers and their local needs, with a view to organizing and conducting the national Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. work upon the lines most helpful to the present situation. To this end he visited many of the state conventions.

New Material Prepared.—For the B. Y. P. U.: First of all a Study Course was founded with the new B. Y. P. N. Manual by Leavell as the basis for the diploma. This book was translated and modified where necessary, and is now ready for use. A beautiful diploma was designed and printed to be given as award to those successfully completing the study of the B. Y. P. U. Manual. Envelopes for the secretary's report were also prepared.

The report of the progress made in the Normal Training Course work for officers and teachers of the Sunday schools is very incomplete because complete reports have not come in from all the fields. We have actual record of sixty-four Diplomas awarded for the New Normal Manual, and 160 seals given for other books of the course. It is practically a certainty that fifteen or twenty other diplomas have been awarded and more than that number of seals, but it is impossible to state the actual number.

The Study Course for the B. Y. P. U. was just founded this year and the new B. Y. P. Manual was not ready for use until the last of the year. However, the enterprising Union in Bello Horizonte secured two or three copies of the English Manual and studied in English and had their teacher to explain in Portuguese, completed the course and six received their B. Y. P. U. Diploma.

RIO BAPTIST COLLEGE AND SEMINARY

By J. W. Shepard.

Each succeeding year of its history sees, under the blessing of Providence, an increase in the usefulness of our college and seminary in Rio de Janeiro. Just now this institution has reached a tide in the confidence and esteem of the Brazilian public which makes it difficult to provide accommodations for the rapidly increasing number of students which flows toward it. The growth in the student body which for the first twelve years of its history was gradual has during the past five years been greatly accelerated.

The college has reached a matriculation which at the close of 1923 approximated 800; the theological seminary had over sixty fine students from practically all the states of southern Brazil, and the normal school numbered some forty odd young ladies and young men. Exclusive of the salaries of five missionary families and three young lady teachers the institution was about fivesixths self-supporting last year. This is an important fact when we consider that the institution has about seventy professors and instructors, many of whom receive substantial salaries, besides large expenses in other lines, which brings the current annual expense up to approximately seventy thousand dollars. Last year the institution took care of over a hundred students for the ministry and for the teaching profession who received free tuitions and half board on the self-help plan. This expenditure for these students alone amounts to more than the total annual appropriation of the Foreign Mission Board to the current expenses of the school.

The group of teachers of the three elementary schools under leadership worked out during three consecutive years the outline courses of content and method used by our elementary schools in Rio and throughout Brazil, for these outline courses were adopted by the Education Board of the Brazilian Baptist Convention. Thus was laid one of the corner stones of Baptist education in Brazil. Any Baptist teacher of the interior, even though poorly equipped, can take the manual of method and content and be guided in doing a much more complete job than it would be possible to do without such a help. In our schools where these outline courses can be used with the teachers under supervision it is better still.

Our college is already recognized by the cultured populations of Rio and other centers as one of the finest educational institutions. From many of the most distinguished families, ranging from the immediate family connections of the president of the republic down, we already have fine students of just the kind that in the future will be the makers of the new Brazil. Under the influence of the gospel, which they hear expounded daily in the chapel, they are receiving their education.

Our seminary, which has grown gradually but solidly, counts among its sixty students now some men who are going to do great things for the cause of evangelization within a few years. Already the seminary counts a good number of strong men who have gone out to man the strategic pastorates in some of the most important centers.

Our normal school, founded in 1913, has before it a field of the greatest usefulness in preparing the teachers for the rapidly increasing number of Baptist schools. For every graduate either of our seminary or normal school there are a dozen places waiting always long before they complete the course.

What do we need to be able to seize the vast opportunities which are before us in the marvelously strategic position we occupy? Our buildings are all full to the utmost capacity and we must press on with the building program, else we will lose much. We need to think urgently of a dormitory building for the girls' school and normal, because the present dormitory was full last year and will have to turn away many fine students this year. The seminary also has need of its building which is to occupy the crowning site of the beautiful campus. The seminary dormitories are not worthy of the name, an old building having been worked over to fill in the need temporarily. This is one of the great opportunities for some great steward of God to erect an eternal monument on one of the most beautiful spots in the great capital of Brazil to bless humanity for generations to come. What could be a more enviable service? These are two of the most pressing large items in the program, at the present crisis hour, in the history of a nation destined to play a great part in the South American continent in the future.

ANNUAL REPORT

By Cornelia Brower.

We were saddened at the beginning of the year, 1923, by the death of one of our oldest missionaries, Mrs. W. D. T. MacDonald. After more than thirty years of labor, she has gone to her well-earned rest.

Though saddened by her homegoing we have been made to rejoice over the new recruits that have been sent out to help us. This year Chile has welcomed four new missionaries who are now studying the language preparing to enter into the phase of the work for which they are best suited and to which God calls them. Our new missionaries are: Mr. and Mrs. Moye, Miss Grace McCoy, and Miss Anne Lassiter. With these and the MacGavocks, who came to us last year, we feel that we are now a large mission; for in the last two years we have grown from five to fifteen.

The mission has grown in every phase of its work and we are encouraged to take up the task for the coming year though it will be a harder one because of the fact that the Board could not grant some of the much needed requests for aid in carying on our work.

Though we ever have in view our aim of self-support, we are not able as yet with the large amount of work to be done to be self-supporting and, when the Board is forced to cut on the appropriation, we are forced to lay aside some of our greatest needs for new work and growth, and do the best we can with what we have; but like Pollyanna we can be glad thatit was not any worse.

Throughout the year the evangelistic work has been carried on with great success and we thank God for the great number who have been brought into His kingdom. The total baptisms for the year were 210. More than half of this number have been reported from the Southern field with Temuco as the center. This is due to the fact that the largest part of the Baptist work is in the South; but, in proportion to the work, the reports from all the fields are good.

Mr. Hart and Mr. MacDonald had charge of the work in the South, Mr. Hart having taken it all when Mr. MacDonald was in the states. During the summer months evangelistic meetings were held in the tent in various sections of the South. In these campaigns the ministerial students, during their summer vacations, assisted greatly. The meetings were very successful and reached many people who could not be reached in the churches because of the fact that they go to a tent meeting when they will not go to a protestant church.

In the July meeting, it was decided that Mr. MacGavock leave the Santiago work with the native pastors until the return of Mr. Davidson in the fall, and take up his work in the South. The Southern field is now divided into three districts giving each man a district to work besides the classes he will have in the Pastor's Institute here in Temuco.

The work in Santiago, after the Davidsons left on furlough, was carried on by Mr. and Mrs. MacGavock though at a great handicap to them; for they were at the same time studying the language. Since the location of these missionaries in Temuco, the native pastors have had to work without the asistance of a missionary, but they will soon have their own missionary, Mr. Davidson, back with them. In his absence the work has progressed and property has been bought for the erection of a church as soon as he returns.

In Concepcion Mr. Moore has opened new work and has his hands full with two churches in the city besides those already located in the surrounding towns. Besides the evangelistic and regular church work, he held a Sunday School Institute the first week in August, as many of his people could not attend the Institute to be held in Temuco the second week in August. The Normal Manual was studied and great interest aroused; many determined to begin work toward a King's Teacher diploma; hence, as a result of these two Institutes, the Sunday-school work is growing and improving and many have already received diplomas and some have received several of the seals.

The educational work is growing and each year we have a larger enrollment in our school. The Baptist school in Temuco opened last year with an enrollment of sixteen boarding students (girls) and 150 day students. Because of the urgent need of giving an opportunity to the boys of our Baptist homes, the mission voted to ask the Board for a boys' dormitory in connection with the girls' school. The plan was approved; so two bed-rooms and a dining-room were added to the building, used jointly as the Hart residence and Pastor's Institute, and thirteen boys were enrolled as boarders for the first year of coeducational work in Chile. Of the sixteen girls enrolled five were not converted; but, before the end of the year, one of these made a profession of faith; of the others, two are from Indian families and have not yet taken any step, but both of them are interested and we hope that in the coming school year they, too, will accept Christ as their Saviour. Although the other two are small children they have manifested an understanding interest. Of the thirteen boys twelve were unconverted and during the year all except two accepted Christ as their Saviour.

Looking back on the year's work as a whole we believe that it has been a success, by the help of God, in spite of the difficulties. As the motto for our school we have taken: "A light that shineth in dark places" (2 Pet. 1: 19), and we trust that our girls and boys will truly carry the light to all of Chiles' dark places.

Co-education is new in Chile; and, for that reason, many are watching our school and wondering how it will work. There is one other school of its kind, the Iquiqui Methodist school in the North of Chile. It has been successful; and, after this one year's trial we are glad to say that we have succeeded, too, through the splendid co-operation of the faculty, students, and missionaries; and we are expecting great things of our boys and girls.

The Pastors' Institute enrolled seven students this year and four pastors who came in for their work and at the same time kept up their churches. These all did good work in the seminary branches under Mr. Hart; while the students had work in the common school branches in the school. The middle of October these students completed their year of seminary work and went out to do colportage work until the convention the first of January. Their reports to the convention were enthusiastic and inspiring. After the convention they went out into various fields to help the missionaries in their work until the opening of school in March. We are proud of our young ministerial students and are expecting great things of them, too.

Year before last the Woman's Work had its beginning. There were only four societies that were reported to the Chilean Baptist Convention; but, as it was the first year of any kind of work among the women, the leaders were greatly encouraged. During the year new societies were organized and the work in the whole field made many steps forward as the native women began to grasp the idea of what it all meant. Though far from perfect, a good beginning is made and this year at the convention thirten societies were reported and the W.M.U. of Chile was organized. Greater enthusiasm was aroused than ever, and we believe that the work will continue to grow and will be of great help to the work of Christ in Chile. Mrs. Moore was elected as general secretary for the coming year. One of our new missionaries, Miss Grace McCoy, is expecting to do evangelistic and organization work among the women when she has completed her language study.

CENTRAL CHINA MISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

By Olive Bagby.

Owing to the fact that the compiler of this report is not on the field, and was entirely dependent on individual reports from the field, there are some striking omisions. The general note of progress and hope is in all the reports, and one of the most encouraging things in personal letters as well as in the reports is that the Chinese are assuming more and more responsibility as they are growing in vision.

YANGCHOW STATION

Yangchow rejoices in the return of Mrs. and Mrs. Tatum to the field, the coming of Mr. and Mrs. Blackman to the station after a year in the Language School, and the coming of Miss Jeffers to help in the Julia Mackenzie Memorial School.

Yanchow has the only hospital in the mission, and Drs. Jordan and Pierce report for it.

Dr. Jordan writes: "The gospel message has been presented daily to the men and women patients in the hospital and to the many who have attended the daily clinics. Pastor Chang of the city church has been most helpful in leading the morning service twice a week, in distributing Christian literature to the patients, and in personal work with them. A number were baptized during the year and are members of the church.

"A significant event in the work has been the organizing of a training school for men and women nurses. Miss Teal and Dr. Pierce have been very active in bringing this about. The hospital is now a member of the China Nurses' Association. Four graduate nurses, two men and two women, have been procured and are helping greatly to raise the standard of the work of caring for the patients.

"We are very glad to have as an addition to our staff, Dr. Tai Dji Dz, who graduated from St. John's Medical School and has had a year of interne work at St. Luke's Hospital in Shanghai.

"Considerable has been done in the way of improvements. The private rooms are more attractive now that the ceilings and walls have been painted and the rooms better furnished. A new house, occupied by Dr. Tai and his family, has been built on the compound opposite the front entrance. It is hoped that more buildings may be erected here as the internes on the staff increase in number.

"The hospital wishes again this year to express its gratitude to the ladies in the homeland for the many supplies that have been sent out.

"We feel very keenly the need of another foreign nurse to help Miss Teal, whose burden, now that the training school has been organized, is greater than ever.

Dr. R. V. Taylor is completing his third year as assistant in the Mayo Clinic. We look forward to the return of Dr. and Mrs. Taylor and the children this coming September. Dr. Taylor will be splendidly equipped as a surgeon and able in a much greater way to enlarge the influence of this hospital,—an influence which will be felt throughout this part of China."

Dr. Pierce reports as follows: "During 1923 in the women's clinic 2209 patients have been seen and 6211 treatments given. Besides this, I have made a number of outcalls in the homes. In-patients for the year number 162.

"We have a Bible woman who preaches and talks to the patients daily at clinic hours, using charts, scrolls, and pictures to illustrate her subject. Besides this she has on hand plenty of tracts and Gospels for sale. At least once a day, she visits the patients in the ward and private rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackman are gradually taking over the evangelistic work which Mrs. Pierce has been so bravely trying to carry on since the death of Mr. Pierce.

Mr. Blackman writes of the work in the city: "With an attendance of from three to four hundred, the First Baptist Church of Yangchow has been badly in need of a place to worship. Through the 75 Million Campaign the Lord has made it possible to secure land and to build a good modern church and Sunday school plant near the center of crowded Yangchow's three or four hundred thousand pagans. The roof is already on and it will be completed in the spring. In one of its walls, the Chinese have placed a beautiful tablet of carved stone in memory of Mr. Pierce, who for thirty-one years labored so untiringly in their midst. At a minimum cost, the building provides an auditorium for eight hundred people. By means of folding doors, three sides of the auditorium can be cut off for Sunday-school purposes. This together with the Sunday-school annex in the rear, provides standard departmental and class rooms for a graded Sunday school of more than eight hundred pupils. Our hearts' desire and prayer to God is that here hundreds and thousands of those who walk in darkness may see a 'Great Light.'"

Mrs. Pierce has been able to visit some of the nearer country stations, while Mr. Blackman has visited some of those farther away. There are now 388 members in our out-station churches, with an attendance of 477 in the Sunday schools.

Dong Tai is an important city of 80,000 or more, and our property is on the main street near the centre of the city. New land has just been added to the property. One of our Chinese pastors is doing good work there, and ten or more candidates are awaiting baptism. He says his work could be doubled many times if he could have a missionary to help him.

Our out-stations are, this year, for the first time making contributions toward the support of the hospital in Yangchow. Self-support is being stressed and the workers are saying that they will sacrifice for it. Several of our boys are in middle school preparing for the ministry, and one is at Shanghai College.

Mrs. Pierce says of the women's work: "The woman's work connected with the First Church has been largely in charge of Mrs. Chang, the pastor's wife, and a Bible woman. They have carried the gospel into numerous homes within and without the city.

"They have two classes a week held for the women. These have been well attended. The Women's Missionary Society and Young Women's Auxiliary have held regular monthly meetings and have held two meetings each month. There are quite a number of women awaiting baptism, and we hope in the spring to baptize them in the baptistry of the new church. The Lord is with us, and His work is expanding in all directions."

The Julia Mackenzie Memorial School is the middle school for girls in the Mandarin speaking section of the mission. The principal, Miss Andrews, sailed for America in July and Miss Demarest, who was left in charge, reports for the school:

"A year ago it looked as though we were almost ready to move into our new school building. One thing after another interferred, however, so it was after the first of June before we used the building at all and then only for sleeping and eating purposes. The girls and I moved over one night after the study hour and continued our moving at spare moments during the next few days.

"Commencement came so quickly that we felt we were not prepared for it but the Lord helped us to do what we would have considered impossible if we had stopped to think it out carefully. One day was given to brief Commencement exercises and to a celebration in honor of the opening of our new buildings. The Board's grant enabled us to put up a building for use as an auditorium and gymnasium. In this building, the floor of which was still unpainted, using benches without the caning in their backs, we held the Commencement exercises. The money for these same auditorium seats was given us through contributions raised by some Chinese friends.

"Four girl teachers and myself spent the summer in the big airy new school building. We found our quarters most comfortable even in the hot summer weather. Gradually the auditorium floor received its paint, the seats received their cane backs and paint, and other small jobs were finished. The faculty met and prepared a folder to be used as a catalogue for the school for the year, 1923-1924.

"School opened on the fifth of September with just one foreigner plus one hour of Miss Parker's time (in teaching two Bible classes) to do all of the teaching of English, including geometry, physics, and biology for the higher classes, besides supervising the work of the Chinese teachers and keeping track of work on the compound outside of the school building. It is work enough for three people and some of it went undone. Miss Charlotte Merrell who taught for the first half of the school year in the American School in Kuling is now helping us.

"Truly the Lord has been good to us and blessed us. In our new building we have the results of the prayers and work of those who preceded us, but we have also the added opportunities and responsibilities of greater numbers of girls."

Ing Si Gai and E Teh Girls' Day Schools, in charge of Miss Parker and Mrs. Pierce respectively, are not only feeders for the middle school, but they offer great opportunities for soul-winning, as do all of our schools. Not only is the Bible taught daily, but more than three hundred evangelistic services were held during the year. Classes for inquirers are held, and most of the pupils attend the preaching service and Sunday school regularly.

A kindergarten of fifty-six, in charge of a trained kindergartener is connected with the E Teh school.

This school is also fortunate in having Miss Joy Tatum to asist Mrs. Pierce. Miss Moorman is in charge of Ming Teh Boy's Day School. It opened with an overflow in the spring and many long hours of work were necessary to meet the needs and adjustments. The house was too small, but the problem was solved by turning two small courts into rooms.

CHINKIANG STATION

Chinkiang, situated as it is where the Grand Canal, the Yangtze River, and the Shanghai Nanking R. R. meet, is a place of great opportunity. On account of a shortage of missionaries and lack of equipment, we have not been in a position to take advantage of the opportunity as we should. We are now better manned than ever, and are adding to our equipment, so we should go forward and do our part in evangelizing this center.

Mr. Stamps says:

"The year 1923 will always stand out as a red letter year in Chinkiang. It marks the dedication of the splendid new church building at Ing San Men, the First Baptist Church. The new building has already drawn many new people to hear the gospel who would not come otherwise, because they could not be accommodated in the old building. Again, the church is no longer a small affair in the city. It stands as one of the city's main additions in recent years. It commands the attention of all who pass by. What possibilities for the church!

"Since the dedication, March 11, 1923, sixty-two people have been baptized into the followship of the church. Others are waiting to be baptized. The spirit of evangelism is growing. A much higher grade of efficiency is being attained. The whole church organization would compare very well with many of the churches at home. The budget for the church for 1924 calls for over seven hundred dollars, and all this is to be raised by the church.

"The Sunday school is organized along modern lines with departments for all classes and ages. The church has two well-organized B. Y. P. U.'s. These two organizations have had gratifying results. The young people are very enthusiastic over their work. As a result, the Christmas exercises covered a period of three nights with a different play presented in pageant form every night from the Bible, and it was done as only the Oriental can do it. The women have a well-organized society in which all the women of the two Baptist churches unite. These women are making very good progress.

"We are very happy that Miss Lucy Yao of Chinkiang has returned from the W. M. U. Training School at Louisville, Ky., where she completed the course of training. She comes at a very opportune time for a large service for the Master among the women. Two single women have been appointed for Chinkiang which rejoices our hearts very much indeed. Miss Mary Phillips comes to work in the evangelistic field, our first single woman to do this work in Chinkiang, which means that the women will have strong leadership now. Miss Grace Wells comes to help in the training of women for leadership among the churches which is very badly needed.

"The Second Church has gone forward under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Kung, their worthy pastor. He was ordained in the spring. He is truly awake to his opportunity in the center of the old city. The church has a primary school. Twenty people were baptized into the membership of the church during the year. Work is being done for the students in the Chinese middle and high schools. Some of these men have been baptized during the year and others are deeply interested in Christ."

Not only is there great opportunity in the city, but the country field is large and needy. After an absence of nearly four years, Mr. and Mrs. Napier are back on the field, and he and Mr. Marriott are working in the country. Since Mr. Napier's return on September 20, he has visited fourteen out-stations, speaking and distributing literature.

Mr. Marriott makes the general report:

"The year of 1923 was one in which we were able to note progress in all the churches of our country field, as well as the city. Outside of the city of Chink-iang we have work in five counties. In these five counties we have eleven organized churches and four chapels. In these we have six ordained pastors and eight unordained evangelists. During the year we organized one new church, and baptized seventy-seven into the membership of the churches. This does not include the First and Second churches of Chinkiang City in which eighty-two were baptized, making a total of 158 for the whole field. There is a growth among the churches such as we have not seen before. There is better understanding of Christianity, and a more hearty response in giving for the support of the work.

"The preachers are becoming more and more aware of their responsibility in regard to training and developing leaders in the churches.

"During the year special meetings were held in all the out-stations, also in places where there is as yet no regular work. We held during the months of June, July, and August, seven tent meetings, with gratifying results. There is a crying need for this sort of work."

The distinctive feature of our work in Chinkiang is a Bible School for men. Mr. Stamps is putting himself into it in a way that must make it count for the Master. Mr. Samps writes:

"Our Bible School is growing. We received five new students in the spring of 1923 and one more in the fall, and have seven men who wish to enter at the beginning of the next term. But as we are graduating only one man this China New Year, we cannot very well take care of any more students at this time. We now have eighteen students, and cannot accommodate more with our present equipment in buildings and provision in money.

"It is good to note that higher class of men are offering themselves for the ministry. Men are applying who are leaving a better salary than they will command as preachers for some time; this is a very hopeful sign. It means also that we must provide stronger courses and better equipment in the way of buildings. Furthermore, we need more and higher trained teachers. All this will help us to raise the entrance requirements. We do not wish to eliminate worthy students, but we want only those men who are called of God to this imporant task of promoting the Kingdom.

"In view of the need for higher trained teachers, pastor Tsoa Shing Kwang was sent to Shanghai College for more training. Rev. C. C. Marriott has kindly done part of his work in teaching in order to make this possible. We hope that Mr. Tsoa can remain in the college and seminary for at least two years."

There is also a Training School for Women, and Mrs. Stamps who is in charge of it reports:

"This has been a most encouraging year for the Woman's Bible Training School. Although still in its very beginning, the work has already gone far enough to prove its worth in the development of trained Christian women workers for the Master in China. While the way has not been opened this year for the school to receive single women and more advanced students, we have been able to take care of fourteen married women, wives of ministerial students, and they have all made splendid progress. These are divided into three classes, and the more advanced are this year finishing the second year of the preparatory department.

"The school is fortunate in having as its head teacher, Miss Lucy Yao, who has spent the past two years in America in the W. M. U. Training School at Louisville, completing the course there last May. She is assisted by Mrs. Li who has already proven herself a most faithful teacher and consecrated servant of the Lord.

"The school at present has its class rooms on the fourth floor of the new church. During school hours, a day nursery is provided for the students' children. This is in charge of a good woman who cares for them several hours each day.

"The course of study, so far, provides for classes in Old and New Testaments, Chinese character writing, arithmetic, and music. From time to time, special lectures have been arranged on such subjects as health and hygiene. All of the students take part in the various activities of the church.

"We are eager to open the school to more students, but we have no place for them to live. There are already several applicants waiting to enter, and we are praying for the day when the usefulness of the school can be widened and a larger number of women trained for Christian service."

Mintz Academy is the middle school for boys in the Mandarin section of the mission, as Julia Mackenzie Memorial School is for girls. Mr. Olive is the principal and sends an interesting report:

"We have had a total enrollment of ninety-nine. There were twenty boys in the Academy proper, and all but three are baptized Christians. One of these has made a public profession and is now ready for baptism. We have had a good many students from the higher and lower primary schools who have been baptized. At the first baptizing in our new church, there were eleven students baptized. Four have been baptized since. The Holy Spirit is moving in a quiet but sure way among these students.

"We have had two boys to commit themselves definitely to the ministry. These boys are probably the finest students in the school. There were at least a dozen others who stood up and said that they were willing to do anything that God wanted them to do.

"Our needs are many. Our buildings are not large enough to accommodate the students and teachers in any reasonable way. We have fourteen students and a teacher living in a room eight by twenty-eight feet. Many who have seen the conditions say that they do not know how we keep students at all.

"It was a great shock to the students when I announced to them that no money was coming for a new building. They showed a fine spirit, however, and have gone on with their work. Let us hope and pray that the new building will be coming by another year."

WUSIH STATION

Wusih is the youngest of all our stations, 1923 being only the second year of its existence, and the first year that more than one family lived there. The report was written by a member of the station who signed no name.

"The beginning of 1923 found three families in Wusih ready for work. Mrs. Hamlett had worked a few months with the women, and Mr. Hamlett had been working the church and out-stations. Mr. and Mrs. Britton and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson had just come. General evangelistic work, church development, supervision of four out-stations, day schools and building on the new compound were the main lines of activity pursued.

"Evangelistic services were held almost every evening in the rented chapel, and one afternoon meeting each week for women. There was no native preacher to assist in the work until July, but one of our school teachers and a language teacher took turns in helping to keep the services going. The Bible woman was very efficient in getting us acquainted with the heathen girls and women. In the fall there was a tent meeting in a nearby town and attendance was good at two services a day for a week. In November a new street chapel was opened on one of the busiest streets. There have been fitted up a preaching hall, a room for personal work, and a quiet room for Bible classes. Good crowds attend meetings every night, the personal-work room is open a part of every day, and a Bible class is taught every afternoon. A special service is held each evening for children, teaching hymns and Scripture which the children enjoy. We praise God for his leading in getting a suitable place for this evangelistic work and for the manifest presence of the Holy Spirit in the services.

"There was a church membership of about seventy, but of this number many were out of touch with the church and some were not known. The church asked one of the missionaries to lead them as pastor, which he did until they called a native pastor. Much visiting, inquiring, and looking up the lost-sight-of members was done until every one enrolled was located. A pastor was secured in the coming of Mr. Hwo Yih San in July. He and Mrs. Hwo have taken hold and are doing splendid work. Mr. Hwo's sermons on Sunday are unusually helpful.

"There have been several deaths, some pruning by expulsion, and several letters given to non-resident members. The increase by baptism was forty and eleven by letter and restoration, making a total now of one hundred ten.

"Every Sunday, there was a morning and afternoon Sunday school, the one in the afternoon being especially for the children not in our schools. The atttendance in the two schools was about two hundred fifty.

"During the year, the growth of the primary school into a junior high school and the addition of the kindergarten and girls' school made it necessary for the boys to seek new quarters. In August, the school, except the first and second grades, was moved to the new compound, leaving the former place for girls and women. The fact that of the twelve high school boys, seven were baptized in one term, justifies, we think, the opening of the academy although room and equipment are limited. Of the other students, six were baptized during the year. Eight boys and three teachers lived in the school and others wanted to come. With this success, we feel deeper the need of a good Baptist academy in Wusih.

"A girls' school was opened in the fall in rooms back of the chapel. A good beginning has been made and we feel encouraged over the prospects for the spring term. Small boys are admitted through the second grade.

"An afternoon class for women as the beginning of a Bible School, is another new line of work. They are taught Chinese reading and writing, and arithmetic and have daily lessons in the Bible and singing hymns. Eight have been enrolled which is a fair start.

"The total enrollment in all our schools was one hundred eighteen.

"All the out-station churches have preachers and there have been baptisms in all the churches. At Ching Yang a neat church building has been completed, and house for the resident preacher, making a model plant for out-station work. The church at Kao Ngeon has bought the land for a building.

"The compound has been enclosed and two residences completed. The artesian well, furnishing an abundant supply of clean water, is a great asset. Small rooms have been provided to house temporarily six classes of boys, also a matshed chapel."

SOOCHOW STATION

Several years ago, the statement was made by some one who should have been informed that in all of China there was no man giving his full time to city evangelistic work. There were women but the men were constantly pulled away by other things. This may have been true then, but it is no longer true, for Mr. McMillan has for two years been giving his time to this work in Soochow with splendid results. Let us see what he says of it:

"We speak of "church work" rather than "Evangelistic work" because the evangelistic work in Soochow is done by the churches and not by the Mission as such. This transition from the Mission to the churches marks a significant stage in the progress of our work. No longer are the churches helping the Mission to evangelize the city; rather, the Mission is helping the churches. The Chinese are shouldering this responsibility in a heroic manner and are making advancement in a way that the mission per se could never do. All the missionaries of Soochow are members of the Zia Nga Zien church and make their contribution through the churches rather than through the mission.

"Bing Hwo Jao Church is one of the two organized Baptist churches within the city. Since Mr. and Mrs. Britton moved to Wusih no missionaries live on this compound. Pastor Wu Sih Yong and his family occupy the house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Britton. As a result of the 75 Million Campaign this plant is well equipped for the work. Besides the main church building, there is a chapel (used also for prayer-meeting), reading room, day school, and kindergarten. In the church building is the pastor's study and women's room. One room in the pastor's home is set apart for social gatherings.

"Pastor Wu is a fine progressive young pastor with a well-trained, sympathetic wife. We expect this work to make steady progress under their leadership.

"Zia Nga Zien Church.—There have never been two living organisms exactly alike. Each develops to meet the needs and conditions of its own environment. While these two churches are not far removed from each other, yet they have different situations to meet and are working along different lines. The Bing Hwo Jao with fewer trained workers meets a local situation quite like other city churches.

"The situation at Zia Nga Zien is unique in several respects and the church is projecting the work in a unique way. On this compound all the Soochow missionaries live. Here also are the two academies with some twenty Christian teachers and about 150 Christian students. This means an unusually large force of efficient church workers. For each of these workers to have a full opportunity to develop in leadership and service, it is necessary to extend the church work beyond the immediate community.

"For this and other reasons the three city chapels formerly conducted by the mission are now managed by the church. These chapels are located in the most densely populated sections of the city and offer to the Baptists of Soochow an almost unparalleled opportunity for the propagation of the gospel. The two churches and three chapels at a convenient distance make an ideal spiritual laboratory in which the missionaries, Christian teachers, and students can do practical church work.

"On Sunday morning no services are held in the different chapels, giving all an opportunity of gathering together in the church to worship God in unison. The capacity of our church seating about 600 is now being taxed to the limit at the preaching service while the Sunday school cannot be seated in the church auditorium. These conditions call for a larger and better equipped church building and such a plant is at the very center of our future plans. We firmly believe that better equipment would be for God's glory and so we are bold to plead for this object.

"Every Sunday afternoon, a band of more than sixty Christian boys and girls, many Chinese teachers, and missionaries meet for a few minutes in the church, during which time we study together the lesson to be taught to the 'street children.' After this study and prayer, we break up into four smaller groups, each group going to a different chapel to conduct a Sunday school. It is hard to estimate the good accomplished through these workers, not counting the benefit to the young people as they are being trained in service. Some Sundays as many as 1,000 children pass out of these chapels with a Bible story in their hearts and a picture card in their hands.

"Sunday nights evangelistic services are held in three of these centers. The pastor conducts the meeting in the church while the other two services are conducted by the Volunteer Band, the B. Y. P. U., a teacher, or a missionary. Every other night in the week is taken up either by evangelistic preaching or prayer meetings and Bible study. Thus the church is making an effort to do an extensive as well as an intensive work. We feel that nothing less than this would meet our obligations.

"The W. M. U., the B. Y. P. U., and the Sunday school are well organized and are doing good work. Each of these organizations is conducted under Chinese leadership with missionary help. We see that the natives are put in places of responsibility and leadership while we do all we can to help. It is beyond experiment that among them can be found strong and capable leaders. This fact is most heartening.

"More than seventy were received into the church this year, more than sixty being by baptism. This is the largest number in the history of the church. The church contributions are more than sufficient to support the pastor, Bible woman, a man for the reading room, a church servant, lights, and repair. Besides, the church gives $70.00 Mex. to the Home Board. This does not include other special objects. The Sunday school gave last year $250.00, which is more than current expenses. This includes the contributions of the individual missionaries who are members of the church but the Chinese gave well over one half. The total receipts last year for church and chapels amounted to $4,328.61. Of this amount the Foreign Mission Board gave $1,632.00. This leaves $2,696.61 which was raised by the church. Last year the Board granted a raise of twenty-five per cent on evangelist's salaries, yet the church did not accept the raise though the salaries of all the church workers were raised this amount. The raise was met by the church and not the Board.

"Baptist Young People's Center.—Soon after the city chapels were taken over by the church, it was decided to remodel one of the Chinese buildings used as a street chapel in order to make it suitable for community church service. The place agreed upon is the most typical 'down-town' section in the city and is ideally located for such a work. With the exception of the salaries of two of the workers, it is self-supporting. There is a day school with 125 students, a night school with forty-seven students, a Sunday school with some 200 students, a reading room, tea room, social room, and book store. In the open court is a small basket ball and volley ball ground. The largest room is used for chapel though far too small for the demand. This place needs a gymnasium, bath room, and larger preaching hall. The opportunity for reaching the people is almost without limit. We expect some day to see a great work being conducted at this place."

The hearts of the members of the Soochow station were made to rejoice when Mr. Johnson who went out to teach for three years in Yates Academy, announced that he and Mrs. Johnson, to say nothing of little Harold, had decided to stay in China and give their lives to the country evangelistic work. This announcement was especially welcome at this time, because the Brittons and Hamletts had gone to Wusih the year before, leaving no one to do the country work in the Soochow field.

Having been in China two years, Mr. Johnson had picked up a good deal of the language, and learned a good deal about the people. He and Mrs. Johnson entered the Language School of Soochow University in September, and he hopes to be able to give full time to the work in the fall of 1924. He already goes to the country for week-end trips and is getting into touch with the evangelists and pastors.

Our association includes three fields, the districts of Shanghai, Soochow, and Wusih. Soochow is the largest of the three. We have ten out-stations where we have churches and chapels. In all of them, we have Sunday schools as well as evangelistic preaching, and most of them have day schools. The progress at these out-stations is marked by the spirit and ability of the different pastors and evangelists. With poor equipment and practically no trained laymen, some of them are doing little more than mark time, but it is most heartening to see how a live pastor can take poor equipment and an illterate membership and make the work go. Fortunately we have a few men of this type in the Soochow field.

Mrs. McDaniels reports for the Woman's Bible School of which she is in charge:

"The Woman's Bible School began the year by sending out three women who had completed the course, and taking in three new women.

"One of the women who left the school is now with her husband in the Chinkiang Bible School. She is keeping house, studying some, and helping with the women. Another is working with Mrs. Britton in Wusih, and the third is helping in the work in Soochow and continuing her study of Chinese and the Bible.

"Two more women are finishing the course of study at the close of the winter term. One of these is the wife of a ministerial student in Yates Academy. She is young, bright and capable of learning anything. She is from our most progressive station. The other woman is also from the country. She is a widow; is warm-hearted and genuine, with enough ability to make a useful helper in city or country. We hope that she will devote her life to the country because of the greater need.

"We are fortunate in having in our church a widow of sufficient education and Christian character to live in the school with the women and to teach them."

Nineteen hundred and twenty three was the best year in the history of Wei Ling Girls' School. More than two hundred fifty pupils were in attendance, including those from the kindergarten through the high school. Miss Lanneau, the principal, sailed in June on her regular furlough, leaving Miss Bagby in charge. On account of conditions at home, Miss Bagby resigned and sailed for America in October. This left the whole burden on Miss Groves, who took it up bravely and has done good work in organizing and developing the school to meet the increase in numbers. Others in the station have helped her when they could, and the Chinese have risen to the occasion nobly.

Wei Ling and Yates Academy were fortunate in securing three teachers on the field to teach English and subjects in English, thus relieving Miss Groves for executive work. A number of Chinese teachers have given some time in both schools and for the first time girls and boys have been in the same classes. Mr. McMillan has one Bible class and a Chinese teacher has a science class for stu dents in the two schools. This may be the beginning of the union of the two schools into one co-educational school, but that is probably far in the future.

The compound has been enlarged considerably, and several Chinese buildings have been repaired and adapted for class rooms, dormitories, and assembly hall. A number of new desks have been made, and two pianos purchased—one a new one, and the other a second-hand one.

Beginning with the fall term, the course of study was changed to conform to the new government school course, having six years in the high school and six in the primary.

The kindergarten is, as it always has been, a very popular branch of our work. The enrollment this year has been fifty-eight, with an average attendance of forty-five. One-third as many have been turned away as have been enrolled.

Yates Academy, too, has had a good year, the Chinese are feeling more and more their responsibility in it. Some fine men from Shanghai College are in the school and are making a great contribution to it. The coming of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bostick, Jr., to help in the school will mean more and more to it as they learn the language and the people. There was no report from Yates Academy, so no details are possible.

SHANGHAI STATION

Shanghai, a city of over a million people, is the commercial, industrial, and financial center of China. One of our workers in Shanghai writes:

"Not lack of foreign helpers (bad enough), not physical ailments (hard to bear), not lack of money (distressing as that may be), but it is the trial of seeing our bright young people caught in the snares of wickedness, the wickedness of a great city, of a port city like Shanghai, that wrings our hearts. Shanghai is reported to be the most wicked city in the world, and I can well believe it is so, for here are profligate living, immorality, vices of every nation in the world lived out and attractively exhibited before the eyes of our young people. How can they always correctly distinguish between the good and the evil that the foreigners are bringing to them? To them, all they see spells progress, modernism, and advanced thought, and to these in this devil's cauldron called 'Progressive Shanghai,' is added the darkest, foulest crimes and practices of heathenism.

"This is Shanghai! What a task is ours!"

Truly, the opportunities in Shanghai are limitless, and we have been very fortunate in securing a strong foothold there. We have outgrown the compound on North Szechuen Road and have sold it for enough to secure a great compound outside the city but in easy reach of the busiest part. This is being developed, and will be one of the best in all China. Ming Jang Boys' School and Eliza Yates Girls' School will move first, and it is hoped that the buildings now in the process of erection will be ready for the fall term.

After an absence of two and a half years, Dr. and Mrs. Bryan returned to Shanghai in August. Dr. and Mrs. Bryan are in great demand for many different kinds of work, but he is trying to give his time to preaching and making literature. There is no greater need than that for Christian literature in Chinese, and Dr. Bryan is making a great contribution to the work. Mrs. Bryan, in spite of the pull of the schools, is trying to give her time to work in the churches, especially to the music, and to keeping in touch with the young women who have left our schools and should be kept in our churches.

Besides the Bryans, Shanghai welcomed Dr. and Mrs. Rogers and Miss John son back from furlough, and Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Cheek, Miss Lillie Mae Hundley, and Miss Lilla Echols, new missionaries.

We have three great churches in Shanghai, and Miss Kelly makes the report for the Old North Gate Church:

"Work at the Old North Gate is not easy to report, for the daily round is most difficult to systematize. There are so many calls upon one's time and such a multiplicity of things to look after,

"Two more workers have been added to the staff—Mrs. Tsu and Mr. Koo. Mr. Koo is the church evangelist and is supported by a fund left by our beloved Pastor Woo. He is to help in visiting, hold Bible classes for inquirers. After three days of intensive evangelistic services which were held in the town hall in November, eighty names of inquirers were given to us and a part of Mr. Koo's work will be follow-up work with them.

"There have been more baptisms this year than in any year before, and the church contributions have grown in a wonderful manner. They almost reached the four thousand mark in 1923, and we are aiming at that for 1924.

"There are three very fine schools connected with work here—two day schools and one night school—with more than five hundred students in them. The income from these schools and contributions in the church amounted to almost eighteen thousand dollars during the year. So, if baptisms and contributions are marks of progress, we can give thanks, take courage, and go forward.

"There has been an effort at an organized class for women, with a class roll of sixty. We feel that the very effort helped us to put our class in the line of progress, although we are not perfectly organized. We have a class president, secretary, teacher, and a visiting committee.

"Our Women's Missionary Society has made some progress in members and in contributions. We have had the privilege of a visit from Miss Mallory, and she was invited to attend an all-day meeting of the women from our three Baptist churches in Shanghai. We also enjoyed having Miss Mallory with us at Christmas."

Grace Church is located on the compound with our two large middle schools, and the students make up a large part of the congregation. They help in the work of the church, also. Unfortunately, there is no report from the church.

The third church is the Cantonese Baptist Church, and Miss Marlowe reports for the church and schools connected with it:

"To Shanghai have come more than 300,000 Cantonese people. Some have come to escape the present political dangers and hardships of Canton, and others have come for business interests, because here are greater profit and security. This group of Cantonese control almost all the big interests of Shanghai. They are leaders in banking, law, import and export business, ship-building, education. They are putting up great club buildings, where heathen 'devilism' and foreign 'devilism' are guests of honor on all occasions. They are building great schools where pupils either worship daily the founder of the school, or they are taught that there is no God.

"What are other missions doing to meet this situation? Nothing.

"What are Baptists doing? We have, on a small side street, an institutional church built by combining two old residences. This compares poorly with their own modern buildings. Here we house a church of 331 members and a day high school for girls, having an enrollment of 182. Ours is the only Christian high school for Cantonese girls in Shanghai. There is only one other high school for Cantonese girls in the city, and it is a heathen one.

"We have no school for boys nor is there one Christian school for Cantonese boys in Shanghai. As I write this report, we are rejoicing in the coming of Mr. Cheek and his wife to establish a boys' school. They are now busy with the language. War conditions have made it almost impossible to raise any amount of money among the Chinese. Our church members will stand by royally, but very few have money. We have been able to enlist but few of the well-to-do and none of the wealthy Cantonese because of our small, unattractive plant. Our girls' school is overcrowded, poorly equipped, and suffering for lack of space and necessities. Our girls respond beautifully to the gospel message. During the past year, mainly through the efforts of our personal workers' band, all but three girls in our high school have been led to make a profession of faith in Christ. They come to our school to learn English, but they go away to give the gospel to their countrymen.

"Our church is planning to open one or more chapels this year. A large heathen school of over five hundred students has recently invited us to bring out some music to help draw students to a Bible class which one of the teachers has started. Their school management prohibits the use of their school buildings for Christian services, but a small room in their electric light plant has been donated to the class. The boys crowd this room to hear the music, some of them bringing their instruments, and all joining in the singing of hymns. Their Christian teacher then preaches a sermon to which they all listen attentively. We are thanking God for this Christian teacher in the school, and are praying that God will use him and us to lead many of these boys to know Christ."

During the first half of the year, Mr. Steele was in charge of Ming Jang Middle School for boys, as Dr. Rogers was on furlough. There are two hundred seventy students in buildings which were intended for half that number. Students have been turned away each term for several years.

Dr. Rogers says of the school:

"The religious life seems to be better every year. During the year, thirty-six students were baptized into Grace Baptist Church. Some of the students are looking forward to some form of definite religious work, and we hope that those who do not enter distinctive religious work will help leaven this great business city of Shanghai.

"The boys of the school are running a free night school for poor children.

"The words 'Growth' and 'Opportunity' are the words that characterize our school work now. We are thankful for this great opportunity for service."

Mr. Ware reports on the country work as follows:

"In the beginning the country work of the Shanghai field, it seemed best to first make a survey of the conditions and needs of this field. Work on this survey was begun the latter part of July, 1923, and continued for some two months' time. All of the villages of any size within ten or fifteen li of Shanghai were visited and studied and some larger villages as far as forty or fifty li away were visited and the conditions and needs studied. As a result of this survey, some ten villages, varying in size from two to ten thousand inhabitants, were found in which there are no Christian chapels and no one trying to preach the Christian message. When it is considered that around each of these villages there is a very thickly populated country district, it will be seen that right at the gates of Shanghai there are some fifty or seventy-five thousand people who have had no chance to hear the Christian message of salvation.

"After finding out the needs of this field, the next thing seemed to be the matter of forming some sort of organization that would take upon itself the responsibility of carrying the gospel to these people. The question was considered by the Shanghai missionaries and by the executive committee of the native association. Both of these bodies approved the plan of organizing the Shanghai evangelistic committee for country work to be composed of one representative from each of the three main Baptist churches of Shanghai, and one representative from the Shanghai Baptist mission. The last member of this committee has just recently been elected (latter part of December) and it is hoped that a full meeting of the committee can be held in the next few days and plans worked out for developing this needy field.

In the meantime, the country evangelist of the Shanghai station has been trying to visit once a week six of these villages, preaching on the streets and in the tea shops, distributing tracts, and talking with individuals as the opportunity was afforded. A small amount of money has also been secured from the mission to help to carry on the work. It is hoped that this committee will lay the matter on the hearts of the good people of these three large churches and secure funds from them to employ a Chinese evangelist to help in this work.

SHANGHAI BAPTIST COLLEGE AND THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY Written by J. B. Hipps.

Shanghai Baptist College and Seminary is the only Baptist institution of full college grade in all China. It was founded and is supported by Northern and Southern Baptists. It has had a phenomenal growth during recent years and last year was, in many respects, the greatest year in its history.

The present plant consists of fifty acres of land and twenty-nine buildings. The amount invested by the Boards is something over a million dollars (Mexican), the second largest amount invested in any Mission College in China. The faculty, including the Academy, numbers 62, half of whom are Chinese and half are foreigners. Of the foreigners, fourteen are Southern Baptists and thirteen are Northern Baptists, while four are not appointees of either Board but are employed by the College. Of the thirty-one Chinese members of the faculty, seven are returned students who are equal in training in many ways to the foreigners on the faculty. One of the difficult problems of the Mission College in China is that of securing and retaining a well-trained Chinese staff. Our College is exceedingly fortunate in having such a large number of well-trained Chinese on its faculty.

The total enrollment of students for last year was 674. The number in the College was 307 and the number in the Academy 367. A comparison of the enrollment of 1923 with 1922 shows that there were about 100 students more enrolled in 1923 than in 1922.

A majority of our students came from East China, but most of the provinces of China, Korea, and the Strait Settlements were represented. Shanghai is the New York of China and students come here from all parts of China for an education. We, therefore, have an opportunity of influencing the life of the whole country through the students of the College.

Co-education seems to be an assured success in the College. Last year was the fourth year of the experiment. The first year, there were 4 students, the second year 9, the third year 27, and the fourth year 35. The girls went into the new Woman's Building at the opening of the semester last fall. This is the largest building on the campus and is well equipped for women students, containing in addition to dormitories, a dining room, parlors, classrooms for art, music, domestic science, and a gymnasum. It has a capacity for accommodating 75 or 80 grls. The problems of adjustment between the young men and young women have been surprisingly few. The young women are a distinct addition to the life of the campus and have lifted the whole tone of the College.

At the beginning of the semester last fall there were in the College 210 Christians and 97 non-Christians, and in the Academy 71 Christians and 296 non-Christians, making a total of 281 Christians and 393 non-Christians on the campus. To put it in terms of percentage, 68 per cent of the students in the College and only 20 per cent of the students in the Academy were Christians, while 43 per cent of the total number of students in both the College and Academy were Christians. In the College 70 per cent. of the students came from mission schools and 32 per cent from Christian homes, and in the Academy 32 per cent came from mission schools and only 10 per cent from Christian homes, while 50 per cent of the total number of students came from mission schools and only 20 per cent from Christian homes.

These figures show us that our most difficult task in winning students to Christ is in the Academy, because so few students, comparatively speaking, come from mission schools, and so few come from Christian homes, and also because the number of Christians in the Academy is so small. The atmosphere is largely non-Christian among the students. It is a challenge and a tremendous opportunity for the Christian forces of the campus. Then, too, these figures indicate to us the value of training and contact with Christianity. In the College 68 per cent. of the students are Christians and in the Academy only 20 per cent.

are Christians In the senior class in the College, a class of 24, only one student is not a Christian, while in the second year of the Academy, in a class of 23, only two students are Christians. Higher education is worthwhile in China, if for no other reason, as an evangelistic agency.

The religious life of the College centers around the church. There are other organizations, such as the College Y.M.C.A., the Academy Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., the Christian Home Club, etc., which are making splendid contributions to the religious life of the College and community. The church, through its regular church service, prayer meeting, Sunday school, evangelistic meetings, etc., supplies the spiritual stimulus, very largely, for the various religious activities carried on by the students and faculty.

Each semester the church conducts a series of evangelistic services in the College. The results of these meetings last year were 49 decisions for Christ and 36 additions. These results are due, for the most part, to the work of a personal workers' group composed of some 40 students and members of the faculty.

The chief aim in these special evangelistic meetings is to gather up the results of work that has been done quietly in classroom, chapel, church service, Sunday school, and in personal contacts during the semester. Our hope is to create a genuine Christian atmosphere in the classroom, in social gatherings, on the athletic field, in our homes, and in all of our relationships with the students. We believe that it is in this way that we will best be able to interpret the Master to our students.

While there is much Christian work being done among the students, servants, and laborers on the campus, the best work in many ways is that which is being done by the students among the people at the campus gate, in the nearby villages, and at the Yangstepoo Social Center. At the gate of the campus the students conduct a community center, including a regular Sunday church service, a Sunday school, a day school, a night school, and all the social features that usually go with a community center. In three villages near the College, Sunday schools and day schools are conducted. In one of these villages the work of the students has so impressed a business man that he has given a plant worth $3,000 (Mexican) for a school. This man, though not a Christian, has also proposed in the future to build a church for the village. At the Yangstepoo Social Center the students are carrying on a Sunday school and regular church services in connection with the work of the Center.

This report would not be complete without reference to the inspiration which has come during the year to both students and faculty from the visits of Dr. W. O. Carver of the Seminary at Louisville, Dr. W. Y. Quisenberry, representing the Foreign Mission Board at Richmond, and Miss Kathleen Mallory of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Southern Baptist Convention. They thrilled us with their interest in the salvation of China and helped us to feel that we have the full support of our constituency at home in the great task of making China a Christian nation. We welcome with open arms visitors from the homeland.

INTERIOR CHINA MISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

By Miss Louise Willis.

We have counted ourselves especially fortunate this past year in having with us for brief visits Dr. W. O. Carver of the Seminary at Louisville, Dr. W. Y. Quisenberry, Field Worker for the Foreign Mission Board, and Miss Kathleen Mallory of the W. M. U. All brought us the loving greetings of the homeland, and messages that encouraged us.

We are glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs .Herring, who have returned from their furlough, greatly strengthened physically and eager for work in their former field. While at home they made helping forward spiritual life their first aim, the one thing needed as a basis for foreign missions.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Braun continue on sick leave. They are eager to be in our midst again, and the prayers of many are unceasing in their behalf. They ever bear witness in their helpful services in meetings and in their earnest efforts to advance his cause.

We welcomed two recruits this past fall, Miss Winnifred Moxon, assigned to hospital work in Chengchow, now on language study in Peking; and Mrs. Joseph Lee, well known to us as the daughter of our Mrs. King of Pochow.

Second year's language study claims most of the time of Misses Murray. Ward and Hall, of Mr and Mrs. Lee, and of others who from sickness, or over word, have been delayed in the course of two years. All of these add to their hours of study some regular phase of mission work, thus helping in no small measure.

Sickness has invaded our ranks from time to time, several having to seek medical assistance in the hospital in Peking. At this time Mr. Lawton is recovering from a serious operation.

The disturbances in country work this year have truly been unusual. The fields around Kweiteh, Pochow and Chengchow have been especially unsettled. Both bandits and rumors of bandits have closed work temporarily at a number of places. All reports from workers in these out-stations are filled with gratitude for the protection and care of the Father, very few of the native Christians having suffered any injury, the message having spread and borne fruit despite conditions.

Our four stations of Chengchow, Kaifeng, Pochow and Kweiteh comprise the Interior Mission. Most interesting reports for the year's work have come in, and would that space permitted all to be printed in full. The work will be taken up under three heads—Medical, Evangelistic and Educational, although the second so permeates the first and third that to draw a distinct line is impossible.

CHENGCHOW

Chengchow, situated at the junction of two important railroads, is fast becoming a business center, growing by leaps and bounds. It is the oldest of the four stations, and we are thankful for the good foundation already laid on which to build and add in order to cope with the growing demand.

Medical Work.—Last spring the hospital, after being closed for over three years was reopened by Dr. S. O. Pruitt, and the fact of having one of our own doctors so near at hand brought a feeling of ease to all of us. Previous to the opening Dr. Pruitt had spent a number of weeks putting everything in order, and succeeded most creditably. Last summer when most missionaries were at summering places, Dr. L. O. Wilkerson and wife arrived from Peking and at once plunged into work. He states that considering the limited staff, equipment and space the work to date has grown well. A circular letter was sent out to call the attention of the Chinese to the reopening, and the response came at once in increased numbers at daily clinics, the attendance now averaging between thirty-five and forty. The fifteen beds are constantly filled. The following statistics from August first to December twentieth give some idea of the work:

Total	number	of	out-patients,	new	cases	treated	 1,100
Total	number	of	out-patients,	old	cases	treated	 2,082
Total	number	Ωf	hospital day	c			1 200

The most urgent need at present is a good native evangelist. The lack of a well-equipped modern hospital holds up the work daily, but this is most confidently expected as soon as the Board is in position to meet the financial outlay.

The running expenses and total outlay since August first show a deficit, due to the hospital having been closed and all receipts being used to replace drugs. The present daily receipts are good, and indicate self-support in a large degree in the near future.

Evangelistic Work.—During the absence of Mr. Herring, Mr. Lawton has been responsible for church services in the city in addition to his own country work. Mr. Wilson Fielder, Mr. and Mrs. Lawton have cared for all out-station work.

The work in each of these places is very encouraging in spite of the fact that for most of the year the bandits made it unsafe to go out. Mr. Liu of our Religious Life Center has gone out for monthly examinations and thus has kept up the interest as well as the standard of work. One new preaching place was opened at Su Tun, twenty-five li north of Chengchow, where fine meetings were held last autumn.

At West Gate, where work was first opened, there is a book store, and preaching is held twice a week. During the greater portion of this year a Bible class has met for study four nights out of each week.

The first year's work at the Religious Life Center under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Fielder, is now closing. Two hundred members have been enrolled. Play rooms and reading rooms are used daily. Religious services are held twice a week in our main building. About ninety have been enrolled in the school for girls. Miss Savage of Kaifeng has greatly assisted us in this day school. The Y. W. A., Sunbeam Band, and athletic work are supervised by Miss Murray. A class for women has made a satisfactory beginning, and thirty have been enrolled in the school for the poor. We are greatly hindered in this work for lack of another foreign helper. Last July and August a Vacational Bible School was held with over one hundred in attendance. Prospects are very encouraging for the Religious Life Center.

The Sunday-school work is under the supervision of Mr. J. T. Fielder, who reports that rapid progress is being made toward meeting the requirements of a standard organized school. Classes are held for study in the Manual, and five teachers have finished the first part. The Banner of a Standard School seems a promise of the near future. The attendance has grown about two hundred per cent in two years. An average attendance of two hundred fifty and a steady growth in contributions are most encouraging. A Sunday-school annex would greatly facilitate this work, as we have outgrown our present space, and have only begun to touch people within hearing of the church building.

Educational Work.—The Chengchow Academy for boys, supervised by Mr. J. T. Fielder, has an increased enrollment and brighter prospects than ever before. All space in dormitory is now utilized. Earnestness on part of both teachers and pupils is very noticeable. Chapel service, Sunday-school, and Young Peoples' Work bring all students in touch with the gospel message and constant effort is made to lead them to Christ. The baptism of twenty boys is one of the fruits of this work for this year. Future increase in boarding students depends upon a main building for classrooms only. The tuition receipts show the academy to be thirty-three per cent self-supporting.

The West Gate day schools for boys and girls have enrolled about 100 pupils with three good teachers in charge. This work presents a great opportunity and calls for more time than those in charge can give it.

KAIFENG

The capital of Honan province, and on three occasions the capital of China, Kaifeng is a place of historic interest.

We wish to make mention of the return of Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Hargrove. Dr. Hargrove is head English teacher in the leading government school of Honan, but his heart and that of his wife are ever in mission work, and they give themselves unstintedly toward both educational and evangelistic efforts. The boarding schools for boys and girls, and the day school in connection with the city church, all are profiting in no small degree under the gratuitous assistance of the Hargroves.

Evangelistic Work.—Kaifeng out-station work embraces an area, of which the estimated population is five hundred thousand souls and of these less than one out of a thousand is a Christian. At nine places there are regular evangelists and at ten others there is regular preaching. Mr. Harris, Miss Cox, two pastors, eight evangelists and one Bible woman, with occasional assistance from Miss Walker, complete the working staff for this immense district. It is probable that our next report will make us responsible for an area embracing seven hundred and fifty thousand souls. How are we to reach this great mass? This year has seen one hundred thirty-two added by baptism. There are twenty-two primary schools with several hundred pupils.

The Ford car, gift of Brother J. S. Wingo and others of Spartanburg, S. C., is a great help in reaching these out-stations. Many amusing incidents result when natives first see the car. A godly Methodist lawyer of Buffalo, N. Y., has made a generous donation to our Bible fund and we can now sell well-bound Bibles at a very reduced price. China is over eighty per cent rural, and as Dr. Gambrell well said, "We must boil the pot from the bottom." China will never be won to Christ until the villages are reached.

The responsibilities of the Bible school and the treasurership of the mission prevent Mr. Harris from going into the country as often as he desires, but he has monthly touch with the evangelists, and gives especial attention to the South Suburb work in Kaifeng, which work is developing hopefully under his guidance and the assistance given by Miss Humphries and Mrs. Harris. The W. M. U. is directed by Mrs. Harris and has twenty-five regular attendants. Of these one devout soul so lets her light shine that much of the responsibility is removed from the missionary's shoulders. Mrs. Ma holds nightly prayer meetings in her home. She teaches a course prescribed for women, and through her efforts ten women have been led to Christ.

Miss Cox, giving entire time to country work, living in the villages and adopting Chinese dress, mentions most gratefully the six schools opened for girls. These girls, quick to grasp both intellectual and spiritual truths, rapidly class themselves as believers and become light bearers in their own homes, bringing out their mothers to services, who in turn frequently manifest their eagerness to hear this message of love and life. Many faithful women, even before they themselves receive baptism, become the means of leading others. Many walk long distances to help in the village meeting. The steadfastness of those persecuted for His name's sake is ever a matter for praise and thanksgiving. The recently adopted course of study is proving helpful, as is also the phonetic script. As a rule Miss Cox gives one half of the day to study with the Christian women and one half to evangelistic work.

Miss Blanche Walker has charge of city evangelistic work for women. This year it has been possible to grade the women and girls' departments in Sunday school and to maintain a Teachers' Manual Training Class. Twelve teachers, besides officers, are kept busy in this department. The blind, lame, deaf and diseased attending Sunday school are taught by one Christian blind woman. There are eighteen Christian women in our Drum Tower Church and sixteen regularly give their tenth, totaling this year $55.20, besides their free-will offerings through our W. M. U. to Japanese, famine and prison relief work. Miss Walker and her helper have visited in four hundred city homes, exhorting, praying, and preaching—ever trying to convince that Jesus alone can "speak peace" for those dead in sins. The evil one has a keen way of convincing these women that they are tooo busy with home duties to worship a God they cannot see. The prison work has recently been hindered by the building of a model prison, but from out the confusion one long-time prisoner lately broke forth in voluntary praise and said, "God's goodness is too much! Jesus has healed the disease of my heart! Not his sins but mine killed him on the cross!" Her face was blessedly alight, and the spirit in Miss Walker's own heart bore witness that Jesus had won her at last. She is the first prisoner to accept Jesus.

The Drum Tower Church is under the management of Mr. E. M. Poteat and Mr. I. D. Eavenson. Sunday services bring good crowds of interested listeners. Twice during the year special evangelistic campaigns have been held with very gratifying results. The Chinese associate pastor who has recently come is filling a long-felt want, and to his support the church members contribute more than one-half. It has been a real step forward for the Chinese to see that they can have so large a share in supporting church work. Last June over twenty were received for baptism, and represented a real addition in substantial membership.

The city church has become the City Center to multitudes of local people, and is frequently used for big meetings of the Y. M. C. A. and other Christian interests. The present average monthly attendance of two thousand five hundred persons would not have been remotely possible three years ago.

Besides holding the two meetings in the church during May and October, which were followed by a fine class of inquirers meeting weekly for further Bible study. Mr. Poteat has led special evangelistic campaigns in Chengchow, Kweiteh, Pochow, and Keifeng Baptist College in our own mission; in Shanghai Baptist College; and also at Hwanghsien in North China Mission.

The men and boys' part of the Sunday-school work has been under the supervision of Mr. I. D. Eavenson, who since taking up city work has spent the past months in intensive study, and in adjusting himself to the city work with a view to taking complete charge of the plant when Mr. Poteat goes home on furlough. In September weekly teachers' meetings were begun, with part-time given to discussion of the Sunday-school lesson and part to the study of the Teachers' Normal Manual. Ten teachers are awaiting examination on the first division, and it is hoped another year will find a large per centage holding diplomas.

In time it is hoped to use the front building as a center of the Social Service Work. Night classes have been conducted during the past few months and street chapel services. Classes for illiterates have begun with good attendance. "Personal contact" is stressed in all of this work, this being largely lost where large numbers are involved. Prospects seem very bright in this field.

Interior China Mission Bible School, temoporarily located in Kaifeng, under the supervision of Mr. Harris, is the outcome of the long-felt need of developing Chinese evangelists, Bible women, teachers and pastors for the task of reaching their own people with the gospel. The training of these men and women is the key to the whole future of Christian work in China. More and more the Chinese are going to want the leadership in their churches. If Southern Baptists are going to have strong, indigenous and self-propagating churches, they must lay wise plans for the future burden-bearers of the schools and churches. This is the third year of the Bible school and the attempts to get together a school for evangelists and Bible women has met with a measure of success.

This year the pupils number twenty men and twelve women, of whom ten men and three women will complete the course this June. This will be the first graduating class and just pride is felt in them. These students preach often in the street chapel, in connection with which is a reading room and two day schools with a hundred pupils in attendance.

For the good year just closing we praise God, and the prayers of all are requested that we may measure up to our opportunities.

Our Chinese Association held its third session last August in Chengchow. Home mission work has been organized and $400.00 Mex. raised this year. A campaign is on to purchase a well-located piece of property in Hsuchow, Kiangsu province. This property is to be bought without expense to the Board and the evangelist will also be supported by native Christians.

The industrial School for Women, under the supervision of Mrs. W. E. Sallee, is entering upon a new and well-deserved era of success. For several years these women, about seventy in number at this time, have busily plied their needles, their beautiful handiwork finding a ready market both in China and abroad. Whether housed in servants' quarters, or the cow barn, or the basement of the Boys' School they have worked cheerfully on, and now they "have their reward," for near at hand is a beautiful and commodious building, the gift of the 75 Million Campaign, into which they will move after the New Year holidays. From the Industrial School reserve $2,700.00 has been added to the amount set apart for this building, and there will be other needs for the money put aside during these years. The women have displayed unusual interest in Bible study, and marked progress has been noticed. Buying Bibles is often an impossibility for many, and this year this difficulty was solved by the gift of a friend. Mrs. Sallee's belief and hope is that from this school will come many of our future Bible women, educated and trained by their own efforts.

Educational Work.—The Boys' Boarding School has been built up around certain definite aims and ideals. The year now closing has contributed something toward the accomplishment of these ideals.

Our first aim is to find, to call out and to train boys for Christian leadership. Eight boys were in our first and only class to graduate from Middle School. Of these three are teaching in our mission schools, one is an evangelist, and two are in America preparing to preach. Twenty-two former students are now in the employ of our mission, and six with other missions. Our class to finish in June has only two boys, but it is worthy of note that both plan to preach.

Our second aim is to furnish an opportunity for the children of Christians and others who come under our influence to obtain a Christian education. Of the one hundred ninety boys matriculated this term, one hundred fifteen come from the field in which we are working—sixty-six from Kaifeng and out-stations, thirty-one from Chengchow, fifteen from Pochow and three from Kweiteh. We are prepared to help any boy who is a Christian, or from a Christian family, get an education no matter how poor he may be.

Our third aim is to bring under the influence of the gospel as large a number of boys as we can assimilate, and by so doing greatly help in evangelizing this vast province. Boys enrolled from more than half the counties in Honan give us no small opportunity. Some years ago one boy, having had no previous contact with Christianity, came to us from Mengchin Hsien. Now there are ten boys from his county in school and he himself is in America preparing to do Christian work. Another boy from this same county is in Shanghai College preparing to teach in our school.

Our fourth aim is to make the school as thorough and efficient as we know. During the year the curriculum has been reorganized to conform with the "six-six system." The efficiency of the school depends upon its staff of teachers, and the gathering of a competent faculty is slow and difficult. Our Chinese staff is faithful and is taking more interest in and responsibility for the school. Our present foreign staff includes the following, only three of whom give full time to school work, several others being on language study: Mrs. W. E. Sallee, Mr. and Mrs. Middleton, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lee, Misses Alexander, Ward and Willis. Dr. H. L. Hargrove is also teaching a class in Shakespeare and directing a Glee Club. Through the generosity of the Board we are gradually getting an equipment which will give us every facility for our work.

In addition to his duties in the school as teacher and principal, Dr. Sallee has supervised the erection of three buildings—the Woman's Industrial Building, a residence for the ladies of the faculty, and a new dormitory. His busy week closes with two preaching services on Sunday, work in which he finds especial pleasure.

Agricultural Department of the Boys' School.—In the fall of 1923 class work in agriculture was begun in the Middle School. The plan is to direct this work towards a teachers' training course for teachers of rural districts. There is a great need for a better grade of teachers to supplant the old Chinese scholar. These teachers especially need training to help them cope with conditions in rural districts.

The farm, including work in both animal husbandry and crop improvement, is developing nicely. In addition to the dairy we are developing a flock of White Leghorns that is making a good egg record and also attracting general interest. Work in the seed department is being carried on with ten different crops. To date our best work has been with wheat and American cotton. With wheat alone there is a total of ninety-one varieties and selections on tests this winter.

Boarding School for Girls.—To build a Middle School for girls in Interior China is no easy task, but our first senior class, hoping to graduate in June, entitles us for the first time to claim justly the title of Middle School. While our ideal of what a Middle School should be is not reached, yet we do approach this a little nearer each year.

This year the faculty has been enriched by several members, and for the first time we have an all Christian faculty. Mrs. Hargrove gives us good service in the English department and Mrs. Eavenson continues her efficient work in music. For the first time a second foreigner is giving full time to the work in the school in the person of Miss Stribbling, who has assumed her share in the work in a most satisfactory manner. A second Chinese woman college graduate has been added for normal training.

Our enrollment increases each term. About half of the pupils are either Christians or come from Christian families, thus making the atmosphere in the school decidedly Christian. The spirit of the student body has been one of industry and progress, taking pleasure in advancing the interests of the school and in building up Christ's kingdom in this district. The religious life of the school is manifested in the willingness to carry the gospel message. Each Sunday finds pupils teaching in Sunday schools in the city, in the Y. M. C. A., Industrial School, in Mrs. Sallee's school for village women, in the South Suburb chapel, at the hospital by the side of the sick, and in the afternoon gathering in the village children, who literally come by the hundreds. At present three hundred of these children are in evidence, and while the hope of Christmas remembrances may be the chief attraction, still we make the most of our opportunity. Personal service in the Y. W. A. has utilized all Christian girls and called out some who are not professing Christians. With the exception of two new girls all have done their daily Bible reading course and the B, Y. P. U. Manual. Their report for the Standard of Excellence far exceeds one hundred per cent.

Our progress in educational lines is marked by our first graduating class, four in number, all a direct product of the school, three of whom will go to college; and by the development of the Normal department, the present enrollment being twenty-six. At first many of these normal students were not pleased with this course which would give them only three years above the Elementary school, but as the possibilities of the work have opened up their enthusiasm has grown.

The Industrial department deserves mention. Started two years ago to help poor but deserving girls to pay at least a part of their expenses, the dolls and rompers made by them find ready sale. Not only is the department a success as regards finances, but the girls are learning beautiful needle work. They do well in their studies and are a happy group of students.

Day Schools.-Of the three local day schools, Twin Dragon Chapel leads in enrollment, having an average of four hundred per term. This fall the way was opened to rent a larger and better place and for this Miss Hare and all interested are extremely grateful, since now for the first time space is provided for all to worship together. The constant prayer is that our day schools shall be evangelist centers, and Twin Dragon Chapel is so proving. Recent preaching services led by Dr. Sallee and Mr. Herring, resulted in an inquirers' class of forty, and in addition there are now ten boys and girls and seven men and women waiting for baptism. There is an organized Sunday school with an attendance of two hundred fifty and which lacks only a few points of reaching the Standard of Excellence. A class is now ready for examination in the first part of the Sunday School Normal. The students' interest is not lacking in their B. Y. P. U., Y. W. A., G. A., and Sunbeam Bands. Ninety per cent of these are keeping the daily Bible readings. The large enrollment opens just so many homes for Mrs. Sallee to visit and this phase of the work remains with her, in addition to the weekly meeting for mothers at the school. She finds that even the little kindergarteners are light-bearers. Visitation day brings many new and varied scenes. struggles of many mothers to keep their children in school, to take time from their bread-winning work to go to services themselves, to buy Bibles, would fill volumes and move hearts of stone.

In connection with Drum Tower Church are two day schools for boys and girls under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Poteat. Progress is marked by increased enrollment and more effective school work. Athletic teams, literary sosiety work, Royal Ambassadors, and a special boys' choir, led by Dr. Hargrove, lend interest to daily routine. The girls take a real interest in their Sunbeam work. Nicely prepared programs call out good attendance, which is not compulsory. A special meeting this fall was followed by a mothers' meeting in which the children worked faithfully, urging their mothers to come. A class for married women is maintained in connection with this day school and these women follow the mission course of Bible study. Through the teaching of music and English Mrs. Poteat and Mrs. Hargrove have come in contact with a number of women teachers in the government schools, enlisting their interest in the gospel and in the church attendance.

In the South Suburb is another day school for boys and girls, the attendance reaching the hundred mark. This work has been mentioned in connection with the Bible school, and is supervised by Mr. Harris, assisted by Miss Humphries.

KWEITEH

The year of 1923 has been a memorable one in this station. We have never had harder or worse conditions under which to work. Following the departure of General Feng from this province the notorious Lao Yang Ren, a bandit chief, was received into the army and sent to occupy this section of Honan. He with other ex-bandits did as they pleased and no one was safe. For six months we have not dared to go out itinerating lest we be kidnapped and held for ransom.

Evangelistic Work.—Among the outstanding events of the year have been the ordinations of Mr. Dong Si Ming as pastor and of Mr. Fang Iong Kih as deacon, our first ordained officers. Pastor Dong is the first ordained native pastor of the Interior Mission. The ordination service was conducted at the time of the opening of our new church building, which is one of the gifts of the Five Year Program to Kweiteh. We have a light, airy church with a seating capacity of over six hundred, with provision for galleries when needed. Our people have passed their quota for the Five Year Program, having given over six hundred dollars of the seven hundred fifty allotted them. This has all been expended in the extension of the work. Two new out-stations have been opened this year with these funds. Four men and their wives are in the Mission's Bible school, two of whom will complete their course in June, 1924, and will go to country places badly in need of pastoral care.

Our sales of Gospels and Scripture portions are over fifteen thousand for the year, being five thousand more than last year. Tracts in proportion have been distributed broadcast. Our Sunday school has gone ahead with an average attendance of two hundred, and the number of Bibles bought by those attending has more than doubled since last year. In April and November, special services were held by Pastors G. P. Bostick, E. M. Poteat and H. M. Harris. We have had sixty-eight baptisms this year, and more than ten await baptism next spring. We have nine out-stations but only four evangelists to care for them. One old brother, practically illiterate, has done good work in going regularly to groups of interested ones and holding meetings. During a visit of Miss Bostick to his village much interest was manifested and a subscription taken to provide a better meeting place. Many around there seem to have been healed in answer to this old man's child-like faith.

In increased numbers, in additions to the church, in number of students enrolled, in money contributions, in amounts of Bibles sold and distributed we have evidence of substantial advances in our work despite the bandit condition.

Another family for evangelistic work and a man or woman for school work are our immediate needs. We must have help.

Educational Work.—This year marks a turning point in our school work. In the central school seventy-six boys and thirty-nine girls have been enrolled, and ninety-five boys in the five country schools. Some of our best students have left us because we have no higher Primary department, but as we go forward with the system adopted by the government, we shall get many of these boys back next term. In the day school here on the compound there is an organization of Royal Ambassadors and a Sunbeam Band. These meet each Sunday and their programs are carried out very creditably. Mrs. Townsend and Miss Bostick visit in the homes of day pupils, thus keeping in touch with their mothers, many of whom come to hear the gospel because their children hear it at school and beg them to come.

POCHOW, ANHWEI

Pochow and the surrounding fields of mission work have a population of more than three million. With the exception of one other denomination which has work on the outskirts of this immense field all out-station work falls upon Mr. G. P. Bostick and Mrs. Wade Bostick, assisted on some occasions by Mr. Wade Bostick. No one of the three can spare full time to the work. Sincerely let us pray that the Lord send laborers into this great field.

Medical Work.—Dr. Mary King gratefully reports progress in a growing confidence on the part of the Chinese, in ability to handle more difficult cases than formerly, in opportunity to send off for further training a trusted helper, thus preparing her for better service in the future, and in an eagerness on the part of patients and of many not listed as patients to come for the gospel message. Lack of equipment and lack of assistance are serious hindrances to effective work. Patients needing operations must be referred to nearby hospitals. With the help of a trained nurse from home three times the present amount of work could be done.

We long to see the babies and their mothers have a better chance for life and have hoped to make the hospital sufficiently popular to induce expectant mothers to leave home and come to us. Usually we are called too late to save the child. About half the patients seeking medical aid either have various eye conditions or skin diseases. Several cases of smallpox have come this year, but we are not usually entrusted with such cases. A distressing number of cases of Kala-Azar have presented themselves, but seldom submit to continued treatment. We believe a large degree of support for our medical work can be secured by careful collecting from the patients, though none are refused because of poverty. Through good collections for medicines and care we have added some conveniences and hope to increase efficiency still further this coming year. For the year closing our records show:

Treatment in daily clinics	 3,011
Individual patients treated	 2,573
Cash received	 143.47

.Through the faithful daily work of Miss Barratt the dispensary has been the means of giving a gospel message to scores of women who otherwise could not have been reached. It is good to see groups of women and girls come for the gospel talks alone, not needing medical attention. Miss Barratt's interest in individuals is rewarded by a ready response, and the gospel made a living thing within their comprehension.

Evangelistic Work.—During the year bandits kidnapping, robbing, burning and murdering have rendered out-station work unsafe for many months, but even these distressing conditions brought a reflex action. The majority of the rich people within the infested districts poured into the city, seeking and even building homes. The greater half of these being without employment, many came to church to pass the time, and thus the gospel message has reached many women formerly inaccessible. Every Sunday the big church has been packed to overflowing, and as the word was sown with much prayer we have the assurance "It shall not return unto Him void."

Conditions being more quiet this fall, Mrs. Wade Bostick has reached a few out-stations and was encouraged by the spiritual progress made in the midst of so much social unrest. On one occasion a great crowd gathered professing a deep interest in the gospel, many professing a saving faith in Christ, and more asked for baptism than were baptized in the whole field during her first term of service.

At Soahsien Cheng, an out-station in a large market town, a large temple was bought last year and this year was worked over into quite a nice meeting house, the Chinese Christians bearing the expense largely. In this meeting house, Mr. G. P. Bostick recently examined thirty-five professed converts. The evangelist in charge ten years ago was a hard opium smoker and but for the grace of God would have perished long ago.

Following our spring and autumn meetings in the city, conducted by Pastor Poteat and Pastor and Mrs. Herring, eighty persons were approved for baptism, all of whom were received after much instruction and frequent examinations. We make it a rule to ask them as to their willingness to witness to others for the Lord and to help financially. After their baptism our total number will stand near the three hundred mark for the city and all out-stations. Progress has been made in classifying the Sunday school and classes are taught by competent Chinese Christians. There is a regularly organized W. M. U., in which the women take much interest, contributing liberally to the support of the native association of the Interior Mission. Regular monthly meetings are led as a rule by the women themselves, who, persevering under great difficulties, have learned to read well enough to carry out the program. They also are learning the joy of personal service.

Through her contact with the hospital patients and with her day pupils, Miss Barratt finds ready access into many homes where access could not be gained otherwise. Her story about Jesus is listened to most attentively. Her invitation to come to chapel service is often accepted. A reading class has been started which meets three times a week, and although attendance is small, those coming are faithful and are making progress.

Educational Work.—Girls' Boarding School. The fall enrollment shows a fine increase over that of last year. Difficulty is still found in encouraging day pupils. Miss Riddell endeavors to keep the industrial work in proper relation to the school, namely, to help those only who really need help. This department has been opened two years, and so far has accomplished its purpose in paying the board bill. On Sunday the pupils are organized into classes and teachers, outside pupils coming in often one hundred in number and more. These Sunday services are of great help in training the girls for religious service, and many came back in the fall with reports of Sunday-school classes taught during vacation.

Boys' School. A new building ideally located makes it possible for Mr. Wade Bostick to care for more than two hundred boys. The spirit for work among both students and teachers is good. This year a class of seven is finishing and with this number it is planned to add two years of Middle School work. Splendid progress has been made in Bible study, Sunday-school work and in their literary society.

More than fifty boys are working for part or all of their board. Employment for them is provided on the farm and in the small dairy. This latter is but a beginning of what is hoped will soon develop, and become the possibility of supporting a large number of boys. The boys and all people at the out-stations take a great interest in the dairy, especially in the breeding of better stock.

In addition to the city school, Mr. Bostick has the care of all out-station schools, about twenty in number. In all of these the Bible is regularly taught, and at each out-station regular Sunday services are held.

Girls' Day School.—Opened this fall by Miss Barratt, this school at present has twenty-six pupils, most of whom come from the homes which have been reached through hospital work. A young girl, a former pupil of Miss Riddell's and a sincere Christian, is most faithful in her work as teacher, laying especial emphasis on the Bible work.

Our Organizations.—No phase of our church and school work lends us more encouragement than the W. M. U., B. Y. P. U., Y. W. A., R. A., and Sunbeam organizations. The W. M. U.'s especially are learning the joy of giving and are contributing most generously toward association work and the opening of new stations. The training which the students are finding in preparing and executing programs will be of greatest use to them in after life in all phases of work requiring organization and leadership, as well as broadening their knowledge of the Bible. In Kaifeng the semi-annual gathering at the Drum Tower Church of all the local young people's organizations is a most inspiring sight. After a most interesting program, a banner is awarded to that group which has made the highest average for the half year according to the Standard of Excellence.

NORTH CHINA MISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

By Mrs. F. P. Lide. CHEFOO STATION—Reported by J. W. Moore.

The Past Year's Workmen and Work.

The City.—Although our force has been rather limited the past year, there are, however, some indications of progress in the task. The retiring from the work by Brother Peyton Stephens without any one coming to take his place left J. W. Moore the threefold task of looking after the city church, boys' school and country work. The cause has suffered but we rejoice that during the year twenty-nine have been baptized into the church. The Sunday school has been graded. Bible classes have been taught during the weekdays. Night classes for the laborers, both men and women, have been taught seven months during the year, and as many as 220 men and boys and 160 women have been enrolled in these classes. While learning to read they have learned of Jesus, and some of them are now members of our church. Two of our best young men have gone to the Bush Theological Seminary. Our church has adopted the budget system of church finance and more has been contributed by the natives to every cause fostered by the denomination than ever before. Brother George Nicoll, with the city evangelist, has kept the street chapel open almost every day in the year. Mrs. Moore and the evangelistic women have been busy in the homes and hair net factories. The W. M. U. has been very active part of the year.

The Country.—The progress of the gospel on our country field has been slow for lack of some one to give more time to it. But the way is gradually opening. Several have attended night classes, quite a number have confessed their faith in the Lord and are now being instructed. Invitations have come to open schools in villages that have never before been willing for a Christian school. We are praying the Lord of the harvest for some one to help us in this ripe and ready field.

The Schools.—The greatest advance made in any of our schools during the year has been in the Williams Memorial Girls' School. The coming of Miss Pearl Todd and Miss Rachel Newton made it possible to open the boarding department, which had been closed the past two years for lack of some one to manage it. Although these young ladies are still studying the language, by the help of Mrs. George Nicoll the school has had the most successful year, with fifty-eight in attendance. Many of the students are Christians and will give themselves to some form of Christian service.

The Boys' Higher Primary School has had an attendance of one hundred and three and others were turned away for lack of room. The interest of these students in the daily Bible classes has been splendid. Seven of them were baptized during the year. There has been absolute harmony in the school and in the city annual meet our boys took many prizes in the contests.

The lower Primary schools, one under the care of Brother Nicoll and two under the care of Mrs. Moore, have had an attendance of about one hundred and sixty. These schools have given us much cause for rejoicing. The Scripture verses and songs which they have memorized make our tasks lighter as we hear them repeated, and no doubt they have brought sunshine to their heathen homes as they have repeated them. Several of these students have received diplomas for the completion of the Bible readers' course prescribed by the native association. When the women evangelists or missionary gets out of any place to work all she has to do is go to one of these schools and ask who will arrange for a visit in their homes. At this request little hands go up from every corner. Mothers' Day in these schools has meant much for the spread of the gospel.

Some Things for Which We Thank God and Take Courage.

The visit and addresses of Dr. W. O. Carver.

The visit and services of Miss Kathleen Mallory.

The coming of Misses Todd and Newton to join us.

The coming of the McCrea family to live in Chefoo.

The recovery of Mrs. McCrea and Martha Jane Moore from serious operations.

Renewed interest in Bible study both in and outside of the schools.

The opportunity afforded for evangelism in the night schools.

The goodly number baptized, and the churches' growth in stewardship.

HWANGHSIEN STATION.

Men's Evangelistic Work-W. B. Glass.

The 75 Million Campaign made it possible for the Foreign Mission Board to provide a church plant in Hwanghsien City. This building was opened at the time of the Chinese New Year, and while the formal dedication did not take place until some months later, we feel that the Lord at that time set his seal upon it and gave the promise of his blessing. For ten days the building was kept open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and literally thousands came to see the building and to hear the gospel. Thousands of tracts were given away and every one heard the Word. Many came day after day. At first only the nearby neighbors came. The news spread, and then the women and girls in the surrounding villages came in great numbers. A large number of those that came and heard at that time have been baptized during the year. Hundreds of friends were made, the neighbors all over that part of the city speak of us as "neighbors," and there is every evidence that our presence there is welcomed. Daily throughout the year there has been preaching to the crowds that come to the dispensary to be treated.

The Tent and the "New Tent."

Since the autumn of 1920 we have been operating on our field one gospel tent. It would be hard to estimate the good that has been accomplished with this tent. The Chinese evangelists say that one tent is equal to ten rented chapels. It is true that we get more people into the tent, and it goes from place to place and hence covers much more territory—it brings the gospel right to the people's doors. But it also lacks the quality of permanency. It is like the annual revival meeting. It gives an impetus, but it also needs the local evangelist on the field to conserve the results. This first tent has operated in Chaoyuen county altogether the past year. Many places have been visited, many people interested in the gospel, some boys and girls of promise discovered and gotten into school, and hundreds of copies of the Scriptures put into circulation.

The enthusiasm of the Chinese for the tent work led them to propose the purchase of another tent. It was undertaken on the field to raise the money, for we did not feel that we could ask the Board for money for an additional tent. The tent was ordered and arrived about the first of September. We immediately fitted it out and went to preaching in it. For the first six weeks, which covered the fall harvest season, when the country people were busy, it was used in Hwanghsien City and suburbs. It was set up in five different centers, and we had great crowds. It is doubtful if so many Hwanghsien people have ever heard the gospel so interestedly as during this six weeks.

Two Other Tents.

At the time the new tent was sent for Hwanghsien, the Board sent a new tent for Tengchowfu also. This territory is at present under the direction of Hwanghsien station and is in charge of Mr. Lide. Since its arrival this tent has also been constantly used until the weather became too cold. The Lung Kow Church, feeling that it was not getting its share of the use of the tent, decided that it would have a tent of its own. So they took the measure of the new tent, bought material and duplicated it. It has often been said: "Give a Chinaman a pattern and he can make anything." This adds its modicum of proof to that statement. So that we now have in the bounds of the Hwanghsien field, four gospel tents, which in good weather are all kept busy. We expect great results from these tents in 1924.

Revival Meetings.

In the latter part of November we had revival meetings in the city church and in the North China College simultaneously. There were four services a day—two in each place. Dr. E. M. Poteat of Shanghai Colege, and Mr. Edgar Tewksbury, of the Presbyterian Mission, Peking, came to help us. These men preached some great sermons. Mr. Tewksbury was born and educated in China and truly speaks better Chinese than most of the Chinese do. Dr. Poteat had to be interpreted, but his messages were strong and direct, dealing with the fundamentals of the Christian religion, and had powerful effect. There were a great many decisions among the students and also among outside people. The immediate results in baptisms was ten from the outside and fifteen from the schools. Many of the students will be baptized next spring, no doubt. Following this a meeting of eight days was held with the Lungkow church and fifteen were baptized.

Baptisms.

The total number of baptisms on this field, not including Tengchowfu, was two hundred and eight. These are divided as follows: Hwanghsien, 116; Lungkow, 49; Shangtswang, 19; and Chaoyuen, 24.

Hwanghsien Women's Work-Miss Anna Hartwell.

The women's work this year had a wonderful impetus from the very beginning given by the opening of the city church, where we have a beautiful, roomy chapel for the women alone, a ladies' parlor, a workroom for the industrial department, and a kindergarten room waiting for our kindergartener to come and gather in the little tots. Literally thousands of women came and went, visiting this new church during the first moon of the year. Of course there were always workers on hand to invite them in, show them around, and when their curiosity had been satisfied, to seat them in the woman's chapel to listen to the gospel story. Some blessed results came from this first month's work. At the same time daily preaching of the gospel to women in chapels and in girls' day schools was going on in half a dozen other places where the Women's Missionary Society sent its workers in groups of three or four or more.

The long-time habit of the Missionary Society to divide up its volunteers on Sunday afternoons for work in these different six or eight centers, has been kept up during the year. These older ladies escort the Y. W. A.'s and G. A.'s in groups to these places, and together they hold the meetings for women and children. In preparation for this work there are held each week two meetings of classes, a missionary giving a gospel talk as it should be given to a crowd of outsiders such as will gather to hear them the following Sunday. She endeavors to draw out the workers by question and illustration so as to help them to think for themselves of wise and winsome ways of presenting the Truth. A most absorbing line of work has been that done in the city prison, where a group of workers in company with one of the missionaries goes every Sunday afternoon to talk or hold little meetings with the women prisoners. Surely here God's grace and love are magnified. There have been recently three beautifully clear conversions among these prisoners.

The every-day-in-the-week (except Saturday) meetings with women in the different sections of the city, consecutively, have been continued through the year with some most interesting results. A number of special "classes" for inquirers have been held during the year, in the city as well as at some of the out-stations. In some of these the women have out-numbered the men, and the teaching of them has been intensive.

We were greatly heartened by the timely visit of our Corresponding Secretary, dear Miss Mallory, from the homeland. Her coming to us brought more joy and encouragement than we know how to express. She took time and had a heart for details. She saw and appreciated difficulties and victories which the hastener would have passed over unnoticed. She went on her way rejoicing and she left us rejoicing, because we believe she will give the "rope-holders" at home a new vision and a new urge to work, and to give, and to pray.

Hwangshien Hospitals-Dr. T. W. Ayers.

The records show that in 1923 more work was done in the Warren Memorial Hospital than in any previous year. Its treatments to in and out-patients number 40,530. The number of individuals to whom these treatments were given is 9,745. It had 566 in-patients, and its dispensary attendance was 31,964; which is 9,496 more than it was in 1922. This large increase in the dispensary attendance is due largely to the dispensary clinics in the new institutional church in the city, which had for ten months an attendance of 15,278.

Results of the Year's Work are difficult to express in words. In both the medical and surgical wards lives have been saved. Many have been cured who had suffered long for lack of treatment. Many have been improved who could have been cured had they remained long enough under treatment. Some came too late to be cured. Two of the great difficulties in hospital work in China are that many wait too long before coming for treatment, and others will not remain in the hospitals long enough to be cured.

Charity Work.—This hospital has done no small amount of charity work during the year, both in hospital and dispensaries. No man, woman or child has been turned away for the lack of money when it was seen that they could be helped by treatment.

Free_Clinic for Children.—Dr. Ayers has conducted daily in connection with the dispensary in the new church in the city a free clinic for children. This has been daily joy to the heart of the man who has it in charge. Joy, because it has brought to him so many little ones whom he has been able to help. Joy, because he constantly hears expressions of appreciation from mothers who bring their children for treatment. He has heard during the year hundreds of times the Chinese expression "Hing hao," which means doing good deeds. Joy, because he has been made to feel that this free clinic presents the benevolent side of our Christian religion in such a way that all who come see and understand it. Many cases of interest have come to this clinic. Children, deaf, have been made to hear. Eyes have been saved that but for treatment would have been blind. Lives, too, have been saved. Is this not enough to make the heart of a man rejoice?

White Cross.—The way in which the Baptist women of Georgia and Missouri have come to our help in treating these poor Chinese during the year has been great. They have let us want for nothing which they could supply. They have furnished us more than three thousand gold dollars worth of supplies during the year, and this means that we have had many things that we could not have had without their help. In fact, as we look back over the year we do not see how we could possibly have done without the help these dear women have extended. They indeed have had a great share in the work done by this hospital. God bless them!

Evangelistic.—This hospital from the day of its opening has put evangelism first in importance of its endeavors. It has never varied from this ideal. During the year no one has received treatment for his body who has not been told how to secure healing for his soul. During the year many have confessed Christ and some have followed him in baptism.

. Staff.—During the year Dr. Bryan has been in charge of the men's hospital and hospital dispensary. The surgical section has also been in his hands. Dr. Ayers has had charge of the women's hospital and the clinics in the new institutional church. Drs. Chu and Tsang have done splendid work during the year and much credit is due them for the success of the year's work.

LAICHOWFU STATION.

Evangelistic Work, Mr. C. A. Leonard in Charge.

Although during the past year we did not attain all that we had hoped for, there is much for which we should praise God. Baptisms numbered fifty-six and a good number of enquirers are awaiting baptism. A favorite expression of the Chinese is, "Shantung people are a flock of sheep." As yet the great majority have no shepherd, but it is believed that when a larger number become Christian the others will follow. We can see yearly improvement in the attitude toward the Good Shepherd. There are many secret believers whom we are trusting will soon have courage to take a public stand for Christ. Men of the better class are in increasing numbers becoming Christians. One of these who was baptized this year is in charge of the county prison, and preaches regularly to the prisoners. A Bible class is being held in his home.

A revival meeting was conducted in our city church in the fall by Dr. Glass of Hwanghsien, which resulted in more than a hundred decisions for Christ. Never has there been so many inquirers in and around the city and in the country districts.

In addition to the regular work of the station Mr. Leonard served during 1923 as Campaign director for the North China Baptist Association. The Association is attempting during these five years of the 75 Million Campaign to raise $50,000 Mexican for its Home Mission work. This is in addition to its local church expenses. The proportion for this year was $13,300, including a deficit of $1,300 from the previous year. The total contributions, including those to the Association's orphanage land and buildings, amounted to more than $20,000.

The woman's evangelistic work suffered during the first half of the year by the two women who are engaged in this work being on regular furlough, but their return in the autumn put new life into it. Miss Huey has been busy going from church to church teaching the Christians and sowing the seed of the gospel in new hearts. The Epistle of Peter was recently taught in all the churches and proved such a comfort and strength in these troublous times that the Christians more than once declared that it was written just for the Chinese. Two of the Bible women have died during the year, who are greatly missed in the work. Miss Miller has had a busy autumn with her industrial school for married women during the forenoons and the city evangelistic work in the afternoons. Her school is meeting a great need, as so many educated Christian men have ignorant wives and thus no hope of a Christian home where the children can be properly brought up. The women work half day in the school embroidering and doing other fancy work to help on their school expenses, and studying during the mornings. They learn to read and write and study the Bible, and get much help on training and caring for children. The school is one of our greatest evangelistic agencies.

Bible Women's Training School, Miss Mary D. Willefrd, Principal.

For eighteen years the Training School of North China has been running under the supervision of Miss Willeford. It receives women from all over the province and sends them back after three years of training to be Light Bearers to those still in darkness. The building was erected for thirty, but this year it has taken care of thirty-one. Formerly only married women were received, mostly wives of preachers or other Christian workers, but now there are some unmarried women with only a primary education, which will not admit them to the new Training School for educated girls in Hwanghsien, who must be taken into this school and given the training they need. We feel every year that those who finish and go out are a little better prepared for the work than the previous class. Three faithful Chinese teachers have assisted Miss Willeford this year.

Girls' Boarding School, Miss Bertha Smith, Principal.

The most exciting thing that has happened in the school was a long-drawn-out epidemic of scarlet fever, and next to that the most annoying has been half a dozen carpenters working in the yard. The epidemic caught one Chinese teacher and thirty-five girls, taking them in relays and keeping them in quarantine so long that some had to take over the term's work. While the other missionaries met at Tsingtao in regular mission meeting in the spring the principal had to stay at home and act as nurse and police to those who were in quarantine. When every-body else gets all they need for their mission work she is going to send in a request for about five hundred dollars to build small isolation quarters on the corner of the compound, then these Chinese diseases which seem bound to get into the school can be controlled.

Material for the new benches and desk was brought into the school yard in big logs, and had to be sawed and planed and made up under the supervision of the principal. Often she had to be disturbed right in the middle of a class to give instructions and measure and re-measure to be sure that proportions were right. Scarlet fever she hopes never to meet again, but oh, how she would like to keep the carpenter annoyance a while longer! From the equipment fund received the chapel has been seated with good strong benches that are fairly comfortable, and half the school rooms have good, comfortable single desks with chair attached—the best that could be made in the yard—but the other pupils are still sitting on backless benches with four pegs for legs. How disappointed we were that the Board could make no appropriations for equipment for 1924. The teaching force and type of work in the school is the same as the previous year. There were six baptisms from among the student body, and about fifteen others who took a stand for Christ and are awaiting baptism.

The seven primary day schools did better work this year than formerly, and two or three new schools are to be opened next year.

Boy's Boarding School, Mr. R. A. Jacob, Principal.

The boys' boarding school has had a very prosperous year.

Mr. K'u Kiu Kiang, a fine young man trained from boyhood in our own mission schools, is now head Chinese teacher in the boarding school and assistant to the principal. He has done most excellent work during the year and bids fair to develop into a first-rate school man. Notwithstanding that we lost a good many students in the reorganization of the school our enrollment is seventy-two and the total enrollment for the year seventy-seven.

Formerly the lower primary department has been greatly overcrowded, but the withdrawal of thirty students from the orphanage to establish the orphanage school has relieved that situation and the additions for the year have been in the upper grades, making the school now more balanced.

Deportment this year has been an improvement on previous years, the boys showing a spirit of co-operation, and feeling the responsibility of success resting on them. No trouble of discipline has come up during the whole year.

Boys' Day Schools.

The day schools are in a flourishing condition. There are eighteen in all; fifteen of which fulfill our requirements, having men of high school grade as teachers. The other three are of lower grade, and consequently receive less aid from the Board. The patrons are furnishing at least 40 per cent of the teacher's salary, besides finding and equipping the school room. There is room for improvement in the equipment of these schools, but new ideas move slowly in China and we must not be impatient with the Chinese in this matter. Our school equipment is quite equal to that of the public schools throughout the country districts. The day school at the orphanage deserves special mention, as the work has been splendid this year. The teacher, Mr. Hsu Hai T'ien, is especially commended for his Christian zeal and up-to-date teaching methods.

The religious life has been good, both in the boarding school and day schools. With but one or two exceptions all the larger boys who were not Christians before have signified their intention to follow the Master and are now pursuing further studies, looking forward to examination for church membership and baptism. Our prayer is that they may go out to live for Christ in whatever calling they find themselves.

The Orphanage, Mrs. Leonard in Charge.

Everybody in North China is proud of the orphanage because it belongs to the Chinese; is supported by the North China Association, and is loved by the Christians just as our orphanages at home are loved and supported by the Christian constituency. The year has seen new buildings go up and land and money given for more until soon what is needed will be supplied. A local man who spent fifty years in England and returned to his native city to die has given three thousand dollars for the school building. A wealthy Chinese who is not a Christian gave the land, and we hope that this philanthropic act may bring him to realize the deeper meaning of the existence of the orphanage and lead him to Christ as Savior. An orphanage where the homeless children might be sheltered and given Christian training has been in the heart of Mrs. Leonard all of her thirteen years in China, and as we now look at the modest Chinese buildings and see the fifty or more children marching out to church, and hear them singing their praises to God in evenings, our hearts swell up with gratitude to God for having answered her prayers.

Medical Work.

The medical work has been somewhat interrupted during the year. Dr. J. M. Gaston went on furlough, and being unable to secure a native physician the men's hospital had to be closed, except for the daily clinic which was carried on by the Chinese nurses. Only a few patients who did not require constant attention were allowed to stay in the isolation building.

The Kathleen Mallory Hospital has been doing regular work for only about five months. It opened properly in the autumn, when the new nurse, Miss Alda Grayson, finished her two years' language study and was ready for regular work. It was not long until she and Dr. Beall had all they could manage, the wards all being full and still patients came. The nurse's office had to be turned into a ward, and a baby patient put in the linen closet. The hospital was built too small for growth, but it was the best that could be done from the money given at the time, but it must be enlarged as soon as possible.

Both Dr. Beall and Miss Grayson are extremely fond of children and have had their hearts rejoiced over being able to bring relief to many of these little ones of China. One little fellow, six years old, with bowel trouble, was relieved of over seventy intestinal parasites and a fly from the ear which had been there at least a year. He seemed to love the hospital, especially the morning worship, and soon all the hospital force loved him. Dr. Beall, for various reasons, had been unable to attend the morning worship for some time, and one morning after treating his ear, he took hold of her hand, and gently pulling her down to the window seat beside him, said: "Stay and worship." She got her Bible and hymn book and shared them with him, and he tried his best to sing, but couldn't. It was sweet to hear his little grunt on about every third word.

A girl about fifteen was brought in in a critical condition. Her body was a bundle of bones, but she had a keen face. When given melted sugar she was so glad to get it that she was unwilling to eat it lest she have none left. When one piece was given her she would hide it and beg for more and then when she had two pieces she would eat one. Evidently she had been warned not to receive the Christian teaching, for when any one tried to teach her she immediately became interested in something else and pretended not to understand their language. But after a few weeks her attitude changed and she loved nothing more than for some one to tell her more about Jesus. She unbound her feet and declared her faith in him. Her father was so grateful for her health being restored that he promised to send her to school.

LAIYANG STATION.

Brother I. V. LARSON Reports for Laiying Station.

Laiyang is the most interior station of the North China Mission. Our nearest neighbors are two days away. The roads are deplorable and travel is miserable, to say the least.

The inaccessibility of this field necessarily makes for a backward and conservative people. And, religiously speaking, is conducive to bigotry. This bigotry is the cause of considerable persecution of our Christians.

From the human standpoint it would seem that the task of evangelizing these people were too great. But for the grace of God many of us might have returned to the homeland long ago! That same spirit which called us forth and constrained us to come out here is still sustaining us in the faith and keeping us at the task. May we set forth below some of the elements that enter into making the task on the foreign field seem worth while?

Mr. Liu Tsi T'ing is a prosperous business man in our largest market village. He has built a very substantial brick building in which he carries on his business. A few years ago, Mr. Liu went to a mission hospital at Chefoo for an operation. While there he was brought under the influence of the gospel. He learned enough about the benefits of Christianity to know that he himself was far from an ideal man, but still he did not believe. He left the hospital with the one avowed purpose of learning all he could about this "foreign devil's doctrine." He frequently made life miserable for colporteurs and evangelists by tripping them up on passages of Scripture which were difficult of interpretation. Finally, last summer he came into the full light, and it was my privilege to baptize him. He is very zealous, and preaches the gospel to everyone who comes into his shop. He also goes with us to our chapels and preaching stations and preaches with great power. As a result of his earnestness all his clerks are also enquirers. Such converts greatly encourage us in the work.

At the present time there is only one missionary family on the field to shoulder the responsibilities of the whole work. Rev. and Mrs. Adams went home on a well-earned furlough early in the autumn, and Mrs. Daniel had to go to Chefoo for an operation. We hope she may soon be able to return to the field. If all of the members of the station were here, we should have plenty to do. What can one family do? Well, we are just trusting in the Lord for a double portion of his Spirit!

In the Churches.

We have six churches in our Laiyang field. Besides these six churches proper we have eleven preaching stations, not to mention some twenty schools, which are also used at times for preaching purposes. This last year there were ninety-one additions by baptism. Thirty-one more have passed successfully their examination for baptism and await baptism next spring. Besides these a great host of people are inquiring after the truth. Everywhere one goes he is received gladly. Evangelists are now being sought by people who formerly closed their doors in their faces. Many are now begging for someone to bring to them the word of truth. The writer has been trying to give what time he could to the ministry of these churches, but with the managing of the schools he has not been able to do as much as he would like in this direction.

In the Schools.

Our Laiyang Baptist Boys' School, and our Laiyang Baptist Girls' School are thriving and growing. It is from our Christian schools that we hope to draw our future leaders. All our teachers in our boys' school, with the exception of one, are the product of the Christian school; and all the teachers, without an exception, in our girls' school, are the product of the Christian school. If it is necessary to have Christian schools in America to develop a Christian constituency at the home base, it is doubly necessary to have the Christian school out here to develop a real Christian constituency. We did not come out here for the purpose of educating the Chinese. They have their own educational institutions. But the state institutions cannot supply the Christian leadership and Christian constituency.

The Needs of This Field.

We have oeen praying for a doctor and a nurse. Our nearest white doctor is located two days away. Many lives and souls could be saved if we had the ministry of healing to go with the ministry of preaching and teaching. We are also praying for a hospital in which our hoped-for doctor and nurse can work. The writer of this report is not a schoolman. He did not prepare for this. He feels that his life-work is to preach the gospel. We need a schoolman for this field. We are praying that God shall send one to take over this promising and growing boys' school. Mrs. Daniel is quite alone in the women's evangelistic work of the city and surrounding villages nearby. We pray that some young lady will hear the call and come to this wonderful field of opportunity.

PINGTU STATION

Pingtu Evangelistic and Primary School Report is given by Dr. David Bryan as follows:

Three hundred and seventy baptisms, one new church organized and one new pastor ordained are the chief new statistical features of the Pingtu evangelistic report for 1923. The addition of one church makes exactly thirty on this field. These were ministered to by nine pastors, thirty-two evangelists and twenty Bible women. Thirteen hundred and thirty-nine Christians finished one of the three Bible reading courses provided by the North China Baptist Association and are ready for certificates. One hundred and forty-one Sunday schools with an average attendance of 3,683 are reported by the workers. A number of pastors and evangelists are now taking the first book of the Sunday School Normal course and will have their examination the last of January.

There were 117 boys' primary day schools with 2,523 pupils in attendance. The girls' primary schools numbered 51, with 620 pupils. Twelve of the boys' schools employed two teachers each, giving a total of 186 men and women primary teachers. Of course we want these schools to be as efficient educational agencies as possible, but the main reason for their existence is evangelism. These teachers teach the Bible as a part of the regular weekly schedule, and on Sundays they lead the Sunday school and conduct, in many cases, a regular worship. In addition to the regular schools there were conducted last summer forty-seven vacation Bible schools with an attendance of 429. The teachers of these schools were the pupils from our station boarding schools, who, without remuneration, gave most of their vacation to conducting these Bible schools. The native pastors and other workers all seem to be pushing the Vacation Bible School with vigor and enthusiasm.

Christmas was a happy closing feature of the year. At a workers' meeting early in December all the pastors and evangelists entered into a covenant to lead their churches in a celebration of the birth of Christ. The plan was to have a meeting on Christmas day at each of the churches. The pastor or evangelist was to lead this meeting with an appropriate sermon, after which the people were to be called on for an offering—a gift to Jesus. These offerings were to be divided as the churches saw fit between the needy Christians of the local churches and the orphanage, maintained at Laichowfu by the North China Baptist Association. They all brought back good reports of these meetings. Many of the local poor received substantial aid; and they gave enough to the orphanage to feed the entire bunch of over fifty orphans for a month and a half.

Evangelistic Work Among Pingtu Women, Miss Bonnie Ray.

In January we had our regular class for Bible women and any other Christian workers that could attend. Mrs. Jewell L. Daniel came to assist in the teaching. As she was in this work when she first came to China, her coming brought great joy to the women. These meetings are a great inspiration to the workers. Several had the privilege of attending the summer conference which was held in Hwanghsien.

The W. M. U. work is progressing. At the meeting of the Pingtu W. M. U. in May there was a full delegation from the societies and the program was very good and the response from the women gratifying. After two women talked on "Tithing," one of the Bible women arose and asked that definite action be taken in regard to it. Forty names were given, expressing their determination to tithe everything that they have any power over. The Bible women and teachers already tithe their salaries, so this was to tithe any money they have outside their salaries. The report of the Orphans' Home brought another high tide of interest and enthusiasm. A generous offering was taken as the result. This local W. M. U. is drawing our women closer together and helping them to understand and better co-operate with the North China Associational W. M. U.

The Bible women say that there is more interest shown in the churches than in previous years. In one of the oldest churches there seemed to be no interest and the Bible woman was discouraged. During this year I returned to assist her a few days. When I inquired as to the interest she, with beaming face, told of the awakening among the membership. Nine women and girls had been baptized and there are fifteen earnest inquirers now.

The opening of the Good Will Center marks another step in the progress of women's work. Mrs. David Bryan has charge of this work. She had the formal opening of the work in December. Already we can feel its influence in our midst. Many women and children are coming to the church services that had not come before.

Our hearts have been made to rejoice by the coming of Mrs. Earl Parker. Although she has not finished her language study she is holding classes each week at two places, one inside the city and the other in the west suburb. When she can give full time to the work other places will be opened that we have wanted to open for many years. In the west suburb the teacher of the day school there, with some of the teachers and girls from the girls' school, have a wide-awake Sunday school which meets on Sunday afternoon.

OXNER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL AND THE LOUELLA ROACH ALEXANDER MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

By Dr. G. N. Herring.

On December 6, 1923, these two hospitals were dedicated to active service. This was a very imposing occasion. Dr. Ayers and Dr. Pruitt of Hwanghsein officiated, and they gave the people the real message. In the light of what has been done in the past with almost no equipment we are looking forward for greater things in the future.

This new building stands out as a memorial, not only to those who came to Pingtu and blazed the trail for those who should come afterwards to enlarge and reconstruct, but also to those in the homeland who gave their money so generously. To Dr. Yocum, who so ably planned and built this imposing ediffice great credit is also due.

The combination of these new hospitals in one building lends itself to many advantages, particularly in the use of a well-equipped operating room. This is situated at the center of the building jutting out over the main entrance, making an attractive break in the building at the junction of the two hospitals. Through this combination it has been possible to install a central heating and water system without a large outlay of funds.

During the year 7,843 patients have visited the hospital for treatments, and 19,315 treatments have been administered. The number of operations under general anaesthesia numbered seventy-eight.

During the year 9,117 heard the gospel through the efforts of the hospital evangelists. Much interest has been manifested in the gospel and many of the patients have become believers.

We have a deep feeling of gratitude for the generous supplies sent out by the "White Cross," such as sheets, towels, gauze, bandages, and numerous other needed articles. We do most of all thank our heavenly Father for putting this loving service into the hearts of his people.

PINGTU CHRISTIAN INSTITUTE.

The year 1923 has been a red-letter year in the history of the Pingtu Christian Institute due to five distinguishing features.

- 1. The material equipment of the school has been largely increased by the appropriation of $15,000, U. S. currency, for building purposes. With this a new two-story administration building has been erected (with nine classrooms, a laboratory, a library, and two offices), and also a two-story dormitory with accommodations for four teachers and 108 students, and a small building for industrial work. These buildings have for a long time been sorely needed and will add much to the efficiency of the school. The Chinese, both Christian and non-Christian, seem to appreciate these additions. As a token of their appreciation, the gentry of the city are preparing a banner to present to the school, after an appropriate parade through the city in honor of the occasion, on January 19th.
- 2. The student body has been greatly increased this year, the enrollment being 224, of which number 120 are middle school, fifty-eight higher primary, and forty-six lower primary students. In this number are representatives from fourteen counties, and there are also three students from Shansi Province. Every station in the mission is represented except one. Many students had to be turned away this year on account of lack of dormitory and dining-room space.

- 3. At the meeting of the mission in Tsingtao in April, the Pingtu Christian Institute was made a "mission school" instead of a "station school," and was placed under the same Board of Trustees as the North China Baptist College. This action was later approved by the native association.
- 4. This year the industrial work in the school has been revived. It has long been the plan to make of the Pingtu Christian Institute, a school in which boys could earn a large part of their expenses while going to school. This year the stove-making department was revived. Students are employed for all the janitor work and odd jobs about the school. It is the hope of the school authorities and the mission to make of this school one to which poor boys can afford to go and yet receive instruction under the best of teachers. In order to further aid poor boys, Rev. J. V. Dawes of Tsinan offered this year to give the school $300 to start a student loan fund, in case $1,000 additional should be raised—$500 to be from foreigners and $500 from Chinese. The foreigners have already passed their mark and the Chinese bid fair to do the same.
- 5. A general improvement in school spirit has been noticed during the year and the outlook is particularly encouraging. The Y. M. C. A. is a live organization, really stressing religious work. This is mainly done through Mission Study Bands, of which practically all students are members. A Volunteer Band for the ministry has also been organized, with fifteen middle school students as members. These students preach in nearby villages almost every Sunday, and are joined in this work by many of the other older boys.

There have been forty-two additions to the church during the year. Most of these were added at the conclusion of a series of meetings by Mr. F. P. Lide during the spring term.

"Effie Sears Memorial"-Mrs. Grace Boyd Sears.

The past year has been one of the best in the history of the school. There was a marked spirit of harmony and co-operation between faculty and students—so much so that the daily routine became a joy and privilege. An enrollment of 173 filled our space to overflowing. Of this number thirty-five were middle school, seventy higher primary, and sixty-eight lower primary students. Ten teachers, eight for full time and two for part time, were employed, while five pupil teachers also obtained valuable training by teaching daily under supervision. Five fine young women, all earnest Christians, graduated at the close of the school year. Five higher primary graduates were also given diplomas and all will teach in our mission schools next year. Five of the older girls have left us to take up nursing in our Pingtu hospital under Miss Jones and there learn the beauty of personal service.

Ten girls were baptized during the year, making all but a few of the younger members of our thirty Pingtu churches. All belong to our school Y. W. A. and Sunbeam societies which meet weekly and to which they contribute liberally. Students and teachers gave $93.00 Mex. to our Wu Wan campaign which, when we consider the poverty of the homes they represent, is wonderful giving. In addition all our teachers give a tenth of their salary to help their local church. The senior girls all teach Sunday-school classes, also conduct weekly meetings at our city day-school, and sing to the patients in our hospital.

One of our greatest joys this year was the visit of Miss Kathleen Mallory. Our students will long remember her. They have never stopped speaking of Dr. and Mrs. T. B. Ray and their wonderful visit.

TSINANFU STATION.

Evangelistic Work-J. V. Dawes.

The evangelistic work of this station had thrust upon it at the beginning of the year the work formerly carried on in Tsiyang and Yucheng Counties by the Association. This meant a great extension of our work, for we had only a small country work prior to this time. With the coming of this new work our station fell heir to a country membership of more than three hundred, in three churches, and almost all taken in during the time of the two years of famine distribution. Four evangelists and six schools were also turned over to us.

Receiving members during the time that famine relief is being given out is a dangerous business for a church, for it is almost certain that a great number will come in for "the loaves and the fishes," and this work was no exception to the rule. We added one new worker to this field and began early in the year holding classes for the instruction of the Christians, going over the entire field. These classes were followed by frequent visits, until late in the year, when the bandit scourge became so bad that the officials were unwilling for a foreigner to be in the country. While I have not been able to be in the country so much, the native workers, both men and women, have been able to continue their work, even having the gospel tent out in some of the places where there was not danger.

Forty-two members were added to the country churches by baptism during the year, and several stand approved for baptism. There are more than sixty hopeful enquirers on the field.

The city work is usually difficult. Twelve were added by baptism and eight by letter during the year, bringing the present membership up to ninety-three, but many of the members are not in the city now. The city being about eight miles long and three miles wide, and our membership being very much scattered, our work is not very satisfactory, as there are not enough members in any one place to make it a real church center. We hold services in four centers, but most of the workers try to meet at the central location for the Sunday morning service.

City Work-Dr. P. S. Evans.

The total registration for the Shantung Christian University is 350, of whom thirty-two are women. There are seven Southern Baptist members in the number, one in the Medical School, three in the pre-medical course, two in the Seminary, and one in the Senior Arts College. My teaching in the Medical College is the same as before, i. e., I teach the one subject of Physiology.

The work of our station in the city and country has been growing well. Brother Dawes will tell of the country work, and others of the general city work. I will only say that we have over ninety members in our Tsinan Church. Mrs. Evans and I have the oversight of the work at Ho Dzai Men. She looks after the women's work, while I look after the reading room and general services. We have a man and his wife as evangelist and Bible woman; then there are two teachers for the primary school and the kindergarten. This large place was so near to our first reading room we have closed that and opened the reading room in the newer, larger place. Both the students in the Seminary help us some; one of them going regularly one night each week. One of the men in the pre-medical course is going each Sunday, and is a very efficient Sunday-school superintendent. We also have another Seminary man who is paid a small amount to go for special work among the men at the reading room, three afternoons each week. Mrs. Evans found a lively young theological student to start up Boy Scouts at our three centers. He is making a great success at one place, doing well at the second, and having some trouble getting things started at the third.

Altogether the outlook could hardly be more promising. One of the most thrilling things in the city work is the number of young men from the government schools who are interested in studying the Bible. Four hundred and twenty-seven of them registered as wishing to enter Bible classes. The fact that the teaching was to be in English for most all the classes does not detract from the greatness of the opportunity, although it lets us see that their motives were mixed, to say the least. But the fact that we have such a wonderful chance to read and explain the Bible means very much. One of the Y. M. C. A. secretaries arranged for the work. Practically every one of the men of the University have taken a class, and many of the ladies. I have had two, one meeting Saturday afternoon in our home, and the other meeting in our Ho Dzai Men chapel at the time of the Sunday school Sunday morning. Each year there has been some definite results from this work. I had the pleasure of finding one of the boys I had in my former Bible class a member of our church when I returned this fall, and am hoping there will be one or two more from that group.

We miss the Lowes very much. Brother Dawes must be out in the big country district so much that we sadly need Brother Lowe to look after the general city work. Brother Mashburn is taking hold well, but we need him for schools. We are finding our hardest work is to get good Chinese workers.

Schools-Mrs. J. V. Dawes.

The Lord's blessing has been upon this line of our work and our more than one hundred students are making good progress. It has been gratifying to see the special interest shown by some of the teachers in the spiritual welfare of the children under their teaching.

The local Bible woman in each place has made special effort to enter all the homes of the pupils. Mothers' meetings are held periodically, as also special meetings for the fathers. This autumn the work of such a fine young Scout Master has created much interest and we can already see the boys growing in gentlemanly traits—honesty in games, etc., increasing.

With the New Year we are opening a grammar grade boarding school, with Mr. Mashburn in charge. From this and our girls' boarding school we hope to get some good workers for our needy field in the years to come.

TSINING STATION.

Reported by Miss Lila Watson.

On account of the return of the Connelys on furlough a large part of the responsibility for the churches and out-stations has been borne by the young native pastor, Mr. Yu. The church has gone forward under his leadership. Seventy-three have been baptized, a great many more have become not only inquirers but "learners" of the gospel. The Christians doubled their offerings to the associational work and raised one-sixth of the pastor's salary. Next year they are undertaking to raise, in addition to the pastor's salary, one-tenth of all the evangelists' salaries. When one remembers that three years ago this field was still in the cradle of the home mission work and financed by eastern Shantung, this year's record brings as much joy as a little child's first step brings to its parents.

At Kuyeh and Yuen Cheng, both county seats and the most western of the North China Mission work, repairs and buildings this year have put these churches on the map as strategic centers in these cities. A recent trip made by Mr. Little-john and Mr. Lide reveals that these churches are centers of influence reaching out into even the government normal school, where they were invited to speak and were listened to earnestly. At Kiasiang, Tsining's next-door neighbor county seat, the old evangelist who has been a gentle shepherd to his growing flock for years died last summer and this has left Kiasiang without any leader.

The station schools here in the city instituted and carried out this year the first step of the new system of grading our schools, which the mission helped to work out and has adopted. The graduates of this six years' primary school will enter the first year of junior middle, which we plan to add for 1924. There are sixty-nine boys in the boys' school and nearly forty in the girls' school. Though their opportunities have been few and the most advanced of our pupils are just emerging from six years' primary, the spirit in both the boys' and girls' school is splendid. In the boys' school are some grown men who hope to be preachers. They are using their opportunities among their fellow pupils and in teaching in Sunday school. All the girls above Sunbeam age in the girls' school are now Christians. They have organized themselves into a most enthusiastic Y. W. A., and with Miss Cawford as counselor and chaperon they go out to one of the homes of the pupils on Sunday afternoon to teach and preach.

When Dr. Carver was with us in the spring the idea of students conducting vacation schools had just reached our pupils' ears. Most fearful of their ability to conduct these schools but most joyfully did they undertake them. Dr. Carver helped greatly by his confidence and the financial backing he inspired in and from the Christians for this work. They elected their committee of advisors, all Chinese, including the pastor, an evangelist, a doctor and other laymen. When the missionaries returned to the station after the Peitaiho conference, we heard these glad reports of the work that had been done while we were away. There were five schools opened and about two hundred pupils enrolled. These schools will probably be multiplied next summer.

Not a vacation school, but related to it, is the beggar school which we opened during the coldest part of last winter for a few of the many little children on the streets without homes, clothing or food. I think it brought more joy to the missionaries, perhaps, than any other visible form of work. One of the most advanced school boys was used as a teacher. The number that we could provide food for was selected from the great number who applied. We tried to take the brightest ones under twelve years old. Baths and clean clothes were the initiation ceremonies. Making their warm quilted garments furnished work and a few day's income for some of the beggar women. The children were taught to read and write the national phonetic, singing, Bible stories and industrial work on a small scale. The most difficult part of the beggar school was to close and send the little folks out again. The opportune visit of some missionary friends who became greatly interested in the beggar children made it financially possible to put the brightest ones in the regular boarding school, where they have led their classes during the year. Because of economic conditions in this section, beggars and bandits infest our field. Every child we can save from such a life means much to the civil as well as to the spiritual life of this large community.

Another interesting short-term school was one held in the fall for Christian women. The potential leaders among the young women in each church on the field were given the opportunity of studying a month on condition that they go back to their homes and teach their Christian sisters—with the aim that every Christian woman should be able to read her Bible at least in the phonetic script, and also on condition that they do a half day's industrial work to help pay for their food. Every woman who was given the opportunity came. The forenoons were given to study and the afternoons to making bedspreads which friends from America had ordered. The industrial work furnished time for a review of memory work and practice telling Bible stories. We were a happy bunch. The month ended all too quickly. We hope to have the class again in the spring and a report of what the women have done in the meantime. There is no hope of employment held out to them. For their own sakes and for the sake of their less favored sisters and those who are still in darkness they are learning.

Mr. Littlejohn has had an English Bible class for a group of young business men in the city. Great interest and enthusiasm have been shown in it. On a recent decision day all of them confessed Christ. Some of them, Mr. Littlejohn thinks, have been born again.

The coming of Mr. Williams, our Sunday-school secretary, in the spring has meant much to the Sunday school for the year. The teachers are faithful inquirers now of how to teach. Friday evenings find them assembled with the pastor in a class to study how to teach the lesson. Mrs. Littlejohn has transformed the primary department so that the "primary yard" is the joy and wonder of our neighborhood.

TSINGTAO STATION.

Mr. E. L. Morgan writes:

Opportunity, opportunity, opportunity! The personnel of this station has been two individuals only, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Stephens; their sympathies and energies have been widely extended as they have attempted to take advantage of the opportunities of this port city. This situation was prepared by a world war; the Washington Conference turned the eyes of the world to Shantung and Tsingtao; the rebuffs and adversities suffered by the Chinese themselves have disposed them to listen to the gospel message. The station is pre-eminently evangelistic, as well as evangelical.

Early in the year, Mr. Stephens and his Chinese helpers, with some gladly-rendered aid from visiting brethren, conducted a four-weeks' tent meeting on a prominent corner of the main street. A peculiar providence gave us the use of the one place that would give publicity to the constant preaching, distribution of tracts, and sale of hymn books and Bibles. The message gained an increasingly respectful hearing, and before the thirty days were gone about three hundred had enrolled their names and addresses as believers in Jesus as their Savior. Christians did much personal work and were active in giving their testimony. It was a glorious time! Tsingtao was really stirred.

Following this, for several months one of the deacons, a Brother Tai, conducted nightly classes for these new enquirers. To the glory of the Lord be it recorded that this man is an unpaid worker; during the day he is employed in the Kiao Tsi Railway, and this night work is for the love of his Lord, and not for earthly pay. In the autumn, the solid results of such extended instruction were seen when these men came to be examined for baptism; ten strong, well-grounded men were baptized. Some twenty-two men and women were approved, but some were postponed by uncontrollable circumstances. Baptists by their zeal in preaching have made a profound impression on this city.

The little church of thirty-two members has been carrying regular current expenses of $70 per month; this sum of about $900 for the year is applied to teachers, evangelists, Bible women, lights, etc. Excluding the contributions of five Americans, the Chinese members have given about $500. Some call this the leading church in the association for real liberality.

In all lines of work Mrs. Stephens has been very active; schools, house-to-house preaching, women's work, and especially two street chapels have largely been on her, as there has been no one else with whom to divide the work. Splendid interest has developed among the women, and often the men stand by to hear the word which is being spoken to the women. The many triumphs, friendly faces and sincere welcomes help to offset the difficulties confronting this woman worker.

Two country fields, Tsimo city and Shou-kwang county, have some very encouraging features; some new fields in the latter district have been very fruitful; nineteen men were baptized this autumn. A unique feature of their examination was the distinct pledge of each man to the financial support of the Lord's work.

Perhaps the largest piece of constructive work on the Tsingtao field this year has been done by Mr. Stephens; it is actual construction, and affects not only this city but will be found in the future to mean much for the whole of the Lord's work in the province of Shantung. He began the erection of the church house early in the spring and at this time, early in December, it is nearing completion. Other denominations concede, and we think that the location is the best for Christian work among the Chinese of any religious body working in Tsingtao. With the resources available, he has produced a house for worship, which includes also rooms for the departments of a graded Sunday school, women's work, a street chapel, small assembly room, book and tract room, offices for pastor and missionaries, kitchens for general meetings and Bible Conferences, shower baths and all sanitary conveniences needed in a modern religious workshop. The auditorium with gallery will seat about 1,000 people.

An illustration of what such a building means in the face of religious opportunity and with an influence reaching out to the whole province and even beyond is seen in the Biederwolf meetings. Dr. W. E. Biederwolf, Miss Grace Saxe, and Mr. Homer Rodeheaver, with his celebrated trombone, came to Tsingtao for only two days, November 17-18, just as our association was closing. The Kiao Tung Presbytery was also in annual session. Chinese and Japanese with one accord turned to the new Baptist church as the only suitable auditorium for general mass meetings, and the results for both Japanese and Chinese churches justified the choice. These three workers just in passing gave some of their best service, and, while all were helped, we believe the Baptists were perhaps the recipients of the largest share of the blessing of those two wonderful days; at that time perhaps we had the strongest impact of truth on heathenism that has ever come to Tsingtao. It was the climax of much work in tent and chapel. Would that some such strong party could come for several weeks. With such a meeting place, we are ready for greater evangelistic effort than has heretofore been possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Morgan also live in Tsingtao; their work with the China Baptist Publication Society is not only for our own but also for other Mandarinspeaking missions.

REPORT OF THE NORTH CHINA BAPTIST COLLEGE. C. W. Pruitt.

The year just passed has brought over a thousand students to our various departments. January 17th was commencement day, and diplomas were given to fifteen men and two women in the Theological school, two men in the college, and to nine boys and four girls in the middle school, which corresponds to the American high school.

This year Miss Doris Knight, of Georgia, joined the faculty, being in charge of the training school. Her work is greatly appreciated by students as well as by faculty.

Dean Hartwell, of the Arts Department, left on furlough in the middle of the year, and his work has been temporarily distributed among his colleagues.

Miss Mary Lawton joined us in the fall and our hopes for a good kindergarten training class are about to be realized. Having been born with a Chinese tongue as well as an American one greatly increases her usefulness.

The college has thirty-seven regularly-elected teachers, of whom six are women. There are other part-time teachers and student instructors.

The Science Department has made a fine beginning this year with two enthusiastic young University graduates in charge. The Normal Department has enjoyed the help of a graduate from Peking. These young men are ornaments to their profession. Better still, they are earnest, active Christians.

One new departure this year has been the coming of a class of country school teachers for special work under the supervision of Miss Jane Lide, dean of the Normal Department. Five such students received certificates at the completion of a year of such study. A continuation of this department will result in a gradual raising of the standards of the country schools.

Our students come from many parts of Shantung, and some even from Manchuria and far-off Shansi. One Russian boy is also in the school, dressing, eating, and studying just like his Chinese classmates, but showing marked contrast with them in the matter of complexion.

There was a strong call for a course in typewriting, and this last term the school has had two machines in almost constant use. A class of fifteen, including one blind student, have become more or less expert in the touch system. This work calls for a course in bookkeeping as well.

In both vocal and instrumental music students of both sexes have made commendable progress. Ability to sing and to play a baby organ adds to the usefulness of one who goes out to teach or to preach.

The Girls' Primary, in charge of Miss Clifforde Hunter, is doing fine work in the education of several young married women who had no educational advantages in their girlhood.

Miss Florence Lide, with competent Chinese help, is giving the Middle School girls fine training in Domestic Science and the arts of homemaking. Those who partook of the delicious meals prepared by the pupils will testify to their efficient training. Heads, hands, and hearts are all being fitted for the work of life. On Sabbath afternoons the girls, under proper leaders, go out to various centers of evangelistic work where they hold Sunday schools.

Many of our most promising pupils come from homes that are unable to pay the whole cost of board and tuition. A loan fund for their assistance is in operation. To this, former students of the school have paid, without being asked, nearly $2,000.

A number of our finest students are sent here by our sister mission, the Swedish Baptists. The commencement sermon this year was preached by Rev. Mr. Lidquist of that mission.

Much to our regret, Rev. Carey Newton has resigned his place as Dean of the Theological School in order to take up evangelistic work in Tsingtau, where, no doubt, he is greatly needed. Dr. Glass has been elected to take his place.

This coming year we look forward to having Mr. Ullin Leavell on the faculty.

In the summer at the dedication of the new school and college buildings Dr. Carver was our guest of honor. His deeply spiritual and practical talks were greatly blessed to us all.

Rev. McNiel Poteat was here for a short time during our annual institute for teachers and preachers. His gospel talks and his songs were much appreciated.

About Thanksgiving time Rev. E. M. Poteat, D.D., was here for a series of special meetings that made great impression upon the hearts of his hearers. Though he spoke through an interpreter, that interpreter being Miss Anna Hartwell, who is China-born, his words lost none of their force and earnestness in the transmission. Two teachers and many students have been baptized this year, but our hearts are much in prayer for those students who have not yet yielded their hearts to God.

SOUTH CHINA MISSION

ANNUAL REPORT

By Annie Sandlin.

We used to speak of "China's Annual Revolution," but now one can more nearly describe it as "China's Continuous Revolution."

This year, 1923, Kwei Lin and Wuchow are able to report a more peaceful condition while the stations in Kwang Tung report war—for this year Sun Yat Sen, Commander-in-chief of the Southern army, has made Canton his military headquarters.

Missionaries in Canton, Shiu Chow, Shiu Hing, and elsewhere have given what they could of time, strength and means to the sick and wounded soldiers. Best of all we have tried to tell them of Jesus and his love for them. This service, we believe, will not be without results that will tell in eternity.

THE CANTONESE FIELD

Wuchow Section.

This section covers the entire southern part of Kwang Sai Province. Two years ago we had thirteen foreign missionaries stationed in Wuchow, all busy with the work of its churches, schools and hospital. This year we have had, instead of the thirteen, five foreign missionaries—Wuchow's need of reinforcements is self-evident.

Evangelistic Work

Reverend Rex Ray reports that the opportunities for evangelistic work in the field are much better than at any time since he came three years ago. He says: "The political situation is more favorable than it was, for now we can travel without danger from robbers, and the country is more peaceful than it has been for some time, while the people seem more willing to listen to the gospel. We have received some ninety members by baptism, about fifty of these being men and forty women." There are seventeen native preachers working in this section.

The Chen Kwong Book-Room in Wuchow, and the seven colporteurs who devote their time to distributing its literature, consisting of Bibles, tracts and Scripture portions, are doing fine work.

Among Women

When we think of only four Bible women seeking to reach all the women in this vast section with the Gospel Message we are caused to exclaim, "What are these among so many!" Miss McMinn writes: "How to cover the work formerly divided among three or four persons and try to do the best possible by it, has been my constant problem the past year. With such a depleted force of workers the burdens falling on those who remain are heavy indeed: but in addition to my duties connected with the schools it has been my privilege to have a little time to devote to direct evangelistic work." This work has been done by her a little here and a little there—in the hospital, in the homes of Wuchow City, and she has even found time to make a hurried visit to the country stations. In all these places she reports that "the faithful Bible women have been giving forth the message of Life to those who sit in darkness and have had some good results from their work. It is imperative that we have no less than four single women for the evangelistic and educational work in the Cantonese speaking part of Kwang Sai Province."

"The Kwai Naam Association, composed of the Cantonese speaking churches in the Kwang Sai Province, took several significant steps marking great progress at the last session in November. A Sunday School Board and a District Mission Board were organized. In former years a few hundred dollars was considered the limit of the Association's pledges. But this year they decided to undertake great things for God and are doubtless expecting great things from God. Dr. Cheung Wun Man, the general secretary, and several other brethren from Canton, were present to encourage and enthuse, and under the inspiration of these great leaders and of God's Spirit, pledges were made away in advance of anything ever attempted before. The first thing to claim their interest was their own Pool Ching Boys' School, for which they raised $3600 in pledges, $2000 of which is for the building. Then next came the work of their newly appointed Board of Missions, and $1600 were promised to that. Then the superintendent of the Orphanage made a splendid address appealing for help for the twelve children from Kwang Sai in that needy institution, and they undertook to raise $600. But so hilarious was the giving that they did not stop until the $700 mark had been reached—making in all about $6000 pledged."

Educational Work

Waang To School. Miss Mollie McMinn, principal, reports:

"My first care has been the boarding school here in Wuchow. With the comparative peace of the past few months the attendance has increased in a most gratifying way: notwithstanding a number of our students had their boats fired upon as they came down the river to school. We have enrolled 108 girls and women during the year and now have about thirty boarding in the building.

"The spiritual atmosphere of the school has been excellent, owing chiefly to our earnest Christian teachers. Twelve girls and women have put on Christ in baptism.

Kindergarten

Mrs. George W. Leavell, who has had this work from its beginning, writes:

"We are thankful to report this as the best year's work for the kindergarten—the largest class and greater supervision by the Chinese. We believe the kindergarten has now a place in the hearts of the people, has passed the period of probation and will have a steady growth in numbers and opportunity. If it is true that China's hope is in her children, we are truly thankful for the opportunity God has given us here in Wuchow to teach his little ones. Not only in the kindergarten are they daily taught His word, but on Sundays the lower floor of the chapel is filled to its utmost capacity. Last Sunday was one of the biggest heathen feast days and yet 216 children came in from the streets to celebrate Christ's birthday."

Miss McMinn has conducted three day schools for girls in the interior, with a total enrollment of 66 pupils.

Pool Ching Boys' School had during the first half of the year the best term in its history. The Chinese, as shown by a letter to the Mission, were very loath to give up their beloved principal, Mr. U. W. Leavell, to Hwang-Hsien College, North China. The enrollment for the year has gone well over one hundred. A good school man to act as principal of this promising institution is one of the first needs of our South China field.

There have been about 220 boys in the Pooi Ching branch schools at the various country stations of this field. These country schools are under the direction of Mr. Ray, who also helps the Pooi Ching in Wuchow very materially, especially in the erection of the new buldng.

Stout Memorial Hospital

Dr. George W. Leavell, who is superintendent of this hospital, writes:

"The year 1923 has brought many big opportunities to the work of the Stout Memorial Hospital. 2077 in-patients were instructed in the way of life eternal during their stay in the wards of the institution. The large free clinic numbering 24,577 patients offered a great chance for preaching the Word to those who had come from their homes seeking healing. We feel that during the year, with its total of 75,054 treatments, the staff of the Stout Memorial Hospital has had unbounded opportunity to witness for Christ. The total number of treatments surpasses by far any previous year, as does the number of in-patients. The total receipts of the hospital for the year amount to $44,525.58, which has enabled us to manage entire self-support, closing the year with a small balance of less than $400.

"The year 1923 has marked the completion of the hospital building. We rejoice in this, as the seven years of the building program have been a hard and long pull. Many difficulties have been met and we praise God for a complete workshop, dedicated to His glory and service. The chapel and foreign patients' department on the fifth floor is the last and final unit, and gives joy every day. The chapel should be made the heart of the hospital, and it is here we hope the people will gather to hear His word and receive power that will transform their lives in service for Him.

SHIU HING SECTION

Evangelistic Work.—The major portion of Miss Margie Shumate's time has, as usual, been spent in the country stations of the Shiu Hing field. She writes concerning her work the following:

"The work in the Shiu Hing field shows progress in spite of the fact that both schools and evangelistic work were much hindered the first half of the year by war.

"The Shiu Hing City Church has grown in numbers and in interest. The recent purchase of a large yamen across the street from our compound affords ample room for expansion of the boys school and other phases of the church work.

"Reverend M. T. Rankin has given some time to our church and by his good work made us realize afresh our great need of a missionary pastor to devote full time to our churches and out-stations."

Miss Gunn writes that the "Big Gospel Tent" was in Shiu Hing for a few days during the fall but that attendance was poor. There is practically no woman's work in the city. Here we need the wife of the pastor whom we are begging to come and help us. "The woman's work in Shiu Hing City is enough to keep one woman busy all the time, heart and hand. There are many women in the city now who are anxious to know more of the gospel. There are those who might be won with small effort but there is no one to do the work. God hear us! Send us workers!"

Out-stations.—Miss Shumate reports:

"The Lin Tong Church has recently dedicated a new $10,000.00 church building free of debt. All this money, except about $400.00, was given by the Chinese. This flourishing, independent church, which only six years ago was a weak out-station of the Shiu Hing church, conducts a thriving primary school of nearly fifty pupils, and is making progress along many lines. There is an unusually large number of inquirers among the women of Lin Tong and we are hoping for a large number of baptisms next year.

"The Hoh Tau Church has little to report, for the field has been poorly equipped with workers and the work has been greately hindered by robbers and other disturbed conditions." However, even in Hoh Tau a dozen or more are awaiting baptism. The two out-stations of the Hoh Tau Church, namely, San Hing and Nin Tseun, have a better report, for interest in the gospel message, especially among the women, is splendid. Miss Shumate, assisted by Mrs. Galloway of Macao, conducted a ten days' Bible study class in San Hing in March and there was a daily attendance of from thirty to fifty women, and these studied the portions of Scripture assigned them with much enthusiasm.

Educational Work.—Miss Alvada Gunn, principal of the Kwong To Girls' and Women's School, writes:

"Our school has just passed through probably the worst year, physically speaking, that she has ever known. Spiritually speaking, the year has not been unprofitable.

"The first term of the year we enrolled fifty-seven students, while our fulltime preachers numbered two for both lower and higher primary.

"Owing to the war we were able to conduct only three weeks of regular classes, although there were students in the dormitory for nearly three months. The twelve days' siege and looting of the city by the Southern troops in May made it impossible to continue school, so we dismissed, to reopen in September.

"The Lord blessed us in giving us two new and particularly splendid teachers. He blessed us in enrolling over sixty pupils in spite of political chaos and prevalence of robbers with the consequent fear on the part of the country people to send their daughters and wives out to school. He blessed us in making it possible to secure our Christian doctor and the preacher in the Shiu Hing church for part work in their particular lines in the school. He blessed us in providing sufficient funds to help over thirty students with their expenses. He has blessed us in the kind of students who have come. And best of all he has blessed us in letting our eyes see his salvation anew in the lives of fourteen of the twenty pupils who knew him not when they came here in September."

KONG MOON SECTION

Kong Moon Station is located in the heart of a densely populated section where wealth and culture are found. We have here in the midst of a population estimated at four million, six missionaries-located, all engaged primarily in the important work of evangelism. Of these only three have sent reports, for neither did Miss Lora Clement, who returned to the field from furlough in October, nor Reverend and Mrs. John Sundstrom report. The latter were on the field for ten months of the year but were compelled in November, on account of illness, to return to the homeland on early furlough.

Evangelistic Work Among Women and Girls.—San Wooi is a big city, a few hours by train from Kong Moon. Here, during the year, we have conducted a Bible class which now numbers thirty women, many of whom have but recently entered the church. Our two Women's Missionary Societies here and in Kong Moon are making progress. "A deep earnestness to make Jesus known in the regions beyond seems to characterize most of the members."

Out-stations .- Miss Rea reports:

"During the year a number of country trips have been made, some alone, and some in company with other missionaries. There are a number of inquirers in some places and there have been several additions by baptism in others."

Miss Scarlett gives for the two out-stations of Taai Leung and Koo Chan a most encouraging report in which she says that the one week spent in the large city of Taai Leung was crowded with opportunities among the women. We only regret that disturbed conditions and the uncertainty of travel, which has to be made to this place by passage boat, have made further trips to this city impossible. To the nearer city of Koo Chan a number of trips of five or six days' length have been made. In this place there are a number of intelligent inquirers and the general outlook for the work is good.

Day Schools.—There are a number of girls' day schools in this section, all well attended. Each of our missionaries gives time to these and especially to the spiritual welfare of the students.

MACAO SECTION

Mrs. J. L. Galloway reports:

"One Saturday while Mr. Galloway was in the chapel at Tau Moon preparing for the next day's service, sixteen armed men unceremoniously made their appearance. Purposely not noticing their guns, though inwardly anticipating that they had come to capture him, he invited them to be seated and offered them tea, the usual cup of hospitality; and for two hours it was his privilege to preach the gospel to them. On Sunday, before the service began, double their number forced an entrance. Arrayed the whole length of the chapel they gave the most respectful attention during the whole service, acting as guard against some roughs on the outside who would otherwise have caused trouble. Sunday-school hour these pirates were formed into a class and taught as the rest. We are encouraged by one such who, at least, has abandoned his profession of We regret that we are unable to follow him to know whether or not he has become a Christian. It was through the district where he reigned in terror that Mr. Galloway had to pass several times on his way to Tai Kam Island. On two occasions his boat was captured, guns held at his head, and a dagger placed ready to stick into his abdomen. But as in other instances God kept him and his party from harm and they were allowed to go on their way in safety. At this very place we now have a chapel rented to us by a pirate, and it is a marvel to them that our Christians are willing to risk the dangers of the way, when they confess that they of different bands are afraid of each other.

"In each of two of these stations we have a splendid girls' school; and in one of them a W. M. U. and a Y. W. A. and some earnest-hearted Christians. In both places the "gentry" have become responsible for the safety of the respective teachers; otherwise it would be unsafe to send these young women to these pirate headquarters. These schools are practically chapels in themselves, for here the gospel is preached daily. The teacher of one of these schools which was opened this year has just returned to say that she is earnestly requested to teach on after the holidays, with renewed promise of protection; her only regret being the fact that she has not room to accommodate all who wish to attend. In all this country of 250,000 inhabitants, we are the only people in possession, and ours the only Christian schools in their midst.

"Several of our school boys and girls have been baptized during the year. During Dr. Quissenberry's visit, quite a number decided for Christ, but parental authority has kept some of them from uniting with the church as yet. A lovely young woman who gave her heart to Christ in Macao was taken to the country by an unscrupulous guardian who opposed her being a Christian lest he should fail to effect a profitable bargain in marrying her to a heathen. But though cruelly persecuted, the brave girl went into the baptismal waters and with beautiful modesty faced her irate guardian and answered never a word. Her worldly prospects gone, she went in faith to Pooi To Academy to study, with no other possessions save the clothes she wore.

"Our Sunbeam Society in Macao carried off the banner this year. It numbers over a hundred and contributed over $28. We have organized a Y. W. A. this year, and rejoice in the opportunity to get close to the older girls who have no spiritual help at home.

"Our Macao church is very happy this year in having for its preacher Mr. Paul Lam, a very consecrated young man whose wife is the daughter of our Dr. Cheung Wun Man.

"The gifts of our people this year have rejoiced us exceedingly. With a resident membership of only 200 in the whole field, and some of these being dependent children, they have contributed—what seems to us a magnificent sum— $8,832.29. However good that is, we shall not rest satisfied until every member gives to the Lord at least a tithe of his income."

CANTON CITY AND SURROUNDING DISTRICTS

Evangelistic Work.—The Sz Yap or "Four Districts," although a great work, will have this year a short report for Reverend and Mrs. John Lake, our faithful missionaries in that section, have been on furlough. They write:

"Something more than one hundred and thirty baptisms have been reported, three houses of worship erected, one church organized, and several out-stations opened. Next to the power of God and the faithfulness of our Chinese preachers, teachers, Bible women and members, the credit is due to Mr. and Mrs. W. D. King and to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lipton, who looked after our work, in addition to their own, while we were on furlough.

"The Sha Hoh Church and five out-stations, together with several other chapels near Canton City, are reported by M. T. Rankin as doing their work in spite of the turmoils of war. Sha Hoh Church reports seventeen baptisms during the year."

FIRST CHURCH, CANTON

Mrs. Graves writes:

"This church has just completed the first year in its beautiful new building—the Graves Memorial—which was dedicated January 1, 1923. There have been few additions to the membership but a fine spirit of harmony and earnestness prevails, while the Sunday school has grown wonderfully in both numbers and interest. Like all the Canton Baptist churches, save one, this church has, this year, had no pastor. A young preacher and a pastor-emeritus have done the work."

BAMBOO RIVER SECTION

G. W. Greene reports:

"The year 1923 marked a distinct advance in the work of the Bamboo River field. There were fifty-five additions to the churches by baptism. The Waai Tsaap church, formerly an out-station of the Sz Wooi church, was organized during the year with fifty-three members, and thirteen others were received on the day of organization. The church has an out-station at Leung Tauen and plans are already on foot for opening others. This church is planning a great Christian work in Wai Tsaap District. Wong Koon Hoi, a consecrated energetic preacher who has been at Wai Tsaap since the work there was started, was ordained pastor of the new church. Work has been started at Shek Kaan, a prosperous market in Kwong Ning, which gives promise of developing in the near future."

Cheung Chow, Hongkong, and Little North Gate Church, in Canton, are reported by W. H. Tipton, who feels encouraged over the progress of Little North Gate in self-support. The local school teachers, two students from Pool In Woman's Bible School, and one from the Seminary, have taught regularly large classes in the flourishing primary department of the Sunday school. Mrs. Tipton in reporting this says that the higher classes also seem well attended.

During the spring months Mrs. C. A. Hayes, M.D., conducted in Big North Gate Chapel dispensary work for women and children. Here many people not only had a loving Christian physician to treat their diseases, but Christ was preached unto them, and some hearing the Word gladly believed.

In addition to the Bible women working in the independent churches of the city, Mrs. Rankin reports four and Mrs. G. W. Greene three.

THE BIG GOSPEL TENT

W. H. Tipton reports:

"We have had an efficient corps of native workers in charge and they have measured up to their opportunities in a remarkable way. During the year thousands have heard a burning message of salvation through this agency."

Miss Funderburke joined the force of workers in January in San Wooi City, and again in December, in the Hok Shan District—both in the Kong Moon field. She writes concerning the San Wooi meetings:

"After ten days of giving forth the message of Life, Pastor Lei asked for an expression from those who were willing to look to Jesus for salvation. All over that tent men, women and children stood up asking for prayer. During the days that followed many others became interested and we had throughout the year the joy of seeing a goodly number of those who that first day stood for prayer come into the church."

Educational Work.—Graves Theological Seminary—President P. H. Anderson reports:

- "W. D. King returned to America in October, on account of sickness in his family—heavy loss to the seminary. M. T. Rankin becomes a member of the seminary faculty, having taken up his work with the beginning of the half term—a great gain for us.
- "P. H. Anderson returned from furlough in October, taking up his usual work. Lau Kung Tok, a former magistrate and a man of recognized Chinese scholarship, has been added to the faculty. Kan Wai Leung, after eight years of faithful service in the seminary, has resigned.

"The enrollment of students for the year has been seventy-five. At the commencement in June eleven were graduated. The health, conduct and work of the students has been very satisfactory. Of our present attendance of fifty-nine students, thirty-nine are making their support by working in the churches and outstations in and around Canton.

"The Chinese are bearing heavier financial burdens for the seminary. Beginning with the fall term this year, they take the entire responsibility for the student fund. They have also taken about two-thirds of the financial responsibility for the new dining room, which has recently been built at a cost of nearly two thousand dollars.

"A new residence, accommodating the families of two Chinese teachers, has been completed during the year, at a cost of about fifteen thousand dollars, local currency.

"An English class has been opened in which it is proposed to give the Seminary course in the English language. The regular teachers in this department are M. T. Rankin and Wan Iu Pan, while A. R. Gallimore has been very kindly helping temporarily. This class is an experiment.

"A new book, 'Old Testament Theology,' prepared by members of the Seminary faculty, has come from the press during the year. It was published by the China Baptist Publication Society.

POOL IN WOMAN'S BIBLE SCHOOL

Mrs. V. P. Greene writes:

"It is a long step from a small, dark, windowless mud hut in a dirty, crowded street of the eastern suburbs of Canton, where eight ignorant Chinese women with several small children crowded together to live and study, to the present Pooi In Woman's Bible School. But such was the beginning of this institution fifteen years ago. The need for the school then was so urgent that it was opened in these unsuitable quarters. After about two years we were able to move into a good building on the compound. This new building was ample for all purposessleeping, eating and school work—and no one had a thought of so soon out-The school grew so rapidly that after only four years we had to expand by the use of mat sheds. By 1922, when our dining hall and music rooms were completed, we had the school ground literally covered with mat sheds. This year we have completed the new Administration Building. It contains reception rooms, office, library, nine class rooms, and a beautiful chapel with seating capacity of four hundred. This building has been neatly furnished with single desks and chairs. The alumnae and student body presented the school with blackwood furniture inlaid with mother of pearl, to furnish the reception rooms, and also a beautiful clock for the chapel. The grounds have been graded and two volley ball courts made; also a large court for gymnastics. The old building is now wholly used as a dormitory. We have also two temporary buildings which are used for nursery and sleeping quarters for the mothers and small children.

"Our student body has changed as much as our buildings and grounds. In the beginning our students were middle-aged women with little or no education. This has gradually changed until now we have a student body of bright young women, both married and unmarried, many of whom have had some educational advantages and who come here for further study and training for Christian work.

"We still need a preparatory department for wives of our Seminary students and other women who become Christians after they are grown, but who hunger for some training to enable them also to do something in the Master's vineyard.

"The Chinese marry young and many are mothers before they are Christians. So we have a nursery under the care of a trained kindergartener where the small children who cannot be left at home are cared for, while their mothers study. We are beginning to feel that the nursery is a helpful feature in the training of Christian workers. China is full of little children and the way to a mother's heart is through her child. Any Christian worker who loves little children and is skilled in dealing with them has an approach to the mother, which is a great asset.

"Our course of study has also been greatly enlarged. As our students have advanced in education we have raised our course to fit their needs. We make a specialty of personal work and Sunday school.

"Mrs. Valeria Green Rankin teaches the personal work and superintends the activities of the students as they work in the established centers and from house to house.

Mrs. Louisa Bomar Greene teaches Sunday School Pedagogy and conducts for her students an afternoon Sunday school in the chapel of the school, where she directs their personal teaching. The school also supplies many of the teachers in the Tung Shan Sunday school, as well as sending out teachers to all the Baptist churches within reach of us. Our students also conduct three afternoon Sunday schools in our centers of religious activity in the east end of Canton.

"The political disturbances made it impossible for many of our students to get back to school this fall, still we have had during the past year 168 women and forty children in the school.

"In June we graduated eight women who are now engaged in Christian work, either as primary teachers or Bible women. The fruitfulness of the school during its past is seen in the lives of its students as they do the Lord's work throughout our South China field.

"We were made sad in October by the passing from us to her Heavenly Home of our beloved Lei Sui-tong, who has been matron of the school from its beginning. She had worked in close connection with the writer for more than twenty consecutive years. She was a woman of education and ability far beyond her times and a rare Christian character. We miss her much here but rejoice that she has gone to a larger sphere of work for her Lord.

"We still have many needs. The crowded state of our dormitory is not conducive to the health nor the happiness of our students. We need a new dormitory for our higher grade students and another to take the place of the two temporary buildings. Our tearhers are now housed in mat sheds. We need two buildings large enough to house four families. We also need money for a Good Will Center. Our students are now raising money from the Chinese for an Infirmary and we hope to get it built during the coming year."

POOI TO ACADEMY

Owing to change in management the report of this school is in two parts. First, Mrs. Janie L. Graves, President of the school during the spring term, writes:

"The spring term, 1923, found Pooi To Academy with faculty and student body, in numbers and efficiency, much the same as the previous year. She had fifty-one teachers and seven hundred and seventy students in regular attendance. Two girls were graduated from the high school department and thirty-nine finished the grammar school course. Never before have we had such a large number of girls ready to enter high school. The class just below in the grammar grades enrolled nearly twice this number.

Religious Work

During the spring term sixteen girls were baptized into the Tung Shan Church, and a number into other Baptist churches in the city. Near the close of the term, during special evangelical services in the school, most of the girls who had not previously professed faith in Christ did so.

"For years, for lack of room at the church, the children's Sunday services have been held in Pooi To. They have had no regular pastor for few Chinese men can make religious talks that are edifying to children, nor do they think it worth while to give children a gospel message. So in former years we have had great difficulty from Sunday to Sunday securing suitable speakers. During the entire session 1922-23, Mrs. Bailey, a deeply consecrated teacher in the English department of Pooi To, had charge of these children's services. God and experience had taught her how, and each Sunday the children eagerly came and were not only delighted but edified by each service. Many of them decided for Christ. At one service one hundred and eighty-six children signed their names confessing faith in Jesus."

Miss Mary C. Alexander, President of the school during the fall term, writes: "In all the thirty-five years' history of Pooi To Academy there has probably not been a more eventful year than the one which has passed—events, changes, upheavals that have been felt down into the very foundations of things. The recital of the contributing causes of these things that have tried men's souls is unnecessary in this report.

"Four general outstanding facts of the year are these: (1) Pooi To Primary property and control of same were assigned to the Leung Kwong Baptist Association. The assignment of Primary work to the Chinese brethren reduced the enrollment of Pooi To by half. (2) By the reorganization and division, a Lower Primary Preparatory Class, the Grammar School Department and the High School Department were left to Pooi To. These were placed under a joint Board of Trustees, six elected by the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, and six by the Leung Kwong Baptist Association. (3) Mrs. J. L. Graves, for more than thirty years the beloved president of Pooi To, resigned, as did also Miss Mary Anderson, who for more than ten years so efficiently worked with Mrs. Graves. Their impress is indelibly written on the institution and in the hearts of the thousands of Chinese girls who have passed this way. (4) The trustees of the Pooi Ching Girls' School, owned and operated entirely by the Chinese brethren, closed their High School Department and sent their students to the Pooi To High School Department.

"Some of the more detailed facts concerning the school are as follows:

- "(1) Students enrolled: High School 83, Grammar School 160, Lower Primary 31, of this number 188 are boarding pupils and 86 are day pupils. There are 77 students given aid by the school, ranging in amount from full fees and board to tuition only. Of this number 18 are daughters of preachers and three daughters of Bible-women. Sixty pupils take piano lessons. Three fourths of the students are Christians, two-thirds of the Christians are Baptist.
- "(2) The change of officers and reorganization have very naturally delayed work on the proposed High School building. Plans are being formed as rapidly as possible for the erection of this building, funds for which are already on hand.
- "(3) We have been rejoiced by the coming to us of two new helpers—Misses Essie Smith and Pauline Tipton. Miss Smith is making good progress in the Language School and Miss Tipton is carrying a full schedule of work in the Music Department.

"Mesdames Graves, Tipton, Rankin and G. W. Greene report eight Girls' Day Schools with a total enrollment of three hundred fifty students."

LEUNG KWONG BAPTIST ASSOCIATION

Pool Ching Academy

G. W. Greene, reporting for this school, says:

"Pooi Ching has added another successful year to its history. The Foreign Mission Board has continued its co-operation by contributing the salaries of three of the Chinese teachers and giving the services of one Missionary who teaches in the school. Cuba Hall, erected with money given by the Chinese in Cuba, was completed during the summer and has been occupied one term. It contains the library, the bookstore and the student bank, the administrative offices, the reception room, and dormitory space for the senior class of the middle school and for the students who have returned from over-seas to study in Pui Ching.

"The enrollment for the year was 668 in the Higher Primary and Middle schools. Many others sought to enter but were prevented by lack of room. At the opening of the fall term there were more than three hundred applicants for the ten vacancies in the middle school. The total enrollment in all the schools in the Pui Ching system in Canton was 1876. During the fall term there was a student strike which involved all the students in the middle school, the normal students, and the over-seas students. Happily, it has been settled in a way which we hope will be for the permanent good of the school. Eighty-three of the students in the upper schools made professions of faith in Christ as their Saviour during the year."

W. M. U. Work.—Mrs. W. H. Tipton, secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union of South China, reports that this, the eighth year of the Union's work, has on the whole been very encouraging.

"The annual meeting was set for June 26th, but as the country was very much upset politically just at that time, the meeting was postponed to October 17-19. The annual meeting of the Two Kwongs Association was set for October 16-20 and it was thought best to have our W.M.U. meeting at the same time. Even though many of the roads to Canton were dangerous we had quite a full attendance. The women were on hand for the first meeting and seemed very enthusiastic.

"We feel encouraged that even during this year of war, with continuous fighting, four new W.M.U. Societies were reported, two new Y.W.A.'s and one new Sunbeam Band, making a total of twenty-six W.M.U. Societies, twelve Y.W.A.'s and twelve Sunbeam Bands.

"The Treasurer reported all subscriptions more than paid and we rejoice to know that we are almost one hundred dollars ahead on our five-year pledges.

"Several Societies measured up to standard. The W.M.U. banner went to Lung Shan, Canton; the Y. W. A. banner to Tuen Fan, and the Sunbeam banner to Macao.

"One new feature of our work for 1924 is our Bible Study Work under the efficient leadership of Miss Mary Alexander."

The Leung Kwong Baptist Hospital.—Dr. C. A. Hayes reports that the hospital has been most fortunate in having secured the services of a staff of faithful, well-trained Christian doctors. He says:

"In addition to the service I have been rendering to the Canton Hospital, I have had an increasing amount of work to do in the Leung Kwong Baptist Hospital in the practice of my special line of medicine. Have also given considerable time to the professional care of members of the Canton Station and other foreigners residing at Tung Shan. At the Leung Kwong Baptist Hospital I have had charge of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Department, have visited the hospital daily and given regular service as per arranged schedule. Have been greatly aided by Dr. Wong Siu Po, as assistant, who over a year ago went to the Canton Hospital for special training in this line of work.

"During the year, 1263 Dispensary, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat patients and 1228 Office and Special patients were treated. The work of this hospital is only in its beginning stage, but last year in my department 71 operations of all types were performed.

"Since the building is too small to accommodate more in-patients than at present, growth is impossible until the new hospital is built and equipped.

"Although this work is not supported by our Foreign Mission Board, yet the Hospital Directors realize their need of help at this stage of the work. They therefore have earnestly requested the Foreign Mission Board to appoint a well-qualified surgeon as a member of the staff of the hospital, and also to give some financial aid in the construction of the first section of the new building which they plan to erect this year if possible.

"An evangelist is employed who gives a large part of his time to active Christian work among the patients in the hospital."

Orphanage.—W. H. Tipton writes that our native Christians who are entirely responsible for this institution are more and more coming to feel a genuine pride in making it worthy of the denomination. They now have sixty children in the home, all of whom seem content and happy.

The current expenses for the first ten months of the year have been $4,821.38. About two-thirds of this amount has been used for food and one-third for clothes. The amount for clothes was contributed by some of the well-to-do business men of Canton and has been sufficient to supply each child with an entirely new wardrobe. These benefactors have in addition replaced all furnishings, mosquito nets, etc., with new ones.

Superintendent Seen Wai Mun has, during the two years he has been connected with the home, done much to raise the standard.

Mo Kwong Home for Blind Girls.-Mrs. Graves writes:

"Mo Kwong has received two more tiny waifs, mere babies in size, though perhaps actually four to six years of age. The home now cares for twenty-nine girls who, but for its peaceful shelter, would now be suffering from cold and hunger. Some of them would be living lives of sin and shame, and all of them would be ignorant of the loving Heavenly Father and his Son, now their blessed Saviour. The home is supported by special funds from America with the approval of the Foreign Mission Board."

The Leper Colony.—Reverend and Mrs. John Lake write:

"During furlough we had the joy of seeing the funds provided for the first fifteen brick buildings for our Leper Colony on Tai Kam Island. As the first leper family which moved to the island is living in a mat shed like the one we used when we last visited there, it is a great joy to know that these buildings can now be replaced with substantial brick church, hospital, administration building, wards, etc."

During the year Reverend John L. Galloway and his Chinese colleagues have made a number of trips to the island, have cleared and graded the site and are ready to erect on it the above mentioned buildings. They have made friends with the pirates that infest this and nearby islands until the way now seems open for the workers to go to and fro in comparative safety.

This work is under a board of directors, and with the blessings of God has gone steadily forward. Under the supervision of Pastor Ku Waam-lun, in addition to the family on the island, lepers have been visited on the mainland and helped in different villages on the mainland. In one village about sixty men, women and children have, through the year, received financial and spiritual aid. This is the village where, in addition to Pastor Ko's visits, we have a teacher and his wife—both Chinese Baptists, and one of them a leper—at work.

The China Baptist Publication Society has been going forward with its work of producing Christian literature during the year. W. H. Tipton, editor of the Sunday School Literature Department, reports:

"The Sunday School Literature Editorial Department of the China Baptist Publication Society has been a busy place during the year. With eight different kinds of lessons to write for every Sunday in the year, which means four hundred and sixteen lessons written during 1923, our staff has not eaten much idle bread. We rejoice that the churches and Sunday schools are showing their appreciation of the literature. There has been more than a fifty per cent increase in our subscriptions during the year. The close of 1922 showed a list of some forty thousand subscribers, and we are now able to report over sixty thousand."

PERSONAL ITEMS

Furloughs.—Reverend and Mrs. C. J. Lowe and Miss Hattie Stallings of Kwei Lin; Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Beddoe of Wuchow; Mrs. C. A. Hayes and Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Chambers of Canton, have gone on regular furlough, and Miss Grace T. Elliott of Shiu Chow on short furlough during the year.

Mrs. Valeria P. Greene, Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Anderson and Rev. and Mrs. John Lake of Canton, Miss Lora Clement of Kong Moon, and Dr. and Mrs. R. E. L. Mewshaw of Kwei Lin, have returned from furlough. We welcome them back to the field.

We regret to record that during the autumn Dr. and Mrs. Roscoe Etter and Rev. and Mrs. W. D. King of Canton and Rev. and Mrs. John Sundstrom of Kong Moon, returned to America on early furlough on account of illness.

Marriages.—Rev. Victor McGuire of Canton, China, was married to Miss Blanche Duke of Durham, North Carolina, the marriage taking place in the early fall, shortly after Mr. McGuire's arrival in America on short furlough. We gladly welcome Mrs. McGuire into our Mission.

New Missionaries.—We rejoice to welcome into our midst Misses Essie E. Smith and Pauline Tipton for Pooi To Academy, Canton, and Miss Nellie Lee Putney and Mr. M. W. Rankin for Khoi Min Schools, Shiu Chow.

We regret to record the loss from our mission of Mr. and Mrs. Ullin Leavell to Hwang-Hsien College, North China, but we congratulate Kwang-Hsien on their going.

After a year's absence in North China we rejoice that Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Williams have returned to Canton. Dr. Williams is acting, while Dr. R. E. Chambers is on furlough, as Secretary of the China Baptist Publication Society.

Births.—Born to Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Dargin Smith of Kwein Lin, on January 8th, a daughter, Mary Blakeman Smith; born to Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Lowe of Kwei Lin, on January 23rd, a daughter, Sara Phyllis Lowe; born to Rev. and Mrs. M. T. Rankin of Canton, on February 6th, a daughter, Valeria Page Rankin; born to Rev. and Mrs. Rex. Ray of Wuchow, on December 25th, a son, Daniel Brooks Ray.

THE MANDARIN FIELD

Since we are supply statistician, the task of compiling this report was not assigned us until early in December and we did not accept the same until about December 20th. Therefore there has not been sufficient time to receive far-away Kwei Lin's report. As soon as it reaches us we will forward to the Board.

THE HAKKA FIELD

East River Section .- Mr. Gallimore reports:

"In the spring of 1922 the Mission voted and the Board approved of making plans to open at once "Waichow as a Main Station" of our Mission. At the next mission meeting Rev. and Mrs. A. R. Gallimore were designated for evangelistic work in this field. They have planned ever since to make their home in Waichow but so far political conditions have prevented.

"Notwithstanding hindrances the work inside the city has made real progress, in fact we have some assurance that the work there is getting established. Property is hard to secure but we have at last succeeded in renting a new building, well located, which has provided a place for the missionaries to live when in the city, a home for the preacher, a preaching hall, and a reading room."

"Out-Stations.—War conditions have made itinerating in the interior a near impossibility, so that we have been unable to open up the new chapels for which this year's appropriations provided. But T'am Shwei or 'Fresh Water,' a progressive market town, is one of our newest stations and we have been fortunate to be able, in going to and from Waichow, to visit it twice. It was our privilege to baptize the first converts there in the spring. We trust that many more from 'Fresh Water Village' may partake of the real 'living water' during the days to come.

"Two of our oldest churches, Lien Phin and Sin Fung, are located in this section."

Lien Phin.—Misses Sandlin and Pettigrew visited the church of Lien Phin in October and found their work going forward in a substantial way. A new house of worship was under construction but work had been temporarily suspended because the Confucian scholars of the city and others were objecting to its being built higher than the Confucian temple nearby. Its walls had already gone higher, so the command was "to tear down." The local magistrate was trying to keep the good will of all by having nothing to do with the affair, though both sides were urging him to set matters right. In one of the big mass meetings to discuss the matter the preacher pointed to a pawn shop owned by the objecting parties, much higher and just as near the Confucian temple as the disputed church building. His opposers caught his point and next day went to work and pulled it down. It had already been standing for twenty years. There was on the part of the church much earnest prayer to God, both public and private. Some ten days after we left word came that all was well, the church building would be completed just as planned. God's blessings rest on these our brethren as they occupy their new church and teach and preach and prove that the church of Christ is greater than the temple of Confucius!

The North River Section.—The move from Yingtak to the larger city of Shiu Chow has given new life to our whole work.

Evangelistic Work.—We had been living in Shiu Chow less than three months when, in February, our Hakka workers came together for a conference, during which much prayer was made that the Saviour would increase our faith and efforts to win the lost to him.

Many times since war has hindered and sometimes prevented evangelistic gatherings yet we are encouraged. For we have to report on profession of faith in Christ one hundred and eight-five baptisms, an increase of fifty per cent over last year. If our pastors could have traveled freely this number would have been larger, for there are a number, where the pastors could not go, awaiting baptism. Could these pastors have gone preaching the Word as well as baptizing, more could have been won. In many of our gatherings there has been marked demontration of our Lord's convicting and converting power.

This section has no foreign pastor who can devote all his time to the churches. We need at once two foreign men to give full time to pastoring the churches and evangelizing the masses in the many villages and market towns in this big Christless section.

Among Women and Girls.—Until the last year and a half there has been no woman missionary who could give her full time to evangelistic work among our Hakka women and girls. And even now Miss Ruth Pettigrew is the only one who is doing this. She reports:

"Our evangelistic field work among the Hakka women and girls has this year been blessed of the Lord. We are thankful beyond measure for the work of our three Bible women but we need many more. One of these is stationed in Yingtak and one in the interior. While the third accompanies the missionary 'as her companion in service.'

"Our need is not only for Bible women but we need missionaries too. Just one missionary field worker in all this immense North River field with its marvelous opportunities for service. There are vast sections yet untouched. We can reach only a small number of the women among the many millions of Hakkas. Our hearts yearn as we go about for we want to settle down at each place and tell again and again the story until all have heard. 'Oh, if we only had others—several others, to share the work with us."

There is Nam Yung and surrounding valley with its million people and "we have not even seen it yet." "We have planned several times to go there but each time we could not." Was it the Holy Spirit forbidding us in order that we might do the service at hand in this part of the field, "where women's hearts are being touched in a wonderful way—where many are finding life eternal in Christ Jesus our Lord."

Evangelistic Centers.—We decided to lessen the difficulty of travel over the many high robber-infested mountains of the field by establishing two or three centers where we can spend some months during each year, working out from these. The first of these was established at Yong Shak, a beautiful mountain willage located in the heart of a large section with numerous villages and market towns. We did this by repairing and remodelling the upstairs of the Yong Shak church for residence for the missionary. The spring months we spent here, a day school was opened and evangelizing carried on in the surrounding country. This fall, after spending two months visiting some of the churches and outstations of our field we are again in Yong Shak, doing evangelistic work. Next spring we hope to establish another center in Wung Ngen, a district city two days' journey from Yong Shak, and we hope to spend several months there.

Our two months' trip this fall permitted us from two to five days in a place—far too short a time. Throngs and throngs of women heard the gospel message and numbers confessed Christ.

Miss Sandlin had this fall the happy privilege of visiting all the churches and chapels save three.

The Hakka Baptist Association.—The Hakka Association has convened twice, and each time to some purpose, during the year nineteen and twenty-three. Heretofore this association has had no separate boards but all contributions have been sent to the Two Kwongs Association and this association through their general boards have directed all native effort, even among the Hakkas, and paid most of the expenses.

At the first meeting of the association in February they decided to raise sufficient funds to care for their own work and to direct this work through their own boards, reporting to the Two Kwongs General Association. Having made this important decision the association proceeded to make their offerings.

Offerings.—The first was for the Home Board. To support their existing work would require six hundred dollars annually. They were accustomed to raise from one to two hundred. We have scarcely seen such hilarious giving. The spirit of God was with us and many gave sacrificially. One, a woman with a family of four dependent on her small salary for a living, called out, "I will give ten dollars." "Yong Thai Ku gives twenty dollars," echoed the preacher's voice from the platform, and the congregation broke forth into song. "Hallelujah, Thine the glory, hallelujah, Amen," they sang. Yong Thai Ku smiled and quietly said to one nearby, "I said ten but even twenty is a small sacrifice compared to what Christ has done for me." The one to whom she spoke had just had a similar experience for she had just said "fifteen," and the echo had said "fifty." Neither objected, for ten and twenty and fifteen and fifty sound very similar in the Hakka Chinese, and perhaps the ears of the preacher were listening to what the Spirit was saying to him, so both paid the larger amounts. When the count was taken the total was fifteen hundred dollars.

The next offering was to raise a fund to help some of the worthy poor students who continually seek admittance into our Shiu Chow schools. This time they raised twelve hundred dollars. Afterwards to handle this fund they organized their educational board. In fact the different boards were organized and began to function at once.

The Home Board.—This board, since organizing in February, has used well their time and money. They have not only done well by their old work—the churches of Lien Phin and Ma Sheu, but have gone into a section of our field where we have never labored and opened and operated two new chapels and are planning within the next few months to open three more.

Educational Board.—This board deserves our commendation. It was organized for the purpose of fulfilling a vision of sacrificial service which came to different members of the association. This service was to be along two lines: First, with reference to the individuals—to help the poor who are "always with us" by transforming their lives from the poverty of ignorance to the riches of knowledge in Christ Jesus. This year this aim has materialized in the board's having admitted and supported in our Shiu Chow schools some fifteen poor boys and girls; to as many more they have given half board; while to others still they have given tuition only. The board's second line of service is to so correlate and standardize our schools as to evolve a school system with the lower work done in the outstations and the higher work done in Shiu Chow. Their efforts along this line for the year have taken shape in the direction and control of the thirteen primary schools for boys over the field. These schools raise sixty per cent, while the Foreign Mission Board pays forty per cent, of their expenses. The forty per cent is controlled by the educational board, it being necessary for any school desiring aid to reach a certain standard. This standard has to do with teachers, courses of study, length of school term, etc. Already one can see signs of progress.

In connection with the educational board there are trustees for each of the three central schools in Shiu Chow. These trustees aid in the conduct of the schools, but their principal duty is to create a deeper interest in them over the field and to raise tunds for them.

The second meeting of the association was held in October to plan next year's work. It was even better than the one in February, the attendance was larger and enthusiasm ran higher, while the pledges were more and more easily secured. In tuture the association will meet in October in each year for its annual meeting.

In China it is all right to change your name, in fact it usually means promotions. So when our schools were moved from Yingtak to Shiu Chow they changed their names. This year we report four schools under the new name, whereas there were only two at Yingtak.

Khoi Min Grammar and High School for Girls.—Miss Grace Elliott has been principal of this school during the year and is able to report progress in that the school has had a more efficient faculty than ever before. For the fall term two graduates of Pooi To Academy were secured to teach in the Grammar School and two teachers of college training were secured for the high school.

The Science Department has been strengthened by needed equipment and music has been added to the course.

The school has taken her place beside the other schools in Shiu Chow, but greatest of all is the place she has won in the hearts of the Hakka people. This warm place for the school in the people's hearts is due partly to the work of the educational board, but more particularly is it due to the conduct of her own girls who have gone out from her. None of these girls are graduates, for this is only the third year of the high school. However, the pupils who have gone out into the field have become light-bearers—four of these are teaching in our day schools.

The three day schools in the out-stations of the field have had a total enrollment of ninety pupils. A number of these have followed Christ in baptism.

Khoi Min Grammar and High School for Boys.—The story of progress in the girls' school could with some changes in detail be repeated for the boys' school. J. R. Saunders, principal, reports an enrollment of seventy, which is the largest in the history of the school. It is interesting to note that the increased attendance has been most marked in the high school.

Correlated with this school and connected with different churches scattered over the field there are thirteen Khoi Min primary schools for boys. Their total enrollment for the year has been three hundred and four pupils.

We are deeply thankful to our heavenly Father for the coming of two new helpers for these schools; Miss Nell Putney for the girls' school and Mr. M. W.

Rankin for the boys' school. Both are studying hard and making fine progress in the Chinese language.

Khoi Min Primary School for Boys and Girls.—In the spring this school, which has in the past been a department of the girls' school, became a separate school. The enrollment has since doubled, having gone from seventy to one hundred and forty-one pupils.

During the entire year our Chinese teachers have proven most zealous and efficient in the work of the school and any degree of success is attributable in a large measure to their untiring efforts. We are very fortunate in having Miss Amy Au as assistant principal. Miss Au is a product of Pooi To School—a graduate of their Academy and Primary Normal School—and for ten years has been one of their most valued teachers. She has been with us only four months but is already proving herself to be a great gain to our school.

Khoi Min Kindergarten has enrolled during the year twenty-six pupils. This number is crowded into one small room. The fact that the attendance for the fall term has been a third more than it was in the spring reminds us of a statement made by a German missionary who has lived long in this city. She said, "You will find great opportunity for your kindergarten in Shiu Chow."

Woman's Bible School, Shiu Chow.—This school, aside from the handicaps of being homeless and penniless, possesses all the elements for becoming a great school. In February several preachers whose wives had come with them to Shiu Chow to attend the association came to us urging that some provision be made for their wives to study. Later a class was opened in a small room of the church in charge of volunteer teachers. The dormitory consisted of a dirty, dilapidated room in the back yard. Ten women were taught until June. In July the mission was given a report of this school and asked to approve and provide for its continuance and enlargement, as there were many women seeking admittance. In a measure this was done, but the end of the year finds us entirely without funds.

The fall term has been a great success. The enrollment has been nineteen and our two teachers have done excellent work. The spirit of the student body has been so fine and their love for Christ so manifest that the three unsaved women who entered the school in September soon believed and were baptized. One of these three is a preacher's wife who had not fully undrstood before entering the school but who, having been taught, believed!

There are one hundred preachers, teachers and colporteurs in our field and very few of them have wives who can read or write. Worse still, the majority of these women know not Christ as Saviour. There are only four Bible women in the field. Surely these facts show the urgent need of the woman's school.

We need at once a thousand dollars for this school. The enrollment could just as easily be fifty as nineteen but small salaries and large families make it impossible for our preachers to pay the total of the higher cost of living in Shiu Chow. We should be prepared to give these women the necessary help on their tuition and board. We need funds also for house rent and teachers' salaries. But the most imperative need is for a young woman to offer her life for this work.

New Theological Seminary for the Hakkas.—In the beginning of the Hakka Seminary in October we all recognized and rejoiced in answered prayer. President J. R. Saunders reports nineteen students in attendance and adds that they refused admittance to as many more; for all recognize that care should be taken to receive none save those who have been chosen and anointed of God to give their lives to the preaching of the gospel. We are encouraged with those who have come and believe that it means a new day for reaching the millions in this field who have not yet heard the story of redemption.

This is the first Theological Seminary established for the Hakkas by any strictly evangelical denomination.

The seminary requires that another man be sent out at once to help in its development.

Medical Work .- Rev. J. R. Saunders reports:

"The Ramseur Memorial Hospital in Yingtak has gone forward during the year under Dr. Wong Mien and his helpers in a splendid way." The running expenses have been taken care of by receipts from the patients to a degree that our Foreign Mission Board has paid into the hospital less than one-half the amount of last year. The Hakka Association proposes to assume the responsibility for the hospital, beginning with the new year, and are making large plans for its development. In these plans they propose to enlarge the plant and increase the staff of the hospital.

Much war during the year has made relief work imperative. This has been carried on both in Yingtak and Shiu Chow and funds for it to the amount of ten thousand dollars have been raised among the Chinese. At one time in these two cities we had as many as eight hundred in-patients, all either sick or wounded soldiers. Counting relief work, there have been nearly two thousand in-patients during the year. Many of these required major operations. Treatall the instruction we could give them in the "Way of Life" and some have bements have been given to many thousand out-patients. The patients have had lieved the message!

PAKHOI CHINA MISSION ANNUAL REPORT

By E. T. Snuggs

This Mission cannot yet report a large number of baptisms. The field is so large, the workers are few, the people idolatrous and superstitious, and also very contented with their lot. It will take a decade at our present progress to make known to them that true salvation, liberty and joy, are only to be found in the gospel of Jesus. After deducting three expulsions and two deaths, the present membership is seventy-six, including four men and one woman baptized during the year. About twenty more names would have been added to the church roll if the missionary had been able to revisit the out-stations in the fall of the year. We hope that in future, no one will need to wait a long time for opportunity to confess Christ in baptism, as the missionaries are temporarily residing in Hongkong, where they are completing arrangements to remove to the large city of Lui Chau, which is more in the center of the vast field than the treaty port of Pakhoi.

Lui Chau City is situated in about the middle of the Lui Chau Peninsular, the territory that juts out into the China Sea, this peninsula being the most southern portion of China and of the Kwong Tung Province. It is about thirty hours by steamer and motor car from Hong Kong.

During the year E. T. Snuggs made several visits to Lui Chau Peninsular and adjoining territory. In the fall, Mrs. Snuggs, Miss F. Snuggs and the writer made an extended visit to Lui Chau City and the other out-stations outside of Pakhoi. Dr. Cheung Wan Man, Corresponding Secretary of the Two Broad Baptist Association was also with the party. Preaching opportunities were excellent, eager crowds attended the services at every place. All were encouraged by the outlook. It was felt that if we can take advantage of the present attitude of the people, we may expect to make much progress in the near future. The Hoi Hong district magistrate and other officials, also prominent men of the community, are much interested in our work, the district magistrate has given much help and shown us many favors. Plans are being completed towards opening Boys' and Giris' Schools up to the Middle School grade at Lui Chau. This city being an educational center, our schools, especially the Middle School, will supply a great need. The people of this place have the heart to help others, as evidenced during special meetings held at Christmas, by subscribing some five hundred dollars towards an orphanage, which they hope the Baptist Church will undertake to open and supervise.

The out-station at On Po is making steady progress in membership and is hoping to extend its Boys' school.

The work at Sui Kai and Ma Cheung need workers of consecration and energy; there are opportunities there, and at several other places, but, where!

oh where! are the workers? The one great need of this field is workers, men and women, foreign and chinese, whom God has chosen, called, prepared and filled with His love to work.

Miss Faith M. Snuggs has made good progress in the study of the Chinese language and is gradually assisting in the management and teaching of the Girls' Schools and Kindergarten.

The year 1924 marks the beginning of the tenth year of missionary effort by the Pakhoi China Mission. Started in the year 1914 with two missionaries, three native helpers, no church members and no schools or scholars, it begins the present year with three missionaries and thirteen native helpers, one church and four out-stations with seventy-six members, five Sunday schools and two-hundred and thirty scholars, seven day schools and one hundred and ninety-two scholars; also a constituency of more than three million souls to be won to Jesus. Two more missionaries are expected soon, the work surely needs reinforcements, for the work is peculiarly difficult.

ANNUAL REPORT

By Everett Gill.

The past year has not been marked by any striking event or dramatic situation in our European fields. There has been, at least a seeming, progress toward normal conditions in economics, politics and religion. However, Europe has a long journey yet to make before arriving at peace and prosperity in the material and moral realms. Gratifying progress has been made in most of the departments of denominational work in these various countries. As is natural, each land has its peculiar problems. In some, these problems are bound up with the political situation arising out of the World War. In others, they are personal and psychological. In all, the economic problem is insistent. But the main fact of importance for us is that in spite of obstacles the Kingdom of Christ is making progress in Europe. The second fact of outstanding interest to us is that the small material help that we are rendering these various Baptist conventions enables them to go ahead, when without such aid they would be sorely handicapped or paralyzed. For this timely assistance they are duly and constantly appreciative.

A few general observations may be in order before reviewing the work of the various national bodies in order.

Publications.

Recognizing the outstanding importance of the press in Christian work, the various Baptist bodies, as soon as help from America arrived, either strengthened the publication work they already had or initiated it where they had none. The result is that we have already a praiseworthy beginning in each of these lands.

These publications are almost exclusively small monthly periodicals. But they meet a real need of the scattered membership and bind them into a conscious brotherhood. These monthly papers gradually will be changed into bimonthly, and later into weekly journals.

In Hungary, our oldest Baptist Balkan field, they have had for some years a publication plant located in the German church house in Budapest. It is now operated by the Hungarian Baptist Union. The union issues in the Hungarian language six periodicals that minister to the churches in general, the children, Sunday-school teachers, the young people's musical societies, while tracts and other publications are sent forth.

In Rumania we must have four periodicals for the four language groups. In Jugoslavia, also, we must have four journals. In one sense it is fortunate that the German groups largely are ministered to by the German Baptist Publication House at Cassel, Germany. But it must be admitted that in these Balkan lands there is a certain suspicion on the part of the authorities of German literature coming into the country. They fear political propaganda.

In Russia we have not been able, because of the unusual political situation to help in the work of publication. Because of a certain oversight or mistake on the part of the Baptist manager, the Baptist publication plant was shut down by the Soviets. There is a limitless field of opportnuity for this kind of work in Russia. When such work will be possible and some adjustment will have been made between the two Baptist bodies we can foresee marvelous things to be done for the kingdom of Christ by means of the press.

Workers' Institutes.

We planned for these institutes for the workers while still on the sea en route to Europe. It has developed that no more important work has been done for the untrained pastors and missionaries and church workers than these institutions for teaching the Bible and methods of work. We have but very few preachers, pastors and missionaries in any of these lands who have had any training for their work; consequently, these institutes meet a great and real need.

Not only in the Balkans, but in Russia also, this need is keenly felt. When we shall be able to undertake a large and adequate co-operative work in that land, besides other kinds of workers we must have well-equipped Russian preachers who can be able to devote years, if not their whole lives, to this kind of ministry.

We regret to chronicle that two of our best institute leaders in Rumania and Jugoslavia, Messrs. Socaciu and Dulic, who did such brief but valiant work along this line, were compelled to return to America. It is to be earnestly hoped that they may be able to return or that men equally well fitted for this task may be found to take their places. For it is of the highest importance that this work be continued.

Theological Seminaries.

There has been but little change in the Seminary situation during the year.

The Bucharest Seminary had no fall session for lack of a building. However, before our next annual report they will be well housed in the new building that will be completed during the year. The faculty has been reinforced by the coming of Brother D. T. Hurley.

In Jugoslavia we have not yet made a beginning in seminary work. Three young men who are German, or speak German, are in the Hamburg seminary; and two young women from Jugoslavia entered the Baptist Deaconess Home in the same city to train for service in their homeland.

The Budapest seminary that has been organized for many years continues to do the best work that is possible under adverse circumstances. The most important fact in connection with this seminary during the year was the sending by the seminary committee of Mr. M. Baranyay, former secretary of the Hungarian Baptist Union, to the Louisville seminary to prepare himself for a place on the Budapest seminary faculty.

An urgent need of this seminary is a home. We have purchased one of the finest building lots in all that great and beautiful city. That was two years ago. We have not moved a step forward since. The building in which the seminary now lives has proved to be unhealthful for students and faculty. There has been frequent cases of illness and rheumatism. Three students are crowded into one small room. This, of course, is against the city's sanitary laws, but we can do no better until we build. We already have a one-story building on the rear of our lot which we could easily utilize, if we only had the money, by adding two stories and thus have room enough for students and faculty for some years to come. The main building would be erected later on the front of the lot.

The Barcelona seminary, though without a home, is making good progress in spite of drawbacks and the smallness of the faculty. In time we trust God will raise up a splendidly trained young man who will be sent to assume this position of importance.

Then, there is Russia filling the whole horizon. Up to this time we have been confining our endeavors to relieving the physical sufferings of the people. It is only this year that we made a small beginning in a missionary way, and that was assisting the modest seminary of the "Evangelical Christians" in Petrograd. They are staunch Baptists. It is indeed an humble start. At the earliest possible moment we must have in Russia at least one great seminary.

Women's Work.

It is gratifying to see how the Baptist women of Europe, who have not advanced educationally, professionally or politically as have the women of western lands, have responded to the call of the opportunities presented to them in the Lord's work in these last three years.

Hungary, as usual, has taken the lead and formed during the year a national Baptist organization for women. The Hungarian women are eagerly looking forward to the time when they can have a training school for their young women.

Rumania has two young women in the Louisville Training school. The executive committee will later, perhaps, send others so that the Rumanian young women in the churches, after the organization of their training schools, may have the best possible preparation for Christian activity in the local churches.

Jugoslavia, as noted above, already has two young women training in the Deaconess Home in Hamburg. The German Baptists take great interest in this kind of work for women. These Baptist deaconesses are trained nurses and general Christian workers. They wear a uniform and so are immediately and everywhere recognized as religious workers. They do not take the vow of celibacy as among the Catholics. It is not likely that the Baptist women of these Balkan lands will take this up as a normal phase of women's activities.

Besides these two young deaconesses there was a goodly number of young women who took the course in the institute held in Novi Sad, Jugoslavia, last winter by Mr. Dulic.

Dr. Love in the Balkans.

One of the most significant events of the past year for our European work was the visit to the Balkan lands of Dr. and Mrs. Love, accompanied by Mesdames James and Neel of the W. M. U. and Dr. and Mrs. W. Y. Quisenbery and Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Hale, of St. Louis, and Dr. C. B. Miller, of Springfield, Mo. It was a brief journey made after the Stockholm meeting and included Hungary, Rumania and Jugoslavia. Dr. Love and I had visited Spain before the Stockholm gathering. It was a blessing for our work that these strategic persons could see the possibilities of our European work at first hand. We are sure that great good will come from this visit both to the visitors and the visited.

Review of the Field.

In general, we can say that there is a spirit of optimism in most of the lands where we are working. There was an increase in the number of baptisms in Hungary, Jugoslavia and Spain. Rumania had only twelve less than three thousand baptisms, which was only a few less than last year. This number does not include the German group in Rumania, who are really supposed to be enumerated with the other groups in our statistics.

HUNGARY,

The leaders speak of a religious awakening among the people which they are doing their best to foster. This awakening is manifest among the young people who, for the most part, express their religious interest in a musical way. Hungarians are a musical people and it evinces a fine intelligence to see how the Hungarian Baptists are using this national trait for the furtherance of the gospel. They form choral societies, orchestras and bands for rendering sacred music, for young Christians in these lands are not supposed to sing secular songs. There is no "young people's problem" in Hungarian Baptist churches. These sacred musical societies, which largely take the place of our young people's societies, are the main factors in the Sunday evening evangelistic services.

Besides these local activities of the young people, under the leadership of the pastors they go on distant excursions by train with choral society and orchestra to carry the gospel to new fields in song and youthful sermon. Having attended one of these musico-evangelistic meetings, I can testify to the deep impressiveness of the method.

Sunday-school teacher training was not forgotten through the year, though a vast amount of work remains to be done along this line.

Mention should be made of the Baptist orphanage organized and carried on by the Hungarian Baptists even before we came on the field. A stirring and pathetic story could be told concerning the origin of this holy enterprise. They care for eighty children.

There were 1,046 baptisms during the year, being more than a ten per cent. increase.

RUMANIA.

The work in Rumania has gone forward in an encouraging way. The number of baptisms for the whole field is practically the same as last year, being a few less than 3,000 not counting the German Baptists.

The persecutions have not ceased altogether and, perhaps, are not as violent as formerly. But it is not yet clear what the new laws concerning religion will be. The Baptists are making progress in spite of the violent opposition of the state church in the local press and otherwise. The struggle for religious liberty will not be given up until it is gained in its fullness.

The Hungarian group in Rumania has recently bought a very valuable piece of property in their main center, Oradea Mare, on which there rests a debt. Besides, they have an excellent printing plant which is of great service to their work.

In the spring of the year Mrs. Gill and I made an extended tour among the churches of Transylvania. We were welcomed with enthusiasm and beautiful hospitality into the homes and churches of the people. Mrs. Gill being the first foreign Baptist lady ever to visit the churches in this part of the world naturally created a great deal of interest among the sisterhood. The fact that a foreign Baptist sister thought enough of them to visit them in their homes seemed to make a deep impression, and their appreciation was beautiful and even pathetic.

JUGOSLAVIA.

In Jugoslavia, as in all other European lands, we are building upon other men's foundations. We had when we began our work there three years ago about 600 members. Now we have over 800. They are increasing at a rate of 15 per cent. a year. Let us remember that this is accomplished without church buildings, trained preachers and only beginnings of a publication work. This success is wrought by sheer faith in God and a devoted preaching of the gospel. In all this Balkan work I am constantly reminded of the pioneer work of our American Baptist forefathers.

During the year one new chapel and a home for aged Baptists were purchased with but little money from our board.

In spite of the discouragement caused by the necessary return of Mr. Dulic to America and other hindering circumstances, the work has prospered and the brethren have planned for an even larger work for the year to come.

SPAIN.

The work in Spain, though small, is unusually encouraging. During the year we lost by resignation two Swedish missionary families who came to us from the boards whose work we took over three years ago. In spite of this loss of workers we had more Baptisms (113) than ever before.

The General Secretary, Rev. A. Celma, of Barcelona, reports a greater interest in our preaching services as seen in the increased attendance. He attributes this to the influence of our new Baptist journal, "The Messenger," which is only a year old. There seems to be less antagonism to New Testament baptism among the mass of the people and among the other denominations.

RUSSIA.

I made my third visit to Russia in September and October, 1923, in company with Dr. Rushbrooke. Our relief work has been about finished. We took the first steps toward initiating missionary work in that vast country.

The first and great difficulty is that of finding a way of working so as not to be disturbed by the Soviet government, who have a great dread of any foreign activities, fearing a counter revolution. They find it almost impossible to trust any one. The two Baptist bodies had difficulty during the year with the authorities over a question of military service. The Evangelical Christians in their annual gathering passed resolutions on the subject that were satisfactory to the government. The Baptists in their annual meeting passed similar, though not identical, resolutions that were not so satisfactory to the Soviets. In fact, immediately upon the adjournment of the convention several of the leaders were imprisoned for a while.

Aside from rendering assistance to the theological school in Petrograd and helping to get a certain number of Bibles into the country we can do no real missionary work for the present. We shall await with somewhat of holy impatience the time when we may come to the assistance of this largest group of Baptists in Europe in a great and adequate manner.

ITALIAN MISSION

MISSIONARIES

ROME-D. G. Whittinghill, Mrs. Whittinghill, via Del Babuino, 107.

ANNUAL REPORT

By D. G. Whittinghill.

In Italy, we are passing through a new phase of almost fanatical patriotism which converts everything Italian into a glorious utopia and everything foreign into something not at all desirable. Straws show which way the wind blows. A lady buying a piece of brocade and asking for a design of garlands and floating blue ribbon is told "that is a French design; we neither have it nor want it; we have plenty of beautiful, old Italian designs and we need not go to any other country for beautiful things." The old English manufacture, the appreciation of German enterprise and cheapness, a neighborly sense of French gifts and graces are no longer evident in Italy as formerly. Italy, indeed, needed to believe in herself and her own resources of mind and matter, but, like all other revolutions, this one has gone to somewhat serious extremes. Sixteen months ago, Mussolini, with an iron hand, prevented the national coach from precipitating over the brink of Bolshevism. For this energetic act he deserves the gratitude and admiration of the entire world. This noble nation was fatally succumbing to the miasma of post-war conditions, but has been indomitably waked up and put to work. Every branch of public service has been relentlessly investigated, cleaned up and ruthlessly reduced in employes and pay. Democracy, socialism and especially communism, for the time being, have been annihilated or muzzled or have slipped for safety into the modern political garb of the dominant "fascista party." The end is not yet, but in the meantime, Mussolini, in order to accomplish his purpose, has played on every note of national vanity and pride. From the baron to the barber, everyone is made to feel that Italian genius can move the world, as in former times, and that Italy is the envied of Europe. The press has been dominated, and cajoled by turns, and Italy is so dazzled by the magic circle of her flames of adulation that she is almost hypnotized into ignoring her low exchange, her over-population, her unemployed and her unspiritual religious life. Mussolini, in the meantime, has rediscovered the Papacy, and the Roman Catholic church to be a purely Italian institution, with no barbarian quirks. Do not the nominally Protestant nations of the world come to Rome to pay homage to the pope? Does not every Anglo-Saxon girl, who can procure a ticket, put on a black veil and prostrate herself before His Holiness? Does not the Baptist and Presbyterian tourist oftentimes forsake his modest chapel in Rome, in order to visit the great historical figure who succeeded the Roman Emperor as the ruler of Europe? No other nation has an "infallible pope" or gorgeously dressed cardinals or so many beautiful churches as Italy. Are not both Protestant England and America greatly indebted to Italy, especially for her art? The Vatican, by no means as innocent as the dove, is certainly as wise as a serpent, inasmuch as she has made the most of Mussolini's flirtations with the "national" church. Both the Italian and foreign press have been suborned to turn every arrow in their quivers against the foreign missionaries, who are accused of trying to destroy the church of their fathers, and to be spending a mint of ilgotten sterlings and dollars for sectarian and political ends! This hybrid, abnormal alliance of national sentiments with the Vatican has made the position and work of Evangelical Missions in Italy more difficult than ever before. In fact, it seems that those now in power and many others have forgotten the tragic history of Italy and the Vatican's part in it, from 1848 to 1870, and to remember only the foreign kings and adventurers who in ancient times sucked the blood of Italy! This unfortunate state of affairs makes the position of Italian Protestants very painful and trying, and the work of foreigners extremely difficult.

In addition to the trying conditions in which we must work at present in Italy, we have as an adversary in the spiritual realm an institution which has greatly increased its strength and influence since the World War. Diplomatically, the Papacy has made great strides during the past ten years. In 1914, at the outbreak of the war, the Vatican had diplomatic relations with thirteen nations; today, it has thirty-one nations represented in Rome. Among those in diplomatic relation with the Vatican ought to be noted the great Protestant nations of England, Germany, Holland and Czecko-Slovackia. A number of advantageous "Ententes Cordiales" have been made with the new states in Eastern Europe, and besides there is existing at the present time a sharp state of rivalry between the Roman and Anglican churches as to which one should exercise a predominating influence in the Greek church. There is also much talk in Italy about reconciliation between the Vatican and the Italian government with, however, very little probability of a peaceful solution.

Transfer of English Baptist Mission.

It will be remembered that the Baptist Conference of London, in 1920, decided in favor of a single society working in a given field. In pursuance of this policy, the Baptist Missionary Society of London withdrew from Italy in January, 1923, turning over all its work and property to the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. The incorporation of the English work into our own was effected with remarkably little friction when difference of methods and men is duly considered. This transfer includes three missionaries, twelve native pastors, sixteen churches, eight church buildings, seven of which have parsonages, and a small publication house in Turin. The church buildings are located in Rome (which has three), Florence, Turin, Meana di Susa. Montenerodomo and Paganico Sabino. In some places the work which we have inherited is slightly stationary, while in others we have found earnest and active pastors who seem to put their whole heart into the work. On the whole, I believe, the work in Italy is stronger as one working body than as two separate organizations.

The George B. Taylor Orphanage.

The month of September marks the date of its opening. Rev. W. Kemme Landels, formerly of the English Mission, with his capable and lovable daughter, Madam Bevilacqua. consented to take charge of the orphanage, and, consequently, took up their residence on Monte Mario in May. To our great sorrow. Madame Bevilacqua died suddenly in August, following an operation. Mr. Landels and his wife are still in charge. The building at present will be able to care for about twenty-five children. At present, there are only ten accepted, but applications are continually coming in. Up to the present time the education of the children is being cared for by two near-by schools. Mr. Landels provides religious instruction. There are Bible readings and prayer, as well as song services every day, for the benefit of the orphans. On Sundays a number of strangers come to the preaching service, conducted by the director.

The contributions to the orphanage from friends in England and Italy for the last seven months of the year amounted to 8,170.18 lire. This money came through the efforts of Mr. Landels, who has done his work remarkably well.

Theological School.

For lack of a building for our theological school, we have been compelled to send our students to the Waldensian College in Rome. In addition to their lessons in this school, our students receive periodic lessons from us, regarding our peculiar Baptist doctrines and methods of work. By such means, we keep them in close touch with our mission, as well as our ideals. They, of course, attend our church services and help in many ways in our propoganda, distributing tracts, Gospels and so forth and acting as ushers at the church door. We have only five students. I wish they were more numerous, but we cannot create men for the ministry. Only God can call them to His service, and we shall do our best when they come to us to prepare them for their great work. We are greatly distressed that so few young people are called to preach the gospel in Italy, and we earnestly hope that our friends in America will earnestly pray to God to send more laborers into the harvest in Italy.

The Stockholm Congress.

Through the contributions of some of our native churches and pastors and the generosity of personal friends in America, eleven of our Italian pastors were enabled to attend the Congress at Stockholm in July. These men, who had always been accustomed to small meetings, meagre results and great difficulties in our work, were much encouraged and inspired by a congress of so many delegates and with such a world-wide inspiring program. The pastors derived some new ideas and inspiration from meeting their brethren from other lands, and listening to all they could understand themselves or by means of my wife, who translated for them.

Publication.

The importance of our publications at the present time cannot easily be exaggerated. We cannot reach the public by means of our few eloquent preachers, nor by means of our evangelists and colporteurs. It is not easy to counteract the influence of the Catholic press, nor can we alter the tone or contents of the secular papers, which gladly publish slanderous articles regarding us and our work. The irritating red tape of petty laws and decrees which are used to hinder us in our work or the use of our property certainly do not conduce to our happiness. but we can still publish to the world some of the truth and fling it like a handful of fructifying seed throughout the land. The fact that our publications have been condemned by the Vatican and dubbed as "pernicious" to the church proves that our work with the press has not been in vain. With our two reviews and two newspapers, we are reaching more people in Italy than all the other evangelical churches combined. The fact that "Bilychnis" has more than twenty collaborators who are professors in Italian universities, not to mention other writers of prominence in the various professions, is worthy of note. Our new weekly periodical, "Conscientia," has inherited some of these writers, who are contributing to making the most interesting weekly published in this country. By means of it we are able to reach a large class of people of influence who neither have an opportunity nor a great desire to enter evangelical churches. Doctor Pietro Chiminelli, who obtained his Doctor's degree from the Louisville Seminary in February last, is the efficient director of "Conscientia." The "Testimonio" (the Witness) continues to be the most popular church paper in Italy. It has a larger number of subscribers now than ever in its history, and Dr. Fasulo is constantly giving us many good things to read. In fact, all of our publications of late months have considerably increased in circulation, which is not only gratifying to us, but gives promise of greater usefulness in the future. In addition to our periodical publications, the "Bilychnis" publication house occasionally publishes books and tracts. We have just brought out a volume entitled "The Papal Primacy in History and Italian Thought," by Aristarco Fasulo. This volume was lovingly dedicated to his father, a veteran of the gospel in Italy. This book contains the law thesis offered by the author to the University of Rome, when he received his diploma of jurisprudence. He treats the burning question of church and state with ability. His account of the transition and sequence from the simple self-governing bodies of the primitive churches to the bishopric of Rome is a piece of careful, historical work, which ought to be read by every Baptist who loves liberty of conscience and the separation of church and state.

Another valuable historical publication we have made during the year is Professor Mario Rossi's book entitled "Luther and Rome." This volume treats of the struggle about indulgences. It is a work of real historical research founded largely on original sources, in which Luther is sympathetically treated as a teacher and a mystic of the cross and of evangelical repentance. The subject is treated from an Italian point of view, and with a knowledge of the great and imminent problems of religious life in Italy.

It may not be generally known among our friends in America that we have a publication house in Rome which goes by the name of "Casa Editrice Bilychnis" (Bilychnis Publishing House). Bilychnis is a compound word which means two lights or flames, being derived from the Latin bis, meaning "two," and the Greek Luchnos, meaning "flame" or "light." Our noted religious review bears this name "Bilychnis," and carries on the cover a cut representing the lamp with two flames used by the early Christians in the Catacombs. These two flames represent Science and Faith, and inasmuch as they proceed from the same lamp and are nourished by the same oil, there ought not to be any contradiction between the two. It ought to be said at this point that Professor Ludovico Paschetto has been the efficient editor-in-chief of Bilychnis since its foundation in 1912. The popularity and success of this review is largely due to him.

Our four periodical publications: Bilychnis, II Testimonio, Conscientia and II Seminatore are all published by this house. We have also published fifteen volumes treating of historical, critical, apologetical and devotional subjects. More than 300 other publications including supplements to Bilychnis, pamphlets and tracts were issued, all of which were distined, either directly or indirectly, for our propaganda.

Church Work.

Although our pastoral force has not been fully replenished since the war, our church work progresses, notwithstanding our many and increasing difficulties. Mussolini's flirtation with the Roman church has considerably embarrassed us. Romanism has become more bold and has persecuted evangelicals no little during the last year. In one of the public squares of Rome, Protestant Bibles and other "pernicious" books were burned, while a clerical member of parliament harangued the crowd and encouraged them in their shameful work. The Crucifix has been introduced again into the public schools and court rooms from which it had been banished since 1870. Prayers to the Virgin Mary, the Roman Catholic Catechism and other practices of the state church are imparted to all public school children. Our own children must abandon the public school during this instruction, if they wish to avoid Roman Catholic teaching. This difficult state of affairs, created by the state church and government, has in many places increased the zeal and activity of our own brethren. On the whole, our churches are better attended than formerly. The Sunday schools have grown in attendance, while the contributions have increased more than 50 per cent. over last year. The number of baptisms is not what we could have wished. When our field is better equipped, I am sure the long-desired advance in the Italian mission will materialize. Italy, far more than any other mission field, ought not to be judged by the number of baptisms reported. The average Italian convert is slow to accept immersion, as he considers it non-essential, not being a "sacrament." am quite sure that a number of decorous baptistries would add largely to our membership. We are oftentimes compelled to baptize our converts undecorously and in ill-suited places.

It may be well to mention some details about our church work. At Civitavecchia, a seaport city near Rome, we have had thirty baptisms within the last two years. There are at present twenty-five candidates for baptism. The preaching hall is usually crowded to suffocation. The local expenses, including the hall rent, are paid by the brethren. The church at Genova, for which we purchased a building last year, has taken on new life, under its new pastor, Signor Corsani. He is the son of a Waldensian pastor. The Milano church has suffered for years for lack of a building of its own. A city of 800,000 people certainly ought to have a church building! This church is nearly fifty years old, and has been condemned to hold its services in hired halls all these years. Signor Angeleri, the most capable pastor of the Naples church, has repeatedly asked for a church building, in order to accommodate his increasing congregation. The hall where he preaches cannot possibly contain his hearers. There are nearly 200 members in this church, which is growing in numbers and enthusiasm almost daily. It will be a great shame if Southern Baptists do not give them a building in the near future. It has been promised to them from the funds of the 75 Million This city has nearly 1,000,000 inhabitants. Reggio Calabria has a growing work, and an ideal church building, parsonage and schoolroom, which are unfinished. Our funds were not sufficient to complete the building, so, for more than a year the work has been suspended. However, the church work proceeds just the same. The basement is being used for church services, notwithstanding its unfinished state.

The Roman churches in Via Teatro Valle and in Piazza in Lucina are both in a fine condition, and promise much for the future. Both Dr. Chiminelli and Dr. Fasulo are splendid preachers, and will compare well with those of any other country. Their churches are constantly frequented by numbers of strangers.

In the church in Piazza in Lucina, a few nights ago, there were in the congregation, Italians, Russians, Americans, English, and representatives from Austria, Sweden and France, which fact will give one an idea of the cosmopolitan character of our work in Rome. Other churches which have made considerable progress during the year are the following: Florence, which has an ideal pastor; Gioia del Colle, Altamura, Messina, Avellino, Floridia and Chiavari, while the others have remained about as they were last year.

Miss Wall's Work.

It will be remembered that Miss Wall, along with Mr. Landels and Mr. Campbell Wall, who is in charge of some of the churches in the north, came over to our mission when the English Missionary Society turned their work over to the Foreign Mission Board. Miss Wall's work consists of visiting the homes of the poor, looking after the sick in hospitals and caring for the mothers' meeting and two girls' sewing classes, which meet weekly. By means of her associates she distributes a great number of Testaments and portions. Last year, she sent a copy of the New Testament to every member of Parliament, from a number of whom she received letters of thanks. Miss Wall at present is in a delicate state of health, but she perseveres in her duties. Her work is maintained by private contributions from friends in England, while her salary is paid by our mission.

Needs.

Our needs have been presented so often to our friends in America that I am almost ashamed to repeat them. They are both material and spiritual. In a material way, we need church buildings, including parsonages, and rooms for social work in the following places: Milan, Naples, Messina, Cagliari, Avellino, Isola del Liri, Gioia del Colle, Sampierdarena, Ferrara and Chiavari, the total cost of which, according to present prices and rate of exchange, would be about dollars 300,000.00 (three hundred thousand).

We also need about $25,000 for a building for girl orphans, who are at present housed in the independent Baptist Orphanage of Spezia. We also are badly in need of a boarding house to be located in some large center, where the children of our pastors who live in small centers may have an opportunity to complete their education.

Personalia.

After an absence of nearly ten years from America, my wife and I, with our son, Robert, of six years, made a brief visit of two months and ten days to our relatives in Virginia and Kentucky. The two older children remained in school in England. While in America, I had the pleasure of addressing the student body in the Seminary at Louisville, as well as speaking to a number of our churches in the South. During my absence, Mr. W. K. Landels, with four Italian pastors in Rome, had charge of the administration of the mission. I hereby acknowledge my indebtedness to them for their efficient help in a moment of difficulties.

ANNUAL REPORT

By Norman F. Williamson.

The Master's plan was to have men who had been with him and who were filled with the Holy Spirit to go forth and witness for him. The report which follows is largely about the men and the women, men and women just like yourselves, from your own numbers, who try to live with Jesus and in the power of the Holy Spirit are trying to witness for the Master in Japan.

TOKYO.

For the three months of 1923, we had six missionaries living in Tokyo: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. Collis Cunningham. On April the first, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke sailed for America on furlough. In the fall Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham came to Kokura to live; so at present, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman are the only members of our mission living in Tokyo. Fortunately Mr. and Mrs. Chapman and Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham were in Karuizawa on their vacation at the time of the earthquake and fire. The Chapman house, a rented house, was damaged but not burned; but the section of Tokyo in which the Cunninghams were living was completely destroyed by fire, so that Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham lost everything they possessed in Japan except the few things they had carried with them on their summer vacation. While the loss of mission residences, churches, schools and other property was heavy, it seems miraculous that of the large number of missionaries who live in Tokyo and Yokohama, only one missionary and two Y. W. C. A. secretaries lost their lives. Some missionaries were on their way to Tokyo when the earthquake occurred, and some had left Tokyo that morning and had just gotten out of danger when the crash came.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman went to Tokyo to attend the Language School, so are devoting most of their time to language study; but they find some time for other work. They both teach in the night school at the church and both of them have classes in their home. They are now occupying the mission residence which is located on the same lot with the church. Mrs. Chapman has Bible and Sewing Classes in the home. Mr. Chapman has a Bible Class for University Students. "There are thirty students enrolled in this class, five of whom have been baptized recently and one other, a Korean, is awaiting baptism. These students come from seven universities. The Christians of the class have been requested by the city authorities to care for the religious work in one of the large camps of refugees. They also brought a bit of Christmas cheer to the homeless children by the distribution of some toys which had been donated by a church in America." Another church in the homeland sent out $125.00 for relief work. The Tokyo church raised a like amount and Mrs. Chapman and the ladies of the church bought yarn and made 500 sweaters, which were distributed with gospel tracts to the homeless and aged refugees. Our Board has sent out the sum of 2,244.70 yen for repairs and relief work in Tokyo.

Tokyo is one of the great student centers of the world. There are thousands and tens of thousands of students in Tokyo. The Board has already granted money to build a dormitory for students, and when we have a man to spare for that work we intend to have one missionary giving his whole time to work among students in Tokyo.

Mr. J. H. Rowe is in charge of the work in Tokyo. Let me give you a few sentences from his write-up of our work there:

"During the year, our little church received 112 members by baptism, and from the end of the year becomes self-supporting.

"On account of the many duties connected with the work on the Kokura field, and on account of the distance from here to Tokyo, it has been impossible for me to do much to help in the work there. I have made two trips to Tokyo since the disaster on September the first and tried to help our native workers plan the work; but otherwise, Mr. Amano, the pastor, has looked after the work.

"I found when I was in Tokyo on the 27th of September, that the church had services every day since the earthquake. Even on the 2nd of September, when Tokyo and Yokohama were burning, they had services at our church with an attendance of eighteen. This was perhaps the only church in Tokyo in which services were held on that day. Not only have they been ministering to the spiritual needs of the people in the vicinity of the church, but they have done much to relieve the suffering since the disaster. Perhaps that is the most noticeable thing about the work of our church in Tokyo since the catastrophe: their combined efforts in trying to minister to both the physical and spiritual welfare of the people.

"During September, the two kindergartens connected with our work had to be closed on account of the disorganized condition in the city; but on the 1st of October they were opened up, and in December I found seventy bright boys and girls in one of these kindergartens and in the other one there were about forty students. I was told there were more applicants for entrance in the kindergarten adjoining the church than could be cared for."

HIROSHIMA-KURE.

Tokyo is our northern-most station. Our next northern-most field is Hiroshima-Kure. Mr. and Mrs. J. Franklin Ray are our only missionaries living on this field. I will let Mr. Ray tell of the most interesting things that have happened there during 1923:

"The greatest materal blessing which came to us as workers during the year 1923, and over which we most greatly rejoice, was the completion of our mission residence in Hiroshima. We are profoundly thankful to God and to our fellowworkers in the homeland for this permanent equipment which gives us a far better base for building up the interests of the cause in this large city of over 160,000 people.

"I write next, in humble gratitude to the Lord of the harvest, of the greatest spiritual blessing which has been given to us during the past few months. Our little band of Christians both at Hiroshima and Kure have been much encouraged by the large in-gathering of new members and by the revival of interest which has followed the special meetings held since last September. We had thirty baptisms at Hiroshima and fifty at Kure during the year. Sixty-eight of this number came as the direct or indirect result of the special meetings in which we were led by Evangelist Kanamori.

"More than one hundred children have received instruction in our Sunday schools, many women's meetings have been held, thousands of tracts have been distributed, a circulating library of Christian literature has been operated, young men's and young women's Bible classes have been conducted, and altogether not less than twenty-five hundred people have been given a chance to hear the gospel from our two pulpits through the native pastors, missionary worker and lay members at our regular and special services during the year. But 'what are these among so many' tens of thousands of unbelievers?

"The Hiroshima church has one young woman in training for Christian work. We dare to hope that one or two of our young men students will soon be ready to begin their training for evangelistic work."

SHIMONOSEKI-CHOFU.

Shimonoseki is the home of the senior members of our mission and their daughter: Dr. and Mrs. E. N. Walne and Miss Florence Walne. Dr. and Mrs. Walne are in charge of the evangelistic work on this field and also have the management of the publication work. Miss Florence Walne has special responsibility for the work in Chofu and is also at work on the language. Miss Mary Walters and Miss Phebe Lawton are making their home with Dr. and Mrs. Walne. Miss Walters arrived in Japan in September, 1923, and is to do secretarial work in the Publishing House. She is now studying the language and teaching in the Shimonoseki Sunday school. Miss Lawton, who arrived at the same time with Miss Walters, is also studying the language and teaching in the Moji Sunday school. Miss Florence Walne has written a report of the evangelistic work on this field:

"So mightily has God wrought in the Shimonoseki Baptist Church, particularly during the closing months of the old year, that Dr. Walne has been heard to remark that never before in all of his thirty-odd years' experience in mission work has he witnessed anything like the transformation which has been brought to pass. Whereas a year ago we had here a struggling little church community, at the present writing we behold a wideawake, deeply earnest, prayerful working band of Christians, with numbers greatly increased, and fired by a zeal which is already burning its way into the consciousness of people who, as far as Christianity is concerned, are ignorant, indifferent and unbelieving."

The next paragraph begins: "It will surely be of interest to follow step by step this change as it took place here." The writer of this report wishes he could give all of the paragraphs which follow, but space forbids—can only mention those steps: First, the coming of the new pastor; second, the Kanamori meetings of last September; third, the coming in November of a Kobe preacher by the name of Aoki, a highly educated Japanese, graduated from Princeton, who is known as a deeply consecrated, very devout man of God, with a strangely compelling belief in the necessity and efficacy of prayer in the Christian life; fourth, the visit of Rev. and Mrs. W. Y. Quisenberry, "who tarried with us for a too brief but blessed interval, and of whom the Japanese here still speak with grateful appreciation"; fifth, the visit of Miss Kathleen Mallory, "another visitor from the homeland, who brought rich blessings and much joy to all of us"; sixth, the "early morning prayer meeting," 6 a.m.

"Thirty-five men and women have been baptized into the church since last September. These in turn have brought in fifty-five inquirers, and there are just now ten who are awaiting baptism. Among these new Christians are some whose stories are gripping in their interest. To relate just a few of these:

"There is, for instance, Saiki San, the little sewing teacher in the Buddbist Girls' School here, who lost her place in the school and with it, temporarily, her means of livelihood, when she openly became a Christian. With no relatives here and no means of support, her situation was in danger of becoming needy. With nothing in her heart but joy at being able to sacrifice so much for her crucified Lord, she, while for the time being finding shelter beneath the roof of one of the deacons, is blessing every life with which she comes in contact. The deacon who 'took her in' is rejoicing over her influence in his home, already she is giving new strength and purpose to his wayward and frivolous little wife, and sweetening the manners of his badly spoiled children. Saiki San wants to spend herself in evangelistic work, and we are hoping that means of support will be found for her so that this wish of hers may be realized.

"Then there is Muronaka San, who has probably suffered more real persecution than any one of this new band, for his father belongs to the Inari sect of Shinto—Inari being the god of rice, and this sect representing the most degraded form of Shinto worship, characterized by an almost fanatical fervor. There is also an element of so-called spiritualism in this belief, and as this boy's father happens to be what we would call a medium—the Japanese would say he was 'possessed by a fox'—he is, of course, most zealous, and threatened to disown this nineteen-year-old son of his who dared to embrace Christianity. The boy, however, refusing to leave the home in which he felt he had every right to live, has endured very real persecution as a consequence. Needless to say, he is one of the most earnest and faithful of the band, for 'tis such endurance that makes men strong.

"The Chofu church was founded in 1886, and stands today in the very shadow of a gigantic Shinto shrine which looms across the way and gives the street its name, and next door to a place of worship belonging to the Tenrikyo sect of Shinto, a sect which has borrowed much in recent years from the Christian teaching which it professes to despise. The date set for the Kanamori meetings found Chofu in the throes of a typhoid fever epidemic which badly handicapped the efforts of our people to aid in bringing about a truly great revival. The attendance at the meeting was necessarily small, but thirty people made confessions of faith, and of these eight have been received into the church, the others hoping to follow soon.

"The fact that the majority of this number was composed of young people, students in the schools lead me to speak of the extremely attractive avenue of work which God has opened up for us in this locality. Through the work of the Sunday school we are able to draw to the services of the church many of these students of high school age, coming from both the girls' and boys' schools, and the pastor has the unique privilege of speaking to congregations in which this element is so predominant that it is scarcely worthwhile to consider any other. Among the boys, especially, we have made fine progress."

THE KOKURA FIELD.

On this field live Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rowe, Miss Cecile Lancaster, Miss Naomi Schell, Mr. and Mrs. Collis Cunningham and "Miss Christine." Now "Miss Christine" is the charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham. Miss Christine arrived the 31st of last May.

The writer of this report is asking Mr. Rowe to report on the Kokura Field because he is in charge of that field, and I am asking Mrs. Rowe to report on our Girls' School, because she is the president of the school.

"The Kokura or North Kyushu field is made up of six churches, located in Kokura, Yawata, Moji, Wakamatsu, Itozu and Iizuka: one preaching place at Tobata, where we have preaching once every Sunday; twelve Sunday schools. two kindergartens and one Girls' High School. I will attempt to write briefly only of the work in the churches and Sunday schools.

"During 1923 we opened three new Sunday schools and started preaching services in one place. There are two or three places where we would like to open Sunday schools in the near future, also several places where we are anxious to start preaching services right away. Only yesterday there came a special request for me to teach the Bible once a week at a large dormitory connected with a coal mine near here. If we only had the workers and the funds we could double the Sunday schools and churches on this field. The most serious handicap we have had to face during the past year has been the scarcity of workers, and at the beginning of the new year this condition is much more serious than during 1923.

"At the beginning of 1923, we had five native workers on this field, but in August this number was reduced to four by the going of Pastor Kuroda of Yawata to Shimonoseki. Again, just at the end of the year, this number was reduced to three by the death of Pastor Sato of Moji. This shortage of workers has come at a time when the opportunity for work is greater. There are more inquirers earnestly seeking the way than at any time since Southern Baptists started work in Japan. During the past three months, more than 1,000 people have come inquiring the Way and requesting baptism. The Master has heard our prayers and has sent us a real revival, but on account of the scarcity of workers we are unable to reap the wonderful harvest. Surely this is a time when we should lift our hearts in prayer to the Lord of the harvest that he will thrust forth laborers into this great field white unto harvest.

"The result of the evangelistic campaign on this field in October conducted by Mr. Kanamori has exceeded our fondest hopes. During the twenty days he was with us in our six churches, we had more than 800 to decide for Christ. More than 120 have already been baptized and there are many more to follow

"During the year we have had 165 baptisms on this North Kyushu field. We render thanksgiving for the wonderful blessings of the past year and pray for eve. greater blessings for 1924."

Our Girls' School. (Seinan Jo Gakuin.) Mrs. J. H. Rowe. President.

"It was a delight to take up again the work that we had left just one year before for a year of rest in the homeland.

"During our furlough, Mrs. G. W. Bouldin had charge of the Seinan Jo Gakuin, and with her consecration, ability and untiring efforts, she had wonderfully developed the school.

"In the spring of 1922, we began our girls' school with three buildings—two dormitories and a gymnasium, using one dormitory for class rooms, expecting to be granted our class-room building by the spring of 1923; but because of the financial condition of the Foreign Mission Board, this grant was made impossible, and instead of going forward as we had anticipated, we were forced to cut down our number of pupils. Instead of taking in three classes of first year girls, we were able to accommodate only two classes, thus cutting down our number of girls very much. We were only able to take in these new classes by considerable inconvenience to all concerned. It was made possible by using the living room and study in the mission residence and the dining room and two bed rooms in the one remaining dormitory—thus using every available space possible.

"These inconveniences were gladly borne by all with a hope for better quarters from the spring of 1924. Again we have had to face the same disappointment. The Foreign Mission Board has been forced to say "No" to our urgent appeal for a classroom building because the 75 Million Campaign pledges have not been paid.

"I believe if I might bring all of our Southern Baptists to this mountain top, where your only school for the Christian education of girls in Japan is located, and here let you look out upon 1,000,000 souls, within forty minutes' ride on the street car from this school, that might be reached through this institution, you would rally to the Macedonian cry and come with your means to face the great opportunities for soul winning that are yours today.

"Will you come again with me to the mountain top and there meet with your 164 bright, happy first and second year high school girls? Hear their clear voices as they sing and read the gospel messages. Think of it! 130 out of our 164 girls have signed cards signifying their desire to be baptized. Out of this number 42 have been received into the church."

KOKURA AND YAWATA KINDERGARTENS.

Mrs. J. H. Rowe.

"One of the most important Christian works in Japan is the kindergarten. It is one of the most effective means of reaching the non-Christian homes.

"The Kokura kindergarten is nearly five years old. It has done splendid work. The circle room is in the same building with the church, thus making it possible to keep the kindergarten work closely connected with the church,

Nearly every kindergarten child attends Sunday school regularly. A majority of the kindergarten children bring older brothers and sisters with them to Sunday school. There is an enrollment of forty-four children, giving us an opportunity of reaching forty-four homes.

"Yawata is our younger kindergarten. Because of the lack of funds to run this kindergarten we have not, until the beginning of this year, been able to secure the help of an experienced kindergarten teacher. This kindergarten has an enrollment of twenty-four. It is in the same building with the church and is doing good work."

FUKUOKA.

Fukuoka is the location of Seinan Gakuin (Willingham Memorial School for Boys). We own more buildings here and have more missionaries living here than at any other place in Japan. Fukuoka is the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Dozier, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bouldin, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe C. Smith and Roscoe, Junior (Roscoe, Junior, reached Karuizawa, Japan, on July 24, 1923), Miss Effie Baker, Miss Florence Conrad and Miss Frances Fulghum. Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Nix also lived in Fukuoka while they were in Japan. Miss Ruth Carol Nix, the attractive young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nix, made her home in Tokyo from April 26, 1923, until June, when her parents went home on account of Mr. Nix's health. We are glad to report that Mr. Nix left the sanatorium last fall and they hope to return to Japan if that be God's will for them.

SEINAN GAKUIN. (Willingham Memorial School for Boys.)

Mr. C. K. Dozier, President.

"This is the best year we have had at Willingham Memorial School for Boys. At the beginning of the year we had a black cloud hanging over the school because of dissatisfaction with our dean in the middle school department; but this cloud lifted by the first of April and we have had the most successful year the school has yet had.

"In April, out of nearly three hundred boys who applied for admittance into the middle school, we took in only two classes of fifty each. There were two reasons for this. One was, we wish to keep the school within the limit of four hundred students, and the other was that we are not able to get qualified Christian teachers. At the first of April there were four hundred and fifteen boys in this department in spite of our limiting the number to be admitted. This year we have refused to admit boys coming from other schools wishing to enter our school. Usually they have failed in their work or have been requested to leave other schools, so they are not desirable students. We did admit, however, boys whose parents have moved here from other towns or cities and for financial reasons wished to have their boys at home.

"In the college department, we admitted eighty-odd young men out of about one hundred and twenty applying. We have entrance examinations in both departments. At the end of December we had three hundred and seventy-five boys in the middle school department and one hundred and thirty-eight in the college department.

"We are very happy over the opening of the Theological Department, as this is the one department we hope to see grow above all others. We wish the middle and college departments to be feeders to this department.

"We now have a staff of forty teachers and over five hundred students in the school.

"Some improvements have been made on the grounds, but many things that we had hoped for have had to be put off because of the condition of the finances of our Board.

"Religiously, this has been our best year. We have had several visitors from the homeland who have given us inspiring messages. Also have we had some prominent Japanese visitors. Among the latter were Rev. K. Takemoto, Rev. Kagawa, Rev. Kimura, and Paul M. Kanamori, the evangelist. The very mention of these names in Japan means revival. All brought our students spiritual messages. As a result of these meetings, eighty-odd boys signed cards saying they would accept Christ. Of this number, already forty-nine boys have been received into the membership of the churches, we know. How many have joined churches of other denominations, we do not as yet know. Thirty-five have been received into our church, which is held in the school building. The Gethsemane Band has taken on new life and is doing a good work. Bible classes, as usual, have been held in the dormitories in addition to the Bible in the regular course.

"We have not succeeded in getting a dean for the middle school as yet. It is hard to find the right kind of man in our denomination. I have been acting as dean since April. We are greatly in need of more teachers to help with the English department, so that we can give our time to evangelistic work with the students. Surely there are some young men or women who are willing to give their lives to teaching English for the sake of Jesus Christ. They can also be of great service in touching the boys for Christ"

The Theological Department of Seinan Gakuin. Mr. G. W. Bouldin, Dean.

"It is no doubt a fairly well-known story: our efforts at training a native ministry in Japan. In 1907, the Fukuoka Seminary was started, and the writer was connected with it from the autumn of 1908. At the head of this school was our ablest Japanese leader. This brother had once worked with the Northern Baptists and it was not possible at that time, it seemed, for our Northern brethren to give their consent for things to go on as they had started. There was continual agitation for union between the two Baptist mission bodies, especially in theological education, and the propaganda finally succeeded and the union was consummated in the autumn of 1910. The majority of the students that were in the Fukuoka school went to Tokyo to attend the union school, which was called the Japan Baptist Theological Seminary.

"This union work was continued for eight years. The work on the inside was pleasant and satisfactory enough, but whether it was because the school was so far from the center of the Southern mission's field; or whether it was because the Southern mission had no preparatory school to prepare men for the Seminary; or whether there was lack of enthusiasm among our Southern churches and workers; or whether the desire of the Northern brethren for more co-operation with others than Baptists chilled the enthusiasm of our Southern people; whether it was for one or all of these causes, the number of students in the Seminary from the South gradually decreased until it became clear that that was not the way to supply the need of preachers in our field. And, therefore, in the summer of 1918 the union was dissolved by common consent.

"We knew from the beginning that union would be, at least for a while, accomplished at a sacrifice to our evangelistic work; but we were idealistic enough to think that what was best for the cause as a whole would ultimately be best for all.

"Thus it has been that we have arrived at our present position. It is almost an axiom on the mission field that to achieve lasting results there must be adequate educational work. But a mission can have this only in one of two ways: (1) Co-operate with other bodies, or (2) have a complete educational program of its own. Probably none in our mission ever desired the former, and it was not until about the time the 75 Million Campaign was launched that the latter seemed possible.

"After so many years of waiting for our Boys' School to 'grow up,' in April, 1923, we really began our own theological work once more. We have built over once again the building that was erected for the Seminary in Fukuoka in 1908. We have as teachers Mr. Dozier, Mr. Smith, Dr. Ono and the writer. We have two boys in the first year of the Full Course, that is, they have had two years of college work and are starting in for three full years of regular theological work. We have three boys in the college, first and second years, who are approved for the miristry, as well as others who have practically made up their minds to be preachers.

"In what has seemed clear Providential leading, we have opened work in a mining district called Shin-Shime, a few miles out of Fukuoka City. Mr. Smith and two of the Seminary students go out there every Sunday afternoon and conduct Sunday school and meetings for grown-up people. Already some of our students who live in that district have been baptized, and a small group of Christians meets every Sunday for worship and instruction. This is a town of several thousands of people and one cannot but be moved to see their hunger for spiritual things, while the physical conditions in which most of them are living arouse our anger as well as our pity. The average family lives in a room 9x9 feet and these dwellings (?) are in long rows, with only a narrow muddy road between the rows of buildings. We were told that in some cases as many as ten people live in a room nine by nine."

The Young Ladies.

Miss Florence Conrad and Miss Effie Baker live in the Bouldin home and teach in our Boys' School. For two years their first duty has been the study of the language and they are still studying it. But they have found time for Bible classes, Sunday-school classes, a literary society, and personal work in various ways. Miss Conrad had to go to Peking last fall for an operation; but we are most happy to report that she is well again and is going on with her language study and teaching in the school.

A Sunday School on Saturday Afternoon!

"I should not forget to speak of the Jigyo Sunday school, or rather Saturday school, which has been continued in the home of Prof. and Mrs. Furusawa at Jigyo. They have a school of about sixty or seventy boys and girls to whom they teach the Sunday-school lesson every Saturday. They had a nice Christmas entertainment in which the children took part and did well. Some one may ask why have the Sunday school on Saturday? Simply because so many Sundays have their interruptions. This district has many of the better class of people who work in offices which close on Sunday and they take their families and go off for Sunday to see the flowers or on excursions, and Saturdays are free for the children."

B. Y. P. U. and W. M. U. Mrs. C. K. Dozier.

"Last May we organized a B. Y. P. U. in our Seinan Gakuin Church. Today we have forty-eight members and shall organize another union this month. We use the B. Y. P. U. Quarterly of our Southern Baptist Convention as the basis of most of our programs. Our hearts are delighted with the talks that the boys and young men make. They are really doing fine work. We believe that this union wll be a training center for many other similar organizations in our Baptist work: for after four years of training here our students will go out to be a mighty power in the churches. Our young Christians are hungering for the truth. We need more missionaries to help train them.

"On October 2nd to 4th, the fourth annual meeting of our Women's Missionary Union met in Yawata. Before this meeting there were some who were not pleased with the work of the Union. All had not been smooth sailing in Japan any more than it was in America thirty years ago. But this was our best, our very best meeting. Joy and contentment seemed to fill all hearts. We had Miss Mallory with us and you know that she spells SUCCESS with very big letters. She gave four splendid addresses that stirred our women and gave them a vision that they had never had before. What a blessing He made her to us! Surely He sent her to us when we needed her most. The attendance was not as large as it was the first session. The reports from the seventeen societies showed that our women are developing the societies along spiritual lines and the spirit of giving is gradually growing. Bible study has been especially emphasized during the past year.

"Imagine the joy that filled our hearts when Miss Mallory gave the tuition of a girl and a boy for five and four years respectively in our Girls' School in Kokura and our Boys' School in Fukuoka. This gift is to be perpetuated by the Union. How happy the women were to think that they were beginning in this beautiful way to do this work for the Master. The magazine was enthusiastically voted to be supported by subscriptions from the societies. When the expenses of this meeting were being added up we found that almost the entire expense had been met by the societies. Only twenty-five dollars were needed from the mission, whereas before the mission had to finance the meeting in order to get the women to come to learn of the importance of woman's work for the Master. All of this was accomplished at one meeting, in spite of the fact that the Executive Committee expected only a part of this to be undertaken for our next year's work. Surely God is leading."

Maizuru Kindergarten. Miss Frances Fulghum.

"Maizuru Kindergarten is now just past its tenth birthday and the faculty and Mothers' Club together are planning a Grand Rally of all the graduates who can possibly come and spend one sunshiny day this spring together on our play ground. The purpose of this rally is twofold: First, to encourage every graduate to continue the Bible study and Sunday-school habit which he began while a student in our Christian kindergarten; and second, to start a pledge fund to help toward a real home building fund for the kindergarten, which has never had an adequate building and playground for such a wide enterprise. This year's story hour, boys and girls will give a Good Health Pageant and a pamphlet of systematic daily Bible reading will be furnished each graduate.

"Owing to the present inconvenient location of our little building the attendance averages only half of previous years, but from the new term, April, 1924, the present outlook promises a great increase in new students. At present the baby class is the largest of all, numbering almost thirty children, and the teacher is very much like the "Little Old Woman who lived in a shoe," because the little classroom is too small and there is nowhere else to go. So you see we do need a new kindergarten home. The Mothers' Bible Class, the Big Sisters' Crochet Class, the Girls' Bible Class and the Royal Ambassador Club, all features of the kindergarten work, as well as the weekly story hour, are all proving to be a blessing to many homes. The mothers are constantly asking for Bible helps and Christian literature to read.

Nagasaki-Sasebo.

Nagasaki is 878 miles by rail from Tokyo. That gives you some idea of how your missionaries are scattered over the southern half of Japan. Nagasaki and Sasebo constitute the field in charge of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mills. The report sent in by Mr. Mills begins with thanksgiving and ends with rejoicing.

"Nagasaki and Sasebo churches have had a most successful year, for which we gratefully thank our heavenly Father. During the year there were twenty-eight baptisms in Nagasaki and twenty-one baptims at Sasebo."

Rev. Goto and Rev. Ozaki are the two pastors on this field. Both of them are doing good work; but Pastor Goto of Sasebo is one of our oldest pastors, and he will soon have to give up the work. Pastor Ozaki is beginning his sixth year in Nagasaki and is loved by all his members.

"Sasebo Church has sent one student to the Seminary and Nagasaki one. Of the recent converts, a teacher in the public schools at each place has told the missionary of his desire to enter the Seminary. These two men are fine material for evangelists.

"At the missionary home regular Tuesday night gospel meetings have been held weekly, followed by a question hour. Many Bible classes for men and students have met every week. From these meetings and classes earnest inquirers have developed who now attend church and several have been baptized.

"Mrs. Mills has helped in the work with the women of both churches and has a Sunday school and Bible classes for high school girls at the mission residence."

Kumamoto-Omuta-Kagoshima.

"W" comes near the end of the roll always, so "The Williamsons" finish up this roll-call. Kumamoto is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman F. Williamson, and of Norman, Junior, whose first birthday was the 4th of last August.

The following is a story that has been told several years: Mr. P. P. Medling, who was in charge of the Kagoshima field, died December 31, 1919. His place has been vacant until now and is still vacant. We have no one to take his place there. The pastor of the Kagoshima Church and the Christians there are constantly asking that we send them a missionary, but there is no one to send. Will not some one in the homeland say: "Here am I, send me"? Because we have no one to locate there, the missionary in Kumamoto is asked to look after this field, even though he lives over a hundred miles away.

The outstanding event of the year in the above-named places was the Kanamori meetings. There have been forty-two baptisms since the special meetings. There were only fourteen baptisms during the year before the special meetings. There are others who have made their confessions of faith and will be baptized later.

The long-standing need on this field is for more pastors. Omuta has not had a resident pastor for nearly three years. Kumamoto has had no pastor at all for nearly a year. And a worker is wanted for Tarumizu, an out-station on the Kagoshima field. Of course services have been held every Sunday at the Kumamoto Church since our pastor was called to Chofu, and since the pastor left there have been thirty-two baptisms; still we want a pastor, need a pastor and are praying for a pastor.

"A Call to Those Who Pray."

The year of 1923 saw more baptisms in our churches than any previous year in our work in Japan. During the year there were 558 baptisms. Most of these came after the Kanamori meetings; but many of them had been attending churches and Bible classes for months and years. The special meetings were a time of gathering the fruits of the labors of the missionaries and pastors and Sunday-school teachers and other workers for the last thirty years. Some of these new converts are meeting with opposition and persecution. One young lady in Kumamoto was baptized without the consent of her parents. They let her attend church for a few times and then forbade her going to church, Sunday school, prayer meeting, Y. W. A., or even to come to the missionary's home. She has requested that none of the Christians call on her or even send her a letter. Imagine that opposition from your mother and father. We are praying for her that her faith fail not. We want you to pray for her and all of the other new Christians for all of them need your prayers. In order to make your praying more definite, as you pray remember there are 112 new Christians in Tokyo; eighty in Hiroshima-Kure; forty-three in Shimonoseki-Chofu; 165 on the Kokura field; sixty-eight on the Fukuoka field; forty-eight in Nagasaki-Sasebo: forty-one in Kumamoto-Omuta-Kagoshima. This is no idle request! We mean it! Please pray!

The Rev. Paul M. Kanamori and His Meetings.

About fifty years ago, while attending school in Kumamoto, Paul M. Kanamori became a Christian. He was one of the famous Kumamoto Band—a group of students who covenanted together to give their lives to preaching the gospel in Japan. Mr. Kanamori was kept like a prisoner for three months in his home. He was ordered to give up Christianity. When he refused to do so he was turned out and driven away with nothing but the thin summer "kimono" he was wearing. It is a long, interesting story how he worked his way through school and seminary and began preaching on a salary of seven yen (3.50) a month. Today he is one of Japan's greatest evangelists,

In preparation for his meetings much advertising was done. Hand-bills were distributed by the thousands, some places using as many as fifty or sixty or seventy thousand hand-bills; many posters were used and big notices were put in public places. Then there were prayer-meetings, the early morning prayer-meeting being very popular.

Then Mr. Kanamori preached the same sermon every night. Instead of changing his sermon, he changes his congregation: there is the same sermon every night but a different congregation. At the close of the sermon everybody is given a book written by Mr. Kanamori. This book is a part of his sermon and the book is called "The Way to Faith." In the book is a card and a pencil. On the card is a place for one's name and address and the signing of the card means that one wants to become a Christian. In most places the sermon is preached for three nights, and on the fourth all those who have signed the cards are asked to meet and they are further instructed. Then Mr. Kanamori goes on to the next place, and work begins for the pastor, the missionary in charge, and the local Christians, for these cards are left with the pastor or missionary and the follow-up work begins; and it is still going on, for during the fall over 2,000 of these cards were signed.

Publication Work. Dr. E. N. Walne.

"Owing to the centralization of printing and publication interests in Tokyo and Yokohama, Japanese Christian literature was, for the time being, practically wiped out by the disastrous earthquake and fire, which on September first, destroyed these two cities. This destruction involved not only existing stocks of literature and the concerns which distributed it, but also the printing plants which produced it and the workmen who operated them. Undoubtedly the greatest loss inflicted on the Christian movement in Japan by the earthquake was the total destruction of the Fukuin Printing Company, with nearly one hundred of its employes. This company, organized and managed by Japanese Christian men, has for many years printed practically all the Scriptures and hymn books in general use, and most of the Christian literature published in Japan during the past thirty years. The destruction of its plant involved the total loss of all printing plates of most of the Christian books of the Empire, and, since the earthquake, a veritable famine of Bibles and Christian literature has prevailed and must continue until the plates can be reproduced.

Since all of our plates were stored with the Fukuin Company, our loss was very heavy, but we were fortunate in that our stock of books escaped. The plates also would have been saved, had the earthquake occurred a few weeks later. For the safe storage of these plates, we had just completed the construction of a fire-proof vault on our compound in Shimonoseki and were waiting for it to dry out enough to be used.

"After the earthquake it was found that we had practically the only stock of Christian books left in the Empire. While this stock was small, it was very complete and a number of publishers were able to obtain from us, for republication, copies of their own books.

"We were also fortunate in that we had had delivery of large editions of our own tracts and books during the spring and summer.

"Among the new publications issued during the year were the following: 'Studies in the New Testament,' by Dr. A. T. Robertson; 'Christianity and the Social Crisis,' by Dr. Walter Rauschenbusch; 'The Great Poets and Their Theology,' by Dr. A. H. Strong. A new edition of one million copies of the "Fundamental Truth Series" of tracts was also delivered to us a few weeks before the earthquake, making the third million published of this popular series. We were also fortunate in being able to publish recently a translation of an address on 'Why Baptism is a Burial,' delivered by Dr. W. O. Carver to the last session of our General Association.

"We have also about completed preparation for the extensive use of stereopticon slides and moving pictures, as a new department of our work. We have some sixty sets of slides, covering the entire Bible, and such stories as 'Ben Hur,' 'The Other Wise Man' and 'Pilgrim's Progress,' for which lectures have been prepared. To be used in connection with these we have secured a few good moving pictures on Biblical subjects.

"Our sales for the year include 3,651 books, 1,050 Bibles, 434 hymn books, and 44,075 tracts. Sales would have been much larger but for the fact we were unable to replenish stocks after the earthquake."

Our Visitors.

This report would not be complete without a word about our visitors. Nineteen hundred and twenty-three is a banner year for visitors. During the year we had Dr. W. O. Carver, Miss Kathleen Mallory, Dr. Paul V. Bomar and family and Rev. and Mrs. W. Y. Quisenberry. And just how much we enjoyed seeing these dear friends you people who live in America will never, never know. In order to know that, you would have to live on the mission field five, six or seven years and then have some one whom you love to come from America and visit you. Then you would understand. Since so many of us had been his students, pernaps Dr. Carver was known personally by more members of the mission than any of the other visitors. He was with us in March at our annual meeting of the pastors and Christians; then he was with us and spoke every day during the annual mission meeting in August. Truly he was a joy, a blessing and an inspiration. The other visitors were not seen by all of the members of the mission, but they were enjoyed by those who were fortunate enough to see them.

PALESTINE AND SYRIAN MISSION

MISSIONARIES

JERUSALEM--Jas. W. Watts, Mrs. Watts.

ANNUAL REPORT By Mrs. J. Wash. Watts.

March 6, 1923, was a momentous day in the lives of us four Southern Baptists who that day landed at Jaffa, for we had come as a fulfillment of the long-deferred hopes of faithful native workers to lay the foundation for a Baptist program in Palestine and Syria. There was a trembling in our hearts, for we were young and inexperienced, and from the beginning the problems were many and tangled, but there was also a joy within because the Master had led us here and given the promise of His guidance and His strength and His wisdom. Thus we arrived at Jerusalem, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Pearson, of Alabama, and Mr. Watts and I with our baby boy, of South Carolina.

Policies for Work.

As is the case with all new missionaries, the one big task immediately before us was—and is—language study. Sometimes when Arabic seems absolutely "unreadable" and "unspeakable," a body is inclined to leave it and try one of the other thirty-nine languages spoken in this tiny country. But the temptation soon passes, as any other we might choose would be just as hard and much less useful, as Arabic and Hebrew are the two languages most generally used. So we plod on, reading and writing and talking backward, getting a good bit of pleasure out of it as we go, but longing for the day when we can understand and be understood.

Aside from this one of our personal preparation, has been the settlement of the main policies for our work in this field. Naturally such a question has required most careful study of the land, its people, its possibilities, and of other missions working here. Only one question has been settled, and that is the one concerning the location of headquarters. As we were sent to Jerusalem, a presumption was created in its favor. However, the question has been studied open-mindedly. It has been definitely decided that Jerusalem shall remain the center of our work, but this decision has followed upon careful consideration of various possibilities, and seems, after all, to be the result of a trend of events in which no human hand had the controlling influence.

This is the one question that has been settled, but we have in our minds and hearts a further plan for work for which we hope to see the beginning in the near future. That is, that a special program for work in Galilee be undertaken, centering in Haifa. Here is the greatest opening for evangelism offered by the whole country. The thousands of Moslems and nominal Christians throughout the villages of that whole section have been practically untouched by other evangelistic missions. Moreover, Galilee has a prospect of greater conomical development than any other part of Palestine. Haifa will probably become the important port of Palestine, because of the project now under way to build there the one good harbor of this coast.

Places for Work.

But while we wait for the men and means for such a program, we can devote our strength to the few places where we can labor now to establish ourselves more firmly, so as to make them centers from which our influence may radiate. Well-established stations at Rasheya in Syria and Nazareth in Galilee were turned over to our Foreign Mission Board in 1920 by the Baptists of Southern Illinois, who by that time had united with our convention.

Rasheya.

In June 1904, under the direction and support of our Illinois brethren, a Baptist church was organized at Rasheya, a small town on the northwest slope of Mt. Hermon. In 1910 a school for girls was opened and the next year one for the boys was provided. These have become the best schools of the town and, as such, are patronized by the most substantial people, irrespective of religious beliefs. The enrollment for last year was 157.

A few miles from Rasheya is the village of Kebr Mishkey, where is another small church and school organized in 1908 by Mr. David, the native pastor and organizer of the church at Rasheya. Since his death, his brother has carried on the work at both places.

Nine were converted and baptized in these two stations during the past year, in spite of severe opposition of the Greek Orthodox church, to which most of the inhabitants belong. During the last week of the year evangelistic meetings were held in both churches. At every service the small buildings were crowded, many people standing for three hours, and all pleading for more such meetings.

Beirut.

In the great Presbyterian center of Beirut is a small group of Baptists who wish to co-operate with us. There was quite a large number before the war, but death claimed many and others emigrated, so that now there are only eighteen, three of them having been baptized during the past year. They are earnest, staunch Baptists, led by a well-educated young man who was ordained a good many years ago, but is now practicing law.

Nazareth.

In the spring of 1911 a work was begun by the Illinois Baptists at Safed, "the city set upon a hill," far to the north in Galilee. Two were baptized there, the first of whom has since graduated from our Southwestern Seminary and is working here with us in Jerusalem. In October of that same year it was thought best to move the workers from Safed to Nazareth. During the years since then the little Baptist church there has very slowly but steadily grown. In 1923 four were baptized and others are seriously considering the matter. There is a wonderful opportunity here for work among the women and children. Mrs. Mosa, the wife of the native pastor, has a most interesting group at her weekly woman's meeting. Last year the average attendance was eighty-five. And at the Sunday-school hour the little chapel is actually running over with boys and girls, all of them under thirteen years of age. They are bright, eager and interested, even though the school is in charge of workers who have had no opportunity to study modern Sunday-school methods. There are only two teachers one for the boys and one for the girls, and the enrollment for last year was 150 boys and seventy-five girls—and most of them attend regularly!

Jerusalem.

In October the hearts of all of us here were deeply grieved when Dr. and Mrs. Pearson were forced to return to the States because of the ill health of Mrs. Pearson. We were heavily burdened for the work just then, but days full of numerous duties and rare opportunities have brought new courage, so that we look forward joyfully to the New Year.

We are in touch with both Arabic and Jewish peoples here in Jerusalem. Our link with the Arabic element is Mr. Hanna, that first convert at Safed, who is striving particularly to reach out after the young people. Among the Hebrews, there is a most inviting prospect for work during the coming years. In August the Lord brought to us a fine young Hebrew Christian full of the joy he had only recently found in Christ and afire with a desire to win others of his own people. During the few months since then he has proved himself to be a most earnest and tactful worker. He has been instrumental in leading two young Jews to conversion and baptism—both of them very earnest in their convictions and happy in their faith. He has also drawn into his friendship many of the prominent young Jews of the city who meet with him constantly in his home to seriously and earnestly talk of the Messiahship of Jesus. And many are showing a deeply sympathetic attitude toward Christianity. We trust that many of them during 1924 will find peace in the acceptance of their Messiah.

SIBERIAN MISSION

For three years the Foreign Mission Board has been conducting a pioneer mission work in Siberia. During most of that time the Board has supported three native workers. One of our workers is located at Chita, the capital of the province of Transbaikalia. In this city is our largest church, which now has fifty-six members. We have still another organized church with forty-eight members.

Opposition to evangelistic work arose in Siberia last year and our workers had to leave the country. They took refuge in Manchuria. There is a great refugee Russian population in Harbin, Manchuria. Amongst these refugees our workers labored very earnestly with gratifying results. The situation in Siberia is better now, and the work is approaching normal conditions.

Brother J. J. Vince, who is supported by the German Baptists of America, has kindly served us in distributing funds to these three workers. We quote here some comments on our work written by Brother Vince:

"We pray the Lord that He will reward you and all beloved brethren and sisters in the south, which lend a willing hand to the poor Russian people, in this their so dark and terrible day. Praise the Lord that during these two and a half years' time through the labor of the brethren supported by your Board, more than 500 new converted men and women have been added to the church by baptism.

"First of all let me say something about our evangelist, P. I. Vinogradoff. Our church at Chita, in connection with which he is working, decided to ordain Brother Vinogradoff as their minister. Since in the whole Transbaikal province there is no brother who is authorized to ordain others, I was invited to go to Manchuria in order to meet there Brother Vinogradoff and complete this matter. According to the resolution of our Far East Baptist Union Mission Board, I went to Manchuria, where on the 28th of October in our congregation, which is supported by our German Baptist Churches of America, the ordination took place, in the presence of a multitude of eagerly listening people.

"In the colloquies which I had with Brother Vinogradoff I learned some news about our work in Transbaikalia. For instance, our church at Chita, which lately passed through many disappointments, at last has secured their registration at the Provincial Committee. Now the main meeting hall is reopened to the happiness of all the believers there. This is due to a certain extent to the energetic and fearless activity of Brother Vinogradoff. Praise the Lord that the cloudy and distressful months for the congregation at Chita are over and that the sun of happiness is shining again to the delightfulness of all the children of God in that province.

"Let me tell you one thing more. According to the latest decree from Moscow, no religious commune is allowed to have prayer meetings in private houses. Every congregation ought to have a separate lodgment for their meetings. This circumstance makes it very hard for the most of our little groups of believers, spread over the whole country, to continue their activity, because no one of them has a church or a chapel or a special hall provided.

"Concerning the work of Brother I. Z. Osipoff at Nachalovka, I may say that such is going forward. The congregation had a few months ago some unpleasantness with the representatives of the Swedish American Missionary Society, who came to Harbin from Vladivostok in the early spring this year, but now this matter is solved. Swedish representatives are working now separately.

"The conditions for missionary enterprises here in Harbin are much different from what they are in Siberia. Therefore, it is necessary for Brother Osipoff's church, which has fifty members, to have a better and a larger meeting hall, with a basin for baptism. On the 7th of October Brother Osipoff baptized two persons and other five are waiting for baptism, but the cold season makes it impossible to baptize them now. No doubt that many of the 150,000 Russians, which live at Harbin and suburbs, will turn to God, and unite themselves with this church.

"The Russian Baptist Church at Nachalovka is working quietly and peacefully, in full harmony with their minister, Brother Osipoff, and in full co-operation with the Far East Baptist Union. Let me right here express the hearty thanks of this small communion, as well as the fraternal feelings of our whole Siberian brotherhood for the material support they receive month by month from the Southern Baptist Convention. God will reward you all for what you are doing for the Russians.

"In addition to these two brethren, Brother Mozgovoy is supported by your Board. This brother is not a preacher, but he is very useful in having colloquies with the people. At the same time he is selling and distributing tracts and Bibles. He spends most of his time in one of the suburbs of Harbin, in which we expect soon as the Lord will provide us with the necessary means to open another meeting place.

"Let me make one suggestion more. Our Far East Baptist Union will appreciate it very much if Southern Baptists take up missionary work in the Transbaikal province on a larger scale than they do now, helping, at the same time, the little congregation at Nachalovka. The spiritual hunger of the people is increasing. We have some fine, faithful and suitable men ready to put at the work, but we have no means to employ these men. The Gospel door, which was closed for some months, is now opened again, though exclusively for the Russian workers. and we don't know how long this door will remain open. Let us make all efforts to go into this door and do our best to save as many as possible for the Kingdom."

ANNUAL REPORT

By Chester W. Branch.

Mexico is known as the land of perennial revolutions. In spite of the revolutions, the fanatacism of the ignorant native Catholics, the opposition of the Catholic Church, our work, under the guidance of the hand of God, through his Holy Spirit, has prospered. The fact that God has blessed and prospered our work shows that it is his will that Southern Baptists shall labor in this country. The greatest need now on the Mexican fields is more and better equipment, especially of our churches and schools. A new building for our Seminary and Boys' High School at Saltillo is our most urgent need in Mexico at the present time.

The detailed reports of the missionaries which follow will give the facts about our Mexican work.

Saltillo Field, by G. H. Lacy.

The Theological Seminary of Saltillo has had another good year in all of its departments. Our enrollment has been less than in other years, owing to the fact that we advised quite a number of our Seminary men to take a literary course first in the Boys' High School. We have reduced the number of Seminary required years to three instead of four since we have changed all the literary work from the Seminary to the Boys' High School.

We are endeavoring to give more emphasis to the strictly theological branches and at the same time making an effort to raise class requirements and general grades of work for graduation.

We are hoping to have our Seminary new building ready for occupancy by the middle of the year. With our young men out of the center of the city, we believe that they will be stronger, healthier and capable of doing much better work in the classroom.

Our new missionary, Brother Chester W. Branch, has given us very valuable class-room help this year, and as he gets the language better we will expect still better work from him.

The Correspondence department of the seminary has been placed under the charge of Prof. G. F. McKibben, whom we consider very capable for this work.

Our Preparatory and High School for Young Men has had a splendid year. Our boarding department has been overflowing. We have been occupying the old building, "Instituto Madero." We are hoping before very long to have our new building for the boarding department of the High School. This will give us plenty of room for the day school and all the work up to the sixth grade. The work beyond the sixth grade will be done in our separate building, which will be constructed specially for the High School grades. We have enrolled about 110 in the boarding department, which was as many as we could handle with the space available.

Our teachers are all first class normal graduates and, best of all, are Christians.

The work done is very thorough and we are glad to say we are establishing a good reputation all over the republic for the thoroughness of our work. Pupils are attending this school from most of the states of Mexico and from several in the United States. Our ideal is that it shall be the best High School in the republic of Mexico. In addition to the regular High School work done in the United States, our graduates will also complete the work equivalent to that done in the Freshman year in our best colleges.

School at Ramos Arizpe—Our primary day school at Ramos Arizpe has also done a good year's work. Work has been done in six grades. We pay the salary of the principal and she pays the salary of her assistants from monies collected for tuition. The average attendance in this school is about 64.

There is also a small day school at Parras. This school only occupies the time of one teacher, but has been doing a good work. We hope that as fanaticism gives away more and more this school also may realize a strong, healthy growth.

Churches—On the Saltillo mission field we have at present five ordained preachers: four American missionaries (two males and two females), and three unordained workers.

The Saltillo church is doing more than any other church on the field. At present this church is completely self sustaining and the membership seems enthusiastic in their efforts to forward and organize the work. It has been a great joy to us to see this church stand alone, and we look forward to great things in the future. The church of Saltillo is one of our historic churches in the establishing of our mission work in Mexico.

The churches in the mountain district have not been able to do much. The work was greatly hampered by the long years of revolution and it seems difficult for the people to get their bearings again and settle down to permanent work.

The new churches of Viesca and Ramos Arizpe seem to be in a prosperous condition.

The churches of Parras and General Cepeda are moving forward slowly. There seems to be more of a spirit of awakening in the church of Parras, which gives us hope to see a good, strong church some day at this point.

COAHUILA-DURANGO FIELD By J. H. Benson.

This field occupies the states of Coahuila, Durango, Zacatecas, and a part of the state of Jalisco. It extends from the Texas border to the south-west as far as the Sierra Madre mountains. A territory about 250 miles wide and 600 miles in length. It extends from the low, hot, dry climate of the Texas border to the cool pine peaks of the mountains. A country rich in possibilities and bright in promises.

The Churches

There are fifteen organized churches on this field. They range in size from the infant church of San Juan de Guadalupe of fourteen members to the church at Torreon of over 300 members. The first has recently been organized and the second with the New Year became self-sustaining. They are divided by nature into three groups. There is the group along the frontier, on and near the valley of the Rio Grande river. Between this group and the next to the southwest, known as the "Laguna group," is a broad belt of desert and mountain. Then to the south and west of this second group lies the third group upon the great, high tablelands of the states of Durango and Zacatecas. Each of these groups and their surrounding territory is sufficient to occupy the time and strength of all the workers that we have in all three groups. Some good day each of these groups will become a separate association convention and will carry on the work in their own field, and in addition will help to send the gospel to other parts of the world.

These fifteen churches during the year had an increase of 183 members. They have eighteen Sunday schools with 863 pupils. They have a combined membership of 1,232 and these members during the year gave to different objects of the Master's work $4,292.60 Mexican money. This amount, for the most part, was distributed to pastor's salary, repairs to church buildings, education and missions among the Indians of the nation.

In addition to the work carried on in their own churches, these fifteen churches are carrying on work in forty mission stations in the territory surrounding the churches. In these missions thousands of people hear the gospel, who do not attend services at the church. These churches are beginning to think, work and pray for the saving of all their people. The sure foundations are being laid for the evangelization of all this great stretch of country.

The Schools

There are three day schools on this field. They are located at Allende, Torreon and Capulin, a point near Colotlan.

The first of these schools at Allende has four teachers and about ninety pupils in regular attendance. This school has been established three or four years and has done a good work and service for the cause of the Master.

The school at Capulin has been established for several years and has done a most excellent work. There has never been a public school in the place. Hence the only education that the children have received has been in our school. The place is known far and wide as Protestant headquarters. Several Christian workers have come out of this school.

The school in Torreon is held on the property formerly used for our theological seminary before it was removed to Saltillo. It is known as "Instituto Cheavens" in honor of John Self Cheavens, who wrought so faithfully and well in Mexico for many years. This school maintains six grades, has six teachers, Christian and competent. The director of the institute is J. L. Soria, a graduate of our seminary in Saltillo, and a young Baptist preacher. This school is doing an excellent work. It needs very much an assembly hall and dormitory for boys. In fact, we must have these baildings in the near future.

There is a broad open door of opportunity for our educational work in this country. For many years the public schools have been very poor. The people have become more liberal in their thinking and are more ready to patronize our schools. It is the opinion of this writer that we should have a good school in every center in the nation, and a good day school in connection with every church.

CHIHUAHUA FIELD By W. F. Hatchell

We are glad to report a steady growth in our work on the Chihuahua field for the year 1923. This is the largest state in the republic, though the population is not so large as that of some of the other states. We have established work in most of the centers and are endeavoring, from these centers, to work the surrounding districts. There are but four organized churches. At two other centers we have work started where we hope in the near future to organize churches. Besides these there are a dozen or more out-stations where services are maintained.

The Juarez church is well organized, and splendid work has been done in all departments of the church work, including the Sunday school, B. Y. P. U. and Women's society. Taking the situation as a whole I don't think we ever had a better year at Juarez. The pastor is a very capable man, energetic and prudent, and under his leadership the church is united in its efforts in this most corrupt border city.

The Chihuahua church reports the largest number of members received upon profession of faith and baptism of any of the churches. This is partly on account of the several out-stations where services are regularly held by the forces of this church. Then, the active young pastor is greatly aided by a large number of the faculty and students of our school in Chihauhau, Colegio Bautista. The work in Chihauhau is very promising indeed. During the year a site for a church building was purchased. The lot is splendidly located in the center of the city and very near to the school. During the past years church services have been held in the assembly room of the college, but the room is now inadequate. Besides, the whole school building is badly needed for school purposes. So we hope that in the near future we shall be able to erect a suitable church building for our work in this important capital city.

Santa Rosalia is located in the most fertile valley in the state, and is surrounded by a splendid farming country. The church was organized some years ago, but on account of revolutionary activities the little band of church members has had a hard struggle in this little city. However, the year was the best we have had for a dozen years. Some very substantial people are being reached by the gospel and the future looks brighter for us. Here we have no property, which is always a handicap in our work.

Parral is another center of great importance. Some of the richest mines are in and around Parral. There are many small towns near by where the pastor and a colporteur are making regular visits. This part of the field has been considerably disturbed by the present revolution. The last two or three months of the year the workers were not able to get into the country very far on account of the revolutionary bands, or bandits.

Beginning from July the association composed by the churches of this field, co-operating with our board, has had an associational missionary at work. He has visited the different churches, holding revival meetings, as well as going into new territory to start work. One trip was made by him into the mountains far from railroads among the Indians, with a view especially of starting work among the Indians of the state, who number no less than 50,000. These unfortunate people have been sadly neglected both by the Mexican government and our mission boards. We hope in the near future to be able to start permanent work among them. The work of our associational missionary, Brother P. H. Pierson, has been most encouraging.

Our Schools—The Juarez day school, under the direction of Mrs. Cheavens, has closed the year with perhaps the best results of any perior of our history here. The school is always full, and we have a very fine lot of children. Four teachers are employed besides the "Directora."

A small school has been opened at Parral, and while the number of pupils was not large, the school furnishes facilities for the children of our own congregation that they could not get elsewhere, and besides some children from other homes are in the school, thus giving us a better opportunity to reach new people with the gospel.

COLEGIO BAUTISTA By D. H. LeSueur

Notwithstanding the disturbed conditions which have existed in some portions of the republic, our school, with the blessing of the Lord, has made very favorable progress. The enrollment this year is not quite as large as last year, but notable improvements have been made along some lines.

Chief of these is the extension of our Normal Course. We have added the second year to that course, and the success achieved encourages the hope that we shall be able to continue adding to the course until it is complete. The government educational directors have taken cognizance of our work in this department and have promised to recognize and give credit for all work done, and award government diplomas to our girls who successfully complete the course. This is quite a stimulus to our girls as well as to their teachers, and inspires the hope that from this time on we shall be able to educate our teachers of the future, and thus have not only the opportunity of instructing them in the principles of pedagogy, but also to thoroughly ground them in the lofty principles and glorious doctrines of our faith, and thus prepare them to really be efficient helpers in all the work of the Kingdom.

Our boarding department is full and a number of applicants have been turned away. These girls have come from all sections, eight states of the republic being represented, and Missouri, California and Texas also have their representatives with us. We have added two small rooms in order to more properly care for the sick, but we are thankful that up to this time we have had no very serious cases of sickness among our boarders.

We are getting our courses of study better arranged and our different departments better organized. Besides the government program of studies, we have daily classes outside the regular school hours, in both the Old and New Testaments. All of our boarders and our Normal students who attend from the city, for there are several of these, are in one of these classes. Again this year as last the Christmas holidays were spent studying books of the S. S. Normal course. As a result of this study last Christmas and on into the spring some eighteen of our girls and a few outsiders who took the course were awarded diplomas in the Manual. This Christmas several others began the study of the Manual, and some thirteen took the second book in the course—"Ganando Almas para Cristo"—which is a translation of the book "Winning Souls for Christ," and received their seals accordingly.

Music Department—Our Music department heretofore has not been very satisfactory. But recently we have been very fortunate in securing the services of Miss Ruth Burr, formerly teacher in Baylor College, Belton, Texas, to take charge of this department. Miss Burr has been with us only a short time, but already is showing her skill and ability as a teacher. We have twenty girls who are studying in this department.

Summer School—A number of our boarders live so far away, and the cost of traveling is so great, that it is practically impossible for a number of them to return to their homes during the vacation. For the benefit of these we have a summer, or vacation school. This year, as last, we had the efficient help of Mrs. Bertha Bowen, of Austin, Tex., to direct in this work. The work is made very practical, and instead of the summer being lost, very substantial help and much benefit is received by those who attend this vacation school. Practical demonstration of the best methods in kindergarten teaching, as well as Bible story telling, principles of hygiene, etc., are given in these classes.

The large majority of our boarding girls were Christians and members of the church when they came to us. But several were not, and of these practically all have made a profession of their faith in Jesus as Savior, and several have been baptized. All of our boarders attend regularly all of our services, church, Sunday school and B. Y. P. U., and several are helping in the various missions of our church.

PACIFIC COAST FIELD By Frank Marrs

Our West Coast field embraces especially the three states of Sonora, Sinaloa and Nayarit. In round numbers, we call it one thousand miles from the extreme northern frontier city of Nogales (across the line from Nogales, Arizona) to Tepic, way down south—south-east. The climate varies from cold, frigid temperature in northern Sonora to the warm tropical and sub-tropical in the south. The altitude varies from sea level to ten thousand feet.

Number of Churches.—The number of churches in this field remains the same as last report, eight being the number of organized churches, with from twelve to fifteen out-stations. Our field at present has more churches than pastors. Two of our active pastors have retired from the work. Two other workers have come to us—a young brother from the Saltillo seminary, Brother Pilar Caceres, who for the present is engaged in our school work; the other is Brother Martinez, who enters the colportage work in northern Sonora. Two or three of our pastors have been caring for more than one church, and with very good results. At present all of our churches are being cared for except the church at Navojoa, on Mayo River. Every church, with perhaps one exception, has shown a good steady growth, several baptisms being reported from every field. The number of baptisms being reported during the year on this field totals 41, with $1,754.90 collected and used on the field for local work. One brother, Augustin Reyes, of our most southernly church at Tepic, was ordained, and has had the privilege of baptizing many in his field since that date.

The West Coast Bible Institute.—This institute was held with the Mazatlan church in March, during the meeting of our Pacific Coast Association. The results were splendid. We had with us several noted speakers and lecturers, both Mexican and American. These annual meetings are rather expensive on account of the long distances, but it is well worth the effort put forth in the renewed zeal and general activity and betterment along all lines.

Bible and Colportage Work.—This is always one of our principal features. Our aim is to have at least two men who give all their time to this special line of work, covering the entire coast section. Also the pastors are never too busy to look after this important work when possible. The printed page does not take the place of preaching, but it has its value and every local church is all the richer when its pastor gives much of his time in this special work.

Church Property and Buildings.—During the year 1923, we were enabled through the Building and Loan Fund the Board has been extending us, to purchase two very fine, centrally located properties for chapel and pastors' homes. In January, we closed a deal for one of the most centrally located corners in Culiacan, capital city of the state of Sinaloa. The houses already built on the property are being utilized for our services and our pastor lives in one portion. This centrally located building has caused our work at this capital city to take on new life.

In October we had the offer extended to us of a very fine central property in the port city of Guaymas. We have been waiting for some time for the chance of buying just such a property—it being on the principal avenue of the city, and also in the locality where we expect eventually to buy and build for our college work.

Work progressed part of the year in a very satisfactory manner on our church building at Navojoa, the large agricultural section on the Mayo River, in the southern part of the state of Sonora. This chapel, being built of well-burned brick, is to have seating capacity of from 400 to 500. Will also have several Sunday-school class rooms, tile roof, cement floors, with our own system of water works, furnished by a fine Aermoter windmill from Chicago. This is our very best constructed plant in our west coast country.

Colegio Occidental .- This is our only school work on all our west coast field. It is situated at Guaymas, a beautiful port city on the Gulf of California, about midway of Sonora state. This college work has had to be suspended two or three times during the war period. Even with its reopening a year and a half ago, we have been doubtful of results, on account of some peculiar opposition that has been encountered. These difficulties, however, have happily disappeared, or at least to a great extent. The writer and his wife with the assistance of Miss Laura Cox, have been placed in charge of this school. We have been fortunate in procuring the co-operation of several very fine Mexican Baptist teachers, Dona Margarita Ruiz being selected as principal of the class-room work. Full grade work up to the normal course has been maintained. A department of stenography has been added this session and with surprising results, about thirty taking this course. Two competent teachers of music are giving instruction in piano, and two or three different stringed instruments, and also vocal music. The Mexican loves music in almost any form and usually becomes very proficient with some instrument. English is taught in all departments, several private pupils are also being given lessons, especially in commercial and practical English, very essential to all border international trade that exists between our two sister republics. A very encouraging kindergarten work is being carried out.

The total enrollment has reached 178. Our boarding department has cared for, during the year, twenty girls and eight boys. A boys' dormitory was rented, and we find that our Baptist parents are as anxious for their boys to be educated and trained in our religious training school as they are for their daughters.

While deprived by civil law of giving religious instruction in the general class-room work, in the regular curriculum, yet for our boarding boys and girls we find time for three lessons a week; and they are being instructed in both Old and New Testaments by competent teachers. Four different grades of Bible work are being maintained besides the work given them in our local Baptist church, which, with Sunday school and B. Y.P. U. and other departments, affords splendid opportunities for the drill work needed by our pupils and teachers.

We are rejoicing in these last months with the coming to reinforce our school and mission work of Brother E. J. Gregory and wife, of Texas, both full graduates of Baylor University and Baylor College respectively, as also of Southwestern Seminary. We are counting greatly on their co-operation. When they acquire the language by another session we shall realize much strength in their presence.

Our final word. The school work that we have been able to do, and all the work that we can plan or think to accomplish in this coming year has been and must continue to be done in rented buildings, leased at great cost. Our hearts have grown heavy again as we have had to hear once again from our distressed Board, "NO MONEY FOR BUILDINGS, GREAT INDEBTEDNESS." Must we go on forever trying to make brick without straw? How difficult it is! Insufficient, crowded rooms. Our children almost crying for admission into our school. We have had to turn them away this year on account of the lack of room.

SOUTH MEXICO FIELD. By C. L. Neal.

Another year of work has closed, but we cannot say, as we are accustomed to say, with bright prospects for the future. On the tenth of December, when large plans were being made for evangelistic work on all the field, a new revolution broke out which has interfered seriously with our work.

General View of the Field.

This field covers six states with fifteen native workers, one school and one dispensary.

The State of Mexico.—There is more than room for all the workers we have in this state, but Ramires is the only worker for all the state. He is pastor in Toluca, which has 38,000 inhabitants. He has two out-stations which are visited regularly. He also makes mission trips to other places. This church has increased its donations and has had fifteen baptisms during the year. There were two other churches in this state, one at Villa Guerrero and the other Sultepec, but they disappeared during the past revolutions.

The State of Guerrero.—We have two preachers for this vast state. Mateo Gaspar is pastor of the churches in Iguala and Taxco, which are more than a day's ride on horseback apart. Besides the pastorate of these churches he has seven out-stations which he visits, some bi-monthly and some monthly. Iguala is one of our young churches but is making progress both in self-support and baptisms. There were twenty-six baptisms during the year.

Vicente Rios is pastor of Guayameo church and has eleven out-stations. Some of these stations are more than two days' ride from each other. He visits these fields as often as he can during the year, and the fifty-nine baptisms show his activity during the year. He is six days' horseback ride from any railroad. This field is large and the harvest is white.

The State of Michoacan.—We have five preachers in this large state. Mosies Arevalo is pastor in Morelia, the capital of the state, with 40,000 inhabitants. There are four out-stations. The church has increased along all lines, and there has been twenty-eight baptisms during the year. A new house of worship has been completed which will seat 500 people when the Sunday-school rooms are opened. It is well located. The government tried to close the new church, but we succeeded in keeping it open.

We have a printing plant at this place in which we print tracts for propaganda, especially for the work in these six states, and Sr. Arevalo looks after it. We print thousands of tracts here every year.

Miqueas Godinez is pastor of the Uruapan church, where we have a flourishing young church which has suffered greatly ever since its organization, and for a large part of the year the church had no special place in which to worship because of its inability to rent a house. The Catholics were determined not to let us rent a house. There were twenty-two baptisms with all their trouble and they have ninety-five pupils in attendance in Sunday school. Dr. Neal furnished money which she received from her practice to buy a lot with rooms partly finished so that they could have a place to worship. The church with the help of Dr. Neal and the rent money which has been granted will finish some of the rooms for a dwelling and a large hall for services, and in this way they will have a good place for the services.

Panindicuaro is another one of the Micoacan churches that has done a good work. They have a fine Sunday school, and although they have but one room, they have six classes. There were fifteen baptisms and several others are in preparation. Communication is cut and they may all be gone before they can be baptized, since the pastor is unordained. There are but two out-stations and but little has been done in them because of the political conditions in that part of the state.

Jose Ramirez is pastor in Tacambaro, where the Catholics are constantly giving trouble. There were good congregations during the year and eight baptisms. There are two out-stations, but little has been accomplished in them because of political conditions. The pastor has visited Nocupetaro several times where we formerly had a church, but all the members were dispersed during the past revolutions. There is a large field around this church which should be worked if conditions would permit.

Huetamo is a new center we have opened, and the work is doing finely under the direction of Herrera, one of the graduates of the seminary. There are now twenty-nine people who have been baptized into the Guayameo church and there would have been a church organized there if the revolution had not cut off communication.

The State of Guanajuato.—We have three preachers in this state. Ramirez, pastor of Leon church, which is located in a city of 80,000 inhabitants and is a fanatical place. I conducted a revival there this year and a number of times they threw rocks into the congregation. There are four out-stations. One of them is in Guanajuato, the capital of the state, with 40,000 inhabitants, and another is in a city of more than 20,000 inhabitants. There were eight baptisms.

Irapuato is one of our young churches and has its ups and downs, but at present it is doing well. There were six baptisms. It is a very fine center because of the railroads that go out from it. This church has three out-stations.

Josue Garcia is pastor in Acambaro, the youngest church on this field. The persecution has been severe since its organization, but both pastor and church have remained enthusiastic in the work. There were eleven baptisms and the church is beginning to help substantially on pastor's salary and missions. The pastor visits three out-stations with regularity.

The State of Jalisco.—Victor Godinez is pastor of Guadalajara church, which is in the capital of the state. This is the second city in the republic with a population of more than 125,000. The church is self-supporting, had thirty-nine baptisms and has 150 in Sunday school. There are three out-stations which are looked after regularly. Sr. Echerman; who is a very fine worker, was employed for part of the year, but because of some debts which came due he returned to his former work until he could meet his obligations. After accomplishing that he expects to return to the evangelistic work.

Manuel Sanches, pastor of Cinco Minas and Tequila, has pushed forward the work in these churches and two out-stations. There were forty-two baptisms during the year and the church in Cinco Minas advanced so rapidly that they bought another house so as to have room for the congregation. This church is likely to be dispersed at any day because it is only a large mining town and when the mines close, as they are likely to do because of the present revolution. our church members will have to go to other places for work.

Jose Chaves, pastor of Atoyac and La Union churches, has been very active since he went to that field from his studies in the seminary. Besides the churches he has four out-stations. There were only four baptisms during the year because of trouble in the church and change of pastors. Because of poverty and political difficulties, this once large church has few members living in the town of Atoyac. They have gone to other cities to look for work.

In Ciudad Guzman, a city of more than 20,000 inhabitants, we have Saul Maldonado, a graduate from the seminary. For several years this has been a out-station of the Colima church and we expect to have a church there in the near future if the revolution does not stop our work. I do not have communication with any of the churches in Jalisco now because of the revolution.

The State of Colima.—We have only one preacher for this state. Pablo Godinez is pastor of Colima and Manzanillo churches and has six out-stations. The results of this field have not been what we had expected, but there are conditions that make the work very hard. In the hot countries and the coast the morality is lower than it is in the other places and it is bad enough in all places. This field is like many others in that men and women who present themselves for membership in our churches are not married or have a business which prevents them from being baptized. About one-tenth of those who are not married get married so they can be baptized. There were only five baptisms during the year, but several others are in preparation.

Total Visible Results.

Increase of out-stations established. More activity in Sunday-school work, and a better system of work. Two hundred and ninety-four baptisms during the year and $7,218.54 Mexican for all objects marks an advance over last year. A beautiful new church house in the fanatical city of Morelia. This house will seat 500 people when all the Sunday-school rooms are opened into the main hall. Also new property in the city of Uruapan, which was an urgent necessity, as explained in another place in this report.

A New School.

Miss Long is the new missionary in charge and the work for the first year has been good. This school is located in Morelia and will be a great help not only to the local work but will fill a great need in the surrounding country. She had sixteen boarding pupils and an enrollment of more than sixty. She is planning for a co-educational school for 1924. The government officials praised the work done during the year when they examined the pupils.

Work of the Missionary in Charge of the Field.

Six months of the year was spent in directing the building of the church house in Morelia and looking after the field work by correspondence. After the building was completed he spent his time in visiting the field and conducting revivals, and in preparing for the institute of the ministers which is held for ten days each year. This institute is composed of all the ministers of the two boards that are here in the south of Mexico.

Medical Work.

Dr. Hallie Neal is in charge of this work. She says: "I played off from my work two months of the year and went to help my husband, who was having too much to do to attend to the building, working early and late at that, and then attending to the field work by correspondence. I liked my change of jobs very much because my medical work was keeping me at it from early till late and was trying on my nerves, but the change tells on the number of patients that I would have treated.

There were 4,870 patients during the year and $2,414.50 received for the work. I had some well-to-do patients that paid a reasonable price, but there are so many for nothing that it brings down the general average of the receipts.

The people are more and more poverty stricken and I find so many that need help. I am sure the average American never saw such poverty as we see all around us here. I am so glad that I can do a little to help them.

"I give out a great number of tracts to them and have an opportunity to talk to many of them about their soul's salvation and have a greater opportunity to talk to them about the results of their vices.

"I have used the money received this year and some that I had on hand from last year in buying literature for the religious work, property in Uruapan, which was an urgent necessity, and to help build in Morelia. Eternity alone can tell the results of the medical work among the poor people who come to me for treatment. Some of them come not for medicine but to tell me their troubles, and I try to help them go away with the load lighter."

MEXICAN BAPTIST PUBLISHING HOUSE. By J. E. Davis.

The year 1923 has been a great year, despite the many drawbacks, in our work in Spanish-speaking countries. For our business, the high cost of production, the unfavorable rate of exchange in many foreign lands where we send our literature, and the poor health of some of the workers have been against us; yet on the other hand, the increased demand for literature, greater and better facilities for producing it, better postal rates to almost all Spanish-speaking countries, and above all the marked presence and help of our God, have contributed toward making 1923 one of the best—if not the very best—year in our history.

Our Workers.

The editor-in-chief and business manager, the writer, was sick for several months during the first part of the year, and was compelled to be absent from time to time on this account. Mrs. Davis took in hand the management in his absence, and with the help and co-operation of Mr. Boone and others carried on the work in a satisfactory manner. Mr. Boone had charge of the mechanical department during the first part of the year, leaving for a few months' vacation the first of September. Sr. Dominguez has been at his post of editorial labors during the entire year, doing very satisfactory work as editor of our denominational weekly, El Atalaya, and helping in a very efficient way with other publications, as well as doing a great deal of translating. He is a good man in the right place. Mrs. Gordiano, of Berkeley, Cal., has continued in a commendable way her editorial work with us, editing several of our publications for the Sunday school. Dr. Eric Lund, now of San Diego, Cal., edits our monthly magazine for preachers, La Revista Homiletica.

Our Periodicals.

Our Senior and Adult quarterly for Sunday schools, El Expositor Biblico, has rounded out its thirty-second year of existence, and is doing a greater work and has a brighter future than ever before in its history. Nine thousand copies of this magazine were printed for the last quarter of the year, the output having grown steadily from about 1,500 in 1908, when this editorial management took it over, to 9,000 in 1923. It circulates in all Spanish-speaking countries where Baptists have mission work, and also is used by many of other denominational affiliation. The writer is editor of this quarterly and vouches for its orthodoxy.

La Revista Juvenil is a quarterly adapted to the Intermediate department. It has been published only four years, and has already a larger circulation than El Expositor Biblico had after seventeen years of publication with no competitor.

Nuestros Ninos, published monthly in parts, like Child's Gem, and the same size of this publication, has been published with interruptions since 1904, having grown from a small monthly leaflet to its present dimensions, and from a very limited circulation to one of 10,000 per issue, which means that this number of papers is put into circulation each week. The lesson exposition, or story, given in this publication is intended for those of the Junior department. Mrs. A. M. Gordiano is the editor of this paper, as well as La Revista Juvenil.

Lecciones Ilustradas is the name we give our Picture Cards. We use the same pictures used by our Sunday School Board, editing and printing the lesson story in Spanish. We began publishing these cards four years ago as an experiment, and now at the close of 1923, have a circulation of 8,000 sets per quarter, with many orders we are not able to fill. This means an increase for the coming year. The objection that children would worship these pictures, which we used to hear frequently, and which caused us to defer from year to year the issuing of these cards, is never heard, which seems to indicate that the fears of some good brethren were unfounded.

Cuadros Ilustrativos is our name for the Picture Roll. We use the same pictures used by our Sunday School Board of Nashville, but print the text in Spanish. This is the only publishing house that publishes these picture rolls in the Spanish language. Four years ago we began the experiment with these rolls, and now they have a circulation of 650 per quarter and growing very rapidly. In a short time the circulation will reach a thousand.

These are our five publications for the Sunday school: El Expositor Biblico, La Revista Juvenil, Nuestros Ninos, Lecciones Ilustradas and Cuadros Ilustrativos, providing to the best of our ability helps for every department of the work.

El Atalaya is our weekly denominational paper, edited in a very able manner by Sr. Dominguez, who has been with us now for four years. This is a sixteen page weekly, and while its circulation is much more circumscribed than our other publications, as it is specially dedicated to our Mexican work, yet it has a circulation of some 2,500 copies per week at present. Our Watchman, for that is what it means in English, is doctrinally sound and fundamentally orthodox. This paper was founded by the writer in 1908, and while its publication was suspended for several years on account of the revolution in Mexico, it has been published for twelve years.

Revista Trimestral para las U. B. de J. is our B. Y. P. U. quarterly, which we began to edit and publish this year. It has been more or less difficult to introduce it, but it is gaining ground and wherever it is being used is revolutionizing our young people's work. Sr. Dominguez is the editor of this magazine.

La Revista Homiletica is our latest publication. For a number of years it was published in Spain, till the war made it impossible to carry on longer. After several years we agreed to assume the responsibility of its publication. Dr. Eric Lund, for many years missionary in Spain and the Philippine Islands, has been the editor from the beginning. This magazine is published monthly, and is, as its name indicates, the Homiletic Review, designed for our preachers. It is undoubtedly one of our most helpful publications, as it furnishes our preachers and workers with many helpful suggestions for their work.

During the year we put into circulation something over ONE MILLION copies of our periodical publications, distributed over the United States, Mexico, Cuba, Porto Rico, Spain, the Central American Republics, Argentine, Chile, Peru, Columbia, Bolivia, Ecuador, Venezuela, Uruguay, Paraguay and the Philippine Islands. We send some literature to the island of Guam.

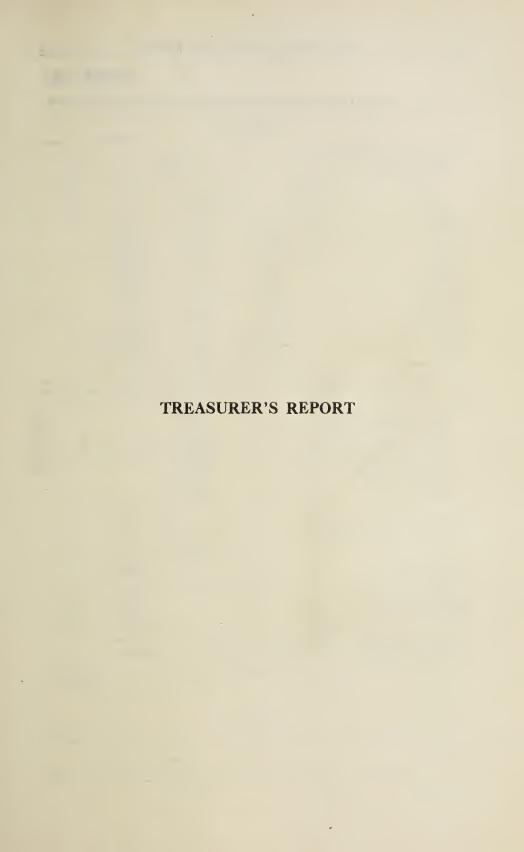

Our Books.

When in 1908 the Mexican Baptist Publishing House was formally launched, we had no books of our own publication, except a few copies of Pendleton's Compendium of Theology, a very small edition of which had been made by La Luz, predecessor of El Atalaya. Our new catalogue, which is now in press, will show more than fifty titles of books and pamphlets, published by this house, and several others are entirely out of print at this time.

From year to year we have mentioned the names of translations and original works which we have published. During 1923, we published several books which will be helpful to our people, among them a new edition of The Church Manual for Baptist Churches; The Sunday School Teacher, by Hamill; Princely Men in the Heavenly Kingdom; The B. Y. P. U. Manual; Winning to Christ; a Sunday School Record Book and class books. We have in process of manufacture at present the following: A Treatise on Preaching, by Dr. Broadus; Why is Christianity True? by Dr. Mullins; The Black Prophet, by Phelps; The Stewardship of Life, by Agar, and several smaller books for B. Y. P. U. study courses.

Looking Toward the Future.

We need an adequate building to house this growing missionary business. During the year we outgrew our quarters and had to rent another building adjacent to the one we already occupied. Again we are crowded.

Seventy-Ninth Annual Report

OF THE

Home Mission Board

TO THE

Southern Baptist Convention

B. D. GRAY, CORRESPONDING SECRETARY Atlanta, Georgia

1924

In presenting our seventy-ninth annual report to the Convention we are filled with a sense of gratitude to God for His abounding favor upon every phase of our work.

No year has been filled with greater perplexity and anxiety and this has made us more deeply sensible of our dependence upon Him for grace and guidance in the work committed to us by the brother-hood. In the midst of manifold problems and distress because of our inability to enter many open doors of opportunity we have been strengthened no little by the consolatory injunction of the great Apostle, "Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord."

Since the Convention met in Atlanta five years ago and projected the 75 Million Campaign, marvelous things have taken place with Southern Baptists. The five-year period has been indeed epochal, unique and outstanding in Baptist annals. We took our bearings afresh, launched a program that startled our people by its largeness and challenged their support by its greatness. It would be interesting and profitable to recount briefly the achievements in the Home Mission fields for the five-year period, but we leave that to the Conservation Committee, whose report will deal with all phases of the Convention's work.

Brighter Skies

While our receipts for the year are far below what we had one time anticipated, we are happy to report some reduction of our indebtedness, which reduction is due primarily, however, to drastic retrenchments in our operations.

We face the future with hopefulness. Business conditions are far better than they were a year ago. The outlook for the future is good in all lines of business activity. The leaders are sounding the note of confidence and encouragement in all parts of the field and our people are recovering from the financial depression of the past three years.

A Wonderful Year's Work

Throughout the year the blessings of God have been upon our work in a remarkable way. Necessary retrenchment in our forces has affected the work somewhat, but compensation in a large measure has been found in the unwonted favor of God upon the labors of our missionaries and evangelists. Meetings of great power have been held by these workers in various fields and thousands have been brought to Christ, while their enlistment in the service of the Master has been most gratifying. One striking characteristic, indeed, in our work has been the fruitage of former sowing and culture, watered with tears and now ripened into a great harvest. The Scripture has been fulfilled that they who go forth weeping are coming back rejoicing, bringing their sheaves with them.

Some notably hard fields where we have been laboring for years and years, laying the foundations, toiling through days of gloom and anxiety, are coming to self-support and in turn having a joyful part in our denominational work.

Enlargement

In every department of our work there is need for enlargement. The calls are many and heart-searching from weak churches needing help, from destitute fields needing missionaries, from city and countryside for the work of the evangelists.

A cry comes likewise in the way of gifts and loans to struggling churches who are trying to erect suitable church buildings. The success of our workers—evangelists and missionaries—has been so great as to create needs never before dreamed of in the way of training of new converts and enlargement of facilities. A great increase in our resources must come if we meet these opening fields and crying needs.

New Adjustments

Marvelous changes are taking place throughout the South in every department of secular life. The foremost publicist of the South, Mr. Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Baltimore "Manufacturers' Record," has recently published a most illuminating and stirring statement of the South's future wealth and growth. The great industrial centers are multiplying their forces and hundreds of millions of dollars are being invested in mining and electrical power. Industrial plants of every kind are multiplying in bewildering rapidity. The cotton mills are coming from New England to the South and the whole Piedmont country in Virginia and the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama, is throbbing with new life and power. Such conditions present at once the greatest opportunity and responsibility religiously that Southern Baptists have ever confronted.

Negro Migration

The migration of hundreds of thousands of Negroes from the South constitutes a serious problem in our economic life. Recent evidence is abundant that there will be a return of these people in a large measure to the South, the section most suited to them. We need greatly to enlarge our work among the Negroes. There are some 9,000,000 in the South, and religiously the great majority of them are Baptists or of Baptist persuasion. They constitute a field unmatched in opportunity anywhere for a successful missionary endeavor. They are in our midst, in our homes, in our fields, and by every consideration of Christian motives must be given the best services we can command. To neglect them is to neglect a large and most vital part of our citizenship. To help them is at once to help ourselves and our country. We must help them or the curse of God will rest upon us. They are our brothers in Christ and whenever we will we may do them good.

The Leavening of the Gospel

Our civilization is being tested in many ways. Insidious error is creeping into our schools and colleges, particularly in the North, and the tide is coming Southward. If the fountain is impure the whole stream will be poisoned. Great fundamental questions are at issue and nothing short of a virile, constructive and militant faith will save us from the evils that threaten. Scandals multiply at the national capital, in high places.

Who, that read our daily papers, can deny the existence throughout the land of the deplorable attitude on the part of multitudes of our people with respect to law and government?

The above are really serious conditions that confront our people. They can be remedied only by an aggressive and conquering program on the part of Christian forces.

The Challenging Outlook

So marvelous have been God's favors upon our people in the last few years, and especially during the five-year Campaign, that we are ready by virtue of our forces and resources to seize the present situation and make Southern Baptists the greatest single religious force in the South and throughout our nation and the whole world. The South constitutes the nursery, the training ground, the granary, the source of supplies, indeed, for our conquest in all lands. If we fail here we fail everywhere! If we succeed here we can succeed everywhere! May God help our people in this great day of opportunity with high resolve to meet the issues worthily and hasten the coming of His Kingdom throughout the earth!

SPECIAL ITEMS

Week of Prayer for Home Missions

The first week of March has again been made conspicuous for its spiritual power and blessings among our women as they have met for study and prayer and gifts for Home Missions. In its influence it has gone far beyond their gifts, though these have been sacrificial and noteworthy. There has come into the lives of our women, and consequently into their homes, a quickened sense of responsibility, a deeper experience of communion with God, a sweeter fellowship with one another and more serious purpose for the consecration of all to the service of the Master.

Laymen's Missionary Movement

We have continued during the year in giving our support to the Laymen's Missionary Movement and are appreciative of the service they are rendering to the cause of Christian stewardship of life and possessions.

Secretary Henderson gives himself with unabated ardor to the task committed to him and his devout Christian life and character greatly enforce his wise and Scriptural advocacy of Christian stewardship.

Chaplaincy Work

Our Board has contributed $500.00 during the year towards the expenses of the Army and Navy Chaplaincy Commission, Washington, D. C., of which commission our Corresponding Secretary is the Baptist representative.

Legislation is before Congress looking towards better recognition of the worth and standing of the chaplaincy. The General Chaplain, Col. John T. Axton, reports increasing effectiveness in the religious work of the chaplains. The Government has a keener sense than at any time heretofore of the valuable services of the chaplain.

Proposed New Orleans Hospital

At Kansas City, one year ago, the Convention transferred the erection and administration of the proposed New Orleans Hospital from the Home Mission Board to the Hospital Commission. Reference to this is made among the recommendations of our Board at the close of this report.

Student Religious Activities

The Inter-Board Commission on Student Religious Activities will be presented separately by the Commission to the Convention.

Our Secretary, who is Chairman of the Inter-Board Commission, reports that the year has witnessed gratifying progress in the work of the Commission. The work of the Inter-Board Commission has nothing to do with academic studies or scholastic curricula, but has for its task the putting of our denominational program of missions, benevolence and general Christian development upon our young people during their student life at our denominational institutions.

Bequests to the Home Mission Board

There is a growing tendency, much to be thankful for, on the part of our people to remember our denominational work in their wills and bequests. Let us pray that this worthy motive may move upon our people more and more. By this method of service they can continue to speak and work for the Master after they have gone to their heavenly reward.

We have had several small bequests during the present year, for which we are profoundly grateful. In several other cases wills are being contested because of lack of clarity and definiteness in the terms of the donors. It is of utmost importance that care be exercised to have the proper form in cases of bequests. We present herewith a general form for bequests.

Form of Bequest to Home Mission Board

Note—If property other than money is given, give a complete and particular description of such property bequeathed. The will should, of course, be executed according to the law of the state where the donor lives.

Miss Emma Leachman's Work

Miss Emma Leachman, our very consecrated and efficient field worker, has given herself with great ardor and fidelity and success to the work of enlisting our people not only in Home Mission work, but in all our denominational activities. A brief summary of her work is as follows:

"This conventional year closes with the voices of thousands of Baptist women ringing in my ears, singing, "Duty Done, Victory Won." May we continue to sing praises to Him for what has been done and continue to trust Him for what must be done by December, 1924. Never was there such a call to consecration and to heroic response as the call comes now to finish the task. It can be done. God is calling us to do it."

She reports also as follows:

The Country Church Survey

In our last year's report, we rendered a full account of the Joint Commission of the Country Church Survey with the Sunday School Board, and asked further time to complete the survey. The Commission will make a separate report, hence we make reference only to the subject.

OUR GENERAL WORK

In our Departmental Exhibit of Work, the activities of the year have been set forth in detail. We cordially invite careful study and consideration of the various reports which give a summary of information both helpful and inspiring.

Our reference, therefore, to the general work by departments is made briefer than usual.

Co-operative Missions

This fundamental feature of our work that has persisted through all the history of the Board as a unifying and solidifying agency of Southern Baptists in their South-wide missionary efforts has been signally blessed during the year. We have expended in this Department $174,846.52 and were asked for a much larger sum in order to meet the growing missionary needs in the various states. In one or two states the expenditures have been somewhat reduced, but in most of the states urgent appeals were made for larger appropriations. Our financial condition made it impossible for us to do more in this department and be just to other phases of our work.

Evangelism and Enlistment

We were greatly grieved over the resignation of Dr. O. E. Bryan, Superintendent of Evangelism and Enlistment, last June. He left us that he might accept the position of Budget Director with the Conservation Commission. During the brief time of his superintendency of Evangelism and Enlistment he had secured a clear vision and firm grasp of the scope and importance of this work and was leading our force of evangelists and enlistment workers in a great way. His marked success in introducing the budget system in Kentucky during his secretaryship of the Kentucky State Board of Missions led to his election as Budget Director by the Conservation Commission.

For several months the Home Mission Board was unsuccessful in securing a successor to Dr. Bryan. Finally, and as we believe, according to Divine guidance, our hearts and minds turned unanimously to Dr. Bryan, and to our great joy he accepted the call to his former position of Superintendent of Evangelism and Enlistment, his term of service to begin June 1, 1924, when his engagement with the Conservation Commission will terminate.

The Board is exceedingly happy and considers itself fortunate in securing the return of Dr. Bryan. He has the poise and good judgment necessary in the handling of men and measures wisely. He has had experience in denominational work as State Secretary of Kentucky and in connection with the Home Mission Board and for the past year has been associated with Dr. L. R. Scarborough in the work of the Conservation Commission. Moreover, he has the passion for soul-winning and is a strong and capable preacher, sound in the faith and above reproach in character and life.

On account of our financial condition the Board has been forced to retrench in this department by accepting the resignation of several workers when they were called to other fields. It is the purpose, however, of the Board to increase our force of evangelists as speedily as possible and renew our vigor in prosecuting this work which has necessarily suffered from lack of intensive prosecution owing to the fact that the Corresponding Secretary, who has had it in charge temporarily, was so largely engaged with his other duties.

Mountain Missions and Schools

Our Mountain School work has so developed that it became necessary for us to secure an associate for Dr. A. E. Brown, our Superintendent, who has imperiled his health by excessive work and attention to its manifold details. Dr. J. W. O'Hara, graduate of Howard College and of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and successful pastor for years in Alabama and Tennessee, was chosen for this position as associate with Dr. Brown. For several years past he has been an enlistment worker in North Georgia under the Georgia Baptist Board of Missions, after a pastorate of years at Newport, Tennessee. Thus he was given the opportunity of intimate study of the mountain people and their problems, religiously and educationally. He has special charge of the teaching force and school management, while Dr. Brown gives himself to the finances and business features of the work.

A most stimulating account for the year is given in Dr. Brown's report. No finer piece of missionary work through the medium of schools can be found anywhere than that of our Mountain School work. It contains a record of all-absorbing interest.

All along we have adjusted our methods and program to conditions. The number of schools is smaller this year than last, due to combining in one or two places. The proposal is made to unite two others next year. As exigencies make it necessary other adjustments and eliminations will be made as the work progresses, while, on the other hand, the establishment of new schools may be necessary.

Foreigners, Indians and Negroes

The report of this work through Dr. B. C. Hening is brief but bears testimony to the efficiency of the work, to its growing success and the need for enlargement, especially in the better equipment of our workers. A score and more of chapels are needed for our work among the foreigners and Indians and we greatly need to enlarge our work among the Negroes, who are in our midst by the millions and constitute a serious factor in our religious, social, industrial and commercial life.

The Negroes within the bounds of our territory constitute not only a field, but likewise a force, and instead of a liability we must make them an increased asset for the on-going of the Kingdom of God in our homeland. They are our brethren in Christ, millions of them, and we must give them in their weakness of our strength. It is our privilege and our duty to help them into a larger realization of their own self-development and the salvation of the lost among their race.

Cuba and Panama

Cuba

The report from Cuba for the year is of surpassing interest. Superintendent McCall pursues his steady, wise and faithful leadership and great favor has come to him and his co-workers in that field.

A fine spirit of evangelism and growing consciousness of their strength and distinct advance towards self-support are striking features of the work as disclosed in the report of the Superintendent.

Instead of commenting further on the work in Cuba we quote from the report of the State Mission Secretaries after their visit to Cuba in February of this year:

"The State Secretaries were privileged to be able to hold the annual conference of the State Secretaries' Association this year in Havana, Cuba, and to visit a number of the mission stations and schools fostered by Southern Baptists on that island. As a result of our observations we unhesitatingly congratulate the Home Mission Board and the Baptists of the South on the fine progress and present status of the work in Cuba. The Secretaries present at the meeting were: R. D. Garland, of Virginia; Chas. E. Maddry, of North Carolina; T. J. Watts, of South Carolina (for Dr. Burts); Arch C. Cree, of Georgia; S. B. Rogers, of Florida; B. F. Rodman, of Illinois; C. M. Thompson, of Kentucky; W. H. Baylor, of Maryland; Lloyd T. Wilson, of Tennessee; S. H. Bennett, of Alabama (for Secretary Green); E. D. Solomon, of Louisiana; and R. B. Gunter, of Mississippi.

"We were especially impressed by the fine type of Cuban people, particularly the young men and women, who are being enlisted by our missionaries both in Havana and at the points in the interior. We were also gratified at the substantial character and strategic location of the Mission property, particularly in the cities of Havana, Mantanzas, and Cardenas, which we visited. The Baptist Temple in Havana is a superb property, superbly located. This property was bought over thirty years ago for $65,000. Real estate men in Havana now value the ground alone as worth over $350,000. In our judgment the new lot recently purchased as a site for the seminary and college buildings is a good investment. It is located in the heart of one of the best residential sections of Havana, upon the side of a hill and in full view of the larger part of the city. The leadership of our work in Cuba has manifestly been sound and sane in the conduct of the spiritual activities as well as in the acquiring of substantial and strategically located property.

"The personnel of our mission force is of a very high order every way, both American and Cuban. Dr. M. N. McCall, our Superintendent of Missions, is a man of remarkable spiritual power, high intelligence, force, and has the poise and balance of a master. The high esteem in which he is held in Cuba was manifest in the contacts he sought on our behalf with officials, transportation people, hotels, etc., as well as with the Cuban Christians. He and his associates are surely giving their lives in sacrificial service and, although limited in resources, equipment and number of workers, compared with the needs, their vision for the future is as bright as the promises of God.

"We are profoundly convinced that Southern Baptists must do much more for the Cuban mission work and do it now. The field is ripe unto the harvest. The Cubans are gratefully responsive to every approach from the United States. The Catholic religion is losing ground, and the churches are deserted because the people no longer trust that faith. Democracy is the Cuban Star of Hope. The Baptists' message and method with its spiritual democracy satisfies their heart-hunger as no other message. They believe in us. They trust us. Besides, Cuba is the gateway to Latin-speaking America, a strategic consideration in the development of the mission work there. The State Secretaries, to a man, were persuaded that NOW is the time and CUBA is the place to establish a training center and missionary base for a larger and more aggressive missionary effort among the Latin-speaking people of America.

"For these and many other reasons we are persuaded that the time has come to greatly enlarge and strengthen the Baptist work in Cuba. The new seminary and college buildings must be erected right away. On this point we feel we cannot be too emphatic. At other points permanent buildings and equipment must be provided soon. Additional workers must be sent at an early date to relieve that faithful and heroic little band who are literally spending their lives and their all in our stead to win Cuba to Christ.

"Therefore, beloved, we, the State Secretaries' Association, after close study and personal observation of the achievements and needs of our Baptist mission work in Cuba, record it as our mature conviction that Southern Baptists through our Home Mission Board must at once greatly enlarge our support of the mission work in Cuba if we are to realize our providential privilege and part in winning Cuba to Jesus Christ.

"S. B. ROGERS, Florida, President. ARCH C. CREE, Georgia, Secretary."

Panama

The work in Panama has been greatly strengthened by the erection of two modest chapels during the year and Superintendent Roberts writes most encouragingly about the work. There have been remarkable changes in the working forces on the Canal, but things are settling down to greater permanency and the benefit of this stability is showing itself in greater advances toward self-support. Indeed, the Balboa Heights Church, of which Rev. M. F. Roberts is pastor, in addition to his general superintendency of the work on the Zone, has about come to self-support.

The strategic importance of our work in the Canal Zone is strongly set forth in the following statement from the Superintendent: "Only last Sunday we had a party of Roumanian Baptists at the morning service. They said they had heard of the Balboa Heights Baptist Church before they crossed the seas and they considered it a distinct privilege to worship here."

Church Extension

Dr. Austin Crouch, Superintendent of Church Extension, has been with the Board since August, 1922. Much to the regret of the Board he has resigned and accepted the call to the First Baptist Church, Murfreesboro, Tennessee, where five years ago he had been pastor for a number of years. The Board expressed sincere regrets over the resignation of Dr. Crouch and accepted it because of Dr. Crouch's conviction that he should return to the pastorate. He carries with him the sincere esteem, affection and best wishes of the Board and of his co-laborers of the official staff.

Our Work Among the Jews

The Jews number some 500,000 in the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention. We are doing very little for them comparatively. We have only one worker giving his whole time to this field, Rev. Jacob Gartenhaus. He is faithful, capable and consecrated. We must as soon as possible come to his help with additional workers. A brief statement of his work is found in our departmental exhibit.

Work Among Deaf-Mutes

Rev. J. W. Michaels continues his work among the deaf-mutes with his accustomed zeal. He is sorely in need of assistance. We must speedily secure at least one helper for him. He is bending under the weight of years and service and it would be the part of wisdom for us to relieve him of some of his heaviest work of travel. The book prepared by him, "Handbook of the Sign-Language," is meeting with most gratifying endorsement. He has two other small books in contemplation, which with the handbook, will give excellent facilities for effective work among the deaf-mutes. We look to the future with great encouragement in this phase of our work.

Soldiers, Seamen and Marines

The work among the soldiers is chiefly co-operative in Texas, though we are meeting a great and pressing need among the tuber-cular soldiers at Oteen, North Carolina. We are still in need of a chapel adjoining the Government grounds to which the men could be invited for religious and social service and refreshment. The work among the seamen and marines at Jacksonville, Florida, is accomplishing great things among the men of the sea. Chaplain Karl J. Frost is a man sent of God for this work. We need to inaugurate at least two other places in our coast country.

Publicity

We have laid stress on our publicity this year in the way of tracts, articles for the denominational papers, "Home and Foreign Fields," and largely through advertisements. We hope to do more of this latter because of its value and because of the generous treatment of the denominational press in giving so much free publicity to our work.

Our Home Mission books have met with splendid endorsement. "From Strength to Strength," by Miss Margaret Lackey, has had fine success as a mission study book, as have also two other Home Mission books—"Cuba for Christ," by Mrs. Una Roberts Lawrence, and "Oak and Laurel," by Mrs. F. W. Withoft. Our book, "Songs of Redemption," continues to meet with widespread favor and the "Handbook of the Sign-Language," by J. W. Michaels, is filling a long-felt want and promises to be a standard of its kind.

We have in prospect one or two other Home Mission books. We have the manuscript of one by Miss Marie Buhlmaier, our great port missionary in Baltimore for many years, entitled "Along the Highway of Service."

SOME OUTSTANDING FEATURES

1. Necessary Retrenchment

Because of our financial condition, including our heavy debt, retrenchment in our operations was necessary, but painful because of the harm done to the work that everywhere called for enlargement.

2. Growth Towards Self-Support

We have never had such advance in the direction of self-support on the part of our mission fields and churches. It presents a most helpful and gratifying outlook. This move towards self-support has been a slow growth of years but has received a great impetus during this year, due to our steady, persistent support for years in the training and culture of new converts and the enlistment of the older members. A sense of stewardship of life, deep and strong, has flowered in the fruitage of self-support. Conspicuous cases of self-support are found:

In Havana in our English-speaking congregation who pay the entire salary of the pastor, the Board providing his home and the use of our church building for their services.

In Key West, Florida; the First Church, weak and struggling almost for existence for twenty years or more, supported all the while by the Board, has nearly come to self-support.

In Galveston, Texas, the same is true with Broadway Church, where the Board has planted and watered and nurtured for years. In a few months it will become self-supporting.

The same spirit of self-support with corresponding results is found in numerous cases. It augurs great things for the future.

3. New Fields

The five-year campaign has not only brought weak missions and churches to strength and self-support, but opened up new fields in every department of our work. Our people have been brought to a consciousness of responsibility and opportunity in their Christian lives. This has moved them to greater activity and the seizing of new fields. The spirit of evangelism and the activity of our evangelists and missionaries have penetrated unexpected fields which in turn have responded to the gospel message and are sending out pleas for help.

4. More Volunteers with Better Equipment

A striking feature of the year's work is the increased number of volunteers and their better equipment for Christian service. Scores and scores of our best young men and young women are applying for work in the Home Mission field. The fields are ripe and ready for these reenforcements. Indeed, this whiteness of the harvest fields, with its compelling plea, is one of the prime reasons for the unusual number of volunteers. Many of our most capable young pastors and pastors of years of experience are moved by the evangelistic spirit and are saying, "Here am I, send me!"

5. Imperative Need of Enlargement

For our schools and churches the cry for better and more ample facilities is imperative. Our very success is contingent on supplying our forces with proper buildings and equipment. Without these we cannot preserve what we have and are barred from advancing.

6. Some Significant Comparisons

A comparison of the growth in our work during the year 1919 and 1923 is very striking. It holds good in most of our fields almost as strikingly as in the case of Cuba, which reported 166 baptisms in 1919 and 333 in 1923, an increase of over fifty per cent; in 1919 the Cuban churches raised $7,000.00; in 1923 $11,000.00, over fifty per cent increase. Our two leading schools, in Havana and Santa Clara, had 100 pupils in 1919; in 1923 had 400, an increase of 400 per cent.

The Superintendent, Dr. M. N. McCall, believes that an even greater percentage of advances will be made within the next five years if we give needed reenforcements in men and equipment. A half-dozen new workers are needed and as many modest chapels, but the great outstanding need there is a building on our fine school lot in Havana.

RECOMMENDATIONS

In Kansas City one year ago the Convention adopted the following recommendations of the Committee on Hospitals with reference to the proposed New Orleans Hospital:

As to New Orleans Hospital

- "1. That a special hospital commission, consisting of one member from each state, shall be created by this Convention, and that the erection and administration of the proposed New Orleans Hospital be turned over to this Commission.
- "2. That the Home Mission Board be instructed to contribute $250,000 toward the first unit of the institution, the construction of which shall commence not earlier than December 1, 1924, and that this amount shall be the limit of the Home Mission Board's responsibility.
- "3. That the Baptists of Louisiana will be expected to contribute not less than $100,000 toward the first unit.
- "4. That such funds necessary to ultimately complete an institution to cost not less than $2,000,000,000 shall be provided by this convention from future campaigns, said funds to be administered by said hospital commission; that the $250,000 put into the New Orleans Hospital by the Home Mission Board shall be refunded to the Board out of the hospital funds."

We earnestly recommend and petition that the Home Mission Board be relieved by the Convention of this $250,000 towards the erection of the hospital for the following reasons:

First. Because of our burdensome debt that has continued for four years without being reduced and which threatens our credit at the banks.

Second. Because it would almost strand our regular work if we should be forced to pay this $250,000.

Third. Because provision in the above resolutions is made for a separate and distinct hospital fund out of which the $250,000 is to be refunded to the Home Mission Board. Why require our Board to advance for an extraneous institution whose erection and control is otherwise provided for, namely in the Hospital Commission, every cent of which would have to be borrowed, which would jeopardize every department of our work now bleeding from drastic trimming in our enforced retrenchment? If the amount is to be refunded why not relieve us now? The Home Mission Board turns over to the Hospital Commission the finest site in New Orleans absolutely free and the Commission has no debt and provision is to be made for a distinct Hospital Fund by the Convention. We, therefore, earnestly beg that the Home Mission Board be absolved from all financial obligations in connection with the proposed New Orleans Hospital.

As to Advance Loans to Seminaries

We recommend that some reasonable plan be adopted for relieving our Board of further advance loans to the seminaries and the Bible Institute, which will also provide for these institutions in their building operations, especially in the case of the seminary in Louisville.

As to Finances

For four years we have borne a heavy and burdensome, indeed, well-nigh unbearable debt. Our receipts have been smaller each year and this has made retrenchment necessary in our work everywhere. We have not complained nor have we asked for any extra collections to relieve this terrible strain of debt. Indeed, throughout the campaign we have kept the covenants inviolate and asked for no extra gifts for Home Missions. When brethren, seeing that Home Missions was so handicapped, have asked if they ought not to designate the balance of their gifts to Home Missions we have always advised against it.

For the remainder of this campaign, we recommend:

That new and additional subscriptions be made for the campaign without designation to any specific object and that from the undesignated funds those interests that are relatively behind shall receive their due proportion. In this way we will be able to adjust the matter of percentages.

As to a future campaign, we recommend:

That the terms and agreements be so set forth that we may obviate the mistakes and misunderstandings of the present campaign.

On these and other matters connected with a new campaign it is obvious that there must be conference and cooperation between Southwide and State-wide agencies.

As to Sphere and Scope of Home Missions

The Home Mission Board has always with the utmost fidelity tried to carry out the general policies or any special functions assigned it by the Convention. We have been and are of open mind towards suggestions as to improvements in methods of work and have from time to time adjusted our methods to changing conditions. Recently, however, there has been recurring and almost continuous discussion as to the sphere and scope of Home Mission activities. This has disturbed our people, created restlessness and is doing much harm to our work. Constant agitation on this line will have its disintegrating influence on our people and of course sorely affect their contributions.

In view of the consequence of this agitation and uncertainty your Board recommends and urges that the following clear-cut and well-defined sphere and scope of Home Mission activities be adopted by the Convention and that our other denominational agencies be requested and urged to cooperate with us in carrying out this program:

- 1. Cooperative Missions—with their unifying influence among Southern Baptists, and the effective method by which the strong render assistance to the weak.
- 2. Evangelism and Enlistment—without which the Kingdom of our Lord cannot progress or our denomination succeed.
- 3. Mountain Mission Schools—which have been fostered by this Board with unprecedented success and through which agency untold good has been accomplished.
- 4. Work among the Foreigners, Indians and Negroes to a greater extent even than heretofore and in which we have been restricted by lack of means.
- 5. Cuba and Panama—where our work prospers with telling effect to the great encouragement of all who take the trouble to inquire into its success.
- 6. Church Building Loan Fund—through which we have been enabled to help about 2,000 churches acquire suitable places for work and worship.
- 7. Our work among the Jews in our territory—of which there are more than 500,000.
- 8. Our activities in the interest of the 40,000 Deaf-Mutes in the South.
- 9. Our work among the Soldiers, Seamen and Marines—which is being so greatly blessed of God.

CONCLUSION

We conclude this report, as we began, with sincere gratitude to God for His guidance and blessings and to the brotherhood for their cooperation and to our faithful missionaries, who have labored in season and out of season with all fidelity and thus made possible the successes and triumphs of the work and made the year conspicuous and glorious for the victories achieved. We are preceding the convention with our sincere and earnest prayers that God may lead in all the deliberations and set us forward with greater plans for His glory.

Departmental Exhibit of Work

CO-OPERATIVE MISSIONS

Under Direction of the Corresponding Secretary

This oldest feature of our work and the one that has existed through all the history of the Board with ever-increasing strength and effectiveness has had a year of gratifying success. It is under the supervision of the Corresponding Secretary and puts us in closer touch with the various state agencies than any other department of our activities. Its large benefits as a frontier force and helping agency from the strong to the weak are everywhere recognized as the chief agency of Southern Baptists in unifying and solidifying our people into a great brotherhood with singular compactness and efficiency. This feature of our work has been reduced in a few of the states but in the majority of instances they were clamoring at the beginning of the present year for enlargement instead of reduction. Our expenditures for the year in this department have been $174,-846.52.

The following table shows in a brief statistical way some of the achievements in this department:

This summary gives an epitome of the work of various Home Board Departments, so far as that may be done in terms common to all. The Church Building, Enlistment and Publicity Departments are not included because their service does not lend itself well to statement in the above table. The activities of these departments and the further activities of all departments will be found in detail in the proper place in the report. Much the larger part of the service in cities is included under the heads "Co-operation," "Foreigners," "Evangelism," and "Camp Work."
*Except in the case of "Mountain Schools" and "Cuba," the teachers are included in the first figures at top of each column, showing number of workers. For explanation of the teachers in Cuba, see the report of the Cuban Superintendent.

EVANGELISM AND ENLISTMENT

....., Superintendent.

We had the misfortune to lose Dr. O. E. Bryan from the superintendency of Evangelism and Enlistment last June. The Conservation Commission of the 75 Million Campaign induced him, much to our regret and against our protest, to accept the position of Budget Director of the Campaign, in view of his fine record in introducing the budget system so effectively in Kentucky when he was State Secretary before his coming to the Home Mission Board. Dr. Scarborough has the highest words of praise for the fine service rendered by Dr. Bryan during the year as Budget Director and in his advocacy of the 75 Million Campaign before our various denominational bodies.

For six months and more the Home Mission Board made earnest but unsuccessful efforts to secure a successor to Dr. Bryan. Then, in answer to our prayers, we believe, our hearts and minds enthusiastically and unanimously turned to Dr. Bryan, and the matter of his return to the superintendency of Evangelism and the Home Board was pressed upon him, and resulted, to our great delight, in his acceptance of the call to return to his former work at the close of his year's engagement with the Conservation Commission, June 1, 1924.

In the meantime the work of Evangelism and Enlistment has been directed by the Corresponding Secretary in addition to his manifold duties otherwise. It has not been possible for these departments of our work to be pressed with the intensity and the persistence formerly given to it, but the favor of the Lord has been abundantly manifested during the year. Our results have been most gratifying indeed, notwithstanding the loss of a number of workers by resignation and our inability, on account of our financial condition, to fill their places or to engage additional men.

We have had fewer simultaneous campaigns in cities and rural districts on account of having no superintendent to give special direction and emphasis to this phase of our evangelistic work. In the way of Enlistment, however, there have been campaigns which have produced large results, this being notably true in Missouri under the leadership of Rev. J. W. Beagle, our Enlistment worker in this state. The Board proposes a distinct increase in our forces if the finances will justify it for the new year.

We present below in tabular form some of the achievements in Evangelism and Enlistment for the year 1923-1924.

FOREIGNERS, INDIANS AND NEGROES

B. C. HENING, SUPERINTENDENT

In proportion to the number of workers, no year has been more fruitful of good among the peoples of this department than the year which has just come to a close.

We have been greatly handicapped by lack of funds. This condition has not only made it impossible to increase our forces, but made it difficult to avoid hurtful retrenchment.

A serious hindrance, in fact, a burdensome embarrassment, is our inability to provide our workers the modest chapels they need so much in order to accomplish the greatest good. A suitable place for work and worship will often increase the results on a mission field more than a hundredfold.

In the light of the constantly growing needs for work, not only among the foreigners and the Negroes, but as well among the Indians, and the consequent perils to our Southland from the increasing number of all these, it is imperative that we engage far more heartily and extensively in missionary work among them. We must have more money. It will be little enough for us to double at once the number of workers engaged.

There is insistent need for not less than fifty thousand dollars to expend promptly in the erection of modest chapels.

The urgent necessity for schools as agencies in missionary work is so clear as to distress us as we contemplate the tragic lack of them. At El Paso we should proceed at once to carry forward the school enterprise set aside five years ago for the want of funds with which to continue it. We have a good day school there, conducted in the little church building, but a far wider and far-reaching consequence would result from the conduct of such a school as was contemplated when the Board had to stop with the purchase of the land only on which to construct it. We must have this and other schools in order to prepare workers for the million Mexicans among us, and among other foreigners, in order to reach and train them for Christ.

Our work among the Negroes, while helpful and greatly appreciated by them, is not half so extensive as the exigencies of the case require.

The following exhibit will indicate that we have ample cause to be grateful to God for the manifest tokens of His approval and grace upon our workers and work:

A detailed account of all services rendered by missionaries would be too lengthy for this report. Sunday-school classes taught regularly, personal interviews with the unsaved in the interest of their salvation, charity work among the poor with whom they must necessarily come in contact, are some of the many things in which missionaries serve well.

MOUNTAIN SCHOOLS

A. E. BROWN, SUPERINTENDENT

J. W. O'HARA, ASSOCIATE SUPERINTENDENT

In presenting this report we are happy to chronicle another successful year for our thirty mountain schools. We reported thirty-one last year, but in pursuance of our policy to combine schools as opportunity arises, and thus enable us to provide better equipment, we combined the Gaylesville Academy with the Tennessee River Institute at Bridgeport, Alabama.

The Department was fortunate in securing as Associate Superintendent, Dr. J. W. O'Hara, who had been Enlistment Field Secretary in North Georgia under the Georgia Baptist Mission Board for some years. The coming of Dr. O'Hara greatly relieved the Superintendent, whose overworked condition was telling on him very sensibly. The work in the office was divided, the Superintendent retaining the financial and executive matters, while the Associate Superintendent was given direction of the operation and standardization of the schools. Superintendent Brown was taken seriously ill the last of February and was unable to be in the office, or give attention to business, for more than six weeks. He has sufficiently recovered to spend part of each day in the office now, and is taking up again the field work.

Reports from the schools give the following statistics: Number of schools, 30; teachers, 216; pupils, 4,920; ministerial students, 231; graduates, 486; conversions, 434; cost of operating the schools, $204,981; of this sum the Board paid $47,950; value of improvements, $152,640; of this sum the Board paid $49,650; present valuation of property is $1,806,550.

Three of our schools have qualified as Junior Colleges. Twentyone of the high schools and the three Junior Colleges are fully accredited.

We are devoutly thankful for the excellent health of our teachers and students during the year. While there was, of course, more or less sickness, no death occurred and no schools had to be suspended on account of epidemics, and the work at none of the schools has been interrupted during the year on account of illness.

Revivals are reported in practically all of the schools with gracious results. It is a fact chronicled before in our reports that few of our students go away from the schools unsaved. The deep spirit of evangelism, which has obtained in all the past years of the work, continues to manifest itself in each of the schools. While our teachers are selected with reference to their interest in the salvation of souls, and have uniformly justified their selection in this respect, the evangelistic spirit in the schools is due in no small measure to the presence of ministerial students and volunteers for mission work by a large number of our young women.

The ministerial students have not only proven themselves a benediction to their fellow students, but have been blessings to the communities adjacent to the schools. They have been active in season and out of season. What a pity we cannot accommodate in our schools more ministerial students! A little addition in the way of cottages where married ministerial students could live, and an aid fund provided for all ministerial students, would increase the number in attendance at our schools. Our policy is to give free tuition to all ministers and half tuition to the children of ministers who are actively engaged in the ministerial work.

It is with regret that we report the destruction of three buildings by fire during the year. The administration building of the Bleckley Institute at Clayton, Georgia, was burned early in the fall. The school was continued by arranging recitation rooms in the girls' dormitory. Insurance was carried on the building. We recommend that this school be combined with the Hiawassee Academy, as the indications are sufficient that it has served its purpose in this section.

One of the girls' dormitories of Fruitland Institute was also destroyed by fire. The building and contents were a total loss. A reasonable insurance was carried on the building. The inmates were cared for in the other girls' dormitory. Though crowded, their work has moved along without interruption. This building is to be replaced this summer by a fifty-room dormitory known as the Martha Sullinger Girls' Dormitory.

The boys' dormitory of Smoky Mountain Academy, near Sevierville, Tennessee, burned late in the fall. This was a privately-owned building. The boys were cared for in near-by cottages, recently purchased by the Board of Trustees. A new dormitory is planned for this institution. We are glad to report that no one was injured in any of these fires. The pupils fortunately were out of the buildings at the time of the fires.

The administration building of Tennessee River Institute, reported last year destroyed by fire, has been rebuilt and is now occupied.

Much construction work has been done during the year. The administration buildings of Barbourville Baptist Institute, Barbourville, Kentucky, and Hiawassee Academy, Hiawassee, Georgia, have been remodeled and enlarged. Much is added to the comfort, convenience and efficiency of these buildings. The boys' dormitory of North Greenville Academy, Tigerville, South Carolina, has been brick veneered. A gymnasium for Mars Hill College is in the course of erection. More or less repair work and improvements have been made at practically all of the other schools.

In the course of our development at Mars Hill College we have provided for caring for 125 boarding girls in a splendid brick building in which is a dining hall with a capacity for 250, but our boys have been cared for in old, out-of-date, wooden buildings located here and there about the campus. The question of how to provide for these boys adequately had become quite acute when a friend of the school, now living in California, came forward with a proposition to build a $50,000 dormitory for boys on condition that other friends of the school would put a similar sum into another building for boys. This gift was clearly providential. Under the stimulus of this gift the trustees secured the Sams' farm, which lies alongside the college property, and the new buildings for boys will be built on this new property. Plans have already been made and brick are being burned for these new buildings. This will greatly relieve the situation at Mars Hill, so far as boarding accommodations for boys is concerned, but it raises another problem of providing additional teaching rooms, and this problem is pressing for immediate solution. The trustees of the schools are facing it heroically, but outside help must be rendered before they can adequately provide accommodations for teaching.

The greatest need at some of the schools is for repairs. The straitened financial condition of the Board has prevented it from keeping up repairs at some of the schools until some of our buildings are positively going to pieces, and repairs must be made during this summer or the buildings will not be fit to be occupied longer.

Few manges were made among the teachers during the session. Considerable change is noted, however, in forming faculties for the coming session. The visits to the colleges by the Associate Superintendent, together with scores of applications from the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention, have placed on file a sufficient number of applications from specially fitted men and women to fill all vacancies. The faculties are practically complete for the coming session. Too much cannot be said concerning these God-called men and women in their difficult tasks. They are consecrated, self-sacrificing, untiring in effort, thorough and efficient. All could secure more elsewhere, but they prefer to work in our schools because of the larger opportunity for service.

We are pleased to report that some men of means are beginning to take notice in a substantial way of the work being done by the Board in its mountain schools. This has been notably true during the past year at Mars Hill College. In addition to the gift of $50,000 by Brother M. C. Treat, and a like sum voted by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina for this institution, gifts have been made by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Matthews, of Greensboro, North Carolina, of $1,000 to be used as an Aid Fund for worthy young persons who are struggling to better their conditions. A similar fund was provided by Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Riddick, of Asheville, North Carolina, as a memorial to their son, Charles who died a soldier in the World War. Also a gift by Superintendent Brown of a fund sufficiently large, the income from which will provide a course of lectures each year at Mars Hill College.

For a long while we have been anxiously praying that some way might be opened to provide a trained nurse at each of our schools, not only to look after the sick in the school, but to teach health preservation to the students. This work was commenced during the past session by a gift from Miss Ellen T. Rider, of Washington City, who is supporting Miss Kelley, a trained nurse, at Mars Hill College.

For some time Miss Theresa Thompson, of Washington City, has been interested in the practical training of our boys and girls in the mountains, and in addition to gifts which she has been making to Fruitland Institute for this work, she has authorized the Superintendent to equip a Manual Training and Home Economics building for our Hiawassee Academy.

It is devoutly hoped that the example of these friends of our mission work in the mountains will provoke others to make liberal gifts to these schools.

A questionnaire recently sent out by the Associate Superintendent secured valuable information as to the influence of the Mountain Schools during the quarter of a century of Home Board management. They have given instruction annually to around five thousand boys and girls. They have been a leavening influence toward better morals, better law enforcement, better citizenship. They have been a powerful factor in social uplift. Higher home ideals and purer home life have been part of the results from homes established by boys and girls who have been pupils in these schools. They have supplied from twenty-five to seventy-five per cent of the public school teachers in sections adjacent thereto. They have contributed thousands of pastors and church workers to the churches during this period. Many sections formerly anti-missionary are now in hearty cooperation with the organized work. Only eternity will tell all their beneficient influence. Thousands of boys and girls eagerly wait the opportunity of entrance. Help extended in a small way to numbers would make it possible for them to take advantage of this opportunity for an education. Appropriations sufficient for adequate equipment and enlarged dormitory facilities will make possible a work of more far-reaching consequence.

Following is appended a table of statistics which speaks for itself:

CUBA AND PANAMA

Cuba

M. N. McCall, Superintendent.

The year just closed has been one of quiet, steady progress. No new workers have been added to our force, though Miss Luella Bell, who had been absent on account of ill health, returned. Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Miller have been absent, on account of Mrs. Miller's health, and because of his desire to do graduate work in Peabody College. There has been no extension into new fields, though one new church has been organized and seven Sunday schools added to the list of those already existing.

Five Years' Work

Glancing back over five years, the period of our 75 Million Campaign, we encompass a period that has brought to Cuba several trying experiences. First, a season of unequalled prosperity was brought about by the high price of sugar. The nation went money-mad and entered upon a mad rush of spending and pleasure seeking—a time when it was very difficult to get a serious message home to the hearts of the people. They were thinking of everything except God. Then, there came a corresponding economic slump, a time when the largest banks closed their doors, the strongest commercial houses failed and millionaires became beggars over night. The depression was so great that there was a long period when the government could not pay its employes, the masses of the people walked the streets without work, and many thousands went hungry. This was also a trying time for our work.

But in the midst of it all there has been a steady progress that encourages us and calls forth our gratitude to God for His many benefits and for the achievements which He has made possible.

An Encouraging Comparison

In 1919 our churches reported 166 baptisms; in 1923 the number reported was 333, an increase of one hundred per cent. In 1919 our churches contributed seven thousand dollars for all purposes; in 1923 they reported nearly eleven thousand dollars, an increase of fifty per cent. In 1919 our Cuban-American College in Havana reported barely one hundred enrolled, and El Colegio Bautista of Santa Clara was just beginning. In 1923 the two matriculated nearly four hundred, an increase of nearly four hundred per cent. In the smaller and less pretentious schools there was also improvement and progress. In the meantime both the first mentioned schools were incorporated to the national institutes and prepared to present their students for the official bachelors' degrees.

A summary statement for the period of five years shows 1,132 baptisms, more than $44,000 contributed for general purposes and considerably over $12,000 for pastoral support of the native churches. Under conditions as they exist in America, the number of baptisms may not seem large, but to those of us near at hand, who know that each individual case represents a struggle and a victory, these figures mean much, and are eloquent with prophecy for the future. If the same ratio should prevail in the next five years, and we believe it will be exceeded, we shall baptize 666 in 1924-25, and nearly 2,500 during the five-year period. We shall have at that time more than 1,000 in our two principal schools. As we say, we believe that conversions and baptisms will increase in greater proportion. The seed sowing of past years will give its fruit with a multiplying ratio of increase.

Some New Things

Some new things have come to us during the five years. We have begun gospel tent work. We had feared to undertake work of that nature, though we had often thought of it, lest it call forth the spirit of violence on the part of the uncultured Catholic masses. But we have found that it everywhere meets the cordial approval of the Cuban public. Many thousands who are out of reach of our regular preaching places have thus received a message, and an equal number who were prejudiced against our church buildings by early training have heard gladly. Tent work is a decided success and we could multiply the number of tents with great profit.

A general B.Y.P.U. organization has been begun. The majority of our church members are young people, a fact in which we rejoice because of what it means for the future. The young people's society or union has a fine opportunity for service and meets a ready response from our young people. Three years ago steps were taken to federate the local unions, and two enthusiastic conventions have been held.

A great impetus has also been given to the Women's work during this period. The number of local missionary societies among the women, young women and children, has greatly increased, and their total contributions to the work are eight times as large as they were five years ago.

Our Home Mission Board has made some important property increases in the five years. The Baptist Temple in Havana, formerly the Jane theater, has been renovated and partly rebuilt at an expense of over a hundred thousand dollars. We had been using the building for thirty years without repairs of importance, and its reconstruction had become necessary. It is now a credit to our great denomination, and an efficient mission plant.

But our most notable property acquisition since we bought the present Baptist Temple is the new school site, purchased by our Board three and a half years ago. It is on the slope of a hillside, overlooking the city and the sea, in the heart of the beautiful residential section known as Jesus del Monte. It comprises twelve and a half acres and is in easy access to all parts of the city. Southern Baptists have done no single thing that means so much for their Master's cause in Cuba. They have secured an ample school site that will answer all purposes for generations to come. A Baptist college of high order, bringing to our Baptist youth and to others, the right kind of training in the right atmosphere, will bring strength and solidity for the future as no other single thing. We should not delay in putting up a first unit that would enable us to open our doors in the fall of 1925.

Visit of State Secretaries

The meeting of the Association of State Secretaries in Havana in March, of this year, brought great cheer and encouragement to our Cuban Baptists. The secretaries spent six days on the Island and were given such facilities as we could command for seeing the work as it is. The limited time permitted them to visit only five out of the thirty-seven centers of activity.

We went East to Matanzas and Cardenas, sixty and one hundred miles respectively, and at the former place happened in on the midweek prayer meeting. They were able to look over the church properties at both places and to visit the home of a Cuban Baptist family.

Returning to Havana they visited three centers of work, two of which have become self-supporting, mainly through schools maintained in connection with the churches. They saw our regular young people's meeting and Sunday school at the Temple, and were at a Sunday night service, closing their visit by looking in on the chapel exercises of the Cuban-American College Monday morning. Several of the brethren brought inspiring messages at different places and times. Perhaps they could not have seen more in the limited time at their command. They were thoroughly sympathetic and helpful in their good fellowship, demonstrating beyond question that they were inspired only by a sincere desire to see and learn that they might help. They expressed themselves as surprised at the importance of Cuba and pleased with the work as they saw it. With one accord they felt that the situation calls for enlargement of force and equipment. Their visit was most cheering and helpful to the forces on the field, and we believe will be helpful in getting the facts of Cuban work and needs before Southern Baptists. We are deeply grateful for their coming at this time.

The Gateway to Latin-America

No missionary call is more imperative to Southern Baptists than that of Latin-America. Our sister republics of the South look to us and depend upon us in many ways. Pan-Americanism is no longer a pet day-dream but a wonderful working reality. American capital, American specialists and American goods are moving southward in ever-increasing volume. We must send also the truth that has made possible the best in American life. Latin-America's products are finding their way into the remotest American markets, and her young men are more and more seeking our schools and colleges. We must uplift Latin-America or be dragged down by her.

Cuba is our nearest neighbor among these sister republics, and the one that feels the strongest impact of American life. I am told that eighty-six per cent of all of the sugar industry in Cuba is in the hands of Americans. Situated in the geographical center of the Western Hemisphere, at the entrance to the Southern seas, where the great transportation lines cross, Cuba is indeed the gateway to Latin-America. It behooves us to demonstrate there what the Gospel of our Lord can do for the eighty millions of our Southern neighbors.

Present Status

We now have working 36 preachers, two of whom are American. We have 36 other workers, including teachers, seven of whom are American. There have been held during the year 3,644 preaching services, 1,020 prayer meetings, 2,350 Sunday-school services. They have made 24,520 religious visits. The Sunday schools have enrolled 3,740, with an average attendance of 2,512. The churches report a membership of 2,643 and contributed $10,746.23. There have been in operation 13 day schools, with a total enrollment of 1,343.

We have one Gospel tent in operation, a monthly religious paper, and a printing plant worth $8,000.

Pressing Needs

Our needs are many, for our opportunity is limited only by our own effort. Cuba is open to receive the Gospel and there are many calls to which we cannot respond. But to take care of the work which we now have, and its normal growth, we need two more American men, five women workers and the ability to take care of three available native workers. We need to strengthen our evangelistic force. We need church buildings at eight points, and the nucleus of a school plant in Havana.

A Crucial Time

We believe that now is the crucial time in our Cuban work. If we are faithful and diligent now, great things are before us and we will be made to rejoice more and more because of the great things our Lord is doing in Cuba.

Panama

M. F. ROBERTS, SUPERINTENDENT

We come to the close of another year with cause for rejoicing and with a deep sense of gratitude to God for His blessings upon our labors. The work has been difficult. It will always be hard on the religious worker here. The man who comes here for service may figure up all the problems of a State's pastorate, and multiply by two to make up for adverse local conditions. Yet we have made some advances all along the line and gladly give God the glory. While there are not as many people, conditions are much better on the Canal Zone than they were two years ago. The folks are more of a settled mind and respond to the appeals of the church with much more enthusiasm. We go forth into the new year to build upon our foundations with assurance of Divine favor.

American Work

The Balboa Heights Church (The American Church) has a good organization. Every department of the church is working smoothly and prospects are bright for the future. The Sunday school is larger than it has been in the history of the church. The Adult class has a membership of seventy, and is making a great impression on the community. The Woman's Missionary Society and the B.Y.P.U. are working on a real Baptist program and this is making itself felt in the church and community.

In 1922, the operating force of the Canal was greatly reduced. Our Sunday school, church membership and congregation were reduced by more than one-half. We have been building gradually since and have now reached our former numbers. We now have an attendance at Sunday school, also at the church services, that exceeds the total church membership. If we can reach these prospects we are in good way for a greater increase in membership next year.

We have not had any special evangelistic meetings this year, but have tried to make up for this by making the Sunday evening services distinctly evangelistic. Twenty-three have been received for baptism and eleven by letter during the year. In finances, the church has cared for its own current expense, except the pastor's salary. The problem of current expense is a burden on a church with a small membership because it is necessary to maintain as good a church program as it would be if we had a large and strong church. Anything else would be a failure here. The tropical weather always presents us with a heavy bill for repairs to the property. The church is now paying on the pastor's salary the amount which it reckons will pay for the service to the local church. It is necessary for the pastor, as superintendent, to give a large portion of his time to the general work. There is good reason to hope that next year this church will take care of this expense entirely.

Attention has been called in communications in the "Home and Foreign Fields," to the Canal Zone as a strategic place in the affairs of the world. Too much stress cannot be placed on the importance of maintaining a live Baptist church with a strong Home Mission organization that our message may be kept before the people of the nations. Only last Sunday we had a party of Roumanian Baptists at the morning service. They said they had heard of the Balboa Heights Baptist Church before they crossed the seas and they considered it a distinct privilege to worship here.

The West Indian Work

Our workers are able to show progress in this department. This work, too, is filled with many difficulties. The West Indians are a desperately poor people. They are easily blown about by the winds and there is always some fanatical sect springing up to furnish them a breeze. The Marcus Garvey Back-to-Africa Movement caught more of these unfortunate people than any fad that has ever come along. This enterprise is losing its momentum and the people are coming back to their friends. Our ministers and churches are giving the people efficient and unselfish service.

Much has been done to bring the entire work into sympathetic touch with the convention program. All departments are doing distinctly Baptist work. The Christian Endeavor has been displaced by our B.Y.P.U. This created a little disturbance at first, but the plan is now working smoothly, and the people are happy in learning about their own church.

The two buildings, one at Gatun and one at Red Tank, have been completed, and the people are happy to have a place to worship. The members of these two churches are all Canal employes, and should be able to sustain their part of the work. They are starting off well and promise to rally with loyalty to the denominational cause.

Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Thrift are doing a fine work in all their stations—Colon, Catavia, Neva, Providencia, Gatun. Colon is the oldest and largest of our West Indian churches. Brother Thrift has the distinction of preaching to the largest Protestant congregation on the Isthmus. The Atlantic side churches have had thirty-one accessions by baptism and forty by letter and restoration. They have a Sunday-school enrollment of 500 and church membership of 406. They have raised money to take care of their current expenses, have made substantial payment on the new building at Gatun, have made extensive repairs to property, and have paid $284.77 on the pastor's salary.

Rev. and Mrs. Stephen Witt are our long-time friends on the Pacific side of the Isthmus. They are giving their very lives to the West Indian people.

Chorillo, in Panama City, is the mother church over here, and all the churches are in sympathetic fellowship with this church. Brother Witt has baptized thirty-two, received by letter and restoration forty, has a Sunday-school enrollment of 750, and a church membership of 315. In the matter of finances, the five churches of this work have raised a little more than $1,800 for the many items of current expense, including repairs, and have paid $200 on the pastor's salary.

WORK AMONG THE JEWS

No work undertaken by the Home Mission Board calls for more wisdom, patience, persistence and consecration than our work for the Jews. A vast amount of indifference stands in the way. By many the Jews are not included in their mission conception and sympathies. In fact the great majority of our people seem to have no real conviction as to their religious duty to the Jews. They seem to regard the Jews as beyond the reach of the gospel. They are not aware of the success of missions among the Jews and this doubtless accounts in large measure for their lack of interest in such work. We must, therefore, give greater publicity to the results achieved and greatly enlarge the work.

We are fortunate in having so consecrated and capable a worker as Rev. Jacob Gartenhaus. He does not spare himself in his labors for "his brethren, his kinsmen according to the flesh" and while the tabulated results of his labors are not striking, he is sowing seed for a future harvest. We have abundant evidence that his labors directly with the Jewish people and in arousing Christian people to greater interest in the salvation of the Jews are being signally blessed.

We sorely need and must have as soon as possible re-enforcements in this department of our work.

REPORT OF JACOB GARTENHAUS

It has been my privilege to present the claims of this important work before conventions of both men and women, and in many of our churches. Invitations to speak in the interest of this cause have been too numerous, and sometimes conflicting to accept all of them. We are grateful, indeed, for such manifestations of an awakened interest on the part of the people in the salvation of their Jewish neighbors. Many letters have been received asking for information as to how the writers could best serve in this work among the Jews in their respective communities. Requests for literature have been so numerous as to make necessary the publication of several editions of tracts on this work. Many throughout the South and in other places have been praying for the salvation of the Jews as never before.

My methods of work in places visited have been those of the Apostle Paul—to visit first my own people, presenting the Gospel to them; answering their questions and inviting them most cordially to attend public services held by me. Those who are interested in religion will generally accept such invitations except in cases where they feel an atmosphere of indifference concerning them on the part of Christian people. It is to be deplored, too, that in numbers of cases there is not only indifference concerning the Jews but a hostile attitude toward them.

Sad to say, the missionary meets many of his people who are not interested in any religion, but are self-righteous, self-centered and pleasure seeking.

Many Christians manifest their increased interest in the salvation of the Jews by contributions to this work. One such gift of a hundred and fifty dollars was sent to us from Mexico. To avoid violation of campaign agreements such contributions are discouraged, but the voluntary and eager disposition to contribute to this work indicates a growing interest in it.

Many leading papers published here and in Europe have written commending our work, and some of these contain articles which I have written.

Information has come that a few of our pastors have received Jewish converts into the membership of their churches. No doubt there are others about whom we have not heard.

This day, when the Jewish people are manifestly drifting in great numbers away from their religion, is the time for progressive and persistent efforts for their evangelization. My earnest plea is that our Baptist brethren by their increased gifts will enable the Home Mission Board to multiply its efforts for the salvation of the thousands of Jews among us. We praise God for manifest tokens of His favor upon the work and take courage.

During the conventional year I have made 888 personal visits; conversations 1,043; tracts distributed 11,600; Gospels distributed 265; Bibles sold 9; Bibles given away 6; Testaments sold 96; Testaments given away 16; conversions 3; sermons preached 123.

Work Among the Deaf

Our veteran missionary, Rev. J. W. Michaels, continues with unabated zeal his work among the Deaf-Mutes. He is truly Pauline in his labors and the Lord is wonderfully blessing his work.

The "Handbook of the Sign-Language" prepared by Brother Michaels has met with gratifying success. He has calls for it from missionaries in Japan and China and other foreign countries and hopes to see it included in the courses in our theological seminaries and Bible Institute. The sign-language is a universal language and can therefore be easily learned and equally serviceable in the foreign as in the home field.

The weight of years and hard work are telling upon the vital forces of this man of God. We must lighten his burdens and secure at least one good helper for him immediately.

Report of J. W. Michaels

In presenting my annual report for the year 1923-1924, I am pleased to state that the year has been fraught with good work for God and the deaf people. Besides 121 sermons preached by me as your Missionary, the Sunday-school leaders in all parts of the field have given religious addresses weekly. The conversions during the year, one hundred and forty-two, are those made by me. Many others were won by the helpers in the field. The collections have been light, $157.41, while the expenses have run up to $478.91. This is due to the reduction in wages in all trades and the continued war-time "high cost of living." The Sunday-school classes for the Deaf in many of the Baptist churches contribute to the mission work just as the hearing people do.

I am glad to report that the "Handbook of the Sign-Language" published by the Board especially as an aid for ministers of the Gospel, Sunday-school teachers and missionary workers, both Home and Foreign, has had a fair circulation and is proving of great help in the work among the Deaf. As a result of the book Sunday-school classes have been started in many places by hearing people for the deaf since reading the advertisements of the little book. Such is the case in California, Washington State, Maine, even in Ireland, Russia, South America, and China. But while this is true I regret to mention that I have been unable to get in touch with the many Sunday-school Superintendents in the Southern Baptist Convention territory and get them to order a copy of the book for their Sunday-school libraries, and thus be in a position to hold the deaf mutes when occasion might offer. Where a hearing teacher knows some of the sign-language, or even the hand alphabet, the deaf will go to his or her Sunday school and get benefit from it. Many souls have thus been won. What does God value more than the soul of a poor isolated deaf person? (See Matt. 17: 26.) And you know the Parable of the Lost and Found Sheep.

It is hoped that the faculties of the Theological Seminaries in the South will have the "Handbook of the Sign-Language" listed in the studies for the first year students and have them learn the hand alphabet, leaving it optional for them to form classes to take lessons one hour a week from an educated deaf person. Any educated deaf person in the town where the seminary is located would be glad to give his or her service in such work. Many of the states have passed laws requiring that the hand alphabet of the deaf be given in the primary grades of the public schools of the state.

There are now in the Southern territory about 40,000 deaf people and it is impossible for one man to reach them all. We need help and we trust the Board may be able, at least, to add one more missionary for this work. I am getting old and the frequent, laborious trips I have to make is fast telling on my health. I am hopeful that we may be able to get a younger man, full of vigor and the Spirit of God, to help me in this work.

The International Sunday-school Lessons are in language too difficult for the deaf people to understand intelligently so I am preparing a course of fifty-two Sunday-school lessons with questions and illustrations for them. This book will fill a long felt want, not only for the deaf people to whom we preach, but also the students of the State Schools for the Deaf. I also have under contemplation the starting of a weekly sermon to be published in the periodicals in the interest of the deaf people. There are three independent publications of this character and forty-eight school papers, some of which will be glad to publish such sermons.

With great thanks to the Home Mission Board for its extreme kindness to the deaf people, I most respectfully submit this report.

SOLDIERS, SEAMEN AND MARINES

Our work continues in this department with good results. The most touching and pathetic phase of it is with the patients at Oteen, North Carolina, near Asheville, the Government Hospital for tubercular patients. Rev. J. A. McKaughan, our faithful worker at Oteen, is rendering a service of inestimable value to those poor fellows in their fight with the "white plague." He is generously aided by our local advisory committee and the consecrated women from the Baptist churches in Asheville, whose gracious ministries are a benediction to the soldier boys.

Through Dr. J. S. Sowers, Pastor of the Annapolis Church, we are ministering to the Cadets at the Naval Academy.

The principal part of our soldier work is in various camps in Texas in cooperation with our Texas Baptist Mission Board. The work is less extensive and not so spectacular as it was during the World War, but is nevertheless imperatively needed and is accomplishing real good to the men away from home influences and subject to the privations and temptations of army life.

The work at our Seamen's Institute at Jacksonville, Florida, is rendering a marvelous service to seafaring men. It is really romantic. It touches all shores. The men blessed by it carry the story to all ports. The bread cast on the waters returns after many days. Our Chaplain there, Karl J. Frost, is an old sea captain, who has sailed the "Seven Seas." He knows the seamen and how to minister to them physically and spiritually. As soon as possible it must enlarge our quarters and increase our equipment.

Seamen's Institute

KARL J. FROST, CHAPLAIN

The past year has been the greatest in the history of the work at the Seamen's Institute since it was organized in 1915, and incorporated by the Baptist Home Mission Board September 1, 1919. Since that time the Institute has made great progress and has expanded in every department.

Last year there were conducted 174 religious services at which 1,180 seamen made decisions to live Christian lives and 527 enrolled as members of the Bible Class for the past year, which makes a total enrollment of 3,476 seamen, representing every State in the Union and fifty-six different nationalities. This is the largest Bible Class of seamen in the world. There are Jew and Gentile, high and low, rich and poor, who have heard the Gospel taught at the Institute and accepted the teaching of the Lord Jesus Christ.

Through the courtesy of the American Bible Society it has been made possible for us to supply forty-six ships with Bibles and to distribute 1,825 Bibles and Testaments and Gospels to a large number of seamen who have visited the Institute during the year.

The following statistics give the field the Seamen's Institute is covering in its religious and social work for the men of the sea that enter the port of Jacksonville.

There have entered this port about 1,412 ships during the past twelve months and about 29,231 seamen have visited the Institute and availed themselves of the Reading Room and facilities.

Through the Employment Department 435 men received employment and were placed in positions which enabled them to help themselves.

There were given out 10,176 tracts and other reading matter to the men or sent on board of ships to take with them on their voyages, especially on ships bound to foreign ports.

The Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention donated the Teacher, which we use in the Bible Class. Other important publications have been donated by The American Bible Society, The Bible Institute of Los Angeles, California, and The New York Maritime Register. The latter enables us to keep in touch with all the merchant ships in the world. Through these publications we have been able to trace many a lost lad. A large number of other valuable publications are donated to the Institute Reading Room which has a good supply of reading matter.

The records show that about eighty-two per cent of the seamen have been brought up in Christian homes and have had more or less religious training in their youth, and ninety per cent have been presented with the Bible or some book of religious instruction when they left home for a seafaring care.

The Relief Department for the past twelve months shows we assisted through that agency of mercy for relieving the sick and distressed the following:

Sick and distressed men helped	1,015
Free lodgings given out	7,297
Cost of free lodgings$1,	824.25
Total cost of free meals	474.10
Approximate cost to maintain relief department 2,	298.35
First aid and sent to hospital	59

The Relief Department is rendering a helpful hand, ministering to the sick and those who have met with accidents. Through this department a number of converts can be traced through the assistance received when the seamen were sick and in distressed circumstances. Many have been led to accept Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour.

Our records show 75% American born (U.S.); 9% naturalized citizens; 16% foreign seamen, making 100%.

Out of 1,000 men helped, the following table shows the religious training in youth and church relation:

8	per cent	Methodist.	31	per	cent	Roman	Cat	holic.
		Episcopalian.				Luthera

The record also shows that out of 1,000 helped 85% were under 25 years old; 10% under 45 years; and 45% over 45 years old. These statistics show the large number of young men that come to the Institute from various parts of the country and from the world at large. The Institute assumes the responsibility of the home and church influence, as well as provides the social influence for the men of the sea.

The following figures tell of the religious, social and temporal work for the year at the Institute:

The Woman's Missionary Societies from various Baptist churches have helped in beautifying the rooms by placing curtains and pictures in them, making them look more homelike. A large number of women's organizations throughout the state have assisted by sending Comfort Kits and other necessary material that can be used in the work carried on by the Institute. Local firms have given us supplies for Christmas festivals, as well as refreshments for Thanksgiving and other occasions when entertainments have been for the benefit of the men of the sea that have visited this port. B.Y.P.U.'s and other young people's organizations have rendered a splendid service for the benefit of seamen.

Chaplain Karl J. Frost wishes to thank all donators and co-workers in God's Kingdom. Special thanks are extended to the large number of editors and publishers throughout the country, who have donated their most valuable publications to the Reading Room. He is especially grateful to the press of the city for presenting this work to the people of Jacksonville in such a splendid manner, which has helped us in carrying forward this great work for the benefit of seafaring men who visit the port of Jacksonville annually.

This report has been adopted. The books were audited by the Committee—Messrs. Frank G. Johnson, H. F. Stratford and L. G. Chappell.

DEPARTMENT OF CHURCH EXTENSION

AUSTIN CROUCH, SUPERINTENDENT

The Church Building Loan Fund now amounts to $1,223,770.58. All of this money has been loaned. That is, it is either now actually in use by churches or has been granted and will be paid out as soon as the necessary papers are completed by the churches.

(Note: The loans outstanding, together with the loans granted, total 199.)

During this Convention year the Board has passed favorably upon eighty-one loans, totaling $674,700.00. This is the largest amount ever granted from the Church Building Loan Fund in any one year.

Amortized Loans

For many years the Board has been granting five-year loans, to be repaid usually in five equal annual payments, together with semi-annual interest payments. At the Annual Meeting in June, upon the recommendation of the Superintendent, the Board, in addition to the regular five-year loan, authorized the making, when circumstances justified, of two special Amortized loans—one to run for ten years, the other to run for fifteen years. In these special Amortized loans there are to be ten or fifteen equal annual payments, as the case may be, which includes both principal and interest. The Amortized loan has met a real need. One pastor of a church to which was granted a fifteen-year Amortized loan said: "By this plan my church can now give as much to Missions, year by year, as it has been giving and at the same time take care of the Amortized payments on the debt. If my church had been forced to pay the entire debt on the church within five years, the church could have done nothing, practically, for missions and other objects."

Collections

There has been $96,155.22 repaid on loans. Nearly all of the accounts at the present time are in a very satisfactory condition. Collections, while not all that might have been desired, yet have been very good indeed, considering the conditions through which many churches have gone. It is true that it has been necessary in some cases to grant an extension of time. I have always found the members of the Board thoroughly sympathetic with churches that are really trying to handle their affairs in a serious way. The Superintendent has had only one desire in this matter and that is to be of service to the churches and through the churches to the denomination at large.

Memorials

Practically all of the money in the Church Building Loan Fund has been accumulated through the establishing of Memorials in the Baptist Hall of Fame. There have been 1,360 Memorials subscribed. Most of the Memorials had been pledged before the 75 Million Campaign was launched. The Memorials published in the Hall of Fame are divided, as follows:

In paying these Memorials through church organizations and State Treasurers, it is necessary that the money be designated specifically to the Church Building Loan Fund. When this is done, credit will be given on the 75 Million Campaign.

Annuity Bonds

The Home Mission Board, through its Department of Church Extension, writes Annuity Contracts, or Annuity Bonds. Through the purchase of these Annuity Bonds one can do three things:

First: Make a most satisfactory investment for oneself. The Home Mission Board pays interest upon the Annuity Bonds according to the age of the annuitant. The rates have been fixed for all of the Boards by the Southern Baptist Convention.

Second: Through the purchase of Annuity Bonds to the amount of $500.00, or more, one may establish a Memorial to some loved one in the Baptist Hall of Fame.

Third: The money with which the Annuity Bond is purchased will help needy churches from year to year in securing adequate houses of worship. One person has $37,500.00 worth of the Home Board's Annuity Bonds. Another has over $18,000.00. Many others, for smaller amounts, find these Bonds satisfactory investments and at the same time an avenue of denominational service.

A Larger Loan Fund Needed

Mr. B. C. Forbes, a financial writer of world-wide reputation, made a tour a short time ago of the United States, studying conditions in every part of our country. In summing up his observations in "Forbes' Magazine," after telling about the wonderful amount of building being done in every line, such as department stores, apartment houses, great hotels, industrial plants and other building activities, he said that he found comparatively few new church buildings. This indicates that churches in the matter of building are far behind the building activities in every other line of endeavor. The next few years ought to be the greatest church building period ever known in the history of Southern Baptists. Everything goes to show the need for such a building program. Baptists will be very unwise and very short-sighted if they do not urge a great church building program throughout the entire South. Whatever special line of denominational work one may be interested in, he should see the absolute necessity for such a church building program and urge with all of his power the building of adequate houses of worship. Upon the success of local churches depends all of our denominational causes. The success of local churches depends perhaps more largely upon its working plant than upon anything else, except, perhaps, wise leadership. All of the money given for denominational causes of whatever kind, at home and abroad, must come out of the well-equipped, thoroughly enlisted, enthusiastic churches. The dollar, wisely expended, put into a church building program has a farther reach than any other dollar expended. Thousands upon thousands of churches now realize the need of greater and more up-to-date church buildings. Nearly all churches need to borrow money to carry on their building programs. This is also true in every other line of building activity. No one thinks of building an apartment house, a department store, a hotel or a great industrial plant without the use of borrowed money. As the churches need to borrow money for a short or long period, it is necessary to have a Church Building Loan Fund, so that the churches can get loans at a reasonable rate of interest and for a term of years according to the need of the situation. At the present time there are 29 applications on file in the office of the Home Mission Board. These applications have been received within the last few weeks. The applications come from the following states:

State	Number	Amount
Arkansas	1	5,000.00
	2	15,000.00
Illinois	1	4,000.00
Kentucky	1	7,000.00
Louisiana	1	20,000.00
Mississippi	2	13,666.67
Missouri	5	55,500.00
North Carolina	2	9,000.00
Oklahoma	3	40,000.00
Tennessee	3	7,600.00
Texas	4	64,000.00
Virginia	1	15,000.00
Total	$	284,766.67

I am sure that if it could be announced in the denominational papers that the Home Mission Board had three million dollars in bank subject to loan to churches, that bona fide applications from churches actually needing the money would be received for the entire sum within six months' time.

Importance of a Gift Fund

The Home Mission Board has been unable for the last two or three vears to make gifts in order to help churches in their building programs, but the need for gifts is no less now than in years past. There are hundreds and perhaps thousands of churches throughout the South needing gifts to aid in their church-building programs and gifts wisely placed will bring great denominational returns throughout the years to come. In 1907 the Home Mission Board made a gift of $200.00 to help a little church secure a building worth about $2,000.00. Today that church is erecting a building to cost more than $50,000.00. That shows the progress the church has made locally and anyone can well imagine the progress that little church has made in helping denominational enterprises. There are more than 5,000 rural churches without any kind of buildings of their own and I am sure that a survey would show that in towns and cities there are several thousand more organized Baptist churches without buildings of their own. Great numbers of these need gifts. There are great educational centers where the local church is unable to build adequately to take care of the situation. I have in mind now a small town where there is a state school with thousands of students and the small local Baptist church is unable to build an adequate building. There are some five hundred Baptist boys in that state school. There ought to be a gift of many thousand dollars to enable that church to build a worthy and adequate building. This is only one situation out of many needing such help.

SOUTHERN BAPTIST SANATORIUM

EL PASO, TEXAS.

H. F. VERMILLION, SUPERINTENDENT

A little more than five years ago the Sanatorium was opened to patients. The present year is by far the most successful that the Institution has experienced.

Following are some important dates in the history of the Sanatorium:

- 1916 The Southern Baptist Convention at Asheville appointed a committee to consider the advisability of establishing a sanatorium.
- 1917 The Convention instructed the Home Mission Board to establish the Sanatorium and the Board appointed a location and survey commission.
- 1918 The Southern Baptist Convention accepted the El Paso site and instructed the Board to proceed with the establishment of the Sanatorium. July first of the same year, the Home Mission Board sent H. F. Vermillion to El Paso, as Superintendent, to prepare for opening the Sanatorium.
- March sixth formal opening exercises were held. A few patients were cared for in a former club building until the new buildings could be erected.

1921 In November the first new building was opened for patients. A little more than a year later another building was opened.

Rapid Growth

Since the opening of the first of these new buildings the number of patients treated has nearly doubled each year and the cost to us per patient has decreased more than two hundred and fifty per cent within the period.

Within two years other equally encouraging results have been obtained. Our total charges to patients for the year ending April 30, 1922, were $18,916.00. The charges against patients for the year ending April 30, 1924, will be about $75,000.00. The number of patients treated two years ago was sixty-one, the number for the present year is more than two hundred and thirty. This is an increase of nearly four hundred per cent in two years. The daily average number of patients in the Sanatorium has increased correspondingly. The total business done by the Sanatorium two years ago was $69,352.57. The total business for this year will be about $110,000.00. If the increase in patronage continues at the present rate, another year will overrun our facilities and capacity.

Results of our work this year are more encouraging and gratifying than ever before. Ninety-six patients have left the Sanatorium with arrested cases or in an improved condition while only eight have gone out unimproved. Of the large number of cases treated in the Sanatorium within the year only seventeen have died and these were all far advanced cases when they came, some of them living a very brief time after entering.

We have assisted many patients, whom we could not receive here, to get into state and other public sanatoria where they are receiving proper care. Many write to us who do not know that there is a sanatorium in their state. A continuous stream of information and helpful literature goes from our office to hundreds of inquirers in all parts of America.

Free Treatment

We have adopted a rule not to give free treatment to far-advanced cases of tuberculosis, because such cases require very long periods of treatment and then many of them die and few recover completely. We now offer free treatment to such cases only as give promise of early recovery. We can thus render a much larger service to humanity because three or four such cases will recover with the same time and cost as it will take to get one advanced case out of bed. This rule is in the interest of the larger number and in addition this larger number have promise of good health and useful service after leaving the Sanatorium, whereas, far-advanced cases seldom become strong even when they get out of bed. We accept far-advanced cases as full pay patients, but we do not advise them to come here from far away homes.

Our rule is also to accept patients who can pay something in preference to those able to pay nothing. In this way our charity is dispensed to a larger number, although we do accept a number of patients entirely free. Many free and part free patients have been treated within the year. Maryland is the only Southern State that has had no free patients here and those who have accepted our help for part or all their care include Home and Foreign Missionaries, ministers and ministers' wives and children, gospel singers, doctors, their wives, and members of their families, music teachers, merchants, druggists, farmers and people of other callings.

Departments

The Medical Department report is attached hereto. Dr. W. C. Howell resigned as Medical Director last June and Dr. J. D. Riley succeeded to that work. Dr. Riley has been with us about three years and was previously Assistant Medical Director. He has done good work as Medical Director and results have been most gratifying. Dr. J. W. McClain has been doing good service as Assistant Medical Director for some months now.

Miss Pearl Blackburn, a former patient of the Institution and a graduate of Baylor Hospital, is now head nurse and is rendering good service. Several other former patients are also employed in this department. Our nurses are Christian girls and women of fine character and personality.

The Housekeeping Department under Mrs. R. F. Norris, the Book-keeping work under Miss Frankie Langston, and the religious, social and culinary work under Mrs. Vermillion, are all done well.

The Engineering Department under Mr. E. L. Moumblow has made several important changes in our equipment and several installations that add greatly to our efficiency and make for economy of administration. Among these is the re-lining of our boiler furnaces at a cost of $276.35, which if done by contract would have cost us $1,500.00 or $2,000.00. Our pumping plant has also been moved from two miles away and installed on our premises. This will be a great saving in time and money.

Our Needs

A large endowment to assist in caring for the hundreds of indigent and semi-indigent cases, whose urgent appeals constantly burden our hearts, is our greatest material need. A medical building, a nurses' home, a moving picture outfit, a good radio set, dormitories for convalescent patients, are some of our urgent needs.

We are grateful for the many hundreds of expressions of interest in our work that come personally and by mail. We are assured not only of growing usefulness but also of a growing sympathy for our work and a growing interest in it by our Baptist people and the general public.

I hereby certify that I have audited all the records in the office of C. S. Carnes, Treasurer of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1924; that in these records are carried certain cash items received and deposited in May but which were audited as being a part of April business. I have also inspected the securities in the hands of Chas. A. Davis, Chairman of the Committee of Custody, as well as those remaining in the hands of the Treasurer.

And, I hereby certify that the foregoing financial statement together with the statements of receipts and disbursements are true and correct; that all assets and liabilities of the Home Mission Board and all receipts and disbursements for the period are correctly stated therein; that all the records of the Treasurer's office have been correctly kept, that he has fully accounted for all funds passing through his hands and that all securities in the hands of the Treasurer and of the Committee of Custody were found in proper order.

J. H. DREWRY, Certified Public Accountant.

THIRTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE

SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD

[To the Southern Baptist Convention, Atlanta, Ga.]

I. J. VAN NESS, Corresponding Secretary
Nashville, Tenn.

1924

The receipts of the Board for the year have amounted to $1,421,903.06, showing a gain over the previous year of $23,602.48. This is not as large a gain as in some previous years but it represents the steady pushing forward of our business. The bad weather of March and slower collections in April have affected our receipts to some extent in the closing month of our year. One of the most notable features of the year, however, has been the closer collections which we have been able to make. We have developed an efficient collection department and we have fewer schools owing us large balances than usual. This is best for the schools as well as for us. Our regular terms by action of the Board, are regarded as being for cash or thirty days' credit. When an account gets as much as three months behind we begin to urge its payment. When our schools get badly in debt we find that it cripples them in their best work, nor is it entirely tair that those who pay promptly should carry on the work for the benefit of those who are slow in their payments.

OUR RESOURCES.

We give below the assets and liabilities of the Board, showing that our net resources on April 30th, 1924, were $1,366,820.38 an increase of $92,400.14 over last year. The greater part of this gain in resources is naturally in the property account.

The year we are just closing has been one of adjustments. The new buildings which we reported at our last meeting as being under construction were finished during the summer, and with the fourth quarter's business, which comes in September, we began the use of our Shipping Building. The Marshall & Bruce Company shortly afterward moved into the building which we had erected and leased to them. The erection of these two buildings largely occupied our attention for a year or more. With their completion we necessarily made extensive readjustments in our organization. To care for this reorganization we have also completely remodeled the original Eighth Avenue Building. This work of remodeling has occupied us for a greater part of the last six months. We are now through, however, with this task of building and remodeling, and as a result find ourselves with greatly added facilities for doing our work.

With this equipment in the way of buildings we are taking care of our business with much more efficiency. The buildings are now utilized as follows:

- 1. The Eighth Avenue Building houses all our business offices, and the offices of the special departments. Our space is practically all taken up to meet our present needs. The third floor of the building is given up to the Tennessee state work, including also the Woman's Missionary Union, the office of the Commission on the Negro Theological Seminary, and to the 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN offices. On this floor is our handsome Assembly Room, which is set apart to Southern Baptist usage and makes a convenient gathering place for special committees and conferences.
- 2. The Ninth Avenue Building: This is entirely given over to storage and shipping. A floor is given to each of the three great departments, namely, the Uniform Periodicals, the Merchandise, which includes books, and the Graded Periodicals and Tracts. The second floor is a Shipping Room in which the goods from all the other departments are gathered together before being sent to the post-office or direct to the trains. In this building we also have our Multigraph office where we do our own small printing, and the mailing office for Home and Foreign Fields. The building has been made a branch postoffice and we now weigh our own mail, and route and send to the trains direct. Since moving into this building we have found it possible to handle the great quarterly rush mail better than we have ever been able to do in the past.
- 3. The Printing Building: This building is erected on Commerce Street and about sixty feet from the rear of the Shipping Building. It has been leased to the Marshall & Bruce Company for five years and a contract made with them to do our work on a cost plus basis. At the end of the five years we have the option of purchasing their equipment, if we wish. Since moving into these larger quarters the Marshall & Bruce Company have spent a large sum of money in new equipment, all of which has been of great help to us in our constantly increasing business. Our relations with this firm continue to be mutually profitable and agreeable. As printers they co-operate in every way with us.

We realize that these significant enlargements will require still further systematic reorganization of our business. We have again come to one of the transition periods when we must reorganize in many ways to take care of the constantly enlarging work which we are doing. We have just had Mr. F. W. Fillmore, the expert accountant of the United Typothetae of America, spend a week with us, going over our accounting and other methods, and analyzing for us again our business organization. It is too early to report the conclusions which will come from this expert re-examination of our methods, but we are sure that we shall be able to effect a great many improvements.

The annual meeting of the Board, which is usually held in June, was postponed until September in order that we might be well along with these building improvements and other reorganizations, which of course kept the first place until they were completed. Accordingly the meeting of the Board was held on September 26th, 1923. We had a full attendance. In addition to the members of the Board from the states we had invited the editors of our denominational papers to be our guests, believing that through them we could best report to our constituency the building program which we had nearly completed and our plans for meeting the new situation which we faced with the completion of this larger building program. The editors were given every facility, with the members of the Board, to examine into all our affairs and this annual meeting was a frank and open discussion of all the Board's affairs.

The Board, therefore, considered with many other important matters, some fundamental policies of far-reaching importance. It was emphasized at this meeting that the policy of the Board since 1917 had been to expend its earnings for the extension of direct Sunday-school, B. Y. P. U., tract and book work, and for such special matters as directly belong to its general lines of work. It was formerly the policy of the Board to accumulate money and to dispose of these funds in large gifts to various convention interests. Since 1917, however, only two such gifts have been made and both of these were comparatively early in that period. One was the gift of $100,000.00 to the Ministerial Relief and Annuity Board in order to establish that new interest of the Convention, and another the $10,000.00 to the Baptist Bible Institute, to enable that institution to purchase the magnificent property which has since proven such a fine investment. Both of these objects abundantly justified the contributions made, but they have been regarded by the Board as the final expressions of the former policy.

In the last four or five years the policy of the Board has been changed. During this period also the Board has refrained from adding to its reserve funds or in any way accumulating money except for absolutely necessary buildings. Our increased assets have come from increased stock made necessary by our large business and by the larger open accounts which we carry, also growing out of our increasing business, and from the buildings which have been erected and paid for. The Board's reserve funds are indeed lower at this point than at some previous times in its history as it was necessary to draw upon them for the erection of the buildings.

At this annual meeting it developed: first, that the Board had been publishing its periodicals at reasonable prices, as low as or slightly lower than other houses; second, that by prudent and economical management it had been able to keep its earnings on a basis slightly more favorable than the average publishing house, and third, that through its earnings it had been able to develop a field work and general organization for the extension of Sunday school, B. Y. P. U., and other lines of work on a plane that compares worthily with the leading denominations of America. It was further shown that Southern Baptists, alone among the leading denominations, have based their future developments along these lines solely upon the earnings of a business. The Northern Baptists, for example, receive large sums of money from their campaign with which they carry on work which we do entirely from our earnings. The same thing is true of the Southern and Northern Methodists and the Presbyterian bodies.

After extended discussion and a careful examination of the whole situation the Board re-affirmed its policy as follows:

- (1) To publish its periodicals and books at a reasonable price, as low or slightly lower than others; (2) to endeavor to manage its business prudently and economically and to use its earnings for the extension of Sunday-school, B.Y.P.U., tract and book work. Following this affirmation of its fundamental policy the Board adopted three recommendations for immediate action.
- 1. That price reductions be made on our Uniform and Graded periodicals, of approximately $15,000.00 per quarter.

2. That we anticipate a budget for extension and benevolent work amounting to approximately $300,000.00 each year for the next two years.

3. That considering our present investments as representing a capital of $1,-000,000.00 the Board, without prejudicing its benevolent budget, shall ask the Convention to authorize the accumulation of a reserve fund up to 5 per cent on this capital in any one year.

OUR VARIOUS LINES OF DENOMINATIONAL WORK.

It may perhaps be well to group together a statement of the various lines of work which we have been able to carry on through the judicious use of our earnings. A study of this list will show how essential these things are to our life as a denomination. A careful study of what we are doing will convince anyone, we think, that the Board should be permitted to carry on its present policy of using its earnings systematically throughout the year for these constantly growing needs of the denomination, and we believe it will be generally agreed that this use of our earnings is the proper and legitimate one. We are selling to our Sunday schools and churches supplies at reasonable prices and supplies which would have to be purchased elsewhere, for they are necessary in carrying on our ordinary church and Sunday-school work, and it is very proper that any profits which may arise from such a business shall go back again to developing these same lines of endeavor.

- 1. The work of Sunday-school extension and development: This is through (1) the preparation of suitable periodicals; (2) directing the work of teacher training, (3) through our various departments giving advice and direction as to the proper organization and development of our schools. We maintain five distinct departments whose work goes directly to the improvement of Sunday-school conditions.
- 2. The Baptist Young People's Union extension work: This is one of our most aggressive and progressive departments. In addition to the periodicals which we publish we issue each quarter tracts and leaflets bearing upon the work of the Union, and exploit record systems, charts, etc., all of which are essential to the conduct of the B. Y. P. U. No department of our work has had a more wonderful development than that of the B. Y. P. U. Without a general Southwide organization this department has been able to put into operation far-reaching plans and to preserve a very remarkable spirit of unity in our work.

- 3. Co-operative work with the states: We have been able to develop through this co-operative work a well-equipped and well-organized department of Sunday school and B. Y. P. U., in most cases two distinct departments, in connection with every one of our State Boards. We contribute directly to the salaries of these workers and in addition give them assistance in the holding of Training Schools and Encampments either through our workers furnished to them, or through direct money contributions. We also co-operate with them in conducting Summer Assemblies. Our relations with these state agencies are of the closest possible character and though we have no control over them, a wonderful harmony exists between our forces and theirs, and we have a most compact organization.
- 4. Our book publishing work: This new venture is very far from being as yet profitable to our Board. It is very essential, however, that book making on the part of Southern Baptist writers shall be encouraged. The time may come when we shall make considerable sums of money from this venture, but it is not yet at hand. We do maintain, however, a well-equipped editorial office and are working constantly for the development of Southern Baptist authors, and we believe that this is one of the wise ways in which we can use a portion of our earnings.
- 5. Bible distribution: We meet every reasonable demand for Bibles for free distribution. We have a fund, the interest on which is expended for this purpose, and the Woman's Missionary Union of the South has given us a direct contribution for this work each year. We have supplemented this out of our earnings and we are now meeting constantly the needs of our people for Bibles for free distribution.
- 6. Our tract work: This has been one of our largest undertakings. We have distributed free on an average of more than one million tracts a year, through pastors and evangelists. The demand for these tracts is constant and we have evidence of the far-reaching value of the work which we have been doing.
- 7. Our statistical work: The Department of Statistics and Survey which we established three and a half years ago is unique. No such department exists in any other publishing house and it is nowhere exactly paralleled in any denominational organization. This department is of great service to us as a denomination and will be increasingly so. The recent Country Church Survey, which is referred to elsewhere in this report, is a striking example of what it can do for us. This survey is but the first of other similar ventures.
- 8. In addition to the above we have contributed from our earnings to some special denominational objects, besides bearing our share of the regular Convention expenses. We have contributed to the Laymen's Missionary Movement an annual sum which enables them to issue their tract literature on Stewardship. Our Laymen' Movement is supported by the Home and Foreign Boards, but we have assumed that part of their work which has to do with the distribution of literature. We are also contributing $1,500.00 a year to the Southwestern Seminary as a contribution to its Department of Religious Education, and $600.00 to the Baptist Bible Institute for a similar purpose. Some years ago the Board established a chair of Sunday School Pedagogy at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, endowing it with the sum of $75,000.00. As has been stated in this report, the Board afterwards changed its policy about making large gifts, but it was felt to be only just that at least the equivalent of an annual income from a larger gift should be given to these other two institutions to assist them in the work which they are doing along lines helpful to our work, just as we co-operate with the state agencies.

9. We also co-operated during the last year in the Stewardship Campaign, in connection with which we were requested to make it possible to offer to pastors free copies of a book, so that they might organize and teach classes in their churches. In carrying out this campaign we have distributed some 60,000 books, and we know of nothing better which we have undertaken during the year.

It is our conviction that the above lines of work very properly have the first claim upon our earnings and that the results which have been attained along these lines fully justify this expenditure. There will constantly arise in our denominational life special and unusual opportunities of service along similar lines, where a moderate amount of money can accomplish a great amount of good. The Board feels that it should be free to take care of such emergencies.

NEW LINES OF WORK.

In addition to the above there are new lines of work which are pressing upon us for attention and to which we have so far been able to give but a limited amount of direction.

The Daily Vacation Bible School is one of these newer ventures. It promises in the next few years to become a matter of great concern to many of our churches. We have taken the first steps in providing such proper direction and help, but there is yet much to do.

We have been asked to establish a Department of Church Finance, and await the Convention's action on this matter.

Several times we have had our plans nearly ready to issue supplies for the blind, but we have not been able in the pressure of other duties to properly organize this department.

Nearly every one of our already existing departments needs enlargement. It is beginning to be a problem with us as to how we can best make the amount which we can earn cover the actual existing needs without appealing to the denomination for direct gifts.

THE DISPOSITION OF OUR EARNINGS.

During the present year we have expended $314,506.31 in carrying forward various forms of denominational work either directly or through co-operation with others. A detailed statement of the disposition of our earnings is given below:

THE RURAL CAMPAIGN.

We have for several years been giving special attention to what we have called our Rural Campaigns; co-operating with the various states in an effort to carry the message of a modern Sunday school to the rural communities. Our experience teaches us that the workers in the smaller schools in the country are just as willing and capable as the workers in the cities. They need only the same help and encouragement and recognition which we have been able to give in the towns and cities. We have expended about $40,000.00 this year for this distinctive kind of work. All this has been in co-operation with the various State Boards. We have asked of them in each case that they enter upon a distinctive and welldefined Rural Campaign, and that this be organized under the direction of the State Board. We have various plans of working: (1) In most of the states the work is carried on by an intensive summer campaign, employing students and other workers for from three to four months. Each single worker under this plan stays a week at a place, and touches from ten to twelve communities during the summer. (2) Some of the states prefer to have year-round campaigns, employing distinctive rural workers who confine themselves to specific Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. work, either covering districts or in single associations. (3) Other states have combined the two plans, having a general director of rural work serving throughout the year and supplementing in the summertime by a more limited intensive campaign. We have already seen the result of these different plans which have been carried on for some four or five years.

The Country Church Survey, which has been carried on by our Department of Statistics and Survey under the direction of Dr. E. P. Alldredge, has now been completed. It covers 22.043 rural churches under date of 1922. It has developed some most interesting and startling facts. One of the most remarkable of these is the extent to which we have already been able to reach the rural sections through the Sunday school, the B.Y.P.U. and the Woman's Missionary Union. The figures show that 85% of our Sunday schools, and 60% of our Sunday-school enrollment is to be counted as rural. It is still more surprising to find that 52% of our B. Y. P. U.'s and 44% of our B. Y. P. U. enrollment, while 69% of the W. M. U.'s of the South, are found among the rural churches. These three agencies are already great factors in the development, therefore, of our rural churches, and they have gone much farther than most of us have supposed. The fact that 2,193,205 of the total membership of our churches was in 1922 to be tound in the rural churches, and that 1,318,689 of our 2,172,050 Sunday-school enrollment in 1922 was in the rural churches, is in itself sufficient to arouse us to our duty toward these Sunday-school workers, who are working under disadvantageous conditions but who are working steadily and persistently.

Southern Baptists, therefore, have the largest rural constituency of any denomination in America, and we of all people cannot afford to neglect this field of work. We have for a long time pointed out that there is a gap of approximately one million between our Sunday-school enrollment and our church membership. The statistics gathered in this country church survey show that this gap results from the fact that the Sunday-school enrollment in our rural churches falls at least one million, if not more, below the church membership, and this very clearly indicates that the way to bridge this gap is to develop our country schools. The figures largely show also that the percentage of church membership enrolled in the Sunday school in the country is less than the same percentage for our town and city churches; all of which means that the same efforts which we have been putting forth in recent years and which have resulted in such a wonderful development in our Sunday schools and in the Sundayschool spirit in the towns and cities, must be duplicated in similar campaigns for Ten years ago the percentage of church membership in our the rural schools. Sunday schools in towns and cities was far below that of today. We have now, however, created a new spirit and the Sunday school includes within itself the church membership. The same thing can be brought about in these rural churches if we will only go to them with equal earnestness and persuasion. The survey further shows that the rural Baptist church has an abundant constituency still unreached and which no other denomination can possibly reach in the same effective way.

We are planning to make these campaigns for reaching the rural schools more and more far-reaching and effective. The survey reveals very plainly that whatever other approach may be available that the Sunday school, the B. Y. P. U. and the W. M. U. can be utilized for the development of these churches, and that they are ready to respond when intelligent workers go to them and show them how. It is absolutely essential to us as a denomination that this shall be done. It is probable that a special hour will be set apart in the Convention session of 1924 for a discussion of the country church and its possibilities. We will welcome such an hour.

BIG SCHOOLS

We are still impressed with the fact that very few of our city and town churches have reached the limit of their possibilities in Sunday-school enrollment. We know from the various campaigns which we have carried on for enlargement that practically all our schools can do much better than they are now doing. Very few schools are reaching the proportion of church members that they should, and to meet this we must have more Organized Classes. Every campaign for enlargement also shows a great constituency not included in our church membership but which can easily be reached. We publish again our list of large schools for the encouragement of those who are trying to do their best and to incite others to put forth additional efforts. This list of 169 schools is based on an enrollment of 900 and over.

Last year, our report on the big Sunday schools among Southern Baptists showed the following, viz:

RECORD OF BIG SUNDAY SCHOOLS IN 1922

Number of Sunday Schools enrolling 925-999	21
Number of Sunday Schools enrolling 1,000-1,999
Number of Sunday Schools enrolling 2,000-2,999	6

Number of Sunday Schools enrolling 4,000-4,999	2
Number of Sunday Schools enrolling 5,000 and over	1
Total Sunday Schools enrolling 925 and over	114

The figures for 1923, presented in the following report, show very large gains both in the number and the size of the large Sunday schools, among Southern Baptists:

LARGE COUNTRY SUNDAY SCHOOLS

In this connection it will be in order to call attention to the fact that Southern Baptists have 30 rural Sunday schools each having an enrollment between 400 and 500 pupils, and 10 Sunday schools each having an enrollment of more than 500. These 40 big rural Sunday schools are found in the following states:

North Carolina
South Carolina 9
Georgia 4
Virginia 4
Texas 3
Tennessee 2
Kentucky 1

OUR WORK IN THE SEMINARIES AND COLLEGES.

We wish to call special attention to the fine work now being done in our three Theological Seminaries. Dr. G. S. Dobbins has brought his department at the Louisville Seminary to the forefront and has made it a vital subject to the young preachers, and also to those who attend the W. M. U. Training School, where he has also conducted special classes. Dr. J. M. Price and his associates in a more elaborate way are doing this same kind of work at the Ft. Worth Seminary, while at the Baptist Bible Institute under Dr. George H. Crutcher and Mr. L. G. Cleverdon a fine department is being developed. All these schools are working in the closest co-operation with us and with our plans. They provide frequent opportunities for our men to speak to their students and they are all of them advancing the same general methods which we employ. It has now become true that the graduates of these Theological Seminaries go out to our churches well equipped for the pastoral leadership of Sunday-school and B. Y. P. U. forces, and well informed as to the methods which are being urged upon our churches through the various state agencies.

Equally encouraging is the situation so far as our colleges and secondary schools are concerned. Our Educational Department reports that 120 schools and colleges have now made our Normal Manual and other books a part of their curriculum, and during the last year awards were given for the work done in these college courses. Among these schools most of our high grade colleges are included. It is a significant fact, therefore, that definite training in Sunday-school and B. Y. P. U. methods is now becoming a part of the training of practically all of our students who are in institutions under Baptist control. This is another reason for advocating the work of these schools as over against state and privately owned institutions.

THE ORGANIZED CLASS CONFERENCE AND THE CLINICS.

The Organized Class Conference which was held in Atlanta in January was a meeting of far-reaching importance. It brought together over a thousand earnest workers from our Organized Classes. The program was of unusual value and was of great service in the practical development of Organized Class work for effective church service. There is a growing appreciation of the Organized Class for men and women and of the many things which can be done by the members of these classes for the upbuilding of our churches. This Conference has proven so valuable that it will be continued for another year. A test of the Laymen's Conference in Memphis revealed the interesting fact that practically all of the men attending that meeting were active workers in the Sunday school. A similar test made in an annual gathering of the Woman's Missionary Union showed the same interesting results.

One of the most interesting developments of recent years is what is described as the "Sunday School Clinics." The first of these was held last year at Owensboro, Ky., under the direction of Mr. Arthur Flake of the Department of Sunday School Administration. The purpose of these Clinics is to help those who propose to do active work in connection with the Sunday school either as paid workers or as voluntary officers. The plan of these Clinics is to teach during a period of three weeks the various books bearing upon Sunday-school administration, and at the same time use the pupils of the school for a canvass of the city and a reorganization of the various Sunday schools and their departments. It is a period of teaching and a period when every pupil undertakes to do in a practical way the things he has been taught, and which are essential for the development of our larger schools. This year three of these Clinics will be held, one at Ft. Worth in close connection with the Southwestern Theological Seminary, one at Louisville in connection with the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and one in Knoxville in August which will make its appeal to the general workers already actively engaged in Sundayschool tasks, or those wishing to enter upon this kind of work. These three schools should develop a large number of practical and efficient Sunday-school executives and help to meet the demand for such workers on the part of our larger schools. These Clinics are unique and for that reason more than usually interesting. We think the results will be far-reaching.

OUR GRADED PERIODICALS.

We have now completed the revision of our Graded Periodicals through the Intermediate years. This revision has been complete and far-reaching. The lessons have been practically re-written, the topics re-phrased, and in some cases the lesson courses themselves have been changed. Special attention has been paid to the correlated work and also to the proper adjustment of the Teacher's material.

Our sales of the Graded Periodicals are constantly increasing, showing that their use is spreading. There is no question that they present the best form of Sunday-school instruction for our schools. Attention is called specially to the service which they render in the teaching of Bible facts and of doctrine. In the Beginners and Primary Departments Scripture verses are memorized so that at the end of the Primary years some 200 or more Scripture verses have been committed to memory. These verses are grouped under special headings, so that the beginning of a doctrinal system is presented even to the children of the Primary Department. In the Junior Department full instruction is given as to the books of the Bible, geography and other kindred matters. There is also very considerable catechetical instruction given as supplemental work to the lessons. This includes catechisms, in various forms, of Christian truth, and a definite teaching of Baptist principles. In the Intermediate Department the lessons for each year include at least one quarter of doctrinal instruction, and the final year of the Intermediate Department is given over entirely to such instruction. This same memory work has been so arranged that it can be published, and is published regularly, in our Uniform Lesson Quarterlies, and so can be used by the schools which do not study the Graded Lessons, though the atmosphere of the Graded lesson school is much more conducive to effective work. All this material, however, is at the service of our teachers through the regular quarterlies.

The attention of pastors and others is called to this basis of doctrinal truth which is taught in connection with the Graded Lessons and in some years is a part of that lesson system. With the co-operation of pastors this doctrinal instruction may be made wonderfully effective.

BOOKS PUBLISHED.

We have continued during the year the issuance of a number of books of value, and this includes not only our Teacher Training and other courses, but books for the general trade. About half of these have been issued in connection with the George H. Doran Company and under our agreement by which they handle these books outside of our territory under their imprint. We have now a book list of a very respectable number of titles and of a high quality. We have recently printed a separate catalogue of our own publications, which we will be glad to send on request. The new books issued during the year number 39, and are as follows:

"Bible Baptism," by W. W. Hamilton.

"A Brief Catechism on Baptist Beliefs," by I. J. Van Ness.

"Baptists and Religious Liberty," by Geo. W. Truett.

THE CHAPEL BOOK

During the year we have issued a book for use in college chapels, called "The Chapel Book," compiled by Dr. John L. Hill in connection with a company of brethren familiar with the needs of the college chapel. It contains a group of selected hymns, some ballads and other songs to be used for general campus occasions, and responsive readings. It is admirably planned to meet the needs of the average campus and we have found it has met with a ready response not only in our own schools and colleges, but in many high schools, and we anticipate for it a wide circulation.

THE INTER-BOARD COMMISSION.

We have continued our co-operation with the Inter-Board Commission, contributing to its expenses to the amount of $5,000.00 a year and also publishing The Baptist Student, against which there is always charged a considerable deficit. This year, however, has been very much more encouraging. The Baptist Student has taken its rank as the leading monthly for students in this country. It is beautifully printed, finely edited, and has caught the school spirit. The work of the Inter-Board Commission has been more than satisfactory to the Sunday School Board. The campus organization which it is administering is proving popular wherever presented and especially to the students. It plans for student religious activities in the college life, and the purpose of the organization is the enlistment of the entire student body in the Baptist churches accessible to the students, in the organized Sunday school class, or other Sunday school activities, the B.Y.P.U. and the Y.W.A. Its purpose is not only to develop the religious life of the student while in school, but to direct the student activities so that they may find expression along the same lines as the student would normally find if at home. The purpose is also to bring our students back home to our local churches, familiar with and interested in the activities of the average Baptist church, and with the viewpoints of their own denomination. Mr. Frank H. Leavell has served with great ability as the secretary of this Inter-Board Commission.

HOME AND FOREIGN FIELDS

This most excellent missionary paper, which is under the editorial direction of Dr. G. S. Dobbins, who has been its editor from the beginning, and who continues this service now in connection with his duties as professor in the Louisville Seminary, continues with its high standard, which makes it second to no periodical of its kind in the country. Its circulation, however, has slightly decreased. It seems practically impossible to send a high grade magazine of this kind to more than a limited number of our people who are interested in reading about missions. It has been the desire of the Convention, as expressed from time to time, to keep this periodical as a high grade missionary journal. The price now charged for it does not nearly cover its cost. It has been suggested that it be issued at a lower price, or be practically given away. This would preclude, however, keeping it at its present standard, for the deficit would be more than the Sunday School Board, unaided, could legitimately carry for this particular object with the other demands which press upon us. As has been stated above, the Convention whenever it has spoken has approved of the present plan of publication and we are proceeding upon that basis.

Co-operation In the Stewardship Campaign.

We have co-operated to the fullest possible extent with the Stewardship Campaign which was inaugurated last fall. We agreed to give to any pastor who would teach a class, sufficient books free of charge to enable him to organize a class in his church. We confined this offer to pastors, hoping thereby to secure their responsibility for this class work, which was essential to its real progress. We have during the year bought 60,000 copies of a special imprint edition of STEW-ARDSHIP AND MISSIONS, by Cook, and these have all been given away.

This means that from 4,000 to 5,000 separate classes have been conducted by the pastors. All the states participated in this campaign, but the most far-reaching program has been in Georgia where from 1,000 to 1,500 classes have been held, many of these being in country churches. We have received a great many letters of appreciation for these books and we have abundant evidence of the farreaching value of the classes thus conducted.

In addition to this we issued during the year at a low price, without profit to ourselves, three books of importance and we hope also of permanent value:

"Financing a Church," John T. Henderson.

"The Budget Plan," N. T. Tull.

"A Manual of Methods in Church Finance," Leon M. Gambrell.

CO-OPERATION WITH STATE BOARDS.

We have continued our co-operation with the State Boards. There are now 132 employed workers connected with these boards, and probably 100 other special short term rural workers will be in the field this summer. The following list will give the names of the workers in the various states:

SOME SPECIAL ITEMS.

During the year we have added to our force of workers Mr. Bryan Robinson, of Ft. Worth, Texas, who is associated with the Department of Sunday School Administration, his chief task being to supervise the work of the Daily Vacation Bible School and the methods of work for rural schools.

Mr. Geo. W. Card, who came to us from Louisville, Ky., has taken charge of our Sales Promotion Department, his business being to push the sales of our various books and other merchandise. He has taken hold in a fine way and is keeping in touch with the various state and other book-stores, and in many special ways pushing the sale of our merchandise.

Our Teacher Training work during the year has continued its remarkable success. We have given during this Convention year 64,415 awards. The full figures will be found under the report of the Educational Department. This number of awards far exceeds that of any denomination in America.

Our Architectural Department has rendered assistance to 1,234 churches and has developed during the year a series of plans for churches of moderate construction.

The Organized Class Department reports 7,558 classes enrolled, with a membership of 302,248. For the Senior and Intermediate pupils we are publishing through this department a monthly journal called The Intermediate Counselor and also The Sunday School Young People for workers in the Young People's Department.

* * *

The supervision of Intermediate work has been under the Organized Class Department, with Miss Virginia Lee in charge. Notable advances have been made.

The Elementary Department reports 48 Elementary Leagues, and general progress all along the line. This department also issues The Elementary Messenger, a quarterly bulletin for workers. Eleven states have paid Elementary Secretaries.

Our Sunday-school membership has increased so that we now have 20,601 Sunday schools, with an enrollment of 2,381,717. Our church membership numbers 3,494,189. 27,093 churches are reported. We have, therefore, 6,400 churches without Sunday schools.

We have continued to co-operate with the International Sunday School Lesson Committee and have contributed $500.00 to its budget through the International Sunday School Council of Religious Education.

We co-operated with the Foreign Mission Board in a general Relief Day in the Sunday school in January, the proceeds to be applied to the Baptist relief work in Europe. The money raised on this occasion has gone directly to the Foreign Mission Board. We shall be glad to co-operate next year in the same sort of a plan, but trust these plans can be made more effective and definite.

We have also co-operated with the various Boards in preparing programs for the Missionary Days in the Sunday School, more especially the HOME AND FOREIGN MISSION DAY in March, and the STATE MISSION DAY in September, both of which programs were sent out from our office, but after consultation with the Boards directly interested. The EDUCATION DAY in June is fostered by the Education Board in Birmingham and the material is sent out under their supervision and by them.

The work of the Editorial Department has continued on its usual high plane of excellence. No new periodicals have been introduced, but with the third quarter of this year's Uniform Lessons The Teacher will contain the material for the Intermediate, Senior and Adults, while special quarterly magazines will be published for the Primary and Junior grades, to be known as the Primary Quarterly Teacher, and the Junior Quarterly Teacher. It is hoped in this way to give greater help to the teachers of these particular grades and at the same time make the teaching itself much more valuable for the more advanced grades.

The work of our Department of Survey and Statistics has been referred to several times in this report, notably in connection with the Country Church Survey. It has become a valued fixture in our denominational life. It is only just beginning to render its full service. This department is always at the service of our constituency.

We have continued to co-operate with the Laymen's Missionary Movement in the production and distribution of tracts on Stewardship and kindred subjects. We have found it best to allow them to issue the tracts upon this subject and to circulate them, as the special task of advancing Stewardship has been entrusted to this agency. We have contributed to the expense of this work during the past year $741.61. We have also published a book by Dr. J. T. Henderson. called "Financing A Church."

It has been a pleasure to co-operate with the Woman's Missionary Union during the past year. We have not only contributed to their expense fund but have also contributed $2,400.00 to help them with the rental of their headquarters at Birmingham. At best this is but an inadequate compensation for the co-operation which the Woman's Missionary Union has given us. We work along so many lines of common services that the Sunday School Board finds itself naturally aligned with the work of the W. M. U.

We have published during the year several books which they press as texts in their study classes. This includes:

"Oak and Laurel," Mabel Swartz Withoft.

"From Strength to Strength," Margaret McRae Lackey.

"The Plan of Salvation," Austin Crouch.

The B. Y. P. U. work which has been under our direction for a number of years has gone forward in a remarkable way during the last year. The number of Unions has greatly increased and the enrollment now amounts to 495,149 which represents about one in seven of our constituency, which is a very remarkable showing. The work done by these Unions is worthy of praise. They have given hearty support to every Baptist enterprise, they study to make themselves intelligent, well-informed church members, and they are hearty fellow-laborers in all the work of the campaign. Mr. L. P. Leavell has given supervision to this work in addition to his service as editor of the B. Y. P. U. periodicals. Several new textbooks have been added during the year, as shown in the B.Y.P.U. section of this report.

In our last report we made mention of the Drafts Legacy. Mrs. Kate E. Drafts of South Carolina set aside in her will certain amounts of money for our Board, in connection with several of the other Baptist institutions. This legacy has now been received by us in full and amounts to $9,542.60. We greatly appreciate the kindly co-operation of her heirs in helping us in the settlement of this estate. By action of the Board the income on this sum is to be set aside as a special fund to provide books for needy preachers. We hope that this income will be available during the coming year.

THE 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN.

We have acted as the fiscal agents for the 75 Million Conservation Commission. This merely means that we lend our credit to the Commission and look to the various state boards for remuneration. The Treasurer of the Sunday School Board becomes therefore the treasurer for the Commission, but the transaction is all carried out in the name of the Board. It should be clearly understood that the Sunday School Board handles no receipts of any kind from this source and that in making a division of the expenses we do so merely in a mechanical way, distributing according to the instructions given by the Conservation Commission. It has been a pleasure to aid this enterprise in this way. We give herewith the treasurer's statement for the year ending April 30, 1924.

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT

E. C. DARGAN, HIGHT C. MOORE

Editorial Staff—There has been no change in the personnel of our Department since our last report. Dr. E. C. Dargan, Editorial Secretary, edits our periodicals of exposition and teaching, including one monthly (The Teacher) and five quarterlies (Children's, Junior, Intermediate, Senior and Adult Bible Class), in addition to the Picture Lesson Cards and the Lesson Lcaf which is reproduced from the Intermediate Quarterly. Dr. Hight C. Moore, Editorial Secretary, edits four illustrated weeklies (Kind Words; The Boys Weekly, with Mr. Noble Van Ness as Associate Editor; The Girls' Weekly, with Miss Fairy Dillard as Associate Editor; and The Child's Gem), two monthlies (The Sunday School Builder, in connection with Secretary Flake, and The Organized Class Magazine, in connection with Secretary Strickland), and he prepares two quarterlies (Home Department Magazine and the pocket quarterly, On the Wing with the Word). Dr. L. P. Leavell edits our four periodicals of training (B.Y.P.U. Quarterly, Intermediate B.Y.P.U. Quarterly, Junior B.Y.P.U. Quarterly, and The Leader's Quarterly for Intermediate and Junior B.Y.P.U.'s.) G. S. Dobbins, of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, edits our monthly missionary magazine (Home and Foreign Fields). Secretary Frank H. Leavell, of the Inter-Board Commission on Student Religious Activities, edits The Baptist Student, which is published for ten months in the year. For the entire Editorial Department, Dr. Hight C. Moore is Managing Editor, Mr. Noble Van Ness is Assistant Managing Editor, and Miss Marian Phelps is Editors' Assistant.

Lesson Writers—As in the past we are fortunate in having the valuable services of some of our best writers in the preparation of the lesson material for our several expository publications. We have received many hearty commendations of their work.

Lesson Texts—It has been decided after consultation with the Board to continue printing the lesson texts (Uniform Series) in both the King James and the American Standard Versions.

New Teachers' Quarterlies—Following the judgment of Elementary experts and in response to what seems a need and demand among our people, it has been decided to omit from The Teacher, after the June (1924) issue, the departmental treatment of the Uniform Lessons for the Primary and Junior Departments and to begin at once with the third quarter the publication of two new quarterlies for teachers in these grades—The Primary Teachers' Quarterly and The Junior Teachers' Quarterly. As heretofore, The Teacher, which will continue as a monthly at its present size, will contain lesson expositions for all grades from Intermediates to Adults, while sixteen or twenty pages each month will be released for editorials and contributions which will enable the magazine to function more satisfactorily as a journal of religious education helpful to teachers of all grades and of the various lesson courses. The new quarterlies will each be sixty-four-page magazines, with cover, being just twice as large as the pupils' quarterlies. Each will contain twelve pages of magazine material, editorials and articles designed for teachers of these respective grades. Each will contain four pages on each lesson: two for pupils, taken from the pupil's quarterly, and two additional containing notes for teachers. While these quarterlies will follow the Improved Uniform Series they may be helpful to teachers and students of other courses. The price of each will be 15 cents the copy the quarter.

Discontinued—At the close of the first quarter of 1924, on account of diminishing circulation and service, we discontinued the publication of The Primary Leaf, which was a reprint in weekly parts from The Junior Quarterly.

Bilingual Quarterly—With the aid of Dr. I. V. Neprash as translator and proof-reader we have completed the Russian edition of the Bilingual Quarterly for the two years' course originally projected. It is not certain that there will be further issues at this time. Composition and electrotyping were done in New York and the printing is done in Nashville. We have assurance that Russian Christians in various parts of this country deeply appreciate the service rendered them through this quarterly.

Special Lessons—In lieu of the usual quarterly reviews, we have prepared special lessons for 1924, selecting special Scripture passages with appropriate departmental topics and golden texts, for the observance of the special days at the close of each quarter—a Home and Foreign mission lesson on "Christianity, the Universal Religion," for the last Sunday in March; an Education lesson on "Christian Education," for the last Sunday in June; a State Mission lesson on "Evangelizing the State," for the last Sunday in September, and a Beneficence lesson on "Helping the Poor and Needy," for the last Sunday in December.

Revision of Graded Lessons—Under the direction of Dr. John L. Hill, Editorial Secretary of Book and Tract Department, the revision of the Graded Series has progressed rapidly. All the lessons for the Beginners, Primary and Junior Departments are now complete and only Part IV of the courses for the Intermediate Department remains to be finished.

Request of International Lesson Committee—The following message was sent to the International Lesson Committee, meeting in Washington City, in April, 1924:

"The Editorial Department of the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention respectfully requests the International Sunday School Lesson Committee in providing Uniform Lessons for 1927 and beyond, to select such lessons as can be adapted to the needs of the Primary and Junior Departments."

Budget—For this fiscal year the Board allowed our Department a financial budget amounting to $20,000 for the purchase of manuscripts and illustrations (which included drawings and photographs only). We find that we have expended for these purposes $19,085.10, which is $914.90 within our appropriation.

Advertisements—We admit no advertising to the columns of our illustrated weeklies. The advertising pages of our quarterlies and monthlies have been devoted to the exploitation of our own books, periodicals, and supplies together with the presentation of various phases of the work of all the Boards of the Convention. For example, we are allowing for the promotion of the 75 Million Campaign the following space in our monthlies from July to December: page four of cover for The Teacher; page two of cover for the Sunday School Builder and also for the Organized Class Magazine; pages three and four of covers for fourth quarter of Adult Bible Class Quarterly, Senior Quarterly and Home Department Magazine; also page four of covers of these periodicals for third quarter with one additional page in the Home Department Magazine. It is hoped that the results will be gratifying to us all.

Circulation—For the current quarter (April, May, June, 1924) the circulation of our periodicals is reported as follows:

- (1) Quarterlies: Adult Bible Class Quarterly, 415,000 copies, a gain of 40,000 over the figures reported a year ago; Senior Quarterly, 510,000, a loss of 15,000; Intermediate Quarterly, 340,000, a gain of 14,000; Junior Quarterly, 335,00 a gain of 10,000; Children's Quarterly, 170,000, a gain of 25,000; Home Department Magazine, 90,000, a gain of 5,000; On the Wing with the Word, 5,900, a loss of 1,600; Lesson Leaf, 95,000, the same as last year; Bible Lesson Pictures, 23,000, the same as last year; Picture Lesson Cards, 225,000, a loss of 50,000; B.Y.P.U. Quarterly, 225,000, a loss of 15,000; Intermediate B.Y.P.U. Quarterly, 90,000, a gain of 25,000; Junior B. Y. P. U. Quarterly, 95,000, a gain of 30,000; The Leader's Quarterly, 8,000, a gain of 1,000. Four departmental periodicals printed for free distribution have circulation as follows: The Elementary Messenger, 5,450 copies; The Intermediate Counselor, 5,000; Sunday School Young People, 3,000; The Monthly Book Talk, 8,100.
- (2) Monthlies: The Teacher, 66,500, a gain of 5,000; The Sunday School Builder, 13,500, the same as last year; The Organized Class Magazine, 31,000, the same as last year; Home and Foreign Fields, 26,500, the same as last year; The Baptist Student, 3,875, a gain of 1,975.
- (3) Weeklies: Kind Words, 110,000, the same as last year; The Boys' Weekly, 49,000, a loss of 1,000; The Girls' Weekly, 54,000, a loss of 1,000; The Child's Gem, 50,000, the same as last year.

BOOK AND TRACT DEPARTMENT

JOHN L. HILL, Editorial Secretary

The growth of this department and the reception of its work have been all that even its most enthusiastic sponsors could ask. Our people are convinced that we can make books; our ablest writers are submitting their manuscripts to us; our reading constituency is widening appreciably, and a growing demand for good books is already noticeable.

THE GRADED LITERATURE

During the year we have completed the rewriting of the Graded Lessons through the Intermediate Department, and have revised all of this material through the Junior Department. During the coming year it is our purpose to revise the rewritten Intermediate Lessons and to begin the writing of new Senior Lessons. In this way we are able to take advantage of the results of a year's use of the new lessons in reducing them to permanent form. We have taken pains to obtain reports from all sections of our territory concerning the merits of the new Graded Lessons, and we are delighted with the enthusiastic commendations which have been received. The greatly increased circulation of these Lessons is concrete evidence of the favor in which they are held by our progressive leaders.

OUR PUBLISHING ARRANGEMENTS

The enlarged and thoroughly modernized facilities of the Marshall & Bruce Company, Nashville, place at our disposal for the manufacture of purely denominational books a publishing plant second to none in the South. For our publication of books of more than denominational interest, our arrangement with George H. Doran Company, New York, continues to be mutually attractive.

GROWING AUTHORSHIP

It is gratifying to note increasing interest in the writing of books by Southern Baptists. Inspection of titles and authors in our book lists of 1923 and 1924 discloses not only a considerable number of volumes but a variety of subjects and a distribution of writers which indicate the growing and widening desire to take advantage of the opportunities for authorship offered by this department. Our collection of manuscripts on hand is larger than that of last year and contains several meritorious productions, some of which are the work of new authors.

INCREASING SALES

Growing authorship necessarily calls for increasing sales. The coming of Mr. George W. Card, to give attention to Sales Promotion, has already meant much to this department. It is our conviction that in the near future we shall reckon our sales in thousands of copies instead of hundreds. The Baptist Book stores of the South are giving us the heartiest co-operation; our Baptist papers are showing a most sympathetic interest; our pastors and other leaders are boosters of good literature; our people are beginning to give attention to the importance of good books in the home. These influences mean greatly increased sales.

MONTHLY BOOK TALK

This little publication seems to meet a real need. Our mailing list has doubled within the year, and there are abundant evidences of its practical value to its readers. It carries brief reviews of six new books a month. Only the best books are reviewed. In the course of the year it will contain descriptions of all of our books, and three times as many books of other publishers. It is mailed free to all who request it.

TRACTS

The circulation of our tracts continues very large. The value of the tract in this busy day is growing in appreciation, and we regard the distribution of this kind of literature as one of our most important services. Our plans involve an enlargement of our series and the complete revision of our regular line.

THE DEPARTMENT OF SUNDAY SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION

ARTHUR FLAKE

THE COURSE IN SUNDAY SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION

The Course in Sunday School Administration, which has been in the process of building during the past two years, has just been completed and is now offered to students of Sunday-school work. The course comprises four books, namely:

Book One, "Building a Standard Sunday School"—Flake.

Book Two, "Sunday School Officers and Their Work"-Flake.

Book Three, "The Department Sunday School"—Flake and Blankinship.

Book Four, "The Sunday School Secretary and the Six Point Record System" —Flake and Noland.

Book One, "Building a Standard Sunday School," deals with the great Sunday-school fundamentals, namely: Sunday School Enlargement, Organization, Grading, Courses of Study, Evangelism, the Weekly Teachers' Meeting, the Monthly Workers' Council, Training Workers, Denominational Education and Training, etc. This book is the foundation of the Course in Sunday School Administration, and is essential to a proper understanding of the great business of the Sunday school. It should be studied by all Sunday-school officers and teachers.

Book Two, "Sunday School Officers and Their Work," deals with the work of Sunday-school officers, both general and department, in detail and specifies in the minutest manner the duties of each officer in the Sunday school and how he may effectually discharge his duties.

Book Three, "The Department Sunday School," analyzes the department Sunday school and sets it out in its completeness, discusses in detail the duties and work of the department officers, presents the building and equipment of the department Sunday school ideally, gives a program for training department Sunday-school workers and presents a practical plan for conducting the department teachers' meeting. Likewise, it tells how to conduct each one of the eight departments of the Sunday school. Its pages are made interesting with illlustrations, specimen programs and cuts of department rooms, class rooms and many items of equipment.

Book Four, "The Sunday School Secretary and the Six Point Record System," presents the most complete plan of Sunday-school bookkeeping ever recommended by any denomination. The Six Point Record System has been reduced to a practical working basis for use in all types of Sunday schools. The system is offered in three forms, namely:

- 1. Book form for undepartmentized Sunday schools.
- 2. Book form for department Sunday schools.
- 3. Card form for department Sunday schools.

This book should prove popular, as it is essential that pastors, superintendents, general, department and class secretaries and Sunday-school teachers have a thorough knowledge of the record system used in the Sunday school in order to secure the best results from these records. The Six Point Record System is a sharp-edged tool and can only be used effectually by skilled hands.

AWARDS

A beautiful lithographed certificate is awarded to those taking "Building a Standard Sunday School." Each of the other three books carries a seal.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLINICS

This is a new method of training Sunday-school workers in the science of Sunday-school building. It is perhaps the most practical method of training Sunday-school vocational workers yet discovered. It is valuable in that the work done is thorough and the results permanent. Not only are textbooks used but those who attend these clinics are furnished opportunities for practical experiment and actual accomplishments. In all the Sunday schools of a given community where one of these clinics are held, the things taught are actually put into operation.

This year three of these clinics are being held as follows:

Louisville, Kentucky, May 11 to June 1. Knoxville, Tennessee, August 3-24, inclusive. Fort Worth, Texas, August 31 to September 21.

The first and last of these clinics are held primarily for the benefit of the classes in Religious Education in our two Seminaries. The second clinic, which is to be held at Knoxville, Tennessee, is Southwide, and religious workers from anywhere in the bounds of the Southern Baptist Convention will be admitted.

CITY-WIDE SUNDAY SCHOOL ENLARGEMENT CAMPAIGNS

This method of Sunday-school enlargement and improvement is a new thing in the Sunday-school world. Briefly defined it means that all the Baptist churches of a given city co-operate in a simultaneous effort to enlarge their Sunday schools and train their workers in an eight-days' intensive campaign. A census of the entire city is taken, each church furnishing the workers to take a given territory. All of the Sunday schools are reorganized by the addition of a sufficient number of new officers and teachers to reach and teach all the people discovered in the census who should be in Baptist Sunday schools. These new workers, as well as those already serving, are trained by expert Sunday-school leaders, each church being provided with a faculty of these leaders. Likewise, a systematic campaign of visitation is inaugurated in each church and many new pupils are added to the Sunday schools immediately. It has been found that an increase in interest and growth in membership follows these city-wide campaigns.

It is proposed to prosecute this method of Sunday-school enlargement and betterment vigorously and to make it associational wide in its application when and where deemed practical and advisable.

RURAL SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

This department plans to co-operate to the fullest extent with State Sunday School Departments in conducting rural Sunday-school campaigns which will reach and help every one of the 17,027 rural Sunday schools affiliated with the Southern Baptist Convention, as well as lead in organizing new schools where needed. The most fruitful, as well as the most challenging, field among our people is right here.

The First Standard for Baptist Sunday Schools, erected by the Sunday School Board, is being reached by a greater number of rural schools every month, and the program set out by this Standard is literally re-making the schools using it as an objective. The problem of placing this program before schools as a worthy program is now commanding the thought of the state secretaries and the workers of this department.

A leaflet, "Organizing the Association for Sunday School Work," has been prepared to assist in the associational Sunday-school work. The organization as outlined in this leaflet seems to be the best method found so far to utilize the efforts of all Sunday-school leaders in every association. Several of the states have been working along this line for years and have proved the wisdom of it. Through such an associational organization every school should be blessed by the efforts of the most capable workers in the association. Leaders in the association in all phases of Sunday-school work are selected, and they assist every school in their particular specialties.

THE STANDARDS OF EXCELLENCE

The Standards are gaining steadily in popular interest. The lack of adequate buildings is the bar which prevents many Sunday schools from becoming Advanced Standard schools.

The following is a comparative list, by states, of the Sunday schools reaching the First Standard during the Convention years 1922 and 1923:

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL WORK

Vacation Bible Schools are on the increase among Southern Baptists and a great future is predicted for this phase of our work.

LITERATURE

Ultimately we will have our own literature covering all phases of this great movement. At present a leaflet, "Books Needed for Vacation Bible Schools," has been arranged to suggest needed materials. The books suggested in this leaflet, as well as others covering all Vacation Bible School work, should be ordered from the Sunday School Board. "Vacation Bible School," by R. E. F. Aler, Secretary Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. Department of the Maryland Baptist Union Association, has been published by the Sunday School Board.

Worker Added

Mr. Bryan Robinson, formerly a field worker with the State Sunday School Department of Texas, has been added to the workers in the Department of Administration and has the direction of this work, together with that of rural Sunday schools.

GEORGIA ACTS

In co-operation with the Sunday School Board, Georgia Baptists placed Mr. James W. Merritt, of the Sunday School Department of that state, in charge of Vacation Bible School work, in addition to his other duties, for the present season. This is a pioneer step in this line by a state in the Southern Baptist Convention.

CLINICS

In each of the three Sunday School Clinics—Louisville, Kentucky, May 11-June 1; Knoxville, Tennessee, August 3-24, and Fort Worth, Texas, August 31-September 21—a thorough course in Vacation Bible School work is to be offered.

Assistance in Training Schools

Several of the states are conducting one or more Training Schools for Vacation Bible School workers, and as far as possible the Sunday School Board is giving assistance in these schools.

THE DEPARTMENT OF TEACHER TRAINING

P. E. BURROUGHS, Educational Secretary.

We present herewith our twenty-second annual report, this department having been established in June, 1901. Through twenty-three years the Sunday School Board has consistently pressed its work in teacher training. From meager beginnings, the work has grown until many thousands of Sunday-school teachers are annually receiving guidance and inspiration. The state organizations are heartily fostering the work; more than a hundred of our educational institutions are co-operating, while pastors and Sunday-school leaders into the thousands are lending themselves to these training tasks.

REVISIONS IN THE NORMAL COURSE

During the past year, two of the Normal Course books have been revised and issued in new form. The new Convention Normal Manual has undergone rather extensive revision and is now issued under the simpler title, "The Sunday School Manual." "Winning to Christ," our book on personal soul-winning, has also been revised. During the coming year we hope to issue two new books on the Old and New Testaments, which will serve as alternative books along with the books at present in use.

An Annual Bulletin of Teacher Training

We have in press a thirty-two page brochure setting forth teacher-training developments, especially for the year ending April 1, 1924, this being practically the Southern Baptist Convention year. We expect to issue such a bulletin each year.

OUR STATISTICAL TABLES

We present below in tabulated form the developments of the past year and years. We invite a careful examination of the significant figures set forth.

THE ORGANIZED CLASS DEPARTMENT

H. L. STRICKLAND

The motto of The Organized Class Department for 1924 is, "To win the lost to Christ; to develop active church members." This motto is intended to convey in a concrete way the fundamental principles of organized class work as proposed by this Department. We talk a great deal about being the best evangelized country on earth, and yet it is an indisputable fact that the majority of the people even in the Southland have never been won to any sort of service for the Master and very likely not to saving faith. It has always been and will continue to be our purpose to magnify the local church as the center of the religious activity of every member of that church, but it must also be said that the majority of the people in any given neighborhood are not churchgoing people. A well-organized Bible class is practically the only reaching-out agency a church has with an unlimited constituency. The preaching and prayer meeting services, as a rule, are not organized to definitely reach the people Sunday by Sunday. The Woman's Missionary Society and the B.Y.P.U. have more or less limited constituencies. The Organized Bible Class is set to teach every one, saved and unsaved, in the church community. It is not suggested that an organized class go ahead of the pastor or the church program in the matter of evangelism, but that the class stimulate within its own membership the willingness and desire on the part of each Christian member to thoroughly co-operate with the pastor in every effort made by the church to evangelize.

Gospel Teams, or Evangelistic Clubs are being organized throughout the South and are rendering a wonderful service which has its benefits not only in the winning of the lost, but in the building up and strengthening of the Christian character of those engaged in this work.

In the matter of developing the active church members it may be said that The Organized Class Department stands for the development and use of an individual as a church member, but not as a member of any particular organization within or without the church. The greatest need of the churches seems to be a thoroughly effective and useful membership willing and ready to do the Master's work according to the best of their ability.

CO-OPERATION WITH THE STATES

It is a pleasure to be able to say that in practically every state co-operative work is made possible because of the vision and purpose of the various State Sunday School Secretaries. Some of the states hold separate State Organized Class Conventions. These conventions, for the most part, have become important factors in the work of the denomination in the state and elsewhere. In other states where conventions have not been thought advisable, campaigns of various kinds have been conducted, all of which have been well attended and, in the main, very effective.

LITERATURE

The Sunday School Board publishes in addition to the Adult Bible Class Quarterly and the Senior Quarterly, The Organized Class Magazine, On the Wing with the Word (a quarterly pocket commentary) and The Sunday School Young People (quarterly) for use by the Young People's and Adult Departments. In addition to the regular Intermediate uniform and graded lessons The Intermediate Counselor is issued quarterly. For the Home Department the Home Department Magazine and On the Wing with the Word is used.

A large amount of free literature is published and distributed by The Organized Class Department. This literature deals with methods of work and is the result of observation and experiences in successful classes.

TEXT BOOKS

There is in preparation some additional books for the teacher training work of The Organized Class Department. The Intermediate Book is being revised. The book on Adult Class work is being revised and will be reproduced as two books: "Sunday School Young People" for the Young People's Department, and "Building an Adult Class," for the Adult Department. Plans are also in the making for the publication of a new text book for Home Department workers.

REGISTRATIONS FOR THE YEAR ENDING APRIL 1, 1924

- 3026 Classes of Intermediate pupils with enrollment of 35,282.
- 4532 Classes of Young People's-Adult pupils with enrollment of 266,966.
 - 173 Home Departments have registered with the Board.
 - 4 Home Departments are Standard.
 - 56 Intermediate Standard Classes.
 - 3 Intermediate Departments are Standard.
 - 158 Young People's-Adult Standard Classes.
 - 3 Young People's-Adult Departments are Standard.

The Departments included in what is known as The Organized Class Department are Intermediate, Young People's Adult and Home Departments. Standards of Excellence are set up for these various Departments and also for the classes, each of which is approved and adopted by the Sunday School Board. A large number of classes and some departments annually attain these standards, which are inspirational and helpful in the work of the Sunday school.

A NEW FORM OF SERVICE

The Board has authorized this Department to offer to the classes a new form of organized service, namely posters and a monthly bulletin. These posters will be original each month as will three pages of the four-page bulletin. The front page of this bulletin will be left for local use by the classes subscribing. The posters will be adapted for use in the church building or some public place as an invitation to class attendance. A small subscription fee will be asked to cover the cost of this service.

SOUTHWIDE CONFERENCE

The third Conference was held under the auspices of the Board in Atlanta, Georgia, January 15-17, 1924. The attendance was the largest of any of the conferences previously held and there were representatives present from every state in the Convention territory. The aim of the conference is to more thoroughly denominationalize our classes and build up a oneness of spirit and purpose for service throughout the Convention.

ARCHITECTURAL DEPARTMENT

P. E. Burroughs

We submit herewith the seventh annual report of this department. Through its various deaprtments of field work, the Sunday School Board has, for a score of years, rendered some help to our churches in the planning of Sunday-school buildings. Secretary H. Beauchamp early became active in this endeavor and published in his book, "The Graded Sunday School," as early as 1909, an assortment of church plans. In 1917 the Board, in view of the increasing pressure for service along these lines, established its Architectural Department.

Besides the secretary in charge, the department has during the past year maintained an efficient technical staff, comprising two graduate architects and two clerical assistants. Mr. Wellington J. H. Wallace, who came to us two years ago, has served us as chief architect with rare devotion and with fine skill.

We have sought to widen the scope of our service to the churches. Especial attention has been given to the development of a series of small church designs, and we are now in position to render helpful service to our country and village churches which are not in position to secure the services of competent church architects. We have also partly by our own production and partly through the efforts of co-operating architects, accumulated a series of successful and suggestive designs ranging up to very large buildings. Under proper conditions we can open these for inspection by building committees and thus guide them in their efforts to find proper solutions for their various problems. As will be seen by a glance at the titles of the literature offered by the department, we have now a wide variety of discussions covering pretty well all of the various problems which must be faced by the building committee.

"A Complete Guide to Church Building"

When we submitted our last annual report, this book was just coming from the press. During the past year the policies and plans proposed in the book have been somewhat fully tested, and the book has proven a valuable asset in the work of the Department.

"Housing the Sunday School"

During the past year the department has issued this sixteen-page folder setting forth in careful detail the housing requirements of the modern department Sunday school. This condensed statement serves to answer many questions which come to the department.

An Annual Convention Exhibit .

In accordance with the policies pursued for a half dozen years the Department will offer during the session of the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlanta, Ga., an exhibit of church and Sunday-school buildings. Architects who co-operate with our department will be present and these, along with the secretary and our architect, Mr. Wallace, will be pleased to hold conferences with pastors and building committees. Some approved buildings, now under construction or recently completed, will be offered in the exhibit.

SECRETARY H. BEAUCHAMP CONTINUES HIS VALUABLE SERVICE

Dr. H. Beauchamp, as has already been noted, began many years ago to render service in helping the churches to plan effective Sunday-school buildings. This service has increased with the years and has been especially effective during the past year.

A Conference of Church Architects and Architectural Secretaries

Some eight or ten denominations throughout the country are conducting Architectural Departments. On February 25, 1924, representatives of these departments met for a conference in Cincinnati, Ohio. Our secretary and our architect attended this meeting. The plans of each Architectural Department were set forth in detail and all present were permitted to study the methods and policies developed by the various departments. The conference was exceedingly profitable, and plans were perfected for similar gatherings at proper intervals.

Besides this and other literature which is offered for free distribution, the Sunday School Board has published a helpful book entitled, "A Complete Guide to Church Building," by P. E. Burroughs, Educational Secretary. ($2.50.)

DEPARTMENT OF ELEMENTARY WORK

LILIAN S. FORBES

The past year's outstanding events in the work of the Elementary Department are the annual meeting of its state and general field secretaries at Nashville in June, the Southwide observance of Children's Week in October, the increasing interest manifested in the organization of Elementary Leagues, and the annual exhibit of poster material and pupils' handwork at the Southern Baptist Convention.

While none of these can be tabulated in commanding figures, yet each is surely permeating the whole of our Sunday-school life, and as certainly as fruitage follows the bud and blossom of the springtime just so surely will there continue to come a stronger, fuller life into our Sunday schools because of better type of elementary work that is being done in them. A recent editorial says: "There is a great youth movement in America. . . . Young men and women, college and university students by the thousand are coming earnestly and intelligently to first-hand grips with the ideals of Christianity as the surest hope of a better day for mankind." We believe and confidently affirm that part of this is due to better methods of teaching in the Sunday schools of our country for the past quarter of a century. Better methods began in the elementary grades of the Sunday school and the upward trend has created a demand for better methods in the other departments of the school.

The meeting of the elementary secretaries each June is of incalculable benefit to the work. It makes possible a correlation of methods and a unified program of service in the various states. We give herewith a directory of the general and state elementary secretaries:

Miss Margaret A. Frost, Louisville, Kentucky.

Miss Annie L. Williams, Birmingham, Alabama.

Miss Lilian S. Forbes, Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Arrie Moody, Montgomery, Alabama.

Miss Blanche Dittmar, Jacksonville, Florida.

Miss Lula Burton, Du Quoin, Ill.

Mrs. W. A. Gardiner, Louisville, Kentucky.

Miss Dorothy Earp, Baltimore, Maryland.

Miss Minnie Brown, Pontotoc, Mississippi.

Mrs. Lydia Yates Hilliard, Raleigh, North Carolina. Miss Elizabeth H. Nuckols, Columbia, South Carolina.

Miss Zella Mai Collie, Nashville, Tennessee.

Miss Leona Lavender, Dallas, Texas.

Miss Alberta Jones, Richmond, Virginia.

SUMMARY OF WORK OF FIELD SECRETARIES

Number Elementary Departments Organized	84
Elementary Text Books Taught in Training Schools	300
Elementary Books Taught in Colleges	4
Number of Addresses and Conferences in Schools	318
Elementary Work Represented at Conventions (State and Associational).	195

Elementary Work Represented at Superintendents' Conferences	42
Exhibits at Training Schools, Assemblies, and Conventions	134
Daily Vacation Bible Schools Conducted	5
Estimated Number of People Reached with Elementary Message	25,000

The growth in the organization of Elementary Leagues is gratifying. There are now forty associational and eight city leagues. One hundred and fifty-six Dependable Workers have been enlisted. Ere long the Woman's Missionary Union will not be the only organization among Southern Baptists that can claim as its own the beautiful words of the Psalmist, "The women that publish the tidings are a great host," for the selected Dependable Workers in the various associations are responding loyally to the call for volunteers.

As New Mexico has been unable to employ an elementary secretary, Mrs. A. J. Gross, of Silver City, has volunteered to distribute literature, gather statistics and assist in every possible way in developing this work in that great field.

October marked the first Southwide observance of Children's Week by Baptist people. The third week was chosen as the opportune time for teachers to visit the homes of pupils recently promoted to their classes, and to present to parents their plans and purposes for the coming year. The Parents' Meeting furnished an opportunity for studying conditions in home, church and community as they relate themselves to the children.

It resulted in many forward steps being taken for the betterment of conditions as may be seen in the report given herewith. It called forth forceful, helpful editorials from all our denominational papers. Its most far-reaching results cannot be given in figures. Hundreds of schools observed the week which did not send in any report.

Number of Homes Visited by Them	7,340
Number of Parents' Meetings (Second Sunday)
Estimated Number of Parents Present	9,000

Some resulting Forward Steps are as follows: Membership of Cradle Roll greatly increased in three instances; a large number of fathers and mothers enlisted for organized classes in the Sunday school; several homes established the family altar; a quickened interest in the study courses of the Sunday school and the record and reporting system; many promised hearty co-operation in the plans of the Sunday school; at least two dozen department teachers' meetings organized; some twenty Parent-Teacher Associations started; six teacher training classes begun for the study of department books; about twenty-five departments reorganized along right lines; two playgrounds for children opened. A heating plant was put in one elementary department, scores were renovated and made clean and beautiful, two churches added department rooms and another was stimulated to push to completion its lagging building enterprises. Pianos were bought for two departments, fulfilling a long-dreamed-of need.

As a result of one church's visitation, one child who had never been in a Sunday school was enrolled, forty parents who had never been either to Sunday school or church came to the Parents' Meeting, and four of them gave their hearts to Christ that day and were added to the church.

The unqualified approval of this week by our denominational papers, their cordial co-operation in giving space for its publicity and the excellent editorials written by several of the editors bespeak a yet greater Children's Week observance for October, 1924. The Race Moves Forward on the Feet of Little Children

EXHIBITS

The educational value of annual exhibits at the Southern Baptist Convention, at State conventions and city training schools cannot be over-estimated. What is seen is remembered. What has been done by another can be done by the observer.

THE PRINTED PAGE

The Elementary Messenger: This is published each season and now goes into the hands of five thousand departmental superintendents each quarter. The secretary of the Elementary Department has four associate editors who gladly give their services. Each is a specialist in her own department. For the current year these are: Mrs. Florine Jackson Ellis, of Greenville, S. C., Cradle Roll and Cradle Roll Class; Mrs. Grace W. Owens, of Manchester, Ga., Beginners Department; Miss Mattie C. Leatherwood, of Louisville, Ky., Primary Department; Mis Annie Going Taylor, of Fort Worth, Texas, Junior Department.

Books: Junior Program Material, compiled by Mrs. Carribel R. Blankinship; Beginners Superintendents' Manual, Primary Superintendents' Manual, Junior Superintendents' Manual, compiled by Lilian S. Forbes; Handwork Manual for Junior Teachers (revised edition), prepared by Elizabeth H. Nuckols.

Envelope Literature: There are six of these envelopes: The Cradle Roll Department; The Beginners Department; The Primary Department; The Junior Department; The Rural Elementary Departments; The Elementary League. Printed and distributed of the above pamphlets and leaflets this year, 125,000.

Children's Week Pamphlets: There were five of these: Children's Week Observance in the City School, Observance of Children's Week in the Rural Sunday School (both leaflets on preparation), Home Training or the Problem of Authority, The Power of Example, and The Child a Citizen. Of these there were distributed 30,500.

The printed page is the silent teacher that goes where the human voice has not been. It is the earnest reminder that is left behind when the teacher must pass on to yet another place.

THE B. Y. P. U. DEPARTMENT

L. P. LEAVELL

The past Convention year has seen a steady growth, quarter by quarter, in the B. Y. P. U. Department. This is indicated, concretely, by the Board's sale of B. Y. P. U. Quarterlies. Each quarter has seen an advance in the orders for Quarterlies; and for the Second Quarter, 1924, the Senior B. Y. P. U. Quarterly ran to 225,000; the Intermediate to 90,000; the Junior to 95,000; and the Leader's Quarterly to 8,000. Also the sale of B. Y. P. U. Study Course Text Books has been the best in our history. The March Study Course Week is being observed with more uniformity, especially in the cities and larger towns, and Unions taking text books at this time have credit for twelve months upon the study course requirement of the Standard of Excellence.

Possibly the most gratifying of all is the growth of B. Y. P. U. work in foreign lands. The B. Y. P. U. Quarterly is now printed in Spanish and Chinese, and we receive copies in these languages. These foreign Quarterlies follow our lessons, with the exception of the missionary lessons, for which doctrinal or Bible study lessons are often substituted. China has now two full-time B. Y. P. U. secretaries, Mr. and Mrs. Eph Whisenhunt, of Shanghai, missionaries under our Foreign Mission Board and from the state of Georgia. Both were efficient B. Y. P. U. workers in Georgia before going to China. Also we receive reports of growing interest in B. Y. P. U. work in Roumania, under the direction of Brother Socaciu, and from Japan, South America and Africa—under the leadership of our missionaries. The Negro Baptists of the South also use our B. Y. P. U. lesson for Juniors and Seniors. "B. Y. P. U. World Wide" is no longer an idle dream, but an enlarging reality. It is but natural that our younger missionaries, having been blessed by this work themselves before they went abroad, should become leaders in it for the young Christians of the mission churches.

Associational B. Y. P. U. Work

This particular type of B. Y. P. U. work is growing by leaps and bounds, and accounts for the large number of new Unions in the country churches. City and town Unions, looking for something to do, find it easy during the summer and fall to conduct institutes and hold conventions in the country. Unions are organized and visited regularly on Sunday afternoons until they get to going. Many associations are reporting all their churches with Unions. In certain states, like South Carolina and Mississippi, the State B. Y. P. U. Department offers to city and town Unions a library of fifty or more volumes if they will do a stipulated amount of work with country churches—teaching the Manual, organizing the young people, holding an associational convention, and other activities. While it is hard to get exact figures on this, yet most notable success in associational work has been reported from Georgia, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia, Missouri and Mississippi.

THE GROWTH BY STATES

The following table, prepared by Dr. E. P. Alldredge, shows the number of Unions in the various states and the increase over the past year.

Note the states having 1,000 or more Unions,—Texas, Georgia, North Carolina, Alabama, Missouri, Oklahoma. Note the states having within 200 of 1,000—South Carolina, Mississippi, Virginia.

NEW TEXT BOOKS

Two new textbooks were offered this year:

"The People Called Bapt'sts," by Dr. McDaniel. This book was revised in the historical sections, the figures given for the strength of the several denominations being brought up to date. Questions for review and test were printed in the book and a paper edition issued. It has gone widely and will supply the demand for a B. Y. P. U. study course book giving a sketch of Bapt'st history.

"David, the Master Poet," by Miss Keiningham. This book is a study of David's life by periods as a background for a number of his psalms reflecting his experiences and his growth in faith in God. Each psalm is outlined and attractively presented, with notebook work to be done upon it. The book will doubtless find its place as an Intermediate textbook, but many Senior Unions are now taking it—and should do so—since we have had no textbooks before which present the Psalms in so unique and attractive a way.

"The Junior B. Y. P. U. Manual" has been revised in the sections dealing with the Junior Standard of Excellence. A simpler Standard and better adapted to Junior work is presented in this revision.

B. Y. P. U. STUDY COURSE BOOKS

The list of study course textbooks now numbers twelve, as follows:

The B. Y. P. U. Manual (Leavell). Cloth, 75 cents; paper, 50 cents.

Training in Church Membership (Van Ness). Cloth, 60 cents, paper, 40 cents.

Training in the Bapt'st Spirit (Van Ness). Cloth, 60 cents; paper, 40 cents.

A-1 Unions and A-1 Awards for 1923

The following table, covering the four quarters of 1923, shows two things: In the first column, the number of Unions in each state, which reached the Standard during 1923. In the second column, the number of A-1 Awards issued to each state. The totals shown in the second column are, of course, larger than those in the first column because, in each state, many Unions attained the Standard two or more quarters during the year, and received an A-1 Award for each quarterly A-1 report.

DEPARTMENT OF SURVEY, STATISTICS AND INFORMATION

E. P. ALLDREDGE

The fourth annual report of the Department of Survey, Statistics and Information may be briefly summarized as follows:

1. Country Church Survey Completed. On January 25, 1924, and after seventeen months of continuous, exacting and costly effort, we succeeded in completing the survey of the 22,043 white Baptist rural churches of the South. On March 12, this rural church survey was pubished as Part I of the 1923 Southern Baptist Handbook. If we may be allowed to say so, we believe our people will find crowded into the 190 pages of Part I of this Handbook the greatest body of information dealing with the inner life and work of rural churches so far published in any single volume in America. Besides the work of the secretary of this Department and his regular assistant we had the assistance of two, and most of the time three, extra helpers. The total cost of the making of this survey was perhaps $12,000, all of it borne by the Sunday School Board. The book is having a splendid sale at the nominal price of 50c per copy for the paper edition and $1 for the leatherette.

Our experience has convinced us that it is impractical and well nigh impossible to bring out the Handbook before the meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention each year, for the reason that much of the statistical information which it should contain is not available until about the time the Convention meets and for the further reason that the Handbook should properly contain all the changes effected and give reference to all the main events which transpire at the Convention meeting each year. For these reasons, it has seemed best to bring out the Handbook about the middle of September each year and have it ready for distribution before the fall campaigns in the various states. Unless otherwise directed, therefore, we will spend the summer months in making a survey of the urban churches among Southern Baptists and include this in the 1924 Handbook, to be published September 15, 1924.

3. Gathering and Disseminating Information. We have continued, as here-tofore, to gather and to pass on information dealing with all phases of Southern Baptist life and work, as well as with the main features of the life and work of other denominations. We think that within a few years we will be able to furnish fairly complete and invaluable information to all the students of Southern Baptist affairs.

- 4. Collecting and Housing Invaluable Historical Data. The past year has seen the completion of our great new, fireproof storage vault, in the basement of Sunday School Board's new Shipping and Storage Building, where we have deposited the historical collection gathered by our honored predecessor, Dr. Lansing Burrows, and the still larger collection we have assembled during the past four years. And now that we have these ample and splendid storage facilities, we hope, by the co-operation of the brotherhood, to give special emphasis to this feature of our departmental service in the future.
- 5. Statistics and Register of the Convention. The publication of the statistics and register of the Southern Baptist Convention in a separate pamphlet, which is furnished gratis to all delegates to the Convention and to all others requesting it, has likewise become a distinct and important feature of the work of this Department. Because of the special significance of the 1924 Atlanta Convention, we are preparing many new and, we hope, interesting and informing features to be included in the next issue of this pamphlet, which we call, "The Blue Book of Southern Baptist Progress."
- 6. Summary of the Southern Baptist Year—1923-24. We have just completed our statistical summary of the year 1923 with Southern Baptists. The following table will indicate the main lines of progress during the past year:

FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

EDUCATION BOARD

(To the Southern Baptist Convention, Atlanta, Ga.)
W. C. JAMES, Corresponding Secretary,
BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

I 9 2 4

The Education Board presents this, its Fifth Annual Report, to the Southern Baptist Convention with the abiding conviction that Christian Education is fundamental to the life of the denomination, and that the Education Board can function effectively in advancing the true ideal of education. The period of five years is too short for a complete evaluation of educational movements, but even this time has made manifest the need of a medium through which the Southern Baptist Convention may express its purposes and realize its ambitions in matters educational. While we recognize many limitations, we yet vision almost innumerable problems in education that could be best handled through such a Board.

At the last session of the Convention a Committee was appointed to which was referred the correlation of the various activities of the Convention. Within the province of this Committee lies the question of the future of the Education Board. It is not our purpose in this Report to transgress upon the rights of this Committee nor to offer here a brief for the permanency of the Education Board, but in justice to the work that we have been doing certain features and functions of the Board must have treatment.

I. A HISTORICAL RETROSPECT

Too much consideration could hardly be given to the following statement, issued by a Special Committee from the Southern Baptist Education Association and the Commission on Standardization and Promotion:

"Southern Baptists are agreed that the bond of union is the bond of strength.

"In no department of our work has the result of united effort been more manifest than in that of Christian Education. After nearly a century of independent endeavor we had only three or four schools that had won scholastic recognition or any assurance of permanence. When the movement was launched, about twelve years ago, for a Southwide organization in our educational work and to place education on the program of the Southern Baptist Convention, the vast majority of our schools were struggling for existence and their combined endowment did not exceed their combined debts. Not until this critical condition was placed before Southern Baptists by the Southern Baptist Education Commission did our people realize that we must unite to save our schools. Through the Education Commission, which was succeeded by our Education Board, the subject of Christian Education was put on the program of the Southern Baptist Convention and on the conscience of Southern Baptists.

"Before the Baptist 75 Million Campaign was discussed, or even thought of, the Southern Baptist Convention, at the request of the Education Commission, had gone on record in promoting a Southwide movement for $15,000,000 for Christian Education. The Woman's Missionary Union had officially endorsed the plan and agreed to raise one-fifth of the amount. The total state budgets for education, endorsed by State Conventions following the action of the Southern Baptist Convention, was over $24,000,000 for five years. Before this campaign had proceeded far, the Convention entered upon the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, and the educational campaign was absorbed in this larger movement. There can be no doubt that the united effort on the part of Southern Baptists, through the Education Commission, for Christian Education had its effect in suggesting the larger idea of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign.

"By this Southwide educational movement, promoted by a Southwide Education Board, many Baptist schools have been saved, all of them have been strengthened and enlarged, and every interest of Southern Baptists at home and abroad has been blessed by the trained men and women who have come from these schools."

II. SOME HANDICAPS OF THE EDUCATION BOARD

1. INCIDENT TO A NEW BOARD

We take the liberty of quoting from an article by Dr. W. J. McGlothlin, President of Furman University.

"It must be admitted frankly that this Board has not accomplished all that its proponents had hoped for and expected of it; but it must be admitted with equal frankness by its opponents that it has accomplished something worth while. We should be educationally poorer if it had not been in existence and at work during the last five years. It has been the rallying point of the educational interests of the Convention, it has kept the unified aspects of the question before us, it has accumulated and disseminated information on education, it has been the agent of inter-communication and mutual assistance among the educational interests of the states of the Convention. In short, it has done much for us and the cause of education.

"Moreover, if we judge it fairly, it must be remembered that it has done its work under exceptionally difficult conditions. All our thought for the five years of its existence has been centered upon our 75 Million Campaign whose success has been of paramount importance, overshadowing everything else. The Education Board was new, had no definite field cut out for it by the Convention, had no time to find its field, and was, like many other interests, much hampered in its independent activites by the conditions under which the Campaign was carried on. Under these conditions we probably expected too much of it. It must have time to fit itself into the general machinery of the denomination, and five years under the Campaign conditions are certainly not long enough for an Education Board to show what it can do. It would in my judgment be nothing short of a calamity to all the interests of the Convention to abolish the Education Board now. Education, with evangelism, is the foundation activity for everything else we do. To abolish the Board would everywhere be interpreted as a backward step. All the forces that oppose education would rejoice. Without the Board the Convention, the unified will of Southern Baptists, could not express itself on education. Education would again become dumb in the Convention, in the general counsels of the denomination. Surely the denomination cannot afford and will not allow such a calamity to fall upon our educational interests and work at this late date. Let every man who believes in Christian Education give his active support to the continuance of the Education Board. On this question there ought to be no differences of opinion among those of us who support education, and we ought not to allow differences of opinion concerning the details of the Board activities to confuse us concerning the continuance of the Board itself. We can work out the details of its field as time goes on under the direction of the Spirit and in the light of our increasing experience."

2. RELATION OF ALLOCATION TO RECEIPTS

In the 75 Million Campaign the Education Board was allocated the sum of $3,000,000 for the five-year period. This was distributed to the various objects, fostered by the Board, according to the table of percentages as given on page 23 of this report.

By the action of the Convention the Campaign will close on January 1, 1925. This leaves eight months in which to complete the work. We may then compute the results upon the basis of the actual time thus far, namely, four and one-third years. The apportionment for the Education Board for this period would be $2,600,000. The total receipts of the Board from the beginning of the Campaign to May 1, 1924, have been $1,399,188.64. Included in this amount is the sum of $69,290.69, which the states have charged against the Education Board for Campaign Expenses, incurred in putting on the Campaign and for collecting the funds. This covers the charges in the states and for the general office at Nashville. Even including the Campaign Expenses, the amount credited to the Education Board for the entire period thus far is only 53.8 per cent of its allocation for the same period. This means a severe handicap, since only a little more than one-half of the expected funds have been received upon which to administer and carry forward the work.

Without the slightest purpose of offering a criticism upon the methods of adjusting the allocations, a further fact should be observed out of fairness to the Education Board. Information has been furnished us by various State Secretaries that certain funds have been given that are not subject to the original 4 per cent distribution for Southwide educational objects. Hence, if the full goal of the 75 Million Dollars is reached by the end of the Campaign, the Education Board will not receive its full quota of $3,000,000. New alignments for funds and special designations made it practically necessary for some states to reduce their allocations to the Education Board. This fact contributes a further handicap for the Education Board.

A yet more serious handicap has presented itself. The Education Board was to receive a certain percentage of its receipts for its operating expenses. The sum so far received for operating expenses, sharing its pro rata. has been but 53.8 per cent of the allocation. The Board was allocated $50,000 annually, or $250,000 for the period, with which to carry on its work. The actual amount thus far for this purpose has been $116,599.21. Of this amount the operating account of the Board has been charged with extra-Board objects according to the instructions of the Convention. These amounts for the current year have equalled 36% of the whole amount of this fund. This greatly hinders the work of the Board, which is compelled to operate on one-half its allocation and with one-third of this requisitioned by the expenses of outside objects. This would not mean so much to a Board with larger resources than ours, but it has been a serious problem for us. For the entire period of the Campaign this draft upon our local fund has been about 28% of our account. One is almost reminded of the ancient incident of making brick without straw.

III. FUNCTIONS OF AN EDUCATION BOARD

1. VICARIOUS AND INTANGIBLE

It is perhaps evident to all that the service which an Education Board renders is vicarious in its nature and intangible in its results. It is a service which escapes the mechanics of statistics, and yet is by far the most valuable and permanent contribution that the Board can make to the life of the denomination. A prominent Baptist who has just returned from a world tour remarked that Southern Baptists would have rendered themselves and the cause of evangelical Christianity a great service had they kept a strong man in Europe for the last twenty-five years, whose sole employment would have been to acquaint the people of Europe with the Baptist position by means of tracts, newspaper articles, addresses, etc., but unfortunately, said he, there is a strong disposition on the part of many of our people not to put money in anything that does not produce immediate and visible results. An Education Board must necessarily carry on an unceasing propaganda, the results of which are not always straightway forthcoming. It deals with forces that are not subject to the laws of averages and numbers, and its prosperity will be seen in the growth of institutions over which it has no direct control, but whose support will come from the seed that were sown—from the Baptist loyalty which was stimulated by it.

2. CREATION OF AN EDUCATIONAL CONSCIENCE

Without exaggeration there is no finer service that the Education Board could perform for the denomination than this, and this statement is justified by the following consideration:

(a) Baptists predominate in the South. They hold the balance of power and, assuming they have religion which supplies the right motive, they need education and the two combined will enable them to use their power in the right way.

(b) As is well known, there is a flood of illiteracy in the South, due to inadequate provision for education up to and including the High School. The average number of years that a boy in Massachusetts attends school is seven, while in Tennessee it is three. This disparity may be attributed in some measure to the fact that compulsory education obtains in the North more than in the South, yet the provision for education in the lower grades made by many Southern Legislatures is pitiably small. Since Baptists are so numerous in the South, it follows that much of this illiteracy is Baptist illiteracy, and only an aroused conscience on the part of Baptists will effect a change. Just as Presbyterians are held responsible for conditions in Scotland, and Catholics for conditions in Mexico, South America and elsewhere, so Baptists, by virtue of their ascendency in the South, numerically and otherwise, cannot escape responsibility for conditions in the South, not the least appalling of which is illiteracy.

- (c) Another reason why Baptists should educate is that education is a qualification as necessary for membership in a free church, as for citizenship in a free state. Baptists in church matters are supposed to do their own thinking, and not to turn it over to some ecclesiastic. Others may, but a Baptist from the nature of Baptist church government must, think for himself. Necessity, therefore, is laid upon a Baptist to be educated so as to be able to think straight as a citizen and as a church member. It was this responsibility of a Baptist to think for himself that prompted one of our greatest leaders to say that "Baptists may not have more sense than other people, but they need more." The lack of co-operation and the non-progressive spirit which prevail in so many Baptist churches are often due to the ignorance of the members.
- (d) A quickened conscience as to education will also react favorably upon the quality of preaching in Southern Baptist pulpits, as it does in Scotland, where the interest in education has always been profound, even among the poor, and as a result the average among the preachers of Scotland has always been unusually high. It has led the world.

Another result will be sufficient Baptist teachers to fill all vacancies in Baptist schools without being compelled to secure teachers from other denominations, also a sufficient number of Baptist teachers to allow Baptists to have the representation on the faculties of State Institutions to which they are entitled by virtue of their numerical strength.

Another result will be an increased number of Baptists in our national councils, where in the last two Congresses we have been outnumbered in both Houses by denominations vastly inferior to ours in numerical strength. The Methodists, North and South, have been gaining upon the Baptists in recent years, until they are now beyond us, but still the difference in numbers is not so great as to give the Methodists 119 in the present Congress, while the Baptists have only 48, and the Episcopalians and Presbyterians who are so much weaker numerically than the Baptists have 74 and 73 respectively. Our Baptist people should make a better showing than that in the Congress of the United States, and they will when they begin to give education the attention it deserves. A short time before his death, Dr. Gambrell, in a letter to the Secretary, observed that while the Presbyterians were not placing too much emphasis upon education, they were placing too little upon evangelism, and in his judgment, therefore, were coming perilously near to losing out. But they realized their mistake, and now were not placing less emphasis upon education, but more upon evangelism. With Methodists and Baptists, said he, the case was reversed. They had not been laying too much emphasis upon evangelism, but entirely too little upon education, and were beginning to reap the disastrous results of their policy when they saved themselves by beginning to place not less emphasis upon evangelism, but more upon education. Southern Baptists have a genius for evangelism which, may it please God, may never be lost. When to it is joined a thoroughly aroused conscience on education, the result will be a distinct raising of the level all along the line—a higher type of private life and home life, of citizenship and church membership. So vast is the undertaking and so vital are the results to be accomplished that nothing less than the weight of the Southern Baptist Convention will be equal to it.

3. SOLIDARITY

Nowhere in the organized work of Southern Baptists has the centrifugal influence been more in evidence than in connection with our schools. All other departments of our work—Missions, Young People's Work and Ministerial Relief—have become parts of our Southern Baptist Convention system responding to the centripetal as well as the tangential influence, but our schools have been allowed to get along as best they could. It is not surprising, therefore, that up to 10 or 12 years ago, "after nearly a century of independent endeavor, we had only three or four schools that had won scholastic recognition or any assurance of permanence," while the vast maiority of them were "struggling for existence and their combined endowment did not exceed their combined debts." It is worthy of note that the new day 10. our schools began not as a local, but as a Southwide movement. It began with the organization in 1912 of the Southern Baptist Education Association, the membership being composed of representatives of Southern Baptist schools and other Baptists, who were interested in Christian Education. The object of the Association was "to arouse and unify Southern Baptist sentiment on the subject of denominational education, and by mutual help to standardize and to increase the efficiency of all our schools." In 1915, at Houston, Texas, the Convention created the Education Commission composed of one representative from each state, and for four years this Commission rendered invaluable service by studying and giving publicity to the educational situation as it then existed among Southern Baptists. Prior to the organization of these two bodies, there had been little or no unified thought and concerted action on the part of our school men. Each school went its own gait, sought the solution of its own problems, and the promotion of its own interests unrelated to those of any other institution. While seeking denominational patronage and favor, there was no regard to a denominational integrated program. As a result of this policy of isolation, progress was very slow. The condition of our schools had become deplorable, and the future held out hardly a ray of hope. Due to the influence of these two organizations—the Commission and Association—the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlanta, 1919, created the Education Board, thus at last admitting our schools to the family circle along with Missions, Sunday Schools and Ministerial Relief.

"In no department of our work has the result of united effort been more manifest, than in that of Christian Education." Before the 75 Million Campaign was thought of, the Education Commission had projected a 15 Million Dollar Campaign for the relief and expansion of our schools, the W. M. U. undertaking to raise one-fifth the entire amount. When the Education Commission went into the different states with its suggested apportionments, it was found that practically every state was willing to pledge more than had been suggested, the total reaching 25 Million instead of 15 Million. Then it was that the 75 Million Campaign was inaugurated, and the Campaign of the Education Commission was merged into the larger movement, but not until it had produced two results: (a) It helped vitally to concentrate, crystallize and organize the sentiment for the 75 Million Campaign, and (b) It enabled the Convention to give proper recommendations in the Campaign to Christion Education in the allocation of funds. There is an interesting parallel between our schools and the experience of the American Colonies. At first, they were independent of each other, but they soon found they were compelled to stand together for mutual protection, and that in itself was a great gain. It was a greater gain when later a union of the colonies was formed under the Articles of Confederation, and later still their happiness, prosperity and permanency were assured when the Constitution was adopted, and its mantle was thrown over them all. So it was with our schools. For 75 years they followed a policy of isolation, and as a result were reduced almost to the vanishing point. Then in 1912, hope revived with the establishment of the Southern Baptist Education Association, when they came together for mutual help. They were made yet more safe by the formation in 1915, of the Education Commission, and in 1919, their safety, enlargement and permanency were assured by the creation of the Education Board, the Convention thereby not only placing on them its approval, but recognizing them as an essential feature of its work.

The Southern Baptist Convention does not own any one of the 119 Baptist schools in its territory, but each one of these schools is serving the interests of the Convention, as much as if it were the Convention's property. The work of these schools is as necessary to the ongoing of Baptist interests at home and abroad, as Home and Foreign Missions, Sunday Schools and Ministerial Relief. The consecrated Baptist teachers in these schools are our servants as much as are Home and Foreign missionaries, and, therefore, both teachers and schools rejoice in the recognition given them by the Convention in the creation of the Education Board. As a result of these three Southwide organizations—Southern Baptist Education Association, Southern Baptist Education Commission and Southern Baptist Educaton Board our schools have a solidarity and morale to which they were total strangers twelve years ago. Those in the work of education and acquainted with conditions now and then declare that the improvement has been as pronounced as the transition from darkness to light. The student body has grown until in many schools it is no longer a question of filling the dormitories, old debts have been paid, and new ones contracted, new buildings are constantly going up, the equipment is being everywhere improved, teachers are better paid, property values have increased more than ten millions of dollars, endowment has increased at least five millions, the total valuation of our school properties has almost doubled, and all this, let it be remembered, the result of an impact produced by a Southwide organization.

4. CLEARING HOUSE

The frequent requests for information that come to the office of the Education Board from Baptists and others, indicate the growing interest in Christian Education, and likewise prove the importance of this feature of our work. While the United States Bureau of Education in Washington has perhaps no rival as a Clearing House for matters pertaining to education, yet there are many items concerning our own and other denominational schools that the Government Bureau does not attempt to supply. An Education Board should be able to furnish information of any kind concerning the work in which it is engaged, and this is one object of our Board. Catalogs, reports, publications of all kinds from all our schools and from educational institutions of other denominations, from other educational boards, committees, etc., should be collected, classified, digested and so arranged as to give instant and accurate information upon all matters of educational interest affecting Baptists. With this information as a basis, there should be prepared and published, from time to time, detailed statements of the educational conditions in the South with the needs of the various institutions, financial and otherwise.

5. SURVEY DEPARTMENT

We have given special attention to the preparation of surveys of the educational situation, for in this way facts of conditions may be secured and upon the basis of information suggestions may be made for improvements. The results of these surveys are published from time to time. Frequently we are called upon to give data about our school work and the general educational situation in the South and we plan to be able to give expert advice and accurate information upon the many and difficult problems of education especially as touching the Baptist school life.

Surveys, finished and in course of preparation, are: "Survey of Southern Baptist Schools"; "Statistical Survey of Southern Baptist Schools"; "A Survey of Southern Illiteracy"; "A Survey of Loan Funds, Scholarships, and Free Tuition"; "A Survey of the College Curricula." Others will shortly be projected. This line of work will be of invaluable aid in bringing to notice actual conditions and desirable changes in the management and ideals of our schools.

6. PUBLICITY

Under this head are included those items which seek to give information concerning the work of the Education Board—its nature, scope and possibilities—and which also seek to create the liveliest possible interest in the cause of Christian education by showing the importance, yea, the necessity of it. Just as it was necessary for Luther Rice, in his day, to go among Baptist churches, showing the necessity of the Missionary enterprise and begetting among them a Missionary conscience, so it is necessary for an effort of like faith and abandon to be made by Southern Baptists in order to create among our people a conscience on the subject of education under denominational control. In this work of information and propaganda the following means are employed:

(a) Tracts, which set for the importance of Christian Education from different points of view.

(b) Addresses before schools and State Conventions, training institutions, student conferences, W. M. U. meetings, summer assemblies, and B. Y. P. U. gatherings.

(c) Articles and advertising (space) in our denominational press.

(d) Surveys.

(e) The Education Bulletin which goes to almost all Southern Baptist pastors and educators, besides to the Presidents and Secretaries of almost every local Woman's Missionary Society in the South. The women made request for this favor, which the Board was only too glad to grant, because it is an evidence of their interest in Christian education and furthermore because as a rule nothing fails to which the women put their hands.

(f) Christian Education Day which if properly observed by more of our churches would produce astonishing results.

7. COMMISSION PROMOTION AND STANDARDIZATION

The report of this Commission will be found on page 15, but reference to it is made here because by action of the Jacksonville Convention the appointment of the Commission is a duty laid upon the Education Board and, therefore, though indirectly, the work of the Commission is one of the functions of the Board. As its name signifies, the object of this Commission is to promote the interest of all our schools in order to bring about standardization. In fixing the standards of a school there are several factors to be considered, and regard must be had to them. Many of our graduates desire to teach in the Public Schools, but the various State Departments of Education have requirements for Public School teachers, and these requirements must be met by our schools, else we will lose our students to other institutions where these requirements can be met. Likewise, many of our young men and women studying in our schools are looking forward to professional studies in schools of Law, Medicine, Dentistry, etc., but these professional schools make certain requirements of students entering them, and unless our Southern Baptist Schools can qualify their students for entrance into these schools, it is obvious that they will secure their preliminary instruction elsewhere, as many of them have already done and are now doing. standardize our schools, that is, make them equal to the best, and better, requires patience and money, and these our people will surely supply rather than have them of inferior rank, or else go out of existence altogether. But the standardization of a Baptist School includes more than academic excellence. It means also an earnest, loving, insistence upon Christ as Savior of the soul and Lord of the life. Our schools will fail of their purpose unless they succeed in sending out annually young men and women whose lives are dominated by the two-fold motive of love to God and all mankind.

8. EDUCATION IN GENERAL

No sooner has one begun to survey the field of education than he finds it beset with problems of an exceedingly intricate and delicate nature. Also he finds as much unrest among the educators as among the theologians and, while they seem to differ in an admirable spirit, yet the line of cleavage is as distinct as it is between conservative and liberal in theology. Now that our churches have engaged in education, they cannot be indifferent to these problems, unless they decide to allow educators on the outside to solve the many difficult situations which are constantly arising and then impose their conclusions upon us. That is one source of our trouble at present. For 25 years prior to the 75 Million Campaign, our churches had been withdrawing more and more from the support of our own schools, and when five years ago we re-entered with a holy zeal the work of education, we found that educational standards had been fixed by powerful state and private institutions. Neither was this surprising, because we had practically abandoned the field. There was nothing to be done but to yield, meanwhile biding our time until we were possessed of sufficient strength to command a hearing when our voice should be raised.

Southern Baptists should have a Legislative Commission whose services would be at the disposal of the friends of Christian Education before any State Legislature "where bills may be presented that are unfriendly to church schools, and where it would be helpful to have the united voice of Southern Baptists along with other Christian bodies." This Commisson could plead the cause of secondary education in those states where the bulk of state funds for education is bestowed upon the colleges and universities, an unpardonably inadequate amount reserved for the public schools, especially in the rural sections.

It could advocate what is known as the New York plan of beneficiary education, and which seems eminently fair. The State of New York "provides aid in the form of scholarships for needy students rather than for the institutions which it fosters. The student then uses the funds thus provided for him in any approved institution which he and his parents or guardian may select. It is a matter of indifference to the State where he secures his education; it only provides the means by which he can get the education. The scholarship is given to the student, not the institution. The State thus deals fairly with all the institutions within its borders which are providing education for its future citizens. It does not discriminate against those schools which are doing equally as good work as the State schools, and are doing it without a penny of cost to the taxpayers." Maryland has recently adopted the same plan, and other states will doubtless do likewise when the matter is fully set out before them. Under this plan many students who are now compelled to go to state schools would attend a denominational college.

This Commission could also urge before City School Boards and the Trustees of State Universities and Colleges the Baptist position on the use of the Bible in State Schools. It is significant that educators generally in recent years realize the importance of religion as a factor in education, and in many places are attempting to meet the demand for it by requiring the Bible to be read in public schools, and using it as a text-book in State Universities. There is a vital principle here to which so many have never given serious thought, and there is at present great need because of the acute situation in more than one state that the principle be made known.

It could also study for the benefit of our own people and others the various movements which are constantly developing in education, also others of a more than transitory character like the Sterling-Reed Bill, which, under different names, has been before several sessions of Congress and which, among other items contemplated, calls for a Secretary of Education in the Cabinet along with an annual Federal appropriation of $100,000,000 for public education in the United States.

In short, "we must not leave to entirely outside agencies the formulation, declaration and application of educational standards. We must do that for ourselves and at the same time meet the just requirements of the nation as a whole."

9. RELATION TO STUDENTS

(1) RECRUITING FOR MINISTRY AND MISSIONARY WORK

(a) Pastors. The dearth of pastors, always alarming, was never more so than at present. A pastorless church is almost always a liability, and, on the other hand, a church with the right kind of a pastor becomes an asset to the community and to the denomination at large. We have for years had too many pastorless churches, but now more than ever, since during the Campaign, Baptist churches in the South have increased not quite four times as fast as the preachers. Since the Atlanta Convention, in 1919, there have been 881 accessions to our ministry, while the number of our churches has increased 3,068. However, it is not more preachers but better preachers that we need. There are now more than enough ordained Baptist preachers in the South to furnish a pastor for every one of our pastorless churches, but the churches will not have them, because they are not qualified. Allowing for the whimsicalities of many churches, it is not to be expected that a church will call to its pastorate a preacher below the average of its membership in culture, organizing power and preaching ability. Not more preachers but better preachers is our greatest need. So great is the demand and so inadequate the supply that the only way for many churches to secure a pastor is by robbing other churches, leaving those churches to do without, or in turn to rob other churches of their pastor. All of us know how a church takes on new life with the coming of a pastor, who is in every way equal to the demands of the situation, and that should be our ideal for every Baptist church in the South. The situation is serious enough to engage the attention of the entire brotherhood. A Southwide movement not merely for more but for better preachers would be of great value to our cause. It is true that we are enjoined to pray to the Lord of the harvest that He send more laborers into His harvest—and we would not have it otherwise—yet we believe the Lord of the Harvest would also smile upon any effort we might make to induce our brightest and best young men to give serious, prayerful thought to the claims of the Gospel Ministry.

(b) Missionaries. What is said of pastors for the home land is true of missionaries for the foreign field. As one result of our Campaign for pledges five years ago, there were gathered the names of about 5,000 young people of both sexes—so it was announced—who had volunteered for various forms of Christian service at home and abroad, wherever God might lead. Among the thousand or more who expressed a preference for the foreign field, there were those whose minds have undergone no change, doubtless others who have since died, some also too young to appreciate the significance of their pledge, some also because of age and inadequate preparation who have been compelled to abandon hope of foreign service, while others, influenced by the enthusiasm of the hour, in calmer moments have reconsidered. It is fair, therefore, to conclude that the Foreign Board is in need of as strong men and women as our churches at home, and any appeal made for the increase and improvement of our ministerial supply at home will always bring forth fruit for the foreign field.

(2) STUDENT RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

One of the most significant movements since the War is that connected with young people both in and out of college. In central Europe it has assumed startling proportion. It is bringing a new spirit and new organizations into many American colleges and those who have kept in touch with its manifestations at the Students' Conference recently held in Indianapolis, more recently among the students in Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., and still more recently at a meeting of Methodist students in Louisville, Ky., will have some acquaintance with its possibilities and aims. Our Southern Baptist students are not immune against the excesses and changed points of view created by the War, and, therefore, it is gratifying that there is at present a most opportune and encouraging effort being made among the students in three kinds of Southern schools—Baptist, State and private—to exalt Christ in every phase of one's life. Impressiveness and strength are given to the undertaking, because the Southern Baptist Convention operating through the Inter-Board Commission is behind it. Due to the initiative of Mr. Frank H. Leavell, Executive Secretary of the Commission, enthusiastic regional conferences of students have been held for two years, the states are seeing the necessity of active interest in the religious life of Baptist students wherever they are attending school, and, as a result, we may expect to see better conditions on every college campus in the South, and, on the whole, a better type of student morally and religiously emerging from our Southern colleges of all kinds. The Education Board shares with the Foreign, Home, Sunday School Board and Woman's Missionary Union, responsibility for the work of the Inter-Board Commission, and there is no more vital or encouraging work of the Convention than this of Student Religious Activities.

(3) STUDENT AID

The time was when Southern Baptists had only one Theological Seminary, whose representatives attended every annual State Convention in order to make an appeal for the Students' Fund. Now we have three Seminaries, may soon have a fourth, and the matter of raising money for the partial support of the students in each one of them must be considered. Confusion and embassassment might result, should each Seminary have its representative at each State Convention, soliciting funds for student support, but it would appear that the Education Board would be the natural means of communication between the states and the Seminary students. Not every state could limit its benefaction in this respect to one Seminary, because some of them have students in them all. By ascertaining approximately at least the amount required for all the students in the Seminaries, the Education Board by order of the Convention could represent the Students' Fund at each State Convention, make known its needs, and become the disbursing agent of the Fund.

Not only could the Board serve the Seminary Students, but in the course of a short time it would accumulate a Loan Fund for the assistance of deserving students in college—both lay and ministerial. Already has it become the custodian of a small fund for this purpose, and one man of wealth volunteered to be one of a number to contribute to the Board a given amount for a Loan Fund. The fact that practically all Education Boards have Loan Funds indicates how natural and desirable that a Board accumulate a fund of this kind.

10. RELATION TO SOUTHWIDE INSTITUTIONS

(1) THE SEMINARIES AND TRAINING SCHOOLS

In addition to the service the Board could render the Seminaries and Training Schools in the matter just mentioned—that of soliciting and disbursing funds for their students, there are numerous other ways which are sure to arise and which will give the Board frequent opportunities to serve these institutions. One of these is the matter of receiving credit in the Seminaries and Training Schools for work done in the college. In recent years there has been growing emphasis in the colleges upon Bible study and other subjects which are considered a necessary part of a preacher's equipment, and along with this a growing conviction that when a young preacher has taken these courses in college, he should not be required to take them over when he goes to the Seminary. That depends upon the courses and by whom taught in the colleges. There are courses which our Seminaries require of their students-and properly so-even though they may have previously taken them in college, but there are others not so important and, therefore, not requiring vast technical scholarship on the part of the teacher. To determine these latter courses and bring about an agreement between the Colleges and Seminaries, whereby the students who have once taken them under conditions approved by the Seminaries will not be required to take them again, is a task which the Education Board could perform, and, it believes, with satisfaction to all concerned.

(2) THE MOUNTAIN SCHOOLS AND THE NEGRO SEMINARY

Inasmuch as these two objects come within the purview of report to be made by the Commission on Correlation, the Education Board refrains from any comment thereon.

(3) RIDGECREST

The Education Board now owns the majority of the stock in the Southern Baptist Assembly at Ridgecrest, N. C. The property consists of about 900 acres of land, situated 18 miles from Asheville on the main line of the Southern Railway. A concrete road runs from Asheville through our property and work is now being done on the extension of this road, thus giving a through highway. This will be of great service since so many of our patrons now travel in automobiles.

The Assembly has been hampered by lack of funds with which to develop the property. We need a good hotel, an auditorium and a number of cottages that could be rented. The resources of the Assembly, coming from the Campaign, have gone for payment of obligations before the Board assumed charge.

If this property could be properly developed, Southern Baptists would have an ideal place for a summer assembly, at which various conferences, summer school of religious and academic types, general gatherings, etc., could be held under delightful conditions. We are hoping that adequate provisions for the Assembly may be made by the Committee on Future Campaign Plans.

(4) FIVE SPECIAL STATES

In 1918, at least a year before any of us had thought of such an undertaking as the 75 Million Campaign, the Southern Baptist Education Commission, after making a careful survey of the needs of our Baptist schools, planned a campaign of $15,000,000 for their relief. Each state was to raise a certain amount, the bulk of which was to be expended upon its own schools, and the W.M.U. had declared its willingness to raise one-fifth of the entire amount, or $3,000,000. Then it was that the 75 Million Campaign was launched, and the undertaking of the Education Commission to raise $15,000,000 was merged into the larger plan for $75,000,000, with the promise that all the objects of the Education Commission would be fully protected.

One of these objects was to have at least one standard Baptist college in each State of our Convention, and at that time one requirement for a standard college was a productive endowment of at least $300,000. But there were five States—Southern Illinois, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana and Florida—unable to raise that amount for the standardization of their leading colleges, and therefore the Education Commission promised each of these five states $100,000 on condition that the State itself raise $200,000, the terms of the agreement being that each State raise $200,000 for the endowment in bonafide subscriptions, and following that the Commission would pay in to the college one dollar for every two paid in by the State. When the 75 Million Campaign was launched, absorbing the plans of the Education Commission, the Southern Baptist Convention assumed the obligations of the Education Commission, and has been paying the money over to these States, as they met the conditions of the Convention, the disbursing agent being the Education Board, the successor to the Education Commission.

While the original purpose was that this $100,000 gift to each of the five States should be used for endowment only, early in the Campaign, by action of the Convention, because of the needs in New Mexico and Southern Illinois, an exception was made in the case of those two States in that their money from the Convention might be used for buildings and improvement. Consequently, the money which Ewing College, Illinois, and Montezuma College, New Mexico, have received thus far, $40,000 each, has been used for repairing old buildings or erecting new ones. In the case of Florida, the unexpected developed. When the above movement was launched, the Baptists of Florida had at Lake City a new and struggling enterprise—Columbia College-for which the $100,000 was intended, while at DeLand was John B. Stetson University, an independent Baptist institution, with a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees, the Baptist State Convention having therefore no voice in its control. But an agreement was reached between Stetson University and the Florida Convention whereby Columbia should go out of existence, its gift from the Southern Baptist Convention should go to Stetson on the same conditions required of Columbia, and in return the Florida Baptist Convention should fill all future vacancies of the Stetson Board of Trustees, thus making Stetson the Baptist school of Florida, thereby removing friction and paving the way for complete harmony of feeling and action among Florida Baptists. This action, too, was approved by the Southern Baptist Convention. Thus far the Education Board has paid into the endowment of Stetson about $40,000, while Stetson has perhaps collected more than enough new money to take up every dollar that was to go to her from the Southern Baptist Convention. The Baptists of Arkansas in behalf of Ouachita College have made one of the most heroic efforts known to this Board. They, too, have met the conditions necessary to receive the $100,000 appropriation from the Southern Baptist Convention, and although the Education Board has paid into the treasury of Ouachita College $40,000, Arkansas Baptists are paying in their $2 much faster than the Education Board is paying in its $1. Furthermore, the General Education Board, New York, is so well pleased with the work of Ouachita that it proposes to give an extra $100,000, but contingent upon the $200,000 from the Baptists of Arkansas and the $100,000 from the Convention. The Baptists of Louisiana have recently added $16,000 to the endowment of Louisiana College, and are therefore entitled to $8,000 from the Education Board, which amount will be forwarded.

In conclusion, the Education Board has always taken it for granted that the Southern Baptist Convention would pay every dollar of the $500,000 promised to these five States, and when that is done Florida, Louisiana and Arkansas will need no further aid from the Convention for their colleges, but the same cannot be said for Illinois and New Mexico. These two states, from the Baptist point of view, are missionary ground, educationally speaking, and will continue to need help from Southern Baptists until their two colleges—Ewing and Montezuma—have been made secure.

11. TEACHER BUREAU

It is quite easy for the uninformed Baptist to insist upon Baptist teachers for Baptist schools, but only those who are acquainted with the situation know how impossible under existing conditions it is for the ideal to be realized. It is comparatively easy to secure Baptist teachers for Baptist academies, but the task grows more difficult when choosing a faculty for a Baptist Junior College, and most difficult when attempting to secure Baptist teachers for a standard four-year Baptist College. The higher the rank of the school, the more difficult grows the task of securing Baptist teachers. It was to improve this situation that the Teacher Bureau was created, and the record of service thus far has been sufficiently encouraging to justify the conviction that it can grow into an agency of great usefulness to our schools. By means of it a President has been secured for one of our colleges. a Dean of Women for another, a Dean of Men for another, a Professor of Chemistry for another, a Professor of Physics for another, a Professor of English for another, etc., and all without any cost to the teacher, whereas, had the positions been secured through an Agency, the charges to the teacher would have been at least 5% of the year's salary—a not inconsiderable sum of money for one teaching in a Baptist school. It is the purpose of the Teacher Bureau to secure a list of all the Baptist teachers in the South, giving their names and the information usually sought by those looking for teachers. Moreover, it is our purpose to prepare another file containing the names of Southern Baptist young people, who are studying and graduating in large numbers every year from the great Universities of America, and whose aim is to devote themselves to the work of teaching. In this connection, it might be said that there are two causes which operate against the training of our Southern young people in many of the universities of the North and East. One is that the religious and philosophical view point is such that it is necessary for many of them to undergo a period of reconstruction before they are qualified to teach in a Southern Baptist school, and the other is that they are sometimes told that freedom of discussion and of investigation is not permitted down South, thereby discouraging their return. There is a great need for a university of the first rank in which the soundest learning will not be divorced from a robust evangelical faith. Baptist young men and women trained in such an institution could easily qualify for positions in our Southern Baptist Schools.

IV. REPORT OF STANDARDIZATION AND PROMOTION COMMISSION

The Standardization and Promotion Commission presents its Report to the Convention through the Education Board.

The Commission has held several meetings during the year and has projected a number of lines of work and surveys. We call special attention to the gratifying fact that during the past year six of our senior colleges have reached the standards erected by the Commission and that several others are approximating the standards. The Commission and the Education Board have helped to make this success on the part of these schools.

We desire to restate and reaffirm the purposes and ideals of this Commission, since they are fundamental to a true understanding and appreciation of Christian Education.

1. ITS APPOINTMENT AND PURPOSES

The Southern Baptist Convention at Jacksonville, Fla., May 1922, adopted the following recommendations presented by the Southern Baptist Education Association:

(1) That the Southern Baptist Convention shall authorize the creation of a standardizing and promotion commission, composed of practical, experienced Baptist educators, who shall be authorized by the Convention to set up educational standards in harmony with the national definition of a standard college; that this Commission shall be made up of 15 members, chosen by the Education Board, S. B. C., five of whom shall serve for a period of one year, five for two years, and five for three years; that this Commission shall act in conjunction with the Education Board, S. B. C., in securing information regarding all our educational institutions, in preparing and issuing a statement of educational standards for colleges, junior colleges and academies or preparatory schools, and especially shall aid in promoting the interests of each institution so that it shall attain the standards that have been made; that marked emphasis shall be placed upon the courses of study in the curricula of all of our Baptist schools so that the standards thus set up shall be unquestionably superior to those institutions which are not under Christian control.

- (2) We recommend that the closest co-operation shall be preserved with the Education Board, S. B. C., the various Baptist agencies in the several states engaged in promoting the interests of our Baptist schools and with the schools themselves, so that the creation of these standards shall lead to the attainment of higher educational levels by all our schools; that this Commission shall report to the Convention through the Education Board; that the Commission shall engage in the promotion of the fulfillment of these standards and that the Education Board shall engage in conjunction with the state agencies in the promotion of financial campaigns and otherwise.
- (3) We further recommend that this Commission pay special attention for the first three years of its work to the task of promotion, looking toward the strengthening of our schools so that as many of them as possible may reach the standards set up.
- (4) It is the ideal and purpose of the proposed scheme of standardization and promotion to attain the following ends:
- (a) The elevation of academic and cultural standards in Southern Baptist Schools, in their equipment, teaching and curriculum, to the level of genuine efficiency now demanded by the educational world, but to base it all upon the Christian idea of education which is to produce strong and able Christian men and women.
- (b) The corollary of this goal, for which the Commission will fix the standard of requirements at an advancing rate, is promotion, in patience and sympathy, of campaigns for money to enable the schools to reach the standard set with a definite plan of increase in their incomes, keeping our Baptist schools in sympathy and practical fellowship with one another and thus maintaining a solid denominational front toward the problem of general education.

At the annual meeting in June 1923 the Education Board adjusted the membership of the Commission thus:

Terms Expiring 1924—John C. Dawson, M. B. Adams, J. M. Wood, Harry Clark, John E. White.

Terms Expiring 1925—Rufus W. Weaver, William Louis Poteat, W. J. McGlothlin, S. P. Brooks, F. W. Boatwright.

Terms Expiring 1926—Chas. E. Dicken, Lincoln Hulley, C. Cottingham, J. W. Provine, J. W. Jent.

M. B. Adams was elected President and Albert R. Bond, secretary.

2. PRINCIPLES AND POLICY

(1) PRINCIPLES

- 1. Our Lord came to impart fullness of life. His ministry was to the whole round of life. He would enhance and control all its phases. And the Christian centuries have demonstrated His power. What is distinctive of Western civilization is due to His influence upon it. Its standards and ideals derive directly from Him. If it is to endure and if its present problems are to be solved, our hope is in Him, in the practical application of His teaching and spirit. Our social salvation, as our individual salvation, is in Him.
- 2. The generations succeed one another as though God, still undiscouraged, were making ever new efforts to establish His Kingdom. Our opportunity is with the fresh material He presents in each new generation. Education is fitting the new generation to take the place of the old, passing on its culture and achievements, its uncompleted tasks, its unsolved problems, to open minds and unjaded energies on a higher plane under better conditions. The hope of progress is here; here also the possibility of disaster. Education is destiny.

3. Education without the Christian standard of character and the Christian motive of good will and service is partial in its content and full of peril in its application. The young have a right to their full inheritance, certainly to its most distinctive and important factor. And our social life, unleavened by the spirit of Christ, unrestrained by the law of Christ, heads toward distress and disintegration.

4. Christian Education is Christianity operating in the field of enlightenment. A Christian school is a school whose ideals and aims and methods are set by Christ; a school which cultivates the whole personality, body, mind and soul; which establishes and develops character by a positive evangelism and by the study of science, literature, history, and philosophy in the atmosphere of Christian faith and reverence; which infects the student with the spirit of unselfish service, trains him for service, and helps him find his field of service. Christianity as a force and movement in history has organized itself in denominations on the basis of community of beliefs. Consequently, for practical purposes, Christian education is denominational education, for us education under Baptist auspices and control.

5. Our Baptist secondary schools and colleges recognize the place and indispensable service of the tax-supported schools, seek to supplement their work by supplying to our social leadership the religious training which they cannot give, and, as a necessary and important part of the available apparatus of education, take their proper share of the burden of educating all the people.

6. The autonomy of all the schools of our State conventions and associations must be respected and preserved against invasion at any point. The function of the Education Board is to advise, assist and promote them.

(2) POLICY

1. Co-operation. In all activities which affect individual institutions the Education Board consults the local denominational agencies and the responsible bodies of contol, and seeks to co-operate with them as their servant.

2. Standardization. a. Actual conditions can not be ignored in the effort to standardize our Baptist schools and colleges. It is unwise to force them into a position which they will not be able to maintain. b. Institutions unable for the time being to reach the established standard must, as far as possible, be guarded against unfriendly discrimination, and be cordially recognized as doing, under temporary handicaps, important service in the task to which all are committed. c. Three types of institutions are recognized—the high school, the junior college, and the senior college—and for each type three classes—class A, class B, and class C. The minimum standard for our Baptist institutions must not be lower than the standard which is everywhere accepted.

- 3. Supply of Teachers. On the understanding that Baptist institutions employ Baptist teachers whenever it is possible to do so, the Education Board conducts a bureau of information which institutions seeking teachers, as well as teachers ready for positions, may use without cost. Loyalty to Christian beliefs and Christian ideals, a strong and contagious personality, and a genuine scholarship, extended when possible by university training, are combined in the teachers endorsed and recommended by the Education Board.
- 4. Support and Promotion. The great need of all our institutions is adequate financial support. Debts must be cleared off, better physical and laboratory equipment must be provided, and salaries which will command and retain teachers of first-rate quality must be paid. Loan funds for the assistance of poor and promising youth must be established in all institutions. Here is a demand to employ all agencies, to tap all sources of income, and to turn into our educational enterprise at least four times the money now available. A demand also to foster the institutions which we now have, rather than to establish more, and to safeguard and administer our educational funds with efficiency and economy. The Education Board will assist in all campaigns for more adequate resources, and promote a closer relation of interdependence between our schools and our churches.
- 5. Protection. The Education Board will insist that the State recognize the service rendered by our Baptist schools by including them in the official reports of the Department of Public Instruction and by according to their graduates the same opportunity and rating for appointments and certification in the public school system as the graduates of the State institutions. The Board will resist any State policy which tends to handicap or discriminate against our denominational schools.
- 6. Publicity. The Education Board assembles and makes available a mass of material in relation to Christian Education in the South. It answers inquiries from any quarters. It supplies articles to the denominational press. It publishes monthly The Baptist Education Bulletin. It collaborates with the Sunday School Board on the program of Christian Education Day in the Sunday Schools. Its Secretary carries in person the message of Christian Education to all parts of our territory. The effort of the Board is always to bring home to the constituency of our schools and colleges the sense of civic and religious obligation to patronize and support them as the nurseries of Christian leadership and the conservators of the Christian faith.

3. EDUCATION IN THE NEXT CAMPAIGN

The Commission calls the attention of the Committee on Future Campaigns to the place that education should have in the distribution of funds. It suggests the procedure indicated in the following resolutions adopted by it:

Whereas, the preservation and the influence of evangelical Christianity in America depend upon the continued development of the institutions which promote Christian Education, and

Whereas, the Christianizing of the intellectual leadership of our country and the proper training of the competent personnel for the adequate manning of our denominational work, especially the education of our ministry and other workers at home and abroad demand attention, and

Whereas, our public schools need urgently, as teachers, the men and women trained in our Baptist schools to the end that certain existing materialistic tendencies may not gain the ascendency over the next generation.

Therefore be it resolved:

I. That Southern Baptists continue the splendid effort in behalf of our Baptist schools in the 75 Million Campaign through the next campaign or any subsequent organized endeavor and that there shall be no decrease in the apportionment to our Baptist schools.

II. That these schools shall be cared for most generously in the matter of current support.

Whereas, the permanency and the success of institutions of learning depend upon large amounts of money being invested in endowment and in buildings.

Therefore be it resolved:

III. That a distinction shall hereafter be made between gifts by our people for current support of all causes and gifts for these causes which shall be put into the form of permanent investment, and that on the basis of this distinction any individual member of a Baptist church, giving $2,500, or such sum as each Baptist State Convention shall determine, for endowment or for buildings of an educational institution, shall be permitted to make his gift and this sum shall not be chargeable against the amount allocated to the institution, out of the funds raised by the churches in the regular campaign.

IV. That the denomination shall recognize, as a most important part of the current support of our Baptist schools, the payment of tuition and fees of our ministerial students and the minor children of the co-operative Baptist pastors and missionaries, and deceased Baptist preachers.

4. STANDARDIZATION BY CHRISTIAN IDEALS

The Commission has announced the academic standards for the Senior colleges and has been working on the academic standards for Junior colleges but has not yet completed its work in this department.

A further important feature of the work of the Commission is the selection of Christian and denominational characteristics of standardization. While it is not yet ready to announce the details, it is thoroughly impressed with the need of keeping our schools true to Christian ideals and of making them contribute to denominational progress and of doing all this without in the least lowering or vitiating the academic efficiency.

We have just completed a Survey of the Curricula of our Senior colleges. The results of the Survey are very suggestive and highly gratifying in regard to the place that Biblical studies occupy. Data have been secured from 5 Men's Colleges, 12 Woman's Colleges, 10 Co-educational Colleges; total 27. Each department of study has been reduced to the unit of Semester Hours for each course. This includes both courses actually taken by students and the courses offered by the faculty but in which there were no students for the year 1922-23, the session used for this Survey.

The facts may be indicated thus:

	Biblical Department.	Semester	Hou	rs.
5	Men's Colleges(4)	Taken—28.4	(7)	Offered—32.0
12	Woman's Colleges(9)	Taken—16.75	(9)	Offered—20.33
10	Co-educational Colleges(4)	Taken—27.6	(6)	Offered—38.4
27	Total Number(5)	Taken—24.25	(8)	Offered—30.24

The numbers in parenthesis give the ranking place of the Biblical Department in the list of departments. The figures are the Medians or averages for the several groups. In the two groups of Men's Colleges and Coeducational Colleges the Biblical Department ranks fourth in hours actually taken by students and seventh and sixth in hours offered by the faculty. The fact that the Median for the entire group of 27 Colleges is fifth and eighth in rank respectively for Taken and Offered, demonstrates that Biblical studies are not being neglected and that the Christian element of education is having a commanding place.

V. FINANCIAL EXPLANATIONS

1. SPECIAL STATES

The institutions in five special states benefit through funds sent to the Education Board as part of the Campaign. By order of the Convention, each of these was allocated the sum of $100,000 for the five-year period. These schools are Ouachita College, Arkadelphia, Ark.; John B. Stetson University, DeLand, Fla.; Ewing College, Ewing, Ill.; Louisiana College, Pineville, La.; Montezuma College, East Las Vegas, N. M.

The amount was opportioned to each institution for endowment upon the condition that the institution raise in good subscriptions the amount of $200,000 for endowment; the Board was to pay in the ratio of one to two collected by the college. By the action of the Convention, Montezuma College and Ewing College were relieved of the original restriction to endowment purposes and were allowed to apply the allocation from the Board upon payment for buildings and equipment. This was done because these two schools were in great need of material necessities to enable them to carry forward their work and were not in the position to seek funds for endowment purposes and they were not likely to be thus situated for a number of years.

Ouachita College during the past year put on a special campaign for endowment funds and raised over $200,00. A gift was also secured from the General Education Board of New York upon the condition of the success of the Arkansas campaign and the payment of the amount promised through our Board. A large part of the subscriptions in Arkansas was made dependent upon the payment of the entire amount of their pledges and the payment of the promise of the Education Board. It becomes evident, then, that the entire prospect of enlarged funds for Ouachita is jeopardized, if not cancelled, by the ability of the Education Board to meet its promise.

The case of Louisiana College varies from that of the other schools of this class. The college was in the midst of an endowment campaign, when the 75 Million Campaign was launched, and the state campaign was merged into the larger one. The college has been receiving its allocation from the Campaign and the money has gone into buildings, current support, etc., rather than in endowment. Only $16,000 has been added to the endowment during this period. Under this condition, the Education Board recognizes the value to the college the fact that the State Convention guarantees an annual appropriation of $30,000, but considers that technically the college has not met the original conditions of the gift from the Board. However, it does consider that the intent of the pledge has been met and has voted to pay Louisiana College the ratio of one to two on funds assigned to endowment out of the receipts of the college.

Because of the fact that Montezuma College had the task of starting its work from the very beginning and because of the vital need for outside help, the Education Board has allowed the college a large overdraft upon its account, and this overdraft has been secured by notes and guaranteed by the New Mexico State Board in the event that the receipts for the college out of the funds coming to it from the Campaign through the Board do not liquidate the overdraft.

The amounts that have been paid to these institutions may be seen in Exhibit VII. of the Treasurer's Report. Each of them has been charged with its pro rata of the Campaign Expenses and the Loan Fund, advanced to the two Seminaries and the Bible Institute. With the exception of Louisiana College and Montezuma College, the balance due represent the pro rata of receipts during the last days of the fiscal year. With these two the accounts are accumulative.

Because of lack of full payment of the Campaign for a four-and-one -half-year period, and especially because certain designated funds in some states have not been subject to the percentage for Southwide educational causes, the Education Board has not received its full share of receipts. We have had only about one-half of our apportionment up to this time. These five states will be greatly embarrassed unless the Convention provides for the full payment of these promises.

2. LOAN FUNDS

a. BUILDING AND LOAN FUND

In the report of the Executive Committee of the Convention, as found on page 144 of the Convention Annual for 1920, provision was made for a Building and Loan Fund for the two Seminaries and the Baptist Bible Institute. We quote this section:

"First, we now recommend as Section 4 in the place of said section in the original report the following:

"On report of a sub-committee appointed at the previous meeting suggestion was made to provide from the Southwide funds $1,000,000 for the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and $500,000 each for the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and the Baptist Bible Institute, all to be used for building purposes and not to include appropriations formerly made to these institutions. It was agreed that these funds shall be provided as a loan pro rata from amounts appropriated to the Foreign Mission Board, the Home Mission Board, and the Education Board, payment to be made through the Education Board; that each of these Boards shall be reimbursed out of the first money collected for Southwide objects beyond $75,000,000, and that in case the requisite $2,000,000 is not available under this arrangement these advances by the three Boards shall be sufficiently guaranteed to them in any new plan for funds that the Convention shall project at the close of this five-year period without prejudice to the pro rata apportionment of the three Boards or to the Relief and Annuity Board owing to previous action of the Convention; with the understanding that the funds thus provided shall be called for by the respective institutions when they are ready to use them. It is further understood that all additional gifts to these respective institutions either for the building funds or for other objects embraced in the Seventy-Five Million Campaign shall become a part of these several appropriations."

The total amounts advanced so far under these directions of the Convention are: Foreign Mission Board, $191,902.49; Home Mission Board, $96,796.37; Education Board, $41,714.25; Total, $330,413.11.

We call attention to the fact that the Convention voted to guarantee to the three Boards these advances. This was to be done through the over-plus of the Campaign, but if there should not be an over-plus, then the Convention was to provide another method of reimbursement which should not prejudice the allocation of these Boards.

In the case of the Education Board it was manifestly impossible to make the loans from funds apportioned for the operating expenses of the Board, hence the funds have been charged in pro rata to the institutions that receive funds through this Board. Because of the failure to receive the full amount of expected receipts for the Board, this loan advance has worked great hardship on the Education Board. Unless this fund is returned to the Boards, the institutions, fostered by the Education Board, must contribute their pro rata share to these three schools, i.e., the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary and the Baptist Bible Institute. The Convention should give some instruction on this matter to the Committee on Future Campaign Plans. Certainly the Boards should have some idea of what to expect regarding the adjustment of this fund.

We give a detailed statement of these advances:

b. STUDENT LOAN FUND

Through the generosity of Mr. E. B. Ellis of Memphis, Tenn., the Education Board has started a Loan Fund with which to help deserving boys and girls get an education. We trust that this Fund may continue to grow until it shall be commensurate with the great opportunity and needs of this class of work. Certain other denominations through their Boards of Education have accumulated hundreds of thousands of dollars for such a Fund.

From this statement it will be seen that the Board is not in position to do very much in this line until further funds are received.

3. PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The $3,000,000 for Southwide educational objects is sent to the Education Board and pro rated to the several institutions in proportion to the total amount designated for the institutions as follows:

amount designated for the institutions as follows.
Southern Baptist Theological Seminary	$500,000	1-6th	16 2-3%
Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary	500,000	1-6th	16 2-3%
Baptist Bible Institute	500,000	1-6th	16 2-3%
W. M. U. Training School	300,000	1-10th	10%
Southwestern Training School	200,000	1-15th	6 2-3%
Negro Seminary
Special States, Fla., Ill., Ark., La., N. M., all told	500,000	1-6th	16 2-3%
Southern Baptist Assembly			1 2-3%
General Work of Education Board	250,000	1-12th	8 1-3%

Relative to the three-million-dollar fund for Southwide educational objects, note:

(1) This fund is to be distributed for certain specific objects as named in the table above.

(2) This $3,000,000 fund is to be provided by each state sending 4 per cent of its gross receipts from the Campaign. No one has a right to change this percentage.

(3) The 4 per cent of receipts from the campaign is to be sent to the Education Board, and by it pro rated to the institutions according to the plan agreed upon and published.

(4) Funds for other Southwide educational objects may be sent to the Education Board, but must be in addition to the 4 per cent above mentioned, and should be definitely and specifically designated.

(5) All designated funds sent to us by states or individuals are sent according to designation. The Education Board does not have the right to divert these funds from their proper designation. All such funds that have been sent to us have been forwarded to their proper objects and have been correctly credited.

4. EXTRA CAMPAIGN FUNDS

We have received certain funds which do not properly belong to the campaign apportionment for Southwide educational objects though they do constitute a part of the program of the state from which they come. We are glad to forward these amounts to the object designated. They do not enter into the total amount listed as subject to distribution for the various objects fostered by the Board.

The amounts of balance due arise because remittances came during the last days of the year, and, while distribution to accounts was made, it was not possible to forward checks before our books closed.

5. EXTRA BOARD EXPENSES

Certain expenses have been borne by the Education Board which do not properly come within its operating expenses. These accounts have arisen through the instruction of the Convention. These amounts are charged against the funds allocated to the Education Board for its general expenses and are not charged to the other institutions.

a. WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION EXPENSE

The Education Board contributed this year $800 to the current expenses of the Woman's Missionary Union. This is in harmony with instruction of the Convention that the various Boards of the Convention shall bear their proportionate part of the operating expenses of the W. M. U.

b. INTER-BOARD COMMISSION

Through the instruction of the Convention, the Education Board has a part in the control of the Inter-Board Commission on Student Activities, hence contributes to the support of the Commission. Our pro rata share of the expenses for the Commission for the current year has amounted to $890.

c. CONVENTION EXPENSES

The Convention expenses, incident to the session of the Convention and the publication of the Annual, are pro rated to the various Boards. The amount for the Education Board this year is $1,699.23.

d. CONVENTION COMMITTEES

By order of the Convention, the Education Board defrays the expenses of certain Committees, i.e., Committee on the proposed new Theological Seminary, Committee on proposed new University for the South, Standardization and Promotion Commission, etc. The amount this year for this cause was $2,074.48.

e. CHRISTIAN EDUCATION DAY

Expenses for Christian Education Day, June 24, 1923, were partly borne by several of the states. The net expense to the Education Board was $2,912.39. The Education Board received several small amounts from Sunday Schools in a few states, and these amounts were credited to the campaign apportionment in such states.

6. ADJUSTMENT DISTRIBUTION

(a) Campaign Expenses.—We give a statement of the campaign expenses charged by the various states against Southwide educational objects. Each state is credited with the amount reported on this campaign expense account. This report is made from information furnished by state secretaries. Each Southwide object is charged with its proportion of this expense on the basis of our table of distribution and this fund is treated as if it were cash. The amount of the current year is $13,183.88. In the general summary, Exhibit VII, will be found the total amount of the campaign expenses for the total period, which is $69,290.69.

- (b) Direct Receipts.—Some of the Southwide institutions have received money direct from certain states, some of which did not pass through the state treasurers and none of which came to the Education Board. These amounts are to be reckoned just as if they had come to the Education Board and are credited to the states from which remittances are made. These sums are regarded as parts of the sum total of receipts and hence enter the usual method of distribution. For the current year direct receipts amount to $11,486.98 and for the campaign period $164,243.84.
- (c) Campaign Period Summary.—We give a summary of all funds for Southwide institutions for the period. This includes money distributed through the Education Board, direct receipts and campaign expenses which belong to the Southwide objects. Upon the basis of total receipts for this period we have made an adjustment distribution, which shows the apportionment of the total receipts to be distributed to each institution, the amount each institution has received from all sources, and the amount yet due or the overdraft for each institution. We quote from our 1920 report, page 526 of the Convention Annual:

"If any object to be benefited out of the $3,000,000 fund should receive more than its pro rata share on account of special designations, this object shall not share in undesignated funds until all of the other objects have been benefited proportionately.

"All money for the objects to be benefited out of the $3,000,000 fund are to be considered as passing through the treasury of the Education Board, and any money sent direct to the institutions should be reported to the Education Board, both by the states and by the institutions themselves, and shall be taken into account in pro rating and distributing funds."

The Education Board was to receive the sum of $3,000,000 for the five-year period of the Campaign. This was to be distributed according to the provisions of the Convention to the nine objects fostered by the Board. By action of the Convention the Campaign will close December 31, 1924. This would reckon the length of the period thus far as four and one-third years. Upon this basis the receipts of the Education Board should have been $2,600,000. The total receipts thus far have been only $1,399,188.64, and this includes the amounts charged by the various states for Campaign Expenses. The Education Board, therefore, has had only 53.8 per cent of the allocation due at this time. In a former section of this Report we have indicated some causes for this percentage. We have not estimated the percentages for the other Boards, but we have the impression that they rate higher than the Education Board in the ratio of allocations and receipts for the period thus far.

A BRIEF RESUME

It is impossible to give in figures the important work of the Education Board because so much of it has to do with service that can not be tabulated. We call attenton, however, to some worth while summaries.

1. DISTRIBUTING AGENT

The Board has received and distributed during the Campaign period the following sums to institutions:

2. SURVEYS

A valuable contribution to education has been made in the Surveys that have been prepared. We list those already made.

A Survey of Loan Funds, Scholarships, and Free Tuition.

- 3. DISTRIBUTION OF LITERATURE.—Hundreds of thousands of tracts, bulletins, surveys, and proceedings of the Southern Baptist Education Association have been freely distributed. We have kept education to the front in our denominational life.
- 4. Addresses.—The Secretary has been giving much time to field work. Many addresses have been given in all sections of the Convention. The occasions have included church services, assemblies, conventions, special conferences, etc. One could profitably spend all the time in this class of work.
- 5. Teacher Bureau.—The Teacher Bureau has had a growing demand upon it. More than five hundred Baptist teachers have enrolled with us and we have recommended a large number. The class of work may be indicated by the fact that we have placed a college President, a Dean for Women, a Dean for Men, a Professor of Chemistry, a Professor of Physics, etc.

- 6. Promotion.—We have stimulated our schools and have encouraged them to reach the standards set by our Commission. It is gratifying that eight senior colleges have reached the standards during this period; others are approximating it.
- 7. Advice to Students.—Not a small part of our work has consisted in giving counsel to prospective students. Thousands of letters have been written to these ambitious boys and girls, setting forth the needs, opportunities and places for college entrance.
- 8. Co-operation in Student Activities.—We have given our part in the support and counsel of the Inter-Board Commission and thus have touched the student life in our colleges.
- 9. The Denominational Press has been supplied with hundreds of articles and many paid advertisements.
- 10. RIDGECREST has been administered through the services of the Editorial Secretary of the Board.

THE FUTURE PLANS of the Board call for enlargement upon the foregoing items and such enlargement as may be given to the Board by the Convention.

The Dominant Motive

口

THE dominant motive in education should be development of character that will appropriate the culture of the race, that will hold adequate control over individual forces of life, that will give competent response to duties, and that will eventuate in sacrificial contribution to the welfare of men.

SUCH a motive can find its true dynamic only in intimate relationship to Jesus Christ. Such a character can find its sanction only in Christian ideals. Education, that omits Christ from its ambitions and controls, fails to give recognition to truths that are the ultimates of human worth.

THE SEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF

The Relief and Annuity Board

Southern Baptist Convention

WILLIAM LUNSFORD, D.D., Corresponding Secretary DALLAS, TEXAS

1924

The work of the Relief and Annuity Board needs only to be fully stated in order to be both appreciated and approved. Southern Baptists were a long time beginning the work of giving aid and sustenance to their retired ministry. Since making the start, however, the development made has been steady and constructive. Not yet have the facts of the needs reached the great mass of our membership, but we are slowly learning and thus coming to realize that the work of this great Board is imperative in its necessity. Without the work of this Board constantly enlarging, and faithfully functioning, no real progress can come in building the kingdom of God. That may seem an over-statement of the case to some, but when we come to the bottom of the matter, how can we advance the kingdom of our Lord, or participate in its blessings, if we fail to provide for those of our own household in the faith? Can we be Christ's and neglect these needy ones? Can we be Christians and fail to provide for the widows and orphans of the faithful servants of His church, whom He has taken unto himself? The first proof that we belong to the kingdom is that we do this for those who have given all for Him.

It is therefore with great joy that we report that the last year was one of the best years in the Board's history.

In the first place, we have paid out in the past year, more for relief than in any year for the past two years, the total being $125,449.50.

In the second place, we gave to our beneficiaries a Christmas gift of from $5.00 to $10.00 each, according to the circumstances. This we had never done before, but expect to make it the habit of the Board.

Third, we are now paying the maximum benefit of 100%; that is, $500.00 per year, to all the members of the Annuity Fund who are eligible for such benefits.

These three items in the Board's activities are significant of its virility and progressiveness.

OUR ATTITUDE

Our aim is to persuade our people to say to the minister in active service today, "Give yourself whole-heartedly to the work; spend yourself freely; be not afraid; we do not pay you just the salaries that we should, but this we do at least solemnly promise, that we will stand back of you; if you fall in the work, we will care for you; if you die, we will not permit your family to suffer; if you grow old in it, we will comfort your declining years." Just that and nothing short of it should be the attitude of our great denomination to its ministry, and every one of our young preachers should feel that the denomination has so spoken to him, and that he can accept its word at par.

DONATIONS

The Board is rendering aid to states which are wholly unable to provide for their retired preachers. We are spending thousands of dollars annually in this specific kind of aid. There was but little hope for a large class of our dependent preachers, until the Relief and Annuity Board was organized. In the past five years, this Board has donated the following amounts to the states herein listed, in order that their beneficiaries might receive their regular pensions, as is true of the beneficiaries of the other states, who furnish us more money. The list is as follows:

Arkansas$ 7,481	.40
Florida	.83
Louisiana	.06
New Mexico	.02
Mississippi 4,654	.71

By donations we mean that we have furnished to these states the above named sums, over and above what they have sent to us for relief, for their beneficiaries. We have done this in order that we may keep the stipends as nearly uniform as possible. The total amount donated to these states within the past five years was $32,661.02. We have donated to the states this year $11,598.18, the same being divided among those states where we felt that the need was greatest.

TOTAL SOURCES OF RELIEF

The total invested assets of the Relief Department, including real estate mortgages, stocks and bonds, are $448,340.78, besides a cash balance on hand of $32,795.49, and checks in transit of $50,702.57; also furniture, fixtures and equipment amounting to $2,314.20. The total resources of this department today are $534,153.04. The total summary of resources for both departments will appear in the financial statement.

THE ANNUITY DEPARTMENT

The growth in the Annuity or Contributory Pension Department of the Board continues in a satisfactory manner. More than 1,300 men and women are now enrolled as active certificate-holders of this Fund. Twenty-two names are upon the roll of those drawing annuities-6 disabled pensioners, 11 widows, 2 sets of orphan children, and 2 old age annuitants. The plan of the Annuity Fund has been outlined from year to year; it has been and is subject to modifications as the wisdom of the Convention may direct. Its rates are based upon the well-known law of averages, and are computed upon sound actuarial prin-The member's contribution is equivalent to one-fifth of the amount necessary to produce the maximum pension. The Annuity Department is financially sound, because it only guarantees to the member the pension provided by his own payments, plus his pro rata share of all other payments to the Fund. The Fund is now paying the maximum of $500.00 per year to those who become totally and permanently disabled. The actual invested resources of the Annuity Fund are $1,153,991.48. Besides this, there is a cash balance on hand of $13,690.70, checks in transit of $33.801.71, and premium notes amounting to $2,248.54; also furniture, fixtures and equipment amounting to $2,558.70. The total resources of the Annuity Fund on April 30, 1924, therefore, were $1,206,291.13. The summary for both departments will appear in the financial statement.

FIVE YEARS OF MINISTERIAL RELIEF AMONG SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

The following figures give facts concerning our great denomination, in the matter of giving aid and comfort to its disabled and worn-out ministers, their widows and orphan children, for a period covering five years since the 75 Million Campaign was put on.

TALKING POINTS-RUNNING EXPENSES

The income of the Board for this Convention year, in actual cash, from all sources, for relief, $173,505.55; the Annuity Department, $218,859.21, a total of $392,364.76. The office expense for the year was $18,702.32, or 4.8% of amount collected and disposed of.

DEFRAYING EXPENSES

This Board has received, in round numbers, from May 1, 1919, to May 1, 1924, $1,382,000.00 from the 75 Million Campaign. Not one cent of this money has ever been used to defray the current expense, from year to year. The work of the Board is divided into two departments, and each department bears its own expenses.

The Relief Department has two sources of revenue for expense money. The first is the interest on its endowment, and the second is the interest on deposits. The interest on the relief endowment has yielded this year to the Relief Department, $12,082.00. The interest on deposits has earned $1,055.79. The total office and convention expenses for the year have been $10,380.00, leaving a balance of $2,757.79, to go to the expense reserve.

THE ANNUITY DEPARTMENT

The Annuity Department has three sources of income for expense. First, the interest on the endowment. Second, the interest on deposits. Third, 6% of all premiums paid in. The endowment of the Annuity Fund has earned this year $12,582.00. The interest on deposits $602.77. The 6% of premiums $3,286.78, thus making a total of $16,471.55. The total office and convention expenses of the Annuity Fund was $11,403.86, thus leaving a balance of $5,067.69 for expense reserve.

Thus we find that the two great departments of our work have paid their own running expenses, and have left a balance, for expense reserve, of $7,825.48.

PROGRESS IN AID EXTENSION

The Relief and Annuity Board has now 1010 beneficiaries. Think of the new day that has come to Baptist preachers of the South, and to their widows and children. Most of these widows are old, but some are young women, with their little families of clinging dependents, held together in an humble cottage, instead of being scattered here and there or sinking into menial drudgery as a penalty for having been born in the home of a Baptist preacher.

RELATIONSHIPS

There is a spiritual relationship between the pastor and his church, but there is also a financial relationship, which I am afraid the business men of the church have rather neglected. This financial side has a three-fold phase.

First of all, the denomination should provide a living wage for its active pastors.

Second, the denomination should provide for the men who have been active in the past generation, and who are now aged and disabled, and for the families of those who have died in the service.

Third, the denomination should make provision for the future of the men who are now active workers, but who will be the aged and disabled men of the next generation.

A MATTER OF SIMPLE JUSTICE

Now, as to the men who have been active in the past generation, we have today a large body of them. They have done their day's work, and are now in the evening time of their lives. It is a matter of social and economic justice to take care of them. That is the work of the Relief and Annuity Board. and a magnificent work it is beginning to be,—568 men and 342 women, and 100 orphan children are being cared for today, but we do not have a really adequate way of taking care of them, and we should have one. The thought of the world has lately been fixed on this problem, the care of the workers in their old age and disability. This thought and the provisions growing out of it, cover the whole range of human activity. It has been proved to be good philosophy and sound economics, and not only that, but the principles of simple justice demand that provision be made for the future of workers, and above anything that any denomination has ever done.

OUR PROBLEMS

First, there is the problem of bread and butter. In this problem comes shelter, clothing, and food, and the actual necessities of life, for those who by reason of the kind of service they have rendered, and the smallness of their remuneration, have been unable to provide for themselves.

Second, there is the problem of means. It is very much easier to care for the beneficiaries of our Board now, than it will be five and ten years hence. The ministry has changed. The men who are entering the ministry now-and this has been true for years—are being trained for the ministry, and are giving all of their time to the ministry. That was not true of the men of the past; 95% of our beneficiaries today are the old country preacher type. They were good men, faithful and true in the main, the value of whose services can never be estimated. They did not, however, live by the ministry, nor did they give themselves wholly to the ministry. They depended mostly for a living on farming or some other occupation. That type of preacher is passing out, and with their going and the coming on of the new type, a new problem in relief is presented to the Board. What are we going to do with men who gave years in college and seminary training, in preparation for the ministry, and who are giving all of their time to the ministry, and are living by the ministry, when they reach old age, or break down before that period, and find themselves in need? We should provide for this class at least six hundred dollars per year, on retirement, or when they become disabled and find themselves in need.

There is then the problem of consistency. Our Southern Baptist churches have never failed to lift up their voices in protest against unscrupulous individuals and greedy, soulless corporations, who have persistently refused to pay their employes a living wage, and who have, without any hesitation, cast these employes into the scrap-heap when their services were no longer of any value. Now, the great denominations of this country have been guilty of precisely the same crime which they have so loudly condemned and so persistently exposed. They have paid their ministers such meagre stipends that it has been impossible for them to make provision for old age or premature disability, and they have failed to make an adequate provision for their ministers and their families, who voluntarily gave their lives to ministerial service. So the question is, why preach honesty and probity in business relations if these cardinal Christian virtues are missing in their relations with those who have spent themselves in their service? The reputation of Southern Baptists for honesty and fair play is at stake, and nothing less than a substantial provision for men who have come to their day of retirement, will convince a critical world that the denominations of this country sincerely believe what they preach.

There is, lastly, the problem of pulpit supply for the future. Southern Baptists must be able to convince young men who are growing up in the churches, and who are looking for the widest sphere of useful service, that if they choose the ministry, the denomination which they elect to serve will protect them and their families in the time of old age and disability. We cannot afford to close our eyes to the human side of this question of preaching. It will not be easy for our young men to consent to enter the ministry of the denomination, which promises its ministers only a pittance in active life and puts them on starvation rations in old age. This does not mean that these young men who thus turn away from the ministry are lacking in the spirit of self-sacrifice, but it does mean that they have a reasonable share of self-respect. Our young men are not lacking in the spirit of self-sacrfice, as the recent war has shown, but they are persuaded that the denomination which demands heroic sacrifices on their part, must be prepared to make commensurate sacrifice for them. If our churches are to have the highest type for leaders, they must be able to guarantee them against unnecessary privation and hardships by providing an adequate retiring allowance.

Young men of character, ability and consecration today are asking the question, "If I lay aside all opportunities for success and financial gain in order to serve the community through the direct ministry of the churches, what guarantee have I that my family and myself will be adequately supported during my working days and afterward?"

It is a pertinent question, and upon a fair, generous and convincing answer will depend, in no small degree, the continued success of our churches as the supreme influence in the community in the days to come.

For the sake of our own future, the answer must be adequate and satisfactory, for never was the summons to leadership in the community and nation so imperative as today, and at no other time did the response to the summons involve such inevitable sacrifice.

SOLVING OUR PROBLEMS

Out of the thought that has been given to the pension and Annuity Fund work for the ministers of various churches, certain outstanding fundamental principles are being evolved.

First, that the best solution of the problem of relief in old age for all classes of people, for all human activities, is the contributory annuity plan, of some kind. The business world is coming to it rapidly. The Carnegie Foundation people started in with a general relief fund, and closed it altogether, and its plan now for relieving old age and distress, is a contributory plan by which the annuitant makes his annual contribution to what he receives annually. Such a plan is already being operated by Northern and Southern Baptists, Northern Presbyterians (Southern Presbyterians will launch such a plan this year), Congregationalists, Episcopalians, North and South; Northern Methodists, and Southern Methodists are sure to fall in soon or late. This takes in all the great denominations of the United States. It is true that all of the above named denominations, except the Episcopalians, have a relief department of some kind for those who will never become members of an Annuity Fund. Southern Baptists have such a department, of course, and will maintain it, and will continue for years to come to give 55% of its budget receipts to this relief fund, and only 45% to the Annuity Fund.

The second outstanding fact discovered as the result of experimenting with this problem among the denominations is that the local church should bear its share of the current cost of providing an adequate annuity pension as an item of expense in the local church budget. It is predicted by all secretaries of Ministerial Relief Funds that this principle will become more and more clearly recognized and carried out.

The above is true because it furnishes the only sure and reliable way of providing a fixed annual income for the aged. The only way now that one of our preachers can provide for himself a fixed income of $500.00 a year is by joining the Annuity Fund. The reason for this is that the relief beneficiaries consume the relief fund as fast as it comes in, and you cannot eat your pie and keep it too, while the Annuity Fund is all invested and goes to work at compound interest, just as soon as it can be placed after being collected.

WHAT ABOUT THIS?

The Atlanta Convention, in 1919, made a grant of five millions to the Relief and Annuity Board, to be raised in seven years. When the 75 Million Campaign was afterwards sprung upon the Convention, only half of this sum, two and a half million dollars, was allocated to the Relief and Annuity Board in the Campaign. It was specified, however, at the time, that the remaining half of the five millions which the Convention decided to raise for Ministerial Relief, within the seven years, "shall be raised at the end of the present five-year Campaign, and within the succeeding two years." The Convention afterwards, on two or three different occasions, distinctly affirmed what was done at the beginning of the 75 Million Campaign, all of which was set out in the report of this Board last year, 1923, and will not be repeated here. It goes without saying, however, that the Relief and Annuity Board regards this provision as a sacred obligation which the Convention should carry out to the fullest measure.

At the Kansas City Convention, the report of the committee on the annual report of the Relief and Annuity Board as read by its Chairman, Dr. F. M. Mc-Connell, after reiterating the facts above referred to with regard to the grant of the Atlanta Convention in 1919, recommended as follows:

"When the Southern Baptist Convention speaks in reference to the work of any of its Boards, incurring an obligation by such utterances, that obligation should be held sacred in all future sessions of the Convention. Every pastor, every official, and every member of State Boards in the Southern Baptist Convention should stand by and strive to the utmost to redeem such obligation. If this is done, the Relief and Annuity Board will be treated absolutely right with reference to that $2,500.000. It is, therefore, the sense of this Convention that whatever plan may be next adopted by Southern Baptists for raising money that the spirit of the provision made with said Board in May, 1919, be kept."

The above recommendation was unanimously adopted.

The Board respectfully asks that the above sentiments shall become the word and the instruction of the Atlanta Convention to the committee whose duty it shall be to make allocations for the 1925 campaign.

AN IMPERATIVE AND IMMEDIATE NEED

The immediate and imperative need of the Relief and Annuity Board, at this time, is a fixed income of $100,000.00 per year, on the relief side of the work alone, in addition to what the Board is now receiving and will continue to receive from the states, whatever the plan may be. This will take an interest bearing fund, for relief alone, of at least one and a half million dollars, of which we have now about five hundred thousand, including endowment and reserve. Mark you, we are speaking of the general relief and not of the annuity department of the work. By the relief fund, we mean that fund which is used to pay the monthly stipends of our old preachers, their widows, and orphans; preachers who will never become members of the Annuity Fund.

In no other way can this Board possibly make the stipends received in the states approximately uniform. As long as one state sends us in $30,000.00 for relief work alone, and another sends us $5,000.00 or even $10,000.00, the first state will demand more for its beneficiaries than we can pay the latter. This is but natural and just. It is interesting, however, to know the extent to which the Board has brought about uniformity, and we have done this by taking 10% of the relief money from the stronger states, and giving it to the weaker states, a thing which we provided for at the very beginning of our work, so that after all, there is comparatively no great difference in what the beneficiaries of the states are receiving. Our problems here can never be remedied until we have an income fixed by an endowment. This is perfectly obvious to every person who will think for a moment.

MAXIMUM AGE FOR MEMBERSHIP IN THE ANNUITY FUND

The Board believes that the time has come when the maximum age for joining the Annuity Fund should be reduced from sixty-three to fifty-eight. This action is taken at the suggestion and upon the advice of the actuary, Mr. George A. Huggins, of Philadelphia. The provision for the older men has been open five years, and all who wanted to join at the old rate have had the opportunity. Many of them have embraced it, but others have not. The Board in the meantime has decided to reduce the maximum age for joining to fifty-eight. This action, however, shall not become effective until on and after January 1, 1925. From now on until that time, the old provision will remain open for those who desire to take advantage of it. After that it will be closed.

VETERANS' DAY IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOLS

We need a Sunday School day for Ministerial Relief, not only to get money, but to educate our young people with regard to this important feature of our work. Subtract State, Home, and Foreign Mission days from our work in the Sunday Schools, for the past ten years, and compute the loss, if you can.

Ministerial Relief is a new thing in the denomination. The people are not informed about it. Our boys and girls have never heard about it. We must teach them. In connection with the Sunday School Board, there should be inaugurated "Veterans' Day" in the Sunday Schools. Children are a mighty host among Southern Baptists. They constitute an army of millions. The greatness of this host is not in its numbers, but in its tomorrows, tomorrows which are already dawning. The dreams of childhood soon take form in deed. Impressions then made endure through all the years. We must let the children become familiar with this great matter. Give them a hand in it. There should be a children's day program for the Sunday School. On this day the children should be given a part in the service. It would be well if the service went on into the preaching service. They might, on that day, provide flowers for the church. In the Sunday School, by reciting story, or by class exercise, the children may become actively interested in the cause of the old preacher. On this Sunday, or some other, the children should be given the privilege of bringing an offering for the aged minister. It is the only way left by which we can give to Ministerial Relief its proper place along with our other great objects. The results of such a campaign cannot be computed in dollars, though dollars are not the main thing in view. We must inform; we must create sentiment, and the adoption of this report means that the Sunday School Board is not only authorized but is hereby urged to make provision for such a day in the Sunday Schools.

ENLARGED BENEFITS-AIMS OF THE BOARD

The Relief and Annuity Board began to function in October, 1918. It was created to perform a two-fold function, for the sole benefit of the ministers of the Southern Baptist Convention.

One function was to provide relief funds for the aged and disabled ministers, and the widows and orphans of those who have passed away, and for whom the denomination has made no other provision.

The other function was to establish a contributory annuity plan so that those who so desire could provide for themselves an annuity beginning at age sixty-eight, or at prior disability, or in the event of death, an annuity to the widow or minor orphan children. The costs of these annuity benefits are to be met by dues from the members covering one-fifth of the cost of the maximum benefits and four-fifths of the cost provided through funds from the church at large. How well the Board has performed its task has been shown from year to year in the annual reports of the Secretary to the Convention.

During the past five years, we have not only paid in benefits to beneficiaries of the Relief Department, a total of $538,944.96, but we have accumulated assets, to May 1, 1924, of $500,000.00 or more, $250,000.00 of which is in the form of permanent endowment.

The assets of the Annuity Department, to May 1, 1924, are, in round numbers, $1,200,000.00, $250,000.00 of which is in the form of permanent endowment, and the balance stands in the form of reserve funds to protect the certificates of thirteen hundred and four members, the number of which is constantly growing.

The annuities are now being paid on the 100% basis, that is, the beneficiaries are receiving the maximum annuity benefits of $500.00 per year.

The Board now stands ready to undertake larger plans for both the departments of the work.

It is evident, however, that to finance larger benefits, larger resources and larger incomes are of necessity required.

THE RELIEF DEPARTMENT—WHAT OTHER DENOMINATIONS ARE DOING FOR MINISTERIAL RELIEF

Northern Baptists are averaging nearly $500.00 per year to their beneficiaries. To be sure, they are very much richer than Southern Baptists, but we far outnumber them and for all other causes make a better proportionate showing.

Presbyterians, U. S. A., have an endowment of eleven millions, plus, with a new committee of laymen, headed by Will Hays, Ex-Postmaster General, laying plans to raise fifteen millions more, with an allocation this year of 10% of all the money collected in the churches.

To get nearer home, Southern Presbyterians, who are numerically not a tourth as strong as Southern Baptists, paid their beneficiaries an average last year of $516.00, plus.

Southern Methodists, with an endowment of two millions, gave the right of way to their relief board from February 1, to June 11, suspending, so to speak, for the time being, their denominational budget, in order that the relief board might have a clear field to raise a ten million endowment fund. The secular papers carried the news in the past week, that the entire amount had been raised in cash and pledges.

WHAT SOUTHERN BAPTISTS ARE DOING

Southern Baptists are very much stronger than Southern Methodists, numerically, while equally as strong financially, and are four or five times as strong as Southern Presbyterians. Is there not enough in the contemplation of these figures to embarrass Southern Baptists when we stop for a moment to realize that at present the Relief and Annuity Board is carrying more than one thousand beneficiaries, who are receiving on an average of less than $150.00 per year?

CONSIDER AGAIN

At the rate we have been going for the past four years, the Relief and Annuity Board will close the five-year campaign period, having collected about a million, six hundred thousand dollars. In other words, leaving at least $900,000.00 of the two millions and a half allocated to the Board at the beginning of the Campaign, which, added to the two and a half millions provided for in the two years immediately following the close of the campaign, leaves $3,400,000.00 uncollected of the original Atlanta grant.

FIVE MILLIONS COLLECTED WOULD MEAN WHAT?

If done with sufficient dispatch, say in the next three years, from January 1, 1925, would mean an estimated endowment and reserve of $3,500,000.00, which would enable the Board to enlarge its gifts as follows:

First, on the relief side of the work, to both men and women, a stipend from the minimum up, to $500.00, the present maximum, according to the circumstances of each particular case, giving an average of say $300.00.

Second, it would mean

A RELIEF DEPARTMENT HONOR ROLL

The Board has long felt that it should have something of this kind, each member to receive the maximum of $500.00 per year, and not be required to renew his application annually, and would name the following conditions for membership in the same:

- 1. The applicant must be sixty-five years of age or older.
- 2. He must have served the denomination as a Baptist minister, within the territory of the Southern Baptist Convention, for thirty years or more.
- 3. He must be so disabled by age, illness, or other infirmities, as to no longer be able to care for a church.
- 4. He must need $500.00, as certified by the district association in which he lives.
- 5. It must appear from his application that his life was given wholly and entirely to the ministry, and that he lived by the ministry, since the time he entered it.

This provision does not apply to members of the Annuity Fund, but only to those who seek aid through the Relief Department.

Nothing herein contained, however, shall operate to prevent the Board from granting supplemental aid from the Relief Department, to beneficiaries of the Annuity Fund, provided the circumstances, in the judgment of the Board, shall warrant such a grant.

It is the hope and aim of the Board to provide this Honor Roll within another twelve months. It shall certainly be done as soon as the funds will possibly justify it.

ANNUITY DEPARTMENT

What would such an endowment mean to the Annuity side of the work? It would mean for the members a reduction of the old age annuity from sixty-eight to sixty-five, with increased rates, however. For the widows of members it would mean a small bonus to cover sickness and burial expenses, in addition to the regular 60% of what the husband was receiving at the time of his decease.

But Southern Baptists have already said that ten million must be our minimum endowment.

WHAT WOULD AN ENDOWMENT OF TEN MILLIONS MEAN ON THE RELIEF SIDE OF THE WORK?

To both men and women, a stipend from the minimum up, without limit, according to the circumstances in each case, with a reasonable allowance to the widows for sickness and burial expenses. It would mean an average of from $300.00 to $600.00 per year, for our beneficiaries. In many instances, it would be less, and in some, it would be more.

WHAT WOULD IT MEAN TO MEMBERS OF THE ANNUITY FUND?

It would mean a reduction of the old age annuity to sixty-five, increasing, at the same time, both the disability and old age annuities to $600.00 per year, with added provisions to the plan from time to time by which members who would be willing to pay the rates would draw as an old age annuity 50% of the average salary for the past twenty-five years. In these enlarged benefits of the Annuity Fund, the rates would be necessarity increased, but it is hoped and believed that the income of the endowment and reserve would be sufficient to so provide the necessary funds, that the actual amount paid by the member would be increased very little if at all.

To the widows of the Annuity Fund members, it would mean an annuity of $600.00 per year, just as the husband was receiving, at his death, with a small allowance for sickness and burial expenses.

PLANS OF THE BOARD

It is the distinct plan of the Board to increase the stipends to our relief beneficiaries as above outlined, at the first possible moment that our funds will allow it, and in the same way to add to the enlarged schedule of benefits of our Annuity Fund.

This enlarged schedule will be as follows:

Annuity of $600.00 beginning at age sixty-five.

A disability annuity of $600.00 beginning upon total and permanent disability.

An annuity of $600.00 to the widow or minor orphans, beginning upon the death of the member.

All of the above annuity payments will be made in monthly installments.

As compared with the present plan, the above schedule involves an increase of $100.00 to the member beginning at age sixty-five, three years earlier than the sixty-eight year annuities, with a corresponding reduction in the premium paying period of three years.

This involves twice the maximum annuity benefit to the widow, $600.00 as contrasted with $300.00, and involves an increase in the disability annuity benefits from $500.00 to $600.00.

Our actuary has made a new set of premiums for the enlarged benefits, as shown in the accompanying schedule.

Heretofore the member has paid 20% of the premium required to provide for the maximum benefits, and this arrangement will likely continue. It is the hope and expectation of the Board in time to provide 80% of the premium payments, but on account of the increased cost per member under the new plan, and the rapidly growing membership, the Board feels that the burden should be shared by the local churches, as an item in their budgets of expenses, so that the new dues would be provided for by, first, the member; second, the local church; third, through the resources of the Board. That is to say, the pastor and his church will pay 20% of the increased premium, and the resources of the Board, 80%. By this we mean that we shall have to build our annuity endowment and reserve to a point where the income on the same will be sufficient to pay 80% of the premium (the church and the pastor paying the other 20%), of the enlarged schedule of benefits, before the same can be put on which is to say that we shall have to increase our present endowment and reserve to a point where the income on the same shall be at least twice what it is now, before the new schedule of benefits can be put on. It is to show the need of the larger endowment, and the provision that can be made for the members of the Fund, by having the same, that the enlarged plan is hereby outlined.

When the time comes that we can adopt the large scale of benefits, the present plan will be closed, on giving one year's notice, after which membership will only be received in the new class. Provision will be made, however, by which all present members of the Fund, by paying the additional premium, from the time that the new schedule is adopted, can be transferred to the new class and receive the new benefits.

In addition to the provision of these benefits, which should be considered the minimum benefits, it is a part of the plan to give the opportunity to members to make additional deposits to be accumulated by the Annuity Fund, and applied towards increasing their annuity payment. In this way, it is the desire of the Board to see annuities provided for all pastors, up to 50% of the average salary, with a minimum of $600.00. Other provisions contributing to this end will be announced from time to time as the work advances.

Inasmuch as these annuity benefits would not involve retirement, members will be able to continue working either in the active pastorate, or as supplies or part time pastors as their opportunities permit.

Let us repeat what is said in another part of this report, that Southern Baptists need, from this time on, a new slogan.

A SOUTHWIDE APPEAL

The Board would call specific attention to the fact that the program above outlined, can never be carried out without an endowment of several millions. In other words, the Relief and Annuity Board can never function properly without a large interest bearing fund to enable the Board to meet the demands which an ever-growing list of beneficiaries in both departments, lay upon it. Whatever may be true of other Boards, this Board must be endowed.

This endowment can never be raised by and through any budget system. To be sure, it can never get on without the help of the budget, and that help should be large and generous, but it must have a large income from an interest bearing fund to stabilize its work.

Let this be remembered also, that Southern Baptists have the money, and the Board respectfully submits that the facts set out in this report furnishes the appeal. There are millions of dollars owned by Southern Baptists, which will never find their way through any budget channel, into the coffers of any of our denominational enterprises. This money must be personally solicited, and the Board respectfully asks that the right to go on the field to solicit contributions to aid in building its endowment fund, be granted. This involves in no sense the idea of taking collections in churches, or of bothering the churches in any way, shape or form, nor of taking subscriptions running through long terms of years, but it involves the right to solicit money in the sale of Life Annuity Bonds, bequests in wills, and large gifts from those who only wait to be solicited, to lend their aid in the permanent establishment of a cause so worthy and appealing. In other words, the aforesaid constitutes a distinct department of the work of the Board, and the same should be organized and pressed for the benefit of the Board, and this can be done with but little, if any, interference with the regular denominational program, and the right of this Board to so do is hereby granted.

A NEW SLOGAN

Thus we have reached a place where Southern Baptists should adopt a new slogan.

A Pension for Every Baptist Minister and from Every Baptist Church a Full Share of the Cost.

It is so easy for us to forget the part which the minister plays in our lives. If we could keep that before us constantly, and in mind, it would not be difficult for us to do what we should do in this great matter.

Whenever Southern Baptists reach a point where they can provide for their retired preachers who are in need, and who have really given their lives to the ministry, and for the widows of deceased preachers, annual incomes as provided above, they shall have come to a place of great honor and justice in dealing with a deserving and worthy class.

	Total liabilities		534,153.04

We hereby certify that we have examined the books of account and record pertaining to the assets and liabilities of the Relief and Annuity Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, as of the close of business April 30, 1924. Cash funds were fully verified, stock, bonds and notes receivable were verified by inspection or verification mailed to the holders thereof. Other assets were satisfactorily accounted for and provision has been made for all ascertained liabilities. It is our opinion, based upon records examined, and information obtained, that the statement as drawn up, correctly reflects the financial condition at the date named.

APPENDIX E

General Statistics and Register

Compiled by E. P. Alldredge, Department of Survey, Statistics and Information, Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, 161 Eighth Avenue, North, Nashville, Tennessee.

New and Fuller Statistics

Our fourth annual report of the statistics and register of the Southern Baptist Convention, presented herewith in two parts, contains several new and many enlarged features. For the first time, we have undertaken to give the number of ordained ministers by associations. For the first time also, we have attempted to give the number of church houses and pastors' homes. These new features are incomplete, for the reason that the records given in the associational minutes, in many instances, do not carry these items at all, but we are glad to make a beginning of these special items.

Incomplete Records

It is astonishing to see how completely many of the most vital facts about our denominational life are left out of the minutes. Hundreds of the minutes do not give any tables covering the Sunday Schools, B.Y.P.U.'s or W.M.U.'s. Others leave out all reference to finances, or some other feature of the work. We appeal to the brotherhood to see that at least a summary of the work of churches gets into the minutes.

Delay in Publishing Minutes

The very greatest difficulty which we have to face in compiling the statistics of Southern Baptists, however, is the delay in publishing the minutes. If the brethren would publish the minutes and send us copies of them within 30 to 60 days after the associations meet, we could run down all the figures omitted and complete the records. But when the brethren wait from three to six months to publish the minutes the task is made impossible.

Four Outstanding Needs

We again make our appeal for help from the several States. Four things in particular are greatly needed:

- 1. Each State should employ and pay for the services of the most competent man available for the position of Statistical Secretary.
- 2. With the proper modifications, all the States could and should adopt and use the Uniform Associational Letters and the Special Statistical Tables.
- 3. Give us the best and most competent men in the bounds of each District Association for moderators and clerks. Baptist work will never go forward as it should until we dignify and utilize the meetings and work of the District Associations.
- 4. Let each Associational Clerk see that the minutes are properly prepared and printed—within 30 to 60 days of the close of the association! Don't allow the printers to hold up the work and wait three, four and five months, as many of them have done this past year.

Southern Baptist Schools

SESSION 1922-1923

ALBERT R; BOND, D.D., Editorial Secretary

Education Board Southern Baptist Convention 1214 Age-Herald Building Birmingham, Ala.

The following survey is based upon the records of the session of 1922-1923:

1. Statistics—Southern Baptists now have 119 schools which are classified thus: Senior Colleges, 32; Junior Colleges, 30; Academies or High Schools, 52; Biblical Schools, 5. Registered in these schools for the session of the year 1922-23 student enrollment, men 14,786; women, 18,509; total, 33,295. Of these there were 2,890 ministerial students and 2,007 volunteers for definite Christian service; faculty, men 935, women 1,001, total 1,936; value of property, $29,439,710; value of endowment, $15,380,251; total valuation, $44,819,961.

2. Some Observations—The 75 Million Campaign has greatly stimulated the educational interest of Southern Baptists. The Campaign allocated to Christian education in the five-year period an amount larger than the total investment of our schools one year prior to the opening of the Campaign. During the period of the Campaign large amounts have been paid in for endowment and enlargement of property and in addition to this, large sums of money have been received from sources outside of the Campaign, in some instances these additional amounts being conditioned on funds given in the Campaign.

It will be observed that the enrollment of the women is greater than that for the men. This appears even more marked in the Senior Colleges. It may be that the stress of money compels the men to leave school sooner than the women.

3. GREAT INCREASES.

The 75 Million Campaign has brought great increases in students and in the equipment and endowment of Southern Baptist schools and colleges. Study the following summary:

Years	Students	Property	Endowment	Total Valuation

DIRECTORY OF SOUTHERN BAPTIST MINISTERS

In presenting the list of ordained ministers of the Southern Baptist Convention, we are embarrassed by three considerations: First, after availing ourselves of all changes noted in the denominational press and in the minutes of the district associations, and checking and rechecking the lists by the suggestions of special helpers in each state, we are sure that the lists are incomplete and, in many instances, incorrect. We have the consolation of knowing, however, that we have spared no pains and spent much money and time in the effort to get the lists correct and complete. Then, we have the further embarrassment of knowing that, in most states, the names are all thrown together in alphabetical form, without regard to which are the active pastors, denominational workers, student ministers or inactive ministers. It has simply been impossible for us to organize this roster of ordained ministers as it should be done. It is our hope to begin the work of listing all pastoral changes and of keeping the lists in an organized manner, as indicated above, some time during the coming year.

Our third embarrassment comes from the fact that, there are over 600 changes among Southern Baptist ministers every month, upon the average; and that not over 1 in 100 of these pastors and workers who change their fields or their post offices or both ever give any notice of the change to any officer or agent of the Southern Baptist Convention. It has been suggested that our office here in Nashville list all changes and publish a corrected list once each month. This is a good suggestion and we would like to carry it out, but it would require all the time of all the help in our office to do this-leaving us no time and no help for anything else. However, we feel sure that the present situation con be greatly improved and we pledge ourselves to improve it.
